COMPLIMENTS TO CLUBS

The Rotary, Elks, and Boys Clubs of this city have rearranged their meeting quarters all in one move. We extend compliments to the organizations for the efficiency and beauty of the new quarters.

Up until this arrangement the only meeting place in town where a banquet or program could be arranged was at the church buildings. The organizations found themselves handicapped by the respect that they held for the church and its ideals.

CITY PAVING

Paving on the streets within the city is rapidly disintegrating and in the very near future something must be done to prevent the complete break up of the asphalt surfaces.

NEW TRAFFIC RULES

The city council rang the bell when they installed the new traffic system to allow for the cross curve on Main Street. The old fashioned "turn at center only" was the product of the horse and buggy days when everybody had plenty of time and traffic was never so crowded as it is every day at the present.

The new turn to the left rules will be inconvenient until we can be accustomed to them. After that we will find them handy, and in many cases will speed up traffic as well as eliminate accidents.

The only thing to remember is to follow the lines around the corner, and then be sure that the way is clear. The new rules allow no more carelessness that under the "around the post" rule.

If there were only some way to eliminate the double parking on Main Street, we would sigh a long, solemn sigh of relief and retire from the position as a reformer. Possibly some genius will arise to solve this problem for us some day.

While we are talking of such problems why not wish for an anti-noise rule. It is our opinion that Burk has more horn tooting per square foot than any village in the state, and about 85 per cent of it entirely useless.

BONUS SPENDING

There has been several articles and editorials recently advising the veterans on how to spend their bonus money. Such advice is about as usefull as a cup of water during a flood.

Most people would be surprised about what will be done with the money. So many have the impression that it will all be used to buy cars or some other article in the more or less luxury class. It would be hard to convince the majority that less than 9 per cent of the money will be spent for such things.

The answers of the ten were as follows: 1. Buy a second hand car to go to work in. 2. Three said "Catch up on my bills." 3. "The wife and kiddies and me will go to the centennial and we won't feel pinched for expenses". 4. "I'll get a gun, two rods and reels, and the wife said she'd use the rest for clothes for the kids, and some other things we need around the house." 5. Two said "Pay notes on the house. 6. One said "Its none of your business." He was right, it isn't. And the last stated that he would leave the bonds uncashed.

There are thousands of things that will be used, but these ten are a fair cross section of what will happen to the money. It will go into every commercial channel in the city. The head shaking advice of editorialists will do no good. These men don't need advice. They only need to be let alone.

Peeps at Politics

Pipes—Every one that smokes a pipe had better hunt up Jim Robinson again this year. The proverbial corn cob pipe has become the symbol of Jim's races the last few years, and many imitators have tried to score the same notoriety that he has, but they all fall far short.

Races Cluttered Up—Some of the races have no opposition, but a few have an abundance of candidates. The late Judge Martin started a custom when he entered the civil court of appeals race.

Municipal Bankrupt Law—The New Deal took it on the chin again in the voting the Bankrupt law relating to municipalities. For the third time a single vote of the supreme court in a four to five decision swung the most important court.

Poor Incumbents—The tax bill has snarled the program of congress until it appears now that adjournment by the 8th of June is impossible. In the meantime the incumbents in the house and a third of the senate must be getting restless about getting on the field.

enough so that a man can be elected on his ability, and not on the basis of how many back slapping and hand shaking organizations he belongs to.

Judge—It is always interesting to watch a veteran and a rookie in any sport in the world, and the race for 89th district judges' bench is presenting just such a race. Wayne Somerville and the incumbent Judge Ernest Robertson are just such candidates.

Concience Fund—A recent note from one of the press agencies stated that a man had sent the government a $1.60 check that covered some tax evasion of several years ago. This note brings to mind that a fund of several thousand dollars has been accumulated in the treasury by such acts.

French Strikes—The socialists have control of France and at the same time have one of the biggest problems on their hands that a national government has ever faced.

Punishment of Receivers—A receiver of stolen goods was recently sentenced to three years in the state prison. The news was encouraging, and such a course would be more effective than any other dealing with the thefts that take place in this area.

The Queen Mary—The crowd of 500,000 Britshers that gathered to witness the sailing of the "Queen Mary" participated in a ceremony that was symbolic of the present era.

