CURIOSITY SEEKERS

Probably both the police and the firemen, as well as all other agencies that serve public interests, are more handicapped by those morbid curiosity seekers than by all the regular difficulties of their work.

Last week we witnessed a good illustration of this human tendency. At a local fire a man was injured slightly. The man had no business whatever being that close to the fire. His presence and the presence of the rest of the crowd was a distinct handicap to the firemen. With a valuable property and in some cases even lives depending on their efforts the firemen are faced with the extra problem of taking care of a curious mob.

Something fascinating about any type of disaster draws a crowd like magnets draw steel filings. Last year in the bridge disaster, thousands of well meaning people flocked to the scene. Curious mobs were pushing and shoving until it was impossible to carry out the rescue work with any degree of efficiency. All that was accomplished was in spite of those present.

The same thing occurs when a major accident happens. This newspaper sends representatives to each such scene for the purpose of gathering information that is warranted and worth repetition. In case of accident, disconcerted and boorish crowds some time swamp the doctors' funeral homes, and other places where they have no more business than a monkey at the north pole.

Some time we have to restrain the impulse to hunt a baseball bat to use it with a wide swath. There is no reason for such mobs to rush to fires. Or if there is a reason the nuts ought to have sense enough to stay far enough away for the firemen to work without interference.

Another thing deserves attention. The fire truck pulls out for a fire, and a group some times lines up behind it. They are not always members of the department. They have no legitimate reason to be with the parade. Just thrill seekers. Something can be done. Now that we have drivers licenses, they can be revoked for following a fire truck.

MURDER TRIALS

Prestige of the American courts have received a severe blow all over the world as a result of the political mess in New Jersey. After a criminal court sitting in regular legal session had declared a man guilty, then the U. S. Supreme Court affirmed the sentence, the New Jersey Supreme Court affirmed, the board of pardons affirmed. Only when politics entered the area of the quasi-legal fuss was there any loss of dignity.

Three major courts affirmed a sentence as fair and legal. 15 of the best minds of the legal world of New Jersey and the United States declared all legality. 12 jurymen had stated "guilty". Yet in the face of this preponderance of affirmation, the governor attempted something that had never been tried before.

The execution of a state does not have the right nor the duty to interfere with the orderly processes of the courts. Only in extreme severe monarchies does a sovereign have such a right. In setting or attempting to set aside a verdict verified by so many sources of legal processes, the governor assumes a power not even granted to the president of the United States.

The result is that justice becomes a mockery. What will be the result on the American criminal. When a mind so warped as the average criminal mind is, see the fiasco that has been made in an attempt to save the man, that criminal will be encouraged to proceed with his anti-social plans and acts.

The crime is no worse than the murder of any child. The murder of a defenseless child or a woman deserves instant punishment, whether it is a Lindbergh's child or the child of the lowliest citizen.

What makes the crime so bad is that it signified or symbolized a man's or a group of men's defiance to the established law and order. That they have made such a mockery is not going to help the administration of law.

ADJUSTMENTS IN SCHOOL

During the boom we had ambitions that made it necessary for us to dot the country with schools. Today compared to a population of about 40,000 this area has a population of approximately 15,000. That change causes readjustments to be necessary. The first indication of these changes was in the release of the four upper grades at Cashion last week. Forty one new students came to Burkburnett.

It is only a matter of time until the largest part of the students of the area will be centralized in this school. Of course Burkburnett has no ambition to grab the entire area. Under the present set up they have just about all the students they can accommodate.

But it is time to start to thinking about the future. Most school projects are born of emergency situations and therefore, can not possibly receive the same well planned consideration that they deserve.

The public ought to inform itself on the situation. It ought to know two things—1. The financial status of our schools inside the Burkburnett district, 2. The possibility of expansion.

The expansion is inevitable. However, the school board

News of the Week

The four major Ethiopian powers have definitely agreed to a pact of mutual protection in case of invasion from Germany, France, England, Belgium, and Russia have banded together in case of aggression. "Aggression" may mean just about anything. In case a conflict starts either of the three continental nations will be able to prove to England that they have been attacked. It has been done before in War, and it will be done every time two nations fight.

