AUTOMOBILES AT STAKE — NOW IS THE TIME TO HELP YOUR FAVORITE OR PROVE A FALSE FRIEND

Plans in the Burkburnett Star's circulation campaign automobile race are preparing with feverish intensity to make their final (and winning) victory (one of those two Chevrolets) between 9 p. m. THIS Saturday night. The close of the period and incidentally the END of the biggest votes given in this race will be given in the next few hours that it will be JUST TOO LATE.

Wichita Falls entered the contest for the convention for the next year. More than 100 delegates from that city stormed the convention halls in an intense campaign for the next meeting.

Clean Up Drive Is Planned Here

The members of the clean-up campaign committee of the chamber of commerce have set a tentative date of May 25 for the start of the annual drive to paint up, clean up and remodel the homes in Burkburnett for the coming year. The plans, according to W. A. Roberts, chairman, will be slightly different this year.

Those who cannot afford to have their trash hauled, means will be provided for the trash service. However, the committee wishes that as many as possible have the debris removed before the start of the active drive.

The centennial year will give special impetus to the drive this year. The local people will have the special importance of being citizens of a port of entry, and the impression of the tourists of the state will be formed here.

FREE FEED IS POSTPONED

The free sandwich feed advertised in another page of this paper by the Quality Market has been postponed until a later date.

The free was originally booked to be held this Saturday, but owing to a misunderstanding, it has been postponed until a later date.

BURKBURNETT TO CHOSE BEAUTY MAY 27th AT PALACE THEATRE

Perfectly proportioned, the girl chosen at the regular Palace Theatre May beauty contest is one of the 50 who have been invited to participate in the big contest, directed by the impresario of Broadway.

The girl who receives the honor will get a trip to the Frontier city with all expense paid. During the several days of the picture she will be honored as one of Texas' queens.

Four Delegates Sent To WTCC

Four representatives of Burkburnett attended the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in Amarillo, Texas, the first three days of this week. Several thousand people gathered at the Panhandle capitol for the sessions of the Texas organization. The delegates from Burkburnett reported a royal reception at the meeting.

Henry Grace, WTCC director, H. D. Smith, president of the Burkburnett organization, and W. R. Hill, director of the Burkburnett chamber of commerce, were the official delegates of the group. J. R. Brock represented the local schools in the home town speaking contest. The speaker won the right to represent the city in a series of contests of elimination.

The program served a well-balanced schedule of entertainment and educational features for the visiting delegations. The speakers were of state and national importance. Dinners, luncheons, and other features were given for the visitors.

Local Scouts To Have Stunt Camp

The members of the local scout troops will have a scout rally and hike Sunday, May 17, according to the announcement received from the district executive, Frank B. Creighton. The district executive is planning to bring a number of Wichita Falls boys with him, and a large number of the Burkburnett boys will go to Fairview for the occasion.

The demonstration will be along three lines. Scouting, archery and boomerang throwing will start the stunts. These stunts will be held between 3 and 5 p. m. At 5 p. m. stunt cooking will be demonstrated. The local scouts expect a large number of the troopers to attend, and will have an enthusiastic crowd at the occasion. The boys will furnish the supplies for the stunt cooking.

Seventy Three To Be Eligible For Graduation

Class To Hold Final Exercises At High School Friday Night, May 22

Program Arranged

Seventy three members of the seventh grade classes of the Burkburnett school will be eligible to graduate on passing present work which they are taking. The class has planned to hold final services at the high school building Friday night, May 22.

The commencement speaker will be Curtis Cook, and the subject of his address will be "Symbols." The program will include a variety of activities which will emphasize the work of the children during the past year. There will be a crowded auditorium to hear the speakers and congratulate the graduates.

Bachelor To Tell P. T. A. How To Care for Children

The members of the Parent Teachers Association will hear a talk on the proper care and training of their children given by J. C. Cook, associate editor of the Burkburnett Star. In view of the fact that Mr. Cook has no children, his talk ought to be interesting, or at least amusing to the mothers who are members of the society. It is a well known fact that bachelors usually know more about the training and care of children than those who have several years experience in the matter.

