Tom Hall to Meet Former Dogie In Mound Duel Sun.

"I can thump that baseball like shooting marbles and beat Chesty Lewis," vows Tom Hall, Burkburnett-Fairview slab artist.

"If Tom Hall was the hardest thing I had to beat, I'd win this league in a walk," is the statement of Homer "Chesty" Lewis, the State Hospital mound ace.

That is the way the Oil Belt baseball league's two rival pitching stars sum up the battle scheduled for Sunday afternoon at Shamburger Field where the Burkburnett - Fairview Dogies and the State Hospital Mules will resume league warfare at 6:30.

The game is already attracting much attention over the league and one of the banner crowds of the season is expected to turn out for the dedication of the new home of the Dogies.

The Dogies lost their opening game last week to the Electra Oilers and will be shooting the works this week.

State Hospital won their opening game last week at Iowa Park and Homer Lewis and Company are shooting for the chance to pull away from the rest of the field.

Lewis was with Burkburnett-Fairview early in the season, deterring for other fields, and the local club is anxious to get a crack at the talkative one. Against him they have Tom Hall, a colorful veteran of many campaigns and an ancient rival of the State Hospital ace.

In other games for Sunday, the Wichita Falls Cats will move into Iowa Park and Electra will visit Kamay for games.

and encouragement of historical inquiry and the re-visualization of the history of Texas, having resolved to observe with appropriate dedicatory exercises the opening of the San Jacinto Museum of History and to inaugurate the program of its activities with a series of lectures under the patronage of several other historical societies, it therefore becomes our privilege most respectfully to invite the public to these ceremonies of inauguration and dedication, Thursday and Friday, the 20th and 21st of April 1939. This is truly a great occasion for the Association and for all other patriots who are to participate. On the site of the monument was fought one of the decisive battles of history. Texas lost all her battles except the last which occurred April 21, 1836. San Jacinto's towering shaft marks the memorable spot where a new nation was born, tall enough to be seen by those who sail the seas but who do not come into port as well as by all who pass along the historic bayou, ever reminding the changing centuries that the Lone Star was born to shine forever.

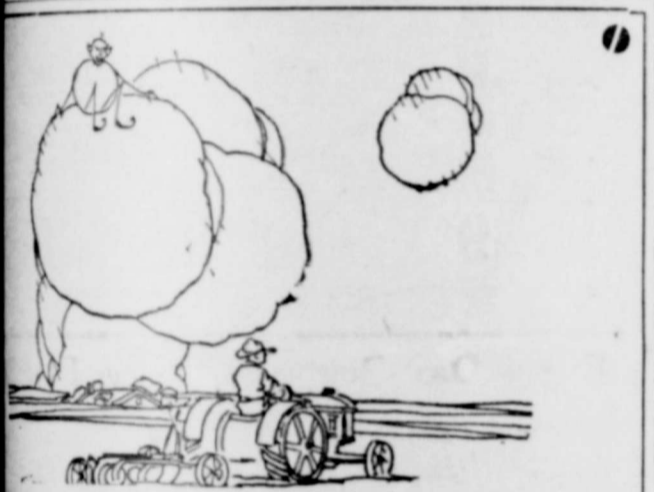

The above invitation in quotation marks is one of the longest sentences ever written, just like the monument is the tallest in the U. S.

At Austin all is hurry. The last hours have set in. The members have little time even for conferences. While the Senate is being lauded by many who appreciate the dignity and decorum of the upper chamber, the general consensus of opinion expressed under the big dome is that the people of Texas are indebted to the House of Representatives, the shock absorbers, and the branch of Legislative government that has not forgotten the common people.

