Boy Scouts Adopt Jamboree Insignia

In connection with the 27th annual Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 17, the Boy Scouts of America has released the design of the official insignia more than 25,000 boys will wear at the National Scout Jamboree at Washington, D. C., where they will camp together from June 26 to July 9.

The compass is used in the design because the Scouts will come from "every nook and cranny" of the nation in response to President Roosevelt's invitation.

Boss Hudson Leg Broken In Game

Boss Hudson, popular referee of Burk Burnett, sustained a broken leg in the game between the First National Bank and the Bell Refinery Wednesday night. Hudson in an attempt to make a goal left the floor jumped as he threw. As he landed with all his weight on one foot, the bones in the left leg above the ankle were snapped.

Hudson was given treatment in the office of the high school by doctor Philip Carpenter and then carried to the Burk Burnett Clinic in an Owens-Brumley ambulance. The permanent set was made at the hospital.

Devol TEL Class Honors Member

The T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church of Devol, Okla., met in regular session on Jan. 28 and gave a surprised showed for Mrs. William Nelson, member of the class at the home of Mrs. K. B. Uthe. The opening number, the class song, started the program and Mrs. Bucy led in prayer. The devotional scripture from the 19 chapter of Matthew was given by the president, Mrs. Vernon Spier. The secretary assistant, Mrs. Vera Ellis gave the report of previous meetings. Mrs. J. C. Traweck led in prayer.

The social part of the hour was directed by Mrs. Marie Hinkle. Since the bride and groom Mr. and Mrs. William planned to leave for an extended trip next week, the members helped the bride pack the traveling bag. The first game was "filling the bag." Forty-five were present, eight packed the traveling bag. The next game was furnishing the bride's home. Mrs. Traweck won the prize. There were 18 members of the class and 21 visitors present, ten of whom were from Burk Burnett. Lovely refreshments were served by the co-hostesses Mrs. Ed Taylor and K. B. Uthe, by Mrs. B. L. Jackson, Devol.

Every Eligible Member Of Team Receives Award

Jacket-Sweater Combination Best Award Presented In Local School

ALL BOYS PASS

Every member of the eligible football squad received an award of a jacket from the high school this week as it was announced that all had passed the required number courses. Coach Volney Hill and Polk Robison announced that the boys who were eligible to receive letters made grades higher than the normal school average.

The team included John Blair, and Tom Spray, ends, Pappy Whitton and Harry Elliot guards, Hageman, center, Fred McPherson, Webb Martin, Tolly McKown, Marshall Teal, Avis Finch, Carl Cook, Murray Evans, Fred Brown, Ocie Reed, and Jack Kelly.

The jackets are reversible and has a black wool vest effect with orange letter B.

Stringtown WMU Honors Member

The members of the Methodist Missionary Society met in an all day quilting bee and honored Mrs. Carlos Ramsey in a shower at the home of Mrs. Troy Miller recently. The shower for Mrs. Ramsey, remembered as Miss Ruth Miller provided a large number of gifts.

Those enjoying the day were Mesdames Norris Owens, B. Garner, W. V. Combs, Drey Aven, W. A. Owen, of Grandfield, Okla.; O. V. Thompson, Carmeta Thompson, Eldon Thompson, Iowa Park; Frances T. Grozier, R. B. Jordan, R. H. Hill, Floyd Parker, Harry Morton, Bill Cauthorn, R. G. Hayes, A. R. Bunstine, J. O. Donehoo, Troy Miller, D. M. Morris, W. M. Lohmann, Jannie Raymond Holland, Robetta Holland, Newt Crane, Helen Parker, Dreda Miller, Carl Miller. Those sending gifts were Mrs. Hut Buzbee, Mrs. Wiley Bloxom, and Mrs. Bessie Payne.

Karl Cates and Floyd Jenkins of Devol were accepted as emergency flood relief workers at the Wichita Falls office of the Red Cross for work in the flood areas. The boys were the only ones accepted up to last Friday. They will report in the lower Mississippi area. The crew will work in rescue, evacuation and reconstruction work in the harassed districts.

Preaches Here

Rev. V. F. Love of Wheeler, Texas, will speak each evening at the Church of God on Preston Ave. The speaker will select subjects of special interest to young people. Services at 7:30.

Many Tourists To Pass During Show

Burk Burnett will again service tourists entering Texas from the northwest to visit the state and the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition, to open here in Dallas June 12, according to information received by Ned Blaine, exposition travel director, from Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer. These information booths are maintained by the state highway department, and are located at the 13 principal points of entry into the state.

This action was taken by the state highway department after many expressions of gratification were received from tourists last year who found them to be of great service to them in making their trips into Texas enjoyable, Blaine said.

Information, folders and maps will be supplied by both the highway department and the exposition, he announced.

Many of the booths are located on the border lines and are not within the corporate limits of the towns and cities.

Jr. University Club Studies Travel

Members of the Junior University club met at the home of Mrs. John Wimberly Monday night for a study of 2 Modern Ways of Transportation. Mrs. John Foster presided at the business session. Mrs. Randle Watkins was welcomed into the club as a new member.

In the study hour subjects for discussion included Amelia Earhart, air mail, and modern streamline train. The following were present: Mesdames Victor Spearman, Truman Garland, Volney Hill, Harold Van Loh, John Foster, Morris Strong, Randle Watkins, and Walter Morris, and Misses Alice Morgan, Bennie Lee Gales, Gladys Westbrook, Alice Westbrook, and Erna Schwieger.

Hoffman Explains Adoption Children

Luther Hoffman, prominent Wichita Falls attorney explained the adoption of children and laws related to the subject to members of the Rotary club at noon Tuesday. The speaker urged those interested to get in touch with the lawyers as soon as possible. Any lawyer, according to Mr. Hoffman, would be glad to explain the legal process gratis.

Visitors from Wichita Falls were Aaron Epp, Joe Farabee, and Sam Newsum. The club planned a joint meeting with members of the Lions club for next Tuesday night at the Rotary club hall.

Those attending the funeral of Mrs. Maggie Mootz in Snyder, Okla., Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fewin, Mrs. Artie Whitesides, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hill, Rev. H. M. Cowling, Bern Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Bazell, David Germany, Miss Sadie Fleming, Mrs. Jess Griffin, Mrs. Jack Chatham and Blanche Butler.

Old Men's Basket Ball Tournament Gets Under Way

Joints and Muscles Started Creaking As Benefit Tournament Is Played At High School

MUCH COMEDY IN GAMES

Druggists of Burk Burnett stocked and extra supply of bandages and antiseptics this week as the "old men" of the city started the annual old men's tournament for the benefit of the Bulldog basketball team Wednesday night at seven o'clock. In the opening game the First National Bank team will match its creaky joints and muscles against the equally retarded representatives of the Bell Refinery crew from Grandfield, Okla.

A large crowd is expected by the sponsors Raymond Wallace, Jingle Hayes and Coach Polk Robison. This aforementioned crowd is promised a lot of action for the first five minutes anyway. Advance reports indicate that frequent substitution and time out will be the order of the day.

The group that is probably short on wind and long on waistline will cavort to provide comedy and sport for the fans in the section. The funds will be used for the expenses in uniforms and traveling of the high school team.

Wednesday's complete schedule is First National Bank vs. Bell Refiners, 7 o'clock; Barrow-Grace vs. Firemen, 8 o'clock; Texas Co. vs. Modern Barber shop, 9 o'clock. Fridays games will be Bell Pipe Line vs. Lions club, Faculty vs. Beaver Bros. and Tucker Oil Co. vs. The Farmers.

The quarter finals will be played February 8, semifinals Feb. 11, and finals Feb. 11. That is if the "old men" survive the preliminary rounds.

W. J. Coffey Former Burk Citizen Dies

W. J. Coffey, 59, of Anadarko, and former citizen of Burk Burnett, father of Mrs. Ida Lee Spillers, night operator at the local telephone office, died at his home in Anadarko Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church in Duncan, Okla., Thursday with the Rev. Mr. Hurst, pastor of the church officiating. The burial was at the Duncan cemetery.

Mr. Coffey was formerly a resident of Burk Burnett. He worked for both the Humble and Continental oil companies. He was well known here before leaving the city in 1932. His death resulted from an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Spillers and daughter Deneatrice were at the bedside after Monday.

Mr. Coffey is a native of Kentucky. He came to Texas about 30 years ago, and was a resident of Burk Burnett for four years.

Other survivors were the wife, one son D. Coffey of Duncan, Okla. Mrs. Spillers returned to Burk Burnett Friday night.

LIONS CLUB

Miss Virginia Johnson contributed a series of piano and vocal numbers as the feature of the Lions club program Tuesday night. The entertainer accompanied her own vocal selections. Chester Duncan delivered the charge to the new members recently elected to the organization. S. J. Morman was selected as captain of the basket ball team that entered the old men's basket ball tournament.

Council Sets Feb. 28 Last Date For New Arrangements

Taxes Paid Before March 1 May Be Divided Into Four Parts

Voted Mon. Night

Plan Expected To Aid Local Property Owners On Tax Payments

Ross Reagan, city manager, announced Monday night that the city council had postponed the final date for the payment of taxes until Feb. 28, and that these payments before that date would be allowed to divide the payments into quarterly allotments.

The action was voted by members of the city council Monday night in the meeting at the city hall. The new plan recommended as an aid to the local property owners who had been burdened by payments of taxes in other divisions of local state and county governmental units.

Penalty Assessed

Those who do not make the first quarter's payment before the deadline midnight Jan. 28, will be assessed the full penalty with the whole assessment due on or after March 1. In order to take advantage of the quarterly payments the property owners must pay the first fourth on or before Feb. 28.

The new plan was adopted by a unanimous vote of the council after complete discussion of the plan to hurry up the collections for the local government.

Baptist Missionary Society Holds Meet

Members of the Baptist WMU met at the church Monday for mission program and business meeting. Mrs. C. B. Beldon had charge of the mission hour. The theme for the year adopted was "In His Name Among All Nations. Beginning at Jerusalem." "The Topic of the New Jew." The hymn for the month was Christ is all the world to me. The watchword adopted for the year is "Not by might nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts."

The Bible study was directed by Mrs. J. G. Cheney. Prayer that there may be a new day of spiritual power was led by Mrs. Hattie Buchanan. The group sang "Pentecostal Power." Mrs. Watkins discussed the Jew. Barrier between the Jew and Christian was discussed by Mrs. C. B. Beldon. Mrs. Clifton told of the Missionary to the Jews.

Mrs. Bowman spoke of the Keeper of Israel. Mr. Cartenhouse was remembered in a special prayer. The land of the Jews was discussed by Mrs. Collins. Southern Baptist work in Palestine was listed by Mrs. Hullum. The hymn "Kingdom Come" was sung. Loveth thou the Jew by Mrs. Beldon completed the program.

Mrs. Dean spoke of the Southern Baptist work among the Palestine Jew. The Morgan circle served luncheon at noon. Mrs. Cheney gave the devotional for the business session. Reports from the committees and departments were read and adopted.

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Morrison are ill with the flu. Dr. Morrison announced Thursday that he probably would not be at his office again until Monday.

Disastrous Flood Moves Down the Mississippi—Mass Evacuation Prepared—Secretary Perkins Moves to Compel General Motors Strike Parley.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union.

GRADUALLY the terrible flood in the Ohio valley subsided, but the yellow torrents were pouring down the lower Mississippi and the nation was mobilized to save the people there. By direction of the President and Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff, the army made all preparations for the evacuation of all inhabitants along the river between Cairo, Ill., and New Orleans. The details for this mass movement were worked out to the last point by commanding officers in the region and thousands of motor trucks and railroad flat cars were collected. Headquarters for the evacuation were set up at Jackson, Miss.

Lieut. Col. Eugene Reybold, district engineer at Memphis, ordered the prompt delivery of 5,000,000 burlap sacks for the erection of sand-bag bulwarks, 15 cars of lumber, 210 outboard motorboats, 300 small boats, 300 life jackets, and 1,300 lanterns.

The secretary of war authorized the use of not only regular army troops but also members of the Civilian Conservation corps, the National Guard, and the Red Cross.

