NEELEY'S TEAM READY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP TILT WITH GREYHOUNDS

Bulldogs To Seek Title 'Clincher' Friday Night

Freddie Brown, Burk Burnett's star back will be in tip-top shape as well as the rest of the team, when they go on the field Friday night against the Throckmorton Greyhounds. The Greyhounds stand as the last obstacle for the Dogs to hurdle for a district championship, and this promises to be the best game of the season, for Throckmorton played a whole of a game against Crowell last Friday.

Last year the two teams met at Throckmorton with the Greyhounds as one point victor over a surprised crew of Doggies. This year the Bulldogs with a powerful ground and air attack will be favorites again, but favorites with a memory of the powerful defense they met late in the season at Throckmorton.

Tied For Second Place
Last season the teams were tied for second place by virtue of the Greyhounds' upset march to the goal line.
Coach Volney Hill is ready to shoot the works against the Greyhounds. If he wins the game he will have two weeks in which to prepare for the bi-district contest, (probably against Stamford.)
Fans of the two teams will see a spectacular combination of running and passing which has carried the Bulldogs through the season without defeat. The team has scored almost exactly the same number of points by passes as by running plays.

Bulldogs Take Wildcats, 35-13

Although they outgained the title-bound Burk Burnett Bulldogs, the Archer City Wildcats fell before the Wichita county juggernaut at Archer City last Friday night 35 to 13.
The Bulldogs got the jump on the Wildcats at the very outset of the game, scoring three touchdowns in the first seven minutes.
After that it was nip and tuck most of the way.
Burk's first period scores were made by Freddie Brown on a 12-yard gallop, by a pass, Brown to Clements, for 11 yards, and by Brown again, this time on a 50-yard punt return gallop.
In the second a Bulldog pass, Brown to Clement, was good for 30 yards and a score.
The Wildcats scored in the third on a pass from Patterson to Autrey, good for 30 yards. Both teams scored in the last period, Burk by virtue of Brown's interception of a pass, and Archer City on a pass from Patterson to Wiley.
Archer City gained 239 yards to 209 for Burk. The visitors led in first downs, 9 to 7.
The victory assured the Bulldogs of at least a tie for the 9-A conference race.

Chevrolet Holding Unique Used Car Sale This Week

Charley Grace, manager of the Barrow-Grace Chevrolet Co., has inaugurated a different kind of Used Car Sale which started this week and will continue for two weeks.
Every used car on their lot has been reduced from $75 to $50 and the price is plainly marked on each car. Mr. Grace stated "Why shouldn't a man who is in the market for a car know just what he is going to have to pay for it, just as he would if he went into a dry goods store to buy a suit of clothes or a hat?" He further stated that he was setting a precedent by plainly marking the cars so that the buyer can tell just what he will have to pay for the car desired.

WOMEN DECLARE WAR ON CITY MANAGER

City Manager Lynn Kincaid returned last Saturday from New Braunfels, and before he had been here 30 minutes he was wishing he was back in New Braunfels or somewhere else. The reason: He ordered the city employees to put "B S" on the sides of the recently completed topping of several of the streets and when the children returned from school and the men from work they "tracked" the crude oil on the rugs and the women folks were really up in the air.

However, I know how to sympathize with him for I returned late Saturday afternoon from a 3-day visit in Dallas where I attended the Texas Editorial Assn. convention, and the first thing my wife said was, "Well, I see you made the front page on the daily newspapers, and besides, look at my rugs. They are ruined."

Had several ask, "Why didn't you face the camera?" A very foolish question, if you ask me. But anyway, the newspaper men were wonderfully entertained while in Dallas. The convention lasted for three days and every minute was taken up with business and entertainment. The meeting was called to order Thursday morning for a business session. Luncheon was served at noon in the Baker hotel, being guests of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. The evening session was devoted to business and at 7:15 p. m., all left for the Rio Rita Gardens, Fair Park where an Evil Old Men's Dinner, Wicked Women, Too, was served. The menu consisted of Wicked Texas Grapefruit, Repulsive Celery Hearts, Unwholesome Texas Turkey, Offensive Sweet Potato, Calamitous Pickled Peach, Pernicious Cranberry Sauce, Depraved Lettuce, and Tomato Salad, Worthless French Dressing, Baleful Ice Cream and Cake and Sinful Rolls and Butter.

Friday morning we were guests of Sears & Roebuck for breakfast. And at 9:30 we left for Trinidad where we were guests of the Texas Light & Power Co. At 7:00 p. m. the association members were guests of the Southwestern Life Insurance for dinner at the Adolphus hotel. The final day's business included election of officers and a noon day luncheon, guests of the Dallas Gas Co.

A prominent ex-banker and a young "drug store cowboy" of great promise went to Munday Thursday. They said they went on business but a lot of people are wondering what 'business' they could have had there on a holiday.

