S. Supreme Court Quashes NRA Mon.

On Frazier-Lemke Bill
Aids Interstate Effect
Illegal
New Deal Stunned
Monday

The most puzzling situation in the two years of its life, the New Deal, the United States Supreme court ruled Monday that the "Industrial Recovery Act" was unconstitutional. The court gave an appeal which the direct opinion on the interstate character of the emergency. This action was a unanimous decision of the court at the time that the national congress was considering the two year extension of the bill.

The bill deals with the President's making power, and after justice read the opinion which invalidated all the powers of minimum wages, maximum price control and all related. In their summary, the August said, "where transactions are merely an indirect interstate commerce, the constitution with the state." Thus the new problem back into the individual states and all similar control must be the states.

Labor Reaction
The authorities all over the nation were observing the action Tuesday. They felt the effect was apparent making a definite statement. Bebermeyer secretary of the I. O. O. F. said Monday evening that he was ready to make a statement. We will have to wait to see how we have time to study the bill, consult with the members of the organization, and observe the effects of the action from court.

As to the question: Do you carry on? Mr. Bebermeyer said, "We are more determined than ever. We must carry on today's court decision has the complete organization as a means toward constitutional legislation." He is not inclined to believe that the press will betray labor at this time. We predict that unless the Chamber Bill is passed that there will be more strikes and inflation than the country has seen.

25 Year Fight
The 25 year fight has been observed," continued that legislation for the masses has been de-constitutional for the last 25 years. I wish this were a Scott decision? We organized last November, under contract for several independent companies here, of which have made the stronger, has meant job for many."

Crowd Expected Treasure Day Sat.

A number of the Burk Burnett citizens were invited to be the city Saturday afternoon at 10 o'clock at the Trades Center. Last week hundreds of citizens were transported over via the sky line trolley. Our city celebrate the merchants of the city transportation from the city.

CLEAN-UP WEEK STARTS MONDAY

PEOPLE URGED TO COOPERATE

The clean-up week started last Monday under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce, and the citizens were responding with enthusiasm to the plea of the organization to make the city more beautiful. The civic groups were carry forward in the campaign with special announcements and offers of specific aid. The people of the city have been given an opportunity to have the trash and debris moved from their property without cost to themselves for the only time during the year.

The department of civic affairs and fire prevention of the Chamber of Commerce were offering trucks for the property owners to use in the hauling away of trash. The citizens have been asked and urged to call to office if they have any trash that might be removed to the dump grounds by the trucks. If any citizen knows of trash or obstructions that are on other property they have been asked to inform the city or Chamber authorities.

The campaign will last through the rest of this week and the organization expects to move every fire hazard and all the trash from the city limits by Saturday. The peak record of the campaign in the past was the attempt in 1933 when 300 loads were carried from the city.

REVIER CAR IS RECOVERED HERE

The stolen car of Mr. R. D. Revier was recovered by Mr. N. H. Harris in Burk Burnett Sunday afternoon, and Fred Labor was arrested on the charge of the theft. The young man was caught in possession of the car in Burk Burnett Sunday afternoon and was transported to Wichita Falls after his arrest by Mr. Harris by a member of the sheriff's department. The car was stolen sometime Friday night. It was a 1932 Chevrolet coup.

High Officials Explain Jena, La., Case In Letters

HARMON SHEPPARD VINDICATED AFTER ARREST IN BURKBURNETT

Friends of Harmon Sheppard, who was arrested recently on a murder charge in Burk Burnett, have written to his employers, "The Gulf Pipe Line Co." here that the young man was completely vindicated of the charges preferred against him in Jena, La. The young man was charged with two other companions with the death of Dr. Hamilton of that city. Sheppard started to work for the Gulf Pipe Line Company as a mechanic this week.

One of the letters from the mayor is quoted as follows:
Mr. E. R. Martin
District Foreman
Gulf Pipe Line Co.
Burkburnett, Texas.
Dear Sir:

I understand that Harmon Sheppard was employed by you at the time of his arrest on a charge of murder. I heard all the testimony in this case and have personally investigated same from every possible angle for the reason that the death of Dr. Hamilton occurred in the town of Jena of which I am mayor. I was present at the fire which caused his death and am fully convinced that the fire was accidental and that no violence was used by any one.

There was not one word of testimony to even indicate that Dr. Hamilton was murdered and especially to connect either of the defendants with the death.
I feel that a very grave injustice has been done all of the defendants and that it is my duty to render any service I can in clearing the

Nazarene Church Starts Meeting

The Nazarene church of Burk Burnett started a meeting this week according to the announcement of the pastor Glenn McClung. Rev. Amos P. Meadors and Professor Roscoe Carrell both of Plainview are assisting in the meeting. Rev. Amos Meadors is the pastor of the Plainview church and is widely known in the denominations as one of its most able speakers and evangelists. The meeting is characterized as a "Crusade for Souls."

The singer, Mr. Carrell, is remembered in Burk Burnett for his singing over KGKO radio programs as he assisted in Wichita Falls last year in a meeting. He plays an accordion piano and assists in the organization of the work. The crowds so far have been excellent and the interest better than in any previous meeting, according to the pastor.

Elks Elect Sopher Exalted Ruler, Mon.

The Burk Burnett Elks elected F. R. Sopher as exalted ruler of the lodge at the election and social meeting of the organization at the club rooms. Sopher was re-elected after a years service in the same position, and during his administration the club has continued to prosper so that he was honored again Monday night. The other men elected were: Joe Waldrop, leading knight; Leslie Coats, loyal knight; Henry Porter, lecturing knight; L. F. Stewart, secretary; L. N. Peyton, treasurer; Sam Dasis, trustee, and L. A. Adams, tiler.