3 GREAT STARS JOIN IN DRAMA OF ADVENTURE

Wallace Berry—Barbara Stanwyck—John Boles. These three great stars, together for the first time, enact their greatest roles in 20th Century's roistering, romantic, "A Message to Garcia," the picture coming to the Palace Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

Boles is the man who carries the message to Garcia in the jungle interior, a message that will change the destiny of three nations. For a companion, he takes Wallace Berry, an amusing rogue who is half traitor, half hero.

When they discover that the man who was to guide them to Garcia has been killed, they take his daughter, Barbary Stanwyck, to show them the way. Hardships, peril, adventure all faced them in the treacherous jungle draw Boles and Miss Stanwyck to each other. But, when she is wounded Boles carries on bravely with his mission, leaving her behind in the care of Berry. The taut and nerve-scraping climax of the picture approaches when Berry reappears and leads Boles into what he mistakenly thinks is Garcia's camp, actually the stronghold of Boles' enemies. A heroic charge led by Berry frees Boles from the clutches of his captors, makes possible the rejoining of the lovers and brings the picture to a happy close.

Meek Screen Trio Seen In Film As Gangster - Killers

Director Tay Garnett sent a hurry call to the casting office at Columbia for shy, obsequious Donald Meek; handsome, romantic Lloyd Nolan, and soft spoken Tom Kennedy. He wanted them for the roles of three tough, gangster-killers! Hollywood snickered. It was much like casting Boris Karloff as Perce.

"Why not", countered Garnett, directing the vicious trio in "She Couldn't Take It," which co-stars George Raft and Joan Bennett. "There aren't any outstanding facial or physical characteristics peculiar to the gangster type. Although the gangster has been pictured on stage and screen as a swathy, beetle-browed, sinister looking "mug," the opposite most always obtains. How else do you account for "Baby Face" Nelson, "Pretty Boy" Floyd, and similar nomenclature among their less-publicized brethren-in-arms of this era?

"George Raft looks like the public conception of a 'public enemy' simply because he has played so many gangster roles. He certainly didn't look the part while dancing in the most fashionable night clubs both here and abroad."

In "She Couldn't Take It," the picture which will be seen at the Tex Theatre showing Sunday and Monday, Donald Meek portrays a soft-voiced icy cruel killer. His natural lack of menacing tones, scowls and scars makes him all the more the realistic gangster, Garnett believes.

Big Rabbit Creek

Well Folks, I guess everyone at last has got all of the rain they have been praying for. I know we farmers have down in this neck of the woods, for last Wednesday a week ago, the hardest rain the writer has ever seen came about 10:45 a. m. In less than 60 minutes, 1.02 inches of rain fell on Rabbit Creek. Where Hawk Eye lives, Rabbit Creek got up to where she almost run out of her banks. Its a cinch this part of Cotton County has got enough under ground season to last up till the first of August. Anyhow, those big rains have put corn to where its almost knee high. Early planted feed stuff is looking fine. Also all the early planted cotton is up and is looking just fine.

A great deal of cotton will be planted this coming week, but a very little amount of cotton will have to be replanted on account of the heavy rains. Old Red River came down last week, and during Wednesday and Thursday she was almost as high as it was a year ago the 18th of this month when the Burkburnett bridge went out. At this writing the river is down to almost normal.

The big oil companies are still believing that a great oil pool lies some where around Randlett, as one day of last week J. A. Alexander leased or sold his royalty on 10 acres more of his land to the Gypsie Oil Co., the consideration being $35. per acre. The amount was $350.00 on a 10 year period.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Nails and her son, Charlie, called on the Owens family and spent the afternoon visiting them.

Mrs. Maud Owens will have her fall oats cut and bound the middle of this coming week. In yield per bushel they will be very small, about 6 or 7 bushels per acre.

Hawk Eye and Mr. W. H. Martin failed to be on the busy streets of Burkburnett last Saturday, due to the vegetation that is growing so fast since the big rains that Hawk Eye cut weeds out of their potato patch and vineyard all day, and Mr. Martin planted corn all day, but next Saturday if nothing happens, they will be there Johnnie on the spot.

Saturday being Decoration Day a great many visited the city of the dead, both in Randlett, fairview and Burkburnett cemetery, to remember their dead ones by placing beautiful flowers over their place.

