EVERYBODY'S FRIEND

"What helps business, helps you," is the United States Chamber of Commerce's sensible program slogan of educating the public to become conscious of that simple fact. Business is no stranger and no enemy.

Business is your livelihood—the daily enterprise that goes on about you—the work you do, the place in which you work, the people from whom you buy and to whom you sell. It is the orderly machinery that is whirring mechanically—and the moment that something happens to the machinery, it is you who are hurt, just as it is you who are helped so long as the works operate in unimpeded precision.

Even machinery is not perfect, least of all the machinery of business. Sometimes it becomes clogged by poor operators, sometimes by inept workmen. That all human effort must be directed to making the operation at its efficient best is patent. Business is all business—big business, little business. And what helps it, helps you.

Conversely, what injures business, injures you. No matter what the cause for slowing down in business, this slowing down catches you and it isn't sabotage at all. Once the repair is made, the machinery resumes operation and clicks smoothly along. As it goes on, you go on. It's simple as all that. The United States Chamber of Commerce is right:

What helps business, helps you.

READ THE STAR AND ADVISORY

Read your local newspapers, and let your eyes rest upon the displays of ads on the various pages. In these ads the merchants have bargains for you, and are giving you a picture in print, of just a few of their many values. And perhaps you will find something in the ads you want to buy, and when you are in town you walk into the merchant's store and look at the bargains you have been reading about. Upon purchasing this article probably the clerk has suggested other items to you and you make other purchases that really save you money. I wonder if you ever utter just a few words, something like this: "I read your ad in the local newspaper," and immediately the thought flashes to the merchant's mind—IT DOES PAY TO ADVERTISE! With your co-operation then everyone concerned is benefited. You have saved on your purchases, the merchant has had your business, and probably the merchant is contemplating running another ad in the following issue.

Burkburnett History

As revealed by the files of The Star 12 years ago.

Members of the Business Council discussed the extension of the city limits at their regular monthly meeting Wednesday. They also recommended that an ordinance be passed to require that all derricks within the city limits should be torn down.

The last meeting to be held in the Old Methodist church building was attended by a large crowd Wednesday night. The old landmark will be torn down within a few days.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Burkburnett Independent School Board held Wednesday afternoon, C. P. Price, principal of the high school and Butler Westerfield, principal of the grammar schools, were re-elected for the 1926-27 school year.

O. J. Engelmann, city manager, announced this week that all stray dogs will be taken up by the "dog man" appointed by the city government, and be kept in the pound for three days. At the end of that period, if the owner does not claim the animal, it will be killed.

Mrs. A. L. Gragg, who is in the Mayo Hospital, Rochester, Minn., was operated on Tuesday by Dr. Will Mayo. Dr. Mayo announced that she stood the operation very well and should soon be able to return home.

Wiley Spray of Wolfe City, is visiting his brother, Tom, local citizen, who lives on West Main street. When Wiley arrived a few days ago it was their first meeting in twenty years. Neither recognized the other until introduced.

Big Rabbit Creek

March 6, 1938.

"One of them things" that's called a norther came down from Canada, Saturday. Believe me, it sure was cold and last night we had some ice and a big frost, but the fruit is O. K. so far.

The Kinnairds' housekeeper was brought home from the Wichita Falls General Hospital Wednesday. Today's report to Hawkeye was that she was getting along fine and will be up soon.

Mr. Chappel's son, Marshall, 17 years of age, took sick two weeks ago with a nervous prostration. He was taken to our friendly little city Saturday morning and put under the treatment of a Burkburnett chiropractor.

J. W. Fowler and his wife spent Sunday visiting with their daughter and son-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood.

Mrs. Fanny Martin, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. L. Martin, and two children, visited with the Owens family Sunday afternoon.

J. E. Wood motored with his family Sunday night over to the Riverland school house to attend church.

Hawkeye and his neighbor, J. E. Wood, motored up to Mr. and Mrs. Clint Dunn's Sunday afternoon and visited with the family.

The big oil city, Burkburnett, was crowded Saturday with thousands of people. The stores were full of shoppers.