The visiting Elks from Wichita Falls who assisted in the election and the initiation ceremonies were: F. A. Rhineheart, J. R. Stoekoenig, N. G. Colligan, C. W. Hendricks, A. L. Huey, R. R. Mullins, and W. A. Reed. After the business the club was entertained in a social celebration and refreshments were served to 35 members and visitors. The next meeting will be on June 10.

Rotary Club

Neeley Vaught explained the general subject of scouting to the Rotarians at the luncheon noon at noon Tuesday, at the First Methodist church basement. The speaker explained the processes of hunting "Ivory" and the development of the raw material of recruits into finished products of big league players. The experiences of some of the outstanding scouts in the business were detailed by Vaught. The life and eccentricities of the sensational rookies of last year and the bright stars of the present team were pointed out. The club enjoyed the discussion.

The daughter of the speaker, Virginia Lee Vaught also gave two readings for the program. The only visitor was Barney Flynn of the Wichita Falls Rotary Club.

ROBERT DUNN FINDS SKULL

The evidence of some forgotten tragedy, a human skull, was found by Robert Dunn during the hunt of the body of Audrain on the river Sunday. The bones were found near the pump station three miles down the river on the south side. The hunting party stumbled on to the grim evidence in the sand and underbrush along the banks of Red river.

Grandfield Ladies Give Searchers Lunch

The members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion of Grandfield sent lunch to the searchers at the river Sunday at the hunt for the body of the missing member of the Oscar Frye Post. The ladies sent lunch that was more than abundant for the searchers and members of the party all down the river on the northern side were treated by the food sent. The ladies of Burk Burnett and the Legion here had sent other food around by Ringold by truck, and both groups combined furnished the ex-service men with an excellent lunch.

Ross Reagan Speaks To Burk Lions Club

New Bridge Will Open Across Red River Next Week

The construction of a temporary bridge will be completed sometime next week, according to the promises from the Texas and Okla. highway departments, Saturday. The supervising engineer for the construction is R. B. Alexander, and he said that immediate action was undertaken by his department as soon as a working agreement was arranged with the interstate authorities.

The pile driving equipment was scheduled to arrive in Burk Burnett Tuesday. Piling, purchased from the Smith Creosote Company of Denison had been shipped Saturday, and the Shamburger lumber company has secured the contract for the lumber.

The detour bridge will be about 20 feet from the line of the bridge proper. This will give ample space for the workers on the smashed bridge to complete the construction of a new span. The measurement Saturday revealed that more than 120 feet of the bridge was gone.

The work on the bridge will not interfere with the transportation of produce and cream from Oklahoma Saturday. The farmers and others are invited to continue to use the bridge during the construction. The cable will continue to run, and the local business men will do everything possible to aid the visitors in coming across the bridge.

Softball League Resumes Play Mon.

The Burk Burnett softball association resumed play Monday after a week of idleness, and furnished several district surprises for the local fans. The games that were played with one exception were of unusual high order and of close score.

The Thaxton Bros. continued the uninterrupted march toward the pennant when they smashed the hopes of the strong Magnolia aggregation at the Shamburger diamond by a score of 7 to 5. The game was one of the closest battles that has ever been fought in the local circles, and it was necessary for the two teams to go an extra inning to break the tie. The hardware men broke up the game by driving in two runs in the last innings and kept their record for the year clean.

The Mity Nice aggregation came near tasting defeat, when they rallied to hold the ambitious Tucker ten to a score of 5 to 3 at the high school diamond in the afternoon game there. The Tuckers probably could have scored more often, but for careless base running. They gave the Bakers a real scare in the close game. The game kept the Mity Nice trailing the Thaxton team by one game. The Magnolia team dropped into fourth place with the loss.

In the night game, a comedy of errors, the Barrow-Grace team battered out a 16 to 10 victory over the Skelley oil company. The score was a sea-saw throughout the contest and the garagemen ended up with the heavy score. The big game in the near future will be the meeting of the Thaxton and Mity Nice teams. These two teams will play a postponed game some time this week.

Garden Special

Mr. J. W. Gloger brought several types of vegetables into the Star office for the editors of the paper last week, and the editors were amazed at the unusual size and quality of the truck products. The vegetables were produced in Mr. Gloger's garden, and according to him were only average specimens of the plot. The first solid firm head of lettuce that the editor has ever seen grown in this territory and large beets and onions were among the prize vegetables.

City Manager Explains The Tax Problems Of Burkburnett

Community House Suggested

Ross Reagan gave the Lions club a brilliant analysis of the tax problems of the city in an extemporaneous speech at the Lions club luncheon Tuesday night. For the first time in several months the citizens represented at the meeting were given an opportunity to get an inside glimpse of the complications besetting the city in financial matters.

Mr. Reagan said that the city had been bonded by boom time inflation of evaluation, and that the sudden decrease of this valuation had left the bond holders without real value to support their claim for 100 percent redemption. During the boom the city was actually valued at $26,000,000.00 tax assessments, and much of this value was represented in fly-by-night promoters that wished to use the inflated values as a basis of promotions in other states. At the time of rendition the property was actually more valuable, but as the value declined with production, the ability of the people to pay decreased.

Many of the larger companies that formerly issued large tax checks, now have little or no property or production here and pay very little or nothing in taxes. This decrease in revenue has left the city with several difficult problems to solve. Even if the entire assessments was collected today, it would be impossible to pay off the obligations that were undertaken in the boom times.

Community Center

The speaker also suggested that the community civic clubs get behind the movement to create a community center. The present light plant will be available for such a house. The new machinery that is being installed will be too heavy to remain in the center of the city, so it is being moved away from the business places and churches.

