WILL, TELL US A JOKE

A year ago, Will Rogers, we were shocked, our souls benumbed when the radio flashed "Rogers and Post found dead this morning." At first we hoped it was a mistake. That somebody had made an error, and that you were still with us. In the days that followed we became accustomed to the fact that it was true, and still it was hard to believe.

During the past year we have found a greater need of you than ever before. We need you right now. A political campaign threatens to overwhelm us and ruin our sense of humor, to unbalance our thinking. Now if you were here to straighten us out with that same keen analytical humor that we remember, we feel that it would all be fine. Even the drouth wouldn't be so hard to bear.

Over in Europe, Will, they have lost their sense of humor. Just think of it, men that are brothers quarreling like a bunch of selfish mongrels. Now if you were here and could get the whole bunch together for a little talk, they might laugh and forget all the communism, facism, or what not.

That's an idea, Will, where-ever you are, and we know it must be a wonderful place for such fellows like you. Why don't you slip away for a few moments and pass around to each of these snarling war lords. Whisper a little common sense into their head. If you can do this, Will, it sure will save us a lot of suffering. And somehow, Will, we always had the idea that you always did more than your part of relieving the world's suffering. No disaster or loss received more attention from other greats than it did from you. Thank you Will, just thinking about you helps a lot.

GRASS FIRES

Again the Star wishes to caution the citizens of this district about carelessness. During the last week two other large pastures of the area were burned because some one was careless. In both cases the fire was traced to a cigarette thrown from a car on the highway. In a single moment of unthinking carelessness, the motorist did damage that will take the farmers many weeks to recover. Even if it rains immediately, the pastures and crops that were touched by the fires will be useless.

The farmers are having a hard enough time this year without our adding to their burden by such practices. Then the damage may on the next occasion be even more tragic than the two fires of the past week. Fortunately in both cases the farmers were able to save the stock in the fields, and save their homes and barns which were endangered during the blaze.

The next time the farmer may not be at home, or a wind may make control of the blaze impossible. In that case they may return to see their homes and barns a smoldering bunch of embers, a sacrifice to our carelessness.

Every tragedy or accident, every fire that this paper investigates is found to be the result, not of inevitable things, but things that can easily be prevented. In some short moment of lack of thought a life is snapped, or property is damaged beyond recovery. This whole tendency is the product of our hurry to get some where or to do something that is in the end very unimportant.

So the next time you must throw a lighted butt from a car or pass a farm where the grass is high and toss aside a match, be sure that the match and butt are safely extinguished, or that they are thrown into a place that will not burn.

RESERVED SEATS

Butler Westerfield and Volney Hill, and whoever else had anything to do with the decision to reserve the section of seats at the football game, are to be complimented for their decision to do so. Anyone ought to be willing to pay the $2.50 in advance to see six games in order to have a choice seat throughout the rest of the season. The best home schedule that has been arranged in many years will be presented at the park this year.

The plan has two advantages. It actually saves the fan 50 cents. He sees enough games to make that worth while. Furthermore it keeps him near the 50 yard line. The fan who buys a ticket does not have to rush to the game early in order to be sure that he has a seat.

Personally if it were possible for us to use a seat, we would rush right down to the office and reserve one. It is just about the best bargain that has been offered the football public in this city in many years.

Big Rabbit Creek

August 22, 1936

The writer has been informed that Mr. Bob Pirtle, the eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. Pirtle, who a few weeks ago was in an accident in California, is getting along fine although he had to have one of his legs amputated. His wife is with him, Hawkeye has been informed.

W. H. Martin, his little daughter Winnie June, and W. H. Niece and her little daughter, and Mrs. Ed Owens drove over to the city of Burkburnett Saturday to attend the big cash trades day and to do their shopping. They report a very large crowd on the streets.

The passing of one of Rabbit Creek's most promising young men, Clifford Duke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Duke last Thursday was a great shock to this neighborhood. Clifford was born and raised in our neighborhood and was loved by everyone that knew him. The writer, as well as the whole Rabbit Creek neighborhood extends their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved parents, brothers and sister. May God be in their home to console and to comfort them in the great loss of their beloved son, will be the prayer of the writer, Hawkeye.

Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Nails called on the Owens family Sunday and spent the afternoon with them.

One day of last week, a young fellow, passing by the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hall stopped at their well, which is located just south of their house near the highway. Mrs. Hall saw the party stop and go to the well, and thought he was getting a drink, so soon Mr. Hall went to the well to get a bucket of water. After the water was brought to the house, Mr. and Mrs. Hall drank some of it and became very ill. Mr. Hall took the water up to Dr. Dice to have it sent off to be analyzed. Mr. Hall was very sick for several days as he drank more of the water than his wife did. It's pretty sure that the well was poisoned.

