Leasing Spree Continues To Draw Interest

Oklahoma Companies Take Lead In Development of Cotton County

Activities in leasing continued across the Red River in Oklahoma this week with various companies from Oklahoma and Texas and independents from Texas gathering large blocks.

Bower and Wise et. al, have sunk the bits close to 2,000 feet at the W. E. Wilson No. 1 location, nine and one-half miles southwest of Walters, NW-NW-SE of 7-4-11, Cotton county. Bower and Wise and associates contracted with G. Crockett, English veteran wildcatter who pioneered the Cement field, for a 4,000-ft. maximum test agreement, with production expected in the Cisco formation. The well is located on an 8,000-acre block.

T. R. Hunted There

Thirty years ago the late president Theodore Roosevelt was a member of a wolf hunting expedition that chose western Cotton and eastern Tillman counties as the site for their chase. J. R. Abernathy, famous cowboy of that period, was the party's guide. The abandoned townsites of Ah-peaton and Eschiti and a section (Continued on page 5)

Local Police Recover Belts For Thalia Gin

Police Chief Bill Stapp and other members of the Burkburnett department have worked to a satisfactory conclusion of the recent belt theft at the Thalia Gin. The belts found recently by Burkburnett police were claimed by C. C. Battenfield and Clyde McKemie of Thalia, Texas as those that were stolen from that concern several weeks ago.

The men from Thalia were accompanied by Tom Bell of Vernon, Texas. The six belts were valued at an original price of more than $300, and were part of eight stolen at the same time. The local police had found a trace of the belts locally before they were recovered under a bridge 1-2 mile south of the Pararie Cottage school community.

No arrest had been made this week, but several witnesses, all of whom were Burkburnett people had made statements. The information will be brought before the Foard county grand jury. In case of indictment the police will probably make several arrests locally.

S. Jenkins Installs Flour Mill in Okla.

Stacy Jenkins, former owner of the Burkburnett Milling Co., has recently installed the S-J Flour Mill in Randlett, Okla., and is manufacturing Pure Test flour. Mr. Stacy stated that the mill was capable of turning out 50 barrels of flour per day. The flour is of a high patent and the wheat is purchased from local farmers.

The flour will be on sale at most of the grocery stores in Burkburnett this week-end.

Legion Memorial Service Planned

Members of the American Legion will pay tribute to the departed service men at the First Baptist church next Sunday afternoon with Curtis Cook, presbyterian minister, in charge of the ceremony. The visiting pastor will address the group, and the Legions will direct a proper ritual of tribute.

22 Indictments Voted By Grand Jury In Thefts

Quartet To Face Trial On Long List Of Charges

Twenty-two true bills were voted by the April grand jury for Wichita county Friday against four men now held in the Wichita county jail in connection with the alleged theft of oil field equipment recovered by the sheriff's department during the past few weeks, and valued at several thousand dollars.

Ten indictments were returned by the grand jury late Friday afternoon in the alleged epidemic of oil field equipment thefts of late among the total of 37 indictments voted by the inquisitors since May 1. Nineteen bills were returned Friday on various felony charges, and eight indictments were returned last Saturday in hijacking cases. The report was made to Judge Ernest M. Robertson in the 89th district court, and the grand jurors were dismissed until 9 a. m. on Tuesday, June 2.

Joint Bills

The 10 indictments returned against Marvin Louis, Flavil George O. G. Cox and Harper Denton Friday in the alleged oil field theft cases comprised 22 bills in all because in many cases the men were indicted jointly. Denton, was named in eight bills, Cox in four, George and Lewis in five each.

Judge Harvey Harris acted as special prosecutor in the numerous complaints filed against the quartet named above. With deputy sheriff Ben Howle serving as spearhead of the search and investigation, and numerous representatives of oil companies assisting a huge pile of alleged contraband belting, tongs, dynamos, generators, jacks, hose, etc. has been accumulated at the Wichita county jail. Much of the material has been identified.

Equipment Sold

According to county officials, the thefts covered a period of nearly two years, beginning in the fall of 1934. Territory covered included practically all of the north-central and East Texas fields. Much of the equipment recovered by officers, it was said, had been sold to operators in the Northwest Burkburnett fields.