Commencement Music

The graduating class has been fortunate in securing the services of two outstanding musicians to appear on the program the night of commencement services. Wayne Dunlop of Texas Christian University will play a trumpet solo. Mr. Dunlop won the national championship in the contests last year. The first place was won in a severe competition and the musician was ranked the best on his instrument in the nation. The second unusual feature will be the violin solo by the famed Marius Thor. At the present Thor is connected with the fine arts department of Texas Womens College. For several years the musician was a leading violinist of the Philadelphia Philharmonic orchestra, a nationally recognized musical organization. These two artists will make the program one of the best presented at the annual services.

C of C Will Give Barwise Program Thursday Night

The Burkburnett chamber of commerce will take a number of young people to the Barwise school and community Thursday night, May 14 to present a program for the benefit of the school organizations. The school is presenting invitations to all the business men to attend the social function. The program will be directed by Herman Brown, chamber of commerce secretary.

The program includes: vocal numbers, Miller sisters; guitar and song, Rufus Welborn; reading, Lela Mae Pinkston; piano numbers, Mary Margaret Brown; acrobatics, Justine Nichols; song, Mamie and Dorothy Brown; pie-eating contest; yo-yo contest; and string band.

Negro Preacher Heard By Lions Group Tuesday

Central Ward School Amateurs Give Musical Sample At Meeting

Rev. Henry Hamilton of Columbus, Mississippi, Baptist preacher for 60 years, spoke to the members of the Lions club last Tuesday night on the civil war days. The speaker, who was in slavery and freed after the war told the members of the conditions during the war and the period that followed. The speaker boasted of his allegiance to the democratic party, and he stated that he never had voted any way but for the South. In reference to the war, he told of rescuing his mistress after she had been condemned to be shot following (Continued on page four)

Diphtheria Clinic Sponsored by PTA

The Parent Teachers Association will sponsor a pre-school clinic for the prevention of diphtheria at the Russel Clinic in Burkburnett starting at 2 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, May 19. Miss Barnes, county red cross nurse of Wichita Falls and Wichita county, will assist in the examination of children who are entering school during the next few months. The parents and children have been urged to register at the clinic before the hour of examination.

Marvelous progress has been made in the prevention and control of the diseases through such clinics and other methods of control. The local committee will be Mrs. John Brookman, Mrs. Tex Willis, and Mrs. F. Milford.

The clinic will be open to all children who can not afford a regular examination for, and immunization against the diseases. The publicity will be given through the papers and the meetings of the association and school children. National and state emphasis is being given by the red cross to similar campaign over the nation. Children should be protected from possibility of contagion before registering for school, if at all possible.

Fiddle-Playing Virginian, 122, May Visit Here

Father of Burkburnett Octogenarian Has Nine Sons In Band

Marion West, 122-year-old youngster from Norfolk, Va., who is an expert rifle shot and champion buck-and-wing dancer, in addition to leading and directing a fiddle band made up of 9 sons, expects to visit Wichita county this summer to see his tenth son, Marion West, Jr., 84, a citizen of Burkburnett.

The younger West was exhibiting a five-page letter he received recently from his father, in which the latter announced that he and the rest of the boys were going to play engagements in Texas during either July or August and would make every effort to visit Burkburnett.

The handwriting in the lengthy letter was firm and eligible. Mr. West said his father used neither spectacles nor a cane and could still shoot a rifle with the best of them and lay down his fiddle and cut a fancy buck-and-wing.

Commissioner F. R. Knauth of the Burkburnett precinct said that Marion West Jr. had done much work for the precinct as a laborer and that he had never (Continued on Page Eight)

Firemen Plan To Enter State And District Teams

The Burkburnett fire department plans to enter a team in the events of the state meet and district meet at Fort Worth and Archer City. The Archer city department will entertain the West Texas meeting May 22, and have offered excellent prizes for the competing firemen of this district. The Burkburnett department accepted the invitation to enter the meet.

At the state meet 600 dollars in cash prizes have been offered for the competing teams in hook-ups of various types. The local team is working hard to enter the meet. The local delegation plans to secure as wide publicity for the candidacy of J. J. Blackstone for fourth vice-president as possible. The members have held practice for try out, and are also planning to hold further practices in the near future.