The Rotary, Lions, Womens' and Legion organizations can by cooperation secure a very efficient meeting place for all civic and club affairs. This will be an addition to the civic pride of the city, according to the sponsors.

Chester Duncan, Henry Grace and Jack Kelly reported an excellent convention at Vernon. K. C. Spell also spoke. Roy Magers made the report of the children aid fund of the Rotary and Lions club. F. R. Knauth was in charge of the program. The club voted to aid in the clean-up campaign.

James Giles Dies Here Tues., May 28

THE LATE MRS. PICKERELL'S FATHER SUCCEEDS TO STROKE

James L. Giles, 65, of Burk Burnett, died suddenly in his home at 2:30 o'clock following an attack of paralysis of the heart.
Mr. Giles had been seriously ill since the death of his daughter, Mrs. John Pickerell, who was drowned May 18, when the car in which she was riding fell into Red river as the Burk bridge collapsed. Attending physicians said grief and shock over his daughter's death brought on the stroke.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Baptist church in Burk Burnett at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The Rev. Miles B. Hays officiated. Interment was in the Tipton, Okla., cemetery. Arrangements was in charge of the Owens and Brumley Funeral home.
Mr. Giles had resided in Burk Burnett with his daughter for three years, moving here from Tipton.
Survivors are two sons, E. G. Giles of Vernon and A. G. Giles of Montrose, Colo.; three brothers, Robt. and Walter Giles of Mount Holly, Ark., and Wiley Giles of Claypool, Ark.; and two sisters, Mrs. Jim Price of Magnolia, Ark., and Mrs. Aaron McWilliams of Gibland, La.
Pallbearers were: Brady Price, Jack Wilkerson, Henry Grace, Wiley Browning, Roy Magers and B. H. Alexander.

Mike Begun was among the searchers that looked for the body of Audrain Sunday at the river. Begun is said to have been an expert in his native land in searching water covered lands.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Burkburnett experienced last week just what danger baseless rumors can do for a community. In an emergency hundreds of false stories were circulated by irresponsible people, and many of these caused real suffering on the part of people concerned with the tragedy. The papers have come in for their part of criticism. Many people see only the flaws and mistakes that the papers made in reference to the incident.

Even the most ignorant and warped minds can pick out flaws in what might be otherwise perfect productions in every field of human endeavor. It is for some people remember that bees sting, while others remember that they produce honey. But one thing is certain, when a man sticks to his own business they never sting him.

The rulers all over the world are gradually learning that a muzzled press can sting, and sting with terrible and poisonous effects. In reporting the recent excitement the papers made several errors. However, according to actual count, of the three hundred and 39 separate facts reported, only 15 definite errors were recorded. That is about 95 per cent higher average than the reports passed from mouth to mouth on the street. Those who criticize the papers, must recall that some time during the excitement that they may have reproduced some story that later proved untrue. Personally we think that the best way to fight rumor is with the authorized public statement of facts. However much the paper may tread on individual toes, and however many errors it may make, it is the average citizens' best guarantee of democratic freedom.

READY TO SERVE

This community faces several problems that can be solved only by the patriotic and zealous interest of the community as a whole. In order to cope with the situation, every member of the community must be ready to face the problems with loyalty and earnest desire to aid the people as a whole. There is no course that a ruling body can undertake that will meet the approval of the whole citizenship, but nothing is ever gained by unfounded and bitter criticism.

Democratic government calls for the cooperative criticism of the citizens, but criticism can serve only when it is embodied in logical orderly presentation of facts. The Chamber of Commerce presented a cup to the "Spirit Cooperation" in Burkburnett the last annual meeting of that group. The recent tragedy showed how willing the people were to serve when an opportunity is given for concrete service. Our people are to be complimented for the heroic attempts to aid the suffering in distress.

The darkness of death has served to remind us that what ever arises in the community, that we must organize to meet the emergency with a high courage and noble faith. The bridge, clean-up week, police officials, trades day, and diverse other community projects call for our unstinted backing in order to make a better community. Regardless of personal and selfish motive, regardless of political belief, let us forget anything that does not add to the welfare of the community.

Big Rabbit Creek

May 19, 1935

Well, after all of the great excitement that has prevailed since the washing out of the 120 feet of the Burk bridge Saturday night and the losing of four lives everything is getting back to normal again. You know when it rains it just pours. Since it started raining this part of Cotton county received at least 8 inches of rain. The big rain has caused many acres of cotton and feed stuff to have to be planted over again over on this side. The cotton that came up before the rains set in isn't doing any good and won't grow off until winter is over. At this writing the writer is sitting by a good warm fire and it sure feels good.

The writer is glad to state that Mrs. D. L. Alexander who has been so low with pneumonia is improving fast. Dr. Russell of Burkburnett has dismissed his case several days ago.

It certainly is nice in Mr. Vaught post master, of Burkburnett to make it possible for Randlett to get her daily mail since the mails has been handled through the Burkburnett post office. Everyone over on this side of the big creek sure do appreciate his kindness and the interest that he has taken in the Randlett post office and its patrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wyett's little son who has been very low with pneumonia is doing just fine and Dr. Dice of Randlett dismissed the case one day of last week.

The whole Rabbit Creek community as well as the Randlett community joins the writer in sending to the bereaved wife and family of Mr. Garland, chief of police of Burkburnett and the Reeves and Pickerell families of Burkburnett their heart felt sympathy of losing their loved ones in the going down Saturday night of the Burkburnett bridge and carrying the deceased with it. May God comfort them all in their great loss.