The news arrived over in this neighborhood of the serious illness of Will Day, who is at the clinic. It is hoped that Brother Will will soon be able to be up and around again.

The big fish fry that was held over at the Taylor and Temple bridge was a big success. Still the amount of fish that were caught was over estimated in pounds. Instead of 1250 pounds, there was not a pound over 400 caught and about 900 people were there. Hawkeye is a very close observer as to the people that were on the ground and to the amount of fish that were caught, cleaned and fried. Everyone had a nice time and enjoyed themselves fine.

Rev. S. P. Pirtle is reported to Hawkeye to be laying very low at this writing.

Say folks all those big stock owners are sure jumping sideways since this big drouth has set in. The pastures are all drying up. A Mr. Orville Kirkpatrick has a big bunch of cattle, also Mr. Austin and they told Hawkeye Sunday morning that about one hour's sleep was all they got last Saturday. They were up hunting pasture and water for their cattle, horses and mules.

Some few will start pulling their cotton next week. Hawkeye has been told that cotton pulling will start at $1.00 per 100 pounds. We have some fields of cotton that it will take 160 acres to produce one bale of cotton.

Wants wood and wants water, but without any farm. A crowd formed about a west-bound motor car with a Texas license when it passed at a service station up town, attracted by a sign on the car which read:

"Thirty miles from water."

Forty miles to wood. Life is Hell on the farm. And I'm leaving out for good."

The big double header ball game that was played Sunday afternoon on the Randlett diamond between the colored nine of Wichita Falls and Randlett was well played. The first game score was 10 to 12 in favor of Wichita Falls. The second game the score was 4 to 6 in favor of the colored boys.

Hawkeye.

Another G-Man Story At Tex

Two thousand miles of top-speed thrills aboard the hurtling transcontinental express are all promised in "36 Hours To Kill." Fox picture opening for Tuesday and Wednesday at the Tex theatre, as America's ace under-cover man packs a lifetime of excitement into one day and night.

Brian Donlevy, Gloria Stuart, Douglas Fowley, Isabel Jewell, Stepin Fetchit, Romaine Callender and Warren Hymer are featured in the cast of the picture, a thrilling story of the last of the mob men who rule by terror at death-grips with a daring under-cover man.

Douglas Fowley, cast as the "Public Enemy No. 1," is in hiding in the West with his sweetheart, Isabel Jewell, and his stooge Warren Hymer, when the news comes that Fowley, under the alias of "Little Boy Blue," has won a fortune in sweepstakes lottery.

Castling discretion to the winds, the mobster decides to make an attempt to collect the money, despite the danger, and boards a transcontinental express.

Brian Donlevy, apparently a newspaper reporter seeking an elusive interview, strikes up an acquaintance with Fowley that is complicated when they both have a hand in aiding Gloria Stuart to escape from a pursuing process server.

Both men are attracted to the girl as the train speeds eastward.

Then Fowley discovers a dictaphone planted by Donlevy in his compartment and as the train pulls into the terminal he kidnaps Gloria and makes his escape.

Each minute thrill-packed, each moment more tense with terror, the crackling drama thunders to a blasting climax.

TEXAS FARM DEBT LOWER

A smaller number of American farms are under mortgage today than before the depression, and in Texas the total farm mortgage debt is slightly smaller, according to figures released today by the Farm Credit Administration.

Although the Farm Credit Administration has loaned over $148,200,000 on farm mortgages in Texas since May 1933, approximately 96 per cent of the money was used to refinance old debts so that very little new indebtedness was incurred.

The farm mortgage debt in the State which increased from $172,240,000 in 1910 to $543,950,000 in 1930, dropped to $538,810,000 on January 1, 1935. Figures for the earlier years are from the United States Department of Agriculture, while the 1935 figure is an estimate of the Farm Credit Administration.

On January 1, 1936, some 2,300,000 farms in the United States or 35 per cent of the total number, were under mortgage, compared to 36 per cent in 1928.

Compared with previous periods, the recent farm mortgage debt trend is not unusual, the statement from the Farm Credit Administration points out. During periods of high income, the farm mortgage debt in the United States increases; and tends to contract in periods of depression.

Lower interest payments have also helped to improve the mortgaged farmer's position. In the country as a whole the gross farm income required to pay interest on mortgage debt increased from 4.6 per cent in 1929 to 9.6 per cent in 1932, but by 1935 it dropped to 4.5 per cent, the lowest level in ten years.