For weeks past, Hawkeye and family have been wanting to visit the Owens & Brumley Funeral Chapel home, which is located in our friendly little city. So, thru the kindness and friendship of Owens & Brumley, Bro. R. D. Owens motored over to Owens' family home Sunday and took them to Burkburnett to their funeral chapel, and R. D. escorted the family through the chapel from the bottom to the top. The most surprised visitors you ever saw were the Owens family to see such a modern and up-to-date funeral home as Burkburnett has. You may travel the Lone Star state over from city to city and you won't find any nicer, more up-to-date establishments, including caskets, steel vaults, robes and shrouds as you will find in the Owens and Brumley chapel. Every business man, every citizen in the Burkburnett area, as well as over across the big pond in Cotton county, Oklahoma, is proud of such a beautiful funeral chapel as Owens & Brumley owns in Burkburnett. Services are rendered day or night; they are beautifully equipped to take care of our loved ones whom God calls away from us. It is worth anyone's time just to go through this beautiful Funeral home. It is one of the best assets that our friendly and beautiful little city has.

Just a word to the vast readers of the Burkburnett Star: Hawkeye wishes to say a few words in praise of the Betty Ann Bakery, which is in Burkburnett. For years Hawkeye and family have been eating Betty Ann bread. So, Saturday, Hawkeye just made up his mind that he wanted to go through the bakery, just to see for himself how this fine Betty Ann bread is made. So, after entering this fine bakery, he was met at the door by one of the employees, a smiling young man. I stated my business. Quietly I was escorted back to the baking department where modern machinery was in place to do this fine bread, pie and cakes. All bread and pastries are made from the very best of selected flours such as the Gold Medal and other high grade flours. Those fine, fluffy bread, pies, cakes, and doughnuts are baked fresh every morning, long before daylight. And everything is baked by modern, up-to-date mechanical methods. All doughs are mixed, conditioned and moulded by up-to-date mechanical methods. These fine Betty Ann products are baked in a revolving oven which bakes 336 per hour.

An soon as this fine Betty Ann bread is baked, it is cooled a few minutes, then turned over to the wrapping machine where it is sliced and wrapped and will keep fresh and nice for several days. This up-to-date bakery is inspected regularly by the State Department. Believe me, folks, Hawkeye will say that he found everything in the baking department shining like a cat's eye under a bed. Furthermore, all ingredients that are mixed in the different doughs are of the very best grades. The head baker, H. H. Jones, is an expert baker and his 18 years of baking accounts for such fine Betty Ann bread, pies, cakes and doughnuts that you get from the Betty Ann Bakery. Owned by S. S. Reger, Hawkeye must say it will pay any man or woman just to go through this up-to-date, modern bakery to see for themselves just how fine this product is prepared for baking. Another big asset for the Oil City.

IMPORTANT MEETING AMERICAN LEGION THURSDAY NIGHT

Every Ex-Service Man In Burk Is Urged to Attend

The regular meeting of the American Legion will be held Thursday night at 8:00 at the Legion home, over the Betty Baker Bakery.

Every ex-service man, whether member of the Legion or not, is urged to attend. The 13th district convention will be held in Burk Burnett some time in June and the exact day and other preliminary plans will be discussed at this meeting.

This is the first time in several years that Burk Burnett has secured this convention and it is hoped that the ex-service men and women as a whole to get together and make this a gala affair.

Don't forget the date, Thursday, March 10, 8 p. m.

Cotton Farmers To Hold Election Sat.

G. R. McNeil, county agent, has announced a meeting for the purpose of explaining the new farm bill and the election to be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the City Hall.

All farmers interested in cotton production are urged to attend this meeting.

The election which will take place at the City Hall Saturday from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m., is on 1938 quotas. Only farmers who are engaged in cotton production in 1937 are entitled to vote.

Meetings and elections will be held at Electra, Iowa Park, Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls. All farmers are invited to attend these meetings. Cotton production is of vital interest in this area and all legislation regarding it would have our wholehearted attention.

Life has few economic fears for an insured man; death none.

Statement of Senator Tom Connally About Proposed Cotton Laboratory

The recently enacted farm bill provides for the establishment of four regional research agricultural laboratories. The function of such laboratories is to conduct research into and to develop new scientific chemical and technical uses and new and extended markets and outlets for farm commodities and by-products thereof. One of these laboratories is to be located in the cotton region. A federal appropriation of one million dollars is authorized for the establishment of each laboratory.