Just how it will affect Hitler is problematical. He issued a statement last week that he would be willing to establish a new Larcena treaty, but not willing to withdraw his troops. After he just tore up one Lacarno pact, how does he expect any nation to trust his signature on any type of paper. Most nations would even hesitate to cash a small check for him.

Haile Selassie

While the Ethiopian struggle rapidly nears its climax, poor little Ethiopia has been sadly neglected. Now it appears that the emperor, Haile Selassie is in danger of being captured. Leading 20,000 troops personally, he has been in full retreat before the Italian advance. The Romans have strategically placed him in a bottle formation that may completely surround his forces. Violently the Lion of Judah roars for the league of nations, but the league has a hand full in Europe. So it is probable that the Lion of Judah will occupy an Italian cage, and like it very well.

Oklahoma Race

Governor Marland, the leader in the movement that suppressed the very vocal Alfalfa Bill, has cast his hat into the senatorial ring in Oklahoma. The erstwhile oil man and leader in producing in Oklahoma City, has a yearning to wear the toga. At this date it appears that he has an excellent chance.

Lamson Case

While the world was so excited about the Hauptmann case that was brought to a dramatic end Friday night on the Eastern coast, on the Western coast a case that was sensational by ordinary standards also came to a dramatic end. Charles Lamson was freed for the first time in three years after he had been arrested for the murder of his wife.

The man's wife was found dead in their California home three years ago, and the damning circumstantial evidence pointed toward his guilt. The first trial gave the death penalty. In the death cell he awaited the penalty and received a new trial. In the second trial he was bound over after a mistrial of 9 to 3 with a locked jury. The third trial never reached the jury, and the fourth trial ought to have an informed electorate to deal with when the time arises. It ought not be necessary to temporize. We always lose when we deal with the present only.

The intelligent thing to do would be to courageously start at the bottom with a reconstruction program. Make a model grade unit, a junior high group and finally a high school unit. The administration has done some remarkable work with the buildings and materials it has, but a building or series up to modern standards are demanded, and in a few more years will be absolutely necessary.

ended in a disagreement of 9 to 3. The judge dismissed the case.

Both people were lovable characters. Brilliant and educated. They had lived a life in the collegiate community that caused the community to think of them as highly respectable people, leaders in the community. The end of a very sensational case.

State Stores in Texas

Next fall the people of Texas will vote on the estate having the exclusive right to sell liquor. Such a state monopoly has been tried in other places. If the package stores of the state and county do not obey the law, it is highly probable that sentiment enough will have been accumulated by that time to vote in state monopoly. It seems that its up to the voters to keep in line and prevent the confiscation of their business.

Unemployment Down

For the first time since 1933 the unemployment figures in the United States dropped below the 5,000,000 mark last month. The estimate was made by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, an organization that is opposed to the present administration. If the word had come from the administration we would have been suspicious of it as political propaganda, but coming from opponents, we almost believe it.

A Film Without A Leading Lady

Is it possible to make a picture without a leading lady? This question debated many times by directors and producers is answered in a striking manner in the latest action drama of the screen, M-G-M's "Tough Guy", which comes to the Palace Theatre commencing Friday, with Jackie Cooper and Joseph Calleia. It has no heroine. There is no love interest. Still critics hail it as one of the most engrossing pieces of entertainment in months. The story deals with the comradeship that springs up between a notorious public enemy, a boy, and a dog, and the work of the Federal Secret Service in rounding up a gang of racketeers. Rin Tin Tin, Jr. son of the famous dog star of silent days, carries on in his fathers footsteps in the action-packed story.

Record Crowd At Fairview Jr. Class

The Junior class of the Fairview high school staged their play "Fingerprints" before a record crowd Friday night, April 3, at the school auditorium. The players were aided by a special group from Wichita Falls, and each group played excellent portrayals of their parts. Special mention should be given to Scotty McCall for his characterization of Keesey Haws, and Dorothy Siber, playing the French maid. These characters were the comedy elements of the play and each succeeded in keeping the audience in an uproar all the period of entertainment. The other players were Albert Zink, Carrie Ruth Stonecipher, Margaret Nell White Margaret Lee Bogy, Arnelie Morris, Fred Key, Lenore Podberg, and Iva Jim Banning, and played their roles well. The between acts were given by the Morgan Studio of Wichita Falls and each number was well received. They presented the following acts: Vocal Solo, Gwendolyn Griffin; Singing and dancing, Mary Nell Anderson; Playing and singing, Thomas Anderson; singing and dancing, Felix and Mary Jane Payne; Dustin Filmore and Gwendolyn Griffin, singing and dancing; combination dance, Thomas Anderson; vocal solo, Mrs. Eloise Morgan Patton, Mrs. Marguerite Morgan Butler accompanied the dancers and singers at the piano. CAPITOL NEWS LETTER

BY W. D. McFARLANE, M.C.