BURK CENTRAL WARD SCHOOL TO PRESENT AMATEUR SHOW FRIDAY

A variety of talent will be presented at the matinee and evening performance of the Central Ward School amateur program at the high school next Friday. Every type of entertainment conceivable from the stage has been arranged for the audience of patrons and parents.

Othar (Major Bowes) Wheeler will be at the microphone and gong already to wield the heavy hammer that may spell disillusionment and disappointment to many worthy artists. J. R. "McNamee" Brock will announce the commercial in regulation style.

The talent for the program will be drawn from every grade in the school, and the affair is staged for the benefit of the library fund of the reading room of the school. The youngsters have been trying for weeks to be prepared for the big amateur test. A valuable prize will be given to the winners of each division of the contest. Both group and solo performers will appear at the invitation of (Continued on page 4)

Fairview, Clara And Burk to Give Diplomas Next Week In Final Services

Graduates of three schools in the Burkburnett area will hear the baccalaureate sermons Sunday morning, and the Burkburnett class will gather at the First Baptist Church to hear Rev. C. D. Montgomery, pastor of the Oak Cliff Methodist church, deliver the final sermon. Clara and Fairview schools will hold their final services in the school auditoriums.

The Burkburnett commencement services next Thursday night at the high school stadium will attract a large crowd with the governor of Texas, James V. Allred, speaking.

CHURCHES ADJOURN

The churches of the city have announced that each organization will adjourn services next Sunday morning in order that the congregation may join the members of the Baptist church and the graduates in the celebration of the services.

The members of every congregation have been urged by the pastors of each group to attend the school services. Rev. Montgomery was pastor of the Methodist church in Burkburnett during the years 1922-23, and is beloved by many of the members of the local organizations both of his church and other churches.

Nineteen boys and 23 girls are eligible to graduate with the completion of the work that they are taking at the present time. The reports on the eligible will be released at 4:00 o'clock p. m. Monday. The examinations will be completed this week.

Programs

The baccalaureate program will be opened as the seniors march in to the tune played in processional by Miss Dorothy Hagard, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. G. Hagard. Curtis Cook, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will deliver the invocation. The congregation will sing a hymn selected by the class.

The offertory and announcement will be directed by Butler Westfield, superintendent of the Burkburnett public schools. Johnnie Anderson will sing a vocal solo. The sermon will be delivered by the visiting minister, Rev. L. G. (Continued on page 4)

Major Wheeler. The concert will start with the action of the rhythm band that has won wide notice at the school. The coral singers of the same organization will appear on the program.

One of the cleverest numbers noticed in the rehearsals is the speciality of tap dancing with rope. Then the tin pan symphony orchestra will make its debut before Burkburnett audiences. Bud and Bill, talented duet will sing. There will be vocal solos, a special number by the department of physical education, tap dances or ordinary or extraordinary routine. The rhythm rambler of the h62 will appear. A string and vocal quartet promises real entertainment for the hour.

The names of the artists that appear on the program have been withheld this week and will be published along with the winners after the voting next Friday afternoon and evening. A large crowd is expected to pack the auditorium for the show.

GRADUATION SERVICES

The end of formal education will be symbolized for many students in the final services held for the high school seniors this week. The services should not be the end, but rather the occasion should be, as the name signifies, the commencement of real training for the high school graduate. Not all of the students are fitted for the high specialized courses of university or college, neither are they ready for business or vocational activities.

Each year about this time, people who have the tendency to worry about such things become concerned over the fate of these youngsters, especially the young men and women who will not be able to have further professional or vocational training.

Student's completion of formal education is not the result of any special aptitude or ability. Rather advancement depends on the financial condition of the parents. That is decidedly unfair. We have gradually advanced so that at the present we offer much more educational opportunity than was offered only a few years ago.

However, this progress has not been entirely well planned and intelligent. The cramming of classical and professional knowledge indiscriminately into whoever floats by, is a process proved to be highly inefficient.

The greatest need at the present appears to be a process for determining the type and talent of each student. We are aware that many tests have been arranged and many examinations given for vocational analysis. These are far from efficient.