Texas, by all means, should be the state of the cotton research laboratory. However, other cotton states will, no doubt, make a determined fight for its location.

While the act does not require any financial participation by the state in which located, the act does provide that the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to acquire land and interests therein and to accept in the name of the United States donations of any property, real and personal, to any laboratory established pursuant to the act and to utilize voluntary uncompensated services at such laboratories.

There is wide-spread interest throughout Texas in behalf of the location of such a laboratory in our state. Cotton producers and the cotton industry generally have, for a considerable period, indicated a vital interest in this project. Texas is the largest cotton producing state. It is more directly interested in cotton exports than any other state since 90 per cent of the cotton produced in Texas is normally exported. The establishment of such a laboratory in Texas would of immeasurable benefit to all of the people and industries of the state. Co-operation with the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and other institutions devoted to agriculture would insure outstanding service to the people of the entire United States through the agency of such a laboratory.

I desire to urge that organizations in Texas, Chambers of Commerce, the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and farm associations co-operate actively with each other in a movement to bring the location of the cotton research laboratory to Texas. Pertinent data, the proposal of a site or location, and all related matters will be of tremendous value in presenting this matter to the Secretary of Agriculture. Steps have already been taken to advise the Secretary of Agriculture that Texas expects and desires the location of the laboratory in our state. The Texas delegation in Congress will actively and aggressively press the matter before the Secretary. It is hoped that their efforts will receive the hearty co-operation and the support of our people.

Mayor LaGuardia Of New York Will Speak W. T. C. C.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York City, scheduled to be a principal speaker before the twentieth annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention, in Wichita Falls, on April 25, 26 and 27, will address the general assembly on Tuesday afternoon, April 26, J. S. Bridwell, convention program chairman, has announced.

Mayor LaGuardia, chief executive of America's No. 1 city, is one of the most colorful figures in "public life in our country today, and his address before the WTCC Convention at Wichita Falls will be one of the most popular drawing cards on the three-days' programs, and should attract national attention," Mr. Bridwell said.

LaGuardia, who scored a smashing victory in New York's mayoralty election contest last fall, in a successful campaign for re-election, was invited to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention by Dr. O. B. Kiel, Wichita Falls physician who saw two years of World War service with Mayor LaGuardia, in Italy.

"Mayor LaGuardia is easy to meet, and easy to know. He can talk to the President, or the man cleaning the streets," Dr. Kiel said.

Born in New York, of Italian parents, LaGuardia has served in the American Consular Service, in the National House of Representatives, and was president of the New York Board of Aldermen. The Wichita Falls speaking date will mark his first visit to Texas.

HOW CRITICISM FEELS GEORGIA LOTT SELTER

"Mattie Alden in tears!" cried Grandma Graham in consternation. "What ever can be the trouble?"

"Nothing serious, Mother," responded Mrs. Alden with a quavering smile. "Nothing worse than hurt feelings—hurt pride, perhaps you will say. Anyway, it does hurt! I did not want to follow Mildred in the club presidency for I am so unfamiliar with the work and Mildred is outstanding as a presiding officer, but I did my best, and I think she might have come to me privately to point out my mistakes. We all have to learn!"

Grandma Graham listened sympathetically to the particulars of the case. "Yes," she agreed, "that would hurt! And now while we are on this painful subject of adverse criticism, will you let me speak to you of something else, my dear? Did it ever occur to you that, a great many times, little Jimmy must feel much as you do now?"

"But surely I have to point out his failures," protested Mattie after a moment of astonishment. "How else can he learn? And children are so heedless that one must emphasize each shortcoming so many times!"

"Yes, you said yourself that we all have to learn. And did you ever think how very new it all must seem to Jimmy? Probably he feels that he has done his best and yet Mother sees nothing but mistakes in his conduct; at least that is all she emphasizes. This noon as he came into the house he removed his rubbers in the back entry, hung his coat on its proper hook in the living room table and his books on the davenport."

"And I reproved him for his carelessness," mused Jimmy's mother. "Yet what else could I do?"