Anti-Lobbying Legislation
It now begins to look like anti-lobbying legislation will be enacted this session. Last week the House passed the Senate Bill providing that all parties who for any consideration are interested in legislation, must register with the Clerk of the House and Secretary of the Senate and give full information as to the nature of their employment, the amount paid, etc. The Senate on Saturday substituted the Black Bill for the House bill and this legislation now goes to conference where it is hoped that adequate legislation on this subject will be worked out and reported back to the Congress in the near future.

There is no doubt but what the exposures made by the Black Lobby Investigating Committee has been largely responsible for the passage of this legislation thus far. Their exposures have shown how far the Power Trust and similar powerful lobbies go to try to defeat the legislation designed to benefit the masses of the people. The press has carried from day to day the exposures of how the Power Trust sent fake telegrams to congressmen then burned their records; how the socially elite have lobbied with Congress for the special interests; how the so-called tax payers' committees, patriotic organizations, munition lobbies, and many others too numerous to mention have wined and dined Members of Congress and others to put over their program. The American Liberty League, the Crusaders, Sentimentals of the Republic, all lobby organizations, representing the wealthy have been very active trying to protect their clients and have been far too successful when considering from the viewpoint of the masses. It will be interesting to see whether or not this lobby registration legislation is finally enacted into law. It is known the special interest crowd are bitterly opposed to its enactment.

Flood Control
The Congress finally passed the bill appropriating $25,000,000 for flood control relief loan to the stricken areas so effected within the past few weeks. These loans will be available immediately to rehabilitate these flood stricken areas.

Stock Yards and Meat Packing Act
Amendments to the above act were fully debated and finally passed by the Senate Thursday by a vote of 32 to 18. The Murphy bill which as amended now goes to the House for consideration.

Deportation of Alien Criminals
The Senate debated Thursday Friday and Saturday amendments to this Act which would depart about 20,000 alien criminals, many of whom are about as desirable as the late B. R. Hauptmann and almost as expensive. It is to be hoped that legislation on this subject will be enacted at this session of Congress.

Commodity Credit Corporation Bill
The House passed finally last week amendment to this bill, authorizing $97,000,000 for its future operation.

The legislative appropriations bill conference report was agreed to and sent to the President, so were the amendments to the National Housing Act.

The State, Commerce, Justice and Labor Appropriations bill was finally passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

Calendar
The Rural Electrification bill, recently passed by the Senate will be considered in the House this week. This legislation will go far to extend cheap electricity to the farmers of America, less than 5 per cent of whom now have electricity. The House will consider private and consent bills on Monday and Tuesday and following the Rural Electrification bill will consider State tobacco compact legislation.

The Senate Monday will resume consideration of the deportation of alien criminals. The House Ways and Means Committee is due to close their hearings on the Tax bill this week.

New Texas Almanac

The book of 100,000 facts—the 1936 edition of the Texas Almanac is just off the press. It is the largest volume in the history of this publication—a total of 512 pages, on better grade of paper and more profusely illustrated. The 1936 book, although designated as the "Centennial Edition" and compiled in tribute to the grand celebration in Texas this year, misses only twenty-one years of reaching its own centennial year having been issued in 1857 by the Galveston News, the parent organization of the Dallas News, its present publishers.

While with new material of historical nature is included in the new issue, none of the chapters that has made The Texas Almanac the standard reference book of Texas in the past have been omitted. The names of several thousand individuals appear in its pages.