Big Crowd Expected

Special Music To Add To Program Arranged by 1936 Graduates

Governor James V. Allred will arrive at the Wichita Falls air field at 5:50 o'clock this afternoon via Braniff airplane and will speak to the graduates at the high school stadium at 8: p. m. The governor will be greeted at the air port by a delegation of Burkburnett citizens headed by Oscar Kemp, former mayor of the city, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kemp during his stay here. The largest crowd that ever gathered for a school event is expected to be exceeded in the service at the stadium when visitors from all over the area will be present to hear the governor speak. The governor is expected to speak to an overflow crowd during the hour.

Redeems Promise

The governor made a brief visit to Burkburnett last summer, and during the short stay he spoke to a large crowd on the street corner. At that time he spoke of returning to Burkburnett as commencement speaker. When the arrangements were made this spring, Mr. Westfield, superintendent of schools, reminded him of the promise, and the governor graciously consented to speak for the students.

Forty one members of the class will receive certificates of graduation as a symbol of the completion (Continued on Page Eight)

New Ritz Theatre Will Open Here Saturday, 23rd

The new Ritz Theatre, owned by O. H. Browne and E. L. Biggerstaff, will have the big opening event in Burkburnett next Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The new theatre is located on Main street next door to the Scruggs cafe. The construction has been rushed during the last two weeks to have the building ready for the formal opening date. The attractive brick front replaces a boom, time shack and became an attractive feature on Main street.

The theatre will have popular prices of 10c and 15c during the summer months. The two men associated in the business are experienced theatre men. O. H. Browne is well known in the city. He has worked here at the Palace theatre for several years. Mr. Biggerstaff comes to Burkburnett from Oklahoma City. He is a married man and will move his family to Burk as soon as he can find a location.

The theatre is not a member of a chain group but is independently owned by Biggerstaff and Browne. The theatre will employ local help throughout its operation here.

Feature Show

The first night will be a feature showing of "King of the Damned" which has leads by Noah Berry, Conrad Veidt, and Helen Vinson. The picture is rated high in the entertainment criticisms. A series of excellent shows will follow during the next few weeks.

Attend Houston Meet

DIPHTHERIA IMMUNIZATION

The Parent Teachers association held a clinic here this week to immunize the pre-school children against diphtheria. The group that was immunized were children who will enter school next year and who were unable to pay for the process. The clinic emphasized how important it is for the community as a whole to consider the complete protection of children.

Due to the advancement of the medical science, it is not necessary for any child to be a victim of the dreaded disease, and it is almost a crime to allow the child to be unprotected. It is our fondest hope that every parent in the community will be able to protect their children. The child should be protected for his own sake, and for the sake of the children with whom he associates.

THE AMATEURS

Generally speaking, the average spring operetta produced by the schools of our fair land are no more than a pain in the neck at the best and a couple of hours of boredom at the worst. The average person, who is not a mather or father of one of the little "angels", who is trying to imitate a daisy or a tulip, and succeeding only in looking like a tumbleweed with the stomach ache, attends such affairs only under compulsion.

It is not our intention to discourage the production of that type of show, because we realize how valuable the show might be in teaching poise and music. So far as the audience is concerned, however, the amateur show produced by the Central Grade school last Friday night was much more entertaining.

Furthermore, we can't help but believe that it is of more value to children. The show was interesting. It demonstrated a variety of talent that not even the most optimistic believed possible. Every comment that has been made since the show has been a favorable one. The audience came away feeling that they had really received their money's worth in good entertainment.

In addition to the entertainment provided, the very best talents of the children were developed. No other type of production could have given inspiration for the hard work that the children did in preparation on for the show.

The amateur show fad may disappear, but we hope that some similar demonstration of talent of the individual and groups will be presented annually by the school.

SOCIAL SOLIDARITY

Dr. C. R. Montgomery, speaking at the baccalaureate service last Sunday morning, pointed out how closely inter-related the life of the individual is with the life of the community. Most of the graduates and probably all of the adults present, do not often think of how their actions will affect the social group.

During the last few years the nation has witnessed the result of this selfishness and thoughtlessness that characterizes the life of the average individual. Social and Economic chaos has not been the result of inevitable laws operating like machinery with absolute regularity as much of the scientific economists would have us believe. Rather the disturbance of our social and economic system has been the result of individual's violation of the fundamental laws of social relationship and responsibility.