"Might you not have commented on the fact that Jimmy did remember to remove his rubbers and hang up his coat? That would have been deserving praise which would have made him very happy. Then, after I had gone, you could have reminded him pleasantly that he might have raised his standard still higher by putting his cap and books where they belonged. Think how cheerful and comfortable it would all have been. Whereas, when you scolded Jimmy, you did not like to do it, I certainly did not like hearing it, and you have realized by your own experience that adverse criticism, especially if expressed in the presence of others, can hurt cruelly, so we know that Jimmy was made miserable. And really the incident was hardly worth an unhappy five minutes for three people. Was it?"

"You see, no child likes reproof and if it is administered as constantly as his conduct seems to warrant, it is apt to do one of two things to him: It either affects him too deeply, making him stubborn or self-conscious, or he closes his ears in self-defense and it ceases to affect him at all. You spoke just now of the heedlessness of children. This is often merely a mental deafness in which the child encases himself to ward off the unpleasantness that he is otherwise powerless to combat."

"I confess I never before thought how Jimmy might feel when I have so unsparingly pointed out his shortcomings," said his mother. "All I thought of was that I wished to improve him!"

We are grateful for floral tributes and for all services performed in our behalf.

"Eyes of Tlaloc" Friday, March 11

"Tlaloc big god—hear much—cry loud. He no forget. Tlaloc remember—some day you sorry—Tlaloc remember!" A strange prediction! Tlaloc does "cry loud," but for the last time and with startling results.

In John Wayne's ranch house in Southern California hangs a large and vivid mural painting of the Aztec god, Tlaloc. The malicious eyes of the hideous creature gleams through the shadows. Outside, an equinoctial storm rages with wind, rain, and lightning. Amanda and Ezra, furtive old caretakers of the house, admit one after another of the strange group of people who are to enact a drama within the walls of the mysterious house.

They arrive in quick succession—the suave "Professor," Tommy Tinker, a shrewd and engaging young man posing as a prize fighter; Nancy Howe, the beautiful niece of the ranch owner, with her friends, Pat and Virginia; Nawa, a sinister Indian; Pudge, a sage brush taxi driver; Salvador del Santos, a fiery Mexican gentleman, and Pepita, his volatile sister. But where is John Wayne, the master of the house? Nawa makes the ominous pronouncement, "Mist' Wayne go on long journey. Tlaloc pay back! Tlaloc remember!"

Come yourself and solve the mystery of "The Eyes of Tlaloc," the Junior class play to be presented March 11 in the High School Auditorium, at 8:00 p. m. General admission, 25c; reserve seats, 35c.

B. H. S. Wins In Practice Game

Wednesday afternoon, March 2, the Burk high girls' baseball team played a practice game with the Central Ward girls and managed to win by a score of 15 to 14. This was a return game, the high school having lost a previous game 7 to 10.

Womack pitched for B. H. S. while Smith and Sands came to the mound for Central Ward. There were numerous errors which accounted for the high scores. Central Ward is coached by Miss Flynt, and B. H. S. by Mr. Pommerening.

Card of Thanks

Our deepest gratitude and heartfelt thanks are tendered to all those whose kindness and sympathy were comforting to us in our recent bereavement. For all floral tributes and other expressions of condolence, we are sincerely appreciative. Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Roberts and family.

Special Series Of Sermons At Clara Lutheran Church

A special series of Lenten sermons are being presented by the local pastor, the Rev. Paul Kaiser, in both the morning and the evening services, during the next five weeks.

The sermons in the morning services are featuring the trial of Christ before the ecclesiastical court, the following topics being treated: Christ Before Annas, Christ Before Caiaphas, Christ's Confession Before Caiaphas, and Christ's Suffering in the High Priest's Palace.

The Sunday evening series is based on the sayings of the enemies as they occur in the great passion history of Christ recorded in the last chapters of the four Gospels. The following themes will be treated: The Maid's Remark: "This Man was Also with Jesus of Nazareth." The Retort of the Chief Priest's and Scribes: "What is that to us?"—Pilate's Question: "What is Truth?"—The Mad Cry of the People: "His blood be upon us and on our people."—The taunt of the Leaders of the Jews: "He Saved others; Himself he cannot Save."