Texas farmers have benefitted additionally by the recent trend toward lower interest rates. Those refinanced by the Farm Credit Administration had been paying interest rates averaging 7.0 per cent a year. Those farmers are now paying 4 to 5 per cent with a temporary reduction to 3 1-2 per cent for interest payable during the year ending June 30, 1937 on Federal land bank loans made through national farm loan associations. Texas farmers saved over 550,000 a year on interest financing debts with the Credit Administration, and substantial additional savings from the temporary rate provided by Congress on land bank loans.

On an Old Plank Road in the Southwest Desert

HEADLINES

One of the strangest trials that ever flashed across the front page was the Russian trial of the plotters. The unique part in our observation is the fact that the guilty plotters admitted that they had been given a fair trial. In the speeches of defense each of the guilty men admitted that they were guilty and would rather be sentenced to death than to remain in prison for an indefinite period. These 16 men were guilty of the unforgivable crime of attempting to take the life of Stalin, leader of the commune. They were on the most part, men who had once been prominent in the Soviet regime, but who had been disappointed at the results that the system produced. Most of them had visioned the revolution as the means of great liberty and prosperity only to find that it brought the direst sort of poverty and oppression. The trade in government forms was only a trade of one type of oppression for another and more zealous and efficient type. The men will die but their death will plant seeds of rebellion that will not be suppressed for many years in Russia. The Soviets from their own history ought to have learned that martyrs are the most powerful force in a rebellion.

Spanish War

Uruguay placed the United States in a slightly embarrassing position last Thursday when she offered to extend the good offices of each nation for the mediation in Spain. It possibly was an opportunity to settle the trouble, but the United States was pledged to a policy of "hands off" in all European affairs. The establishment policy of non-intervention in conflict within other nations now seems to be the set policy of the American people. This reaction is encouraging. Most of the trouble of the nation would have been avoided had the leaders had the same attitude in 1917. There was little logical reason for our sending three million men across the waters to fight the battles of foreign nations.

Explosive

The Spanish situation remains the explosive spot in Europe. It is potentially the cause of another war. The line up at the present is about like this: Spanish rebels backed by Germany, Italy and their friends. The Spanish government backed by France, Russia and their friends. England is trying her best to stay unbound by either side.

Most people that talk of the question state that they do not know which side to be for in the war. That is simple. If you have communistic sympathies for governments like France and Russia, then you are for the present Spanish government. Otherwise, if you are a strong supporter of the Nazi and Fascist government like the government of Italy and Germany, you are for the rebels.

It is merely a matter of taking the least undesirable of two bad doses of medicine.

Nature Adjusts

In the midwest it has been noticed that the corn of the second generation from that corn which suffered in the 1934 drouth has developed strong powers of resisting dry weather. Nature seems to have a way of making such adjustments. When the world changes, nature changes her children to meet the new conditions. That has been the constant process of evolution. The animals of the north change from summer to winter to make their coats of fur invisible. It is inspiring to watch the seemingly unending battle between man and the natural forces. While man has destroyed with relentless prodigality, nature has tried to heal the wounds that man has left to scar the earth.

Candidates Conference

Roosevelt and Landen will violate all rules of the political game in meeting Tuesday, September 1 to discuss the drouth relief problems that are under consideration at the present time. Two candidates are supposed to avoid each other according to the ancient and respected rules, but it is a favorable indication that the two men can meet to discuss a common problem in violation of the party superstitions. There is no reason why two reasonable men should not confer about the suffering of a large mass of people. It would be inhuman and cruel to allow political ideas to interfere with any program to relieve that suffering.

French Idea

If you wish amusement, get a copy of the special issue of the French paper published in Paris "Le Jour" and read the article about Texas. It is very amusing to see what the Parisian thinks after his first visit to the state. For instance the translation reads

"All inhabitants are huge strong, bronzed with the sun, wearing immense hats and seeming very happy."

Gertrude Michael Is Seen As Sophie Lang

The notorious thief of hearts, and jewels who made a deep impression on American film audiences when she first appeared on the screen two years ago, stages a comeback in "The Return of Sophie Lang", opening Saturday at Midnight at the Palace theatre.

Title role in the fast-moving story of the reappearance of an international diamond thief is played by blonde, Southern Gertrude Michael, who created Sophie in the original picture, "The Notorious Sophie Lang." The first picture marked Miss Michael's advance to stardom.

"The Return of Sophie Lang" picks up the story where "The Notorious Sophie Lang" dropped it. Sophie, believe dead by the police of two continents, is disclosed as having been in hiding. Reformed, she is seeking to conceal her true identity.