Food Sales Here Return $16,926 In Hidden Taxes

Families in Burk Burnett pay an estimated $16,926 in hidden taxes annually through their purchases of food, a National Consumers Tax Commission survey showed today.

"Nearly eight per cent of the total food bill represents shifted taxes buried in the price of every purchase," the report stated. "These unseen levies, for example take 11 per cent of butter costs, 6 1/2 per cent of bread costs, 10 1/2 per cent of sliced bacon and 14 1/2 per cent of the cost of coffee."

The report was made public through Mrs. Kenneth C. Frazier, of Dallas, chairman of the board, who leads NCTC study groups in about 810 Texas communities in the educational crusade against "unnecessary consumer-penalizing taxes." The report added: "Chief offenders and those that fall most heavily on lower income families, are hidden taxes. These are levied originally against the producer, manufacturer, shipper and distributor. Unable to absorb the load, each must pass on a share of his taxes and the consumer ultimately pays them, usually without knowing it."

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,100 communities have launched tax study programs said the hidden tax figures do not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

Man Named In Four Charges

ASSAULT ON BURK NEGROES BRINGS ARREST

Three or more misdemeanor complaints were filed Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Roy Blanscet of Burk Burnett against a white man, resident of Wichita Falls, for an alleged disturbance at Burk Burnett last Wednesday.
The man went to the home of a negro woman in Burk Burnett, found her there with her husband allegedly drew a pistol from beneath his coat while reminding the husband that he had been ordered to stay away from the woman. The husband fled with great speed, Blanscet said, whereupon the white man turned upon the negro woman and struck her with the gun for having violated his instructions not to associate with her husband.
The accused is charged with carrying a pistol, with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, with aggravated assault upon a female, and with disturbing the peace through rudely displaying a pistol.
The white man, after conviction on charge of adultery in county court last month, was fined $200, and costs. In a companion case, the negroes previously had been fined $100 and costs.
The white man is at liberty on bond pending action on his motion for a new trial.

Lions-Rotary To Entertain Teachers Next Friday Nite

CONGRESSMAN ED GOSSETT TO BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Plans are practically complete for the Lions-Rotary banquet, when the teachers of the Burk Burnett schools will be guests. The banquet will be held next Friday night at the Methodist church beginning promptly at 7:30, and the ladies of the church will do the preparing and serving of the meal.

The Rotary club, with Jingle Hayes as chairman of the program committee, has secured Congressman Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls as the principal speaker. The Lions club is to furnish the toastmaster, which will be announced later.

The menu will consist of turkey and dressing, cream potatoes, green beans, Waldorf salad, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie, hot rolls and coffee.

Paragon Tailors Move To New Location

The Paragon Tailors, the oldest tailor shop in Burk Burnett, moved this week to their new location on Avenue D, two doors north of Red Allison's Barber Shop, in the brick building owned by Mrs. Gilbert.

This new location will enable them to better serve their many customers as the building is much larger than their former location. Another feature is the fact they will have plenty of parking space and drive-in conveniences for their customers. The building will be completely remodeled and as Mr. Vaughn has recently installed the New Pan-Tex Cleaning and Pressing units and a Cissell steam iron, which is especially adapted for ladies dresses, makes the Paragon Tailors one of the best equipped cleaning and pressing plants in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Read their ad on another page of this paper and drive by and visit them in their new location.

Burk Receives New WPA Assignments

F. R. Knauth, county commissioner was successful in obtaining twenty-six new WPA assignments for the project now in operation in his precinct when he attended the recent convention of County Judges and Commissioners held in Fort Worth.

While at the convention, where he attended all sessions and various committee meetings, Mr. Knauth availed himself of the opportunity to call upon W. W. Larkin, District Employment officer, at the WPA offices and asked for more men to be assigned to his precinct.

There were only one hundred assignments to be made and Mr. Knauth secured twenty-six of these, which brings the total number of workers in his precinct to 107. The new assignments will report for work on November 28th.

More WPA Jobs Announced Thurs.

Commissioner F. R. Knauth received an order Thursday for twenty-seven more WPA workers to go to work on Friday of this week. This group of men is in addition to the twenty-six assignments granted the commissioner at a recent interview in Fort Worth.

The twenty-seven assignments will affect families who were laid off some time ago under the 18 month rule. This brings the total to 135 men now working on the project in Mr. Knauth's precinct.

Food Stamp Plan May Go Into Effect Here Next Month

A group of local business men attended the meeting held in Wichita Falls Monday evening where a full explanation of the food stamp project, a plan supervised by the federal surplus commodities corporation and designed to aid persons on relief, was given by Frank Lanham, FSCC field administrator.

Lanham said the plan will go into effect in Wichita Falls on or shortly after December 1, and that the project will be extended soon afterward to the entire county. Plans are being made to inaugurate the plan in Burk Burnett not later than one week after it is started in Wichita Falls.