Clara Lutheran church welcomes you at all of these services.

Nazarene Notes

Sunday school is said to be the church at work; ours is at work. The regular attendance is good but the young people still continue in the lead. The average attendance for the class seems to be thirty two.

We are interested in a Sunday school campaign for the entire town. All churches co-operating and working together in one campaign or each putting on such campaign at the same time. Approximately one out of five in Burkburnett attend Sunday school. This number could be increased.

J. K. and Clella Mathews gave a class social Tuesday night. 43 were present to enjoy the evening in a good, wholesome social time. The color scheme of white and pale green was carried out. White plates were passed containing pale green jello on a lettuce leaf accompanied by a piece of white layer cake.

W. F. M. S. meets Thursday at the church to study Nazarene missions in China. Indeed our missionaries there are having some perilous war experiences.

Attend N. Y. P. S. Sunday night and hear the young people discuss three words: "Liquor, tobacco, dancing." Dennis Key is the leader.

Mr. Cleary of Wichita Falls is conducting a singing school at the church. This is under the auspices of the government and costs nothing to attend. You are invited.

The sun does shine.

Members of Boys' Club Entertained

Thirty-six members of the Boys' Club, the entire membership, were present Friday evening when local business men entertained them with a dinner.

The affair, which is an annual event, has come to have a great deal of meaning for the boys, who assured their hosts that they had a wonderful evening.

Paul Browning was the speaker of the evening and he stressed the fact that the privileges of the modern boy are far in excess of those of the youth of several years ago.

Local business men who attended the dinner were: H. D. Smith, J. H. Brumley, R. P. Thaxton, Glenn Howard, H. R. Hayes, A. R. Hill, Ray Hill, O. C. Wills, Roy Jackson, Stanley Gartside, Paul Browning, Oscar Kemp, Raymond Wallace, Al Ragsdale, Ross Reagan, R. D. Owens, Johnnie Anderson, Carl Morrison and Frank Kelley.

Tennis Tournament Finished

The hotly-contested tennis tournament which was held last week on the courts of the B. H. S. was won by F. M. McMurtry and Russell Cope. F. M. won the junior singles while Cope won the senior division. Russell won over James Walling in the finals by the score 6-3, 6-0, 6-4. F. M. beat Elmer Russell 6-1, 6-2. There will probably be another singles tournament later on.

Victim of Thrift Blast Was Buried In Bellevue Mon.

Funeral services were held from the Thrift Baptist church Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for Lester Roberts, 14, Fairview high school basketball player, killed Saturday afternoon when a 55-gallon gasoline drum exploded at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Roberts. Rev. E. G. Gregory, pastor of the Archer City Baptist church, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Miles B. Hays, pastor of the First Baptist church in Burkburnett.

Burial was in the Hopewell cemetery at Bellevue under the direction of the Thomas Funeral home of Wichita Falls.

Young Roberts was killed almost instantly when the drum, containing about a gallon of gasoline, was exploded either by a lighted match or from a spark made by some steel tool which the youngster may have been handling.

His father said that the boy went into the back yard of the home shortly before 6 o'clock to repair his bicycle. A few minutes later the father and other members of the family heard the deafening explosion. The father and Douglas Roberts, a brother of the boy, rushed to the yard to find Lester's head and face crushed. His heart was beating feebly and they rushed him to the Burkburnett Clinic. He was dead when admitted to the hospital.

Physicians at the Clinic said the boy's neck was broken, the skull and face bones crushed, and the head severely torn.

The jar of the explosion was felt by neighbors as far away as three blocks.

Pallbearers were W. D. Rogers, L. B. Horr, L. W. Forgueran, Lloyd Wright, E. B. Owens and Joe Podbreger. Members of his Sunday school class were named honorary pallbearers. The Fairview school dismissed Monday afternoon for the funeral.

Survivors include the parents, five brothers, Douglas, George T. Jr., Guy Joe and Paul Ray, and Wilbur T. Roberts; one sister, Mrs. Doris Hodges.

THOSE FOOLISH FOOS

By Don (Foo) Lohoeferer

You made your foo, now lie in it.

A rooling stone gathers no foo. It don't mean a thing if it ain't got foo.

Early to goo and early to poo makes a man health, wealthy and foo.