General Craig said that if the billion dollar levee system, erected after the great 1927 flood, failed to hold, about the same area affected then would be inundated. Many thousands of people already had been removed from homes along the Mississippi, but cities like Memphis and Vicksburg, being on high ground, were believed to be safe. At New Orleans river experts refused to admit danger of a super-flood along the lower reaches of the river. But Secretary of War Woodring in Washington had reports from engineers which said the levee system on the lower Mississippi probably would not be able to withstand the present flood when it reaches its crest.

At this writing the effects of the flood may be thus summarized: Homeless, nearly a million. Dead, probably more than 500, including 200 in Louisville. Damage, conservatively estimated at more than $400,000,000.

Congress hurried through a deficiency appropriation of $790,000,000 which the President promised would be made available for flood relief; and the American Red Cross, working at high speed, was raising a fund of $10,000,000 to which the people of the entire country contributed liberally. Supplies of food, drinking water, clothing and medicines were poured into the stricken areas.

Cincinnati, Louisville, Portsmouth, Frankfort and Evansville were the worst sufferers; but every city, town and village along the Ohio and its tributaries shared in the disaster. Fires broke out in the Mill Creek district of Cincinnati and destroyed property valued at $1,500,000 before the flames could be controlled. Throughout the entire region transportation was crippled, pure water and fuel supplies were shut off or greatly reduced, and outbreaks of typhoid and pneumonia were threatened. In Louisville the light and power plant was forced to shut down.

In Frankfort, Ky., the state reformatory was flooded and the prisoners were removed to other quarters with the aid of troops. The convicts took advantage of the emergency to start a riot and about a dozen were killed. All of southern Indiana was placed under martial law by Governor Townsend.

FORTY THOUSAND employees of General Motors returned to part time work in reopened plants in Michigan and Indiana, and were unmolested by the strikers. But the deadlock was not broken, and the sit-down strikers continued to occupy the plants they had "kidnaped." President Alfred P. Sloan Jr., of General Motors had refused the invitation of Secretary of Labor Perkins to meet John L. Lewis, chief of the striking unions, while the strikers were still in forcible possession of plants, and President Roosevelt ominously termed this refusal "a very unfortunate decision on his part," intimating, also, that there was a prospect of labor legislation unfavorable to the corporation and to employers generally.

Sloan persisting in his attitude, Secretary Perkins started a move for legislation that would compel him to meet Lewis. In identical letters to Speaker Bankhead and Senator Joe Robinson, majority leader of the senate, she asked the prompt passage of a bill empowering her department to subpoena persons and papers in connection with investigations of strikes. To the press Miss Perkins said that once she had this power she would summon Sloan to a meeting with Lewis in Washington; but she was not sure she could compel him to negotiate a strike settlement.

Sloan had posted in all General Motors plants a denial that the corporation was responsible for the breakdown of negotiations and was "shirking our moral responsibilities." He reiterated his refusal to treat with the union so long as the sit-down strikers held the plants, and continued with a promise to employees:

"We shall demand that your rights and our rights be protected" against "a small minority who have seized certain plants and are holding them as ransom to enforce their demands."

"I say to you once more, have no fear. Do not be misled. General Motors will never let you down. You will not have to pay tribute for the privilege of working in a General Motors plant."

Sloan contends that more than 100,000 G. M. employees have expressed a desire to return to work. Lewis scoffs at this claim but will not countenance the holding of an election to determine whether his unions command the majority necessary to constitute them the sole collective bargaining agency. The federal labor relations board could order such an election but it has not intervened, and probably will not.

Governor Murphy of Michigan had not modified his refusal to permit the National Guardsmen stationed in Flint to be utilized in carrying out a judicial order that the plants be vacated by the sit-down strikers.

THE six-week strike of 7,100 employees of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company ended with approval by the union committee and company officials of a wage agreement giving a flat eight-cent-an-hour increase in all plants of the company. A one-year contract was signed.

The agreement provides for appointment of a committee of five to investigate wage rates of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company with a view to establishing uniformity of rates throughout the flat glass industry.

MAYBE it was just a promotion stunt for the book, but Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania, Democrat, introduced in the senate a resolution calling for an investigation of the truth or falsity of scurrilous charges made against the Supreme Court in "Nine Old Men," a volume authored by two conductors of a Washington gossip column. In offering the resolution Guffey made a bitter attack on the Supreme Court, saying:

"The President of the United States, with his characteristic frankness and courage, has opened for debate the most troublesome problem which we must solve if we are to continue a democracy."

"That problem is—whether the Supreme court will permit congress, the legislative branch of our government, which was equally trusted with the Supreme court by the framers of the Constitution, to perform its duties in making democracy workable and effective."

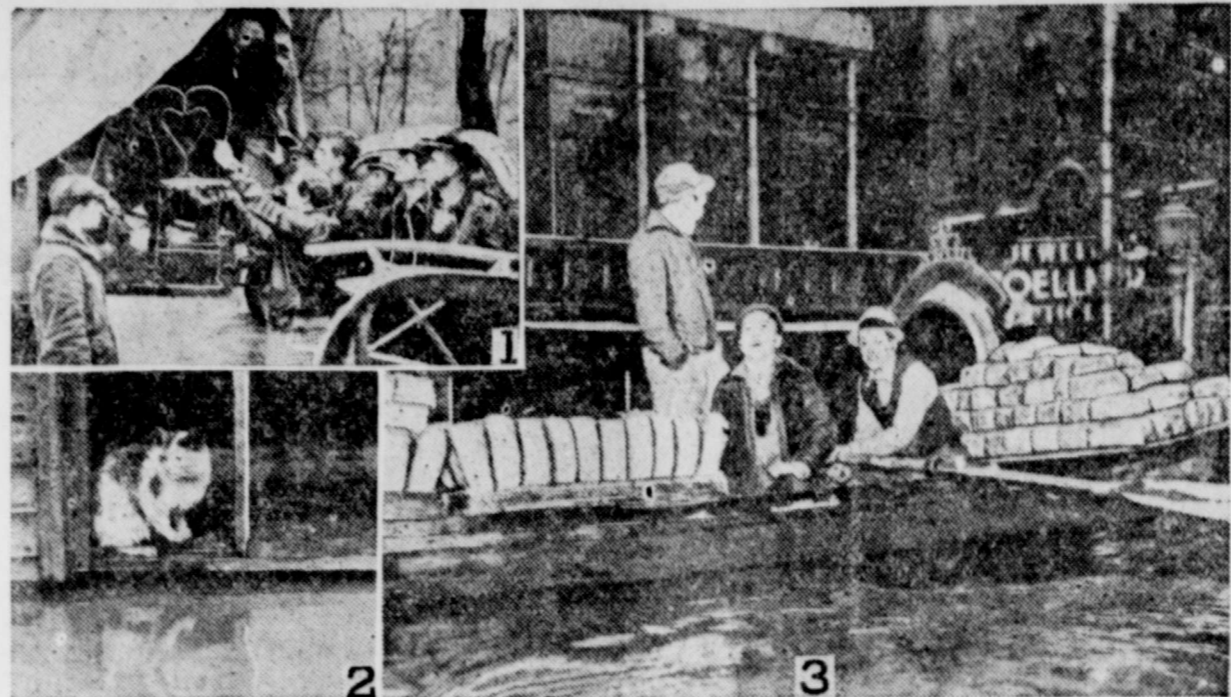

The senate heard Guffey's speech in silence and referred his resolution to the judiciary committee.

ARTIFICIAL scarcity of farm products is abandoned as a policy for the time being by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. He said in Washington that the two drought years of 1934 and 1935 have brought more thought on farm production by consumers and farmers than ever before. While a year or two of normal weather would tumble wheat prices, if full acreage is planted, the time has come for a lifting of the restrictions, he said.

"In the year immediately ahead, I feel that farmers should think primarily of their duty to consumers," Wallace said. "I think that in the coming year it is wise for us to produce as much as we can. We should, of course, divert a certain amount of corn and cotton acreage to soil conserving crops, because that will make for greater long time productivity of our farm land."

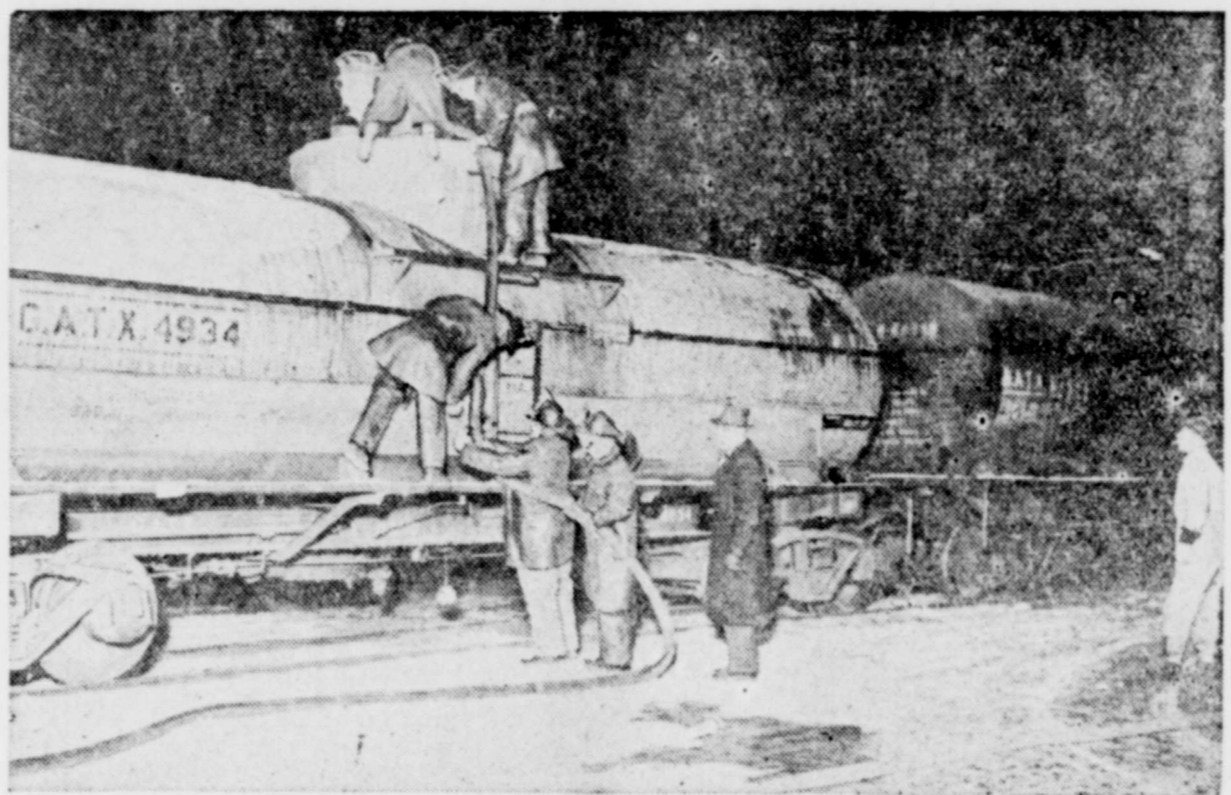

"But for the most part, let's fill up the storage bins this year. It is good policy to vary the plans for storage of crops in the soil according to the state of supplies in the granary above the ground."