D. L. Alexander and sons were over in Burkburnett Saturday, transacting business.

The big rains which come the past week down in this part of the Co. sure was a blessing to those who live up on the upland country, both on getting up their cotton and feed stuff, and filling up their stock ponds, cutting out hauling water for their stock and house use as Hawk Eye knows something about this old water hauling for stock as he and his Brother Johnnie, had a trial of it several years past. If you have many head of cattle to haul for, it keeps one man busy hauling water.

Owing to the amount of the work that we old clod hoppers have to do in the future to keep

Burkburnett Hornets Rally Gamely But Rookies Get 10th in Row, 16-10

The Northwestern Supply Co. Rookies won a free hitting and loosely played slugfest from the Burkburnett Hornets here Tuesday night, 16 to 10. It was the 10th straight win of the season for the Rookies and their fourth league victory in a row. Both clubs were charged up with 7 errors each, but the game was a thrilling battle in spite of the many misplays.

Maxine Hill toiled on the hill for the Rookies and gave up seven hits and whiffed a like number. Elizabeth Fulks was on the mound for Burkburnett and was touched for 17 hits, each getting three safe blows. Stimpson and Hanvey of Burkburnett led the Hornets attack with two hits each.

the vegetation from out growing our crops, since so much rain there were almost as many people over in Burkburnett Saturday to attend the big cash drawing as usual, so Hawk Eye has been told.

Saturday being a holiday, it piles up the rural mail to beat the band, especially where the farmers take a daily paper, as we will have Saturday Sunday and Monday's papers come all at once. This makes it very bad.

It is reported that Grandpa Bowmar is laying very low by all reports that comes to Hawk Eye regarding to his condition. He can't stay with us much longer. Yours truly Hawk Eye, by E. O.

The Rookies got away to a flying start of six runs in the first two innings of the game, but the Hornets threw a scare into them in the third inning when they combined four hits with four errors to score four runs. Maxine Arbuckle "eased the pressure" in the fifth inning when she connected with her eighth home run of the season and her fourth of the league, with one mate on base. A five-run Hornet rally in the seventh fell six runs short, but looked dangerous for a while.

Score: R. H. E. Rookies 240 060 4—16 17 7 Burkburnett 004 001 5—10 7 7 Hill and McIntyre; E. Faulks and Bennett.

20 Minutes vs. Three Hours

Have your neighbors ever dropped into your home to borrow the weekly collection of circular letters, hand bills, etc., that the users think are as good as advertising in your home newspaper?

Few people realize the actual coverage of even the most modest weekly newspaper. Not so long ago an advertising expert was quoted as saying that careful research had ascertained that a well known daily paper is read on an average, for the space of 20 minutes, while the average weekly newspaper has a "reading life" of three hours to its credit! It is kept around the house for a week and everyone in the family takes his turn in going through its pages.

That is something for both subscriber and advertiser to think about.

J. T. Ensey Dies Here Wednesday

The funeral service of J. T. Ensey, Burkburnett resident, will be held Friday in Burkburnett. The services will be held 3 o'clock, Friday afternoon at the Assembly of God church. Rev. Savage, pastor, will officiate.

Mr. Ensey, prominent retired farmer of Burkburnett, died at his home in Burkburnett Wednesday afternoon. He had been a resident of the city for 12 years at the time of his death, and was well known in this city.

He is survived by the widow; John Ensey, Nocona, Texas; W. D. Ensey, Walters, Okla.; C. M. Ensey, Decatur; O. J. Ensey, Burkburnett; A. F. Ensey of Henderson, sons; Mrs. H. E. Black, of Oklahoma City; and Mrs. J. J. Burchell, of Walters, Oklahoma, daughters. The services were under the direction of the Owens-Brumley funeral home and interment was at the Burkburnett cemetery.

Joseph Byrns Of House Dies Wed.

Joseph Byrns, speaker in the national house of representatives and the leading democrat of the lower house, died suddenly at his home in Washington, D. C., Wednesday night. The democratic leader in the house was stricken in the afternoon with a heart attack and suffered a cerebral hemorrhage at 12:15 a. m.

The democratic party will miss the strongest man in the lower house and the manager of the party's program in the congressional sessions. He had served a full quarter of a century in the congress and held the highest office that it is possible for a member of that body to hold. The record of years of faithful party service resulted in his election when John Garner was elected vice-president of the United States. Garner had been elected speaker when the majority of democrats took control in 1930.

