Local 40 and 8's Attend Picnic At Wichita Monday

Friday night of this week has been designated as "Candidate Rally Night" for all county, district and local candidates seeking office. Practically every one seeking an office has been invited to attend this rally and most of them have promised they would be here. A large crowd is expected to be present and hear them expound their causes.

The speaking will be held on Avenue C between the two banks and seats will be available for the older folks. Judge H. W. Fillmore, master of ceremonies, stated that they will have their own band and a musical program will be rendered before the candidate speaking.

The local Chamber of Commerce has sanctioned the rally and the local PA system will be used. Herman Engelman, manager of the chamber, will do the broadcasting and act as master of ceremonies during the musical program.

Everyone who is interested in good music and good speaking, should be on hand early and prepare to stay late. This year's crop of candidates is composed of some good men and a number of the contests are going to be close according to prenotices.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brookshier and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brookman attended the annual family picnic of the 40-8 of the American Legion which was held at Scotland Park Monday night.

There were about twenty-five 40-8 members and their families present for the picnic.

Baseball and other games were played after which every one enjoyed a delightful picnic lunch.

Publicity Director Brooks' Candidacy Here Wednesday

Fay Hammond of Dallas, Publicity Manager Independent Grocers Association, visited Burk Burnett Wednesday in behalf of the candidacy of Pierce Brooks, Dallas business man, for Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. Brooks is a former candidate for Governor.

Hammond stated that Brooks' outstanding proposals were that the old-age pension should be paid in full to all meeting the constitutional requirements. He asserted this could be done by a $10,000,000 saving in operating expenses of the State government, the abolishment of the Liquor Board and the abolishment of the Old-Age Assistance Committee, which would mean an additional $3,000,000. He explained that liquor enforcement should be returned to the hands of local officials and the investigation and passing upon pension applications to the various County Judges with the warrants issued by the State Comptroller.

Another outstanding proposal in Brooks' platform was that the license tax on automobiles should be abolished, and in its place a nominal registration fee should be substituted with the drivers' license feature retained. The candidate's position is that this would not hamper the construction program of the Highway Department. He points out that increasing revenues from the gasoline tax rapidly are retiring the highway bonded indebtedness, and that the increasing use of gasoline will take care of the demands for new roads and for maintenance.

Brooks also opposes tampering with the constitution and the creation of a unicameral legislature. He charges it would be far easier under this system for special interests to dominate legislation, than it is in a bicameral body.

The candidate's slogan is "I Hate Taxes," and he said no new taxes now are necessary and that he will oppose, as Lieutenant Governor, any moves in that direction.

R. E. A. Program Being Launched

The Rural Electrification Administration today announced allotments totaling $11,229,200 for 66 rural power projects in 18 States and Puerto Rico. This money, together with the $1,785,000 allotted for 10 projects but not available until the beginning of the fiscal year, launches the expanded REA program which the Congress authorized for the 1938-39 fiscal year.

As soon as long term loan contracts have been executed, the funds allotted will be used by the project sponsors, largely co-operative organizations of farmers, to build about 13,500 miles of rural electric distribution lines which will make electric service available to more than 40,000 farm families and rural churches, schools, and stores which have been without its benefits.

Labor and industry have a major stake in the projects which

Kemp Receives A Barrel Of Fish

Oscar Kemp received a barrel of fish by express from Aransas Pass this week and he has been feeding fish to his friends.

The fish were sent to him by his friend, Jack Kelly, of Midland, who is at Aransas Pass spending the week vacationing and fishing.

According to Oscar he was invited to join the party but, knowing Jack as he does, he declined the invitation, stating that he did not think they would even wet a hook, and that Jack sent him the fish to prove to him that they really fished.

Kemp is still skeptical and is investigating to see if Jack did not buy the fish.

League Leading Dogies Smash Vernon 12 to 4

The big bats of the league-leading Burk Burnett - Fairview Dogies and the wildness of the Vernon pitcher sounded the doom of the Vernon Phillips 66 Oilers Sunday afternoon at the local stadium by the score of 12 to 4.