The writer would suggest to the head leaders of the Big Rabbit Creek singing convention to postpone this coming Sunday singing to be held at the Rabbit Creek school house till the first or second Sunday in June in order to have the bridge fixed so it would enable our good singers of Burkburnett, Wichita Falls and other points in Texas to be with us and take part for which they do every convention singing year. The writer can't say either way if the singing will be postponed or not, but it should be.

Hawkeye, his wife and their brother Johnny motored over with one of their neighbors Sunday morning to view the washing out of the bridge. He states he never saw so many cars in his life at one place as there were on the highway parked. They were lined up over a mile long. There were at least 2,500 cars between 12:30 p. m. and 4 p. m. Sightseers as far away as Altus and Oklahoma City, several negroes from Tipton, Okla., were there looking for drowned relatives that were drowned in Turkey creek Saturday afternoon.

Up until Tuesday morning at 9:30 a. m. the searching parties for the other two drowned persons, man and a woman had not been found. There is quite a bunch of men searching for the bodies over on this side.

The writer has been living where he is now for 28 years. He as well as other old timers of the county states that Old Red river was higher than it ever was before. It covered more low land territory and done more damage to crops and farming land than it ever has in the past 28 years. In 27 or 28 it was very high but nothing to compare with this rise.

It is hoped by all of us old hoppers that we may have a few weeks now of dry weather. Anyhow until harvest is over so we will be able to get our beautiful grain crop harvested and taken care of as harvest will start in the next ten days or maybe sooner.

I am sending the news, but the writer can't and won't vouch how soon it will reach the Burkburnett press, but hope it will reach there some time this week if not sooner.
Hawkeye.

May 26, 1935

This part of the country received another fine rain Wednesday night. About one-half inch fell in about an hours time. Of course this last rain wasn't really needed, but we farmers a whole appreciated all of the rain that our Maker sees fit to send.

Mr. Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Nails and her son Charlie motored over to the Owens family residence Thursday evening and visited with them for an hour or so.

It's a cinch now that this country is sure of a bumper oat crop and a fairly good wheat crop. The only thing now could happen to keep from harvesting a good grain crop would be a big hail storm. Still the oat crop will be cut quite a good deal on the yield on account of the oats are so awfully smooty. Some oat fields are worse than others with smoot.

The writer is pleased to announce through the Rabbit Creek news of Mrs. D. L. Alexander being able to be up and around again, but isn't able yet to do her house work.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wyett's little son is almost well again and is improving fast.

Since the lasing of the 120 feet of our Burkburnett bridge it has disrupted our mail, especially our daily Ft. Worth Star Telegram. It is over three days now since any South mail has arrived. We Oklahomans are sure anxious to see the work start on repairing the Burkburnett bridge as we are in need of Burkburnett, as it is our trading point, and the business men of Burk is in the need of our trade, so hurry up boys and get some way fixed so we can come over with our cars and wagons.

The writer is writing this article for the benefit of the Oklahoma and Burkburnett friends of the story that the Wichita Co. paper published regarding to who actually found Mr. Bill Garland, chief of police of Burkburnett. The details goes as follows. A Mr. Wilson, who lives 2 miles West and one mile South of the Rabbit Creek school house went to bed early Saturday night as he had worked hard all day and was tired. When he retired he never dreamed of the Burkburnett bridge would ever be washed out. So about 10:30 or 11:00 p. m. he dreamed that the bridge had washed out and that he saw Mr. Garland go down with it and he dreamed that he found him the next day. So when he rose next morning the first thing he heard of that the bridge, part had washed out and that Mr. Garland had went down in the car. So at breakfast he joined the Oklahoma bodies and he told his dream to them and wanted them to go with him to where he dreamed that he found the chief.

When You Make A DEPOSIT—

Somebody once said: "There are three American institutions upon which the stability of the nation depends—the Government, the Insurance Companies and the Banks."

Depositing money in a sound bank like the First National Bank is, indeed, similar in many ways to buying a treasury bond or an insurance policy. For in each case the money you turn over is safely reinvested—in public works, in industries, in homes, in commercial enterprise. In a word, the instant you deposit them your funds become a part of the great river of credit that turns the mill wheels of the nation.

They all said that they believed that the bodies was further downstream, so Mr. Wilson stayed with them till noon, and up till that time no bodies were located. So Wilson came home, ate his lunch. So after lunch he says to his wife I am not satisfied. I am going down to where I dreamed I found Mr. Garland. So he did go, and after arriving near the place he waited a few minutes and after he had to walk he hadn't went 200 feet until he saw an object in the water about 20 feet deep. He could just see a small tion of Mr. Garland's back as he laying face downward on stomach. So he waded out and hold of the body and he had a hard time getting him out and his legs were covered with mud. His clothing also. He finally got the body pulled to the bank, then went after more help to get the out of the water. He walked 1-2 mile to where he found the interesting Uncle Jimmie Hatcher's son sent him for help, and W. A. back to the body and waited about a half hour or so until James Hatcher and three grown sons came. So W. A. to Uncle Jimmie, as you are oldest man in the crowd what we do with the body. So Uncle Jimmie said we will pull the body of the water and cover up his and hands the best we can with those salt cedars to keep the away, which they did. Now good readers after the body taken from the water and laid up some 30 or 40 feet and laid a little salt cedar tree here flying over an air plane. So crowd commenced to signal to let them know that a body been found. Finally the plane a little lower, and when it did one of the men took their hat and tossed them towards the ground the plane rose and Mr. Randlett and about 30 or 40 men they came back in a car and came with them to take the body to Randlett, so when the body got to the crowd one of them he was Pat Allen, the Wichita sheriff. He admitted to the of 4 or 5 men that he didn't see Garland's body until after the were tossed to where the body. He said he saw it through his es, so after the sheriff got to Wichita Falls he reported to the air plane pilot had found the body of Mr. Garland, as it came in print in the Wichita Falls to that effect. Good readers isn't one word of truth in the iff's statement that the body found by the air plane, it is looking for a needle in a haystack to look for a dead body in the Cedars with an airplane. W. A. son was the man that found the chief of police and he was the who brought him to where the plane could see him. Please understand that W. A. isn't wanting honor of finding Mr. Garland, does want credit for finding well as the balance of the man's. Wichita County should tickled to death that their brother was found by us Oklahomans, to keep them from a watery grave. W. A. found a body about 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The city of Burkburnett appreciates their deed and love being found by us Oklahomans. We are still hunting for the which lost his life. At this he hasn't been found. I, the just wanted to pluck that statement in the bud before further along the line. W. A. son is a very truthful man, necessary he can produce witnesses that he found the land around 2:30 p. m. Sunday ernoon.