Lush Pastures In Hot Months

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

For a few months in spring and early summer native pastures in the Southwest usually grow luxuriantly, and livestock thrive accordingly. As the heat of summer grows, often intensified by insufficient and irregular rainfall, the native pasture grasses slow up and sometimes dry up, and grazing animals quickly show the effect of changing from lush, green feed to scant, dry feed. This is especially bad for dairy cows and the weekly cream or milk check drops with discouraging speed. A dairy cow should have plenty of time to lie up in the shade and ruminate, in order to keep up a good milk flow. If she has to spend four or five hours grazing a "fill" or the sun becomes unbearably hot before she gets a "fill" she hasn't much time left to manufacture milk. Cows will not stay out in the hot sun and graze more than enough to assuage the pangs of hunger, so it is vitally important that the grazing be richer in hot weather than when it is cool. It is the surplus feed above the hunger margin that supplies the milk flow, if any. With native pastures, and in fact tall except the very best improved permanent pastures, the grazing begins to decline at the very time when it should be best. Sudan grass is ideal for filling out the midsummer deficiency, for it will be at its best after the spring growth of native grasses begin to decline, and since the seed is cheap, there is no excuse for failing to plant enough to keep the cows happy during the hot months. Sudan is adapted for temporary pasture throughout the Southwest. It will produce more tonnage per acre in its short season than any other annual grazing plant we have. It will grow on all our soils, and as someone once happily phrased it, "sudan grass laughs at the drought and laughs at the rain." In short it will produce under a wide variety of soil and rainfall conditions, and while it is resistant to poor soils and light rainfall, it responds luxuriantly to good soil and ample moisture. Sudan grass may be planted at any time after cotton planting is over, when there is sufficient moisture to germinate the seed.

It may be drilled for cultivation with whatever implements are available, and experimental data shows that it thrives best under cultivation early in the season. The rows can be as close as 18 to 20 inches, or as wide as the standard width for corn and cotton cultivators. The preference is for about half the width of cotton rows, for either grazing or hay. Drilling with a grain drill or broadcasting is not recommended at all if it is to be grazed, and if sown for hay, broadcasting is adapted only on very fertile land where there is likely to be plenty of rain. By the large, experience indicates that row-planting, with some cultivation, is best. Since we are concerned mainly with providing summer pasturage to keep up the milk flow and supply other livestock and poultry with a vitamin-rich forage all summer, let's be sure some sudan is planted, sometime this spring. If there is a fenced field for it so much the better, but if not, a temporary fence can be run when grazing time comes. This may seem like a lot of trouble to take for the sake of a few months grazing, but it will pay off in the milk checks, the egg yields, the thrift and growth of every animal and fowl that has access to good green forage when the native pastures fall off.

Angelea Jacobs Married Arvis Carey In Lawn Ceremony Last Saturday

Miss Angelea Jacobs, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jacobs, became the bride of Arvis L. Carey Saturday morning, April 15, at ten o'clock, in a beautiful lawn wedding at the home of her parents. L. N. Moody, pastor of the Church of Christ in Vernon, officiated.

The double ring ceremony took place before an altar banked with white sweet peas and an arch twined with bridal wreath.

Prior to the bride's entrance, Miss Cornelia Evert sang, "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied by Walter Koch who also played the Wedding March from Lohengrin.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and wore a white satin wedding gown cut on princess lines with a sweetheart neck. A short veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. For "something old," she wore a gold bracelet of her mother's; for "something new," she carried a prayer book on which four gardenias were placed and from which fell satin streamers interlaced with lilies of the valley; she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to Miss Naomi Holt, one of her attendants; for "something borrowed," a blue cameo was "something blue" and she had a six-pence in her shoe to complete the old rhyme.

Her attendants were Misses Pauline Allen and Naomi Holt, both of Burkburnett, who wore dresses of poudre blue moire and carried bouquets of sweetheart roses and sweetpeas.

The bride-groom was attended by Paul Fields of Burkburnett.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip to Amarillo and other points in North Texas. The bride's going away costume was a poudre blue crepe with pleated skirt and sweetheart neck. The gardenias from her prayer book formed a corsage.

Mrs. Carey was graduated from the local high school in 1936. She has been employed for some time at the Palace Theatre.

Mr. Carey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Carey. He was graduated from the Fairview High school in 1936 and is employed by the La Salle Petroleum Company.

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 23rd.

The Golden Text is: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me" (Psalms 23:4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord" (1 Corinthians 15:58).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals, will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality to light" (page 492).

Burk Dogies Play State Hosp. Sun

First Home Game Of Season To Be Played At New Park West of Town

The Burk-Fairview Dogies who are smarting under the defeat handed them last Sunday by the Electra Oilers are working hard this week in anticipation of their first home game of the season which will be with the State hos- pital team Sunday afternoon. The game will be called at 3:30 on the Shamburger field.

Electra Defeats Dogies, 12-0

The rejuvenated Electra Oilers made an impressive bow in the Oil Belt league Sunday after- noon when they staged a come- back to smother the Burkbur- nett-Fairview Dogies, 12 to 0. With two former Oklahomans, Pruitt and Jones, throwing the ball past the vainly swinging invaders from North Wichita county, the Oilers' power in de- fense and at the bat sent a warning shiver through the league.