The short-handed Oilers called two outfielders, Hudson and Taylor, onto the mound, as Short ran into difficulties. Even the winners needed three pitchers, the more to give everyone a rest than to stave off any danger. Oxley was credited with the victory.

A hectic sixth inning saw the last of Short's pitching as he yielded to the force of a rally that finally netted the Dogies 10 runs. Short was the loser.

A large crowd cheered the local favorites on, and presaged a good following when the Dogies go to Wichita Falls next week to meet the Cats.

He will lecture on all fine points of the game, including the accepted grip, stance, and swing. He will discuss U. S. Golf Rules and etiquette and will answer any questions which may be asked.

Members of the Association consider themselves very fortunate in having this opportunity to hear Mr. Strachan and it is hoped that everyone who has even a remote interest in the game will be present for the lecture.

Burk To Have Carnival Week

The "Texas Longhorn Shows" will give performances here thru the coming week, opening Monday evening, July 18th. The shows will be located on the Jeff Parsons lot on the Wichita highway and will be sponsored by the American Legion.

The "Texas Longhorn Shows" have operated in Texas for over 16 years. They recently played at Marlow, Oklahoma, and come directly here from Duncan, where they had a very successful run.

There are approximately 150 people connected with the shows and they put on several acts every evening, including what is without doubt, one of the outstanding aerial acts featured by outdoor shows—"The 4 Flying Millers." This act was particularly popular at the celebration recently held at Electra, where the show filled a three day engagement.

"Texas Longhorn Shows" guarantee everyone a good time. There are shows, rides and concessions; entertainment to please every member of the family. Local merchants will be allowed to issue free ride tickets.

Jack Brumley, retiring president of the Burk Burnett Rotary club, was presented with a Rotary shield at the regular luncheon of the club Tuesday noon.

The plaque was presented by Paul Browning, who in a few well-chosen words told of the accomplishments of the club during the regime of Mr. Brumley. Mr. Browning stated, that in his estimation that Jack had been one of the best presidents that the Rotary club had ever had. He cited that fact that the last 38 meetings, under Jack's guidance, had been 100 per cent perfect attendance meetings.

"Watchman, Cry Out - And Hold Not Thy Peace"

Every parent surely feels the weight of responsibility in providing the home with a wholesome atmosphere, conducive to proper development of the child in matters physical, moral and spiritual.

Surely no parent could be so thoughtfully disposed toward the child of his bosom and at the same time be so selfish as to withhold his influence from circles outside the domain of his own family. Surely every minister in our land feels the need of re-enforcing and further shaping character in his particular group with which he works. Every social and civic leader likewise must surely be impelled by motives high and holy in all movements for betterment.

But there is an underlying danger to which I want to call attention, and I know of no briefer or better way to express it than by the following stanza:

Sin is a monster of so frightful mien,
That to be hated needs but to be seen;
But seen too oft, familiar grows the face,
First we pity, then endure and then embrace.

Every high sin and social stigma among us today, winked at and graciously tolerated, is a living testimony to the clear import of the above poem. Why don't we today cry out against the indiscriminate movie, the promiscuous swimming pool, the nude apparel, the race suicide, etc.? Every one of these social derelicts was met with a wave of protest. "Seen too oft" we have, many of us, embraced them. The danger is, I say, in our permitting that which is commonly practiced to take a name and a place in our social fabric and thus, as a matter of fact and by utter silence, lend them our sanction.

The first farm plows were made of crooked tree branches and worked by man power.

To build one modern locomotive, employment is provided equivalent to the work of fifty men for one year.

In Lapland, a European territory of four hundred thousand inhabitants, there are no doctors.

Railroads in 1937 bought materials and supplies and fuel in more than 12,000 localities in every state and in 2,637 out of a total of 3,072 counties throughout the United States.

Despite the endless chain of calamities, whiskey is a legal commodity and a common stock of merchandise in every street and block in our town. And all this with the apparent stamp of my approval.

The youth can truly say, "It's legal." Hence, we place ourselves in position of becoming accessory to the downfall of every youth who is thereby emboldened to take the first tragic drink.