Ohio and Mississippi Valleys Devastated by Flood

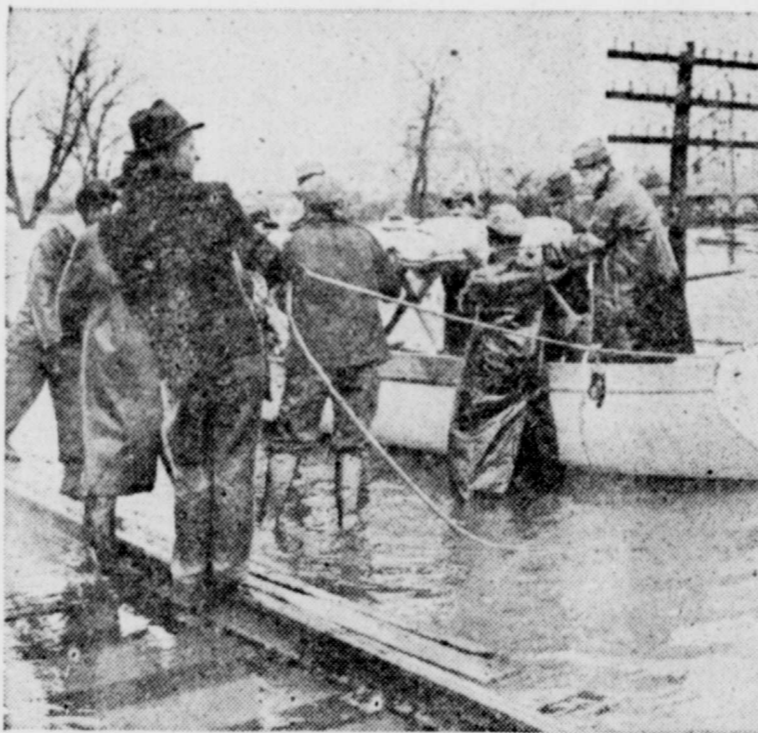

1—Flood refugees load their possessions aboard a truck prior to fleeing to higher ground. 2—Cat is marooned on a second story window ledge as Ohio river flood waters rise. 3—Flood sufferers at Portsmouth, Ohio, are fed by boatmen who row about streets, handing bread to refugees above the water line.

Tank Cars of Drinking Water for Flood Sufferers

Tank cars, normally milk cars, are shown being loaded with water in Chicago and started southward to the flood scourged sufferers in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys where water was so contaminated that it was unsafe for human consumption.

Coast Guard Rescues Flood Victims

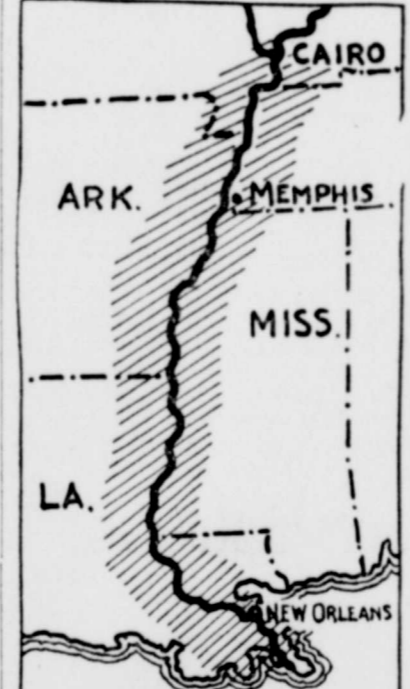

Flood victims in coast guard boats shown arriving at Jeffersonville, Ind., across the river from Louisville, Ky., where they were placed on refugee trains and taken to safety further north. Floods on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers were the worst in the history of the country. More than 1,000,000 people were made homeless by the treacherous waters that rose over retaining walls, inundated cities and towns and covered rich farm areas. Damage of property exceeded half a billion dollars.

Orphans of the Flood Find Refuge

Refugee children from the flooded districts of northern and eastern Arkansas are shown asleep on the floor of a railroad station following their rescue. With millions of acres of farm land under water and countless cities inundated, the Ohio and Mississippi valleys experienced the most devastating flood in history.

EVACUATION AREA

Largest peace time removal of civilians in history, the project was conceived to save the lives of more than 500,000 people.

HEADS FLOOD RELIEF

Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator who has directed the work of more than 50,000 federal relief workers in the flood area. Besides rescue and first aid work, the toilers have begun the task of rehabilitation—a job which it is estimated will confront Ohio and Mississippi river cities for several months to come.

Improved Uniform International LESSON

Lesson for February 7

JESUS THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

LESSON TEXT—John 8:12, 31, 32; 9:1-11.

GOLDEN TEXT—I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Passed By.

JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Passed By.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Is the Light of the World.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Walking in the Light With Jesus.

"The Light of the World Is Jesus!" Who does not remember with what delight we as children sang "Come to the light, 'tis shining for thee . . . The Light of the world is Jesus." How precious was the truth that thus flooded our souls. Jesus was the light, and just as the sunlight shed its glory on an awakening world at dawn, so he shed abroad the light of God in the hearts of men. The writer of these lessons pens these words with the prayer that as this portion of God's Holy Word is studied and taught, the light may break forth on many a soul caught in the bewilderment of this dark world.

Our study centers around three simple words fraught with beauty and rich in meaning.

I. Light (John 8:12).

The text says, "Then spake Jesus." When? Just after he had silenced the hypocritical accusers of a woman taken in sin, and had spoken the word of peace to her troubled soul. She was to "go and sin no more" because she had met him who is the "Light of the World." They that follow him "shall not walk in darkness"; they are the children of light, they have the very light of life.

II. Freedom (vv. 31, 32).

Free! Four letters, but what depth of meaning! Chains have fallen off, prison doors are open. The one who was bound is free.

But here we are concerned with an even more important liberty, the freedom of the soul. Many there are who boast of their independence but who are naught but slaves. Jesus said, "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin" (John 8:34), not its master.

How shall they be freed? Note three things in these verses. (1) A condition, "If ye continue in my word." This means not only a profession of faith but a daily appropriation and realization of his truth in life. (2) A promise, "Ye shall know the truth." The philosophies of men profess to be a seeking after truth but how few there are who look to the one place where it can be found—in Jesus Christ. (3) A result, "the truth shall make you free." Truth always sets free. Men are enslaved because, as in some foreign lands, they have not had the opportunity to learn the truth (we have failed to send it) or because they have rejected it.

III. Vision (John 9:1-11).

This is one of the most instructive passages in Scripture. A man born blind is seen by Jesus. His disciples note his intent and begin to theorize on a theological question. They had learned so little of the compassionate spirit of Jesus that they saw in this blighted life only an illustration of a theological theory. May God help us that we may never be so blind.

Jesus goes at once to work. He was in the world to do the works of God. He and the Father always work. Let us follow his blessed example. "The King's business requires haste." Let us work "while it is day, the night cometh when no man can work."

By a loving and gracious act, Jesus stirs in the heart of the man that faith which causes him to go, to wash, and, glory to God, he sees!

Such a personal experience of the divine power of the Son of God leaves no doubt in the man's mind that the one who caused him to see "is a prophet." All of a man's doubts concerning the deity of Jesus Christ disappear when he becomes his Saviour.

Read the remainder of the chapter and note how this man's faith is victorious in the face of trials, persecution, and even of excommunication; for outside the temple he met Jesus and takes him as his Lord. As Dr. Scroggie puts it, "His excommunication was a promotion. He went from the synagogue to the Saviour."

God's Mercy

O God, the whole world is as a drop of morning dew. But Thou hast mercy upon all . . . For Thou lovest all things that are, and abhorrest nothing that Thou hast made . . . Thou sparest all, for they are Thine, O Lord, Thou lover of souls.

The Word

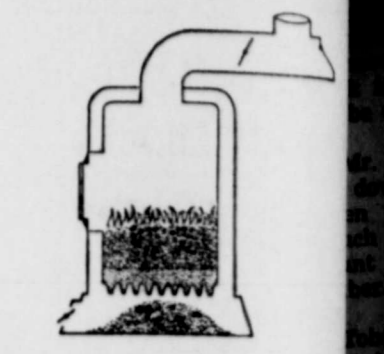

The word of God is solid; it will stand a thousand readings; and the man who has gone over it the most frequently and the most carefully is the surest of finding new wonders there.—James Hamilton.

Keep Furnace Ashpit Clean—Better Heat, Prevent Costly Repairs

SOMETIMES we are prone to grow careless and get the idea that all a furnace ashpit is for to receive ashes as they fall from the grates. As a matter of fact, however, receiving the ashes is but one of three important things an ashpit does. Escaping holding ashes, it performs the necessary function of receiving from the cellar and helping to tribute it uniformly throughout the fuel bed.

Those things being true, it is dangerous to neglect keeping an ashpit clean. Accumulated ash will cut off incoming air circulation and hamper the combustion of fuel, creating the besomous clinkers. An ashpit is choked up with ashes is liable to overheat the grates, resulting in their warping or breaking. This, of course, means expense in replacing the damaged grates.

So, I say again, don't take chances. Keep the ashpit clean out. Take a few minutes every day to remove the dead ashes.

MUSCLES FEEL STIFF AND SORE

Got Quick RELIEF From Pain

If muscles in your legs, arms, back or shoulders feel stiff and sore, a bottle of Hamlin's Wizard Oil gives quick relief. Rub it on—rub it in. Warm—soothes—gives wonderful relief. It won't stain. At all drug stores.

The Evil of Suspicion He that lives in perpetual suspicion lives the life of a sentinel never relieved, whose business is to look out for and expect an enemy, which is an enemy very far short of perishing him.—Young.

DON'T RUB YOUR EYES

Rubbing your eyes grinds invisible particles of dust and dirt right into the delicate lining making the irritation just that much worse. Use a little Murine in each eye—night and morning. Murine may be depended on to relieve eye irritation because it is a reliable preparation containing active ingredients known to be of value in caring for the eyes. Use 40 years. Ask for Murine at your drug store.

In Mutual Sympathy Nature has concatenated fortunes and affections together with indissoluble bands of mutual sympathy.—Barrows.

At Your Best! Free From Constipation

Nothing beats a clean system for health! At the first sign of constipation take purely vegetable Black-Draught for prompt relief. Many men and women say that Black-Draught is such a refreshing and its cleansing action, poisonous effects of constipation are driven out; you feel better, more efficient.

A GOOD LAXATIVE

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and a good sport. Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time. No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the transitional period of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife. Take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

business and talk the matter over with him.

Weil Hawkeye sure did slip away again from his better half Saturday and came over to one of the best little cities in North West Texas, that's no other city than Burk Burnett. Why does Hawkeye make this assertion. It is a very easy question answered. First, every woman, man and child in business or not has always got a pleasant word to every one from her sister state, Okla., as well as all tourists. They all cater to the poor same as the rich, makes no difference where you come from every one in Burk always have a smile and a howdy. That makes Burk Burnett the growing city it is. Every business man, little or big puts their shoulder to the wheel and every one pushes and the big wheel starts rolling. That is what has made Burk Burnett the city it is today.

It's 4:45 p. m., the drizzle which started about noon has ended up in a fairly good little rain. It's hoped that it will end up in a good hard all night rain.

Say folks, did you ever dream that Hawkeye has got a real mouth on him for good cake and pie. Well he has. You know there isn't no cook, man or woman can cook real cake or pie unless they have the finest of flour. Before I finish my cake and pie eating I must say that my wife is a real crank about good flour. She has used all of the leading brands of flour, such as the K. B., Light Crust, the Golden Crown and many others which were all fine brands. A few days past I tuned in on the Chuck Wagon gang where the 3 kids on the program they sure are best singers on the air. Just as they got off the air they gave us a little tune about Bewley's Best flour. So as my wife has tried out every brand of flour, almost, I say to my wife Dear before you start for home drop into the up to date wholesale grocery store of the Boyd Bros and get a sack of that Bewley's Best flour, and lets try it out. It must be fine flour if it wasn't any good the Boyd Bros. wouldn't handle it, as those boys don't handle anything in the staple line unless it is up to top notch. Sure enough my wife purchased a sack of that flour and the next day Hawkeye's wife proceeded to make him a cake out of Bewley's Best Flour. Say boy that cake was so light that my wife had a hard time to keep it in the cake pan long enough to get done through. Next day my wife cooked two pans of hot rolls from the flour sold at Boyd Bros. Just believe it or not that cake and those hot rolls were the best I ever sunk a tooth in. It's Bewley's best from now on.

What Kind of a Town Would This Town Be?

A town may be likened to a chain, and "a chain is only as strong as its weakest link." "Am I contributing to the strength or weakness of my community?" is a question every citizen may profitably ask himself.

The individual cannot be responsible for his neighbor's activity, but he can keep a close check on his own actions. Such actions should add to the strength of his home town.

"If you want to live in the kind of a town, like the kind of a town you like," you'll have to be a builder with vision. Your town will progress as you grow in outlook and endeavor.