Relief Offices Demonstrate The Use Of Dried Milk

Relief agencies are demonstrating the use of dried milk at the headquarters of the Burk Burnett division, according to the announcement of H. D. Smith, director Wednesday. The women of the division have been invited to attend the demonstration that will be held every day in the week. The use of powdered milk was first introduced several months ago, and every many people knew the value of it. Therefore the demonstration here is showing the clients how to secure the most useful and economical food combination with the dried milk.

The work is being demonstrated in short courses under an existing plan at the county offices. These courses show the use of the dried milk and give to the clients the information to be used in every possible situation. The school has been very interesting and most of the women have expressed an appreciation to Mr. Smith for the service. The demonstrators who are preparing a variety of foods of a different kind each day, are Mesdames: Gatewood, Dera Schemscher, Opal Ensey. The demonstration will continue for the next 30 days. The sewing room has enlarged its membership by four persons and now will pull the bodies for about 12 women daily. The demonstrators are working on a variety of projects that are needed each week. The demonstration is being loaned by Boyd Bros. and some of the utensils by the school cafeteria.

Methodist Women Continue Study

The ladies of the Missionary society of the First Methodist church resumed the study of the book "The Church in America" at the meeting in a car and a church in the city at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The book covers the history of the church in America and the lives and the problems of the Eastern people who have immigrated to the United States, and an interesting account of the church that is being done among them. The chapter that was studied was the "Philippine." The president of the organization, Mrs. W. W. Prinzing, directed the meeting, and Mrs. W. W. Prinzing, Mrs. M. W. Majors, Mrs. N. R. Current Literature

We have heard so many tales about the work that is being done by the Japanese in Manchouku (formerly Manchuria) that we have developed some very definite prejudices against the little men of the empire of the Rising Sun. Most of the stories that have come out of the territory have been from men prejudiced against the cause of the Niponese. Therefore it is refreshing to read the Japanese side of the question as it is presented by a war correspondent hired by them in the book "A Case For Manchoukou" by G. B. Rea. Rea presented the arguments for the Japanese possession that includes the fact that withdrawal of the Japanese army would mean possession by the communists of China. This is itself a one sided article, but it presents a side that we have not seen much in the news reports.

"Time To Sow" is a very interesting analysis of the struggles of the gentle farmer in the southland. It has a delightful romance that keeps the readers interested through a dreary series of scenes that might oppress with their reality. Some of the more delicate may be offended by the positive courage that the author uses in the minute picturing of the personal lives of the people involved, but no one can fail to see the beauty of the development of the story as it portrays the intense struggle.

Since the success of the recent psychology movie laid in the background of the state insane asylum, there have been a series of imitating novels on the same background. However, if you like mystery and murder stories, Read the "Murder in a Mad House" by Latimer. It seems to be the best of that style-if that style can be "best."

SOFT BALL POSTPONED FOR WEEK

The playing of the games of the Soft Ball league were postponed for a week here after the crash of the bridge. Many of the members of every team were in the searching parties, and the teams felt that it was respectful to give way to the community tragedy. The schedule was resumed Monday with each team playing games on scheduled time. The weather was continuing to threaten the contests.

reputation of these young men. I have known all of the defendants personally for a number of years and know all of them to be good citizens and who come from the best of families and against whom the finger of suspicion has never before been pointed.

The judge on the bench stated "there isn't one single iota of evidence to connect either of the three defendants with the murder of Dr. Hamilton."

I would consider it a personal favor if those who had either of the boys employed would consider that the boys are the unfortunate victims of false accusations and return them to their jobs.

A. D. FLOWERS,
Mayor of Jena, La.

The district attorney of that city is quoted as saying "The young men should never have been indicted by the grand jury, and there is insufficient evidence to link these boys with any participation in the crime."

Judge Says Trial An Outrage

According to J. P. Wade editor of the Jena Times, the judge who tried the boys, Wiley R. Jones made the statement: "There isn't one single iota of evidence that can connect either of these three young men with the murdering of Dr. Hamilton." He further stated "It is a damnable outrage that these three young men should be jerked up before the courts, taken from their jobs and their studies, and tried on such flimsy evidence that the state has presented."

The editor, J. P. Wade is quoted as saying:

"Young Sheppard comes from one of the richest families in this section. I admit that he might have made some mistakes in his life, as all boys do, but he never had murder in his heart and I feel and am confident in saying that he had nothing to do with the death of Dr. Hamilton. The state's own witness told of Sheppard's expressions of love and esteem for him and you and I know it would have been impossible for him to have anything to do with killing the man he loved so dearly.

I feel that a terrible injustice has been done to Louis Hamilton, Floyd Miller and Harmon Sheppard. There is no way of repairing that injury now, but the least that could be done for them is to give them the same opportunity they had before this damnable outrage was perpetrated and let them go back to their jobs and become citizens of their communities as other people have the right to do.