In the spirit of true conviction that led Henry Clay to declare he'd rather be right than president, let us, who know the true status of this evil, assert ourselves on July 23rd, and speak out in thundering tones against Satan's most treacherous weapon.

Do I hear you say to bring in local option is to prepare fertile soil for the boot-leg salesman, and that we will remain as wet perhaps as ever. To that objection I answer in self defense.

First, the boot-leg salesman will operate under cover of darkness and rigid censorship of all true peace officers. Thus hampered he will contact only the true and tried addict and therefore, my son and your son will not so readily be victimized. Indeed, the chances are remote.

Second, if by chance a youth is brought over to the demon of drink under protest, he becomes parent to his own hazard and your and my skirts are cleared.

The issue is open and before you. Choose you on election day

Life-Guard Legion Announced

Organization of Motorists Who Have Experienced Accident

Organization of a national safety for motorists, modeled along the lines of the Caterpillar Club for aviators, has been announced in Decatur, according to Jim Alexander, president of the Life-Guard Legion, Rubber Co.

The famous Caterpillar Club exists in that the Life-Guard Legion, which has been organized by the Rubber Co. of Decatur, is a new organization of motorists who have experienced serious accidents resulting in injury or death. Mr. Alexander explained that the Caterpillar Club is an organization of aviators who have passed through use of the Life-Guard Legion device recently. The Life-Guard Legion device recently has taken their place in the steel bodies, four-wheel and safety glass in helping to make motoring safer," he continued. "Consisting of a reserve tire within a conventional tube, the Life-Guard turns a tire failure at high speed into a slow leak, allowing the driver to come to a safe stop without a swerve, instead of careening into a ditch or into oncoming traffic."

"When a motorist who has Life-Guards in his tires avoids serious accident through their use (and they have already saved thousands of dollars in automobile damage and hospital bills for car owners who have experienced tire failures while driving at high speed) he will automatically become a member of The Life-Guard Legion and will receive a beautiful bronze plaque in commemoration of his narrow escape."

Taxes Jump Over Billion In Year

The public paid $1,232,000,000 more federal taxes in 1937 than the preceding year, and almost three times more than in 1933, the National Industrial Conference Board reported recently.

Despite this tax increase of more than one billion dollars, the country entered 1938 with a deficit of approximately $3,000,000,000 between tax collections and government expenditures, the survey pointed out. Tax collections for 1937 were shown as $5,143,000,000, for 1936, $3,911,000,000, and 1933, at $1,874,000,000.

Government expenditures in 1937, according to the report, were $3,261,000,000 on a basis that excludes loans and subscriptions to capital stock and surplus. Revenue classifications showing the greatest increases were income taxes and other internal taxes. Income taxes increased $1,402,000,000.

Liquor taxes amounted to $594,000,000 in 1937, the report said, and accounted for 12 per cent of total collections. Tobacco taxes totaled 11 per cent, or $552,000,000; social security, 5 per cent, or $266,000,000, and customs taxes, 10 per cent, or $490,000,000.

Granary Plans Now Available

College Station—In anticipation of an increased interest in the farm storage of small grains, the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has prepared some new plans for granaries.

Blue print plans of 500, 1,000, 1,800, and 6,400 bushel capacity granaries are available from the Extension Service, Texas A. and M. College, College Station, Texas, M. R. Bentley, extension agricultural engineer, said.

Farm storage of small grains will increase, it is expected, because of the large crop and relatively low prices.

Rubber was so named by Joseph Priestly, the English scientist, who in 1770 discovered its usefulness for erasing pencil marks.

New freight cars on order by the railroads of this country at the beginning of 1938 totaled 7,947 compared with 25,592 one year ago.

W. D. McFarlane Dedicates Post Office Decatur

Decatur, Texas, July 12, 1938—Congressman W. D. McFarlane was the principal speaker at the dedication exercises of the new post office building here this evening and a large crowd was present. Mayor O. L. Thomas acted as Master of Ceremonies; Mr. J. T. Ward made the Welcoming Address and Mr. Milton J. Gaines, Postmaster at Wichita Falls gave the response; Mr. A. S. Page, Postal Inspector, represented the Post Office Department.

