School Improvement, Road Projects Start Next Week

B Conference This Week on District Grids

Burkburnett to Tackle Iowa Park; Chillicothe Will Take On Throckmorton

The B conference for the district will be held at Chillicothe, Mo., this week. The teams of the district are the Burk Burnett-Iowa Park, Throckmorton-Chillicothe, Chillicothe and Chillicothe. Each of the four teams represent definite question marks in the championship race.

Season Tickets

Butler Westerfield announced Tuesday that the season tickets for either attend the game scheduled by the Mineral Wells-B team and the Burk Burnett-B team for the game on the ticket in the game of last Friday's game. If the ticket holder does not attend, the money will be refunded pro-rata to the last Friday night.

The district will have to contend with vague guesses by the fans until the contests this week. Burk Burnett-Iowa Park will rank important mainly because it will give a clear analysis of the strength of the Iowa Hawks. Every coach in the district is mystified in an attempt to schedule the Hawks, but so far the game scheduled have been called off by severe weather.

The strength of the Burk team has been fairly well established in two games with Electra and the Iowa Park team. Burk has six men including the flashy McKown, elusive backfield supported by a veteran duo in Teal and Finch.

Iowa Park is reported to have one of the 11 starters of last year's team, an end and a back. The other nine men starting had experience last year. Honeycutt, quarterback, ranks as one of the best in the district. Elviss contributes experience in the line at the end. Wigley at end is a good player in several sports. Other members of the squad that starting season include Ford, Blair, 140, D. Smith, 142, 152, Honeycutt, 144 (a back to quarterback), R. Sun-330, Sisk 144, Alvey 138.D, three 145, Stuart 140, Wid-145, Parish 145, Reasor 127, 135 and McKinney. This averages 148 pounds. Such a squad and nine experienced players should rate a nod of favor.

There are three new candidates for 127 pound Fred Brown, who promises to develop rapidly into a backfield. The other conference struggle Chillicothe, Throckmorton will be a team on the field that has a number of players. They are Sam Masquerade, Dallas, back; guard; Hibbits, end and tackle; end and Odell, tackle. The squad is hefty. Chillicothe team that started each game year, including Carl Davis, end; H. Jones, 170 lb tackle; Ramsey, smart 150 lb back that will swipe several touchdowns this year, and Os-155, 155 pound end.

Encouragement came to life after being of inexperience last week's tackle. This week the tackle's Rochester. Nothing was known of Rochester, but Richmond, left end and Stevens, left for the Panthers proved that they will be watching this year. The team played last year and keep Seymour in the race. Experienced men are Cox, Harris, center; Atkins, at end and Barber, half. Seymour

Hardin Honored At Belton, Texas

BELTON, Sept. 30. (Spl.)—Dr. Albert C. Cettys, professor of Religious Education at Mary Hardin-Baylor, spoke to the students and faculty Wednesday morning on "The Future of Mary Hardin-Baylor." In his talk he pointed out that Mary Hardin-Baylor is the only standard senior college for women in eight states under the auspices of Baptist people, thus holding a strategic place in the Southwest.

John G. Hardin was a visitor Wednesday morning and was introduced to the student body for the first time this year by Dr. J. C. Hardy. The college bears the name of Mr. Hardin's wife, Mary C. Hardin.

County Fair Is Postponed Until Last of October

Word was received this week that the Wichita County Free Fair scheduled to be held in Iowa Park this week had been postponed until Oct. 28. The decision was made by the executive committee of the association after an examination of the grounds Sunday afternoon. The recently graded ground was almost knee deep in mud and water.

The original plans called for Burk Burnett day at the fair for next Friday night when the Bulldogs and Hawks battle as a feature attraction of the show. However, the game will be played according to schedule, and the two teams probably will attract a large crowd at the encounter. Burk Burnett day will probably be set for the Friday of the Week of October 28. The exhibits and collections that have been made by Burk Burnett people will be held until the date of the show. Local demonstrators planning to enter exhibits will hold over the material.

Garden Club To Hold Annual Show

Members of the Burk Burnett Garden club met at the home of Mrs. R. C. Tevis Wednesday afternoon, and the feature of the business session was the preliminary adoption of plans for the annual garden show. At first the clubs of the city proposed the postponement of this year's show on account of the drought, but recent rains and the budding of fall flowers and roses caused the adoption of the plans.

An innovation this year will be that non-members will be invited to exhibit with the members. In the past, the program of exhibition has been confined to the members, but all flower growers will be invited to enter this year. The regular program of Wednesday meets was dispensed with, and informal vacation chats were heard from the following persons about places where they visited, gardens that they had seen: Mrs. George Kimbell, Mexico City and Mexico in general; Mrs. R. W. Wallace, Corpus Christi; Mrs. J. C. Adams, California, and Mrs. C. J. Morrison, Colorado.

The date for the flower show was not definitely set, but the tentative plans call for the first week in November. Mrs. Raymond Wallace was elected secretary in the place of Mrs. Fred Flanagan, who recently moved from Burk Burnett. Those present were Mesdames J. C. Adams, W. D. Bent, Paul Browning, Dudley Ellis, Ray Hill, George Kimbell, A. H. Lohofener, Carl Morrison, J. M. Pogue, Ross Reagan, A. B. Sandler, W. P. Sims, R. C. Tevis, W. D. Utts, R. W. Wallace, Butler Westerfield, J. N. Hicks and Cliff Cannon.

Great Ziegfeld Is New High in Great Pictures Presented

Two Shows Daily to be Given by Local Theatre

If it is an insult to mispronounce the name of a person, then Florenz Ziegfeld is the most insulted person in the world. Most people pronounce his name with the last syllable as "field" when it is "feld" rhyming with "held." Nevertheless, the name means little compared to the magnificent personality that carried it across the American stage. It became more than the designation of a man, it was the magic that transmitted a group of beautiful girls, a series of costumes and a little music into a charming hour of entertainment.

The show which has been brought to the Palace theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday provides a picture of an age created by a single man, Ziegfeld. The romantic and crazy-quilt career of the master showman is the basis of a story that will live in the memory of America for many years.

Starting with the master of showmen at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893, the show has everything that a great musical picture should have. It has the life of Ziegfeld, a most gripping and perfect story. In musical numbers, never before produced on such a scale of grandeur, it has the most dazzling scenes that the movies have ever presented.

The patrons of the theatre have been warned to buy their tickets ahead of time. Only two shows will be given each day. Six performances in the three days here. No one will be admitted after the show has started since only one complete showing will be held at each presentation at the hours 2:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 at night. Any late comer will miss part of the show.

Lions Club Hears Story Of Coffee

Paul Rufner told the members of the Burk Burnett Lions club the interesting story of coffee at the meeting of the organization last Tuesday night. The speaker told of the discovery of the efficacy of the drink by goat herders who found that goats remained awake after eating the beans of the ripened plant.

The interesting part that the romance of the industry has played in the history of the world was discussed, continuing of the of the battles and disputes, romance and adventure that had followed the trade. The social influence of the many Coffee Shops of the world were pointed out. The political, social, and literary contributions of these places were analyzed.