Pruitt pitched six innings, holding the Dogies hitless, and was relieved by a pinch hitter in the seventh frame. Jones took up the tossing duties.

The Oilers battered the offer- ings of four Dogie pitchers for 13 hits, including two home runs. Score:

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Those who have smiled skepti- cally (I was one) when the de- lights and wonders of Old Mex- ico were depicted with glowing eloquence by travelers need only to make the journey themselves into the neighbor- ing country to find that the travelers were wrong—they did not make the descriptions beau- tifully enough!

It is a story-book land, a place of such sudden and surprising contrasts, of such varying sights and sounds that it leaves the brain bewildered. Imagine com- pressing all these events into a single day:

Arriving in the City of Mexico a few Sunday mornings ago, we (the members of the Texas Lions' good will pilgrimage) were met at the station by Mex- ico City Lions. A string band played soft, Mexican melodies, frag- rant flowers were presented to the ladies and then we were whisked by car to La Reforma, newest and most modern hotel in the Republic.

Then began a tour of the city. Uniformed soldiers wearing the trench helmets were on guard with bayoneted rifles as we en- tered the National Palace where we saw long reception halls, lined with paintings of statesmen and generals; the dining room, with its crystal chandeliers and ponderous silver, where Emperor Maximilian and Empress Carlotta once entertained, and then the Cabinet Room, heavy tapestries at the windows, gilt furniture, thick carpets, and, at each cabi- net member's chair beside the long table, a gold-lettered leather portfolio. Officers pointed out a bullet hole in the back of one chair and then of another; the occupants had been shot to death. From the beautiful ballroom, the visitors stepped on to the balcony, and looked out on the Zocalo (or plaza) the center of the life of Mexico, the view dominated by the twin towers of the cathedral, standing on the site of the chief Aztec temple.

On the walls of the National Palace are the Diego Rivera murals. Here is Mexico's history, told not in words but in painting and so it is a story that anyone with eyes can read. The colors are bright because it is a color- ful tale, beginning with plumed dancers and feathered serpents, then the Spanish conquest, Maxi- milian, Juarez, Diaz, Villa—it is all there, even a depiction of the late industrial exploitation of the people and a presentation of the present policies of Mexico, in- cluding the expropriation of for- eign-owned oil properties. The lower part of one section was stained with acid; someone, dis- pleased, had tried to destroy the picture.

A drive through the market, thousands of blossoms of unbel- ievable brightness and size pil- eed in perfumed pyramids; the reddest of tomatoes, the greenest of peppers and the whitest of onions; then a swing down the Paseo de la Reforma, one of the most beautiful boulevards in the world, with its bronze King Charles and its Victory Monu-

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SNAPSHOT ODDITIES

Giant frog. Some wag painted eyes and mouth on a big roadside boulder—and an alert picture-taker came along and snapped an excellent "oddy" picture. Keep your eyes open for things such as this—they add interest to your album.

Do YOU keep your eyes open for odd and curious things which might be material for an "unusual picture" section in your snapshot album?

Watch for such subjects when you are on a picture-taking jaunt, and you may be surprised at the things you find. Oddly twisted trees that look like old men—a freakish bit of architecture—a wall-shadow that looks like a human face in profile—an unusually realistic scare- crow in a farmer's field—novel cloud forms—all these are candi- dates for the "unusual picture" col- lection.

Observe reflections, too. Picture the upside-down reflection of a building in water. Turn the picture right side up, and the water ripples look like heat waves. Extreme angle shots of some subjects, taken with camera pointed straight up or straight down, often produce weird effects. For example, put the camera on the floor at the bottom of a well- lighted circular staircase and take a "straight-up" shot—with short time exposure if you have a slow camera, or a snapshot if your camera has a fast lens. The resulting picture will be fantastic—but a good subject for your album.

Shadows often produce picture oddities. Shadows of bars at the zoo may put a striped coat on a lion. Curved surfaces, such as a chrom- ium bowl or convex mirror, produce oddly distorted reflections you can picture. And here's an idea: put a small subject such as a kitten or puppy on a glass-topped lawn table, and snap a picture from underneath. If you take care that the glass picks up no reflections, it will be invisible—and the subject will seem to be floating in air!

These pictures are fun—both to take and to show to your friends. A good collection of "guess what?" or "guess how?" pictures can provide hours of entertainment at a party. Build up a clever album of such snapshots; it's not hard, and you'll have pictures worth while.