Congressman McFarlane, who was introduced by Dr. T. G. Roberts of Decatur, referred to existing conditions in the country today and of the need more than ever for honest and qualified men for public service. He then reviewed his previous legislative experience and training at Austin before going to Washington and thanked the citizens of Wise county for their splendid majority of 1778 votes given him in the race two years ago. He pointed out that the people of Wise county had long since learned that to get results you must have efficient men to represent the people. Mr. McFarlane referred to the importance of continuity of service and pointed out the positions of influence attained by Members of the Texas Delegation through hard work and long service. He mentioned Garner, Rayburn, Summers, Jones, Mansfield and Buchanan could not have attained their positions had they not shown their ability nor been returned by their constituents to reach the heights.

Mr. McFarlane stated that more than $56,000,000 had been spent in the Thirteenth Congressional District under his leadership and that he supported each measure that has been made available from these funds, including the beautiful new post office building being dedicated.

After reviewing the accomplishments of the Administration, Mr. McFarlane answered recent criticism by his defeated opponent of two years ago. Regarding legislation enacted, Mr. McFarlane pointed out that he had offered the legislation and secured the information upon which Congress acted eliminating the right of large corporations to file consolidated income tax returns, thus returning to the Treasury some $300,000,000 annually. He read a letter from Chairman Sumners giving him credit for first introducing and actively supporting legislation enacted, giving Federal Jurisdiction over bankrobbing, kidnaping, and hi-jacking, which legislation has had great effect in eliminating these evils.

Radio Investigation

Mr. McFarlane pointed out that his radio resolution was not reported out of the Committee, but that he had supported a general monopoly investigation resolution which was to investigate all monopolies, including that existing in radio. Regarding Gossett's insinuations concerning radio station license granted for Wichita Falls, McFarlane held up the sworn uncontradicted testimony which showed that his father and his friend who filed for a radio license to keep his enemy newspaper in Wichita Falls and others who had profited by the sale of KGKO from receiving a radio license by default; and that in December of 1936, as shown by the records in Washington, his father and his friends disposed of their interest in such application and the sworn uncontradicted evidence in the hearings before the Federal Communications Commission show that the following named Wichita Falls citizens own said station: Messrs. Joe Carrigan, Gordon West, Sol Lasky, and Hugh Hamilton.

Campaign Contributions

Regarding Gossett's recent allegation of campaign contributions, Mr. McFarlane pointed out that his sworn statements filed in 1934 were correct and list all funds received by him; that he has never solicited campaign contributions from anyone, much less bitter opponents and anti-New Deal critics, which includes all utilities.

Answering further all the charges now being raised by the defeated candidate of two years ago, Mr. McFarlane pointed out that this critic was using the same tactics he used in the campaign of two years ago and the people of the district would not be misled by his false statements unsupported by any reputable record evidence.

In closing his remarks Mr. McFarlane referred to the bitter, false statements circulated by Mr. Gossett several weeks before the Adjournment of Congress, which circular purports to quote as authority a reporter for the Chicago Tribune. This anonymous circular bitterly attacked Mr. McFarlane's reputation, character and his standing among his colleagues in the Texas Delegation and those with whom he has worked in Congress. Mr. McFarlane, answering these bitter attacks, referred to the unanimous endorsement from the Texas Delegation for his appointment on the powerful Appropriations Committee, and many unsolicited letters of endorsement from members of Congress, and Farm, Labor and Live-Stock Organizations which endorsed him and favor his record in Congress.

After the speaking, the large crowd of Wise county citizens present inspected the beautiful new post office building.

The term "southpaw" describing a left handed pitcher, originated in the fact that baseball diamonds are laid out in such a way that the pitcher's left side is toward the south.

BARNES HELPY-SELFY LAUNDRY

J. H. Barnes has operated the Helpy-Selfy Laundry on West Main in the building once occupied by Shamburger Lumber Co., for the past three years.

He bought the laundry from Mrs. A. W. Goodwin, whose husband had operated it until the time of his death in 1935.