I would deem it a personal favor and I believe I express the thoughts of the majority of right thinking people of this community, if you would give Harmon the chance he so justly deserves.

I trust that you will pardon the length of this letter and will understand that my interest in the matter is to see that justice is done. I believe you or any other man would want the same thing for your own son or the son of any other person who has received the treatment that he has.

Very truly yours,
J. P. Wade

Firemen Pay
A Tribute To Former Members

The volunteer fire department led by R. J. Kelly attended the memorial services held in honor of W. I. Garland and M. E. Whitesides at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning to pay a poignant tribute to the memory of two gallant members that have died while in service of the department. Mr. Whitesides was killed in a tragic accident in 1933 and Mr. Garland died in line of duty last Saturday week at the crash of the local bridge.

The services opened with the dedicatory Doxology and the call of worship after the firemen had entered the church in a group. Miss Kathleen Colligan and Miss Marion Proctor of Wichita Falls sang "Let Me Commune With Thee O Lord." The tribute was directed to the citizens by the pastor of the church, Rev. J. C. Cook. The speaker urged the citizens to let the example of the sacrifice and life of the two men become a binding unity in the community to hold the group to a common purpose and ideal.

The members attended the service in the fire truck of the department and stood ready to answer any emergency call that might arise during the service. Those present were: G. C. Brashier, Henry Hall, F. H. Hood, Robert Dunn, Jobie Dunn, Fred Brookman, John Musick, Neal Allen, W. A. Roberts, Henry Prizing, G. C. Posey, D. B. Farrar, Claude Bowman, John Blackstone, J. F. Kelley, R. J. Kelly and W. C. Kiesling.

SEARCHERS SUN.

The American Legion through their commander Adge Johnson issued a statement Sunday thanking everyone that assisted in the search directed by that organization in the river beds. The Legion transferred them across the river on the cable at the rate of one per minute early in the morning.

The statement from Johnson was: "We, the members of the American Legion wish to express our sincere thanks for the commendable spirit shown by the members of the organization and the citizens of the community for their diligence and enthusiasm in responding to our call during the search for our buddy, L. M. Audrain last Sunday. Our appreciation for your response is deeper than we can say."

The merchants and business men of this city organized Saturday and cars were sent to the trolley at the river. The visitors were shown every courtesy that was available for them here.

After the shopping advertising tours the people were given safe escort across the stream. Many residents of the state were given a thrilling ride across the sky way trolley Saturday.

To Play Archer City Here

Burkburnett intercity All-Star team will entertain the Archer City team here next Wednesday, in a return match. The local team journeyed to the Archer City at the opening game of the season and blanked the team of that city. That was the last time the Archer City team was able to get into the game. Since that time they have defeated the Olney club and guests of the Graham teams. On these occasions the Olney team was defeated by overwhelming scores. The Olney lads pounded the Archer City team 13 to 0 in the first game on the local scene and the Graham pitcher pitched the Burk boys 19 to 0 in the most humiliating defeat in the league history. The boys were to play Wichita Falls Wednesday, May 29, but the report is that the game had not reached the wire press time.

DIZZY HEIRESS BESTS 'MUGGS' IN COMIC FILM

For the character Patricia Ellis plays in Damon Runyon's "Hold 'Em Yale," coming Saturday Midnight to the Palace Theatre, "there's something about a uniform" that just drives her crazy. Miss Ellis is the leading feminine role of this new Paramount picture plays a dizzy heiress who marries every man she meets who wears a uniform, much to the disgust of her father and the discomfort of his payroll—after having bought off five or six husbands.

Some of Mr. Runyon's "citizens of Broadway" figure on cutting in on this nice little graft. So, with Cesar Romero dressed in a phony aviator's garb they entice the little girl away from home and decide to hold her until her father comes through with plenty.

The little girl turns the table on them however, forces them to eat her cooking, wash their necks, spruce their appearance and generally makes life miserable for these "hard citizens."

How many Burkburnett old-timers can remember away back when a farmer would have reached for a brickbat if Uncle Sam or anybody else had offered to support him.

Most people around Burk who long for a swell big house are the kind that don't keep a little one clean.

Burk To Work For Community Center At Plant

CLUBS CHALLENGED TO HELP

Burkburnett will have the opportunity for one of the most important and progressive projects that it has had presented in many years. Since the YMCA withdrew from the city there has been practically no place for community activities, but in the churches and school buildings at the courtesy of the managers of those enterprises. Many times it has been inconvenient for those institutions to allow the civic organizations the use of their buildings.

Early in May the city of Burk voted to enlarge its electrical plant. The enlargement and extension of the system calls for the installation of engines that are much larger than those which the city uses at the present. The extraordinary vibrations from these new engines will make it necessary for the city to move the plant further from the center of the town.

The city fathers are planning to build on a new sight that is located in a more convenient center, and which will not interfere with the churches and business places in town.

These plans call for the abandoning of the present down town plant, and will leave the city with a building that will not be needed for any city purposes. This leaves the civic clubs, Legion, Rotary, Lions, C. of C. and other organizations in a position to do the city a excellent service.

The building with a little persistent effort on the part of these organizations can be made into one of the most attractive recreation and community centers in this part of the state. It will mean more cooperation than ever to gather these groups into cohesive unity, functioning for the common purpose of community betterment.

The building is ideal for this purpose. It is high celled, roomy, and with modern conveniences. There is an adequate space for a kitchen for banquets. A stage can be built on the west side that will make it possible to hold plays, programs and recitals in the building for every occasion.

"Naughty Mariette" Comes To Palace

Can you whistle "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life?" Can you hum "I'm Falling in Love with Someone?"