Revolving Fund

A revolving fund will be established by each community to take care of the first issue of stamps. Wichita Falls has already set up a fund of $5,000. A much smaller amount would suffice for each community in the county. This money is redeemed as soon as the first issue of stamps has been spent.
It has been estimated that several thousand dollars will be put into circulation in Burk Burnett with the inauguration of the stamp project. Growers and producers will begin to profit immediately and other business concerns will inevitably feel the effect of the extra money in circulation.

Two Colors
The FSCC issues are in two colors, orange and blue. Both varieties are worth 25 cents, and are used by relief clients for the purchase of food through retail channels.

The orange stamps are used for purchase of any type of food. Blue stamps are restricted for the purchase of surplus commodities.

Texans Appreciate McDonald's Viewpoint

For several years many of our Texas leaders have appreciated the efforts of Commissioner J. E. McDonald of the State Department of Agriculture to have the Federal Department at Washington abandon its cotton program. The Commission has a vision far beyond that of the average citizen. There were few in congress who could see through the Federal program.

When McDonald started his opposition to the Wallace program, he represented a very small minority, but it would seem that that phase of his efforts was not reckoned from the viewpoint of numbers, but he looked only to the present evildoing of the national program and its final effect upon the cotton industry.

Texas growers have been made the goat of the national farm program. Texas growers have reduced from a peak acreage of more than 17,000,000 acres to a little more than 9,000,000 acres.

Japan has been a heavy buyer of Texas cotton. The administration threatens to make it a bit harder for Japan to get American cotton and Texas farmers will again feel the clamp of the administration's efforts to further curtail cotton production.

If ever in the history of this state and this nation we needed a real man to fight the interests of the cotton grower, it is today, and especially does the Texas cotton grower need a man who has the courage of his convictions to combat the further efforts of Wallace to make the South the economic goat of the nation.

Carpet bagger rule was little more of a stench than the present national cotton program. The South again feels the heel of the dictators from Washington.

It is the general opinion that Congress will at last come to the view of Commissioner McDonald of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Feeding The People

The greatest problem facing retail merchandising today—a problem shared by producer and consumer—is how to hold prices to reasonable levels in the face of artificial inflationary influences.

Events of the last few months show how thoroughly merchandisers realize the size of that problem. Organized independent stores and chain stores have pledged themselves to redouble their efforts to keep prices fair.

Retail merchandising, large and small, is ready to do a vital job in the people's interest. It remains to be seen whether government will encourage and aid it in accomplishing the task, or whether it will continue to discourage it, at the expense of us all.

"Names make news." United States Senator Tom Connally has grown in prestige through the part he played in the debate on the embargo repeal law.

Everybody has at least one failing—Ralph Yarbrough like to play the phonographs in cafes, though he does reduce the "offense by selecting cowboy tunes. Meteoric has been the rise of Jerry Sadler—a year ago, practically unknown outside the East Texas oil fields, today State Railroad Commissioner and high in the favor of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Texas lost a man of truly sportsmanlike character when Coach W. B. Chapman of Lubbock High school—formerly of Cisco High—died a few days ago. His teams were always smart, alert and clean. He impressed his character upon hundreds of boys.

That Claude Callan, whose "Pa" philosophy is nationally syndicated, was editor at Menard—away back when the town's name was Menardville?

And that Wesley Winans Stout, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, once was a reporter on the San Antonio Express?

Othello had many "hair-breadth" escapes by flood and field, and then, turning his back upon warfare, he exclaimed, "Farewell, the neighing trump, the plumed steed—Othello's occupation's gone."

bench and some lengthy deposition in some dull lawsuit is being read to a jury, back to the days when a slim, boyish chap named Jimmy Allred carried around a suitcase full of cans of groceries which he exhibited to make a point in his speeches while running for Attorney General?

Dies he ever think about Allred's first race for governor in that hard-fought runoff in 1934?—when he likened his opponent to Christopher Columbus? "Who, when he started out, didn't know where he was going; when he got there, didn't know where he was; and when he got back couldn't tell folks where in thunder he'd been?"

Or, that little story Allred used to tell about the tombstone with the inscription: "Good friend, pause, as you pass by; As you now are, so once was I; As I am now, you soon shall be— Prepare for death and follow me."

And that fiery climax of Allred's speech, with the pleading tone: "They're ganging up on me; my back's to the wall; won't you help me now?"

Then, with a sweeping gesture to the table with its campaign folders, there came with evangelistic fervor: "Come down here and get some literature and go forth and make yourselves messengers of truth among men."

Ah, me! Those were the days. The sedate judge rouses himself to say: "Motion of the plaintiff for leave to file original petition is hereby granted."

Jackson Was Not Born Queer

JANETTE STEVENSON MURRAY

Fred Jackson had lost his position again. He had been clerking in a clothing store and just before that had been selling autos. He had a way of drifting from one thing to another, never holding any position long. He was intelligent and did his work satisfactorily, but he could not get along with people. His friends said, "Well, Fred is just a bit queer, you know."