Mr. Goodwin opened the first Helpy-Selfy laundry ever seen in this area sometime early in the summer of 1932. He started with one washer but the idea caught on at once and it was not long until he installed more. At the time Mr. Barnes bought the laundry it was equipped with six Maytag washers and was doing a flourishing business.

The laundry now serves between 400 and 450 patrons each month, some of them sending their laundry, which is taken care of by two employees of Mr. Barnes, but most of the customers still do their own laundries.

The building is large and well ventilated and everything is arranged for the convenience of the customer. Hot water is available and Mr. Barnes and his assistants are ready at any time to give help when it is needed. Many customers are taken to and from the laundry by Mr. Barnes in his own car.

Every woman who avails herself of the convenient Helpy-Selfy has reason to be thankful to whatever genius had the bright thought that has taken so much of the worry and trouble out of the bane of life, which is "wash-day."

"That which pleases women will always sell," is readily proven by the success of this establishment. It has come a long way from the day when its founder was thrilled because he had at last a profit in the magnificent sum of $15 for one week.

Golden Text—"Who knoweth whether thou art not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"—Esth. 4:14.

DEBORAH—A WOMAN WHO OUTGENERATED A SOLDIER

How Sin Weakened a Nation
Judg. 4:1-3. (1) And the children of Israel again did that which was evil in the sight of Jehovah, when Ehud was dead. (2) And Jehovah sold them into the hand of Jabin king of Canaan, that reigned in Hazor; the captain of whose host was Sisera, who dwelt in Harosheth of the Gentiles. (3) And the children of Israel cried unto Jehovah; for he had nine hundred chariots of iron; and 20 years he mightily oppressed the children of Israel.

A recurring refrain throughout the Book of Judges is this: "And the children of Israel again did that which was evil in the sight of Jehovah." Not yet had the Israelites become stabilized in their loyalty to God. They were surrounded by people who worshipped local deities, and the Israelites were tempted to seek help from some local deity rather than to depend wholly on God. Their defection from Jehovah made them an easy prey to their enemies.

The incident we are studying tells of a time when the Children of Israel had one of their chronic deflections. Jabin, the king of Canaan who controlled a kingdom in the region to the north and west of the Sea of Galilee, had completely overrun the Israelites near his territory. They suffered from his raids and his rule for twenty years. Like spoiled children who cry for help only when they must, these people began to turn to their God for succor. But they knew that their enemies were powerful, that they had nine hundred chariots of iron and a great company of trained soldiers. The Israelites' cry for help came to the inspired conscience of a woman, Deborah the prophetess, who is next introduced to the reader.

Deborah was at this time the recognized spiritual leader of Israel, at least of that part of Israel which was harassed by Jabin. Not only did she have a court of justice under the palm tree called by her own name, but she had gained the right to demand action when she had the assurance from God that the time for action had come. In her patriotic prayers she had received the message from God that Israel must be freed from the oppressor-king, Jabin. Moreover, her mind was enlightened with a plan of military strategy that would place Jabin's army under Sisera at a distinct disadvantage. Calling Barak to her, she outlined to him the plan. He was to collect ten thousand men from the tribes of Naphtali and Zebulun and lead these to Mount Tabor. Their presence would immediately attract the attention of Jabin's watchmen, who would report the matter to their king. Jabin would at once send his general Sisera, with the famed chariots of iron, to rout the Israelites. But the chariots would be useless unless they could operate on level ground below Mount Tabor. The chosen field of battle was near the river Kishon. A sudden rain-storm would swell this stream and make a miry plain in which the chariots would be a tremendous handicap. The Israelites, on the other hand, would not be hampered and would be able, with God's help, to overcome the discomfited enemy.

All this Deborah outlined to Barak, who agreed on the wisdom of the plan. He lacked the courage to carry it out, however, unless he could have the reinforcement of Deborah's presence. She consented to go with him, but warned him that any personal glory that he had hoped to obtain from the campaign would be dimmed by the hand of a woman who was to be used to complete the victory. Barak carried out Deborah's orders, collected his ten thousand men from the two tribes, an arranged them in battle array on Mount Tabor.

The final verses describe the array of the opposing forces.

Texas Brewers Organize Ass'n.

