ANNOUNCES

In administration he has proved to be a capable prosecutor and administrator for the county.

Allison Homicide Trial Postponed To Next Thursday

Defense Asks Delay for Case at County Court Thursday

Wade Allison will be tried at the county court before Judge Filmore next Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, according to a phone interview with attorney Mike Anglin Thursday morning. The case was postponed at the motion of the defense. The defense first entered a motion to dismiss the charges alleging the fatal death resulted from accident, but the county judge overruled the motion.

The defense then asked the County Judge for more time to prepare the defense and secure additional witnesses for the defense. The judge allowed the motion after the district attorney had concurred. The defendant is on trial for the death of R. H. McFarlane, PWA superintendent of the local paving project, who died after a fight at the rock crusher.

The district attorney announced that new charges would be filed for the trial next Tuesday. The first charge was found to have a technical error, and the limit for file was two days after the notice was given.

Mike Anglin said the new charge would be filed immediately.

ONLY NINE DAYS MORE OF THE BIG VOTES

FIRST AND MOST IMPORTANT PERIOD ENDS MAY 2ND AT 9 P.M.

Subscriptions Take Big Drop In Vote Value Next Saturday Night; Help Your Favorite Now

One week from this Saturday will witness the close of the first period of the Star's Weekly Payroll Campaign. It is stating an absolute and positive fact when we say that thus far the campaign has been a success. Not an overwhelming and record-breaking success—to say that would be ridiculous, but the kindly reception from the public in general which the campaign has received from its inception has been intensified each week, and great things are expected between now and the close of this all important first period which will come to an official close on next Saturday night.

Subscription List Growing Not only is the list of paid-in-advance subscriptions to the Star growing with leaps and bounds, but the hundreds of promises given the candidates for subscriptions before the campaign ends insures a complete coverage of the county and adjacent territory. And this is not all. From all parts of Texas, and other states former residents of this county are being added to the list of Star readers.

Now, this is fine for the paper, and for the advertisers. But it does not hold forth any degree of certainty for the faithful workers. Their problems are still waiting to be solved. Who will win first place? That question will be answered first, by how industriously and persistently they apply themselves, and second, how they are supported by their friends who have subscriptions to be given.

Important Days Here Here is something of great importance both to workers and subscribers. It is not new, it was printed in the announcement, and has been reiterated many times since, but it seems to have escaped notice in places where it should not have been overlooked. Saturday night, May 2nd, will mark the close of the first period of the campaign, and after that, less votes will be issued on subscription collection. Just NINE more days—not of the campaign—but of maximum possibilities of votes. NINE more days to make certain enough votes to assure success. Eight days in which to build up an insurmountable reserve of

HERE THEY ARE

LISTED below in alphabetical order, and without regard as to vote standings, are the live-wire, ambitious participants in the Star's big circulation drive.

The race has narrowed down to actual workers now, and all those listed below are in the race to win, and a hot finish is expected from this on. There are no quitters here.

- Mrs. Fred Alexander
- Mrs. Nadine Baker
- Mrs. Ruby Finch
- Miss Pauline Gladden
- Miss Margaret Matheus
- Mrs. Newell Level
- Mrs. Henry Porter
- Miss Pauline Welsh

Each one of these candidates are NOW calling on their good friends for help—NOW—before the end of the biggest vote period in this campaign. Help your favorite TODAY, don't let her call in vain.

votes, enough to assure victory and the prize you most desire. The days and the weeks that have passed have seen the commendable activity on the part of a few of the workers. They have proven that they are in earnest, that they can be depended upon to do their level best. They have not stopped working, and will not stop working until the final hour for closing comes on the last day of the campaign.

Speed Will Win This is the right spirit. Unceasing activity is what it takes to win in a competition of this kind. But listen, Payrollers—regardless of what you have accomplished up to this time, if you allow the remaining days of this big vote period to pass without exerting yourselves to the utmost, you will be jeopardizing not only the work you have done thus far, but your hopes for victory. If you permit the next few days to pass without putting forth the very best effort of which you are capable the responsibility will rest largely upon yourselves. Big results are expected from each one in the race from now on. Each candidate should resolve right now to make just as many clubs during this next week as possible. After all

Only a Few Short Days Remain For Workers to Get Last Big Votes on Your Subscription

It is votes that win, and votes alone. So, candidates, it's up to you.