3rd and 4th Grade News

The Rhythm Band is quite proud after the nice compliments that have been given to them. Bobbie Ann McClure, the new director, is very competent, and the band follows her direction well. The band feels that they have had a very successful year.

5th and 6th Grade News

Doris Rountree is absent today because of illness. "Top Season" is at its height with the boys in this room. "Jacks" still hold first place with the girls.

7th Grade News

The boys and girls of the 7th grade have decided on their graduation clothes. We know that you will be proud to see us, and we will be glad to see you come, so come and bring all your friends, and fill the auditorium for us on graduation night at Clara High school.

Girls' Sport News

Last week an inter-class tournament in baseball was played between the classes. The first game was between the Sophs and Fish. The Fish were victorious winning by a score of 9 to 5. The next game was between the Fish and Juniors and Seniors combined. Again the Fish won by a score of 15 to 6. Therefore the Freshmen have gained the title of having the best girls' soft ball team in High school. This may prove to be an exceedingly dull week as far as athletics are concerned, for the Seniors and Juniors will be planning for their much anticipated trip to Turner Falls next Friday.

Freshman News

The Freshman class was very well represented by the girls in the scholastic baseball game between the Fish and Sophs. The Freshman girls defeated the Sophs but the boys were not so lucky because the Freshman boys lost to the Sophs. We hope the Sophs don't get the "bighead."

Sophomore News

There is a general feeling of reluctance to meet the end of this school term, for all Sophs realize that it means a split in the dear old Sophomore class of Clara High. But Sophs, we have all enjoyed dear old Clara and I am sure that wherever we are next term, there will be fond memories of days gone by. So let's all work to do our school as much good as we can before we leave it, to work in another.

Junior News

The Juniors are living in anticipation of their trip to Turner Falls this week end and we hope to have one grand time. We expect to be well stocked in the food line also—we are taking ten dozen eggs, ten pounds of bacon not to mention the loaves of bread and other products in the food line. We hope the Seniors will be able to tip the scales several pounds over their ordinary weight when we return.

Senior News

A member of the Senior class presented a pretty deplorable situation as imposed upon the class last week. They seemed to want to give the impression of a poor, overworked and dejected group. Poor things, I'll bet the Seniors are just working their tired sore little fingers to the bone on this last lap of such a strenuous race. I would like to correct this mistake. Maybe we do snore a little loud in the study hall, and maybe our eyes do have a dreamy, hazy whatcha-may-call-it look, but let me tell you the last is caused by the bite of the bug and the first is certainly not from losing beauty sleep while studying history. The Valedictorian for the class of 1939 of Clara High school, will be Amy Marjorie Johnson with an average of 92.673. The Salutatorian will be Mary Lois Ferguson, with an average of 89.54. The boy making the highest average is George Grozier with an average of 82.2. All of these averages are based upon the students' grades at the end of the 5th six weeks work.

Big Rabbit Creek

April 16, 1939

You know, folks, that this winter has been, and is still, the longest drawn-out winter that Hawkeye has ever seen. Here it is, April half gone, and a good fire feels mighty nice to sit by; but very little vegetation is growing and won't until we get some warm weather.

The 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kincaid, Arland, motored up to Walters, our county seat, Tuesday and joined the CCC camp for six months and will be stationed for the present time at Casher, Oklahoma.

Hawkeye accompanied J. E. Wood and Miss Geneva, his daughter, over to Our Friendly Little City Saturday on business and to get some more garden seed, arriving back home at noon, as Hawkeye had to finish planting their garden.

The Owens family's old friend, Toke Hardin, called on them Sunday and spent several hours visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kincaid's little daughter, Nadine, was very sick Thursday night with rheumatism. Hawkeye is pleased to state that Miss Nadine is much better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Austin and their little daughter, Miss Patsy Lou, motored over to Our Friendly Little City Saturday to do their shopping and to attend the big trades day event.

Quite a few farmers will start planting their feed stuff Monday, also to plow their cotton land, as the time is drawing near to plant cotton, which will start about the 10th or 15th of next month.

Nearly everyone who planted winter seed corn had to plant it all over and lots of spuds that were caught napping by the big frost had to be planted over.

"Whatever happened to the little girl who used to want an all-day sucker?"
"Now, she just wants one for the evening."

Dad—"I'll teach you to make love to my daughter, young man."

Boy—"I wish you would. I don't seem to be getting anywhere with her."

Charlie—"Where's your father?"

Toke—"Round in front."