Car Stolen Here Last Wednesday

A 1931 Ford coupe was stolen from Ave. B near Boyd's store, belonging to Cecil Todd, employee of the store, Wednesday afternoon. The car was parked at the side street while the owner was working within the store. Evidently the alleged theft occurred within a period of a few moments. N. H. Harris received the report from Mrs. Todd of the missing car and the Burk Burnett police were working on the case. The engine number was A4391787, and the license number A48-632. The car owners and garages have been warned to keep watch for the car.

Before starting fires in the fall, inspect chimneys and stove pipes for cracks or other openings from which sparks or heat may escape. The greatest danger is on the roof. Adding Machine Paper at STAR

B. F. Sanders Of Burk Burnett Dies Of Heart Attack

B. F. Sanders, 53, died suddenly at his home on Avenue D of a heart attack at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Funeral services were at the Church of Christ here last Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. L. S. White of Wichita Falls was assisted in the services by the Rev. L. N. Moody, pastor of the church. Burial in the Burk Burnett cemetery was under the direction of Owens & Brumley Funeral home.

Palbearers were Ben Winkle, R. W. Kent, C. A. Morgan, Jobie Dunn, Jim Robinson and H. A. Goodwin. He has been a resident of Burk Burnett for 16 years, coming here from Nocona. For several years he was engaged in the grocery business but at the time of his death was an employee of the Kenko Oil company. During his long residence here he had been active in civic affairs.

Survivors include his widow, three daughters, Mrs. B. B. McCullough, Wichita Falls, Mrs. Jesse Ray, Dallas and Mrs. W. M. Lawrence, Burk Burnett; three brothers, Rev. Liff Sanders, Lubbock and T. E. Sanders, Ft. Worth; and a sister, Mrs. L. T. Adams of Jacksboro.

Local Hatchery Secures Rating

Federal Approval Passed on Tex. Chick Projects

Frank Kelley received word last week that the federal government had approved the program of the Texas Baby Chick Association of which the local hatchery is a member, and that the department of agriculture of the United States government recognizes the Texas society as the official agency of the national organization.

The new recognition which has been won by the state organization which includes the local business, delegates the power to permit members of the industry to use the designation U. S. in connection with poultry improvement work and make mandatory signed contracts between the state agency and the hatcheryman. The local dealer and hatcheryman will be responsible, along with the other members for the selection of and testing for pullorum diseases and all other administrative work in the state.

Randlett And Dads Corner To Try To Play Game Sunday

Many Times Postponed Contest to Start Championship Series Weather Interfers

The many times postponed game between the champions of the northern division of the Texas league, Randlett Rabbits, and the champions of the southern division, the Dad's Corner nine, will be played at Randlett next Sunday afternoon for the initial contest of the playoff of three games.

The two teams were in peak of condition two weeks ago when the weather interfered with the initial game, and the death of one of Randlett's most active fans caused the postponement, and what has happened during the enforced layoff is not known. However, the fans of the section are promised one of the best games of baseball played in this district when the two teams tie up.

There will be a heavy slugging of the Rabbits matched against the efficient pitching of Lefty Bonds of Dad's Corner. The two teams whipped everything in uniform in the district, and there will be a huge crowd to watch them battle each other Sunday if the weather is fair.

Warren Well On 2000 Foot Level

The Phillips Warren No. 1 passed the 2074 foot level Tuesday afternoon and encountered difficulty due to caving at the deep test across Red River near Randlett. The well is one of the most interesting oil tests in the area, and it is being watched by the oil men of the district.

The original hole was punched to the 1700 foot strata by a rotary rig under the contract with the Cooper company in Chickasha, Okla. As soon as that level was reached, the Phillips company installed their own company rig, a standard outfit, and started the deeper test. Casing was set at the original depth and a stream of salt water was encountered. The water required two doses of cement before it was blocked out.

When the 2000 foot level was reached this week the crew encountered the difficulty of caving. Preparations were being made to continue the work Tuesday evening.

Randlett School Dedicated Stage And Curtain Wed.

Burkburnett Business Men Assist In Presentation of New Material

Interesting Program

Burkburnett business men and local entertainment talent assisted in the dedication of the stage and curtain of the new $50,000 school building at Randlett, Oklahoma last Wednesday night. The new curtain was purchased through the courtesy of business men of this district, including a large number of Burk Burnett business houses, and for that reason local merchants were invited to participate in the ceremonies.

The official opening of the new stage and curtain was made by Superintendent of Schools, Warren. He reviewed the history of the construction of the new building and thanked the Burk Burnett men and others who had assisted in the presentation.

The curtain is a drop frontal with a beautiful cyclorama in the rear of the stage. The set-up will make it possible for the dramatic department of the school to present a better staging effect in the plays that are presented in the future.

The Burk Burnett Cowboy band assisted in the ceremonies, and opened the program with a concert. Under the direction of E. L. Nichols, the band played as the auditorium filled to capacity.

Other numbers presented by Herman Brown, secretary of the chamber of commerce, were: Piano solo, Howard Clements; vocal solo, Barbara Crissey; solo, Jo Ella Morgan, quartet, Bobbie Hays, Glendon Alexander, Ruslen Brookshire and James Walling; duet, Misses Dreda Miller and Mary Frances Goins.

Dr. J. Walton Moore To Speak At First Baptist Church Sun.

Dr. J. Walton Moore, of Chefoo, China, will preach at both services at the First Baptist church, Sunday. Dr. Moore is no stranger to the members of this church. He has spoken in the First Baptist church on several previous occasions, and spent a week in a "School of Missions" in this church, teaching a book and bringing an inspirational message each evening of the week. His two daughters, who are attending Hardin-Simmons University, will be with him, and will appear before the various young people's organizations.

The Baptist Training Union of the First Baptist church have, through Dr. Moore, supported a native missionary in China for a number of years, and all of our people will be glad to hear of the work of this missionary as well as the work of Dr. Moore, and our Southern Baptist Mission work in China.

The First Baptist church and the pastor, urges all the members of this church to hear the inspiring messages of Dr. Moore, and extends a most cordial invitation to the people of Burk Burnett to hear him. He is a man with a message.

Want Ad Results

WANTED—Two inch rain. Apply Star Office for details. Liberal reward. 52-1tp
An interesting want ad that appeared in the Burk Burnett Star late in August. A few days later, Sept. 3, an inch of rain fell, and since that time 11 inches of rain, or almost twice as much as has fallen the rest of the year, followed. Now, of course, we aren't bragging, but anyway, Star Ads bring results.

2 Sections Added To Football Plant By WPA Approval

School Ground to be Cleared Of Oil and Rough Pits Left by Boom Days

Cement Tennis Courts

Road to be Constructed South of Gilbert Creek Near O. L. Clark Farm

Approximately $17,000.00 in WPA project will be spent in the Burk Burnett precinct starting the next week and running three to six months, according to word released by the district director, C. L. Martin, Wednesday afternoon.

The two projects include necessary improvement at the school and surfacing of three miles of roadway southwest of the city. The school project includes two cement tennis courts to be constructed on the school campus, clearing and smoothing the campus, and erecting of two sections in the football stadium.

The school project was set to start Monday, October 5, and the road project will start next Thursday, October 8. Those two valuable additions will employ 23 men for six months at the school and 55 men for three months on the highway.

Stadium Sections
Butler Westerfield submitted the project for the school campus improvement with the school board, and the first desire was to have the stadium completed in time to use the extra sections for this year's schedule. With six of the games to be played at home and an excellent team, the crowds this year are expected to be unusually large.