And now, Mr. and Mrs. Reader. A word to you. If your favorite candidate in this race falls short of the goal she has set for herself, part of the responsibility will be yours. Many of you have promised subscriptions during the campaign. Did you mean it? Were you making that promise in good faith, really meaning to give that subscription that your friend needs, or were you just putting her off? Are you turning your back on a friend?

Help Your Favorite Now Now, Mr. and Mrs. Reader here's where your part comes in. Your subscription may be the very one your friend needs to put her "over the top." She that gets it before the big drop in votes.

We are proud of our workers. Some of them have shown the stuff of which winners are made. They have caught the vision, and are not allowing anything to interfere with the main purpose. They are showing pep, push and personality. These are winning characteristics. But there is another "P" in the dictionary that must be remembered. That is the first letter of the word "perseverance," and that word must be kept closely in mind.

Votes Drop in Value There are but a few more days of this "first period," and at that times the votes will be decreased to an extent that your subscription will mean only about one-third as much as it does now.

And since it is votes that win the two Chevrolets and the bigger cash awards, and NOT the number of subscriptions sold, let's all pull together now, and make the close of the "first period" a huge success. The increased circulation list will benefit, not alone the paper, but everyone interested in the town and surrounding section. The weekly payroll checks will add to the money circulating in the community, and be a benefit to one and all. It's a county-wide proposition and should enlist the co-operation of every resident. Remember just a few more days. Let's go! Say it with subscriptions.

DISTRICT WINNER

Three Men Ordered Reinstated By The National Reviewer

Bell Give Notice of Appeal of Case to Civil Court in New Orleans

Four Men Enter Cases

The local dispute between the International oil workers union local 258 and the five oil companies operating in the Northwest Field assumed major importance, and because a case of interest to both employees and employers all over the nation this week. Inquiries were received by the local newspaper from organizations from all over the nation regarding the contest.

One of the major tests will start at the federal building Friday when the Tucker Oil Company will answer objections entered by the local 258. The case involving the employees of that concern will be heard at the jury room. The case was set for Monday, but delayed when Karl Mueller, NLRB became ill with flu.

Three Reinstated

Official notice was received in Burk Burnett that the National Labor Relations Board had ordered the Bell Oil and Gas Co. of Burk Burnett and Grandfield to reinstate three of the seven men who had been discharged last fall immediately after the 10 day strike in Northwest field. The board stated that the reinstatement followed a review in the case in which the union entered protest that the men had been discharged for union activities.

The board's decision also ordered the company to stop discouraging the membership in the local 258 in Burk Burnett, or otherwise interfering with the employees exercising their rights to "self organization" and to reimburse the three men for the back pay dating from their discharge.

The company made an original protest before the regional board in Wichita Falls, stating that the men had been discharged because of "failure to perform assigned duties efficiently." The union advocated that the discharge was result of the workers membership in the union and leadership in the strike. This trial was conducted before R. L. Guthrie, district supervisor of the board.

Four Dismissed

The plea for reversal was thrown out in the case of four men who were discharged at the same time. The result was that the case of these men will be dropped unless there is appeal by the union. The Bell Oil and Gas company has the right to take the case directly to the supreme court or through a civil court of appeals. The officials could not be reached this week.

MAIN PHONE 9

BURKBURNETT, TEXAS

The group, eighteen in number, left the school grounds at one o'clock, and after quite a dusty trip they reached their destination at 3:15. They found the favorite Fairview cabin, the 'Will Rogers' occupied, so they went air minded and took the 'Winnie Mae' instead.

Immediately upon the occupation of the cabin, the Juniors heard the waters of Lake Thomas calling them. So they donned their bathing suits and off they went to take the first swim of the season in nice, cool, (very cool) refreshing waters of Lake Thomas. (The swimming pool of the park is not open yet.)

It proved to be a very invigorating swim and was so enjoyable that the men working on the dam had to threaten blasting them out to get them out at all, even though they were all covered with "goose bumps", and were blue as indigo, and each one doing the Hula Hula in his own way without any effort whatever.

After returning from the ice-bathing and after taunting out to a certain extent, some of the group went adventuring and found everything from a 42 lb. catfish to a white buffalo, while others played ball to the rhythm of the music of two expert negro musicians across the street.

At 6:30 the supper committee called "Come and get it or we'll throw it out." Nobody gave them a chance to throw it out! What a meal! Hot tamales, fried potatoes, lettuce, tomatoes, fried pies and coffee!