Each person who lives has a direct effect on the whole world's economic status. The lives of people in Texas directly touches the lives of people on the other side of the globe.

The people of Burkburnett and vicinity can not believe that the action of individuals can be felt clear around the world, and yet this very neighborhood recently felt the reaction of one man's thoughts who lived about 12,000 miles from here.

The man of whom we speak is Gandhi. When he started his policy of peaceful nonresistance, the program included the wearing of clothes woven by hand in India. In England there was one company which had a monopoly on India cotton goods sales. The company bought a large portion of its cotton from the Wichita and Burkburnett area through local buyers.

Gandhi's policy forced the English company to close. The bankruptcy pushed one large cotton company out of the market and the farmers of the area lost their best customer in cotton.

The whole world is socially and economically related in that manner. Each of us may think we are independent and free. In the true sense we have no independence or freedom. Each violation of ours of a fundamental economic or social law may be in proportion to be felt throughout the social order. And finally we will in turn suffer in proportion to the damage of our act by the final reaction of the social whole.

IS THAT SO?

Don't kid yourself. You pretend that you desire the truth. The human race has never wanted that. It has killed or persecuted men that dared tell the truth. You only want proof of your greatness, or data that will support your prejudices, ignorance, or superstitions.

News of the Week

Some months ago this same column ran a story of the change of policy in the Indian revolution. At that time the story of the resolution adopted by the All-Indian conference drew scant attention from the world press, and only brief press notices were given to the apparent trivial resolution. For many years Gandhi has controlled the conference; but for the first time since his leadership started, the conference adopted tactics of which he expressed disapproval. Now he has expressed even more definite disapproval of the course the resolution is following. The wild men have become discontent with the peaceful resistance policy. Should the 320 million people become aroused, England would have a difficult problem to handle in the face of disturbed European conditions.

Quota Cut

There seems to have been less objection to the recent cut in the quota of oil allowable than to any other previous cut or control order. It is possible that the oil men have become convinced of the efficiency of the type of control, or have they just decided that there is no use to object? The Wichita-Burkburnett area was cut less than a thousand barrels.

Rodessa Field

At the same time the oil men have a new problem facing them in the wild production in Louisiana. The Rodessa field has speeded up production after the flow had been slowed down by the acting governor. More than half a billion cubic feet of gas is going to waste, and 13 wells alone are allowed to flow 25,000 barrels of oil. Such production would soon offset the gain of proportion in Texas, Oklahoma and California. Furthermore, it is possible that the unlimited flow of gas may lower the pressure in the East Texas fields and prevent the recovery of a maximum of oil there.

National War Debts

For a few days, the United States cherished the fond illusion that England and France might kick in with a little of the long past due war debt. More than 11 billion dollars are now due and in default. Only tiny Finland has paid the amount owed to the United States. However, the hopes proved to be only the willo-wisp created for the purpose of feeling out the United States. Both France and England are faced with the constant possibility of an expensive war. To fight such a war would mean a huge credit and loan market would be necessary. The two nations just sent up a couple of thial balloons to determine

Funeral Services For Brother Of Hank O'Neil Held

The funeral services for John O'Neil, brother of H. A. (Hank) O'Neil of Burkburnett, who died Sunday night from a heart attack at Wichita Falls, were held Wednesday afternoon in Houston, Texas. The body was placed in the family mausoleum.

O'Neil, for 45 years an independent oil operator and for 18 years an operator in Wichita area fields, died Sunday night at his home of a heart attack. He was found dead Monday morning by a maid.

His career as an oil man started when he was 17 years of age. He first went to work in Pennsylvania and came to Texas in 1902 by way of the Spindletop field near Beaumont and since that time has operated in every major field in the state. He moved to Wichita Falls immediately after the Fowler well was brought in, at Burkburnett and has operated there since that time.

For the past two years he had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Witcher, Mrs. Witcher, a sister, who was in West Virginia, at the time of his death but who started back to Texas immediately after being notified.

Survivors include three sons, two brothers and a sister.

Contest

will take place in the bank where all the votes will be counted and the prizes awarded to the successful contestants.