Sections similar to those which are now at the field will be added so as to increase the capacity of the stadium by about 300 persons. This will be of wood and steel, set in cement as the present stands are constructed. They will be 10 tiers high by 32 feet in length. The two tennis courts will be located at the site of the present courts. They will have a base of four inches of crushed rock and the surface will be two inches of solid cement. The courts will make more popular the game that has been neglected to some extent due to the lack of facilities. Later it is projected that the courts be lighted for night play.

Campus Clearing
It has been impossible for the school officials to keep the campus in vegetation and to keep it smooth, as the result of the oil pits which were made during the boom days. The projects call for the removal of the oil and tar and the substitution of native earth in the places that will be excavated.

These projects are expected to be completed in six months. The problem of taking care of the unemployed will be lessened. The stadium will probably be the first of the group that will receive attention.

The road project will start near Gilbert Creek close to the O. L. Clark property. It will run 16,000 feet of graveled surface south to the precinct line. About 25 men will be employed in this project to last three months. Commissioner Knauth announced that he was ready to start when the work order arrived from Wichita Falls.

Brother Of Mrs. H. S. Grace Is In Accident Sunday

The car in which Mr. Hester was riding collided with an approaching automobile and the occupants were injured. Mrs. Henry Grace and Mrs. W. D. Barrow of Denton, left for Amarillo, where they will spend the next few days. The brother is reported to be in serious condition.

FOOTBALL POSTPONEMENT

Last Friday night the Burkburnett school authorities made the logical and sensible decision to postpone the football game that was scheduled with the Newcastle team here. The game was one of the most important tests that the Bulldogs were scheduled to meet this year, and a $100.00 guarantee had been given to the visiting team that the game would be played.

Therefore, the school's calling off the contest meant the restoration of the admissions which had been paid, the payment of the guarantee and the carrying of other incidental expense in connection with the game. In the face of the large loss that was involved in the postponement, the school officials were required to have courage to step in and refuse the teams permission to play.

Since the huge loss naturally followed, we have been aware of a constantly growing admiration on the part of the average fan for the school authorities. The schools could have gone ahead with the game as other schools in the district did, but it would have meant the exposure of the fans and the team to conditions that were actually dangerous.

Furthermore, outside of the financial consideration, there wasn't the slightest excuse to play. The game was not a conference game, and it would not have tested the strength of the two teams. The masses of mud, the rivers of water on the field would have made the comparison between the two teams extremely unfair.

Now that the school has acted with such courage, it is the duty and privilege of the people of Burkburnett to rally to the support of the team the remainder of the year. There are many things that can be done, and one of the most important is attendance at the games that are to be played. Let each fan express his appreciation by backing the school and coach in the games that are to come.

WORK STARTED

The two road hearings are over, and it is highly probable that the ambitions of Burkburnett will be realized in an all paved road to Lawton and a state highway to Vernon. However, since the hearings are over, it is not time to go to sleep and forget about the projects. Several activities should be planned. The processes of red tape that must follow will naturally be slow, and there will be times when we think here that the departments have no intention of carrying out the pledges they have made.

Especially on the Vernon-Burkburnett project is there room for a lot of organizational work. The town and the citizens along the route should be organized into cohesive units that will be able to show the state highway department how strong the demand for an adequate road in that direction is.

There are other practical things that can be done. Many men here in town have friends in the state government. A casual suggestion to each of them in the form of a letter or personal conversation, enlisting their aid would work wonders.

When the highway is designated, the work has only started. It will then be time to work toward the goal of hard surface road between the two cities. So is isn't time to stop now. The work has only started.

FIRE PREVENTION

Burkburnett now has a record of which the entire citizenship may be justly proud. The lowest possible fire rate has been awarded to the city as the result of the carefulness of the people of the town. Not so many years ago the city was besiged with fires starting in delectable arson, but an aggressive and prompt campaign stopped the crimes.

Since then the city has gradually worked toward the peak of achievement. It has meant a very efficient campaign of education and training. Starting in the schools at the first grade and working to training of adults, the local officials have achieved a rating that the inspector of the state fire department called "excellent" here last Friday afternoon.

This means actual saving to the Burkburnett people. Hundreds of dollars have been saved policy holders by the careful supervision of the fire department and the constant care of the citizens.

Fire prevention week is the time to remind us that we have made great strides, and at the same time impress each of us with the profit that the prevention has brought, or the horrible consequences of carelessness. In a single moment, the work of years might be wasted. Should some one person become careless to cause a heavy loss, the whole town would pay for that person's carelessness for years.

There can't be too much emphasis placed upon the fact that society demands of each of us—extreme caution.

HEADLINES

News of the Week

Japan is starting a serious campaign to penetrate into the interior of China at the most opportune moment. Every time that the Western powers have their hands full of trouble at home, the Japanese have advanced a little further into the great continental republic. During the world war, the Japanese carried out a conquest in Northern China that gave them a foundation for later invasion. Then when the European powers had their hands full of depression in 1930, they started additional movement. At the invasion of Ethiopia by Italy, the Japanese were prepared for the greater spread of the "sphere of influence".

Now, England, France, Germany, Italy and Russia are busy with Spanish wars, and Japan moves in with her troops for the fourth time. Every movement has been timed so that the European powers were caught in a position where they couldn't protest too severely.

Real Conditions

The editor of the Star received four personal letters from Shanghai this week, and in each of them the seriousness of the program by the Japanese was outlined. One of the main facts mentioned was the use of a weapon that has been particularly effective in Northern China—opium. The Japanese have encouraged—unofficially—the use of the drug by Chinese natives so that the resistance of the Chinese to the invasion practically disappears. The Japanese deny officially that they are trying to force the drugs on the market, but they have caught a few dope peddlers and punished them with light fines and short jail sentences. That is a strange punishment by a nation that on its own territory at home shoots without mercy the same type of agent. Then the soldiers (according to a personal friend in the United Press service staff) of the Japanese army have as a regular part of their equipment an amount of opium to be distributed among captives. They have excuse by saying it relieves the suffering of addicts. Nothing is said of the thousands to whom they offer it that have not become dope addicts.

Devaluation of France

The final block against the recovery of the money balance has been removed with the devaluation of the French standard from the hard metal backing. There was no possibility of readjustment so long as the French nation contended for the standard based on the international standard of gold. Now, with France deserting the metal, Belgium, Switzerland and other small nations must follow, and an adjustment can be made in the international currency. There is only one thing that can prevent the success of such movement on the part of England, France and the United States, Russia, Germany and Italy are in the position to profit most with a currency war. These last three have a great demand for imported articles to re-establish treasuries that foreign buying has exhausted. Germany has practically made her nation empty of money by the necessity of keeping the trade balance up with the rest of the world.

Conference by Phone

One of the most romantic adventures of modern history took place last Friday night after the French had appeared to have already reached the end of the currency war. France, United States and England needed a hasty conference. France and England could confer in person by a short air trip, but U. S. was too far away. The telephone company came to the aid of the puzzled nations. An international phone hook-up was achieved. The financial leaders of each of the three nations, including the cabinet members, presidents, and rulers, gathered in rooms. Loudspeakers amplified the messages, and dictographs recorded each word said. So three powerful nation's rulers conferred while they were separated by three thousand miles. The agreement was worked out in minute detail before the markets closed in the United States so the U. S. could proceed with the program. A few years ago that conference would have required at least a month to call and get started. It was accomplished and successful in a few hours.