The State Council of Brewery Workers was organized in Dallas at the state convention held May 31 to June 2, 1938.

The purpose of the organization is to bring the people of Texas the truth and statistics in regard to beer and malt beverages and its manufacture.

The principles and aim of the organization are as follows:

1. We favor the repeal of the poll tax law.
2. To make our jobs safe from the whims of politicians in this way.
3. We favor legislation to be enacted into law that where that said election is held it will be for a period of two years.

Every group of organized labor is directly or indirectly benefited by the brewing industry in the state of Texas. Therefore, the State Council of Brewery Workers is asking the support, co-operation and endorsement of every group of organized labor in the state of Texas.

The State Council of Brewery Workers is opposed to the following practices:

1. Beer dealers who do not obey the laws of their respective localities.
2. The sale of beer to minors.
3. To put the sale of beer and malt beverages out in the open and avoid backdoor or alley practices.

The officers of the state Council of Brewery Workers are as follows:

- J. H. Gunkel, President, San Antonio Local No. 110.
  - C. H. Lindburg, Executive Secretary, Galveston Local No. 130.
  - Paul Frederick, Executive Counsel, Houston Local No. 111.
  - H. Zenner, Vice-President, San Antonio Local No. 110.
  - W. F. Bailey, Vice-President, Galveston, Local No. 130.
  - J. G. Coultrun, Vice-President, Houston Local No. 111.
- The vice-presidents at Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso have not yet been named.

W. Lee O'Daniel

The Common Citizen's Candidate For

Governor

His platform is the Ten Commandments—a platform never chosen before by any other candidate. He was drafted by the common people—something that never happened in Texas before. He is NOT a "Professional Politician" but an able business man with a program of "MORE SMOKESTACKS AND BUSINESS MEN and less Johnson Grass and Politicians!" We know that he is in sympathy with the common people because we have come to know him through means of the Radio for the past number of years. He is for full payment of the old age pension. He is against keeping employees on the State payroll because they helped somebody get elected instead of the service they render the State of Texas. He has fought a clean fight while his opponents have resorted to all manner of "Mud Slinging." Be sure and vote for

GARDENS

TRELLA DICK
 Mrs. Simpson had always taken great pleasure in gardening. She was an active member of the garden club, and each year she brought home blue ribbons from the flower show. Her garden absorbed her the whole year round. If she could not be out of doors, working in it, she was studying up for the next season's work.

When her health failed and the doctor said there would be no garden work for a year, maybe more, it seemed to her that her world stopped with a jolt. "How can I endure it?" she asked herself a dozen times a day.

"I can't live without my garden," she thought, "it's what I'm most interested in—"

She caught herself up, sharply. Could this be true? She, the mother of two fine children, more interested in her garden than in anything else?

"I've never neglected them," she said to herself.

Maybe not, with regard to being fed and clothed and sent to school. But Mrs. Simpson recalled, with a guilty twinge, that Ted had begged for room to put up a croquet set, and she had refused him for fear the lawn would be worn down. It made such a lovely background for her garden. Little Janet, too, had wanted a swing in the apple tree so badly, but that would have meant careless feet too near her precious blooms, so she had vetoed that. The children did most of their playing in other people's yards.

Mrs. Simpson did a lot of serious thinking during the next few days, some close observing, too, and she made a startling discovery.

"Here I have gardens right at hand that need cultivating," she soliloquized. "Weeds of laziness, inattention and selfishness are flourishing undisturbed. And there is so much planting to be done: good habits of all kinds that would grow rapidly if well-chosen and tended carefully while rooting. Yes, I have gardens that I have neglected, gardens that offer wonderful possibilities, and—O, I'm so glad!—I can work in them as much as I please."

Everyone marveled at the calm, even happy way in which Mrs. Simpson endured her exile from her beloved garden. She told no one about the secret gardens, in which she now worked so earnestly, carefully removing weeds that had taken roots thru her neglect, fostering every little shoot and bud of desirable traits which need so much encouragement in children.