End is Here

The stage is all set for the finals and every contestant is endeavoring to get in every subscription this week to better her opportunity to be the big winner. And after the time for action has passed all the regrets in the world will be to no avail. The contestants are pounding down the home stretch, straining every resource at their command to forge ahead. The finish is only a short distance ahead and only a few hours remain of the campaign.

Second Payments

Bringing up every ounce of energy, contestants are rushing pell mell in every direction after subscriptions and second payment, which have the big voting power this week. The result of their efforts will be made known through a locked and sealed ballot box Saturday night.

No one will know how many votes the ballot box holds until the judges break the seal and make the final count.

Final Race

This race is without parallel. Never before was such a sensational dash to the finish seen. Present indications are that this week will be a big week for all contestants. The bigger the subscription report the bigger the cash checks and prizes will be.

Now is the time to do the big things, now is the time to make reasonably sure of the prize most desired. Over-confidence has lost many battles. Relaxation at this stage of the game is suicidal to success. Determination to win, coupled with relentless activity in vote-getting will make winners here, just as the same traits win other battles. To hesitate now will let some competitor sweep ahead and win the prize that would have been yours.

Closing Rules

NOTICE

All subscriptions deposited in the Sealed Ballot box must be accompanied by cash, money order, or certified check for the full amount to cover. No personal checks will be accepted. This rule is made in fairness to all and will be strictly adhered to. In order to maintain the strictest secrecy as to the number of votes and subscriptions turned in by each this, the third period, the last week of the Burk Star Circulation Campaign, the race will be brought to a close under a Sealed Ballot Box.

No subscriptions whatever will be accepted through the Campaign Department during this period, but instead, candidates will deposit their final collections in the Sealed Ballot Box located in the lobby of the First National Bank. By so doing, no one, not even the Campaign Manager or the publisher of this newspaper, can possibly know the vote standing of the respective contestants, which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.

Up To Candidates And Friends

It is up to the candidates and their friends, as to who will drive away in those two cars. The race is really close. Up to the last check-up last Saturday night, it was anyone's race among the four leaders. What has been done so far this week, and during the rest of the period will determine the winners of the two cars and the bonus checks.

The third winner will receive a bonus check of fifty per cent of the commission she has already earned during the drive. The fourth winner will receive a bonus of 33 per cent of her commission, the fifth will receive 25 per cent of her earned commission. There is a big difference the value of these bonus checks and the value of those cars.

Candidates and friends of candidates, see that you make every remaining minute count and WIN A CAR!

Softball Races Keep Interest

The Magnolia continued to lead the parade of softball teams in the Burkburnett teams this week, and retained a perfect record, with three victories and no defeats. Cooper climbed into second place this week with four victories and one defeat. The games next week will probably continue the schedule that has been interrupted with frequent postponements this week.

If your check and bonds reach Burkburnett and you are not known, some person must swear to your identity before you can receive the letter.

In case a person lives in a hotel or boarding house the letter containing the bonds will not be delivered to the hotel, but a notice will be sent for that person to report at the office personally to receive his letter. If the letter is delivered to the home of the service man and he is not present, the letter can not be delivered to his wife. A card will be left, and the legationaire must call in person at the post office for the letter. Neither can the letter be delivered at the place of business of the man designated unless he is present and signs after proper identification.

$150,000 Locally

Burkburnett will receive approximately $150,000 in bonds and checks during the payments. Not all of this will be paid direct but a large portion of it will be cashed immediately. The cash is expected to bring a small boom in the city for a short while.

Villian More Interesting Than Hero Says R. Cortez.

"Scoundrels are almost always interesting," according to Richard Cortez, who plays the role of a notorious outlaw in the Warner Bros. picture "Man Hunt," which comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday at Midnight. "Applying the fact to my profession, I saw that the 'menace' was always a center of interest on stage and screen whenever he entered the scene. It may not be sympathetic interest, but it is genuine, inevitable. The spectators may not like him, but they don't easily forget him. If I want certainty of a long career in pictures, I decided the surest means of securing it was to concentrate on playing a type of character who almost inevitably compels attention, if the film itself be bad, indifferent or good.