Of course you can—all the world can. That's how universally famous Victor Herbert's music in "Naughty Mariette" has become.

Did you thrill at "Trader Horn"? Did "The Big Parade" grip you? Well, Metro Goldwin-Mayer has done something startlingly new in blending the surge and thunder of these great dramas with the haunting music of "Naughty Mariette." You have had great adventure pictures before—but here is the world's first great musical adventure drama. It's "Naughty Mariette," coming to the Palace Sunday and Monday.

Jeanette MacDonald, greatest of singing screen stars, and Nelson Eddy, great American baritone whom you've often heard on the air, are hero and heroine.

It's a dramatic romance of old St. Louis of the Creole days, with hundreds of people, great sets, gorgeous costumes, battles and thrills, beautiful love moments, and the wonderful music is a part of the drama itself.

LEGION HUNTS FOR BODY SUN.

The members of the Oscar Frye Post of the American Legion and many other neighboring posts gathered Sunday for a complete search of the banks of the river for the body of one of the members of the local post, L. M. Audrain. Audrain is the only member of the party of five that has not been accounted for Sunday. The Legion with the characteristic loyalty dismissed memorial services and formed a searching party and over two hundred members of the various posts volunteered to assist in the search.

The line was formed across the river and the members kept in steady march for several miles down the muddy banks. The search was completed with the conviction that the body could not be on the surface of the ground near the river. The men came to the conclusion that the body had been carried down the river several miles or was buried in the sand and silt in some drift.

Only one small bit of evidence of the tragedy developed Sunday. Mr. Mills near the water pump station found the purse that was later identified as the purse of the late Mrs. Pickrell. It was mute evidence of the recent tragedy. On the north side the searchers found another mute testimony of the treachery of Red river. The portion of a skull was uncovered by one of the men as a demonstration of some forgotten tragedy.

CLAUDE ELLIOT DENIES CHARGES

Claude Elliot was in the office of the Star Saturday morning to make the statement that he denied asking a fee for taking care of the car that recently plunged from the bridge at the time of the break. Mr. Elliot stated that there had been a rumor that he was asking financial reward for what he had done willingly and gratis. For several days, Elliot and his brothers have volunteered to assist in the search and at the bridge without any thought of remuneration and reward. What they have done they said "we have done for the sake of humanity and not personal gain." They asked that a statement be published to offset the unofficial rumor.

O. R. Tipps Talks At Fairview Friday

O. R. Tipps, Wichita attorney, made the commencement address at the Fairview high school auditorium Friday night as 16 members of the class graduated. Mr. Tipps challenged the young people to constructive independent thinking, and to become social creatures with a sense of social responsibility. The drama and poetry of creation were the attempt of the creator to perfect an instrument of his ideal.

The salutary and vaudeictorian speeches were made by Clarence Bridges and Ruth Vogel. Roy Davis of Wichita sang a solo on the piano. Leroy O'Guinna and Clarence Bridges received medals for excellence in athletics. Thelma Moss recessional and professional. B. N. Cauthorn president of the school board presented the senior diplomas.

News of the Week

It is not often that our city is the object of national and international news, but the tragedy that occurred here at the destruction of the bridge put the name of this city on the front page of almost every major paper in the United States and Canada. In some English speaking foreign nations, the story made the front page. Clippings have been received in the office from several of the larger cities in the United States that ran the bridge picture and car picture the day after the event here. The humorous aspect of the story was some of the head lines that placed Burkburnett in the drouth stricken area of the mid-western states.

Bonus Veto

The bonus was vetoed in one of the few personal messages that a president has ever made before the assembled houses of congress. The President lost many votes in the veto, but it was passed over his veto in the house and sustained in the senate by 40 votes. The advocates started working on a new bonus bill that may win enough adherents to get by the Presidential displeasure.

Cotton Control

The extension of the Bankhead cotton control plan was agreed upon by the conference committee of the two houses of the United States congress. The members of the committee reported that they were unanimous in suggesting extension. The administration will give another loan of 12 cents a pound on the years crop. The first bill contained a two year extension, but a compromise was reached after a conference with the president.

Britains Airfleet

The most interesting development in the past week in Europe was the enlisting of 20,000 young men by England for their air fleet. The British have dominated the sea for several hundred years to enforce their safety and commercial supremacy. The control of the sea will mean very little the next time the nations square off, it is control of the air that is essential.

Texas Centennial

The house finance committee gave their approval of the $3,000,000.00 bill to aid the Texas area to carry on the centennial celebration. This is one of the first instances that the national government has offered in a similar project. It will assure the success of the celebration.

Seventh Grade Graduate 73 Friday

Seventy-three members of the 7th grade received certificates for completion of the grade school work at the high school auditorium Friday night when Butler Westerfield presented the diplomas to the group. The speaker for the commencement services was Rev. L. G. Hagard of the First Methodist church. The class sponsor was Miss Gladys Westbrook, teacher of the class. The graduation completed a week of activities on the part of the class that started in the banquet the Friday before.

Elders And Jeffers Tell Story Of Their Experience In River

One of the most thrilling experiences that a person could encounter in a life time came to the two boys stranded on the river island during the recent flood. Bill Jeffers and William Harold Elder started out Saturday morning in an innocent hunting trip on the south side of the river. Early in the afternoon the boys started across the river to box canyon. When they approached the island on which they were stranded the water was low and the way across seemed easy.

As they crossed the island and started for the other side the water on the north channel began to rise rapidly. Running swiftly back to the land they found all hope for escape blocked as the waters amounting to almost a head rise coming down the south channel.

