Department Operators Against Pollution

Supervisor Will Make Systematic Inspection
Of Field

Immediate Action

Following the pollution of the streams as being almost the entire state, H. E. Faubion, supervisor of the pollution department of the game fish and commission, warned the operators of Burk Burnett and adjacent areas to take immediate action to prevent any further pollution of the creeks and rivers.
A permit was given to the operators after Mr. Faubion and W. H. Brown, district director of the commission, had made a very thorough inspection of the oil field in the city.

The major oil companies operating independent operations at the meeting Saturday expressed willingness to cooperate with the department.

Cooperation

Expressing a desire to stop the pollution, Mr. Faubion stated that he would be more determined than ever to see any attempt on the part of the state to enter court, and extreme cases the department was sometimes forced to take legal action with stubborn operators.

Penalty

A penalty for pollution is not less than $100, and not more than $1,000. Each day after the violation has been entered into the records constitutes a separate offense.

Earth Pits

Operators were advised to fill into the earth but he stated that the company engineers have to give the technical information concerning the individual pits. The speakers stated that numerous complaints had been received from farmers and other organizations in this district. Both oil and salt water polluted the area that was unfit for stock, fish and irrigation purposes.

Inspection

The department plans a systematic inspection of the district which have been polluted as bad as any in the state.
Mr. Hoppson, stated that he will be through on his next inspection trip next week. He stated that progress toward control must be made by that time.

Burk Men Held Crowell Thefts

Burkburnett men are held in cases for having stolen cases of canned oil from the Texas company warehouse at Crowell and Quannah. The citizens of this city, determined near Crowell when they were attempting to make a raid after looting a warehouse according to the report of officers.

Burk Delegation Invades Dallas Centennial Show

Band and Program Cast Given Big Sendoff in Program Here Last Monday

Welcomed At Show

The delegation received the good wishes of the stay at homes Monday night when the last rehearsal of the program was presented at the Palace theatre. The final preview attracted a packed house, and the members of the cast were cheered as they presented their parts to the program.

The Monday event started with a parade led by the band and the American Legion. The colors were carried by members of the Oscar Frye Post. The sponsor of the band, Miss Virginia Glidewell, appeared in a completely white cowboy outfit to lead the line of march.

The delegation left early Wednesday morning with plans to meet at the gate of the exposition at 11 a. m. The crowd had planned to see the centennial together on a large bus while the band played during the first few moments after arrival.

The band was scheduled to appear twice. The first appearance was at the band stand Wednesday afternoon. The second will be Thursday afternoon. Most of the delegation will return late Wednesday night.

Judge Robertson Discusses Spain And War Tuesday

Rotarians Hear Plans Of Burk Day at Centennial

H. Brown Speaks

Judge Ernest Robertson, 89th district judiciary, spoke to the members of the Burk Burnett Rotary on the possible critical points of danger in the Spanish and general European continent last Tuesday noon. The judge gave an impressive picture of the threat to world peace that is in the Spanish rebellion. The speaker showed how the nations were lined up, and suggested the possible cause of general war in the situation.

Further the involving of American citizen made even the more remote participation of America in the conflict possible. The speaker's remarks were impressive to the club members.

Herman Brown, secretary of the chamber of commerce, as the guest of Jack Brumley, told the Rotarians that 60 cars had been signed up to make the trip to Dallas. The members were invited to join the parade with the band. The members of the delegation were invited to meet at the Centennial grounds at 11 o'- clock Wednesday morning for a general ride around the exhibition grounds.

The program was under the direction of O. C. Willis and Jean Willis contributed two numbers, a song and a reading. The guests from Wichita Falls were Luther Robertson, Jim Mytinger, Jimmy Sommerville, L. W. Rieson, Russell Morgan and John Sullivan.

Wichitan's Car Recovered Here

Chief Bill Stapp announced last Tuesday that the car stolen from the Case company in Wichita Falls had been recovered in Burk Burnett Monday morning. The car was found parked in front of the home of R. D. Laney, local insurance agency. After the family had reported the car to the police, it was reported to the Wichita Falls police department.

The car was alleged to have been stolen from the warehouse of the Case organization when the house was entered Sunday night. In addition a radio was stolen, but no trace was found of the radio in the car. The Wichita Falls police carried the car back to Wichita Falls late Monday afternoon.

Investigation was under way Tuesday and Wednesday to trace the radio and find the men who entered the Wichita company's building.

REV. DICK O'BRIEN

Derrick Built On Warren Farm Near Randlett Oklahoma

About five miles from Burk-burnett a deep test was started last week on the Warren farm near Randlett. The drilling is being undertaken by the Phillips company, and rumors report that the deep test is being planned between 7,000 and 10,000 feet. The fracture will set were made early this week, and the pits were completed. The derrick will be 125 feet high.

The land is owned by H. M.
Warren, and the test probably will be the most complete that has been tried in this area for many years. The whole country has been the subject of a great lease play during the last few months. Some of the leases sold for as much as $50.00 per acre in the important centers. This price represents a new high for unproved territory.

Hornets Sting Iowa Park 8-3

Playing almost flawless softball for the entire game, the Burkburnett Hornets defeated the Iowa Park Girls team 8 to 3 Tuesday night at Westerfield. The game gave an exhibition of perfect pitching by two Burk Burnett hurlers. Loretta Dunn started the game on the mound and held the opposition scoreless for six innings. At the sixth period the Iowa Park team scored three times on errors and walks. Dunn deserved much credit for a game of excellent pitching.

The pitcher received brilliant support during the first five innings. Shuffler relieved her on the mound and pitched the remainder of the game without a hit. She entered the game with the bases loaded and one out. The next two batters went out swinging to retire the side. The last inning was easy for the pitcher. Gregory and Litchfield were on the mound for Iowa Park.

Two Burk Boys In Dallas Show

Beaner Garland and Verne Blanset Win Boxing Honors Thursday

Verne Blancet and Beaner Garland will represent the Wichita Falls district in their division of the amateur boxing association at the Dallas meet August 20, 21 and 22. The two Burk boys overwhelmed all opposition to win the right to enter the state tournament without a finalist foe. His previous appearances were so impressive that the opponents withdrew without contest.

Garland put on an exhibition of speed and power that won him a technical knockout in the first 30 seconds of his match last Thursday night. In the few seconds Garland showed evidence of terrific power in both fists, and a cleverness in defense.