Just as everything was about to be finished up and the dish washing committee was getting ready to go on duty, up drove a car load of something under 10 gallon Texas Centennial Hats.

Upon close investigation to see what was under them, it was found to be a part of the Fairview faculty—"Army", "Bobby Ray", Taylor, Louise and "Big Swart". The reason they were so late was because Army and Louise jumped out of the car at Ft. Sill when they saw so many pretty men in uniform—Then when they got settled down, out jumped Bobby Ray and Taylor.

It was such a big temptation! After they had eaten what was left of the hot tamales etc., and the dish washing committee had finished their task, then the entertainment of the night was begun. Some played 42, others went exploring in the moonlight.

At 10:30 the expert negro musicians, mentioned before, consented to come to the "Winnie Mae" and entertain for awhile if the hat could be passed around. They held the entire group spell-bound with their musical ability for about forty five minutes. How those negroes could play, sing and dance! The hat was filled to capacity for them!

After the musical treat, the group played the fast and furious game of "Donkey" until 12 o'clock. No one came out seriously injured, but several acres of skin had changed places.

At this time came the task of finding a place for everybody to sleep. After much figuring, adding to, subtracting and multiplying, a place was found for everyone by four and five sleeping in a bed. The worst task of all came next—getting everyone in the notion of going to sleep at the same time.

Finally at about 2 o'clock in the morning, Margaret Nell and Lenore let go their last giggle and all was quiet until 6:30 the next morning when everyone was awakened by the early bird whistlings of Mildred and Dorothy.

The breakfast committee got on the job at once and produced the most delicious breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon, toast, jelly and butter, coffee and oranges. After this nice breakfast it was voted to climb Mt. Scott. The group started out at 9 o'clock and at 10:45 they started straggling in, some limping and blistered to the bone, others as fresh as a daisy, but all were ready for a few minutes rest.

Nothing especially exciting happened during this interval, each one mostly entertaining himself. Then came the call of the dinner committee that "it was on the table". What a feast—a dish pan full of Mexican beans, a foot tub full of creamed potatoes, bacon, lettuce, tomatoes, cake, iced-tea by the gallons.

A nap was in order immediately after partaking of this feast, then another swim in Lake Thomas. This swim was not a very prolonged affair because the chill of the afternoon before was still remembered vividly.

Preparations were begun for the trip home immediately after returning to the "Winnie Mae." The party left the park at 4 o'clock and drove to Ft. Sill where they closely inspected the plant and watched the fair damsels of the Fairview faculty to see that they got safely through this tempting place.

At 6 o'clock the group stopped at Cache Creek and roasted weiners. They had all the trimmings to go with these weiners—pickles, mustard, onions, great big buns and oat meal cookies and apples.

The gang arrived home at 7 o'clock tired and dirty, but supremely happy.

Those who made the trip were Margaret Lee Bogy, Lenore Podberger, Mildred Morrison, Carrie Ruth Stonecipher, Margaret Nell White, Dorothy Siber, Iva Jim Banning, Albert Zink, Scotty McCall, Fred Key, Leroy O'Guinn, James Brown, Ralph Winkles, Mrs. J. W. Zink, Mrs. Ben Winkles, Mrs. Joe Podberger, Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, Miss Louise Taylor, Miss Lois Blake, Miss Ray Davis, and Mr. R. D. Watkins and Elbert Zink and the sponsor, Mrs. R. D. ## WEST, MCLAGLEN BRING COLOR OF GOLD - RUSH TO "KLONDIKE ANNIE"

Mae West spreads her own particular brand of light in the Land of the Midnight Sun in her newest picture, "Klondike Anne," which opens Tuesday at the Palace Theatre.

The lady who made curves famous goes back to the period of the gay and gussy '90's for her latest production, returning to the type of role which won her fame in "She Done Him Wrong" and "Belle of the Nineties." A big cast headed by the virile Victor McLaglen supports her in the film.

"Klondike Anne" begins on San Francisco's famed Barbary Coast in its lustiest days, and winds up in Alaska during the fabulous Gold Rush. Miss West entertains 'em in 'Frisco and in the Yukon with equal ease. In 'Frisco she is held virtually a captive by a jealous lover, and, when she seeks to escape, he tries to stop her by force. In the struggle he is killed. Mae flees to a steamer awaiting her in the harbor. The vessel is commanded by Victor McLaglen, a tough old salt, who is immediately entranced by his fair passenger. He sets out under full steam for Alaska, stopping at one port to pick up additional passengers.