All the world's a foo and all the men and women merely foosers.

A secret is a mortgage on friendship.

Old Men

In savage tribes where skulls are thick
And primal passions rage
They have a system sure and quick
To cure the blight of age.

For when a native's youth has fled
And years have sapped his vim
They simply knock him on the head
And put an end to him.

But we in this enlightened age
Are built of nobler stuff
And so we look with righteous rage
On deeds so harsh and rough.

For when a man grows old and grey
And weak and short of breath
We simply take his job away
And let him starve to death.

Duncans Travel By Air To And From Convention

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Duncan have returned from Atlantic City, New Jersey, where they attended the American Educators' Association Convention last week.

Mr. Duncan is the superintendent of the local schools. He reports that the convention was one of the most interesting that he ever attended. Approximately 12,000 representatives from the schools all over the United States and her possessions were there.

Famous intellectuals, including the president of Harvard University, James Bryant Conant, and A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools in Denver, and Dr. Studebaker, who is United States Commissioner of Education, were presented on the program. Helen Keller was also one of the featured speakers of the convention, which lasted from Sunday, February 27, through Thursday, March 3rd.

The trip is one that Mr. and

CAPITAL NEWS LETTER
by CONGRESSMAN W. D. McFARLANE

Lobbying Activities

The La Follette Investigating Committee in the Senate has revealed that the National Association of Manufacturers the past two years spent more than $950,000 each year for preparing publicity against the "New Deal" program. This Association has a membership of over 3,000, with more than 1500 additional firms, who have contributed to this publicity campaign. The National Association, with their wide membership throughout the Nation, has these programs sponsored locally through those hostile to the "New Deal", who use the propaganda prepared by the National Association and take care of the local expense of publication and distribution.

The Investigating Committee's records show that every known medium of reaching the public with their propaganda has been used, including advertising in the daily and weekly newspapers, and colored news articles. The records show they have also used direct mail, booklets, leaflets, bulletin board posters, 24 sheet posters for outdoor boards, pay envelope slips, sound slide films, moving picture films and moving picture slides, plant publications and house organ service, nationwide radio programs, including the "American Family Robinson" cartoon service and the "Uncle Abner" series and under many other names. In each and all of these clever means of advertising, they have carefully worked into each item of publicity direct or indirect slams and slurs at the wage and hour, farm, reorganization, tax and relief legislation of the "New Deal." They have left no phase of propaganda untouched and have covered all phases of life from the cradle to the grave. Their propaganda has filled public schools and colleges; their active contacts throughout the Nation through their subsidiaries and local set-ups, according to their figures total 4,500,000 active propaganda workers.

For example, take the radio broadcasts staged for the past several years by the Manufacturers' Association, under the title "American Family Robinson" in each of these broadcasts, carefully and anonymously tucked away, is criticism of the "New Deal" and different parts of its program of caring for the aged and unfortunates. In none of their clever propaganda or advertisements, do they divulge the source of their information.

This Association, together with the United States Chamber of Commerce, the Liberty League, the Crusaders, etc., have all been active in spreading propaganda for outright repeal of the undistributed profits and capital gains tax, as well as defeat of the wage and hour, the reorganization, utility rate reduction and farm legislation.

To the People of Texas

In announcing my candidacy for re-election as a member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, I do so with profound appreciation of the trust reposed in me heretofore by the people of my native State.

True to my promises in the past, I have discharged the duties of an important public office; and due to intensive training and experience I have qualified myself to pass upon matters coming before the Railroad Commission—a department which constantly faces complex problems vitally affecting every citizen of our Commonwealth.

The jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission embraces the supervision of railroads, trucks, busses, express companies, dock companies, gas utilities, pipe lines and the administration of the conservation laws of this State dealing with the production of oil and gas; investments totaling more than three billion dollars.

The Commission has caused the rates on cotton to be reduced in some instances from $1.00 to $1.25 per bale, resulting in a saving to the cotton farmers and people of the State of several million dollars annually. Through its action the rates on grain are lower than they otherwise would have been and the grain farmers of Texas have thereby been saved, and are being saved, in excess of two million dollars annually. Because of the action of the Commission the rates on stocker cattle are 15% lower than they would have been, which saving has accrued to the cattlemen of our State.