That Cortez was not mistaken, in his reasoning is fully evident in the fact that he has much the longest record of continued prominence of any of the younger veterans of the screen. Even among the prominent old players, he has only three rivals in durability — Wallace Berry, Lewis Stone, and Charlie Chaplin. The career of the chief villain of the Warner Bros. lot actually began about seventeen years ago when he got his first extra job. It was in 1923 that he played his first important role, and throughout the ensuing dozen years he has remained in the top rank of his profession, having easily made the transition from the silent to talking pictures.

Jane Withers In 'Paddy O'Day Fri.'

With a twinkle in her eye and a saucy Irish brogue in her song, little Jane Withers heads a stellar cast of fun makers in her joyous new Fox picture "Paddy O'Day," coming Friday to the Palace Theatre.

The picture, which follows the fascinating adventures of a little girl who is motherless from Erin to the strange city of New York. The story of "Paddy O'Day" follows the trail of a little lass who comes over to the United States on the steerage of a big boat, and who captivates the hearts of all her fellow passengers.

When she arrives at Ellis Island, it is only to meet disappointment. Her mother has died and she must be sent back. She eludes the vigilante eyes of the immigration inspectors, and escapes to the house where her mother used to work. It is a strange crazy household, presided over by two eccentric aunts who oppress the almost irrepressible Pinky Tomlin.

At each program the Federated society provides the story teller and the ice cream for the children.

The money that will be raised next Thursday will be used for the refreshments. The annual social event has been successful in providing funds for the entire summer, and the gathering this year is expected to be the largest in the history of the society.

SAN ANTONIO, May 20—Now enrolled in free classes conducted by the Works Progress Administration emergency education department are 96,143 Texans, H. P. Drought, Works Progress Administrator for Texas, reported today.

Employing 2,040 needy teachers, the program offers a variety of educational opportunities for adults, Drought said.

Largest number of students are attending general adult education classes, with an enrollment of 45,505. Literacy classes are teaching 24,772. Classes for parents reached 1,352 Texans and nursery schools enrolled 766 preschool youngsters. Training for workers is extended to 559 persons.

Prevent Breeding For Fly Control

AUSTIN, May 20—Thousands of children and adults die every year from diseases carried by the fly. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and frequently death follow closely in the trail of the common house fly.

"The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city and community in the State", urges Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"The next most effective thing for the control is to prevent their breeding," he said. "Flies breed in filth, and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During their life time of several months, one house fly lays from 600 to 1000 eggs. Thus it can easily be seen that in a season which usually begins in the spring of the year, the descendants from one fly number countless thousands.

New Juniorsertain Seniors

For class of the Fairview school entertained the Faculty members at a banquet at the Forum, Friday night, ending at 8:00 o'clock.

banquet table.

The table was in the form of a horseshoe, and the banquet cloth was a red checked one similar to those used in real pioneer days.

the response was given by the Senior Class president, H. B. Northcott titled "Headin' for the Last Round-up." Mr. Y. C. Paschall, Superintendent of the Fairview schools, gave a very interesting and amusing talk on "Get Along Little Doggies".

During the banquet, K. Milles, an ex-student of Fairview played and sang cowboy ballads. Mary Frances Goins and Nacomi Frances Banning, dressed as cowgirls, served as Sophomore hostesses.

Those attending were: Mrs. Randell Watkins, Scotty McCall, Albert Zink, Dorothy Siber, Iva Jim Banning, Miss Ray Davis Ralph Winkles, Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, Arvell Morris, Lavern Beaver, Ruby Jewel Williams, Mr. Irwin Brand, Mr. J. Mr. editors of the Burkburnett Star and the Walters Herald will you please correct my mistake of last week in announcing the Sunday that the all-day singing would come off. I overlooked the calendar. We have five Sundays in May instead of four, so as the singing comes off on Sunday, it will be the fifth Sunday instead of the fourth, May 31. Please do not forget this.

Say boy, talking about one of those old time get-together picnics and dinner on the ground, Ice cream and cake, fried pullets, good old farmer cured ham, the kind that makes that good old sap, that will make your mouth water to look at, was held Sunday south of Mrs. Major O'Neil's farm. 6 1-2 miles from Randlett at her big spring where there is wonderful big trees and plenty of shade. This big gathering and picnic was sponsored by Mrs. Hails and Mr. Tohe Hardin, who lives on Mr. W. R. Elkins farm, 75 or 80 of Mrs. Nails and Mr. Hardin's friends out of Burkburnett attended the picnic one or two came up from Wichita Falls by an invitation given by Mrs. Nails and Mr. Hardin, and after eating everything that you could think of, they all gathered around in a circle and told tales and cracked jokes at each other. Believe me, that was one picnic that everyone enjoyed. Mrs. Nails took back enough food to her home to feed nearly as many as there was there. That is what Hawk Eye claims is the good old way and right way to live.