She is an employee of an elderly woman, Elizabeth Patterson, who is a collector of valuable gems. As the picture opens, the pair are sailing to America, with Miss Patterson having in her possession a famous gem, the Krueger diamond, which she has just purchased.

Railroad Jim
THE COLUMN CONDUCTOR
Says

Freight trains nowadays act like express specials. New freight schedules are so fast, sometimes wonder if everything has to be delivered day before yesterday.

Many of our passenger trains are running faster schedules, too. Well, one thing is sure. We make faster runs, but the first railroad commandment is still "Safety First." That's one rule they won't change.

Western railroads and allied industries provided jobs for 750,000 workers last year. Some of them live in our town. Good neighbors.

Passenger fares are now the lowest in history with substantial reductions on round trips. And no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

This new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight—I heard some traveling salesmen talking about it on the train yesterday. They said it saves shippers a lot of money and centers all responsibility on the railroad. The railroad picks up the freight at shipper's door and delivers to receiver's door. Of course, local delivery men get the haul from door-to-car and car-to-door at both ends. The railroad handles the whole transaction.

When railroads are busy, I notice towns along the railroad are prosperous. The merchants put more ads in the newspapers.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

O. R. Tipps, Wichita Falls attorney, spoke to the members of the Rotary club about the new Pan-American highway to Mexico City from the United States. Theateryer recently made a trip to the Southern Republic, and the highway was discussed as an important link in the international relationship. The road when completed will unit all the northern and Southern nations of the Hemisphere.

The speaker described the many beauties of the trip, the improvements that had been made on the road, and reception by the people of the nation. The route presents an ideal vacation trip. Alvin Hill received the metal plaque for outstanding service to the club. Hill was president of the organization during the past year.

Burkburnett Teams Win Games in Meet

Local Team Upsets Dope In Several Important Victories

Thaxtons, Coopers and Kriss Supply shattered the dope at Wichita Falls as dark horses, and surprised the players and sponsors when the first two came through with important victories. The biggest upset was when the Thaxton team swatted the Phillips 66, one of the favorites in a hard fought contest. The score indicated one of the best games of the tournament, 4 to 1. Thaxton Brothers from Burkburnett stayed awake long enough to clean up on Phillips 66 of Vernon. Phillips 66 went to sleep soon after the game started, the second inning to be exact. The score at the end of the seventh was 4 to 1.

The game was termed an upset by some optimistic souls who expressed amazement when they finished watching the Red Jackets paint the leaguers and came over to see how the Phis had come out. Most of the smarties had expected to see the Vernon crowd playing Coca Cola in the semifinals Friday.

In the second inning York, the Thaxton second baseman, blasted out a single. White, the center fielder eventually came up and also raised his batting average. And then Catcher Garland dribbled one out from the plate and Phillips' first baseman, Combs, sloughed the ball. York came in, and so on.

The third inning was virtually a repetition with Burkburnett scoring three times instead of once. In the fourth, however, McHigh, catching for Vernon, hit and R. Banks followed to score him. That was the sum and total of the Vernon scoring streak.

Cooper Macs 10, Megargle 1
The Cooper-McCreary team of Burkburnett downed the Megargle all stars 10 to 1 in a one sided contest. The game was slow and listless. Megargle was limited to five hits by E. Zink of Burkburnett and the All-Stars made four errors. The Burkburnett ten drove out 13 safeties.

A small Sunday night crowd witnessed the opening games, neither of them over-exciting although the second game between Thaxton and Mankins turned out to be a much better game than the headlined Coca Cola-Pleasant Valley Contest.

Dillingham Delivers
Dillingham, setting the hard-hitting Spruiell clan of Mankins down without a threat after the first inning splurge, drew comment of the fans on the hard, unerring accuracy of his pitching control, and upon the force with which he one-handedly swung his light bat to connect for one hit, get on base twice and make two runs in three trips to bat. Euell Spruiell, gangling Mankins hurler, turned on the strike-out steam to retire six Thaxton men by the swinging route, but gave up four runs in the seventh inning to spoil an otherwise commendable night on the mound. With a 4-2 lead in the fifth, Dillingham illustrated his control over the ball by striking out L. A. Spruiell, who had just finished whistling a clean center field single off him in the preceding trip to bat, and retiring the sides with runners on second and third.

A smooth-shaven double play in the sixth ended another Mankins threat, Cheeves, Mankins' pinch hitter batting for Parker, banged out a sizzler to Inman, shortstop. From first to second raced Euell Spruiell, but the ball in the hand of second baseman, York beat him there, and York's throw to First Baseman G. Ragsdale beat Reaves to first.