With these students who have completed high school training, vocational and professional training would give more benefit if it were directed along proper lines. One student with proper talents to run a plow goes ahead to be an engineer. He becomes a failure. Another student talented to be an engineer starts digging digging ditches, and he is also a failure. Nobody is to be blamed, just the system.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

The annual cleanup campaign of the chamber of commerce will start in the near future, and the people of Burkburnett should make preparations for the event before it is officially started. The actual work during the drive means very little unless there is cooperation and sustained civic interest throughout the year. Many persons have been waiting for the campaign in order to secure free hauling of surplus debris. That practice will not be tolerated this year.

The private property owners will be requested to assist in the removal of as much trash and debris as possible. The organization will assist in direction of the hauling. Furthermore, the organization wishes to urge special attention to yards, houses and business buildings.

The people of Burkburnett have a special impetus to clean and paint up all buildings and surroundings. This will be one of the main entrances into the state during the centennial year. Thousands of people will pass through on the way into and out of the state.

Since it is true that epidemic and disease are much more possible under crowded conditions such as we will have this year, the responsibility for cleanliness and healthfulness is increased. The stores, especially food stores and eating places, should keep a perfectly clean establishment so as to reduce to a minimum the danger.

REACTION IN ETHIOPIA

Italy has stubbornly maintained the course set several months ago and achieved a victory. But the word has ironic connotations. Has it really been a victory? Has the achievement been worth the price? What will be the result in European and Asiatic affairs?

Il Duce was losing his power in Italy and had to have something to divert the attention of his people, to stop the rapidly growing restlessness. The war with Ethiopia was successful in accomplishing the diversion. So if Mussolini's rule is beneficial for Italy, then Italy did gain by the caving of his power. Reduced to fundamentals, the war had no other purpose.

As for the future, the situation is loaded with very powerful and very sensitive explosives. France will be very offended by the seizure of their railway. But they may not be offended enough to attack Italy as long as Germany stands on the north armed to the limit, and with another dictator that needs a war and a hatred to retain his power. England will resent the loss of control at Lake Tana. To control Egypt - and that she must - England must control that small lake.

Egypt is restless. Only the Anti-British leader was elected to the head of the council of regents who will rule until the king his majority. How much pressure does England dare exert on Italy with their own colony seething with revolution?

There is only one thing that is sure about the whole war. The league of nations is as dead as a dodo. The organization was killed by the very nations that could have protected it and benefited by its survival. The results proved that there is no such animal as "moral suasion". The only successful international force is armed force.

Peeps at Politics

Women Voting—After hearing the conversation between two women who were looking over some candidates' pictures last week, I have decided to save the candidates a lot of money. Better than that I have decided that I will give them a suggestion whereby they can make a profit out of the approaching campaign. In the aforementioned conversation, one of the fair ladies said, "The sure is good looking. I think I'll vote for him, even if my husband does say he is a crook."

Chance For Profit—With all the churches, schools and other racketeers organizing an open season on candidates, the poor fellows have very little chance to make their money back—that is unless they win and get a chance at the government treasury. All of the committees at the same time are holding beauty contests to determine who will be the princess of turnipseed, or the queen of the cotton patch, or some such silly title, so why not select our county state and national officials the same way. At least we couldn't do any worse than we are at the present. Just pick some large building and parade the candidates by in a bathing suit. Charge two bits admission fee.

Possibilities—Just think of the women and even men who would flock to see the masly forms of physical perfection of our candidates exhibited behind the bright lights of a stage. Just imagine Tom Hunter, Jimmy Alford and Fisher parading across the brightly lighted stage in dainty bathing suits. Wouldn't that be a sight which would thrill the women of our fair land? And crowds. Why, the rangers would have to be called to control the traffic and overflow audiences would eagerly await the parade. The winners of the local contests could then go to the finals at the Dallas Centennial Celebration.

Rumor—It is said that Perry Browning will try to be sheriff again this year. Browning has disappeared from politics since his try for senate in the Texas legislature last election. Walter Friberg is named by rumor as candidate for county attorney.

Electoral Votes—There seems to be a lot of hot air about the possibility of Roosevelt's defeat this year. However, make a brief examination of the electoral votes. It takes 261 electors to win. In the South where states have always been democratic, there are 109 votes. In addition to 8 other states where Roosevelt has polled more votes than the combined totals of Republicans in hot primary campaigns, another 124 votes are added. The total is 233 electoral votes. Therefore, aside from these states where the president has already indicated he has a majority in actual registered voters, the demos will have to gain only 28 votes. New York is not included in the totals above. That state alone would be sufficient to swing the majority. My prediction is that the president will receive about 75 percent of the electoral votes.