The municipal light plant is a community project worthy of your loyalty. If you want a prosperous place in which to live, remember -- "It isn't the town, it's you."

of course he had to go from place to place. He dropped in the big Burk Burnett Star print shop. He found Mrs. Fred Brookman very busy at her typewriter sending and making out monthly statements. Just across from Mrs. Brookman was seated at his desk Mr. Fred Brookman, owner and manager checking up new subscriptions for the Burk Burnett Star. Back in the rear there sat John Brookman running the Linotype machine, drops of perspiration as large as hickory nuts falling off of his head. Listen good readers of the Burk Star everybody works in that print shop but their old dad.

From the print shop Hawkeye dropped in to see his friends at the C. C. There he found his friend the City Manager, the Hon. Mr. Reagan writing out poll tax receipts up to his eyes. Just a few feet away sat the Hon. Mr. Blackstone fire chief writing records down in a big book large enough to cover a big bed, and two young ladies were sitting with their arms folded to see that Bro. Reagan and the Chief was doing things o. k.

The next stop was in the C. of C. office. Who is the head squeeze of that honorable office is the Hon. Herman Brown. There by his side sat his assistant a very fine looking lady. The office was just crowded with men and women paying their taxes on their property and all other kinds of taxes. Say folks, honest I was just so sorry to see those two working so hard. I was in the secretary's office about 8 minutes and during those 8 minutes the young lady looking over large receipt books. Bro. Herman had a stack of tax sheets nearly two feet high. Several times while Hawkeye was in the office, before the guy could dig down in his old overalls and the ladies could get their $1.75 out of their socks to pay their taxes Herman would have their receipt all ready wrote out and waiting for the dough. Some swiftness.

The next stop was at Casey Logan's Battery and Radiator Station. To Hawkeye's surprise it took him several minutes before he got his old friend Casey Logan.

He found him inside of a big radio set soldering some wires. Folks, I bet Bro. Casey had 5,000 wires all around him. Say boy, you just ought to see what a fine job Casey done on that radio.

The next stopping place was down at the old reliable Battery and Auto Accessory station of Curley Bryant. I just stopped in to see Curley. He was so busy selling batteries and charging Batteries that Hawkeye just couldn't stand around for an hour or so, till the big rush was over.

Not a store in Burk Burnett Saturday from the News Stand to every dry goods and grocery store, but what was crowded. Down at Little Henry's and Hicks big grocery they had 4 extra young men carrying arms full of groceries out to cars parked nearby. Four or five blocks from Henry's and Hicks big store. Folks that's the way those boys cater to their customers. There isn't any other little city in Texas that will beat Burk Burnett to trade in.

Hawkeye.

An Opportunity Slipping

No definite action has been taken by any organization to date in reference to the celebration of the 30th anniversary of Burkburnett. Those who were associated with the enterprise of celebrating the silver jubilee know that it was a matter of months of very diligent work to bring to successful culmination that special event. Now it is only a little more than four months until the time for the birthday. It appears that we are letting an opportunity slip merely because no person or group has taken an aggressive and positive leadership in preparation for the time.

The celebration will present problems which will challenge the strength of the combined organizations. There will be plenty of work for everyone. Why not start right now.

The suggestion of the Star are as follows: A central executive committee of only five persons start the organization. This group should not represent a single organization but be independent of any group. Let it have power to appoint committees and delegate the work of the groups. For instance the Garden club would be given the task of conducting a cleanup and beautification campaign. The University club could be assigned the task of gathering accurate data on the city's history. Current Literature clubs could arrange adequate pageant or dramatic presentation in cooperation with the data collected by the Study clubs.

Such arrangements as invitation of guests and courteous hospitality for visitors could be safely placed in the hands of the service clubs and firemen. There would have to be some heavy financing. The C. of C. could work that out with ease. The point is that every group is able to take care of a special task, but let's get to work right now. There isn't any sense in delay.

Possible Elections

Poll tax payments are impossible, and the average person that paid last week had a very vague idea about the possible uses for the voting privilege this year. It is true that neither national nor state election of importance will be presented. However, there are several other votes that may make the possession of a tax desirable.

In Burkburnett there will be two elections of importance. The school board and city council membership will be presented. Two members of the council and three of the board must be elected this year. After all the national elections are not so important to the average person as the elections for governmental units that are closely related to him.

The other great possibility is liquor elections. There is the strong possibility that the state law will be changed to allow the sale of single drinks. If this law does pass, it is highly probable that an intensive campaign will be waged for local option elections. In Wichita county and this precinct, it is possible that the sale of liquor will be tested in the ballot box. The small margin of 30 votes in the last election in the Burkburnett precinct indicates that there isn't any assurance that the present system would stand a sudden test.

Change in constitution may be presented. Out of the present regular session of the state legislature may come one or more amendments for the vote of the people.

Another possibility is the complete revision or re-writing the state constitution. The sentiment for a revised constitution in Texas is growing rapidly.

Influence Of War

This district felt the strong impulse of war during the last few weeks when the sudden jump in the price of iron and other metal junk caused the large increase in the amount shipped from the area. The iron and major metal mines of the world can not produce metal fast enough to supply the demand for essential military materials.

In this fact is one of the major threats to world peace. If these commodities and others like them swing upward in response to mere threats of war, the illusion is created in the minds of those profiting that a long range benefit will be derived. It is not possible to talk to those profiting of the "social reaction" or "moral suicide" involved in conflict.

When dollars start speaking, such abstract theories of neutrality are forgotten. And this local reaction is only a minor matter. On a large scale the same thing is happening to other industries. The pressure exerted by this group that is profiting may be stronger than the pressure exerted by those believing in peace.

Farmer's Position

The main objective and policy of the present national government has been to increase standard of living for the farmer and other groups in the lower income bracket. President Roosevelt believed before he was elected and still believes that in order to achieve national sanity and economic soundness that the whole social order must have a more solid foundation that it has had for two or three decades.

For that reason the president started by helping the men at the bottom of the economic heap. That has meant helping the unemployed and the farmers. These two groups had suffered most from the chaos brought about by the depression.

Since the policy of aiding this group has been so successful in re-establishing confidence and prosperity, many groups have attached themselves to the president's band wagon and yelled lustily of the great work that they (the organizations) and the president have been doing. It brings to mind the story about the flea and elephant shaking the bridge as they crossed it.

This paper has been in sympathy with the farmers, and every objective that they have, has received cooperation and understanding from the paper. We believe that the most important element of any community is the farmer element. The prosperity and even the social welfare of the community depends on how well that community takes care of its farmers.

Therefore the paper has expressed a desire to cooperate with any effort on the part of the farmer to make more comfortable their position. This desire has taken concrete form in actual movements sponsored for their advantage. Every effort of the local business men to help the farmers has had the full backing of this paper. The paper has taken the initiative in many such enterprises.

The weakness of the farmers in the past has been their inability to make their voice heard. What attempts to organize them have been made have not always been sincere efforts. The farmers position can be strengthened only by his own initiative. When the day comes that he voluntarily organizes for improvement, that day will make him a national and local political power. Until then all artificial attempts to make the farmer a bloc will be defeated.

Free Press

One of the most ridiculous events in the history of the newspapers happened in Italy Wednesday morning. One of the newspapers of that nation under the dictator published a purported interview with Chas. Lindberg. The interview quoted Lindberg as saying "I am filled with much admiration for the country, whose history, ancient and modern, is the very core of civilization, and I should like to remain with you much longer."

Americans got a real laugh out of that article, especially the American newspaper men. Veteran reporters all over the world must be chuckling about the supposed interview.

It seems impossible that any newspaper man in any nation would be so careless as to attribute to the Lone Eagle such a lengthy statement. Lindberg is noted for the brevity and conciseness of every thing that he says. He would never get out that many words at one time. The interview is obviously, false and it was proved to be false the day after it was published.

People in the United States can not understand how such an obviously ridiculous statement could be made by a self-respecting newspaper. There isn't the slightest comprehension here of how completely the press of that nation is dominated by the government.

This story illustrates how completely the papers are dominated. The press evidently wished to please the dictator so much and wished to impress the people with additional propaganda that the false interview was published. No denial will ever withdraw from the minds of the people the result of the statement. Thousands of Italians will always believe that the aviator and American made the statement.

So it has served its purpose for the dictator. It has helped him in the job that he has of selling his system to the people, or in keeping sold to the people already dominated in every major and minor activity of their lives.

Out of it will come a conviction in the hearts of the Fascisti that they have a wonderful sort of an arrangement after all if it is the object of envy by the American famed aviator.

Hitler's Speech

Once again Hitler disturbed the European cabinets with an announcement that Germany was not satisfied with the Versailles treaty. Starting four years ago, Der Fuehrer completed the complete scrapping of the famous treaty when he announced to the assembled Reichstag Saturday that he was repudiating the "confession of guilt" signed by the German nation following the world war. One of the requirements forced onto the weakened nation following the conflict was that they admit that Germany caused the war, and was guilty of indemnity. Therefore Germany was required to pay the expenses of the conflict. Among these payments extracted were the colonial possessions of the empire. This admission of guilt has been a source of humiliation to the people of the nation. Saturday before a widely cheering crowd of the legislature, Hitler said "for the last time I hereby solemnly withdraw the signature of Germany from that declaration forced on a weak government against its better knowledge."

Reaction In Europe

Fear spread through the capitols on two counts. The same speech state that Germany would not be content until the colonial possessions had been regained. England stated that it slammed the door on efforts to make lasting peace in Europe and that Germany must join the league of nations before England would take up the matter of colonies. France stated that they would not join Germany in any move until Hitler stopped his attack on Russian people. Italy praised the stand as a brilliant attack on communism. In calling Soviet Russians "Lustful murderers" Hitler made accord impossible. The speech was the 55 section of the Versailles treaty that Hitler has scrapped in his four years as the head of the German government.

Young Marriages

The next time this editor hears some one criticize India for its laws which allow the marriage of children, he will take a clipping about the marriage of the nine year old Tennessee girl to 22 year old man. That would not be so bad if it were a rare happening, but too often similar stories have broken in the United States. Why these self professed civilized states of ours do not make some law to regulate and make impossible such things is more than I can understand. For years we have been sending money to help the Chinese and Indians learn better than that, but right at home the United States continues to allow such events.

A Little Rumor

It is wonderful what a small rumor can do. Some one in Wichita county started the rumor last Friday that the county would vote on local option. Before the story started making the rounds, this year appeared headed to make a record in low number of poll taxes paid. Before Saturday was over 2000 taxes had been paid and a new high for the past seven years was established for off year. That shows how remarkably powerful a little story can be when it plays on the fears or ambitions of people. The payments were fairly evenly divided between the wets and dries, and probably the same ratio of balance was retained. It will be interesting to watch what will happen in case an election is called on local option.

Absolutely Crazy

Sometimes it appears that tax payers are the craziest people in the world. The citizens of Wichita county demand that the expenses of the government be cut when the elections were held last summer. The commissioners took the vote seriously and started slashing right and left when the new year started. Every time a deputy was fired or a salary was cut a new protesting delegation started toward the court house. It seems that everyone wants the expense of the government cut without cutting salaries, firing deputies, or retrenching in the service rendered by the county. Now we would like to know how in the world are the commissioners going to make government cheaper and at the same time take care of more relief, make better roads, hire more deputies, and keep everybody's salary up to top notch. The result is that there is a $116,749 debt hanging over the county treasury.

G-Men In Texas Case

If the person who disposed of the Blanton case where the two men who disappeared on the edge of the vast King ranch near San Perlita are the persons who wrote the warning note to the brothers of the men, they made a sad mistake that will probably mean their arrest. They wrote a note warning the brother of Luther and John Blanton saying that the brother and son had better be careful. This letter was sent through the mail, and the result is that down from Washington rode two government G-men. Now these men will stay on the case until it is solved or hopelessly closed.

Oil Advances

The best news that has broken in this district in several months is the advance in the price of oil. The new price gives enough margin to make operations that were at loss were carried on for hope for such an increase.