Morgan 12, Kriss Pipe 4
Morgan Motors swamped the Kriss Pipe ten of Burkburnett, 12 to 4. The victors ran in five runs in the fifth inning on two homers, two singles, a double and a triple to make sure of the contest. This accounted for six of their 10 hits.

Irvin Gore, pitcher for the winners, held the Burkburnett team to five hits. The Morgan ten made only one miscue in the field while four were chalked up against Burkburnett.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON, August 26.—It you are going to college, your chief interest at the present time is a suitable wardrobe. Stores all over the country are cooperating to show the most suitable and the smartest fashions that will find their way to colleges and universities this fall.

Suppose we look first at the street and sports clothes. Sweaters jackets and blouses are tops on any campus—they are your first pre-requisite. There are plain boyish models that can be slipped on and then forgotten, or you can select one of the twin sweaters in combinations with the new interesting belted back. For the dress-up occasions, there are boucle sweater suits that will find their way to many informal open house receptions.

Skirts should be just as plentiful and varied as the sweaters. They can be plaids, checks or solids, and you can make interesting combinations by wearing a contrasting jacket.

You'll certainly want a suit. The new town models have a shirt fitted coat over which is worn a tweed topcoat trimmed in a large fur collar. They are especially adaptable to the needs of college girls. Girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) find them excellent for week-end football games. In addition, you should have a sport coat for classes—something casual in camel hair or the like.

An afternoon dress that can be worn to teas, college functions, or for dinner in town is a necessary item, and some of the wool shirtwaist dresses are especially nice for dates and classes. Get them in bright colors and they'll looks very nice under a neutral tone sport coat.

Old Guns Exhibited By J. G. Thompson

Two guns, one 96 and the other 100 years old, were exhibited in Burkburnett Wednesday by the owner, J. G. Thompson. Mr. Thompson brought the guns to town at the request of several friends, and told the boys about the history of the lethal weapons.

The two horse pistols were of the muzzle loading type, bought by the father of the owner, William Thompson just before the civil war. When William Thompson died in 1896, he willed them to his son, J. G. Thompson.

The gun is loaded by pouring powder in the muzzle and ramming the load of paper and shot, a half ounce ball, in with the rod. Mr. Thompson stated that a handy tree or fence aided in quick loading by furnishing a foundation for the packing process.

Civil War

The guns were carried by the father during the civil war days when he served as a scout on the Southern side. The guns could tell many exciting stories of the strife torn days of the Southern and Northern wars.

The family moved to Texas looking for peace and calm from the strife torn area of Missouri in 1870. They moved to Wice county in 1871, and lived there until the death of the father, and since that time the family has scattered.

Farmer Blacksmith

Mr. Thompson has been farmer and blacksmith since his moving to Texas with the family. When he was asked about the drouth of the present time, he said that "it is just a baby. We had one in '73 and '74 that lasted 14 months without a drop of water in the land. We went from one end of the Red to the other and there wasn't a drop of water in its bed."

The Indians were bad, according to the pioneer. He stated that they were accustomed to steal horses every moon from the settlers. The pioneer assisted in the burial of the famous Hunt family that was slaughtered by Oklahoma Indians. Three daughters and a mother were killed when they were cut off from the defending father.

Sturdier Men

When asked about what he thought about people of today that had to be helped through the drouth the pioneer stated that it was a bad policy. The old times made sturdier men, according to the farmer. The government didn't come with hands full of wealth every time any body got hungry. Rather the old pioneers got out the old guns and went to hunt a living.

A rich dead man is as poor as the rest of us.

NYA TO AWARD STUDENT JOBS

110 Part Time Places Open In Wichita County

Apportionment of 110 part-time jobs among high schools of Wichita county under a NYA program for the coming scholastic year will be made Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in a meeting of the county committee for that purpose in the directors room of the City National bank.

The meeting for Friday was called Tuesday by J. B. Golden, county school superintendent, who is chairman of the committee. Other members appointed include Lester Jones, James King, Public Schools Supt., H. D. Fillers of Wichita Falls; Supt. B. M. Dinsmore, Electra; Supt. Butler Westerfield of this city; and Supt. W. E. Bradford, Iowa Park.

Scholastic population will be the basis of allotment. After the apportionments are made the head of each high school is responsible for allotting jobs to individuals and investigating the applications.

The part-time jobs are to pay $6. per month for library, clerical and cafeteria work in the schools. Families of students who hold these jobs need not be on relief this year, as was required last session. Actual need for the financial aid must be shown, however, if one is to qualify for the NYA job. He also must attend school regularly and pass three-fourths of his courses.

Seven of the 110 jobs are for negro students. The age limit is from 16 to 25 years.