Among them is a girl missionary, bound for Nome to bring the Word of God to that turbulent city. She and Miss West become firm friends, and Mae is deeply grieved when she dies at sea. Just at this time, Federal officers board the vessel, in search of Miss West, who is wanted for the San Francisco affray. She dons the missionary's clothes and escapes detection. But when the vessel arrives at Nome, she is forced to carry on the pose.

How she does it, and what it ultimately brings, are told excitingly and amusingly in the climactic episodes of the film.

Big Rabbit Creek

One day of last week, D. L. Alexander, while crossing his barbed wire fence, he ran a barb into his left hand and within 24 hours blood poison set up. He got his hand infected. He went to Dr. Simms of Burk Burnett. The doctor advised him it would have to be lanced. D. L. has a very bad hand and arm on him.

Well folks, this part of this old world down here on Big Rabbit Creek is getting mighty dry and the oats is just about gone. Last Wednesday night we had one of those Jack County, Tex. rains from 3 to 4 drops of rain from 40 to 60 minutes apart. The past week the clouds have been looking favorable for a good rain back in the west and northwest, but they have been too far from town. They went South-west or North-east of us.

All who planted their corn early will have to plant it over when it rains as it didn't come up to anything like a stand and what did come up is dying for a drink of water. The Kemp Bros. advised the writer that all of their corn would have to be planted over if it would ever rain.

The oat and wheat crop has just about gone up salt creek. Oats in some fields are heading out and the oat itself is about 4 inches tall. It's just too bad as the farmers were banking on a good wheat and oat crop for 1936.

Hawkeye has been told that all around Walters, Hastings, Temple, Waurika and Addington, Oklahoma that the farmers are hauling water from 6 to 10 miles for their stock and a good many wells have gone dry and that water is being hauled for cooking and drinking.

Charlie Hails and his old chum friend Edgar Harris, visited with the Owens family last Sunday for an hour or so.

W. H. Martin and his little daughter, Miss Winnie June, motored over to Burk Burnett Sunday afternoon.

Hawk Eye is glad to announce in his Big Rabbit Creek News that he, as well as the rest of his family, is slowly improving from having a bad attack of the flu. Hawk Eye is still very weak, but he says he is proud that his appetite is coming back to him as he is now able to eat plenty of sow-busom and navy beans. And when a guy gets to where he can eat he is out of danger.

Mr. Campbell, of Randlett, who had two operations performed on him several weeks past at Wichita Falls, Texas was brought back to his home in Randlett one day of this past week. He is supposed getting along as well as can be expected under all circumstances.

Mr. Si Linskey drove down to the Owens family home Thursday and visited with them for an hour or so.

The Owens Bros. have what is called a drop bit to dig water wells with, and its a good one too, by all indications. The many fellows that have come to borrow it in the past few weeks as their water wells have gone dry and new ones have to be dug. There has been four different neighbors that have come after it. It has been out in the neighborhood for over two weeks now. The boys are glad that they have something to let their neighbors have to dig their water wells with.

After all the freezing weather this past winter, the Owens family's dew berry patch will make good and they will have lots of fine dew berries this year, but no plums, wild or tame as the last big freeze that come killed them. All their mulberry trees are leafing out again but don't know whether they will put on the second crop or not.

News of the Week

Burkburnett contributed its share to national news this week. Two stories received wide spread attention after starting in the local community. The first of these stories was the PWA tragedy. The angle of Congressman McFarlane gave the story more importance than it would have ordinarily received.

The second story was of more consequence. The national Labor Relations Board ordered the Bell Oil and Gas to restore three of the seven men that were discharged last fall during the strike to their position and pay back salary for the time that the men were suspended. This decision will probably be contested to the supreme court. The result may be as far reaching as the NRA decision by the same body of judges. More than the jobs of seven men were at stake in the case. The entire principal of collective bargaining is in test in the case. At the same time the right of an employer to "fire" a man he considers undesirable regardless of union affiliations will be in contest. The local case may develop into one of the most interesting of the year.