Exservice Men To Receive Bonus In Next Two Weeks

The exservice men are waiting for the zero hour, and with more anxiety than ever in the front line, they are restless for the initial payment of the bonus checks and bonds that will start their flow in the near future. The 1st of Texas bonds are due to leave the Dallas post offices and federal buildings the morning of June 15, and veterans immediately in that neighborhood will receive them. However, it is highly probable that none will receive them here before the following day, and for the next week or two they will arrive as rapidly as the office is able to handle them.

The bonds will arrive in registered letters that will be directed to deliver in person only, and no one can sign for another person. They will be delivered only to the veterans themselves. In case the veteran is not in Burkburnett, he can not have his letter forwarded. He must call at the local office or at his regular mailing place for the bond.

After the bonds in 50 dollar lots have been received, the men can then cash them by identifying themselves at any place where they are known at a pay station. The safest method is to appear at the local post office or at the post office where you are best known. The bonds will be received and a check good at any bank or business house will be issued by the nearest central pay station.

Brother of Local Man Dies Thurs.

R. A. Gilbow, brother of E. F. Gilbow of Burkburnett, died at a Wichita Falls hospital Thursday morning at 3 o'clock after an illness of about three months. The 50 year old Wichitan was well known in Burkburnett and had many friends in Burkburnett. The final services will be held Friday afternoon at Bluegrove, Texas at the First Baptist church, with the pastor of that church officiating.

Besides his brother in Burkburnett, other survivors include V. L. Gilbow, Henrietta, brother and Mrs. Ella O'Neal, sister, Ft. Worth; two sons, Delbert Gilbow, Wicket, Texas; Moffet Gilbow, Wichita Falls; one daughter, Mrs. Durham, Wichita Falls. Two nephews and a niece R. C. and A. L. Gilbow and Mrs. Bowden Maben lived in Burkburnett.

Gilbow had been a resident of Wichita Falls for 12 years and came there from Henrietta. He was a native of Texas.

Floyd Jackson, county attorney of Cotton county, visited friends in Burkburnett Thursday while making a business trip to Wichita county.

Athletics - For Better or Worse

The purely social values claimed are two: The game is a great socializer and welder. Playing together as a team for a common cause develops a school consciousness, which engulfs and dissolves much pettiness and discord.

Friendliness in Sport
But more: it socializes and it welds opponents together, as one team plays with another—plays with another—plays with another—for paradoxical as it may sound, to "play with" and to "play against" are interchangeable whether as individuals in golf or tennis or as teams in football and basketball. In sports, opponents who can also be friends, and only those should be opponents who can also be friends. Sport is not warfare. A golfer for sport challenges and plays not his enemy but his friend. Where and when temporary conditions make the friendship relation impossible athletic relationship should be suspended. Guest-friendship and camaraderie are the sport ideals; playing hard to the limit, for the sake of the guest-opponent and expecting no less from him or them, but rivalry without rancor, competition without bitterness or vindictiveness, even as lawyers clash one hour in the court one hour and then fraternize the next at the festive board.

The paramount social value is the lesson in cooperation and in team play, group loyalty, fusing the individuals into the solidarity of the group, wherein each, identifying himself with the whole, feels himself the representative of a cause even to the point when he says, "I am the team," "The team is myself," when the name and honor of the team are his own, when for their sakes, he immolates himself. Nowhere else in the process is taught so vital a social ideal of making the individual to the CHICAGO—The home of other victories over the night today.

That the piano, which of the late 1920's is now passed and that it has been placed with interests in the home was indicated when the home was revealed showing piano purchases have increased nearly forty percent during the past year. Almost all of them were for home use.

Other indications, too, of the fact that young people are spending their leisure time in the conservative pleasures obtained by community singing.

Another factor which has contributed to the increase of popularity in the piano is the fact that people again are anxious to produce for themselves the joy they enjoy.

The happiest hour of the day for these girls at Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house at Northwestern University is when they gather around the piano and sing.

LOIS THOMPSON AND LEONARD BEARD UNITED IN VERNON, TEXAS

Miss Lois Thompson, popular young teacher of the Fairview high school faculty and daughter of J. D. Thompson, was united in marriage to Leonard Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beard of Burkburnett, in a beautiful ceremony Monday afternoon at Vernon, Texas. The ceremony, which was read by the Rev. L. N. Cunningham, pastor of the Federated Presbyterian church of Vernon, was at the home of Roy Thompson of Vernon.