First rounds of the Centennial gold glove boxing tournament to decide the winners of the Wichita Falls district were held at the Polo softball field Thursday night.
Verne Blancet of Burk Burnett and Ernest Southerland of Archer City were the only boys entered in the welterweight and the fea-

Reynolds To Sing

Does Burk Burnett need a revival? Are there signs of a spiritual drought in Burk Burnett?
Have our people left God out of their plans? Can we expect any great change in the depressed conditions of our lands until there is a change in the "Spiritual Depression" that is prevalent in our land? Mr. Roger W. Babson, in a telegram to Rev. Jesse M.
Bader of East Orange New Jersey, said "You can tell the members of the preaching mission they can quote me as saying that stock markets may be revived, real estate activity may be increased, retail sales may be stimulated, and commodity prices advanced by political programs, yet unemployment will be with us.
Only a great spiritual awakening will eliminate unemployment. 4 times in America's history we suffered from a similar unemployment crisis, namely, in 1740, 1837, 1858 and 1898. As Whitfield pulled the nation out of the 1740 pocket, as Finney saved the nation after the panic of 1837, as Moody reshaped the nation after 1857, and a score of evangelists came to the rescue after the gay nineties, so we are now depending upon your preaching mission."

Rains Withheld

Does the Bible teach that God withholds the rain, when people forget him? Are there any promises that God will give temporal blessings, if his people will return unto Him? Listen to these passages of scripture, "If I shut up heaven, that there be no rain, or if I command the locust to devour the land, or if I send pestence among my people; if my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray and see my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land." 11 Chron. 7: 14.
Also, "And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places; yet have ye not returned unto me saith the Lord.
And also I have withholden the rain when there were yet three months to the harvest; and I have caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city; one piece was rained upon and the piece whereupon it rained withered not. — yet ye have not returned unto me, saith the Lord." Amos 4: 6-10 (Please

New Store Will Open in Collier Building Soon

According to an announcement made here Thursday noon, a new store under the name of "Cooper's 5c to $5.00 Store" will open in Burkburnett about September 1.
The managers of the enterprise completed the deal for the building this week and plan the formal opening, which will be announced as soon as the decoration and installation can be completed. The store will be completely modern in decoration and service, according to the announcement of Mr. Cooper.

School Probably To Open Sept. 8

Although Butler Westerfield, superintendent of schools, would not definitely confirm the date for the opening of schools in Burk-burnett, it is generally understood that the schools will open on September 8. Mr. Westerfield stated that he would make a definite announcement in a few days. The school will attract more than a thousand children who have enjoyed the three months vacation during the hot summer months. The teachers have spent the summer in various ways.
Some of the instructors attended school, others worked throughout the season.

SINGER AT MEET

Mrs. Joe Morris Goes To Hospital

Mrs. Joe Morris of Burk-burnett returned to a Wichita Falls hospital Wednesday on the advice of local physicians for treatment.
Mrs. Morris has been ill for the last week and during the extremely hot weather, seemed unable to rally.

Drouth Relief To Start in Few Days

Since the government officially declared that the area in and around Burk Burnett lies in the drouth territory, the drouth relief program will be started immediately. What division of the government will handle the direct and labor relief has not been decided by the department up until Thursday.

The territory has suffered very severely from the affects of the intensely hot and dry spell. During the last 60 days very little moisture has fallen in the area.
The wheat crop was completed at 40 per cent normal. The cotton crop is practically destroyed for the entire area both in Texas and Oklahoma. Last week set new highs for all time in Burk Burnett.
The records sent the temperature up to 113 in the shade, and as high as 118 to 120 in the direct rays of the sun or in reflected areas.

Fire Threatens Farm Territory

Farmers Advised to Watch Grass And Crop Fires

The farmers of the area were warned this week to keep careful watch over the dry farm areas threatened by fire. After a flame got out of control between Burk-burnett and Wichita Falls last Friday night, the other farmers were warned to be on the look out for threatening blazes. The grass and crops have become so dry during the last few weeks that the slightest start is all that is needed to bring about complete destruction.

The farmers were advised by experts to back fire and plow once a prairie flame became dangerous. The best method advised was to get well in front of the flame and throw up a seven foot stretch, and then send a blaze back toward the fire.

New Dry Goods Store To Open in Burk Soon

The building being occupied by the Oil City News Stand has been purchased by A. Dodson from Mat Riley this week and will be remodeled and redecorated for a dry goods store.

Clifford Dodson will be associated with his father in the business. Mr. Dodson has several years experience in the dry goods and men's furnishings business. He was with the Famous for a number of years and for the past year and a half has been assistant manager of Saul's in Wichita Falls.

Mr. Dodson stated that they would carry a complete line of piece goods, ladies ready to wear and shoes, and men's furnishings, work clothes and shoes. The store will be open for business about September 1.

Nearly all Melbournes population lives in the suburbs. The city proper is quite small and mostly business.

Local Gins Will Receive Nearly $1,000 in Rebates

Winners to Collect Processor's Assessments From Government

Approximately $1,000 will be received by the Burk Burnett gins, the amount rebated by government, for the processors expense during the administration of the AAA before the act was dismissed by the government. The gins will receive 25 cents per regular bale and about 4,000 bales were ginned here during the administration of the act. The round bales will count as half bales under the act.

The ginners of the entire district will receive more than $100, 000. In Wichita county the amount will be approximately $4,114. This will be for the crop of 16,000 bales.

New Firm Open for Business in Burk

The Western Auto Parts Co. is the name of the newest firm in Burkburnett. It is owned and operated by Mr. T. P. Hupp, of Marlow, Oklahoma.

The new firm will carry a complete stock of automobile parts and accessories in addition to the nationally advertised lines of Sei-berling and Miller tires and tubes and Western batteries.

In casting his lot in Burk-burnett Mr. Hupp stated that he had visited quite a number of towns looking for a location and after visiting Burk Burnett decided that this was one of the best towns for its size in Texas.

Mr. Huff will move his family in the very near future. He invites the general public to come in and see him and to read his ad in another part of the paper.

Kriss Supply Team Defeats Electrans

Playing the best game that has been presented at the softball stadium this year, the Kriss Pipe and Supply company Rookies defeated the Electrans Tuesday night 6 to 3. The Rookies went ahead in the first inning when Hubert Gregg slashed a home run to score three mates ahead of him Wilkes, Pace and Kent had been walked by T. Ray. Electra ace, to be in scoring position.