He had no inclination toward crime as often happens with people who find themselves at odds with the world; his danger was drifting into some form of nervousness or melancholia.

At this juncture, a former college friend persuaded Jackson to see a psychiatrist, to try to learn the cause of his trouble. Tracing backward, this specialist found Jackson had been considered queer and offish in college, in high school and all through the grades. These same characteristics had been noticeable, also, in his home life, down through all the different age periods, to the time when he was a mere toddler.

When Fred was two years old, unwise behavior on the part of the adults in the family had caused the coming of a baby brother to be to him a real tragedy. A jealousy had developed that had been fatal to his success and happiness.

How could a childish jealousy have warped this man's life?

Because of generations of family solidarity, it is natural for a child to welcome wholeheartedly a new brother or sister. In Fred's case, however, this natural tendency was ruthlessly destroyed by other members of the family.

There were a number of unmarried aunts and uncles. They talked about Fred's nose being "out of joint," pretended not to see him and lavished attention upon Baby Ned. Fred soon began to resent this. Then his beloved father joined in with the others. Young and thoughtless, he found it amusing, every day when he came home from work, to tease Fred by petting the baby.

They gave the baby Fred's own white bed. So at every chance he could get, Fred slipped into the room and pulled the blankets off the baby, slyly pinched him or snatched the bottle out of his mouth. He liked to hear the baby cry. Having to be constantly watched made Fred a real problem, and in her vexation, Mother punished him repeatedly.

With so much scolding and punishing, Fred became still more unhappy. Mother, talked about his bad disposition, so different from that of his brother. Ned was better looking and quicker to learn, so, all in all, his parents became very partial to him. They were constantly comparing the boys, telling Fred he ought to

SUDDEN DEATH

All over the broad expanse of Texas you see signs that read, "School Zone—Drive Slowly." In a great many cases during the morning and evening hours when school begins and ends, you will see Young America with a red flag stationed at either end of the highway near his school building.

"As Director of the Texas Safety Council, which during the summer has organized many Junior Patrols, I urge the motoring public, first to heed the sign to drive slowly and carefully and secondly, to observe the orders of Young America on patrol duty at the school as carefully as you would those of the traffic policeman at the city corner," Pierce Brooks said.

The psychiatrist soon won Fred's confidence, and poured out all his rebellion against paternal partiality, pent up through the years. Talking it over was a great relief—indeed in the telling, much of the trouble vanished.

The psychiatrist talked with Fred's parents and brother. They were distressed and took an entirely new attitude toward him. It was decided that they must help him to gain a better evaluation in the neighborhood and among family friends. Unostentatious efforts were made to bring him out and above all to make him happy. They said nice things about him, entertained people who might become his friends and tried to have him appear at his best. Ned even arranged some double dates. Before long Fred was fortunate in securing an office job which was more to his liking and better suited to his ability than selling. Within six months, he had earned a promotion and seems now on the high road to becoming a well-balanced man. The wounds are healing, but how unnecessary they were. And the scars—will they ever entirely disappear?

"Smiles Don't Cost"
By O. D. DIAL, Minister

Occasional reverses come to all. Shadows are cast over our paths at intervals. We cannot expect every day to be a sunny day, for we must have rain. The storms may come but let us remember that the sun will shine again. Even the dark clouds have silver linings. And let us not forget that the darkest hour is just before the day. As long as we live in this world we will be subject to gloom, sorrow, heartaches, sadness and despair, but let none of these things destroy the sunshine of our disposition, the sparkle in our eyes, the "cheerio" from our lips, the smile on our face, or the hope within our soul. There is no excuse for being a loner, when it is just as easy to be a peach. There is no reason in being sour when it is just as easy to be sweet. There is no excuse for frowning when it is just as easy to smile. It takes more effort to frown than it does to smile. It requires more wrinkles to produce a frown than to produce a smile.

Smiles do not cost, but they are very valuable. They are among our greatest assets. It means much to be able to smile. The poet said: "But the man worth while, is the man that can smile, when everything goes dead wrong." It will help, if when passing the cemetery at night if you will whistle.

Let us remember that we are not the only ones in the world that have troubles. The other fellow has just about all the trouble he can stand. Let us not make it worse on him by adding our own frown. We can lighten his load, cheer his soul and at the same time our own, if we will only smile. Smiles don't cost, so don't be stingy with them. As the little boy said concerning the measles: "They are 'catch-us'". If you will greet with a great big cherry smile the first fellow you meet and pass it on to the fellow he meets. So, on and on it goes, all the day. Just look at the sunshine and cheer you have spread throughout the day, with your smile and it didn't cost you a cent.

Children, smile at your teacher and your school mates. It will make them feel better. Parents smile at each other. Try it for awhile instead of the too frequent growl and frown. When you first get out of bed in the morning, go to the mirror, look into it, and try to frown. Now, try to smile. If you can't make it, go back and crawl "under" the bed and stay there until you can come out smiling.