Features of the current issue include an extensive description of the Texas Centennial, including celebrations at Dallas and other points in the State, an outline of the history of Texas from its beginnings to the present, an illustrated chapter on the wild flowers of Texas, lists of the different kinds of trees and wild animals found in Texas, extensive lists of historic old towns and origins of names of Texas towns, a text of the State Constitution with all its amendments and brief account of submission of all adopted amendments since adoption of the Constitution, and the new farm census figures of 1935. There is much of interest for the coming political campaign including the current poll tax payments by counties. All figures on State, county and city bonded debt are brought up to date. There are several chapters devoted to points of interest for the Centennial tourists in Texas, and a new map made in four colors especially for this edition of the Texas Almanac. entitled

"Texas for tourists" is folded between the leaves of each volume. There are more than 100,000 facts about the history, natural resources, crops, livestock, industries, commerce, transportation, finance, government, politics, educational system, cultural institutions, and other phases of Texas economic, political and social development.

The Texas Almanac, always in demand by business and professional men and women and students in the Lone Star State, will be more in demand this year than ever before. Texas history is more glamorous and richly appealing on the State's 100th birthday. Thousands of out-of-state visitors and newcomers will find this birthday edition particularly acceptable. No individual or organization is so thoroughly equipped to present in book form a compendium of Texas data. Facts and figures come from all parts of the State to find, in well edited form, their niche in this widely demanded handbook on Texas—its past, present and future.

The Senior Class of Fairview High School is going to present the last play to be given in this auditorium on April 23, 1936. This play is a drama in three acts entitled "Mill of the Gods", and is directed by Mr. Jones. If you miss this play you will have really missed something, because this is going to be a very interesting play. The seniors have already started work on this play and they are going to put it over big. Those of you who like picture shows just come out to Fairview, April 23, 1936, and you will see a play that is just as good as almost any picture show for less money. The admission will be 10 & 20c.

Don't miss "Mill of the Gods." Seniors Entertain Juniors With Dinner

The Senior Class was host to the Junior Class Sunday, at a dinner given at the home of the Senior Class Mother, Mrs. J. W. Zink. It was a beautiful feast and everyone enjoyed himself heartily and fully.

The aim of the Junior Class is to make the Seniors feel as miserable at the Junior-Senior Banquet as they, the Juniors, felt Sunday afternoon. Thanks for the feed, Seniors, it was swell.

The Junior Class play "Fingerprints," under the direction of Mrs. R. D. Watkins, was produced before a capacity crowd Friday night April 3.

The play was well received and the audience seemed highly appreciative of the efforts of these Juniors to entertain them. This was the first three act play many of the Juniors had ever appeared in and was the first stage appearance of any kind for several of them. Each character did remarkably well, but a special mention should be made of the fingerprint detective, Hoesy Hawks, played by Dorothy Siber. These parts could not have been improved upon. They kept the audience in an uproar of laughter all the time they were on the stage. The other characters were: Albert Zink, Margaret Lee Boggy, Margaret Nell White, Lenore Podberger, Arvelle Morris, Fred Key, Iva Jim Banning, and Carrie Ruth Stonecipher.

Kelly To Attend Gas Association In Dallas In May

A number of gas men in Burkburnett will be interested in the subject of natural gas conservation, which is to be one of the principal topics at the annual convention of the Natural Gas Department of the American Gas Association in Dallas May 6-8.

A substantial representation of delegates is expected from Texas. The following are listed as active members but a much larger representation from Texas is anticipated at the convention: R. J. Kelly, manager Burkburnett Gas Co., Burkburnett; R. E. Wertz, president Amarillo Gas Co., at Amarillo; D. W. Young, Coleman Gas & Oil Co., at Coleman; O. E. Duggins, manager Dalhart Gas Co., at Dalhart; C. C. Cragin, vice-president and general mgr., and A. B. Forbes, Jr., El Paso Ntl. Gas Co., El Paso; F. F. Coughlin, general mgr. Empire Southern Gas Co., Fort Worth; Frank C. Smith, president and general mgr. Houston Ntl. Gas Co., C. Lee Wood general mgr. Houston Pipe Line Co., and N. C. McGowen, United Gas Public Service Co., Houston; H. C. Frizzell, M. & M. Pipe Line Co., Bellville; J. V. Murdaugh, manager Palestine Light, Heat & Power, Palestine; C. F. Stahl, general mgr. Panhandle Power & Light Co., Borger; W. A. McIntyre, mgr. Peoples Gas Co., at Port Arthur; J. C. Jordan, general mgr. Rio Grande Valley Gas Brownsville; D. A. Powell, vice-president and general mgr. San Antonio Public Service, San Antonio; R. H. Hurd, Texas Gas Utilities Co., Del Rio; C. L. Burgher, Tyler Gas Service Co., at Tyler; F. D. Bradley, Union Finance & Sales Co., Dallas; R. F. Hinchey, West Texas Gas Co., Lubbock.