Both pitchers, Ray of Electra and Zink of Burk Burnett allowed only 4 hits. But Zink had the edge in 9 to 8 strike outs and 2 to 5 walks during the game. After the second inning, the Electrans never passed first base. The batteries were: Burk, Zink and Pace, Electra, Ray and Clynch.

Coopers vs. Packers

In a rough and tumble contest between the Cooper's rough riders and Cuy Willis' Packers at the softball stadium a benefit for the PTA will be presented Friday night, August 21. The contest generally brings all the thrills of dignity being spilled all over the land scape.

The Cooper's challenged the gassers and the spirit of rivalry has developed rapidly since the challenge was issued last Monday. One of the prize events of the evening will be Chief of Police Bull (pardon us we mean Bill) Stapp attempt to negotiate the bases with Mae West, the prize donkey of the game.

Others of the city's dignitaries will sit astride the mounts for the glory and incidental financial gain

Lions Visit At Nocona Meeting

Local Club Meets For A Brief Session

The majority of the members of the local Lions club attended the meeting of the inter-city group at Nocona Tuesday, and the members that stayed at home met for a brief session at the church. The inter-city meeting was held for the first time since the formation of the organization in the Montague County city.

Among those attending the meeting was Wylie Brawning, a former member of the Nocona organization. An interesting program of stunts was presented by the visiting delegation from the various cities in the organization.

The only session held here last Tuesday was a brief business session under the direction of Lee Clifton. After luncheon and some minor business, the meeting adjourned.

Gossett To Speak Here Next Friday

Candidate for Congress to Present Platform at Local Meeting

Ed Gossett will speak at the corner of Ave. C and Main St. next Friday night in behalf of his candidacy for Congress from the 13th district. The speaker will present his platform on his first appearance in Burk Burnett as a speaker since he announced for the position.

The speaker has appeared in the capacity as a luncheon club and graduation speaker in Burk-burnett and nearby communities, but has not spoken since the campaign started for his own race.

Elaborate preparations are being made for his appearance as a speaker. Plans have been made to have the band play in a brief concert. Mr. Gossett will speak over KGKO previous to his appearance here and will report here immediately after the radio address.

Gossett for Congress clubs are being organized in practically every town, village and hamlet of the district. Reports are being received of intensive organization work from towns in which little interest was shown in the first primary campaign. Denton County supporters organized a club early in the week with a charter membership of 75, the Baylor County club is also among those most recently organized. Both are headed by civic and business leaders of their respective communities.

Mr. Gossett spent the week confering with his campaign managers in Denton, Cook, Baylor and Wichita Counties and found time for several campaign addresses.

BRIDGE COMPLETED

The free bridge across the Red River was completed last week, and the reconstruction marked the end of a period of great anxiety for citizens of Burkburnett. Not one moment since the bridge went out has the business man and average citizen been at complete ease about the matter. Of course the shoo-fly represented a service of a limited type; but every day the merchants, knowing the character of the river, feared the possibility of a sudden rise.

Fifteen months is a long time to wait for an absolute necessity. It is longer to wait for a project that was vital to the welfare of this community as that project was. It appears that some readjustment could be made which would make such emergency projects subject to less red tape.

It is apparent to the average man that a careful check and system of approval is essential in the spending of federal or state monies. However, with all the numerous bureaus set up, there ought to be something that will make more rapid the function of an emergency department.

The bridge represents an advance in government. Only a few years ago the river was dotted with toll bridges. The people have gradually accepted as a natural function of the government such services.

Originally the citizens had no right to demand such service from the government. With the new philosophy of social cooperation, these projects are a part of the program accepted as natural.

Since that development has taken place, it would appear to the average laymen that it could be systemized to function with less cumbersome red tape and more machine like efficiency. There ought to be some way to take pork barrel methods out of such activities and place government functions on a business basis.

RAIN MAKERS

A professional rain maker was through Burkburnett last Thursday, and he explained to the editor in great detail the working parts of his machine. The fellow had memorized a long series of big words to make his talk sound impressive. The only trouble was that he mixed his sciences. He had terms applying to the physics and meteorology that should have been used exclusively in biology and botany.

Men have dreamed of such an accomplishment as control of the weather, and probably in the distant future such a thing will be possible. For the present our limitations of power and knowledge prevent such a thing.

There are some interesting stories that could be written about the efforts of humanity to break droughts. In early history the races which gave some divine personality credit for every change in the weather, did the natural thing of making a sacrifice to appease their god or gods. Later more intelligent people tried explosives, electricity and various other semi-scientific means of producing rain. These methods proved to be just about as effective as the sacrifices of more savage tribes.

Wichita Falls made a noble experiment along this line in about 1912. The dynamite was set off a stick at a time for a while until some enterprising person decided there wasn't enough noise and the whole batch was exploded. But it didn't rain any nearer than Gainsville.

There isn't much that can be done. Irrigation is about the only control that can be applied for the present. In the meantime gullible people will go on buying rain makers. But why deprive them of their fun?

COMPLIMENTS TO THE LEGION

The organization of a blood transfusion group by the American Legion post here Monday night is just the type of activity that the public in Burkburnett has come to expect of the organization in this city. No other organization has been as ready to respond in case of emergency and need as the Legion.

The citizens recall their untiring and efficient rescue and search work during the flood of last year, and these people will not forget the efficiency for many years. We also recall the things that they have done to bring honor to the city.

The man who had the courage to fight and die if necessary for the nation during the world war are the type that would think of this much needed service. In behalf of the citizens, doctors, and all other groups of the city, we wish to express appreciation.

Lockett Circle

Members of the Lockett circle of the Baptist W.M.U. met in the home of Mrs. Stuckey Monday afternoon. The devotional by Mrs. Stuckey was read from the Psalm 75. Devotional prayer was led by Mrs. Lee Brady. After a short business session the group was dismissed. Those present were: Mesdames Roy Stuckey, E. H. Logan, Chloe Williams and L. E. Bundy.

Peeps at Politics

Mixed Drinks—Sunday I noticed that a car parked on Main Street had three candidate's stickers on its windshield. They read: "Vote for McFarlane", "Sartin for Congress" and "Gossett for Congress". I wish that fellow would make up his mind. He is bothering me. The car reminded me of a lawyer's speech at graduation service. The speaker said "A successful law firm is one that has a Jew, Catholic, Presbyterian, and a Baptist member." The driver of that car was doing as the law firm, getting the favor of each group. Incidentally some business firms see that some member of their organization becomes a special friend of each candidate. That's good business, and it is entirely fair, I suppose.