When Mrs. Simpson was able to work outside once more, she often had two little helpers by her side, and soon her garden was, to her, as lovely as ever, although critics might have considered its setting a little less perfect. There was plenty of room now for Ted's croquet set, and Janet's swing. To Mrs. Simpson, this plot was no longer an all-absorbing interest. She was cultivating two other gardens. And how she enjoyed them! They were growing more beautiful daily under her loving care.

Big Rabbit Creek

July 10, 1938
 Well, folks, you can believe it or not, it's 102 right now at 3:10 p. m. in the shade here on Big Rabbit Creek. If it's this hot tomorrow out in the cotton field when Hawkeye and his brother, John, start chopping cotton, Hawkeye says that he is going to take along one of their big Maple shade trees, so they won't get hot under the collar.

Grandpa Dillbeck, who is still on the sick list, is slowly recovering. It is hoped he will be up and around again. His home physician at Walters pronounced his case as summer 'flu.'

Hawkeye has been advised that this coming week will close up the threshing of all grain in this part of the county. All spring oats have been very light around 11 bushels per acre; all fall oats from 35 to 40 bushels per acre. Wheat 40 to 42 per acre.

Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Nails had for their all day Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. James Self and their family of Chickasha, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Grady of Burkburnett, Texas.

Ottis Bone, a cousin of Charlie Nails, who lives in Milburne, Oklahoma, and who has been visiting in the Hardin home since January, departed for his home in Eastern Oklahoma Sunday morning. He left by bus.

Mrs. Martha Nails and her son, Charlie, have been chopping out cotton for the past week for James Pirtle.

Mrs. Ed Owens and W. H. Martin's little daughter, six year old Winnie June, who has been in the home and under the care of Mrs. Owens for nearly three years, were over in the Friendly Little City, Burkburnett, Saturday afternoon. They attended the big cash drawing of $60.00.

You know, folks, that Hawkeye was greatly surprised while he was over in our Friendly Little City, Burkburnett, Saturday afternoon. He heard someone down the street making a stump speech. He thought at first it was some of Lee O'Daniel's political speeches, but when Hawkeye got down to where this politician was making his talk, to Hawkeye's surprise, he was his old friend, John Ashton, campaigning for "Cockle Burr" Murray (Alias) Alfalfa Bill. Every few minutes you could hear brother John holler "Hurrah for 'Cockle Burr'" for our next governor." Say, believe it or not, Brother John was making it all of his listeners stand hitched.

Hawkeye got in the City early Saturday so he just dropped in to the Burkburnett's up-to-date and modern postoffice. He met his old friend, the postmaster, A. H. Lohofener, who has been our Friendly Little City's postmaster for several years, and fine services have been handed out to Burkburnett and its surrounding territory since Al has taken over the big job.

Brother Lohofener, through his kindness and friendship to Hawkeye, took the pains to show Hawkeye through the big postoffice and our Uncle Sammie's system in operating the postal business. First, he showed Hawkeye his quarterly statements that are made out every quarter by A. H. and no one else.

Listen, folks, anyone who handles the post office job certainly has to know his onions, for if that quarterly report shows up unbalanced even by one penny, it's just too bad. Next thing, Hawkeye was shown the stamp cancelling machine which is a wonderful piece of machinery. This machine will cancel out-going letters faster than a fellow can talk. The work is done perfect. Brother Lohofener employs as clerks J. L. Caffee, Jr., Neal Hall, Clark Ladd, C. B. Beldon, C. O. Hooper is the City Carrier and J. T. Brady is the Rural Carrier. You won't meet a nicer bunch of boys than the bunch that is working for our Uncle Sammie over in the big 2nd class Burkburnett post office.