Contrasts

Less than a month ago the area of Texas that is suffering from floods at the present time was suffering from an extended drought. The drought took a terrible toll in crops and cattle. Now on top of that, the heavy rains take another tax form those who can least afford it. The result is that relief becomes an acute problem. The year points toward a solution that must be successfully planned. In the Wichita district the possibility of flood was reduced by the foresight of the

Big Rabbit Creek

September 27, 1936.

Well tomorrow (Monday) it will be two weeks since it started to rain and believe me it's rained and is just pouring down here on Big Rabbit Creek at this writing, but as the old adage goes, more rain, more grass for Mosses horses. If it don't quit pretty soon, what cotton that is open will sure sprout in the bur.

Big Rabbit Creek, for two days now, has been on the verge of going out of her banks.

It has been raining so long and so hard that it has caused the grain growers around here to be a little late getting their land in shape to sow wheat and oats.

Old Red River is very high again. It may get as high as it was a year ago. The news came to Hawkeye late Saturday evening that they had a cloud-burst out west of Wichita Falls early Saturday morning causing one of their big lake dams to burst and running 200 lowland families out of their homes. Hawkeye can't vouch for this statement.

Robert Hatcher, the Big Rabbit Creek minister who had a stroke some weeks ago, isn't improving any, in fact, he isn't doing any good.

Hawkeye was talking to Rev. S. P. Pirtle's son, Jimmy, over in Burkburnett Saturday and he told Hawkeye that his father wasn't getting along so well. His illness is caused by a leakage of the heart.

Hawkeye received a letter from his old friend, Charlie Nails and his mother, Mrs. Martha Nails and Tobe Hardin, who left two weeks ago for California. They are now picking cotton at 60¢ per 100 lbs. at Mesillo Park, New Mexico. Out there cotton is making 2 bales per acre.

Over two thousand people were on the streets and in Burkburnett Saturday to attend the big cash drawing of $40.00.

All the population of Randlett was over in the big oil city of Burkburnett Saturday to try to draw some part of the $40.00 that was drawn at 4:30 p. m. Two ladies, who live at Thrift, over west of Burkburnett, drew the big money, $25.00 and $10.00; and a Burkburnett man drew the $5. The Star printing shop had several painters and carpenters at work inside and out, remodeling the building. After it's completion it will rank as one of the nicest and best equipped weekly print shops in the Lone Star state (old Texas).

Burkburnett To Observe Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week Proclamation

Reliable statistics show that the larger portion of the annual fire loss in Texas is due to preventable causes and that the exercise of reasonable precaution would save the lives of many persons, as well as reduce to a large extent the yearly property loss in this state, which in recent years has exceeded 20 million dollars.

It has long been the custom in America to observe one week in the year as Fire Prevention Week, the purpose of which is to bring to public attention the fact that a fire loss is everybody's loss and everybody's responsibility, and to impress the need of eliminating every condition that might cause or promote the spread of fire hazards.

THEREFORE, I, A. R. Hill, mayor of the city of Burkburnett, to the end that needless destruction of life and property may be reduced, do hereby proclaim October 4th to 10th, A. D. 1936, as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK in this city, and I call upon our citizens to clear their buildings and premises of any and all conditions from which fires might occur.

During the week let us individually and collectively stimulate interest in the work of eliminating fire hazards by actively engaging in a general campaign for that purpose. Let the Ministers of the Gospel and Sunday School Teachers on Sunday, Oct. 4th, appropriately mention the need for care about fires, and let the teachers in our schools throughout the week instruct the children under their care in the execution of fire drills, and teach them the dangers of fire and how it may be avoided.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I hereunto sign my name and affix my seal of office on this, the 23rd day of September, A. D. 1936.

A. R. HILL, Mayor of the City of Burkburnett.

"To Save Life and Property, Observe These Nine Rules"

1. Be sure your match is out before you throw it away.
2. Put out the last spark of your cigarette or cigar.
3. Don't let oily rags or dry waste accumulate in a pile or corner.
4. Burn any rubbish in a spot where there is no danger of spreading. Watch it carefully.
5. Have electric wiring inspected regularly and repaired if necessary.
6. Don't use benzine, kerosene or naphtha for cleaning purposes.
7. Keep your chimney and heating system clean and in perfect working condition.
8. Do not leave camp fires anywhere before being wholly extinguished.
9. Keep matches and fire beyond the reach of children.

Show Them No Mercy

For the third consecutive year the crime of arson has decreased in the United States, reports the National Board of Fire Underwriters. And, the report adds, "Not only has the number of incendiary fires decreased, but there has been a marked lessening of such fires resulting from organized or professional criminals."

The arsonist is justly termed the most despicable of felons. He is also one of the most dangerous; no man's property, no man's life, is safe when he is operating. The nation's arson bill still runs into many millions of dollars annually—to say nothing of the infinitely more important "bill" of burned and cremated bodies the arsonist leaves behind him. It is the duty and the privilege of every citizen to fight him.

The splendid success that has so far been achieved in battling arson has been well earned. Many units of government have passed the model arson law suggested by the National Board out of its long and broad experience with this type of crime. Prosecuting attorneys have shown the utmost willingness to pursue the arsonist until he is finally convicted. Courts have meted out the heavy punishment the crime deserves. Other bodies, public and private, continually carry on investigation of suspicious fires, keep records of known arson rings, and produce evidence that would otherwise be unobtainable.

Every state and community should do its part in stamping out arson. The public should demand that this be done—and it should cooperate in every possible way with the authorities. The arsonist has no mercy—and he deserves none.

Essentials Of Fire Prevention

A report of the Committee on Fire Prevention and Engineering Standards of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, issued a few months ago, says: "A comparison of gradings of cities inspected in 1934, with corresponding gradings of five and ten years previous, indicates that there has been a general improvement in the adequacy and reliability of city water systems. Fire departments were improving steadily until the depression but, because of lessened appropriations which caused a reduction in man power, the departments show a deficiency greater than in 1924. On the average there has been practically no improvement in fire alarm or in regard to adoption and enforcement of laws controlling building construction and hazards."

That report illustrates a situation of the utmost gravity—a situation which is undoubtedly very largely responsible for the high fire loss throughout the nation. The type of "economy" which permits fire departments to become run down, either in equipment or personnel, is poor economy indeed—every dollar saved is likely to be offset a dozen times in fire loss, to say nothing of destruction of life. The same thing is true of fire alarm systems, which are the very soul of an efficient system of fire extinguishing.

Even more important, perhaps, are up-to-date, strictly enforced building codes. It is better to prevent a fire than to put one out—and a building code that makes it impossible to construct houses or places of business below the fire-resistant standards, and that eliminates the fire traps that exist in almost every community, is the best friend that fire prevention has. A model building code was prepared years ago by the National Board, and cities which have adopted and enforced it report that it has been exceedingly efficacious in reducing the fire loss.

Every community should keep its fire department up to standard—should maintain an A-1 alarm system—and should adopt a building code which provides for the best possible standard of construction, residential and industrial alike. Those are essential maneuvers in the never-ending war against fire.