Mrs. Suttle Honored At Shower Recently

Mrs. Andrew Suttle was honored at a shower given by the members of the Missionary society of the First Baptist church Tuesday, Jan. 26 in the T. E. L. class rooms at the church. A beautiful devotional was given by Mrs. Frank Watkins on the birth of Christ. Mrs. Suttle was led into the room where many beautiful and useful gifts awaited her. After all members had inspected the gifts a delicious refreshment was served. Those present were: Mesdames Hattie Buchanan, H. A. FLUENCED to a great extent by thousands of letters from fans, Norma Kruger has definitely decided to make more pictures in New York, where she is to visit Helen Hayes, telephoned the studio she would come back ready to begin preparatory work on "Marie Antoinette." She chose this story preference to any other because she had discussed in detail its production with her husband before his death. Actual date of production depends on Charles Hinton, because she is determined to have him in the picture and he is under contract to make several pictures in the near future. It is good to know we will be seeing Norma on the screen again.

most encouraging and sympathetic audience any girl ever had in making a film. When she tried to act, she was so good that she was right on the side of the camera and cheerfully. Some people think that she is a natural. She won glory in tournaments for young girls, but she thinks it is better to get in the big earnings that will come with glory in pictures.

Carole Lombard

Her favorites are moving on to Hollywood. Harriet Hilliard is back at R. K. O. Milton will be there soon, and very soon it will be for him too because he has to pay all the expenses of his radio troupe west. When Fred Allen will move his pasting activities to Hollywood so that he can make another picture for Twentieth Century-Fox. It will be in "Sally, Irene and Joe" a new version of an old picture which launched Constance Bennett and Joan Crawford on their careers.

August personages at NBC Broadcasting company's service have put a new under contract and they are fairly swamped with mail about her. She is Minnie, singing mouse, who appeared in the National Barn Dance and who will probably be in a program of her own soon. She was trained by W. W. Woodstock, a veterinarian who noticed that when he was playing the piano, one of the mice uses for experimental purposes to follow the tune.

amount is going to defy the attempt to make a picture that has long been a jinx in studio. They started it last with Marlene Dietrich, and it was about half-finished, she quit and declared that she had none of it. So, Paramount engaged Margaret Sullavan to place her, and then little Sul-tripped over a cable and fractured her arm. Paramount still the story, once called "Hotel" and then "I Loved a Soldier" and also they like very much the Viennese actress named Ziska Gaal, so they are going to attempt to make it with her.

George Cukor, who will direct "The Wind," is determined to cast some girl who is not very well known in pictures in the lead. One faction at the studio wants Tallulah Bankhead, whose tests have shown her to be a brilliant actress, but too old for the early part of the story. Others want Margaret Sullavan. But by far the most promising candidate is very young and vivid actress Jean Harlow named Platt.

DS AND ENDS—The M.G.M. is busily pairing off their stars, just professionally, trying to get a combination as sure as the dice as Gary Cooper and Jean Harlow have proved to be. They are to try Jean Harlow with Robyn Taylor, Joan Crawford with Wil Powell. Both Warner Brothers and Paramount are trying to get Conrad and Gertrude Lawrence their nine short plays, that are way's biggest hits, as screen. But a radio sponsor is top their every bid. . . . Portland always maneuvers an invitation and Sunday away from home, he said. "They'll be coming out for the first race before long." Vance gave him an appraising look and rose.

THE GARDEN MURDER CASE By S.S. VAN DINE

Copyright S.S. Van Dine W.N.U. Service

SYNOPSIS
Philo Vance, famous detective, and John F. X. Markham, district attorney for New York county, are dining in Vance's apartment when Vance receives an anonymous telephone message informing him of a "disturbing psychological tension at Professor Ephraim Garden's apartment" advising that he read up on radio-active sodium, consult a passage in the Aeneid and counseling that "Equanimity is essential." Professor Garden is famous in chemical research. The message, decoded by Vance, reminds him that Professor Garden's son Floyd and his young cousin, Woodie Swift, are addicted to horse-racing. Vance says that "Equanimity" is a horse running next day in the Rivermont handicap. Vance is convinced that the message was sent by Dr. Siefert, the Gardens' family physician. He arranges to have lunch next day at the Gardens' penthouse. Vance is greeted by Floyd Garden and meets Lowe Hammie, an elderly follower of horse racing. Floyd expresses concern over Swift's queer actions. Mrs. Garden, supposedly ill, comes downstairs and places a $100 bet on a horse.

When the two instruments and the amplifier had been stationed and tested, Sneed brought in four more card-tables and placed them about the drawing-room. At each table he opened up two folding chairs. Then, from a small drawer in the stand, he took out a long manila envelope which had evidently come through the mail, and, slitting the top, drew forth a number of large printed sheets approximately nine by sixteen inches. There were 15 of these sheets—called "cards" in racing parlance—and after sorting them he spread out three on each of the card-tables.

When the butler had gone Garden lifted the receiver from the hook of the telephone and dialed a number. After a pause he spoke into the transmitter:
"Hello, Lex. B-2-9-8. Waiting for the dope." And, laying the receiver down on the stand, he threw the switch key forward.
A clear-cut, staccato voice came through the amplifier: "O. K., B-2-9-8." Then there was a click, followed by several minutes of silence. Finally the same voice began speaking: "Everybody get ready. The exact time now is one-thirty and a quarter—Three tracks today. The order will be Rivermont, Texas, and Cold Springs. Just as you have them on the cards. Here we go. Rivermont: weather clear and track fast. Clear and fast. First post, 2:30. And now down the line—"

Garden leaned over and threw the amplifier switch up, and there was silence in the room. He turned to his cousin. "Why don't you take Vance and Mr. Van Dine upstairs, and show them around the garden? . . . They might," he added with good-natured sarcasm, "be interested in your lonely retreat on the roof, where you listen in to your fate. Sneed has probably got it arranged for you."
Swift rose with alacrity.
"Damn'd glad of the chance," he returned surlily. "Your manner to-day rather annoys me, Floyd." And he led the way down the hall and up the stairs to the roof-garden, Vance and I following.
The stairway was narrow and semicircular, and led upward from the hallway near the front entrance. In glancing back up the hall, toward the drawing-room, I noticed that no section of that room was visible from the stair end of the hall. I made this mental note idly at the time, but I mention it here because the fact played a very definite part in the tragic events which were to follow.
At the head of this narrow stairway we turned left into a corridor, barely four feet wide, at the end of which was a door leading into a large room—the only room on the roof. This spacious and beautifully appointed study, with high windows, on all four sides, was used by Professor Garden, Swift informed us, as a library and private experimental laboratory. Near the door to this room, on the left wall of the corridor, was another door, of calamine, which, I learned later, led into a small storeroom built to hold data.

Half-way down the corridor, on the right, was another large calamine weather door which led out to the roof. This door had been propped open, for the sun was bright and the day mild. Swift preceded us into one of the loveliest skyscraper gardens I have ever seen.
We walked leisurely about the garden, smoking. Swift was a difficult man to talk to, and as the minutes went by he became more and more distant. After a while he glanced apprehensively at his wrist-watch.
"We'd better be going down," he said. "They'll be coming out for the first race before long."
Vance gave him an appraising look and rose.

Despite the superficial buoyancy of the gathering, I could detect an undercurrent of extreme tension and expectancy; and I made mental note of various little occurrences during the first hour or so.
One incident connected with Swift puzzled me greatly. I had noticed that he and Zalia Graem had not spoken to each other during the entire time they had been in the drawing-room. Once they had brushed against each other near Garden's table, and each, as if instinctively, had drawn resentfully to one side. Garden had cocked his head at them irritably and said:
"Aren't you two on speaking terms yet—or is this feud to be permanent? . . . Why don't you kiss and make up and let the gaiety of the party be unanimous?"
Miss Graem had proceeded as if nothing had happened, and Swift had merely given his cousin a quick, indignant glance.

CHAPTER III
"The great moment approaches!" Garden announced, and though he spoke with sententious gaiety, I could detect signs of strain in his manner.
Kroon rose, finished the drink which stood on the table before him, and dabbing his mouth with a neatly folded handkerchief which he took from his breast pocket, he moved toward the archway.
"My mind was made up yesterday," he spoke across the room, as if including every one. "Put me down in your fateful little book for $100 on Hynjix to win and $200 on the same filly to place. And you can add $200 on Head Start to show. Making it, all told, half a grand. That's my contribution to the afternoon's festivities."
"Not deserting us, are you Cecil?" Garden called after him.
"Rightfully sorry," Kroon answered, looking back. "I'd love to stay for the race, but a legal conference at a maiden aunt's is scheduled for 4:50." He waved his hand and, with a "Cheerio," continued down the hall.
Madge Weatherby immediately picked up her cards and moved to Zalia Graem's table, where the two women began a low, whispered conversation.

Garden's inquiring glance moved from one to another of the party. At this moment a young woman of unusual attractiveness appeared in the archway and stood there hesitantly, looking shyly at Garden. She wore a nurse's uniform of immaculate white, with white shoes and stockings, and a starched white cap set at a grotesque angle on the back of her head. She could not have been over thirty; yet there was a maturity in her calm, brown eyes, and evidence of great capability in the reserve of her expression and in the firm contour of her chin. She wore no make-up, and her chestnut hair was parted in the middle and brushed back simply over her ears. She presented a striking contrast to the two other women in the room.
"Hello, Miss Beeton," Garden greeted her pleasantly. "I thought you'd be having the afternoon off, since the mater's well enough to go shopping. . . . What can I do for you? Care to join the madhouse and hear the races?"
"Oh, no. I've too many things to do." She moved her head slightly to indicate the rear of the house. "But if you don't mind, Mr. Garden," she added timidly, "I would like to bet two dollars on Azure Star to win, and to come in second, and to come in third."
Every one smiled covertly, and Garden chuckled.
Vance, who had been watching the girl with more interest than he usually showed in a woman, leaned forward.
"I say, Garden, just a moment." He spoke incisively. "I think Miss Beeton's choice is an excellent one—however she may have arrived at it." Then he nodded to the nurse. "Miss Beeton, I'll be very happy to see that your bet on Azure Star is placed." He turned again to Garden. "Will your book-maker take $200 across the board on Azure Star?"
"Will he? He'll grab it with both hands," Garden replied. "But why?"
"Then it's settled," said Vance quickly. "That's my bet. And two dollars of it in each position belongs to Miss Beeton."

Black Cat Superstitions Found in Many Sections

Tales of black cats are not confined to European countries; there are plenty found all through the states. Most of us are familiar with the black cat crossing the path, etc., notes a writer in the Los Angeles Times, but in the Middle West there is an old saying that "the skin of a black cat worn in the clothing will cure rheumatism." Another belief is that the blood of a black cat is a sure cure for shingles, and the same treatment is a remedy for hives. In the South the negro's superstitions include the black cat as a cure for consumption. Three hairs from a black cat's tail are sufficient to relieve a boil and a sty may be treated by brushing it nine times with a black cat's tail.
There are any number of superstitions regarding the weather. If a cat washes its face before breakfast it may mean rain, if it sits with its back toward the fire it may mean frost, if the fur is shiny the weather will be good. Another amusing story is that a cat sneezing on the wedding day is a good omen for the bride; if a kitten comes to the home in the forenoon it will bring good luck with it. In Scotland, if a black cat walks into the house he brings the best with him. If one should kill the animal he will suffer reverses of fortune for a period of nine years.

Hair and features are done with a few simple embroidery stitches. Grand indeed for gifts

Early Hardships
The Kansas pioneers lived hard lives. They had no fountain pens to lean on their fingers. No telephones to ring while they were taking baths. No motor cars to get flat tires or run out of gasoline. No radios to burn out tubes or be overcome by static. No brush salesmen to ring their doorbells. And no newspapers to make them mad. It took real men to stand up under such hardships.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

How to Ease a Cold Quickly

Get Quick-Acting, Quick-Dissolving Bayer Aspirin. Take 2 Tablets

The modern way to ease a cold is this: Two Bayer Aspirin tablets the moment you feel a cold coming on. Then repeat, if necessary, according to instructions in the box.
At the same time, if you have a sore throat, crush and dissolve three BAYER tablets in one-third glass of water. And gargle with this mixture twice. The Bayer Aspirin you take internally will act to combat the fever and pains which usually accompany colds. The gargle will provide almost instant relief from rawness and pain, acting like a local anesthetic on the irritated membrane of your throat.