In the matter of conservation of natural gas, Texas is just coming through a long and bitter struggle which will be explained at the convention. The combined action of the Texas Legislature, the Railroad Commission, and the courts, both state and Federal have been necessary to stop the wastage of gas in the Texas Panhandle which at one time totaled more than a million cubic feet a Louisiana officials today are alarmed by wastage in the Rodessa field, estimated at 150,000,000 cubic feet daily. Cal. and Okla. are wrestling with the same problem.

Other subjects which will be discussed are a proposal for a national advertising campaign by the gas industry, better home heating methods to protect the public from colds and poor ventilation, long distance transmission of natural gas, and dust-proofing of compressor stations.

Those people who get temperamental, blow up, go all to pieces and go up in the air, always come down in one piece, if people stop paying any attention to them.

And another question: Why did the first man who used the word know spell it with a "g" rather than a "k"?

ELECTRIC BILLS SAY "OWN YOUR OWN AT HOME"

An average net monthly bill for 100 kilowatt-hours in the states of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma costs an electrical consumer $5.44.

A similar bill in Burkburnett costs a citizen only $5.04. Why this saving of 40c each month? Because a municipal light plant is saving that amount for Burkburnett citizens. Rates are lowered when municipal plants are established in a community, for the interests of the customers are given primary consideration rather than those of financial centers.

Contest

to be among the leaders in the last vote showing. Our best advice to those who want to win one of the valuable prizes is to cover the territory thoroughly, and to hurry every available subscription to the campaign department, now while the big votes are allowed. Not to do so simply means that you are throwing away golden chances, ones that may bring you the prize of your dreams.

Big Votes
Only 3 more weeks are left of the big vote schedule. On May 1st the first reduction in votes will take place. Most surely on the work accomplished during these weeks will determine who will ride away in the two cars on May 1st. Now is the time to do the big things.

The paper and the campaign manager are pleased with the manner in which the plan has been received by the public. Only praise and commendation have been heard concerning the fairness and liberality of the payment system. The public realizes that by paying a weekly salary to all participants, that remuneration is absolutely assured on the basis of actual accomplishments and that no one that works will lose. And the fact that there is an opportunity to win big awards by extra effort, makes the "Weekly Payroll" as being outstanding in subscription collection offers.

While the response thus far has been gratifying, the fact remains that the work has really just started. All the workers are fully aware that are liberal hundreds of people all over the country who have not yet been contacted, but who will be and whose names will be added to the rapidly growing list of Star subscribers. As a plain statement of fact, the campaign is only at its inception and the field has not yet been scratched. Last week was "Entry Week" in the work and this can be properly termed "Starting Week."

Have YOU started yet? Have you signed the Entry Coupon and then set down to rest before beginning work? Or have you just been "thinking about it"? In either case, let us say in all earnestness GET BUSY — START BUSY — and WIN BIG. But don't wait another minute — DO IT TODAY!

And here is a thought for all you good people who expect to give a subscription to the Payroll of your choice during the life of the campaign. Don't put off subscribing until later in the campaign. Order the schedule of votes a subscription for one year will bring your friend 2,000 credits. During the final week your subscription will be worth only 200 credits—half as many. We are certain that you would not willingly deprive your friend of any votes, but the plain truth is that it amounts to the same thing if you hold back a subscription, which you might as well make now while the tens count for the most. You are going to get anyway and thus give your the benefit of the commission which will not be earned by your subscription if eventually why not to the last day of the contest but the number of votes will be greatly reduced.

And another thing: The amount may be made at the office. If you prefer a friend will be given full The point is—DO IT NOW!