When the Mercury Drops, Firemen Sweat

Strange as it may sound—the colder it gets, the hotter the firemen and insurance adjusters become! That heat, of course, is not caused by the weather; it is brought about by more work.

Statistics compiled by the National Board of Fire Underwriters reveal that severe winter weather causes an epidemic of fires. It is not difficult to see why this is so. In an effort to be comfortable, people force their furnaces to the limit and also use makeshift heating agencies. Under these conditions, it is natural for more fires to break out and this means more work for the fire departments and more losses for the insurance companies to adjust. Hence is an extra amount of work for who handle the reports and matters incident to the claim.

If you don't want your house to become so hot that you can't park outside, you should take the utmost care in operating your heating plant—especially when the mercury drops to temperatures. Far better to have more time for increasing the in the house than to suffer structural fires from an overheated store or chimney! "Forcing a furnace is definitely dangerous."

A little time spent inspecting a heating plant is a good step. If, for any reason, you do feel that absolute safety is assured, you will do well to call in a heating expert and follow his advice.

Always use fire resistant shingles. No wooden shingle is safe from bonfires, chimneys, exposure fires.

It is estimated that 10,000 are lost by fire each year, over 18,000 injuries. More than half of these casualties occur in homes.

Cut Your Fire Bill

It's fun to watch the fire engines flash by, with their crimson bodies gleaming and their sirens shattering the air. It's also fun to watch the firemen at work on a blaze, with their magnificent and modern equipment, their amazing efficiency of movement, and their knowledge of just what to do and when to do it.

Both of these "pleasures", however, become less pleasurable if you reflect that good, hard-earned dollars must come out of your pocket to pay the bill.

It should be everlastingly emphasized that we all pay for fire—whether fire hits our property or not. All of us help to pay the upkeep of fire departments, alarm systems and water facilities. All of us who carry insurance policies must help to pay the bill for those who sustain fires—over a period of time, any town's insurance rate is determined by the volume of its fire loss.

All of us must chip in, through higher taxes, to make up the taxes lost when a home or an industry is destroyed by fire.

So it goes—we pay our share of the nation's fire bill in a half-dozen different ways. Authorities estimate that bill could be cut at least 80 percent by the exercise of a little caution, a little forethought, a little preparedness. Most fire hazards can be easily and cheaply eliminated—and those which are easiest and cheapest to do away with are often productive of the worst fires.

Do your part to prevent fire—in the interest of your home, your business, the lives of your loved ones, and your bank account.

If Fire Strikes!

When fire strikes, be calm, if you value your life! That sage advice is given by "Safeguarding America Against Fire".

Should your clothing become ignited, drop to the floor and roll into a rug or blanket. That will shut off the supply of oxygen and smother the flames. Thousands of people, insane with panic have run, thus fanning the blaze—at the cost of their lives.

If you are in a public building when the fire alarm sounds, remember the old adage: "Walk, don't run, to the nearest exit." A legion of lives have been unnecessarily sacrificed to panic-stricken mobs in theatres, hotels and similar buildings.

If you awaken at night and smell smoke, DON'T OPEN THE DOOR! That is vital—to open the door may permit super heated air and fumes to enter and to smother you. First place your hand on the door and see if it feels hot. If it is cool, open it very slightly with your face turned away. If you feel "fire pressure" against it, close it at once and seek another means of exit.

Even as 90 percent of fires can be prevented through the exercise of simple precautions, so can ninety percent of the lives now lost in fires be saved—if you do not get excited. Knowledge of a few elementary facts, such as those given above, plus presence of mind, makes the best life-saver of all.

Fire may break out in your home, your place of business, in a building or theatre you are in, at any time. When it does, keep calm and think and then act!

Clang of bells . . . wailing, screeching, ear-piercing wall of a siren in the middle of the night . . . it rouses you. A few minutes at the window and you go back to bed satisfied that it does not concern you. But it was your fire—your's and every other property owner's. For this fire and every fire takes money out of YOUR pocket.

Let's take a glance at actual figures. Did you know that in 1933 the fire loss in the United States amounted to $269,773,000? The loss per capita was $2.15. This is not as bad as a few years back; but, 40% of conflagrations last year were preventable.

To guard against this, don't be careless.

1. Don't allow children to play with matches.
2. Don't discard burning cigarettes!
3. Don't clean your clothes with gasoline!
4. Don't build fires with kerosene!
5. Don't allow rubbish to accumulate!
6. Don't forget to turn off your electrical appliances!
7. Don't place coins or copper wires in your fuse box!
8. Don't forget to extinguish rubbish fires!
9. Don't forget to check your electric wiring at regular intervals!
10. Don't be cheap—fires are costly!

Senior Who's Who

TOMMY HARMS

Tommy Harms, the president of the Senior Class, was born at Brownwood, Texas, September 14, 1919. Desires to be a soldier of fortune. He is a home-loving lad, who appreciates Mr. Reaves' presence to the fullest extent. Reads the front page of a newspaper first, does not like to write letters. Has no spare time, but Billy Ashlock is his past time. I'll Take You Home Again is his favorite old song. "Knock, Knock" is his favorite popular tune, but he does not make them up. He does not like to listen to operas. He sings fluently and on request. "Colliers" is his favorite magazine. He does not read Walter Winchell; it's trash, silly, etc. His typing at present is about thirty (30) words per minute. He spells beautifully and has not read the book "Anthony Adverse." Reads rather slowly, whistles in the dark and sings in the bath tub. He believes deeply in appetites, is Democratic and believes "What's good enough for Pa" He admits being a cute baby, but confesses that he won no prizes. He digs holes like a professional, and carefully replaces all the divots.

Mr. Reaves says like this about him: "Nice guy and intelligent; charming personality."

CHRISTINE MILLIKIN

Christine Millikin is a blond, 5 feet 5 inches tall and was born in Burkburnett. Typing is her favorite subject. Doesn't like Post Toasties, but she does like spinach and raspberries pineapple (anyway) is her favorite food. She likes to flirt 'cause you know, she is a blond. She likes to take long walks at night. (Romantic isn't it?) Likes Mary Louise Kelly too. Intends to get married the first chance she gets.

She feels that she is qualified for it because she learned how to make coffee at the senior stand. She has a hobby, but she said that we wouldn't know what it was if she told us, so she didn't tell us. She used to like to go to the show, but she is tired of that, so now she spends her nights trying to find something new to do. (All suggestions will be appreciated.) She won't talk, so therefore, we couldn't get very much information about her.

Growl Staff

A committee, composed of the faculty members, met Tuesday afternoon, September 22nd and selected from the student body the Growl Staff. They did this with the school and the hard-to-please public in mind. The selected the following students thinking that they would do their best for the paper and work with determination, never neglecting their duty.

The selected students met with Miss Morgan Wednesday and each was assigned his place on the staff. They are as follows:

Freshman Flashes

The Freshman class called a meeting Thursday morning at 8:45 in the auditorium for the purpose of electing officers. Mr. Williamson acted as chairman. Robert Lee Gragg, of the H-8-1 was elected as president and Mary Margaret Browning of the H-8-1 was elected vice-president. As there was no further time, the meeting was adjourned and there will be another one called to elect other class officers.