Sophomore News

The high classed sophomores under the direction of the sponsor Tyson and president Zink took a whirlwind of a notion to go to the show. Of course the sophomores have formed the habit of doing their business in a whirlwind and from the reports some of the boys acted like cyclones. But getting down to business the name of the show was "Jungle Princess" and would Pug like to have been the Jungle Princess. Ahem. When Billy was asked why he got home so late, he merely said that the show was good and so good that he had to stay and see it over again. Especially one part. She was a cute swimmer wasn't she Billy. And after the show everyone went straight home. Well you can think that anyway.

Sport News

The basket ball boys and volleyball girls played at Iowa Park last Tuesday, Jan. 26. The basketball boys won. The scores being 27-7. The Fairview fans were also mighty happy to have Scotty McCall out on the court playing ball again. The girls lost their games. There were several girls out all last week due to the influenza and we hope to have the girls back in school and playing ball this week.

Friday, Jan. 29, the boys and girls journeyed to Clara. We brought home the bacon and left the Greyhounds howling.

The basketball game was very exciting and when time for the game to be over the scores were 14-14, and the extra time of three minutes was played. Tommy made a field goal giving us a two free shots lead. Then Wendell's foul on Ferguson gave Clara two free shots, however, only one of them was made, the final score being Fairview 16, and Clara 15. Several girls on the volleyball team were ill at that time and the game was lost to the Clara girls.

Civics

Most of the students in the new civics class are juniors and seniors. An interesting debate has been taken up, which is still in progress at the present time. The question in debate is: "Resolved, young people should be allowed to vote before they are twenty-one years of age, if they have had a law course."

Many interesting opinions have been discussed or argued. The class has taken up the chapter concerning the different types of government, and as it is very interesting, they should have more interest in our government, today. A discussion of current events is brought up every morning in class, and this tends to make the class more interesting, and clear. They are making a scrap book of current events collected.

Senior News

The Seniors are still on their way to Carlsbad Cavern. In speech class, the seniors are working on two one-act plays to be presented March 5, 1937 in the auditorium. One of the plays is the Interscholastic League play. The name of it is "Silence Please". The cast consists of Scotty McCall, Margaret Lee Bogy, Mildred Seidetz, and Dorothy Siber. The other play is "D-298". The cast Albert Zink, Bessie Cuddeback, Iva Jim Banning, and Fred Key. The seniors are still selling sandwiches, cookies, coffee, candy and other things at ball games to get money for their trip.

New Students

Fairview is glad to welcome Vivian Martin and Ester Lee Story to the high school roll. Louis Tol Bogy started back to school Monday, but he is not a new member. He was out the first semester due to illness. Several members of the high school and also grade school have been absent because of flu. Most of the absentees were present Monday morning.

never had a comfortable lead at any point in any game, but they have won every one of those games. Two things explain the situation. The tight defense and the slow deliberate attack. There is a team in the district that has scored more than 25 points on the team. Very few teams have been able to get over the 20 point mark, and a few have made 15 points or less. Any team that can hold down its opposition to such scores doesn't have to hit the goal very often. The team this year is a direct contrast to the winners of last year. That combination led by O'Guinn was a high geared scoring machine.

County Tournament

Now that Fairview has won the round robin, many fans are asking what chance do they have in the tournament. My prediction is that it is highly probable that they will be defeated in the approaching tournament. Many of the games have been won by a single point, and several by very narrow scores. The powerful Electra team, ambitious Clara and Valley View teams might rise up and smite the leaders. Even Burkburnett is still in the running for tournament honors. If the team learns to hit the basket about half of the time that it gets a shot at it, the team would win more often.

Field Goals

Coach Polk Robison has worked out some pretty plays that get the boys down in scoring position with a wide open shot at the loops. However, only one thing can make a boy good at hitting the steel hoop—that is practice. I mean practicing several hours a day all through the fall and winter season. Field goals win games but it takes expert coordination to toss the sphere into the loop—especially with five fellows charging down on your neck. That coordination can be achieved only by the unlimited patience of practice hours. A fair illustration of how difficult the task is and how much concentration it takes this—imagine my trying to operate this typewriter—a task of skill and coordination—with four or five men hanging around my neck trying to see to it that I didn't hit the right key. Shooting goals must become a habit that can be successfully carried out under very difficult conditions.

All County Team

The Burkburnett Star is selecting an all county team. This will be selected by the coaches of each of the teams in the county. The coaches have been mailed cards and invited to list the best five and the second best five in the county. Every coach has seen the teams in action at least one time. They should have their minds made up about the valuable players. At the same time the coaches have been asked to select the man whom they think is most valuable to the team. The single individual whom they would pick if they had the choice of their own team from the whole county. If the coaches return the ballots in time they will be published next Thursday, the day before the start of the county tournament.

Old Men Tournament

The old men's tournament deserves the attendance of every fan in the city. The Bulldog team needs the funds that will be raised by the playing and the fans will have more fun than they have had at any time in their entire life. One team—that of the Lions Club will weigh 1,000 lbs. That ought to be a sight for any one who appreciates a lot of laughs.

Basket Ball Notes

Low Score Winner

I am still amazed at the low score champions, the Fairview Bears. Last week this column attempted to explain why the Bears were able to win by small margins and low scores, but that was a futile attempt. Coach Randle Watkins has developed a system that is either very smart or very dumb. You can figure it which by looking at the record of the team. In eight straight games the round robin winners have

International Centenary Celebrations Honor D. L. Moody

D. L. Moody Preaching, in 1897, Haymarket Opera House, London, England. Lord Kinnard and Gladstone on Platform.

CHICAGO—The Moody Bible Institute of this city is making unusual preparation for its Founder's Week Conference, January 31 to February 7, since February 5 is the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of D. L. Moody, its founder, whose fame as an evangelist and winner of souls during the latter part of the last century encircled the globe. The Founder's Week Conference may be thought of as the heart of the D. L. Moody Centenary Celebrations now being held in some fifty of the chief cities of America, and in many others in the British Isles.

The debt that the world owes to the great lay-preacher, who left a shoe business in Chicago to proclaim the Gospel, may be indicated by the fact that in one four-month period of intensive work in London, Moody, with his famous song helper, Ira D. Sankey, preached the Word of God and sang the Gospel to 2,530,000, that number having attended 285 meetings held by them. In the Royal Haymarket Opera House (pictured above) sixty services brought together more than 330,000, among them being men high in the councils of the nation, William Ewart Gladstone and Lord Kinnard, shown at Moody's right in the picture, were staunch supporters of the great soul-saving movement in London.

It is the prayer of many that the D. L. Moody Centenary Celebrations through the year 1937 will prevail to awaken a widespread spirit of concern for the revival of the Church of Christ and the salvation of many souls. Eminent speakers from abroad are joining with world-famed preachers and Bible teachers in a great movement of preaching and Bible teaching, similar to the Founder's Week program in Chicago.

Local Current Literature Club Hostess At Tea

The Rotary hall club was the scene of a delightful tea given Thursday afternoon by the members of the Current Literature club. For the occasion the rooms were decorated with sweetpeas and palms, chosen to emphasize the club colors. The tables were covered with beautiful lace cloths and held mirrored reflections and arrangements of the flowers and candle sticks in which pink tapers burned.

The receiving line was composed of Mesdames A. H. Lohoefer, B. F. Gilchrist, and M. W. Majors. Mrs. J. L. Caffee presided at the guest book. Mrs. M. C. Tucker entertained with a group of piano solos. The vocal solos of Miss Barbara Crissey were well received. Mrs. Catherine George Knox of Wichita Falls gave an interesting review of the drama Romersholm. The reviewer was introduced by Mrs. Lohoefer. The president was assisted in the duty as hostess by Mesdames A. R. Hill, D. C. Dodson, and J. R. Prince. Refreshments plates carried out the color motif of pink and green.

The guest list included Mesdames C. J. Bohner, and Catherine George Knox of Wichita Falls, H. J. Exley, C. J. Duncan, Scott Williamson, George E. Kerr, Rex Kolter, Roy Woods, O. R. Woods, M. E. Prinzing, A. B. Sandier, R. W. Wallace, Oscar Kemp, Paul Browning, Glen Bear, Ray Hill, W. D. Utts, John Wimberly, J. H. Brumley, J. M. Thomas, A. R. Hill, D. C. Dodson, W. H. Yates, O. C. Methodist W. M. U.

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Methodist church met at the church Jan. 25 for the Bible study session. Mrs. M. W. Majors brought the lesson on the Good Samaritan. There were 20 present at the meeting. The Auxiliary will meet again at church Monday, Feb. 1 for a business session. Mrs. John Rigby brought the devotional. A report was heard from the departments. The circle leaders reported pledges. The next Monday will be book program, and the introduction of the new study book. Those present at the meetings were: Mesdames Cope, E. Jeffers, R. L. Gragg, M. C. Tucker, J. W. Butz, Tuel, Warren, Stacy, D. A. Westbrook, L. N. Peyton, J. H. Rigby, F. Elliot, S. S. Reger, F. L. Pilkenton, Dutch Wolfe, W. R. Hill, Gebhardt, J. L. Caffee, J. M. Thomas, M. W. Majors, H. W. Prinzing and Mrs. Frances Farr.

List Of Deaths Highway Wrecks Released Wed.

Figures were released today by the Railway and Express Employees Association of Texas, showing the five year toll of deaths and injuries resulting from truck accidents on highways of Wichita county, or involving residents thereof.

The report, which has been compiled from clippings of newspaper accounts of Texas truck accidents, shows that through the years 1932 to 1936, inclusive trucks participated in 114 Wichita county accidents, in which 21 people lost their lives and an additional 224 sustained injuries.

Truck accidents for the entire state during the same period totaled 8,416, in which 2,195 were killed and 11,963 were injured. Identifying the victims of truck accidents in Wichita county, the report lists the following as killed: Doris Lee Hudgeons, H. O. Schroeder, Mrs. B. Palmer, Mrs. M. Warren, T. Daniel, H. Walters, Lloyd Coffman, M. A. Price, J. L. Stephens, F. Bowers, M. A. Price, M. A. Board, B. C. Dills, Z. Ramirez, Chas. Brown, H. C. Bearden, Bessie P. Parks, P. R. Moore, O. G. Green, F. A. TELEPHONE MEN STILL WORKING TO REPAIR ICE-WRECKED LINES

Telephone men, still at work repairing damage from the $1,500,000 sleet which swept from the Iowa border to the Gulf in January, can remember no worse ice storm.

Yet they found, as they set about replacing 26,000 poles and 18,000 miles of wire leveled by the blast, that this year's disaster actually did less damage than the smaller 1924 ice storm. The reasons:

First—Most telephone poles today are cross-rotated yellow pine. They stand under ice that would snap poles used years ago.

Second—Constructed at heavy cost several years ago, an underground long distance cable through the heart of the storm belt "carried on." It formed a backbone of communication from which emergency lines could quickly be "patched through" to almost 100 isolated towns.

These things... improvements of the last 10 years... are a part of the Bell System's constant effort to make its lines proof against storm and disaster.

To those customers who were without service because of the storm, perhaps for several days, the company expresses its appreciation for their patience during a trying period.

VOLUME II

Edited by the Students of Burk Burnett High School
BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS, FEBRUARY 4, 1937

February

February is the month of peculiarities. It has only 28 days but in the bisextile or leap year, by the addition of intercalary day, it consists of 29 days.

The ancient name of February was derived from februa, to purify, or from Februa, the Roman festival of general expiation and lustration, which was celebrated during the later part of this month.

The most generally noted days of February are the following: The 2nd, Candlemas day, one of the fixed quarter days used in Scotland; the 12th in memory of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln the 14th, St. Valentine's Day; the 22nd, George Washington, the father of our country, his birthday; the 24th St. Matthias, William Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet was also born in February on the 27th day. This month has contributed greatly to our American history, so far as great men are concerned.

St. Valentine's day, the 14th of February provides interest for both young and old. This day was started as the story goes, by a lover who was in prison and sent his lady fair a pressed flower by a dove to express his devotion.

One peculiar day of interest in February is the 2nd day. It is called "Groundhog Day." This small animal is supposed to determine the weather for six weeks following the 2nd. If the groundhog sees his shadow he becomes frightened and runs back into seclusion; but if he doesn't see his shadow the weather will be fair following the 2nd day of February. Mr. Groundhog usually sees his shadow and we are doomed for more bad weather.