The bride has been a teacher at Fairview for several years. She is a graduate of the Texas State Teachers College at Denton, Tex. At the University her record was excellent. Previous to her position at Fairview, she taught at Dublin, Texas. She is a graduate of the Vernon high school where she lived most of her life, and is a member of a prominent pioneer family of that section.

The bridegroom is a popular member of the younger set of Burkburnett. He graduated from the local high school, and has been leader in the work at the First Presbyterian church. At the present he is associated with a radio company in Nocona, Texas.

The bridal couple entered the beautifully decorated front room while Miss Enid McCarroll played the wedding march. The bride was lovely in a powdered blue chiffon and carried a bouquet of talisman roses. The ceremony was read before an altar of banked greenery and cut flowers in a single ring recital. The room was decorated in cut flowers of roses, lily, verbena and larkspur.

Immediately after the wedding the bride served as hostess at an informal reception and cut the wedding cake which was served with punch to the guests by Miss Marion Proctor and Mrs. Herbert Thompson. Following the reception the bride couple left for a short wedding trip. The young couple will be at the home of friends in Nocona in the near future.

Those present for the wedding and reception were Misses, Selma Baird, Jewel Holmann, Iris Holmann, Marion Proctor, Wichita Falls, Jamie Mann, Amarillo, Pattie Thompson, sister of the bride, and Mr. and Mesdames, Herbert Thompson, Fred Thompson, Roy Thompson and families, and Messrs, D. D. Thompson, Fred L. Thompson, J. D. Thompson, father of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Beard, father and mother of the bridegroom, Miss Enid McCarroll, Rev. and Mrs. Cunningham, and Curtis Cook of Burkburnett.

Music Adds Much To Enjoyment Of Western Thriller

A new balance has been attained in western pictures. "Comedy and music have been added in equal importance to the old rule of picture action."

That is the illuminating comment made by Director Mack Wright on an interview on the set of "Comin' Round the Mountain" Republic's new Gene Autry romantic action picture, opening

Friday at the Tex Theatre.

"This picture is the first western I have seen", he pointed out, "that is made up of just about one third action, one third music, and one third comedy. The great popularity of Gene's cowboy singing has forced the inclusion of a constantly larger share of music while all the box office pictures of recent months have had a generous share of laughs. But the rip-roaring feature of the western has not suffered. In my opinion, this addition of balance between the three elements has improved the action."

New Funeral Home Receives Wichita County Contracts

Thomas of Burk Held Contract For Last 18 Months

Dalton, Hampton and Vaughan Funeral home of Wichita Falls won the county contract for the burial and ambulance calls for the next year at the commissioners court last Monday. Several firms over Wichita county entered bids for the services, but the lowest bid was entered by the Wichita firm and approved by the court. The Thomas Funeral home of Burkburnett has held the contract for the last 18 months and during that time served the entire county.

The winning bids were as follows: adult burials $17. each; infant burials, $12. each; ambulance calls outside the city and within the county, $3. each.

Three charity drug supply contracts were: Precinct 2, Rexall Drug Store; Precinct 4, Tarleton Drug Store; Louis Jernigan, who is county building manager and superintendent of the county farm, reported seven burials in the county cemetery during May.

Fischer Address At Wichita Falls To Draw Big Crowd

The coming of F. W. Fischer of Tyler, candidate for governor, to Wichita Falls, next Thursday night, June 11, will draw a tremendous crowd, according to friends of the former Wichita Falls attorney.

The rally will be held at the Memorial Auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Bands of Wichita Falls and other towns in the territory have been invited to be present and add color to the big event.

Mr. Fischer is running for governor on a platform of paying old age pensions in full, and is spreading his philosophy of taxing natural resources from one end of the state to the other.

Fischer was born in West Virginia, spent his boyhood riding bronchos in southwestern Okla., and later studied law on the farm. He is a Mason, a Methodist, and a member of the American Legion.

West Main Street Concrete Started

The pouring of concrete on W. Main Street started Wednesday as the precinct commissioner, F. R. Knauth supervised the new part of the paving. The county precinct will pave the remainder of the work. The work is being done by men who are not members of the PWA crews. Private employment is being used in the work.