Musings of Newcastle Game

Time—six o'clock Friday night. Rain!
Anxious faces watching breathlessly to gauge the downpour as to how long it would last and how it could affect Burkburnett's chances of winning "The Game." Of course the game will be played! Well, maybe not football but anyway—water polo!

Six—twenty—rain?—Only a very slight drizzle—Hopefully—maybe it will stop entirely—Headlines—"Burk Wins Second Game on Wet Field"—Happy faces—Cheerful laughter—Trite, "Think it will rain?" Nonsense. Busy Seniors—relieved by the let up—rushing for food—Bread from the bakery—Ice Cream—where would YOU get ice?—Ladies with pies—and laughter.

Seven o'clock.
Cars!—Rain?—Mud—Brilliant lights. The agonized face of Mr. Westerfield as the lights began to pop out.—One! Two! Three!!! Four!!!! Five—twenty five!—$10.50! Fifteen—seventy! Twenty—one dollars!!! Speechless astonishment—a quick dash for the switch—darkness.

Seniors under a tent—giggling in the face of failure. Hot coffee. The smell of over done weiners. The look of complete satisfaction on Mr. Reaves' face over the sale of two cups of coffee—one piece of pie—twenty cents! Rain! Rain!!!

Seven-thirty o'clock.
Flood!—people huddled against the warm side of the building in a vain attempt to keep dry. Water running in small rivers over the entire school ground. The river at the south-east corner of the field.
Brilliant lights—$5.20—Darkness—"Game"—Doubtful.
Eight o'clock.

Slight let up—game at eight—twenty—small groups of men huddling together—facing the loss of quite a lot of money—laughter—anxiety—few people—8-12-14 tickets sold—fewer cars.
Eight—twenty o'clock.
Rain falling in great sheets!—No game?—Oh! 14 tickets sold—24 people in line for refund.
Tears? — — —
Gloom?? — — — Darkness!

Home Ec. Girls Serve Dinner

The roast was burned, the potatoes were scorched, the water was hot and the coffee was cold. The cream was sour and the sugar had ants in it, but all in all, it was a swell dinner.

At any rate that is what they said. They include: Mr. Hancock, Chillicothe, Texas; Mr. J. E. Kemp, Seymour, Texas; and Mr. Graves, Crowell, Texas; and our two men of the hour, Mr. Butler Westerfield and Mr. C. J. Duncan.

The annual meeting of these executives of district 10-B always occurs before the first conference game.

The gentlemen assembled at five o'clock, took time out for dinner at 6:15 and went back to work by eight, checking the eligibility of each player in the district.

Volunteers from the home economics classes served dinner, with Barbara Crissey as hostess.

Grade School News

Melba Clark

Miss Franke was recently removed from a Wichita hospital and is now recovering from her recent illness at the home of her uncle near Wichita. We hope she will get well and return to school very soon.

Mrs. Blum has not yet been able to teach this year because of poor health. The school wishes her a speedy recovery.

An attraction to everyone will be the football games preceding that of the Bulldogs, which is to be played by the grade school, under the direction of Mr. Clifton and Mr. Strong. These games will be interesting as they will display some of Burkburnett's future talent.

Acknowledgement

The library wishes to thank Mr. John Farr of the faculty, for his generous contribution of Sunday newspapers to be used by students.

Thank You!

The students of the Burkburnett High School wish to express their appreciation to Mr. Brookman for the Bulldogs Growl space in the Burkburnett Star each week.

Mr. Brookman has promised at the close of the school term to give books, made up of the weekly copies of the Growl, to all the Seniors.

The Seniors will prize these very highly as graduation gifts. It is with true gratitude that we say: "Thank You, Mr. Brookman."

High Seventh

Only a part of the grade school is in the High School building this term. This part consists of two sections of the High Seventh. Both H7-1 and H7-2 have their home room with Miss Westbrook in room 209.

There are 59 Junior High students: 32 in H7-1 and 27 in H7-2. These classes are on the regular High School schedule of daily routine, but study regular grade school subjects under high school instructors. Their subjects are arithmetic, history, civics, geography, English, spelling, reading, music and penmanship. They do not take gym.

As yet the high seventh has not elected officers, and it is very probable that they will not organize as do the regular high school classes.

Mr. Kent: "My daughter's music lessons mean a fortune to me."
Mr. Jones: "How is that?"
Mr. Kent: "They enable me to buy the neighbor's houses at half price."

Volley Ball

Volley ball is a very interesting game, especially when there is someone to make it interesting.

The volley ball girls certainly have someone to keep them interesting this year—their coach, Miss Gideon.

The coach and girls have been very wise in starting two weeks earlier in their practice this year. Practice started two weeks after the opening of school and will continue until after the season is over.

There are more girls out this year than can be used but the team will not be selected until a few weeks later.

The captain has not been selected because there are so many who would make good captains that they are sizing each other up to find the best one for the position.

The team has discussed their suits and decided to buy new suits, but they have not decided on the type they wish to purchase. There was a great improvement at the end of the last season since many of the girls are from last year's team, they have a good chance of winning. Encourage the girls and help them so that they will not have any failing grades and will win the district.

Requests

Concerning library permits; the student is asked to write out his permit before presenting it to be signed by the teacher. Information on the permit should include, (1) the student's name, (2) his subject, and (3) his study hall period.

Senior Stand

The Senior Class started the old Senior Stand Business up again last Friday night.

Although the Newcastle game was cancelled, we didn't do so bad, we did sell a few hot-dogs, anyway.

We went in the hole a bit, but what's a few dollars to us? Our credit's still good.

We'll be out there Friday week, folks, come and get 'em while they're hot.

— Grace Preston

Poetry Corner

According to Mr. Duncan's excellent idea, the Growl has become not only intellectual, but poetic. With so many poets around school that are persistent, it has been decided that your poetry reading be optional, that is, put it in the Growl, where you can read it if you wish instead of having over-enthusiastic poets following you around, reciting the meaningless lines that end in rhymes. This is a selection from Polly Hall's Daffy Ditties:

Ode To A Bug
Way, way down the hall I see,
A silly bug look out at me.
It blinks great eyes
In mild surprise.
And looks as coo-coo as can be.

I like to look, at silly bugs,
Because they have such happy mugs
And crazy ways,
Throughout their days.
Because they like to live in rugs.

Book Nook

Your librarian takes pleasure in announcing the arrival of a new comer to the library. The stranger is the handsome new reference book.

Commercial Atlas of the World, another new arrival is a copy of "All Quiet on the Western Front" fiction book for Juniors and Seniors. Several other new books are expected within the next few days.

Assembly Programs

Tentative Assembly programs with suggestions.
Oct. 1, Miss Ella Billingslea; Oct. 15, Miss Thelma Dunaway and Miss Gladys Wesbrooks; Oct. 29, Miss Margaret Tanner; Nov. 10, Committee—Armistice program; Dec. 3, Miss Alice Morgan; Dec. 17, Committee—Christmas program; and Jan. 7, Miss Helen January.

We, the committee, recommend that each assembly be opened by a short invocation followed by group singing and that definite programs be made in advance and that devitations from this program not be made during that assembly program; that speakers from other cities be invited to speak to the assembly at least twice a term; that the pep meetings not be held during the same period when local ministers or out of town guests are present.