According to the tradition the flower for this month is the primrose and the stone is the amethyst, which is purple or lavender in color.

1-A Spanish Class

The 1-A Spanish class held the election for class officers Friday, January 29th, 1937.

J. W. Thompson is president of the fifth period class. Gladys Marshall was elected vice president and Marcella Logan was elected secretary and reporter.

In the second class period the following officers were elected: Delmus Womack, president; Houston Tuel, vice-president; Lela Mae Pinkston, secretary and reporter.

After the roll was checked which everyone answered by saying the Spanish numbers from one to ten, Miss Herring explained to the class why Mexico used the emblem of the eagle standing on the branch of a cactus with a serpent in its mouth. The class found the subject very interesting.

Book Nook Acknowledgement

The library wishes to express its gratitude to Mr. Pierce and to his students for the several scholastic bulletins which they have contributed for the use of the student body. These catalogs include: Bulletin of Southern Methodist University (donated by L. Magee,) Texas Christian University Bulletin (contributed by J. T. McPherson,) Howard Payne Quarterly bulletin (a donation of Eugene Markham,) Bulletin of North Texas State Teacher's College (contribution of Margineil Chambers,) and the Bulletin of the State Department of Education. We are indeed grateful to Mr. Pierce for the generosity of his department.

Debate

The debaters of the Burk Burnett high school have been spending a little of their time at the debate meetings. They are going to the county meet with all the information in the town. Some very important information could not be found in Burk Burnett, but that didn't hinder because the coach, Mr. Pierce, ordered the books and congressional records needed.

The boys will first have to debate with Valley View and the girls with Electra. Many think that they can win first in both debates.

The team consists of the following boys: Dan Hofacket, Billy Ashlock, Gordon Kent, Donald Lohofener, Robert Mouery, Tom Carver, Harvey Bentley, and Stanford McPherson. The girls are: Tempa Davis, Marvilla Elliott, Margaret Hughes and Margineil Chambers.

The question of debate "Should The Manufacturer of Munitions of War be a Government Monopoly." This is a very good question and is debatable.

Our Treat

She was a bright girl
In the land of her dreams.
Her life was a whirl
And things were a sweet beam.
And things were a sweet beam.
And things were a sweet beam.

She laughed and she loved
And she cried with delight
She could croon like a dove,
And turn dark into light.

The smile on her face
And the thrill in her voice
Put things in their place
And made life your sweet choice.

Her name was as sweet
As the sound in her throat
We called her "our treat"
And would thrill at her note.

She sang of the birds
And made rhymes of the bees.
Put love into words
And birds in the trees.

Iowa Park Wins

The Bulldogs were the losers of the Burk-Iowa Park basketball game last Friday. Both teams played a good game, but it seemed that the Iowa Park boys could outplay the Burk boys on their home court. Burk had the game going pretty well in the first half but the Hawks came back in the second half with the determination to win and the Burk boys were not quite themselves or anyway they didn't play the second half like they did the first. Then with a few bad breaks and an almost free-for-all because the Iowa Park coach lost his temper and argued with the referee, they finally sat down, then the game started again. Then by an intercepted pass an Iowa Park man scored two points and the game was over. The Hawks won by a small score of 24-23.

The Bulldogs went to Randlett Friday for a practice scrimmage with the Randlett boys.

Librarian Is Ill

The high school is very sorry to announce that the librarian Miss Kathryn Wynn, is ill at her home in Dallas.

Miss Wynn left Friday, Jan. 29, for her home and has not returned. She is expected to return sometime this week.

Musical Notes

The mixed chorus at the present time is advancing slowly, but that can be easily explained when we investigate and find the final exams and the recent epidemic of the flu.

Although there are a very large group of singers out of the chorus they are advancing very rapidly in the four part harmony and are singing such popular songs as: "Chapel in the Moonlight", "Pennies from Heaven". In the near future they are going to order song books of southern melodies.

The mixed chorus is inviting new members. Everyone wishing to join is requested to be in the auditorium every Tuesday and Thursday at 4.

Junior Jottings

G. B. Gaines has a hard time making up his mind. Two weeks ago he came to school, rushed around checking in books, collecting G report cards, and explaining that he was transferring to Wichita. That was all very sad, said everybody, for after all G. B. is a very likable and smart fellow. But Monday morning, when everybody was about to do some real mourning, the home room door popped open and in walked Mr. Gaines. He had decided to come here after all, so now we don't have anything to mourn about.

Mr. Duncan, speaking to a noisy geometry class: The kind of machinery that makes the most noise is the kind that is almost worn out.

Mr. Pierce: Addressing four Jr. and one Sophomore. You girls are the biggest flirts I every saw.

Home Room Scenes

Hodges, Clark, Dutchman, Polly, and Barbara singing Amapola. Pauline, Dorace, Jack and others talking over somebody's love affair. Marilyn, Jodie, and Mildred bursting into home room with sounds resembling a keg of powder exploding. Bill Amyx twisting up his face over his part in the Junior play. Russell working calmly with a compass. A lot of noise coming from Billy Johnson's part of the room. June writing down her history very industriously. Harvey Bentley arriving about five minutes late. Miscellaneous lectures from Miss Billingslea at frequent intervals.

Rheba Chambers is prompter-in-chief for the Junior play. Jack Foster and DRB are the latest picked members of the cast.

Freshman Ramblings

Most of the Freshmen students who have been ill returned to school for the new term. The Latin students still assure the Spanish students that they will soon present their play. The Spaniards, however, are beginning to doubt them.

The 8-1 Math classes have been studying Banks and Banking during the week. Different pupils have brought different kinds of checks, those printed on plain paper and those printed on safety paper. Many of the checks were old and had been very far places. Different kinds of promissory have been brought and inspected by the pupils. Mr. Pommerening the teacher who has been doing this, is making the Math easier and clearer for the pupils to learn.

September

Thirty days hath September;
Yes, I know and will remember.

Some days will be my play days
And I shall be blythe and gay.

Other days will be devoted to work;
I shall not be lazy but much alert

The rest will be days of schooling
Never shall I spend time fooling.

From Monday to Friday, all lessons
But Saturday's and Sunday's, all vacations.

Thirty days shall I work and play
Until September has gone away.

And when it is gone, I'll boom a cheer,
For September comes but once a year.

Mrs. D. C. Audibert

Mrs. D. C. Audibert is taking the place of Miss January, during her illness. She comes from Beaumont, Texas, and has lived in Burk Burnett for five months. Her hobby is knitting and house keeping. During the six years she has taught school, she taught first in Nome, Texas, and in her home town, Beaumont.

Mrs. Audibert is a graduate of Brenan College, in Gainesville, Georgia, and has done some work on her Master's degree at C. I. A.

After graduation from college she spent one year with the Proctor and Gamble Company. It is amazing to learn that so many people from the north knew nothing about Proctor and Gamble products.

During this year, a group of college graduates, went on a cruise throughout the Northern states. In these states they introduced Crisco. After introducing this product they gave samples to the people. In New York they encountered a group of Polish people. The fact that they could not talk directly to them discouraged these young people. But later they were amazed to find that the foreigners accepted this new idea more readily than Americans.

After her first year with the Proctor and Gamble company, she was to assume a position in the laboratories in Chicago, but instead she returned to Texas to teach school. She frankly admits her regrets in doing this.

We are glad to have Mrs. Audibert in our school. She has remarked that she enjoys being with us and truthfully we can say we are glad to have her.

Old Men's Tournament

I guess you have all heard about the Old Men's Basketball Team. If you haven't, you will be hearing about it. Don't be a bit surprised if you see part of the faculty running around with crutches, because they are going to enter a team in this tournament. The faculty team is composed of Dean, Hill, Duncan, Pommerening, Clifton, Strong. If you don't think this is a combination you just come down and watch them play. Dean, as you all know, is about the six inch mark, and he will play center. Hill, Duncan, Pommerening, Clifton, and Strong are about medium size. They are supposed to be over twenty five years of age, and have not played any basketball in the past five years. All of the stores had better stock up on linament and alcohol, for there will be a great demand for it after each game. The faculty team is going to have some very beautiful suits, they are composed of long handles, or winter underwear, and maybe some of them will wear shorts.

There are going to be a fat man's team with the lightest man weighing not under one hundred and forty pounds. There is going to be another team with the shortest man being six feet three inches tall.

There are going to be three games a night for three nights, and then the semi-finals and finals will be played Thursday, Feb. 11. Wednesday night at 7 o'clock the First National will meet the Barrow-Grace Chevrolet Co., at 9 o'clock: Texaco Co. meet Griffins Friday Feb. 5, at 7 o'clock; Bell Pipe Line will play Lions Club, at 8 o'clock, the Faculty meet Beaver Bros. this is the game you want to see. At 9 o'clock Tucker Oil play Farmers, or Clodhoppers play the winners of Firemen and Barrow-Grace at 8 o'clock, the winner of Bell Oil and Clodhoppers play the winner of the Bell Pipe Line and Lions Club play the winner of Texaco Co., and Griffins, and at 9 o'clock the winner of the Faculty and Beaver Bros, play the winner of the First National Bank and Bell Refinery. The semi-finals will be played Thursday, Feb. 11. We expect the faculty team to be in the finals.

The referees will probably be Wid Phillips, and H. D. Smith, being as they are the only ones in town that have had any experience along this line. Be sure and be at the games Friday night and you will see the Faculty team play their game.

Everybody be sure and come and back the faculty because we sure want them to win this thing. It will be a thrill of a lifetime, and you will see some good basketball, too.

Future Farmer News

The poultry judging team went to Chillicothe Saturday and entered in the district Poultry judging contest. Carl Cook won second place with a score of 291 and Boyd from Chillicothe was first with a score of 305. These boys will each receive certificates of merit and will probably attend the state contest in the spring at the Texas A. & M. college. The agriculture boys are expecting a lot from Carl Cook this spring at the state meet.

The boys are working hard on their projects so they will make a good showing of their hogs at the Ft. Worth Fat Stock show which will be held in March 1937. They expect to enter about six hogs in the show. These hogs are being fed on a balanced ration and most of them weigh about 150 lbs. at the present. The hogs are expected to weigh about 250 lbs. when they are taken to Ft. Worth and they have little over a month to gain 100 lbs. which is on an average of a little more than two pounds daily.

Virginia Ann Laney

This quiet little lady was born away back there in the year 1921 Feb. 23, to be exact, in Burk Burnett, Texas, but we will leave the past, and turn to the future, ah, the future, but first we must have the present. "Sissy" is black haired and blue eyed, ah, an Irish brunette, about 5 feet and six inches, and weighs about—well, maybe we had better not go into that.

And now for the future, she wants to be a ballet dancer, and if Ziegfeld hadn't died she would like to have been one of the Ziegfeld Follies girls, but now she thinks maybe she would consider Earl Carroll's Vanities or Geo. White's Scandals, and so my children, just think how proud we will all be when we can go to the theatre and see Virginia Ann on the screen, and say, I know her, I used to go to school with her. But just in case she doesn't become a dancer, she says she will be content to be the private secretary to a rich old bachelor, or even a widower, but never the less, Virginia Ann is a nice, fun loving little girl with a weakness for dapper red headed boys.

Maybe we were slightly mistaken in the first paragraph about her being a quiet little girl, because she is in school, but you should see her in the company of Frances, Louise, and Babe.

Palmer Shores

Palmer was born—well he had rather not say, but it was quite a while ago when he was very young at Wichita, Kansas. He is supposed to be the Senior class reporter, but he doesn't do very much.

One of Palmer's high ambitions is to be Lloyd Scruggs' (the professional loafer) manager and the little Cross child is going to be his promoter. Another one of his ambitions is to be able to get his Senior ring out of the pawn shop. His highest ambition is to get one of his articles, that he spends hours on, published.

He is a very home loving lad at about two or three in the morning because he is always ready for home by that time, usually.

He has dandruff, but he hopes that it will not keep him from graduating this year.

He is afraid by next leap year he will be baldheaded, so he is trying to take care of his hair, because he has heard that bald-headed men do not have much luck with the ladies.

OL' JAKE PAYS OFF

Giant Pine Snake Returns Friendship of Aged Hermit Who Saved Its Life.