Congress Adjournment

Congressmen are becoming very restless as the result of hot campaigning against them back at home. Each of the members of the house and one third of the senate will face several very vexing questions this year, and they will need a lot of time before the july primaries in order to start organizations for reelection. For that reason the group set the first week in June as the adjournment date for the national houses.

The three main bills that they must dispose of are work relief, and supply bill. The tax bill must cover, navy spending, Mississippi and Ohio flood control, and emergency relief expenses. All other bills are awaiting conference action.

Kidnappers

The arrest of the last of the Barker-Karpis gang in various major cities last Friday completed the puzzling case starting in the kidnapping of William Hamm, Jr. the wealthy brewer. The case was one of a series of major kidnappings that startled the nation three years ago. Today every one of the 13 major cases have been completed and not a single member of importance of any of the groups have escaped. The FIB (commonly called G-men) have done a very thorough job of halting kidnaping as a major substitute of racketeering of the prostitute of racketeering of the prostitute.

Judge Ritter

If it happened more often we would be encouraged. Judge Ritter accepted funds from his partner in a case of receivership. The racket worked this way. Ritter's partner was assigned the cases and the profits divided at the end of the year. That racket has been worked too often. Even in Wichita County, the son of a highly respected and well known federal judge received too many receiverships to suit the inquiring citizen. One famous case that never made the papers involves a large oil company that went bankrupt in Wichita County.

The lovely lady that will be centennial sponsor has decided and vowed to not marry until the celebration is over. Those fathers of the fair are not very wise. You might as well say "Wind quit blowing or "Rain, stop falling" as to try to hold a young lady in love to a promise like that.

Senior Play Will Be Presented At School Fri. May 1

The Senior play, "Stop Thief" will be presented Friday night, May 1. This will be the outstanding entertainment of the entire season. It is a humorous play written by Cyril Moore and directed by Miss Margaret Tanner. There will be more wit and humor in this two and a half hours of entertainment than your money will buy anywhere else.

Every wide awake man that wants to get his money's worth will see "Stop Thief." The class made an outstanding record in the play "Dummy" that was given last year. With that experience, they will give a most remarkable, stupendous, colossal, outstanding performance ever given in the Burk Burnett High School. It will be worth your while just to see Otter Wheeler play the part of an absent-minded kleptomaniac father of three daughters. A most heart-felt and comical situation will be found in G. L. Shaffer when he learns that on his wedding day that he has a disease of taking things, mother-in-law-to-be in hysterics, disappearance of jewels, all on the wedding day. What a situation! Willie Dix Alexander will be a scheme as she plays the part of mother and is also wife of Otter Wheeler but to cap this off, she is deaf. Come and see how she manages when her ear trumpet is stolen. Did you ever want to know how to make love and couldn't? Well come and take lessons from Lester Hughes—He knows how! The three daughters, Irene Evans, Angles Jacobs, leading lady, and Claudia Mae Bowman will furnish an entertainment alone. But to top the whole program with wit and humor will be the villain and thief, J. T. Clifton with his bride-to-be Ruth Coats as partner in crime. J. R. Brock seems to have a bad habit of losing his temper when he learns that his bonds have been taken as well as lifted of his money in the Carr home. Thomas Lowry really is a knock-out as the sergeant. How rough he is. Do you want to employ a good detective? If you do, come and see Paul Savage in action. The policemen are L. D. Holman, J. W. Kent and Claude Moore. This entertainment will be so exciting, so romantic, so dashing and so full of action that you will remember it in the years to come as the best play that you have ever seen.

The tickets are on sale. If you want a good reserved seat, get it now, for they are going like hot cakes. Buy your general admission from any member of the Senior class. The price will be 25c and 50c. The lot of the year will be here at the Burk Burnett high school Friday night, May 1, 1936. Come and bring your wife, friend or sweetheart.

Wayne Somerville In Race For Judge Of 89th District

Wayne Somerville, who has resided in Wichita County for the past 26 years and whose circle of friends and acquaintances touches the four corners of the county, announced Saturday his candidacy for the office of district judge of the 89th judicial district subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. Mr. Somerville was a candidate for this office four years ago against the late honorable P. A. Martin, and was defeated by him, according to the returns of the judges of the election by the small majority of four votes.