Bulldogs To Tangle With Hawks

The Burkburnett Bulldogs will journey to Iowa Park Friday to tangle with the Iowa Park Hawks.

Iowa Park has a better team this year than they have had in a long time. They have nine letter men back from last year.

Burkburnett also has a good team. The Bulldogs expect to take the game, but they know they will have to fight for it. Burk has seven lettermen back from last year. They are Tolly McKown at halfback, Avis Finch-quarterback, Marshall Teal-halfback, Carl Cook-tackle, Harry Elliott-guard, "Pappy" Whitlow-guard, and John Blair-end.

A favorite has no friends—Gray.

Good Sportsmanship

Dorothy Hagard

The dictionary defines sportsmanship as "participation in sports". But it has come to mean more than that; sportsmanship is also the way one participates.

To be a good sport, one must be a good winner; Not gloat over those whom he has defeated. He must be courteous at all times. But most important of all, he must play fairly. A good example of this was in 1935 in Wimbledon, England. Baron Gottfried Von Cramm and Heiner Hinkle, the Germans, were playing the finals in men's doubles against Fred Perry and Bunny Austin.

The Germans were only two points away from the game and the set. Perry served a ball to Von Cramm which the officials called "out", and gave the point to the German players. But Von Cramm said that his racket had touched the ball and this automatically gave the British men the point. The English went on to win the match. Von Cramm knew that this would probably happen if he called attention to the officials to his error, but he was determined to play the game fairly and squarely at all costs.

One must be a good loser to be a good sport. If a person is too good a loser, however, it is likely that he has little ambition to become a winner. He is content where he is. He loses half the fun of the game. The object of any game, whether it is baseball, checkers or life, is to win—to reach some goal. And every one should put his very best into any game that is worth the playing at all. Winning need not be a burden, though one may, and should, enjoy the game while he plays.

I am sure the students glad to have Miss Tanner. We all know her well. "Expression Teacher," has another title now—"public speaking teacher." We'll all hear more about Tanner and her third period later on.

Senior Snap

Since school started they have been leading a very busy life. They have been spending their spare time in on tennis, so that they can get a year off on a flying start end their last year in high school with colors flying high.

On the first day of school elected class officers for the year. Mr. Reaves, the class president, was elected. Last year the class decided to have two presidents, one boy and one girl. Four boys nominated with Tommy winning over his opponent a very tight race. Next year were nominated with Grace winning for the "girl president." For vice-president, Millikin just walked away with the honors in the election secretary and treasurer.

These officials are worthy honors thrust upon them. Senior Class and so far they always been more than willing to do their part as well as to help others when necessary.

Will the faculty please the student body what it make them all smile today? it be that this is payday?

The Pep Squad

The Pep Squad had planned to have a parade last Friday at 6:45 o'clock, but it was rained out.

Although the girls did not have their suits last week, they plan on having them this week.

The Pep-Squad girls worked on a stunt for last Friday night, but had to give up the idea on account of not being able to have all of the suits.

Emma June Garland

Billy: "What kind of a brain has she?"
Tommy: "About a thousand scandalpower."

Sophomore Scenes

The Sophomore class met in room 210 with their sponsors, Miss Herring, Miss Morgan and Mr. Kimbrow, Thursday morning, Sept. 24, at 8:15 for the purpose of electing officers. Miss Morgan acted as chairman and the following officers were elected:

President ..... Polly Wiggins
Vice-Pres. .... Stanford McPherson
Sec. - Treas. .... Jackie Cruce
Reporter ..... Doris Duval

The Sophomores are going to do great things this term so this is a fair warning to the other classes to run in "High" if they intend to keep up with them.

Book Covers

The boys and girls of the high school wish to express their appreciation to the Majors Variety Store, Owens & Brumley Furniture Co., and the Barrow Grace Chevrolet Co. for the book covers given them.

They hope to show this appreciation by covering all of the books furnished by the state.

Our Teachers

"Knock, Knock!"
"Who's there?"
"Barbara."
"Barbara who?"
"Maybe we'd better not ask that."

So I walked into the Miss Tanner's room, (you, and forthwith asked for an interview, as we have something to fill space in the paper.

I quote Miss Tanner: "I consider Dallas my home as my sister lives there. She was born in Ardmore, Oklahoma. When I finished high school I attended a private school, School of Expression, at that I went to Texas University.

"Burkburnett has headquarters since 1930. I imagine my staying (years?) and before that in Henderson and Ardmore. I don't ask me how long I was here."

"This summer I attended University of Michigan weekly. I enjoyed the weeks, but I certainly want to return to Burkburnett. I am sure the students glad to have Miss Tanner. We all know her well. "Expression Teacher," has another title now—"public speaking teacher."

We'll all hear more about Tanner and her third period later on.

Junior Jabbering

This year the ex-Sophomores accept with seriousness the nified positions in the school things as mighty Juniors. Sanity of their new positions have elected the following officers—

President ..... Pauline Browning
Vice-President ..... Russell
Sec. - Treas. .... Melba
Reporter ..... Polly

Things are working very well this year; the study hall more studios and the rooms are more home-like ever before. The predominant feature of home-room party year is geometry, as nearly Junior has fallen heir to the cumulation of the knowledge the centuries. (It takes that long to get each lesson finds crooked triangles and center circles on all board sheets of paper near everywhere one turns, he expectedly greeted, usually back of the neck, by the end of someone's bright new compass.

The Juniors wish to call attention to the fact that the shining stars on this year's iron hail from their ranks pep-squad leaders, a larger portion of the Growl Staff, nearly everything else of importance, excepting the Class, of course, are Juniors.

The new members of our class this year are Harry Johnson, Wichita, Kansas, Joe Newman, Dixie Dillingham.

The largest room in the school is the room for improvement.

a million ways. A laugh-jammed, song-cram- med scramble of stars, songs and show-stoppers, "Sing, Baby, Sing" starts crowding the laughs in the opening scenes and only the sizzling songs and romantic love-making provide interludes from the side-splitting mirth.

Gregory Ratoff, a theatrical agent, aided by his secretary, Patsy Kelly, and his stooge, Ted Healy, is vainly trying to get a new job for Alice Faye, who has been fired from the night club in which she has been singing. On Alice's closing night at the cafe, Adolph Menjou a famous celebrity on a spree, disrupts her performance by insisting on doing the balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet.

Ratoff instantly visualizes a sensational chance for publicity and calls in the newspaper reporters, headed by Michael Whalen. Menjou finally winds up in an alcoholic hospital where no one can see him. Ratoff manages to crash the gate by convincing the hospital attaches that Ted Healy is Menjou's personal physician.

Punts And Passes

Fred Brown
I would like to be the first official welcomer of Fred Brown to the squad. Not because he is a good player now, but because he has, if he will take the game seriously, the possibility of becoming a great player for Burk Burnett. Starting in the eighth grade as a high school freshman, he will have four years ahead of him, and with all the natural talent that he has, he will be a wizard those last two years. Right now he shows up some of the more experienced hands of the team. We are starting keeping records on him, because we feel that as long as he continues to work hard and keep digging at every practice session, that he will be worth watching all four of those years ahead of him.