Abolish The College—While I am talking about the subject, let's take a vote to abolish the electoral college. It is one of the archaic appendages which we have not lost in our evolution. Just what is the point in keeping a system where a minority can elect a president? It has happened. The majority ought to rule or we ought to abandon our pretense of the democratic form of presidential election.

Amendments—The people of Texas will vote on six amendments to the state constitution next general election. Among the most important is the proposal to state owned and controlled liquor stores. The other propositions are limited maximum representation in a county for the state legislature; salary increase for the governor, attorney general, comptroller, treasurer and land commissioner; establishment of a teachers retirement system; workmen's compensation insurance for state employees, and restriction of governors pardoning power. Next week's column will discuss these proposed amendments in detail.

All-Stars Win Spring Training Game From Burkburnett Bulldogs

Former Star School Players Take Game On 3 Touchdowns.

Bulldogs Show Prospects For Good Team In Next Season Conference

MAJORS OFFENSIVE STAR

The All Stars showed their heels to the youngsters of next years squad in the game last Tuesday night and won 18 to 6.

The winners scored every point via the air, and Truett Majors played the best game of his career when he scrambled across for two of the three counters.

McKown provided the most brilliant play for the Bulldogs when he cut through the left tackle and twisted across the secondary in a 40-yard dash to the two yard line, and then carried the ball across the goal the following play in the last quarter.

The performance of the Dogs was much better than the score indicated. The All Stars never gained appreciably through the line or around it, but scored 3 counters in the air.

One of the features of the game was the punting duel of Finch and Garland. Each of the two kickers averaged well over 34 yards per punt under pressure.

The scoring opened in the first period after the Bulldogs had made a real threat on the kickoff in a march down the field.

The second half opened with Rose starting the threat by snaring a series of passes, and Tolley McKown twisted around left end for 32 yards. However, neither team was able to score and both resorted to wild erratic passing.

At the start of the third, Finch placed the Stars in embarrassing spot by kicking out of bounds to the three yard line.

The game was filled with fumbles and spectacular recoveries. Each side had chances blasted with slippery fingers on the offense.

The Bulldogs scored their single touchdown in a surprise off play. McKown grabbed the oval, cut through the line, reversed through the secondary and went to the two yard line.

MODERN BUSINESS GIRL IS BEST POTENTIAL ACTRESS

All modern business girls are actresses, and if they turned the natural talents to professional lines the stage and screen would not be able to absorb even a fraction of the promising new players.

That unique view was voiced by Janet Gaynor, co-starred with Robert Taylor at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday in "Small Town Girl," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature.

"Every business girl is an actress," asserted Miss Gaynor. "She must be, to hold her job. This doesn't infer that there is any hypocrisy or shame involved; it's merely fundamentally true that any girl in the business world, and especially sales girls, find it necessary to 'act' all the time.

"Small Town Girl," the first picture Miss Gaynor has made under the M-G-M banner, is the story of a country girl who is precipitated into city society with her impetuous elopement with a wealthy young doctor.

War and Navy Appropriations Bills

The House and Senate passed finally and approved the conference report for the War and Navy Department Appropriations bills providing the largest peace-time appropriation ever carried in bills of this character.

The writer made an urgent appeal to maintain his 10 per cent profits limitation amendment placed in the War Department Appropriation Bill, but to no avail.

The first vote on Monday will decide whether or not the Rules Committee will be discharged. If this motion prevails the House will next vote on the adoption of the Resolution H. R. 123, to

FAIRVIEW JUNIORS TO HAVE SENIORS AS GUESTS FRIDAY

The annual Junior-Senior banquet at the Fairview school has been transferred to the Womens Forum in Wichita Falls and a special entertainment has been provided for the occasion that surpasses any social event of the school throughout the year. The event will be the climax of the social season for the school leading to the graduation services Sunday and Friday of next week.