Real Need—Since these politicians have started promising some of the wild ideas that they will put over if elected, why don't some of them promise a good rain. They could as easily produce rain as some of the things like tax reduction, and $200.00 a month. Furthermore, what if it did rain suddenly after they were elected? Then they would be set for life. That's worth thinking about. Even if it failed to rain, they would say: "We did our best, but the big corporations crossed us up and are trying to defeat us now." While we are on the subject, some of the old timers say that it did rain here once, but they don't seem to be able to get together on what year it was.

Change in Politics—A few years ago the popular cry used to defeat a man was "he is communistic." During the last few years that cry has changed. Taking advantage of the administration's anti-utility measures, most candidates are trying to fasten the "stigma" of favoritism toward the utilities to defeat their opponents. I believe that it was Uncle Jos Cannon who said at the height of his career in congress, "When I wish to defeat a man or his cause, I just call him a 'radical' or say that his cause is 'radical' then his friends are afraid to be classified with him." Much the same attitude has developed about organized utilities. More political sins have been committed in the name of "anti-utilityism" than any other recent movement.

Rail Road Commission—One of the best examples of how that is used is found in the case of Ernest O. Thompson. This department receives much propaganda and literature in political campaigns. All that has come to the office during the last few days charges the present commissioner of being "sympathetic toward big oil companies." Whether it is true or not, I am getting so that I automatically scratch off of my mental ballot, the names of all persons using such tactics to get votes. It is not a matter of sympathy for the large organizations. Rather it is a matter of disgust at the type of politics that indulges in rotten practices. It literally means that the opponent is charging the incumbent with bribery, either real or moral. That charge seems basis for libel to me.

HEADLINES

The Spanish civil war continues to share the headlines with whatever prominent local news stories that break for the day. The complications of the situation grow more serious each day. At the present the lineup looks like this: For the present governments, France, Russia and one or two small Balkan states; against the present government or for the rebels, England, Italy, Germany, Austria and a scattering of small states. That combination has the power to wreck the already unstable geography of Europe. In an armed conflict, England's loyalty to France is hard to break, and in case of war she probably would line up with her World War friend, Germany and Italy have

Editorial From The Wichita Banner Of August 7th On The CONGRESSIONAL Race

The opposition to McFarlane every time has come from the same source. The same forces in Wichita Falls that fought against McFarlane two and four years ago are today lining up solid behind Ed Gossett.

The people—the plain people have a margin of 10,000 votes on their side to start in this August 22 run-off, an I don't believe they will surrender one of the truest congressmen Texas ever had. It is few an' far between that the people can have a representative on their side on every question. Hold to what you know is true.

McFarlane's tenure of office can be broken only at this time by the money an' power of special interests. Any candidate elected under such condition would have an everlasting obligation to that interest, such that it would bind him for them an' against the interests of the great masses. When you vote to turn out a man who has been tried and found faithful, pure an' sound to the last ditch, remember you are votin' to put in one who is the candidate of the special interests.

Every free voter recognizes the need of untrammelled, unfettered, able and conscientious men in public office. It is your fight. Will you surrender?

much in common. They have been working in close harmony and Germany has been the only state to recognize Italy's control over Ethiopia. The main thing that Spain needs right now is a Stalin, Lenin, Mussolini, Hitler or some such character.

Break In Union

The members of the council of federation of labor expelled 10 of the members that refused to obey the order of the council and declared open allegiance to the trade unions. With a fight on their hands with owners and operators, it appeals to the average spectator that the laboring man could forget this technical question until the other battle was fought to the finish. This division is playing into the hands of the men with whom they must have serious interests. However, the two different schools represent opposite philosophies of labor organization, and it is highly probable that they will never be able to get together on anything like a harmonious course of action. Probably they will fight it out to the harm of all organized labor.

Disgusting Hollywood

The lack of common sense enough to balance the sudden rise in fortunes cause many revolting situations to arise in Hollywood's social activities. The difference between culture and lack of culture is the ability to learn to use discretion. Some times it takes generations for the development of such a quality. The sins of the film capital are not things of which the individuals of that colony alone are guilty. But the indiscretion of their goofy lives makes a crass offense against society.

Oil Companies

It seems a little strange to the observer this year to find the government fighting the large oil companies and the trade magazine on the basis that these companies have violated the anti-trust laws in keeping the price of oil and gasoline stable. Only a few months ago the government was defending in the supreme court in the NRA case the rights of trades, professions and companies to do exactly the same thing. Many local companies will be affected by the case.

Drouth Aid

The department of agriculture announced the plans for the aid of persons in the drouth area last week. The resettlement administration will allot $18.50 per month in the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming for direct relief grants. The work is swinging into action in other states, and Burkburnett and area were included in the needy districts last week. The democrats are being accused of using the drouth as a political football. We suppose that if the sun were to explode, the republicans would say that the democrats had done it for political and dark suspicious reasons. The straight facts are that there is need for aid, and the government is attempting to respond to that need as intelligently as possible.

Pension Fund

There was much discussion in the recent campaign about the amount of money that would be needed in the pension payments. Orville S. Carpenter stated that there would be need of additional funds after the first of the year. There probably will be an empty pension treasury to greet the legislatures who convene Austin this year.

Methodist Church New Worship Hours Pleases all Members

Starting last Sunday with new worship hour with devotional of the Sunday school the morning church services, the new arrangement worship at the First Methodist church was pronounced a distinct success by the members of the organization. The pastor, L. G. Hagar, was pleased of the interest at the first services so planned.

The pastor started a series of sermons on the Lord's day last Sunday and will continue that series with the text "Will be done" next Sunday evening. The evening services will be held at the usual hour, 8:15. The subject for the evening discussion will be "Why I Am a Church Member."

According to three cases in the 89th district court Monday, condemnation was sought for the seven slot machines that were captured in recent here. The suit entered by assistant county attorney Eugene Rod will be tried before the in the near future. The machines at the present are being held in the Wichita County jail with their contents.

Urges Motorists Check Own Cars As Aids to Safety

Dealer Points Out That Tires and Brakes Are Keys to Carefree Driving

A plea for motorists to look to the effectiveness of their own car and equipment as the first and most important contribution to local safety campaigns, was made today by Jim Alexander, Good-year dealer here at Burkburnett.