Hunter Governor Club Organized

Declaring that the entrance of Tom Hunter, of Wichita Falls, into the gubernatorial race for the third time was directly due to the insistent demands of his supporters from every section of Texas, John Lee Smith, of Throckmorton, made the principal address before the newly organized Women's Hunter-for-Governor Club which met Tuesday morning at the Wichita Falls court house.

Big Rabbit Creek

May 15, 1936. The writer has been informed that Mr. Alvin Alexander's wife was operated on at the Wichita Falls hospital at 10:30 a. m. She was in a serious condition when she was placed on the operating table to undergo the operation.

Well folks, a great many of the farmers up away from the river and Rabbit Creek is needing rain as every thing up there is getting dry, but down on the river and creek, corn is knee high and the cotton is coming up fine.

Mr. editors of the Burkburnett Star and the Walters Herald will you please correct my mistake of last week in announcing the Sunday that the all-day singing would come off. I overlooked the calendar. We have five Sundays in May instead of four, so as the singing comes off on Sunday, it will be the fifth Sunday instead of the fourth, May 31. Please do not forget this.

Mr. W. H. Martin motored his little daughter, Winnie June, 3 years old, up to her half sister's, Mrs. Fred Hooper and Mr. Smelley last Sunday to partake of another birthday dinner, as last Sunday her real birthday dinner was given in her home at the Owens family home down on Big Rabbit Creek. Mr. Martin and little June served a fine dinner and Junie enjoyed herself fine. They arrived back to the Owens family where Junie is making her home, about 4:30 p.m. Hawk Eye and W. H. Martin motored over to Burkburnett Saturday to transact some business and to attend the big cash drawing. Folks its just a sight to see so many people on the streets as there is on Saturday in Burkburnett. Hawk Eye just can't as yet figure out where all of this humanity comes from. Of course quite a few come from our county seat (Walters). Mr. Tom Lee, from Walters was on the streets and all business places were doing a land office business.

There will be several more acres of cotton planted in this neck of the woods this coming week, and that will just about wind up the first cotton planting, unless it has to be planted over. There is some cotton that is up already, but not to a good stand. Corn is fine and is growing fast.

While Hawk Eye was in Burkburnett Saturday he dropped in to one of the coldest and hottest places in Burkburnett. That is no place but the big Wichita Falls ice cream store. Why I say it was hot, all sizes of people were going in to get themselves an ice cream cone to cool them off. Why I said it was the coldest

More Facts for the Thinking Man

Citizens of Dalhart (population 4691) pay the following rates for the following kilowatt-hours in their homes:

15 K. W. H.	$1.50
25 K. W. H.	$2.50
40 K. W. H.	$3.40
100 K. W. H.	$6.00

These figures were secured from Federal Power Commission Rate Survey, and a notation indicated that rates had been changed since July 1, 1934. According to the trend of the times, it is supposed the rates above are lower than those prior to that time. Dalhart is served by a private utility.

In Burkburnett (population 3281) the following rates are in effect for residences since the establishment of a municipal light plant.

15 K. W. H.	$1.08
25 K. W. H.	$1.67

"Prisoner Of Shark Island" Drama Of A Man's Betrayal

Snatched from the shadow of the noose, he was sent to an Island hell to suffer an agony worse than death.

Telling the true story of the most tragic figure in American history, 20th Century's "The Prisoner of Shark Island" comes Sunday and Monday to the Palace theatre, starring Warner Baxter with Gloria Stewart and a supporting cast of over one thousand.

Dipping into the hectic days following the close of the Civil War, the picture depicts the assassination of Lincoln and the flight of the assassin to the home of Baxter, a doctor.

For the unintentional crime of setting the broken leg of a man about whom he knew nothing, Baxter is asserted. In the hysteria that follows, Baxter is sentenced to life imprisonment at the dreaded Federal prison on the Rry Tortugas.