Mr. Somerville secured his education in the public school system in the state of Texas, graduating from the local school in 1910, then attending the University of Texas. He worked his way through this institution, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Arts in 1915, at which time he entered the practice of law in Wichita Falls. He served as an enlisted man with the 142nd infantry, 38th division throughout the World War, and was elected county attorney of Wichita County in 1925 which place he held for six years declining to run in 1930. During four years of that time he also served as secretary of the State District and County Attorney's association working for the elimination of the fee system and for more effective criminal laws. A number of the recommendations were passed by the legislature and are now on the statute books.

Formal Announcement

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Somerville said: "If elected to this office I shall strive to perform its duties under the same principles of economy, efficiency and friendly service to the public as actuated me as your county attorney. I will soon be 45 years old and have practiced law in this county for the past 21 years with the exception of two years army service during the world war. I served for five years as assistant county attorney under Mr. John Davenport and Mr. E. L. Fulton seeking to qualify myself for the office of county attorney. I was elected to that office in 1925 and held it for six years, working and studying to qualify for a higher office and did not run for re-election. "I have been in the general practice of law since leaving the county attorney's office and four years ago announced as a candidate asking promotion to the office I am now seeking. I was defeated by four votes by the late Judge Martin who was later appointed to the court of civil appeals. Judge Martin's promotion to the court of civil appeals his successor was appointed to fill his unexpired term. The main objection to my candidacy at that time was that I was too young and inexperienced. I have endeavored to remedy those two objections by adding four years to my age as well as to my experience and at this time I am older and have practiced law longer than any district judge in the courthouse.

Without Prejudice

"I believe it the duty of the judge to pass upon matters submitted to him without prejudice or partisanship and if elected I shall faithfully endeavor to discharge the duties of the office fairly and impartially and to enforce the law as free from technicalities as possible. I shall dispose of business as rapidly as is consistent with careful consideration of the rights involved, and in handling and passing upon extreme writs, such as a temporary injunction, I shall endeavor to give the absent parties a chance to be heard at the time of application for such writ, if at all possible. I shall summon a jury only when needed and use them when summoned. Delay and procrastination in lawsuits are distasteful to litigants, tiresome to juries and costly to the taxpayers who foot the bill.

"I realize that it will be impossible to see every voter individually and that I must rely upon the assistance of my friends to aid me in this race and say a good word to those with whom I am not acquainted and am unable to see, and I assure you that if elected I shall do my best to show my appreciation of the trust imposed in me by the faithful discharge of the duties of this office."

for statement of their intentions in the matter.

The strike started in the field last fall when the workers walked out at 3 a. m. For ten days a deadlock held and no compromise was reached until the workers agreed to start back to work. Gradually the activities were resumed, and a hearing was ordered at Wichita Falls. The hearing resulted in a decision against the union. It was this decision that was reversed Sunday.

Bell to Appeal

The Bell Oil and Gas Company will appeal the ruling of the national labor board in the civil court of appeals at New Orleans in the near future according to the statement of Rex Young, superintendent of the company. At the same time J. L. Coulter who was in Burk Burnett to confer with the leaders of the local organization would back the local men and carry the case to supreme court for a test of the law if necessary.

The oil company will be represented by the attorneys C. J. Brannon and O. R. Tipps of Wichita Falls. The labor has not announced who would plead their case before the civil court of appeals. The Bell company decided to appeal the case after it was ordered to reinstate Frank Grozier, E. H. Hanke, and Roy W. Bowman, three of the men who were in the strike last September.

DEVOL FLASHES

The Devol Coyotes went to Hollister Wednesday, April 15, to defeat the Hollister Ball Club 17 to 8.

The starting line-up was as follows:
 L. Eubanks 1st Base
 Reavis 3rd Base
 L. Harrison Pitcher
 Shull Right Field
 Beck Catcher
 Compton Shortstop

The first inning, six runs crossed the plate for the coyotes, the runners being Dunn, Eubanks, Reavis, Compton, Harrison and C. Woodly. This was probably the best hitting inning that the Coyotes have witnessed this season.

Tuesday, April 21, The Decol Coyotes will meet the Ahpeatone Club on the Randlett ball field. This is the first conference game of the season.

by the deputy sheriff. The merchandise represents several thousands of dollars that has been expended by the oil companies. One belt was found on the banks of the Wichita River Monday. The belt was 100 feet long and had been unrolled and stretched out. The officers stated that it had been abandoned after the thieves had found it so much trouble to remove or mark out the wide diagonal stripes across the face of the belt. It was alleged to have been stolen from the Fain-McGaha oil company after having been on the rig just one night.