Let us all endeavor to spread sunshine and cheer along the pathway of others. They need our help. Let us consider our own loved ones. Don't wait till they are gone, then cover their casket with flowers they cannot see or smell. Give them the flowers of kindness while they are with you, and while they can enjoy them. What could be worth more to them than a bright, sunny disposition on your part. Your smiles and your words of kindness will live on in tender memories. Try to cultivate a pleasing disposition and try to smile. Some one said, "practice makes perfect." You may not be able to become perfect in disposition, but you can certainly improve the sunshine of your disposition if you will practice. Try it on your smile. Practice smiling, on the maid, on the wash woman, the janitor, the waif on the street, the bill collector, around your own fireside, on the street to everyone you meet. You will be surprised how soon you will have produced a lovable disposition, kind and tender in heart, and you will be loved and appreciated by all. So come on, all of you, and smile.

You are invited to attend services at the Church of Christ. You will be greeted with a smile and a welcome by all.

Each day the American people eat 400 miles of link sausage wrapped in "skins" made from cotton lint.

LAFFIT-OFF!

"Cheer up, Bill, for every day You're out--you STILL will get good pay! Employer's Liability Is what's protecting you and me!"

Falling leaves serve to remind us that Tulip time is not far behind. Now with planting time at hand, we suggest that you see our tulips and make your plans for next year's spring garden. These Surebloom bulbs, through years of cultivation under American climatic and soil conditions are better adapted to domestic use. They are hardier and less apt to be stunted by adverse weather.

You will admire the "New Parrot Tulip Fantasy". This is the best known of the parrot tulip. They are so entirely different from all the other tulips that they are admired by all who see them.

Sunday school at 9:45, M. C. Tucker superintendent. Preaching at 11 o'clock; sermon by the pastor. Young People's meeting at 6:00 p.m. Evening worship at 7 o'clock. Woman's Missionary Society will meet at the church on Monday afternoon at 2:30. Choir rehearsal at 7:15 Wednesday evening.

Your pastor has been ill for several days but is up and about again and will be able to fill his pulpit for all services on Sunday, November 27th.

It has been a great joy to note the splendid activities of the Sunday school in growth and attendance and the zeal of both teachers and pupils. The Wesley Bible class has started a new year with splendid enthusiasm and the senior girls have just closed an attendance and new member contest with Mary Margaret Browning and her losing side entertaining Jessie Mae Brady and the winning side. A Bible will be awarded to the captain by the teacher, Mrs. C. W. Thomas.

Mrs. O. B. Jordan, superintendent of the Young People's Division, has also just realized the conclusion of a contest in the league. Martha Bett Uts and the losing side will entertain the winning side in the near future.

Mrs. Jordan and the senior girls made and sold candy in order to raise money to have one of the pianos tuned and a certain trustee is standing good for the tuning of the two others.

By an extra "shine" in the Wesley Bible class room it is my honor to believe that these good women are putting forth great effort to stretch dimes into dollars. We rather suspect that the Woman's Missionary Society is not idle, for there is a rumor abroad that a nicely filled box was sent out on a mission of love and good will to a young minister at Southwestern University, Georgetown.

It has reached your pastor's ears that there is to be a church-wide social each month for everyone. So with a prayer in my heart for the health and happiness of you all on this Thanksgiving and with the hope that we will all recognize our very real blessings and render thanks for them, I am your pastor, C. W. Thomas.

MacMurray - Carroll Team For Romance
"Honeymoon In Bali" Reunites Stars In Gay Film Story; Allan Jones As Co-Star

Fred MacMurray, tall, dark and plenty handsome, and Madeleine Carroll, considered by some the screen's most beautiful woman, are teamed again in romance and comedy in Paramount's gay new film, "Honeymoon in Bali," with Allan Jones co-starred, and Helen Broderick, Osa Massen and Carolyn Lee, four-year-old film find in supporting roles, the picture will have its first local showing at the Palace theatre, Nov. 29-30.

The reuniting of MacMurray and Miss Carroll is nothing short of an occasion for rejoicing on the part of moviegoers, who will recall the team in last season's "Cafe Society." In their new starring vehicle, Fred is cast as an adventuresome lad, just returned from Bali, who believes that the proper position for a woman is in a man's arms, not at the head of a Fifth Avenue department store and is of the opinion that there's no room in his life for love.

She goes on think that way until she meets Fred, just after he has returned from the lovely South Sea island. It so happens that she meets him by chance, shortly after she has been to a fortune teller who has predicted that she will meet a tall, dark and handsome man with a knife wound in his right arm. Fred fills the bill, even to the knife wound. When her freinds try to persuade Madeleine that she should listen to her heart and reciprocate Fred's affection, she retreats behind her nice cozy desk of defense. For a while she even refuses to care for a four-year-old girl, a waif left on Fred's hands by an old friend. But she does relent. "The other woman" comes in by this time, but Madeleine doesn't seem to mind. Feeling her defenses crumbling, she goes to Nassau, taking the child.