The feature address of the evening will be the speech of O. R. Tipps, Wichita Falls lawyer who has gained a wide reputation as a speaker in this district. He has previously spoken before the group in meetings at the Fairview school.

The banquet will be planned along the motif of "The Last Roundup" symbolizing the last meeting of the two classes before the graduation services. For this motif the decorations and program has been built around the theme of Western songs and table favors.

The toastmistress will be Miss Margaret Lee Bogy. The invocation will be given by J. W. Zink. This feature will start the excellent program.

intendent of the school, Y. C. Paschall, will carry the theme further by the "Get Along Little Doggie". Wendell Heckman of Wichita Falls accompanied by Miss Mildred Anderson of Wichita Falls will sing a vocal solo.

One of the outstanding parts of the program will be the short one act play "So Long Old Pal" which will be presented by a group of students. The cast includes: Scotty McCall, Dorothy Siber, Iva Jim Banning and Albert Zink. O. R. Tipps will deliver the address at that point on the program. Mr. Heckman will sing "The Last Roundup".

The sophomore hostesses will be Mary Frances Goins and Naomi Frances Banning. The cowboy entertainer will be K. Miles. The program will entertain the youngster in a well planned and pleasant program.

Fairview PTA Will Meet Next Monday

The members of the Fairview Parent Teachers Association will hold the last meeting of the organization at the school auditorium next Monday night and the seniors and their parents will be the special guests of the association at that time. An excellent program has been entertained for the occasion, and the seniors will participate in one of the series of entertainments during the graduation week.

Chaplin's Fame Untouched By 5 Years Absence

There is in Hollywood one star, and one only, who could desert the silver screens of the world for almost five years and suffer no diminution of his wide popularity. That star is Charlie Chaplin.

When "Modern Times" comes to the screen of the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, released through United Artists, it will mark the comedian's first film in that space of time.

"City Lights" was the last. Yet, he still stands out in the news columns of the world press, thanks to the magic that is Charlie Chaplin.

There is much to attest to this magic, but no more tangible evidence of it exists than the solid wall of shelves in a huge vault at the Chaplin home, filled with books containing press clippings concerning the famous comedian from every part of the world.

Burk Seniors Face Their Last Hurdle

The members of the senior class of the Burk Burnett high school face the last barrier to graduation Friday when they attempt to hurdle the final examination that have been set for them by the teachers of the high school classes. The class is planning a celebration after the examinations are over and the major part of next week will be devoted to the activities of social type which will give the seniors their opportunity at the school life activities. The group will settle to serious work Friday morning as they start the last lap.

Theft And Bigamy Charges Involve Man Known Here

The Burk Burnett police officials announced this week that charges for automobile theft and bigamy would be filed against a man well known in Burk Burnett. The charges originated when the wife of the man, a Burk Burnett girl, furnished the information which led to the official check-up. The car theft was allegedly admitted according to the statement of Bill Stapp, Burk Burnett police chief, and the charges of bigamy were considered before the grand jury when the two wives of the man testified at the meeting of the group.

In reference to the bigamy charge the young man stated that he was under the impression that his first wife had filed divorce suit and secured official separation from him. It was indicated that the man would prove that there had been neither bigamy nor intention of bigamy under the law. The case will be set for trial in the Wichita Falls courts. The local police assisted the county officers in the completion of the case leading to the arrest.

To Make A LONG TAIL SHORT

Good cars are popular in the city, but they are expensive. We are offering a special service to help you make a long tail short.

While embers glowed the reconstruction started

Before the flames had reached the telephone switchboard in the little telephone tower—before the scorching wall of smoke had driven operators from their posts—plans for rebuilding the fire-damaged office were under way.

At a great warehouse in a distant city, men were loading a new switchboard, new telephone cable, new office equipment, into express cars. Nearest to the spot, cable splices and workmen skilled in telephone construction were being taken from their jobs and cradled toward the office about to be destroyed by fire.

While embers still glowed in the fire-damaged tower of the office, the work of reconstruction was under way.

One advantage of the Bell System's far-flung organization is this: When disaster flutters the telephone system, men and money and materials are instantly available for the prompt repair of the damage.