Punt and Grunt and Keep It Low

Of all the puffing that we ever heard it was at the camp last Monday afternoon as the squad broke into the last week of their training by tackling the charging machine. The idea is to have four boys line up and push the heavy timbers on skids over the terra firma. The exercise develops muscles for crashing and blocking. There was of course the "loud mouth" bunch that is in every camp, and did they come in for a bit of hefty competition. The interesting part was watching the coaches teach the chargers to keep the 'center of gravity' (if you want to call it that) low while they pushed.

Eagles 7 touchdowns - Bulldogs Nary One—1935

Pointing

There is one minor item in the training of the football team that the crowd never notices, and the starting back has a hard time keeping in mind. Before the play starts, a back must never do anything that will tip off the player who is to carry the ball or the direction in which the play is going. Time and time again a play may look perfect to the fans, but stops without gain. The simple cause is that some player has shifted his eyes, hands or feet to indicate whether or not he is to get the ball or the direction the play is to move. It may have seemed trivial to the rail birds that were watching the players practice this week that the coach ran several plays over and over after they had been perfected, but the trouble was that some boy pointed. The constant repetition was to keep any boy in the line or backfield from indicating where the ball was going, and finally the coach taught his lesson, it took a lot of work. It is about as important as any other play. The next time you watch a game, look at the backfield of each team and you will notice that when a play works almost every time the backfield has kept looking right straight down the field. Little things like that make the game either perfect or ridiculous.

42 Points They Made - Burk None

Season Tickets

Butler Westerfield did the sportsmanlike thing in offering the owners of season tickets either a refund on their money for the one game that was missed last Friday or allowing them to attend the Mineral Wells B and Burk B game, an extra on the schedule. The team took it on the jaw for about $150. or $200. last Friday night, and I, personally think that each fan that bought a ticket ought to cooperate with the school by not making a demand for cash reimbursement. However, Westerfield announces that they are ready to do so at any time.

The Hawks

I am afraid that the teams of this conference have been in the habit of beating Iowa Park so regularly, that they will be in for some embarrassing surprises before the season is over. The Hawks have nine lettermen, including 214 pound Sunday and a smart 150 pound Honeycutt for quarterback. There are three men on the team that have been playing together for four years, and you can imagine how they have developed co-ordination during that time with all the play together. The backfield was the starting backfield of last year's team. Two of the members have been together for three years. That's what makes a good ball team. Just imagine taking the present Burk team and keeping a backfield together for the next two years. Wouldn't that make a ball club for you.

Remember '35, Chillicothe 42 - Burk Burnett 0?

First Conference Game

The game next Friday will very definitely establish a leader in the conference. Burk Burnett or Iowa Park will come out of that game as rated with the conference's strongest. The two teams have been the object of a great deal of curiosity on the part of the teams over the district. The following week-end the team will return home for an engagement with Chillicothe for the first home game—providing it doesn't come a cyclone, flood or some other disaster.

Remember the score in 1935 with Chillicothe of 42 to 0 in favor of the Eagles?

Presbyterians To Hold Congregation Meeting Next Sun.

Members of the Presbyterian church will hold the meeting of the congregation for official business at the First Presbyterian church next Sunday night. The meeting was originally scheduled for last Sunday but the bad weather caused the postponement of the meeting. The moderator, Dr. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls, was unable to attend last week due to the cold, driving rain.

Dr. Horst will meet the Session, including the official board of the church at 6:30 Sunday evening. After the session meeting the members of the congregation will hold the annual business session. Every member of the church and those interested in the church's activities have been requested to be at the meeting. The selection of the pastor of the church will be the most important feature of the meeting.

Rental Shelves Add 16 Books

Sixteen new books were added to the rental shelves of the library this week, including several interesting recent publications. Of the very interesting newly released publications are J. B. Priestly's "They Walk in the City," and Christie's "Murder in Mesopotamia."

"They Walk in the City" by the author of several interesting books of English fiction and plays and essays, is a diverting love story of modern London. The experience of the leading characters transports the readers through an amazing series of passages of the simplicity of young people living in the complications of the rapidly moving life in a larger city. The irony is delicate and in-offensive, enough bitter philisophy to retain the sophisticate, and at the same time the human touch for the passing reader.

"Murder in Mesopotamia" is a typical Christie story for those who like interesting plots of fiction. The story is laid in the ever mysterious Eurasian background, and is as fascinating as such a background can be for a mystery and international story.

The other interesting books are "Diamond Roger Man," Cunningham; "Silver Hawks," Mowery; "The Hospital Murders," Davis; "Legacy of Death", Walling; "The Silver Bar Mystery," Tuttle; "Buck Peters, Ranchman," Milford; "West Apache Pass," Seltzer; "Heart of the North," Mowery; "Clear Trail," Seltzer; "The Singing Scorpion," MacDonald; "The Whoop-Up Trail," Bower; "Singer of the Wilderness," Mowery; and "The Spider's Touch."

The library will adopt a new policy of five cents for the first day and three cents for each day thereafter. The books were chosen by the book committee of Mrs. W. D. Bent, Mrs. A. B. Sandler and Mrs. A. R. Hill.

The third of the series of recently published books is Valentine Williams' "The Spider's Touch." This book is a contribution of the Club Foot series of secret service mysteries. The background of central Europe where most of the action takes place, furnishes an adequate picture for the intrigue and mystery of international spy systems.

Practically all fires are preventable. People should realize that all home fires are the result of carelessness, combined with a failure to correct simple fire hazards such as defective chimneys, dangerous wooden roof tops, etc. A lack of interest in a person's own welfare causes most fires.

Zane Grey Story At Tex Theatre

Zane Grey, one of the most imaginative and prolific authors in America, has had more of his works transcribed to the screen than many of the screen writers who have made movie writing their life's profession.

His virile, red-blooded stories of Western Americans, of which he is a recognized authority, have proven superb screen material. As far back as 1920 his stories were the cinematic rage. Veteran film fans will remember the series starring Jack Holt, among them "Wanderer of the Wasteland," "Light of the Western Stars,"

"Wild Horse Mesa," and "Born to the West."

Several years later America thrilled anew to "The Vanishing American," "Desert Gold" and "Heritage of the Desert."

Jaek Holt, now starring in a picturization of Zane Grey's "Outlaws of Palouza" entitled "End of the Trail," which will be showing Friday and Saturday at the Tex theatre, is, by virtue of the number of Grey characters he has interpreted, probably the best authority in Hollywood to discuss Grey's screen proclivities.

"Of all American authors, Holt opines, "Zane Grey is probably the only one who succeeded in interpreting the Old West with any degree of imagination, writing skill and fidelity to facts. His novels can be found on every American book shelf, as much a part of American literary life as James Fenimore Cooper or Har- old Bell Wright. It weren't for the fact that Grey wrote the greater part of his work while pictures were in swaddling clothes he might be suspected of being "movie-conscious."

You Will Be Glad To Know . . .

When you receive your bill this month, you will probably appreciate being reminded that it covers a period from about August 17 to September 20.

The three extra days on your account were necessary because even meter readers are sometimes stopped by rain. And you recall that the cool weather did not set in until time for your meter to be read. The bill you received October 1 reflected the current you consumed for refrigeration used during that trying time of the heat wave; for that fan which you ran into the night.

No matter what the weather, your municipal light plant strives to give you efficient service. It has been the means for reducing your light and power bills. It is good for a community to be proud, as are the citizens of Burkburnett, that "We own our own at home."