An order of the Commission directing a reduction of the gas rates to the City of Laredo, by which the consumer will be saved more than 25 per cent was recently sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States. Since I have been a member of the Commission no order of the Commission fixing gas rates has ever been stricken down by the Courts.

The Railroad Commission's policy of oil and gas conservation has yielded to the permanent public school fund, the University of Texas and A. & M. College more than forty million dollars, the benefits of which will extend to coming generations.

Standing upon my record in these and many other achievements of the Commission, I ask with confidence my re-election to this highly responsible office; and I pledge a continuation of my best efforts for the public welfare.

A faithful performance of public service in the past is the best guarantee of like service in the future.

porations, with net incomes of $25,000 or less, from the undistributed profits tax. This bill changes the normal corporation tax rates of 8 per cent to 13 per cent to from 12 1-2 per cent to 16 per cent. Under the proposed law 88 per cent of the corporations are exempted from the undistributed profits tax which exempts all corporations under $25,000 net income. Corporations with net income of $25,000 or under, paid $14,079,000 in undistributed profits taxes last year, while all remaining corporations paid $84,226,000 in undistributed profits taxes. However, the individual income tax returns for 1936, due to improved business conditions and the undistributed profits tax changes in the tax laws, increased our revenues $735,725,000.

It is conservatively estimated that the proposed changes in existing laws, under the new tax bill, will reduce revenues under present conditions more than $300,000,000. The bill reduces the undistributed profits tax rates on corporations with net incomes over $25,000, 40 per cent, according to the committee report. Under the so-called third basket, or Title 1B, which proponents agree will affect only from 300 to 600 corporations, the committee estimates will raise less revenue than under existing law.

Capital Gains and Losses

Under the present law a larger portion of capital gains are taxed. On gains held over 10 years the amount considered as income may be as low as 30 per cent of the total gain realized. However, this bill materially amends and permits alternative payments whichever may be the lower rate, to where the maximum payments on assets held over five years will be 16 per cent, as against 33.2 per cent under existing law.

In addition to these material reductions, the capital losses carry-over and other reductions in the bill favoring the wealthy are very material and will lose substantially through lack of proper administration, as well as in revenue, because of material reductions in the law. The proposed bill eliminates excise taxes on furs, sporting goods, certain toilet articles, phonograph records, and chewing gum and leaves sales taxes on mechanical refrigerators, electric current, automobiles, tubes, gasoline, trucks, oil and many other necessities of life, for the great masses of our people.

In summarizing the tax bill: 1, it may be said that it loses more than $300,000,000 in net revenue. 2, This loss in revenue comes from those best able to pay and the burden will be thus shifted on to those less able to pay. 3, The bill is 319 pages of technical complex tax data, impossible of understanding by the great masses of the people. 4, The bill if and when enacted, will require all kinds of tax experts, auditors, etc., to administer the law and make out their returns. 5, It does not eliminate any of the major loopholes in existing law, many of which were specifically mentioned by the President in his special message on this subject, June 1, 1937, which called for the investigation, on which the proposed bill is supposed to be answer.

Calendar

The House last week, Monday through Wednesday, debated and finally passed the Interior Department Appropriation Bill and on Thursday began general debate on the tax bill, which will continue pending business until disposed of this week.

The Senate spent all of last week debating Government reorganization and will continue same through this week.

1,000 Gallons For 20 Bathers
The pool must have a capacity of 1,000 gallons of clean water for each 20 persons swimming.
Thus a 50,000 gallon pool would accommodate 100 persons. If equipped with a water circulator operating at the rate of 2,000 gallons per hour, it could accommodate 480 persons per day without changing the water.
The rules presume that no pool is safe without disinfection, regardless of the bacterial content of the water. The disinfection is necessary to kill bacteria from the bodies of bathers.
As a test of the cleanliness of the water, it is proposed that a black disc, six inches in diameter, placed on the bottom at the deepest point, be clearly visible from the sidewalks of the pool at all distances up to ten yards.
First Aid Kit Necessary
"Scum gutters" around the edge of the pool are particularly intricate—designed so that water entering them cannot re-enter the pool; small enough that bathers' arms or feet will not be caught; large enough to serve as handholds; deep enough that when used as handholds the fingers will not touch the bottom.
Ten feet is the maximum height of a diving board for any approved pool, and for that height, the water should be nine feet below the board.
The life guard should have at hand a first aid kit, with pole hooks, ropes, buoys, and other life saving equipment.
Perhaps the most difficult to enforce are the rules for the control of bathers. They propose to require all bathers to take a soap shower in warm water before donning the bathing suit;
forbid spitting, spouting of water, blowing the nose into the pool.
It is desirable that all suits used in the pool be furnished by the pool so that they can be thoroughly washed after each use.