Ol' Jake, the pine snake, came through a crack in the floor and immediately gave battle to the rattlesnake, while Jud looked on with horror.

By WILLIAM HORNE
IN READING the headlines of North Carolina newspapers not so long ago you may have seen: "Recluse of Dismal Swamps Held Captive of Deadly Diamond Back Until Rescued by Pet Snake."

But this short, two-inch item that gave mention to the harrowing experience of one Jud Baker, aged hermit of the Drummonds Lake district of Dismal Swamps, did not touch the colorful side of this strange drama that depicted, strange to say, the character of a snake.

It was more than a year ago when Jud Baker first saw the six-foot pine snake he later named "Ol' Jake."

Jud had just paddled his bateau from across the lake to the landing a few yards down from his cabin. As he stepped on to the bank a darting form whirred upward on glistening wings from the bushes that bordered the opening.

Jud turned and looked. It was the fluttering form of an enormous snake hawk. It came back down again into the bushes with a crash, seemed to struggle there a moment, then strove to take the air again.

Puzzled, Jud went to the edge of the bushes to investigate. He found the big bird of prey hovering a few feet from the ground, wings beating the air powerfully, and in its sharp talons was a pine snake.

Hawk Is Snake's Equal.
The reptile's torso writhed about the roots of a tree, the snake hawk doing its utmost to tear the hold away and lift it to the air.

Now, the pine snake is a powerful constrictor, and one snap from its mighty jaws can almost sever a man's wrist. No reptile in all the wilds can conquer it in combat, and the steel-like muscles of its glistening body can crush the bones of a wildcat or a dog.

But the snake hawk is its equal in swiftness and in strength, and in all outdoors the only living thing that it fears.

True, the snake hawk does not immediately kill the snake with its claws or beak. Instead, it flies to an enormous height, releases the prey and lets it crash to its death far below, where it eats it at leisure.

Jud Baker knew this, and with a stick he drove the hawk away and captured the snake and took it with him to his cabin. The rippling skin of the snake was torn in a dozen places. Blood oozed from deep lacerations where the snake hawk's talons had torn in.

For days afterward Jud Baker thought his snake would die. The live mice and frogs he placed inside the improvised cage were left untouched; the snake lay prone and motionless.

Ol' Jake Moves In.
But with passing days came improvement, and after two weeks the big reptile crawled about in his cage.

One night he escaped through a crack in the door. He disappeared, and Jud saw nothing of him for a month. But then he came back again—and stayed.

From then on he made his home there with the old recluse. He became a pet. He would crawl on to Jud Baker's dining table while the man ate his meals; he would coil on his bunk and sleep through the long hot days of summer.

It was during the month of March that he disappeared. Days passed, and finally Jud decided he had either strayed off and found a mate and had forgotten or a snake hawk had at last captured him. Jud searched for his strange pet, but never found him, so he finally gave up.

It was two months after Ol' Jake had disappeared, when the first warm days of summer came to Drummonds Lake, that Jud Baker opened his eyes one morning to a strange sound at the little window just above his bunk.

Jud Hears Terrifying Sound.
For a long time he lay there blinking his eyes. What made that strange sound? It had seemed oddly familiar, and yet he couldn't quite place it.

Then suddenly it came again. And Jud Baker's form stiffened, the hair on his scalp prickling. It was the angry whirr of a rattlesnake's rattles, and it came from just a bare yard from his face on the low sill of the open window.

Two wicked, beady eyes stared at him from a small, flat head. A tiny, forked tongue flicked in and out the slitted mouth. Jud Baker stared into those eyes and his blood seemed to freeze in his veins.

After several long moments he moved his head slightly. Instantly the tail that lay in the center of the coiled reptile jerked up and wriggled spasmodically. There came the whirr of rattles. Jud Baker lay motionless, lest the deadly fellow suddenly decide to strike downward in his straining, sweating face.

An age seemed to pass before those rattlers quieted down and another one to go by before the old man ventured to move again.

"Rattlers" All Around Him.
He held his breath and slowly moved one foot toward the edge of the bunk. If he could only slide noiselessly to the floor beyond reach of those deadly fangs things would be well. But he never quite managed it, for as his foot slid slowly to the very edge of the bed there came a new sound to his roaring ears, the sound of another set of rattlers from the floor just beneath the edge of the bed.

Jud Baker stiffened. He groaned in abject terror. Cold sweat beaded his leathery face. He strained his eyes to glance at the floor toward that new menace, and what he saw brought a gasp to his drawn lips. Beside the bed, on the floor, lay four diamond-backed rattlers. Each was coiled. Each snake's tongue flicked in and out, while the rattles gave angry warnings.

The sun went on down behind the timber line to the west. Shadows lengthened. Suddenly the five rattlesnakes began their song of warning. The din kept up in a steady drone, and the man on the bunk roused himself from a half stupor.

Then through the corners of his eyes he saw it. That glistening, rippling shadow that came through the crack beneath the door of the cabin.

In Nick of Time.
The long, shining length of sinuous black and white torso glided like a shadow across the floor. Slow. Rippling. And ominous. And deadly in its purpose.

The four rattlers on the floor kept up their hellish din, and the lone reptile on the window sill tensed in its coil and prepared to strike. And the big pine snake lay in an "S" form on the foot of the bunk, with its tail braced against the wall in an attitude of certain defense at the first hostile move.

And it came. From the snake on the window sill. Like lightning it shot down toward Ol' Jake like a coiled spring and, as quick as it was, Ol' Jake was quicker.

The rattlesnake's mouth gaped open and two needle-like fangs glistened in the evening light. And the big pine snake's mighty open jaws met those open jaws in midair with a sickening crunch.

Instantly both snakes became a writhing mass and tumbled from the bed to the floor amid the other waiting rattlers.

Battle to Death.
And then bedlam tore loose. Jud Baker leaned from his bed and watched that fight. He saw the four remaining rattlesnakes attack the big, twisting form of Ol' Jake with gleaming fangs. He saw those fangs sink again and again into that rippling hide, and he saw the big pine snake writhe and tie its muscular length into a dozen contortions about the floundering rattlers.

The battle couldn't have lasted more than three or four minutes. Jud Baker lay there above it, rigid in fascination. And suddenly the forms grew still, only the knotted length of the big pine snake slowly releasing its crushing holds from the dead forms of its enemies.

True, enough venom must have been injected into Ol' Jake's length to kill a dozen men. But a pine snake is immune to a rattler's venom, and presently the big fellow crawled loose and made his way slowly across the floor and out the door crack into the evening sunlight. Jud Baker was free. He lay on his bunk and watched his friend glide majestically from sight beneath the door.

Ol' Jake had come home. And had paid a debt he owed.

Printed Lace and Other New Prints

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SEEMS as if every type of material ever known has gone into print. The latest entrant into the printed realm is lace. Printed laces are the big news in the lace story for the coming season. Granted that prints for resort wear and for spring are more lovely each year but never have they risen to greater heights of glamor than when colorfully printed on sheer Chantilly lace which brings the pattern out color-gloriously.

The evening gown in the picture is fashioned of printed Chantilly lace, the patterning done in green and shades of yellow and orange. Black ribbons make the shoulder straps and belt of this handsome gown. And if you want to wear printed lace in daytime let it be a blouse of printed lace worn with your new spring bolero suit—a word to the wise is sufficient.

The advance arrival of new prints would indicate that the vogue for the spring and summer of 1937 promises to exceed all previous records. In the new showings silk prints fairly hold one spellbound with their daring, their unusualness and their artful art both as to color and design. The same may be said of the grand and glorious linens, also pique prints whose spectacular fling at color is simply breathtaking.

See the youthful contrast jacket-and-skirt costume centered in the group illustrated. An ensemble like this is an especially smart cruise fashion for deck-pacing or for going ashore at points enroute. It is fashioned of cloque pique combining print and plain. The fabric is one of the new pre-shrunk cottons so ideal to wear in warm climates where frequent tubbing is necessary.

The fact that prints are going strong in sunny resort and among cruise-faring fashionables in no way implies that midseason stay-at-homes are being left printless. On the contrary the prints that are peeping from beneath winter coats are as refreshing a sight as could possibly greet winter-weary eyes. The colors are entrancing and the patterns are unmistakably "new." The fact that the motifs are widely spaced makes for an absolutely "different" look. As a tonic that acts instantaneously we recommend a frock forthwith and sans delay made of one of the radiantly colorful new prints.

An interesting characteristic of early arriving modes is that the emphasis is placed on the smartness and novelty of the print which fashions the dress rather than on its making. In fact the new print frocks are styled most simple the more to show off to advantage the beauty of their material which thrills with unique designs and dramatic colorings.

The print fashioning the daytime gown shown in the foreground of the group illustrated makes color-play its big feature. Green and red on a brown ground is the color scheme. The belt is of brown suede. The large jeweled clasp (huge ones are worn this season) at the neckline further emphasizes the idea of striking color.

Speaking of the new spring prints in general they are newest looking when the florals are large and distinctive and set far apart. Just now it is the dark grounds that appeal or that which is ultra chic, the background in a vivid color. Paisley patterns and bold stripes are especially smart.

BEIGE LACE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Beige is high fashion again as in fact are all shades that suggest cinnamon and yellowish and delicate brownish tints. These colors are especially effective in lace and have the added advantage of practicality and wearability. The stunning lace dress pictured is tailored of beige lace. It has a nicety of detail that is recognized at a glance. The full skirt lends itself to movement and is most graceful on the dance floor. This is a grand type for the winter cruise and for packing up for a southern resort vacation as well as for the "little" evenings in town.

LACE HEADDRESS SMART FOR SPRING

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Fashion has always decreed that you shall be smart—and this year that you shall be pretty as well. This combination is entirely possible when you have seen yourself in the all-lace hats which are becoming more and more popular for dining out and the theater. One, a Schiaparelli model, is helmet like, with a conic crown. The lace is fixed on wire and gives the Spanish touch, which of course is the thing this season.

If you prefer to get your Spanish effect in another way, don't forget the mantilla. It can do wonders towards conveying that air of mystery and romance. And you can make it yourself, fashioning it in your own way. Some are made of squares of Chantilly; others have lace borders around net. We noted particularly one of plain net, with a wide border of lace. They are, incidentally, equally attractive when worn as scarves or shawls, and even folded in a triangle and tied ascot-fashion in front.

Black and White Popular for Formal Evening Wear

Black and white have established themselves as the height of formality for evening wear. Used together, they are always the more effective. Seen recently in one of the best New York fashion ateliers was a formal gown of white lace, pailletted all over with rhinestones, and over it was worn a charming, hiplength jacket of black net. Fitted snugly at the waistline, and with straight sleeves slightly puffed at the shoulder, it flared out in a full peplum below the waist.

The black net jacket suggested itself as an admirable light wrap to be worn with all evening dresses.

Going to the Party?

WHERE is the party? At Mrs. Smith's on Walnut street and it looks awfully much as though the principals were caught by the candid camera. Luckily, however, they're perfectly groomed for their parts:

Introducing Janet.
Janet in her jumper (Pattern 1996) is asking Mother which glassware to use. Her plaid blouse in taffeta makes her feel very dressed up. Mother chose this style because the many possibilities for change make it a wardrobe rather than a dress and she knew it would be easy-to-make.

An interesting characteristic of early arriving modes is that the emphasis is placed on the smartness and novelty of the print which fashions the dress rather than on its making. In fact the new print frocks are styled most simple the more to show off to advantage the beauty of their material which thrills with unique designs and dramatic colorings.

Mother, the Hostess.
Mother is the perfect hostess, calm and assured, because she knows her all-occasion frock with its sprightly crisp apron (Pattern 1205) is becoming and appropriate. For house wear she made up this model in print. She is wearing here the crepe version and knows that it will be delightful for later on in cool black and white. It comes in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46. The dress and apron in size 36 require 5 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. The apron alone requires 1 1/2 yards.

The guest just arriving is wearing her trigest Sew-Your-Own. She likes it because the puffed shoulders and swing skirt make her hips look smaller. The collar is young and the sleeves stylish. This frock is especially chic in silk crepe alpaca or one of the lovely new prints. For your own daytime distinction, then, why not make up Pattern 1205? It is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. One ball of yarn required for trimming as pictured.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)