Wichita Falls has been given 20 jobs with a total of $300 per month which will probably mean between 25 and 30 jobs, as the average paid will be below the $15 per month provided as an individual maximum.

"Iron Door" Is Legend Coming

Two generations have thrilled to the story of "The Mine With the Iron Door," one of the most popular of all Harold Bell Wright popular novels. Now it has been brought to vivid reality on the screen as a Columbia picture with Richard Arlen in the stellar role, due to open at the Tex theatre for two days starting next Friday.

"The Mine With the Iron Door" is a modern story. Although Harold Bell Wright secured the original idea from one of the most romantic legends of early Western history, the film has a timely interest in various treasure expeditions.

The picture tells the story of a young salesman, who is high-pressured into buying some Arizona property from a slick promoter. When a dumb detective arrives to arrest the promoter who has just skipped, the salesman learns that the Mine With the Iron Door is supposedly located on his property and sells half interest in his new purchase to the detective.

The two set out for Arizona in search of the mine. There they meet an old prospector, his grand daughter and an archaeologist, whose fanatical hatred for gold causes him to lead a most unusual existence.

How the two treasure hunters find one clue after another until they eventually locate the hidden mine and how the young salesman finds love in the Canyon of Gold as well as the treasure, provides the basis for an unusual screen story in which adventure, romance, drama and mystery are cleverly interwoven.

One comfort in hitting the bottom is that you can't go any lower. The fool speeds up for a big let-down.

J. G. Hardin Is Honored On 82
Birthday Wed.

J. G. Hardin celebrated his 82 birthday at home Wednesday without special party or show. A group of friends dropped in to see him throughout the afternoon. Mr. Hardin talked to the many persons that called, and it was recalled by his friends that he had been a citizen of the area for more than 50 years.

Mr. Hardin has been the most important personage of the community for several years. The churches, city, and schools of Burkburnett have been the object of his special and generous attention. No other person in the city has called the attention of the nation and the state to the city as much as he and his wife have during the last few years.

During these years the couple joined in a program that brought salvation to a large number of institutions in Texas. In addition the civic leader has been personally interested in the welfare of many individuals who he has aided.

On project of his interest has been the Hardin Junior College in Wichita Falls. This building will be opened this winter, and several hundred students of the area. The visitors Wednesday included many out of town friends who remembered his anniversary. The calling was entirely informal.

Miss Gentry Is Guest At Dinner

Miss Betty Jane Gentry of Kansas City was an honor guest at a special dinner at the home of her aunt, Mrs. D. R. Peevey Wednesday. The visitor will be in Burkburnett for two weeks and will be the occasion of several interesting social events. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Peevey and family, Mrs. Porter Peevey and James Peevey of Wichita Falls, and Miss Billy Jo Gilchrist.

Wichita May Lose
District Offices
Relief Agencies

District offices of the Texas Relief Commission and the surplus commodities supply service will be moved from Wichita Falls within the next month unless some other arrangement is made by the city and county officials of that district to pay the rent and expenses of the organization. The announcement was made by

VICTOR

W. D. McFarlane emerged from another hard political battle as victor last Saturday when he won the congressional race in the 13th district over his youthful opponent, Ed Gosset. The victory represented an approval of the administration both of the congressman and of the present government. The candidates chief platform was his backing of the Democratic policies.

Miss Grace Sewell, district supervisor, after a conference with the officials of the county last Monday.

The conference included the agreement with Postmaster of the Wichita Falls post office who offered a contract for the old federal building. The city agreed to pay half of the expenses for the building, but when the proposition was submitted to the county board, the commissioners stated that the state's attorney general ruled that the county could not pay the expenses of the director.

During the conference a suggestion was made for a projection in sanitation be applied for by the Wichita Falls offices. The project calls for the installation of septic tanks in the rural district. The Burkburnett precinct projects along similar lines were praised by the court and officials. This project has been under way in this district for two years. It has contributed much to the increase in the health status rating of the community.

Should the district office move from Wichita Falls, both that city and Burkburnett would be required to truck the commodities from Vernon where the new offices will be located.

Such a necessity would make the maintenance of the local offices in Burkburnett much more expensive. The long haul would require a greater amount of trucking expense.

LOCAL TEACHER WINS DEGREE

Miss Norene Kirby, of Burkburnett, received the Master of Arts degree from George Peabody College for Teachers Friday afternoon, August 21, at the summer quarter convocation.