Fred follows her. His proposals of marriage rebuffed, Fred proceeds to Bali to manage a plantation, and it isn't too long before Madeleine, relenting, follows him and proposes to him! Madeleine's attempts to show Fred that she really does love him bring the picture to a romantic and hilarious conclusion.

Woven into the fabric of comedy and romance are two arias, sung by Allan Jones in that superb voice that has thrilled moviegoers so many times.

Hardin Grade School News

First Grades—About ten days ago we planted some bulbs which looked something like little brown onions, we put them in a dark place, and when little white sprouts appeared, we put them in the window where they could enjoy the nice warm sunshine which will make them grow strong and healthy. Some day little white flowers will burst forth—we hope. Boys and girls need sunshine too, in order to have strong and healthy bodies. (Miss Ingle.)

The mothers of our room, L-1-1, helped us out last Tuesday by coming to the general session of P.T.A. in sufficient number to enable us to win the prize, a dollar to buy library books. Mothers, please keep up the good work. We need new books as we have read all the old ones. Cherry Lynne Kolter and Billie George McClarty were absent from our room last Thursday and Friday on account of illness. (Miss Billingslea.)

Second grades—The children of L-2-1 are studying about Indians. They are very, very interested in their "Little Indian" readers. Posters and pictures of Indian warriors, the squares and Indian homes and travel furnish the visual aids for this study. The children have colored Indian posters and they have designed and colored Indian rugs. (Mrs. Moore.)

Pupils of L-2-2 are glad to have a new reader, "Little Indians". They like to read about Red Bird and Snowflake. They colored Indian posters in art class Friday. Jimmie Hauger brought to school an Indian knife that he had carved from wood. Glen Broussard and Jimmie Hauger attended the Burk Burnett-Archer City football game Friday night. Donald Dale Morris has relatives from Illinois and Palestine, Texas, visiting in his home this week. (Miss Lasseter.)

Nola Miller spent last week in San Antonio. He enjoyed visiting the Zoo most of all. We have completed our plans for our Thanksgiving party. (Miss Parriss)

Third Grades—The pupils of the L-3-1 are making designs for art covers. Water colors and sticks, spoons, and corks are being used. The covers when finished will be placed on their books. (Miss Jackson.)

Pupils of L-3-2 and L-4-2 are practicing this week for the assembly program to be given November 24 in the auditorium. The members of L-3-2 who have parts on the program are: Ernest Nolan, June Henderson, Richard Hall, Barbara Ray, A. W. McPherson and Caleta Stamps. Those in the chorus are: Rosemary Owens, Lina Bell Sands, Jackie Self, June Henderson, Verna Mae Maney, Caleta Stamps, Charlene Woody, Opal Walker, Barbara Ray, Tillman Wilcox, Leroy Musick, and James Reese. Pupils of L-3-2 who made scores in spelling last week are Bert Broome, Richard Hall, Ernest Nolan, Tillman Wilcox, Lina Bell Sands, Charlene Woody and Caleta Stamps. (Miss Robison.)

High third is learning to write paragraphs in language. Very interesting paragraphs were written. The following paragraphs were chosen as the most interesting ones written:

"An accident just happened. As I was walking home from school I saw a boy on a bicycle. He was holding on to a truck and the truck turned a corner. The bicycle turned over and the boy fell and broke his arm. I hope that everybody will follow the safety rule. — By Earl Gene Brown.

"Our policeman is our friend. He helps us across the street. When he blows his whistle, the cars stop and the children can cross the street safely. Every child should always look both ways before starting to cross the street. — By Jack Hooker.

Fourth grades—Our room has started their studies in Art Appreciation to aid in picture Memory Contest. Joan Duncan, program chairman for our next club meeting, has already started plans for her program and it is to be given the day we dismiss for Thanksgiving. (Miss Isbell.)

Fifth grades—George Green visited his grandmother in Bartlett, Oklahoma. James Payne visited in the home of his aunt in Archer City. Tommie Sue Spillers visited in Wichita Falls this past week. L-5-2 is so sorry that Jo Ann Broom has moved to Yackham, Texas. We hope she will enjoy her school work there. Josephine Utts, Alice Millikin, Colleen Mattingly, and Louis Fluks sang "Wishing", and "My Dear" at Miss Phillips shower. (Miss Allen.)

Our low fifth grade is designing the table with the scene of the "First Thanksgiving". The feast table, with Indians and pilgrims about and in the background, log cabins, trees, a covered wagon and wild turkeys. The low seventh one and two and low six one are completing their wood blocks for Christmas menu sheets to be sent from Wichita Falls Junior Red Cross office to some ship of the U.S.A. navy. These classes have enjoyed making these and have taken great pains in turning out good work to represent our Hardin grade school. Billy Boyd visited in Byers Sunday. Neva Jo Martin visited in Byers over the week-end. (Miss Smith.)