"Safety campaigns are important means of focusing public attention and interest on safety problems, but even the most safety-minded driver is helpless to avoid an accident if his brakes give out or his tires skid on slippery pavements," he said.

"Consequently to become a true safe driver a motorist should first get 'safety-minded', second see that his brakes are good and his tires have the traction necessary for a quick stop; third drive carefully."

He explained his emphasis on brakes and tires by pointing to the number of accidents caused by the inability to stop suddenly.

"If brakes won't hold, the car won't stop," he explained. "Next, it must be remembered that the car touches the ground at only four points—where four tires meet the road. Therefore, if the tires are smooth, the car will not stop although the brakes hold like bull-dogs."

"Furthermore tire traction must be such as to keep a car from skidding. The blowout is another hazard created by weak and worn out tires. In the final analysis, the tire is probably the most important point to be checked on the car. Study new tires, engineered for today's driving pace, are probably the best single accident preventive a motorist can adopt as his own personal safety campaign contribution."

McMurray - Bogy

Miss Virginia Bogy of Fairview, and Marshall McMurray of Wichita Falls were married last Saturday in Walters, Okla. The ceremony was performed by the Methodist minister of the Methodist parsonage.

Mrs. McMurray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Bogy of Fairview. She is a graduate of the Fairview high school, class of 1935, and also a graduate of the Foster Business college in Wichita Falls. She is a popular member of the younger social life of Fairview.

Mr. McMurray is a young man of sterling worth and is very popular with the younger set in Wichita Falls. He is connected with one of the leading dental laboratories in that city.

They will make their home in Wichita Falls.

lock," remarked the doctor, "make no mistake. Keep off the grass. Don't aspire to the hand of this young princess. I've got a bid in there myself."

"Why, doctor?" exclaimed Jane, all rosy in protest and rising to go.

"Just the same, girl, any man that bids for you has got to face a major operation at his hands. Will you be back for dinner?" he asked of Jane as she made ready to leave.

"We're having watermelon today."

"I'm not going to miss that. But I must go over to Rubio's to order some supplies. By the way, I forgot to ask: What shall I do with that medicine you gave me last time?"

"Throw it out the window and ride horseback. You're coming along wonderful for six weeks out here."

"Hold on, miss, just a minute, please," begged Sawdy as the party broke up. "You'll be at the Fairgrounds this afternoon for the races?"

"Of course I'll be there," responded Jane pertly.

"You've done me a kind, good turn. I want to do you a good one. This goes for this old medicine man, too," Sawdy nodded toward the doctor.

"What is it?" asked Jane coolly. Sawdy was solemn.

"You won't neither of you spill it? All right. Don't bet no money on the trick ridin' this afternoon."

By two o'clock that day the Fairgrounds were sizzling hot and tremendously crowded. Frontier Day celebration was combined with the national holiday and the county fair of a county bigger than most eastern states. A gathering of horsemen, cowmen, mining men, railroad men, gamblers, prospectors, desert rats, and frontier adventurers milled about the rickety little grandstand.

On an occasion such as this, when a local celebration combined with the arrival of a goodly outfit of cowmen, there was reason to look forward to a lively round-up by proprietors of thirt parlor, gamblers, clothiers, merchants, and barbers. On this particular Fourth of July there was every reason but one for such a hops—the cow outfit had been thoroughly skinned by the advance guard of Sleepy Cat sharpshiners in the person of Harry Boland and Clubfoot and Company.

In consequence the Circle Dot boys, as Sawdy's outfit was known, made no especial contribution to the Fairgrounds festivities; they were present but not betting.

Sawdy, long-faced and solemn, neglected to pull at his sweeping mustachios—a sure sign of mental depression. John Lefever, rotund and naturally jolly, Circle Dot foreman, only whistled softly.

The noon train from Medicine Bend brought a few more visitors to the Fairgrounds. These made just about a load for Jim McAlpin's bus. To one Medicine Bend man, Jim paid particular deference, calling him frequently by his first name.

The moment McAlpin's favored passenger had paid his fare, tipped the Scotch liverman generously, and walked toward the grandstand, McAlpin confided to those about him that this was the celebrated Harry Tenison, big-time gambler from Medicine Bend, who talked of opening a place in Sleepy Cat.

Sawdy and Lefever were in moody confab behind the grandstand when

"I heard about that—suckers will always fall for it, Harry. Well, I'll go over and talk to Sawdy and Lefever—see if they got any money left—maybe I can get a small bet."

Boland was fat and short. He never breathed easily; but he would not have been able to breathe at all if he had heard the next talk between Tenison and Sawdy.

"How does it look to you, Harry?" blurted out Sawdy.

"Like many things have looked before takin'; they don't always look so good after. Here's Jake's four hundred. I'm addin' six hundred—that makes your thousand. I don't know about that cigarette trick. I never saw it done but once."

"Where was that?"

"In Madison Square Garden."

"Who pulled it?"

"A young fellow—a Texan—I didn't get his name."

From the judges' stand came the clang of the bell. The jockeys rode up to hear the decision. When they had ridden away, the announcing judge called for the contestant in the next event—the fancy riding.

Four entries rode up and were checked in. First came McCrossen, Gunlock foreman, tall and spare, long-haired and straight as a statue, riding the identical mare that had taken the Circle Dot money the day before.

Next for entry came a Gunlock brave, accoutered with bandied hair in scant Indian fashion. The third hope was a local boy in brave apparel.

The fourth to rise up was the night wrangler of the Circle Dot outfit—not an alarming threat either in looks or in reputation. He rode the horse on which he had been so badly beaten the day before, Lefever's little chestnut gelding.

Three judges had been chosen to name the victor—Jim Laramie, a north-country cattleman, himself a rider of no mean ability; John Selwood, a mining man who likewise knew how to ride; and an ex-sheriff, Bill Pardaloe—now a deputy.

The first test came in Indian-style riding. This meant bareback first with bridle stripped; then with bridle. The Reservation entry was at home in this.

Pardaloe gave him a hundred points and waited for the next man. The local boy passed out on this test. McCrossen made a splendid showing, but his size was against him for that style of horsemanship.

The wrangler, almost as large a man, seemed able better to twist and wind himself around his gelding. The last time he raced down the course it looked at a distance from the grandstand as if the horse couldn't have said it better myself. Come this way. Talk low."