Miss Kirby was a major in the language department of the college, having majored in the subject of Spanish. She was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity, the Nashville Business and Professional Women's Club, and formerly she served as secretary in the Texas State Club on Peabody Campus. The commencement address was delivered by the Hon. Joshua Bryan Lee, of Norman, Oklahoma, on "The Success Insurance Company." Diplomas were conferred by Dr. Bruce R. Payne, president of Peabody College.

Burk Girls Will Challenge The Big-Bad Rookies

The Burkburnett girls will challenge the big bad Rookies in the Wichita Falls game tonight as the headliner of the annual softball tournament. Throughout the year the local Hornets have had one burning ambition,—to defeat the highly touted team of the Northwestern Supply company.

Several times the team has had the victory within their reach only to see a late rally in the game take away the chances for a victory. In each case the defeat has been a bitter dose for the local girls to take. It has been stinging the Hornets with a dose of real poison.

Tonight the Hornets hope to have accumulated enough venom to submerge the Rookies beneath the mass of power and skill. With the leader and manager, Ross Reagan standing on the side the action of the commissioners at the Monday meeting. The setting of the rate followed the action on the part of the state of a rate of 62 cents. The county rate represents a raise of 4 cents over last year's rate.

The hike, according to the official, was the result of the necessity of taking care of the refunding of the bonds that have been issued by the county during the last few years. These bonds in the refund will save the county considerable money.

Aid Local People
The employment and expenditure will be a distinct aid to the local citizens. In addition to the large payroll that will be necessary, the expenditure for supplies and materials will be large. The plant will be enlarged to make the city a more permanent oil center. Future lines will converge here.

We wish to take this means of expressing our gratitude to the host of friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses in the time of our sorrow over the illness and death of our beloved son and brother, Clifford Duke. Writers Learn Lingo
Of Circus For Movie

When you head for a circus or a carnival you walk down the banner line, past the cherry guy with his stock of potential larries and finks, pushing your way all through straw piles and leap ticks you in the side show. You probably go home wedged after having escaped the attention of the pretty boy.

That, at least is a sample of what the average circus-goer does, translated into "carnivalesque," the timeless language of the tent show which W. C. Fields taught script writers who worked on the screen hit "Poppy" coming next Sunday and Monday to the Tex theatre.

"Poppy is the first picture completed by Fields since his recovery after a critical illness of eight months. It presents the bulbous-nosed, dead-pan master of odd delivery in a story of tent show life. He is Professor Eustace McGargle, "med man" and operator of a shell game.

tising. It looks as if a committee ought to be appointed to have this ready by September 4 to present at the district banquet. (See Mr. Westerfield about the reserved seats.)

Practice

Last week we watched the practice a while, and two things appealed to us. The serious note in the camp, and the willingness of the players to ask the coach questions. Whether a coach is successful or not in winning his games, when his boys start coming to him asking for specific advice on a type of fundamental play, that coach has won a valuable place in the hearts of his players. Along the same line, I noticed the boys helping each other. That is the kind of spirit that makes a team. (The reserved seats are the best seats in the grand stand.)

Punting

There is nothing so valuable as punting in an important game. That is why the coach is getting a few gray hairs added to the top these days. McKown has been kicking a lot. He gets fair distance and is slightly constant. When he learns the correct form and swings that foot up in a straight line he is going to get accuracy and distance, that is going to surprise him. Willet is erratic, but he is a potential kicker. When he practices enough to get distance, height and accuracy all the time, he will be an addition to the team. His left footed boots some times travel a "four-piece." (Reserved seats are good places for guests and customers.)

Lots of Drill

Speaking of punting, there is nothing that calls for as much practice. At Notre Dame, it is said that the boys that do the kicking spend most of their extra class time just kicking one punt after another aimed at a definite spot. That might be a good idea for the local lads who will have to kick. Besides the practice on the field during regular session, they could do a little extra kicking when they have a ball handy every day. That kind of interest would produce real players. (Reserved seats will be held even if you are late.)

Give 'Em A Push

These boys paying for us are human beings, and respond to a stimuli like any other normal person. When you see one on the street, stop him and talk to him. Give him a little encouragement, and let him know how much the city is depending on him as an individual to play the hardest ball game of his life. (Six games for price of five in reserved seats.)

Reserved Seats

Mr. Westerfield is offering the best bargain that the local fans have ever had an opportunity to buy. Reserved seats as near the 50 yard line as possible will be offered for the price of five games at the football stadium. We will have some of the best games of the year at the stadium, and every one worth the entry price of the ticket. Every fan in Burkburnett ought to rush down and grab those seats as long as they last.

Shirley's Songs Nation's Hits

Shirley Temple is Hollywood's ace "song plucker." During production of "The Poor Little Rich Girl," her widely heralded new Fox hit coming Friday and Saturday to the Palace theatre, Louis Silvers, head of the Twentieth Century Fox music department, enumerated the various song hits that Shirley has introduced to the screen.