Charlie—"Yes, I know he's round in front, but where is he?"

Bro. Harry—"You say you can recommend this hair restorer?"

One of our most up-to-date barbers in Our Friendly Little City—"Oh, yes sir. I know a man here in town who removed the cork from the bottle with his teeth and within 24 hours he had a moustache."

Our commissioner for district 3, Bart Nelson, and his wife motored down in the Big Rabbit Creek neighborhood Thursday evening inspecting some work that his men had done the first of last week. Bro. Bart only makes a trip down in this neck of the woods only about once every 6 or 8 months.

Our Public Schools

By W. E. Marshall
As stated recently Safety Education is one of the most vital and crucial problems facing the people of Texas. The phase of Traffic Education of our youth was dealt with primarily, but this article will deal with many other phrases of Safety Education.

In the first place it is surprising to know the huge number of accidents—many of them fatal—that occur right in one's own home. Many children and adults stumble on stairways, over fall-on brooms, toys, and so on. Poor lighting frequently causes accidents which good illumination would have prevented. Electrical connections should be properly installed to prevent short circuits, but particularly is this true when the hands are damp or when standing in water.

All gas appliances should be connected by reliable plumbers; gas heaters should be extinguished before retiring or leaving the house. All pipes and fixtures should be inspected frequently. The child should be taught never to play with guns or other dangerous weapons. Never play with matches or leave matches lying around. Teach the children never to use kerosene on live coals. And in case of gas heaters if a gas leak were to be detected the doors and windows of the house should be opened immediately. And never strike a match in such a case until several minutes have elapsed to allow the accumulated gas fumes to escape from the house, and thus prevent explosions and consequent painful and perhaps fatal burns. The parents, as well as the teachers should, by all means, instruct the children of Texas in "Understanding the Many Hazards Existing At Home."

And believe it or not there are many hazards in the winter days often overlooked, such as poor ventilation which might result in asphyxiation; carelessness in placing candles on Christmas trees; ice on steps and sidewalks; crossing icy streets; placing hard objects in snowballs—hard snowballs even are dangerous; frost-bite and exposure; carbon monoxide in closed cars; and innumerable other winter hazards. Attention to all of these hazards should be called to the minds of the youngsters often in order to avoid accidents.

On the other hand, many accidents are caused in the spring months from flying kites near electric wires. If a kite should fall on an electric wire do NOT try to disentangle it because of danger of electrocution. There should be adequate playgrounds but by all means do NOT play in the streets. The "show-off" and "smart alec" usually gets hurt or hurts some innocent person. There are many accidents while playing on swings, seesaws, slides, giant strides, and so on. Consequently, it is the duty of the teachers to supervise the playgrounds and to instruct the children in the value of being careful constantly to avoid accidents and injuries. And the State Department of Education urges all schools to have their teachers instruct the pupils in the many dangers that lurk at every corner and even in play.

Then there are innumerable hazards in vacation days, such as possible floods, hurricanes, bad roads, curves, and so on, for the vacationer to observe diligently. Worn out tires, bad brakes, and poor lights often result in accidents which could have been avoided easily. Children should look out for approaching cars, should NOT play in the streets, or walk on the street pavement. The teacher and parents should constantly warn the children of the grave dangers that might result from doing these things. And they should be told repeatedly of the dangers that may result from carelessness when swimming (such as crying for help in fun—it may be serious one time and help may not come); don't swim if you have heart trouble. Then there are many dangers in boating, fishing, and camping, such as, avoid "horseplay" in boats, do not fish off of a railroad trestle or steep bank, camp above flood and tide levels, and put out camp fires, take care in the kind of water you drink for fear of contracting typhoid or malaria fevers. These, and many other dangers can be instilled into the minds of our boys and girls right in the class-room, and the State Department of Education recommends and urges that this be done.

And finally, the value of immediate First Aid treatment and some methods of such treatment should be taught the children. This is being done in many Texas schools and should be in all of them.

The teachers of the schools of Texas are urged by the State Department of Education to teach the children that there are more than 10 million accidents per year in the United States. They should teach the value of First Aid in preventing accidents in the home, at school, on the playgrounds, and so on. They should be taught how to prevent accidents, how to determine the nature and extent of an injury, what to do, and how to administer First Aid (such as, in many cases the injured should be allowed to lie still, his head rest below the rest of his body, and so on), how to treat bleeding, poisoning, and many other things. They should learn how to give complete facts to the doctor, such as the exact location of the in-