A large part of the equipment that was recovered was at the Burk Burnett second hand supply dealer. Some had been located at other dealers. The officers stated that the traffic had been carried on extensively for several years.

Are You The Type Who Could Be A Regular "Dope Addict"?

Authorities in hospitals point out that there are characteristic individuals who are more liable to become addicts than others. Over-sensitive personalities who have a decidedly marked inferiority complex are said to be especially susceptible. These persons, whose minds are filled with the conflict of repression, become difficult cases to cure once they have formed the habit. The very complex that makes addiction possible in these wretched victims, is the very thing which makes cure extremely difficult. Over-burdened minds that still attempt to carry on additional tasks, which anyone qualified would recognize as humanly impossible, become easy prey to the early soothing effects of drugs partaken of in almost any form. Women lose forever their natural sweetness and glamour once they become victims of drugs.

Shawn Dancers At Wichita April 29

Ted Shawn and his illustrious ensemble of male dancers are to be presented to residents of the Wichita Falls territory for the first time on Wednesday, April 29, and at remarkably low admission prices through a circumstance "accident" of booking.

The celebrated group of interpretive artist-athletes has scored a tremendous success throughout United States and Canada during the past fall and winter with the program which is to be given in Wichita Falls. Through a peculiar grouping of engagements, an open date developed recently between Oklahoma City and Abilene, Wichita Falls was offered the date, and it was taken by the musicians club for the sole purpose of giving citizens of this section the opportunity to see one of America's outstanding entertainments.

The Junior College Auditorium has been obtained for the exhibition of masculine athletics reduced to art. A spacious stage, with excellent drops for backgrounds makes the performer visible at close range to the occupant of any seat in the entire auditorium. Admission prices are $1.00 for adults and 50c for school children, inclusive of the federal amusement tax. Mail orders are being received by Mrs. Walter Robbins, 1260 Lucille Street, Wichita Falls.

The program announced for the Wichita Falls Performance reveals its appeal to the average audience. Negro Spirituals such as "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "John Brown sees the Glory" sugar cane cutting in Cuba, Osage and Pawnee Indian dances, and Japanese coolie performances are brought to the stage by Shawn and his group of interpreters.

NOW YOU CAN HAVE Air Conditioned REFRIGERATION

Fresh, pure air . . . constantly circulated at just the right temperature and humidity to keep your food in perfect condition. That's modern air-conditioned refrigeration with ice!

Odorless, Tasteless Refrigeration!

Odorless . . . because the constantly changing air freshens the interior of the modern ice refrigerator, thus removing strong odors. This air-conditioning process makes it possible to place, in open vessels, butter or milk, in the same storage space with onions, cabbage, or other foods with a distinctive odor. The air-washing effect of the melting ice carries all odors out of your refrigerator. Each food retains its own individual flavor. Ask your ice dealer to demonstrate this new method of refrigeration to you.

LONG SEARCH FOR IDEAL DIETRICH - COOPER VEHICLE

Because Hollywood remembers a good picture, Mariene Dietrich and Gary Cooper have been brought together again on the screen.

They made "Morocco," a love story of the Islamic East, five years ago, shortly after Miss Dietrich reached Hollywood. It had a charm and ardor. The memory lingered.

Paramount has since kept a weather eye open for another story that would be a suitable vehicle for these stars. After a long search, one was found and made into a picture. It is called "Desire," and opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre.

Aside from the reunion of these two stars, the picture is notable for two reasons. Frank Borzage, creator of "Seventh Heaven" and "A Farewell To Arms," was chosen to direct, and Ernst Lubitsch, master of swift, subtle comedy, took over personal supervision of the film.

It was a combination indicated by the substance of the story, because contained therein are the elements of both sophisticated humor and tender love. The former is within the domains of Lubitsch the latter in Borzage's particular forte.

In "Desire" Miss Dietrich plays the part of a clever thief, who steals a rope of pearls in Paris and flees. She encounters in her flight an American engineer.

Pres. Church Retains Pastor

The Presbytery of the church meeting at Seymour last Tuesday and Wednesday extended the contract of the present minister, Rev. J. C. Cook for the present year. The meeting at Seymour voted to continue the present relationship through the year, and the minister will serve the congregation until the winter meeting.

One thing about elections such as the one recently held in Germany very few people found it necessary to pay election bets.