The three found a quiet spot back of the grandstand. The story of the cowmen was soon told. It went into sympathetic and unhesitating ears. As with all gamblers who play big, Tenison's mind was soon made up. "I don't bank much on sure things; but you two seem to know what you're talkin' about. How much do you boys want?"

"A thousand, Harry."

Tenison thought a minute. "Is Jake Spotts in town?"

"Here on the grounds, if he's not up at the saloon."

"Hunt him up. He'll have a few hundred. I've got a few in my pocket. Where's the boy that pulls this stuff for you?"

"Come over to the horses and meet Bill DeLison. We're keeping him dark. They think he's a hostler."

Tenison, when introduced, looked over Sawdy's hope in his usual cold-blooded fashion. Jake Spotts, the profane barber-shop-and-bar magnate, appeared meantime. Tenison asked for six hundred dollars. Jake counted his roll. He showed four hundred odd. "Give me the four, Jake," said Tenison calmly.

"I can get all you want up at the bar, Harry," suggested Spotts, thin, tall, bald-headed, hollow-jawed, and hollow-eyed.

"There's no time to make the trip, Jake," interposed Sawdy, nervous. "The races are pretty near over, and the trick ridin' comes next."

"No matter," interposed Tenison. "I'll borrow a couple hundred from Harry Boland."

"Why, Boland's backin' the Gunlock outfit."

"All the better. I'd just like to double-cross the . . ."

Within the next five minutes he was talking to Boland. "What's next on the program?" asked the Medicine Bend gambler after the preliminaries.

"Trick ridin'," said Boland. "Chance to pick up any money on it?"

"Sure, if you can place any money. Bet on McCrossen, ridin' for Gunlock."

"The rustler?"

"Hell, he's foreman at Gunlock now."

"I suppose Van Tassel wouldn't feel easy if he had an honest man stealin' for him. All right. If you say it's McCrossen, lend me a couple of hundred, Harry. I'd like to make my fare up here, anyway."

Boland counted out two hundred dollars and handed it over. Tenison handed half of it back to Boland. "Put this on McCrossen for me—I'll see if I can place the rest on him myself. Who's ridin' against him?"

"Two or three buckaroos. The Circle Dot outfit have entered a young fellow—we'll clean 'em, same as we did yesterday," predicted Boland.

"I heard about that—suckers will always fall for it, Harry. Well, I'll go over and talk to Sawdy and Lefever—see if they got any money left—maybe I can get a small bet."

Boland was fat and short. He never breathed easily; but he would not have been able to breathe at all if he had heard the next talk between Tenison and Sawdy.

"How does it look to you, Harry?" blurted out Sawdy.

"Like many things have looked before takin'; they don't always look so good after. Here's Jake's four hundred. I'm addin' six hundred—that makes your thousand. I don't know about that cigarette trick. I never saw it done but once."

"Where was that?"

"Who pulled it?"

From the judges' stand came the clang of the bell. The jockeys rode up to hear the decision. When they had ridden away, the announcing judge called for the contestant in the next event—the fancy riding.

Four entries rode up and were checked in. First came McCrossen, Gunlock foreman, tall and spare, long-haired and straight as a statue, riding the identical mare that had taken the Circle Dot money the day before.

Next for entry came a Gunlock brave, accoutered with bandied hair in scant Indian fashion. The third hope was a local boy in brave apparel.

The fourth to rise up was the night wrangler of the Circle Dot outfit—not an alarming threat either in looks or in reputation. He rode the horse on which he had been so badly beaten the day before, Lefever's little chestnut gelding.

Three judges had been chosen to name the victor—Jim Laramie, a north-country cattleman, himself a rider of no mean ability; John Selwood, a mining man who likewise knew how to ride; and an ex-sheriff, Bill Pardaloe—now a deputy.

The first test came in Indian-style riding. This meant bareback first with bridle stripped; then with bridle. The Reservation entry was at home in this.

The wrangler, almost as large a man, seemed able better to twist and wind himself around his gelding. The last time he raced down the course it looked at a distance from the grandstand as if the horse had lost his rider, so completely did the wrangler hide himself on the opposite side.

The judges, at least, decided that no buck they had ever seen could hide himself more effectually from a foe—they gave the Texan par with the buck. McCrossen fell a few points under the two.

Wild West riding followed. In this McCrossen made a perfect score. His long, lithe body in action, his perfect ease and his striking garb brought enthusiastic applause. The wrangler, now well thought of, was a disappointment in this test. He got through all the work, but seemingly unevenly and with an effort. He dropped to eighty points, with McCrossen at par. Even the local boy and the Indian passed him.

"Looks like yesterday over again," said Harry Boland, disposed to jeer at Sawdy. "Guess your boy shot his bolt on the first round."

The laugh seemed to bore into Sawdy. "We don't quit yet," he blurted out like one baffled but not beaten.

"What do you think, Harry?" Boland was appealing now to Tenison.

"Looks like the wrangler is through," assented Tenison. Backing then to one side and speaking loud to Boland, he added: "Put that money of mine on McCrossen—he's got the act in the bag."

"Well, better luck next time, Henry," said Boland, resuming his prodding of Sawdy.

"I don't ask any better luck," retorted Sawdy. "My boy is the best rider in this bunch, an' I know it."

"Henry," asked Boland, "have you got any money that says that?"

Sawdy fairly hated the sound of the fellow's sneering voice. "The boy's just havin' an off spell—might be all right next event."

"But you wouldn't bet on it?" Sawdy looked at his tormentor gravely. "You want a bet, eh?"

"Sounds like it, don't it?"

"What odds'll you give?"

Boland turned to Tenison to laugh. "Here's a man with the best fancy rider on earth and askin' odds on him."

"Askin' odds on him today only," explained Sawdy defensively. "He's just off color today."

Boland sneered again. "An' there ain't going to be no trick ridin' tomorrow. That's a fine proposition of yours, Henry."

"I'll have my boy in the saddle tomorrow for any kind of ridin' you name against any rider you name," retorted Sawdy.

"What odds you askin', Sawdy?" asked Boland, dangerously near to a sneer as he questioned.

"On the showin' the boy's made," responded Sawdy impressively, "and only on the chance he can pull himself together by tomorrow, I'm askin' two to one."

"How much do you cover at that?"

"All you can raise."