The volley ball tournament is in the finals now. Monday, Nov. 24, will see the finishing of a game between the L-5-3; H-6-1 section, and L-5-1; L-5-2 section. The winner of that play will play the L-6-1; L-6-2 section. The winner of that will play the L-7-1; L-7-2 section. We are running a consolation tournament which is played off by the loser of each section to give them another chance. The volley ball tournament will be completed on Monday November 27, if good weather still prevails. The two teams now playing are captained by Jessie LaVerne Elliott, L-5-2; H-6-1, and Kay Kincaid and Margaret Chambers, co-captains for L-5-1 and L-5-2. The tennis tournament is progressing very successfully. Thus far the winners are: Colleen Mattingly, Josephine Utts, Mary Jean Prince, Doris Mae Grace, Macie Mae Wimberly, and Juanita Ross. In this tournament every girl will play every other girl to give them all an equal chance at the honor of being the winner. (Miss Hyden.)

Sixth grades—Our room is very sorry that one of our classmates, Lahoma Hobbs, lost her father Sunday night. (Miss Griffin.)

Mary Frances Gambin, Mary Frances Kelley, Donald Mills, Betty Gregg, Jack Blansett, Betty Riddle and Jim Tom Brookman went to Archer City to the ball game. (Miss McGinnis.)

Seventh Grades—Colleen Mattingly is visiting at Hobbs, New Mexico. Hugh Cole Preston visited Fort Cobb, Okla., during the week-end. Oh, my! Examinations come this week. How sad; but our teachers just say "too bad". But what a relief—we have a ball game on Friday night. That is something to look forward to.—Reporter of Miss Gibson's room.

Every band should be a marching band and a good one. The benefits derived from marching bands are innumerable and valuable. Enumerated here are ten of the fundamental benefits which accrue to the individual and to the organization. The training and experience which the individual receives in the marching band teaches: 1. Personal training and carriage. 2. Rhythm. 3. Team work. 4. Precision. 5. Coordination of mind and muscle. 6. Organization. 7. Enlists community interest and support. 8. Facilitates the movements of the organization. 9. Capitalizes showmanship and; 10. (probably the most important); it emphasizes, distinguishes the band from other musical units, namely, marching, parades, evolutions, etc. — (Mr. Woodall.)

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 26th.

The Golden Text is: "When they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto God?" (Isaiah 8:19).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid; for the Lord Jehovah is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation (Isaiah 12:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In no instance is the effect of animal magnetism, recently called hypnotism, other than the effect of illusion" (page 101).

BORROWERS ARE WELCOME

"A Loan Is Not A Favor," says a leaflet recently issued by one of the leading banks of the nation, to its depositors.

"A loan is a business transaction and should be of mutual benefit to borrower and lender," the leaflet continues. "If you wish to obtain a loan for a sound purpose, and if you meet our other credit requirements, we will approve your application promptly.

"If it does not meet our requirements of sound banking, we will tell you so frankly, together with our reasons.

"In granting loans, we have important obligations to four groups; depositors, borrowers, stockholders, and our community. To protect the interest of all these people we have definite policies, made in accordance with sound banking principles, which guide us."

It sounds simple—and it is. The mystery that surrounds bank loans in the public mind should be thoroughly dissipated. Loans are the primary sources of most banks' income. No bank wants to refuse a loan. Refusal, when it is made, is necessary in the interest of protecting one of the four groups the leaflet mentions. The banker, after all, doesn't own the money. He is simply its custodian, working under strict laws on behalf of his depositors and the public.

"A Loan Is Not A Favor". But the banker does the would-be borrower and everyone else concerned a definite favor when he refuses an unsound loan.

Big Rabbit Creek

November 19, 1939.

Well, we have lived through another week which has come and gone and still no rain and at this writing a little norther on and no rain in sight. Some farmers in our neighborhood will have to start hauling stock water.

It's reported to Hawkeye that John Ashton is bedfast with a light attack of 'flu'. It's hoped by his many friends that brother John will be up and around again and will be able to be over in Our Friendly Little City next Saturday.

Hawkeye accompanied his friend and neighbor, Howard Anderson, over to Our Friendly Little City Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kinniard and son, Arland, and the other children motored to Walters and Tempe, also down to Waurika, Okla., Saturday morning, arriving home late in the evening.

As Saturday was a beautiful day for the time of the year, thousands of people were in the Friendly Little City. The big crowd began coming to the city about 9:30 a. m. to attend the big trades day event. By 3:10 p. m. 5,000 persons were on the streets. What wasn't on the streets were in the big grocery stores and dry goods stores; the help was carrying out large arm loads from those stores placing them in the cars. The two up-to-date picture houses were just jammed. Just anywhere you might look people were spending money.

Mr. Rusk and his son from over in the Cache Creek community were over in the Big Rabbit Creek neighborhood Sunday morning and called on the Owens family and visited with them for an hour or so. Mr. Rusk stated to Hawkeye that the grain prospects for 1940 were looking very discouraging for the want of a good long drink of water.