Miss Curtis has company quite often over the week end, but it

President and Vice-president. Under the Poll-tax ban, the combined vote of these 11 States, during the twenty year period from 1896-1916, had shrunk 18 per cent while the electorate had grown 50 per cent.

North Carolina, in 1920, quit the Poll-tax Group by an Act of the State Legislature called in extra session. Louisiana later joined the poll-tax revolt.

In the presidential election of 1936, the Poll-tax Group included 9 States—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, S. Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. With a combined electorate of 12,472,245 citizens 21 years of age, these 9 poll-taxed States in 1936 cast only 3,005,177 votes for all candidates for President and Vice-President.

They polled only 24 per cent of their potential electorate—the lowest voting record on the civilized globe—as compared with a 72 per cent vote as the average of 39 States free from poll-tax ban.

On May 29, 1937, Florida stepped out of the Poll-tax Group and in February, 1937, Arkansas rebelled against the tyranny of the poll-tax. The action of these two states reduces the Poll-tax Group to only seven States—Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, S. Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

The combined vote of the present seven poll-taxed States (revised by the 1937 Acts) for President Roosevelt in 1936 was only 2,457,000, or less than 10 per cent of the President's 27,751,000. It is plain that, on this as the basis of representation in future Democratic National Conventions, the so-called "Solid South" would quickly pass into partial eclipse as a power in the Democratic party.

In the Census of 1930, Virginia had 1,300,893 citizens of voting age against 900,987 in West Virginia. In 1936, Virginia polled only 334,590 presidential votes as compared against 829,945 for W. Virginia. In other words, Virginia admitted only 25.7 per cent of its potential electorate to vote, while West Virginia, poll-tax free, led the States in polling over 90 per cent of its electorate.

Thus Virginia has become a foremost State in the new popular revolt against the poll-tax ban. Picture a State which was once the proud mother of eight Presidents, from Washington and Jefferson down to Woodrow Wilson, presenting to the country such an inglorious record of popular sovereignty as this.

The plight of Texas, the one-time "Banner State of Democracy," is not much better than that of Virginia, the one-time "Mother of Presidents." Texas, in the last census, had 2,335,555 native white and 84,878 foreign born white citizens of voting age, or a total white electorate of 2,420,433, which by 1936 doubtless exceeded 2,500,000.

Total vote of Texas for all presidential candidates in 1936 was only 843,482. That is to say, 70 per cent of the whites of poll-taxed Texas are non-voters.

Texas, in the last census, had a potential electorate of 3,220,880, which was greater than that of either Massachusetts, Missouri, Michigan, or Indiana, and not far short of that of California—and even the white citizens of Texas exceeded those of either Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan or Missouri.

But under the ban of a poll-tax that must be paid by February 1 of each election year, the Texas poll-tax registration barely reaches 1,000,000, and the result: Texas polls a vote only one-half that of Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Indiana, and even a Democratic vote less than half that of the former Republican States of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio or California.

It follows, then, that unless Texas and Virginia lift their poll-tax ban before November 1940, and thereby grant the ballot to their disfranchised white voters—they will be unknown in the future galaxy of "Banner Democracy" or as the "Mother" or step-mother of Presidents.

Love is like apple pie—all you need is a lot of crust and some well seasoned applesauce.

BECAUSE . . . It is a living, lasting, the courage and bravery of a great path.
BECAUSE . . . It makes those struggles and vicissitudes, of happiness of failures and triumphs, live again on screen.
BECAUSE . . . The same great successes—Joel McCrea, Bob Burns, Dec—soar to new heights in character never forget.