"Sawdy," snapped Boland, "I'll go you a thousand, two to one." The judges' bell clanged for the trick ridin'. Sawdy in consternation rushed toward the stand. "Hold on," he cried throwing up his hands. "Five minutes, gentlemen—just five minutes," he shouted. "My man is changin' his boots. Five minutes, please!"

"Does it take him five minutes to take off his boots?" bellowed Bill Pardaloe. "I can kick mine off in five seconds. Start the ridin'!" ordered Bill, clanging the bell impatiently.

"For God's sake, Bill Pardaloe!" shouted Sawdy, "hold on, hold on—give me at least three minutes." If a wink from the foot of a two-story balcony might be described as stentorian, such was the slow, agonizing wink that Sawdy cast up at the impatient judge.

Pardaloe looked at his watch. "I'll give you two minutes," he said sternly. "Be ready or default!" But both men quite understood that this remark was for public consumption rather than literal enforcement.

Sawdy raced hastily back to Boland, who, in fact, had followed him part way to the stand. "You said a thousand at two to one," parried Sawdy. He drew hastily from his pocket a roll of bills and laid the money in Tenison's hands. "Count that—they're mostly fifties. Now, Boland, put up or shut up."

"Just a minute!" Boland conferred with his cronies—a group of them were already about him. There was a turning sidewise, a digging into pockets, an assembling of wads; the thousand was hurriedly put into Tenison's hands.

Boland was excited, Sawdy particularly calm. "Boland," he said casually, "I'm hungry."

"What do you mean, Sawdy?"

"I'm hungry for another thousand, same odds."

"Like hell, I guess."

Sawdy pulled from another pocket a second roll of bills.

"Put up, Boland, or shut up, just's you like."

"Sawdy, I'll bet you five hundred more, even money." It was purely a bluff, but it brought an unpleasant surprise.

"I want to be fair, Harry Boland," retorted Sawdy. "Just's you was, yesterday. Put up your five hundred, buddy. I'll cover it."

The words were a blow to Boland. Sawdy's not even pausing to insist on odds as the money went up told him that somebody, somewhere, had loaded something. Sawdy hustled back to the stand and winked anew at Pardaloe. The bell clanged. The contestants rode up. The wrangler now, as Jane Van Tassel

Bride Walks Out At Tex Sunday

One of the season's gayer photoplays makes its local debut at the Tex theatre this Sunday and Monday when "The Bride Walks Out" opens, with Barbara Stanwyck in the stellar role, with a clever cast including the tow-headed Gene Raymond; screen's most outstanding man-about-the-town, Robert Young; and the exponents of the "dead pan" brand of merriment, Helen Brodrick and Ned Sparks.

Miss Stanwyck is one of the attraction's principal delights. Supreme as an actress of dramatic achievement, the Titan-haired star goes light and breezy with all the mirth, gayety and froth of a brilliant personality. But this off-the-course movie only furthers Miss Stanwyck's position in the historic ranks, since critical viewers of "The Bride Walks Out" have recorded their desires to see the stately Barbara in more roles of the mercurial variety.

Miss Stanwyck's supporting cast is ideally suited to her venture into comedy. Raymond and Young have both established themselves among the screen's smoothest portrayers of appealing humor. More-over, Ned Sparks and Helen Brodrick are featured as a rough-house scrapping, wise cracking pair—which spells added merriment with a capital M for the Tex theatre patrons.

"The Bride Walks Out" presents Raymond as a modern young husband who believes in old-fashioned ideas about romance. Wedded to Miss Stanwyck, a successful mannequin who has become accustomed to luxury, he prohibits his wife from going to work. Petting the dishes and bandaging the furniture gets on Barbara's nerves. She decides off the conjugal bonds and turn to modeling.

Local Members Visit Sunset

A group of members of the local Church of Christ will be at the meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Willis Kreager at Sunset next Wednesday. Mr. Kreager is starting the meeting Sunday and the members of the church, of which he was formerly a member, are planning to spend the day with him. The service will be held at 10 a. m. and their lunch and stay all day luncheon will be served style after the morning.

AIR CONDITION SPECIAL

M. C. Tucker of the Tulsa Insurance company and Daisy Matthews adopted an old time idea to cope with the weather last Tuesday afternoon. With the temperature reaching 115 on the street and threatening to go higher, the Tucker company set a pan of water in front of the door and turned on the current. The front door was closed. The temperature dropped immediately and fell to a real air conditioned temperature. This idea will work for a small room. But the doors and windows must be closed.

the dapper Tenison approached, picking his steps with disgust through the dust. Sawdy's eyes lighted on the new arrival first. He gave a great start.

"Harry!" he cried. "For the love o' women! Of all men you're sent this minute from heaven."

"How much is this goin' to cost, Henry?" asked Tenison, pausing to dust his shoes with an immaculate silk handkerchief. Lefever, too, beamed on Tenison.

"Harry!" he shouted. "For the love o' Mike, how come?"

"Two of you," commented Tenison calmly. "The clouds are gatherin'. I suppose you've been cleaned by this Sleepy Cat bunch and want me for a pay-off."

Married Sunday

Allene Creager, daughter of Mrs. Willis Creager, resident of Burkburnett, was the bride of Hayden Clyde, Texas Sunday at 9:30 in a beautiful ceremony read by the father of the bride. The ceremony was read by Mr. and Mrs. Burl at Keller, Texas, where Creager was holding a re-

Creager was a popular member of the Burkburnett younger generation. She graduated from the high school with a class of 1933, and has been a member of the Christian College at that time. She is a graduate of the school this year. Creager is a graduate of the school, where he received his degree last year. The ceremony will be associated with the El Paso Natural Gas Company at Jal, New Mexico. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Clyde, Texas, prominent residents of the area. seen any similarity between the above described conditions and the conditions with which we are confronted today. Almost an unlimited number of scriptures can be cited, but these will suffice.

The First Baptist church is beginning a series of revival services Sunday, with Rev. Dick O'Brien, of Colorado, Texas, doing the preaching, and Mr. George Reynolds of Childress, Texas to lead in the song services. This church has striven to be a spiritual force in Burkburnett, realizing that man's first and paramount needs are spiritual, and that civilization has always gone, and will in the future go on the rocks, when it has become altogether materialistic.