Well, Hawkeye left home Saturday morning at 8:05 a. m. on foot and at 9:45 a. m. he was in our Friendly Little City, Burkburnett. Over 1,000 cars passed him on the highway. They were all going north and Hawkeye, of course, was going southwest. You know the results of getting a lift. Hawkeye knows that every time he leaves home for the city it's a cinch that he will have to walk the whole 9 miles. Of course, after arriving in the city he was a little tired. About 11:45 he was walking down the street on the South side; just as he was in front of the most up-to-date and modern and air conditioned cafe in the city owned and operated by Mrs. W. S. Graham. So a gentleman stepped out of this up-to-date cafe and Hawkeye got a whiff of chicken being fried inside. As Hawkeye has a great mouth on him for fried chicken and as he was hungry, he just stepped inside to get a real square meal. After waiting several minutes before he could get a seat at one of the tables, finally Hawkeye was seated, right under one of those big electric fans. One of the ladies, Miss Nina Williams, took Hawkeye's order of fried chicken and almost before you could think Miss Williams had this big steaming order of fried chicken sitting right in front of Hawkeye. Now it was a real dinner: best of all, when you order a chicken dinner at Mrs. Graham's cafe, you get plenty of chicken, besides other food that comes with your order to make a real dinner. Your chicken and other meats are cooked by Mrs. Graham in the good old Southern style—thoroughly done, not just half-cooked. I have heard it said that Mrs. Graham is one amongst the best lady cooks in our Friendly Little City, Burkburnett. Listen, folks, big, little, and old, whenever you want to get a real meal, matters not what time of the day, you just step into Mrs. Graham's air-conditioned, up-to-date cafe and just get your tum-tum filled up with some of the finest cooked food you ever ate. Her prices are always in line with any other cafe in the City or in any cafe in Wichita county. All of her waitresses are always pleasant and very sociable. Any of you Oklahomans that go to the City on Saturdays and get hungry, just step into Mrs. Graham's and get filled up. You Texas boys can bet that Hawkeye knows just what he is talking about.

What time Hawkeye and his brother, John, weren't chopping out cotton or plowing cotton last week, they were putting out grasshopper dope to kill the hoppers. They put out over 150 lbs. this week. Folks, did you know it's a very sad thing to put this poison out, then stand off a short distance and watch poor, hungry hoppers come up and begin to fill their tum-tums on this dope. You know, if they are very hungry, it doesn't take very long for them to begin to get down on their knees; looks to Hawkeye as if they were kneeling in prayer, asking the farmer for forgiveness for what damage they have done, for they soon know that their time is short, which it is. In a few seconds Mr. Hopper goes over on his head and he has gone over the Great Divide.

Yours truly,
 Hawkeye Owens

REA Program --

These allotments will build. Experience shows that the 13,014,200 of loans will be matched by an approximately equal expenditure by the farmers themselves for house wiring and electrical appliances, increasing the total of industrial, commercial and employment activity to approximately $26,000,000. The total employment required to provide the materials for the rural lines which today's allotments will construct, and to build the lines themselves and wire the houses taking service, is estimated at 14,500,000 man-hours, exclusive of employment in equipment and appliance manufacture.

Construction of the power lines will require some 2,800,000 man-hours or direct labor in the project areas. The lines will use approximately 36,000 miles of copper, aluminum and steel wire, which will take nearly 2,200,000 man-hours to make. The 40,000 meters and 26,000 transformers will provide another 1,500,000 man-hours. Lumber producers will have a market for 275,000 poles which require over 1,000,000 man-hours. Transportation of materials from factories and treating plants will require more than 2,000,000 car-miles.

Each of the farmsteads connected to lines which today's allotments will construct must be wired, which means that some 40,000 wiring jobs, each costing $50 to $300 or more, will be distributed among local wiring contractors in small towns throughout the area. As soon as service is available the customers will be in the market for radios, refrigerators and other electrical appliances. The new markets for industrial products which new rural lines create are continuing markets; experience shows that purchases of electrical equipment by farmers continue for many years.

Under the Rural Electrification Act of 1936, the Congress appropriated $40,000,000 for rural electrification loans during the 1938-39 fiscal year. In addition, in the Works and Relief Act the Congress provided that REA might land another $100,000,000 of Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds, making a total of $140,000,000 of loan funds available during the current fiscal year.

Each of the projects for which funds are allotted has been studied on the ground by a field representative of REA. Signed customer service contracts have been obtained from the prospective customers. The money allotted for these projects will be available as soon as the sponsoring organizations perfect their organizational and execute the necessary legal documents. It is expected that many of the lines will be completed and in service within a year.