Starting on the East end, the work will make the pavement 8 feet wider for a distance up to the creek. From that point until contact is made with the PWA project near Boyd's store, the pavement will be increased six feet. The work will be done hastily and completed in the near future.

Firemen Build New Display Case

The Firemen, proud possessors of two new trophies won at Archer City, exhibited the cups at the city hall this week in a new trophy case. The case has been placed in the office of the city, and the three cups will be exhibited during the next year. The polo cups will remain in the permanent possession of the local department, but the hose hook-up team will be required to win the cup three times to keep it in the city.

State Agricultural Council Is Organized

COLLEGE STATION, Texas—A State Agricultural Council was recently organized here composed of representatives of the 12 Extension districts. Each member of this council came from a county farm demonstration council.

V. C. Marshall, Heidenheimer, Bell county, was elected chairman; L. P. Cooke, Corpus Christi, vice chairman; and J. H. Watson, New Castle, Young County, secretary.

The function of this council is to cooperate with the Texas Extension service in an advisory capacity, in all of its extension activities, including the administering of the new Soil Conservation and domestic Allotment Act.

During the first organized meeting recently at College Station, the members of the state Agricultural Council unanimously passed a resolution favoring all farmers filling out work sheets in the Soil Conservation program on the grounds that such cooperation does not obligate the farmer in any way, that it is needed to make the program more effective this year, and that it will help in the 1937 program.

Members of the council who met here with the Extension staff and with the Soil Conservation Committee are: V. C. Marshall, chairman; L. P. Cooke, vice chairman; J. H. Watson, secretary; L. R. Conner, Perryton, Ochiltree County; C. H. Day, Plainview, Hale County; L. F. Johnson, Arlington, Tarrant County; H. A. Terry, Clarksville, Red River County; Terry Elkin, Midland county; J. Walter Hammond Tyo, Taylor County; T. M. Drew, Omalaska, Polk County; S. A. Burchard, Gonzales, Gonzales co.; and George Slaughter, Wharton, Wharton county.

Department of Commerce Approves Flivver Plane

ONE more laurel rests on the bright aluminum brow of the Ford V-8 engine as the Arrow Aircraft and Motors Corporation of Lincoln, Nebraska received its Approved Type Certificate for its new plane incorporating the standard Ford engine. This is the first airplane to receive its A. T. C. using a standard automobile engine, interchangeable in every way with that used in a car.

David E. Anderson, Chief Engineer of the Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corporation, whose company supplies many parts for the engine, including the Bohnalite cylinder heads, bearings, etc., points out the versatility of this powerplant which is not only found in so many automobiles but which also won the World's 225-Class powerboat championship at Toronto last summer and now rounds out its triumphs with this signal success in the air.

Tests of the Arrow plane were recently held in Detroit and were watched with interest by Ford officials. The Ford Motor Company is not connected with the manufacture of the plane but was interested in the aeronautic use made of the V-8 engine.

It was brought to Detroit by Mark Woods, President of the Arrow Aircraft and Motors Corporation, his son Pace Woods and Pilot Jimmy Hertz who put it through all kinds of stunts to demonstrate its foolproof design. The plane rights itself from any position and is a marvel of stability, experts assert. It uses regular automobile gasoline, climbs at 500 feet a minute, has an absolute ceiling of 14,000 feet and has a range of 350 miles on 20 gallons of gasoline. Top speed is 100 miles an hour and it cruises at 90. Landing speed is 45 miles an hour. It will sell for less money than all but a few automobiles.

Montgomery And Loy Co-Starred In Broadway Hit

A new and potent starring team heads the cast of the sprightly Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor comedy, "Petticoat Fever," coming Friday to the Palace Theatre. The team is Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy, and this is their first picture since the memorial "When Ladies Meet," each having gone far in personal popularity since then. It is a story of a wireless operator in a remote Labrador station. When an airplane runs out of gasoline and lands near his lonely tower he sees a white woman for the first time in a year, and a beautiful woman for the first time since he left England, two years before. By refusing to send their messages, he holds the couple, who are engaged, virtual prisoners, meanwhile making love to the lady, but with such charm and grace that she begins to like it. His future seems rosy until a girl to whom he was engaged two years before appears, confidently ready to marry him. The ensuing complication leads to a smashing surprise finish.