The First Baptist church invites every professional Christian in Burkburnett and adjacent communities, who believes in spiritual religion, and feels the need of a spiritual revival, to join them in praying for and working toward this end. The evening services will be held on the church lawn, and ample seats will be provided for every one. Special invitation will be given to the convenience of old people. Comfortable seats will be provided for them. Come, let us pray and work for a great spiritual awakening in our city. Miles B. Hays, pastor

He has had twelve years' legislative experience of always actively championing the rights of the masses, which includes the farmer, the business man, the independent oil man, the soldier, the laboring man, the independent merchant and the aged; and has always voted to protect their interests.

Not one vote of his as your Congressman has been challenged by the opposition. The record shows that he has always voted to protect the rights of the common people. He has supported 100% the Roosevelt Recovery Program, and has kept each and every promise and pledge made his constituents.

Vice President John Garner Wednesday in Dallas said, "Texas has gained its importance in Congress by the voters sending back good men. That is what makes continuity in office important."

Let us re-elect W. D. McFarlane to Congress. His splendid record of service rendered merits his re-election. We urge your support and influence and that of your friends so that we may uphold his hands in the fight he has made for the rights of the masses of the people.

County Tax To Be Set At 64c

The county board will set the county tax rate for 1937 at 64c, according to a recent report from the county offices. During the past year the rate had been set at 60 cents. Hearings on the budget have been planned and will be continued next Monday at the county court rooms. The budget calls for the expenditures of the amount of $371,173.37 to cover 1937 expenses.

This amount includes the sinking fund for indebtedness. The outstanding is $1,536,500, and that includes the county as a whole and special road districts. The hearing was set for August 24 for the definite setting of the tax rate. It may be higher or lower than 64c, but that rate was proposed as fair at the recent session of the court.

HEAT RECORDS

Burkburnett sweltered under the highest temperatures ever recorded in this vicinity during the past seven days. The official thermometers recorded as high as 113 in protected areas. In unprotected areas the thermometer touched 119. Other places must have reached even higher in direct sun and reflected sun-light.

Shoofly Removed From Burk Bridge

The shoofly that served the Burk Burnett-Oklahoma traffic for the last 14 months was being rapidly removed from the gap this week. The structure of the bridge was completed last week and normal traffic resumed over the regular lane. The shoofly carried the heavy burden of regular traffic during the start of the centennial year. It was constructed in June 1935, soon after the heavy flood waters destroyed the three spans of the regular bridge.

Trapped By Television At Palace Friday

Mankind's newest vanity, television, has at last crashed the movies. Hollywood has in recent years become known as the pulse of the people: that which intrudes the public makes story material for alert studios. So it is no surprise that fans are about to be treated to a film about television, although Columbia Pictures got off to a head start. The title of the film is "Trapped by Television," which in itself has a ring of excitement. It will be shown at the Palace theatre next Friday and Saturday with Mary Astor, Lyle Talbot and Nat Pendleton in the leading roles. According to the story, Fred Dennis is a struggling young inventor who is unable to complete his new television set because of lack of funds. He falls in with a dumb, good-natured bill collector named Rocky O'Neil, who gets Fred a job like his own. Through the job Fred meets attractive Bobby Blake, a young lady with a flare for racketeering. At first Bobby intends to use Fred and his invention as the way to wheedle a couple of hundred dollars out of the head of a large broadcasting company. But love intrudes, and Bobby finds herself trying to help the young inventor. She gives him the money

"THINGS TO COME" AT THE DONKEY GAME

The Jack Asses from Wichita Falls will match wits with the leading citizens from Burk Burnett at the softball stadium Friday night August 21. Who will win? Well, come and see.

Cooper McCreary
Installs Service
For Car Bodies

The Cooper McCreary motor company installed a department this week for servicing the bodies of cars, and M. C. Lillard of Wichita Falls, has accepted the management of the new department. The manager has several years experience with this type of work and promises efficient service on fenders, bodies and re-painting jobs. To finish the set, and then ar- ranges a demonstration at the broadcasting company. Complications insure when an unscrupulous official of the company tries to wreck Fred's set in an attempt to clear the way for a television set controlled by himself.

Wright Patman To Take Stand For
W. D. McFarlane

The Honorable Wright Patman, member of Congress from the First District of Texas, today announced his intention of going to the aid of his friend and colleague W. D. McFarlane, who is facing a run-off in the Thirteenth District. In announcing his decision to speak for Congressman McFarlane, Patman said: "Congressman McFarlane is rigidly honest, faithful to his constituents and one of the hardest workers in Congress. Such a man's usefulness increases with terms of service and he is not only helpful to the Thirteenth District but he is rendering the country at large a great service."

"Congressman asserting views that McFarlane courageously asserted usually have opposition from the privileged few. McFarlane has stayed by me in my fight for the veterans to get their money now instead of having the remaining half of their certificates consumed by compound interest paid to a few banks and the Government, and also in my fight to help independent merchants through the passage of the Robinson-Patman Bill, and I do not propose to sit idly by and see his enemies attempt to slaughter him without raising my voice in his behalf. "McFarlane is a valuable member of Congress, and knowing some of the crowd that is after him I shall take my own sound equipment and do all I can for him by speaking in his district." Congressman Patman will speak at the following places on the dates and at the times mentioned: WEDNESDAY, August 19 — At MUNDAY, 2:00 o'clock p. m. At SEYMOUR, 4:30 p. m. At WICHITA Falls, 8:30 p. m. THURSDAY, August 20— At CROWELL, 2:00 p. m. At QUNNAH, 4:30 p. m. At VERNON, 8:30 p. m. FRIDAY, August 21— At BOWIE, 2:00 p. m. At GAINSVILLE, 4:30 p. m. At DENTON, 8:30 p. m.

BURKBURNETT, TEXAS

"I Believe in Staying With The Homefolks"

A man who was just moving into town the other day, came into the office to get a light connection for his home.

In the course of the conversation, he said, "Yes, I want lights from the municipal light plant, for I believe in pitching for the home team. I know that a municipal plant is a part of the community, and by giving it my business, I am more a part of the town."

This man is a real citizen who wants to contribute to the building of his community. When he made the above statement, he did not know that a merchant in Burkburnett may now use twice as much electricity as he did before the plant was established without paying any more. Such attitude makes for a successful town. Are you "staying with the homefolks" by giving home industry your business?

Howdy Folks: Alvin Hill owned a nice red rooster which he prized very highly. The rooster, while crossing the road to get on the other side, was run over by a car and killed. He was pretty badly broken up about it because he said the chicken was such a good egg