Her record to date is eighteen and, according to Silvers, many of these numbers are bound to find a permanent place in the folk-songs of America.

Just as children for years to come will sing of "the big bad wolf," so will they warble "Animal Crackers in My Soup" and "On the Good Ship Lollipop," Silvers believes.

Two old classics were incorporated into Shirley's pictures, with added verses for the curly-haired star, and music publishers report an astounding demand for them—"Love's Young Dream," from "The Little Colonel," and "Polly Wolly Doodle" from "The Littlest Rebel."

The songs featured in "The Poor Little Rich Girl" were written by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel. Irving Cummings directed the production which, in addition to Shirley, features an exceptional supporting cast including Alice Faye, Gloria Stuart, Jack Haley and Michael Whalen.

BURKBURNETT, TEXAS

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Citizen:

August 27, 1936

On July 31, 1933 the City Council passed Ordinance No. 177 whereby a minimum rate for electricity was set. The rate thus defined gave to every electrical customer a saving of from 25 per cent to 40 per cent, depending on whether he was a residential or commercial user.

Again, on Sept. 16, 1935, Ordinance No. 184 made possible another lowering of rates for electrical consumers.

Of course, such lowered rates were available to any electrical customer, irrespective of where he placed his business. Nevertheless, they were made possible only because of the establishment of a municipal light plant, and hundreds of customers were eager to become customers of the plant which was the cause of lowered rates.

Many firms have added electrical equipment, and in addition, this summer has broken all heat records, but by figures from actual bills, it is possible for merchants to use TWICE as many kilowatt hours, yet pay no more than he was paying before the passage of Ordinance 177.

(Walter Wontchell, Editor)
"Well the well" across the river spudded in Tuesday morning and from the looks of the equipment they surely mean business. The writer met most of the present crew and this column in behalf of the business men and citizens welcome them to our fair city. But the most regrettable thing about it is the present crew will only be here about 2 weeks or until the well reaches a depth of about 2,000 feet. Then this rotary crew will leave and take the rotary equipment with them. Then a string of cable tools will be installed along with a crew of cable tool men.

You should go over and see the rotary rig before they finish up. When you go, here is a list of don'ts you should observe while there:
Don't expect the crew to shut the well down and entertain you. They don't have time.
Don't ask them how deep they are. They are not supposed to give out that information.
Don't ask them if they think they will get oil there. They don't know any more about that than you do.
Don't ask them to take a drink. It's against the rule and besides that they are nice men.
Don't take your knitting, your lunch and all the children and prepare to spend the day.
Don't drink up their ice water, and don't meddle with the machinery.
Don't, by all means, get up on the derrick floor. It is very dangerous and you are sure to get in their way.
When you get back don't fail to come in and see the many furniture bargains that Owens and Brumley have to offer.

Players! Learn With The American Boy

Boys and young men who want to improve their crawl stroke, their basket shooting, their hurdling, their tennis backhand or their ball carrying, can enlist the aid of the nation's foremost coaches and players by subscribing to THE AMERICAN BOY magazine and following the sports interviews that appear each month.

For the coming year the staff writers have gone to two of the greatest teams in the country—Minnesota and Southern Methodist—for first hand tips on the strategy, blocking, ball carrying, passing and the fine points of line play. They have written the story of Bobby Wilson, All-American halfback.

They have interviewed famous track coaches like Bennie Moore and Bob Simpson. Have gone to the University of Oklahoma to learn how college champions wrestle, to Notre Dame for the story of the building of a great basketball team. They have been to great baseball players, swimmers, tennis champions and All-American backs to get their own story of how to play the game.

AMERICAN BOY fiction is jammed with instructive background details telling how to play a better game. And the rest of the magazine is jammed with adventure, exploration, vocational help and articles vital to boys.

Ohio State University's track head, coach of the famous sprinter and low hurdler, Jesse Owens, and himself a former hurdling star, first lined to hurdle from articles in THE AMERICAN BOY. "I used to cut out hurdling pictures and duplicate them in front of a mirror. Then on the track I'd follow that form."

Today thousands of future champions are just as eagerly following THE AMERICAN BOY. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Enclose with your name and address $1 for a year's subscription, $2 for three years, and add 50 cents if you want the subscription to go to a foreign address. On newsstands, 10 cents a copy.

Don't mistake your own shortcomings for government defects.

One who is afraid of the future deserves to die now.

He is worse than a corpse if he neither lives nor dies.

For every trouble maker there is at least one trouble taker.