They arrived at Dallas at 8 o'clock, then came the decision where to stay. Finally it was agreed upon to stay at the "Love Field Courts" Tourist Camp. The girls ate supper and then began to prepare themselves to go to the show. The girls went to the Palace Theatre and saw the show "Small Town Girl."

Arriving back at their cabins some few minutes after twelve, the girls took a shower bath and tried to sleep. Around 2:30 o'clock, the last giggle and word was closed.

The alarm clock girls, Bennie, Dreda, and Mildred arose about 4:30. They made their rounds watching everyone up. After the delicious breakfast prepared by the girls was eaten, they began to get ready to see the "Early Birds."

The girls saw the "Early Birds" "Slow and Easy", and the "White Swan Coffee Boys" at the WFAA broadcasting station in the Baker Hotel. Then they were ready to "window shop". After visiting all the stores from 8:00 until 10:20, they met at A. Harris & Co. But two girls were missing—Bennie and Virginia Dare. However, the rest of the girls went to the Magnolia building to go to the Observation tower. With 23 girls in one elevator, they started for the 29th story, but when they got nearly to the 29th story, they dropped back to the 28th one. Too many girls on one elevator! The girls all enjoyed the Observation Tower immensely. Then they went to their cars and lo and behold there was Bennie and Virginia!

Then they went to the zoo and explored. Some girls were unlucky at the zoo by getting grease on their dresses. When they were ready to go the roll was called to see that none of the girls had been put into a cage by mistake. The girls were getting hungry so to Lang's Cafe they went. Such another meal they had! After lunch they visited the Coca Cola Bottling Company. Each girl was given all the "coke" she could drink.

Then they went to the Buchners Orphan Home. One girl of the Home showed them around the campus. Each girl was touched by this beautiful home. After seeing the Home, they went back to the camp and packed for home.

Two groups came home by Denton while the other two groups came straight homeward.

Labor Relations Charges Will Be Heard in Wichita

Hearing on complaints charging unfair labor practices which were filed recently against four Northwest field oil complaints before Dr. Edwin A. Elliot, regional director of the National labor relations board, has been set for May 20 in Wichita Falls, according to report received in Burkburnett Sunday.

The cases were brought by Burkburnett local 258 of the oil field workers union. The trial examiner has not been named. Bell Oil and Gas Company, Bohner Oil Corporation, C. H. Bohner, individually, and Bohner's associates have been named in the charges brought by three Burkburnett men, Clifford Jackson, and F. C. Cox.

In the second complaint, Bell Oil and Gas, Burk Divide and the Reno Oil company were joined in a complaint by George F. Bebmeyer, a former employee of the oil companies.

The hearing will be the third of a series. Two lengthy hearings have been held on similar questions at the same court. The hearings grew out of a strike that kept the local field inactive 10 days last fall. The national labor relations board recently ordered the Bell Oil and Gas to restore three men discharged following

BOSTICS WILL MAKE HOME IN DALLAS, TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. John Bostic and their son left Burkburnett last week to make their home in Dallas, Texas after many years of useful citizenship in Burkburnett. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bostic had become leaders in the social and civic life in the community, and the people of the town, especially those closely associated with the family expressed regret at the loss to the city of two outstanding persons.

Mr. Bostic was generally known as one of the most influential men in the city. Aside from gaining a reputation of high integrity in his own business affairs, he gained a reputation for unselfish and earnest service in the community as a whole. There was not a movement for the social and civic welfare that has not benefited by his assistance in many ways.

During the last few years, Mr. Bostic has been a leader in the affairs of the city government. He was elected to the city council, and he served as mayor of the city for a short time. During his service on the council, he assisted in solving the problems of city government during an especially difficult period in the city's affairs.

Mr. Bostic was a member of the American Legion, Lions Club and chamber of commerce. In each of these organizations his service was of the type that never sought glory or selfish ends, but in each he gave his time and means for the advancement of the community.

There were many affairs in which no publicity attended the benefits gained for the community in which the influence of this leader was the determining factor of gaining success for this city. That type of work was characteristic of the man's service here. Probably he is the only outstanding leader in the community of whom the Star does not have a picture and a cut, but he never had a picture made nor sought publicity. Rather he avoided being in the "public eye".

Mrs. Bostic held a similar position of leadership in the social affairs of the city, and left here many friends who will remember her service.