The water gradually rose to the peak of the channel and by 7:45 only a few feet of land was left on the sand bar, and it was rapidly melting into the swirling waters. A few feet away a log had lodged on the end of the bar. They drug the small timber into the land and started to make a fire. As the water mounted higher, the two boys shoved the log, about nine feet long and six inches thick into the stream.

Sudden Rise

At first the water was comparatively slow with waves running only two or three feet high. However, as the sun faded the waves soon reached a much larger size. Sometimes the tides ran five to eight feet in height. They drifted from one side of the river to the other. Whenever they touched shallow water the swift stream drug them from their feet. One time they went within 50 feet of Oklahoma. Another time close to the south bank, crossing the raging stream on a frail piece of wood.

Nine miles down the river the two boys felt land on the south side. Dragging themselves out of the stream on a garden fence they located the house of Mr. McClure about three blocks from the river. By this time the boys had discarded all clothing except trousers. At the home of Mr. McClure, they secured the service of one of the men who went to a neighbor, Mr. Cooper, and phoned of their safe arrival.

Very few men have lived to tell a story of the fight against such overwhelming odds. The swift stream of muddy waters that was filled with debris and sand took a front wheel suspension, although introduced only last year, has established a new record for quick acceptance by the motoring public, every other major improvement in the history of automobiles according to J. M. Crawford, engineer, Chevrolet Motor Co. automobile show in January. Mr. Crawford said, "knee action" is a novelty. At the end of 1935, 507 automobiles equipped with knee-action suspension had been registered, representing 10 per cent of the total registered in the United States last year. This important automobile development surpasses the records of other improvements, including the electric wheel brakes, balloon tire finish, all of which have been universal uses. The knee-action suspension now has passed the test of owner-use just as fully as it passed all the laboratory and proving ground tests that engineers could devise.

"Manufacturers who adopted correctly designed individual front wheel suspension last year knew not only that it would fulfill the main purpose for which it was intended, that is, to improve the ride, but that it would work other benefits of nearly equal importance. Actually, these incidental benefits alone would justify the use of knee-action even if there were no improvement in the riding qualities of the car. This is especially true of the all enclosed type of knee-action unit, which has worked so great an improvement in steering that, if a less costly way were discovered to give equally good front-end springing, we could not adopt it if it meant a return to the old style steering arrangement.

"This improvement in steering is not merely in sensation and handling but in the mechanics and the geometry of the entire steering layout. With all-enclosed knee-action, all the steering connections, all the steering pins are attached to the chassis frame. Thus the drag link and tie rod are entirely stabilized, unaffected by the ups and downs of the front wheels, no matter how rough the road. This, of course, means the complete elimination of shocks in the steering wheel and of rapid wear in the steering connections and in the steering gear itself. As a result, after a year's experience with cars in the field, we found it possible in our 1935 knee-action models to make changes tending toward the ideal steering mechanism, and to avoid compromises that were required when we used conventional springing.

"Knee-Action progress in the last twelve months has not been in engineering and production alone. For greater progress has been made among motorists in proving the advantages of the suspension. A year ago, there was a belief among motorists that knee-action was an experiment. It was not, of course, for European cars had used it for years, and its use overseas is increasing every year. Other objections were as baseless. Now, a year's use has answered all the questions about knee-action and its strength, durability, safety and practicability."

A Civil War Veteran had spent a week at a New York hotel. When he went to pay his bill the clerk asked:

"What was your rank?"
"Oh, just a private, the old soldier replied.

"Well, I won't charge you anything. You are the first private I ever met."

Fifty-Six Seniors Receive Diplomas

Dr. J. F. Kimball, executive secretary of the Baylor Medical Hospital, gave the inspirational address at the commencement service of the 56 graduating seniors of the high school class last Thursday night. The speaker urged the young people to make their life "More Abundant" by going the second mile in their service. The speaker pointed out that this was the 300th anniversary of the high school an institution that is unique in world history.

At this point the speaker urged the students to look forward and to look backward in order that might adjust their lives to secure greatest happiness and to be of greater service. The last 50 years have been the most glorious in history and the next 50 will be the greatest that we have ever known, barring some accident or war that might wipe out our progress.

The mechanical progress of civilization has been unimaginable, but all great achievements have grown from the brain of some genius. In order to perfect our order of living the student must make his mental and spiritual progress equal the scientific achievements. In this reference the speaker said that no nation had ever endured for a long period after it had lost its ideals and religion.

Train Service To Be Restored In Near Future

According to the announcements from the Katy offices here the bridge over Red River will be scheduled for completion this week, about Thursday or Friday. The delay resulting from the threatening rise Sunday delayed the scheduled program for a few hours Sunday and Monday, and the materials were loaded and moved from the river bed. However, the materials were returned Monday and the work started again. The railroad is using approximately 150 men in the new construction, and will be ready to resume normal service in the near future.

EVERY CITIZEN A PARTNER

In a community which has established its own light plant, every citizen is a profit-sharer in a profitable enterprise.

Revenue paid a municipal utility is retained in the home town instead of going to financial centers of the nation, never to return or to benefit local citizens.

Money kept at home by municipal light plants gives citizens lower rates, better service, and it is used to reduce taxes, and make improvements otherwise impossible.

An individual who does not support a municipal utility is sharing the advantages without contributing—in brief, he is a poor sport. A citizen should prize his partnership.

The sale was under the direction of Mrs. M. W. Majors and the members of the organization paced the streets with the flowers, pinning the buds on every available citizen.

The funds that were derived from the sale will be used to aid the wounded soldiers in the various hospitals over the United States in the securing of better treatment for the wounds that they received in action during the world war. The Auxiliary will send the funds to the central office in the near future. It is one of the many movements of the group to aid the unfortunate men of the Legion.