J. E. Wood and family were over in Our Friendly Little City Saturday shopping and they all attended the big trades day event.

J. E. Wood left early Monday morning with a big truck full of fat hogs for the Fort Worth market. J. E. will attend the big auction sale up at Grandfield, Okla., Tuesday.

Well, folks, have all of us stopped long enough to even think what this old world means to us that we are living in? Lots of people don't appreciate the good people that's in it and that we live among. Of course, we have good, better, worse and worse. There ain't no nicer and kinder people ever lived than we have living in Our Friendly Little City, Burkburnett, Texas; ready at all times to help the poor, sick, and needy. Why, Hawkeye was standing in a large crowd on the street Saturday and he heard an old pioneer of Our Friendly Little City viliifying the city's business men, especially our groccrymen, regarding their merchandise which they carry day by day to sell to keep our soul and body together. Every grocery store in the city keeps an up-to-date line of fresh groceries, especially vegetables, and everything is sold in line per price as you will find in any city its size or larger in the state of the good old Lane Star State, Texas. This old gentleman who was knocking on his home town and home people that had been living, and is still living in Our City for 20 years or better, had a bunch of listeners attracted by his talk of rotten potatoes, rotten vegetables and nearly everything else which the merchants has on display to sell every day of the year. This old gent's talk ran along the line that if Texas started to issue out the blue and yellow coupon books to trade on by the relief program, when it started in effect he stated that if you should be fortunate enough to have one of those nice yellow books you would be sitting jake, but if you got one of those blue books that money was just good enough to buy all of the merchant's old rotten potatoes or rotten vegetables. Now, listen, good readers, all who reads this article, and that means a good many thousands of readers of the Burkburnett Star, I, Hawkeye, have been buying my groceries in Our Friendly Little City since 1906 and never has there been a time that I have ever walked into a grocery store in the City and saw rotten potatoes mixed in the basket or sack for to sell to the public or any other vegetables as he described, as every rotten spud, fruit and all vegetables is picked out and thrown away every morning and nothing rotten is left to sell by our up-to-date groccrymen who sell only good, wholesome, clean food. If this old gentleman can't read enough to keep up on the standard of living and selling food, he might know that the state of Texas would not tolerate such a way of selling food. Hawkeye has just sized up the whole thing in a nut-shell about the old gentleman knocker on his home groccryman: "When the time comes for those yellow and blue coupon books to be issued, you can bet your boots that Mr. Knocker will be in line to get his blue book, saying nothing about the yellow book. Even at that, those old rotten potatoes this winter before it's over may look lots better to those knockers of Our Friendly Little City than snow balls might." This is the spirit which Hawkeye takes towards knockers for which we have more or less in Our Friendly Little City. "If you do not like your home or the speed at which it grows; if you do not like its scenery or its climate or the people that the home town fascinates,—there are sars and trains now leaving for some forty-seven states. "If you cannot boost your home town, where men rise and fall each day; if you cannot use the sunshine to make glad somebody's way; if you cannot join the boosting, then you must have knocking traits, and they're selling tickets daily for some forty-seven states."

—Hawkeye.

Model Airplanes Can Make Model Airmen

At Randolph Field, Texas, home of the Army Air Corps Primary Flying School, Flying Cadets are taught the fundamentals of flying formations through the use of model ships which are counterparts of the basic trainers in which they receive their flight training.

This method of instruction was devised by veteran instructors at Randolph Field, the "West Point of the Air," in order to simplify the course of flying training and to eliminate the loss of many precious minutes in the air when a student failed to understand the principles involved in any particular gyration. In this photograph an instructor (center) demonstrates the "Vee" formation which is the fundamental formation used in massed flying.

Every six weeks a new class of Flying Cadets begins its course of training at Randolph Field. These Flying Cadets are between 20 and 27 years of age and while in training receive $75 per month, uniforms, board and lodging, hospital care, and all other services.

Model airplanes, exact counterparts of the full size Basic Training planes, are often used to demonstrate flight maneuvers without ever leaving the ground. This method of instruction was devised by the flying instructors at Randolph Field, Texas, in order to simplify the course of flying training, and to eliminate the loss of many precious minutes in the air when a student pilot failed to understand the principles involved in any particular gyration.

The instructor, left, is demonstrating the position of airplanes in the Vee formation, the fundamental formation used in all mass flying. His three students, two of them "flying" the wing positions, are sticking right on the tail of the leader as he leads his formation into a bank. After a thorough discussion on the ground, they take to the air, and put into practice the maneuvers previously "flown" with the small leader. Many estimate have been made on the cost to the government for every Flying Cadet who completes the course, and conservative figures place this at about $20,000 per man. All this is free to the individual, and, in addition, Flying Cadets receive a salary of $75.00 per month during their training. After graduation they are commissioned as Second Lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve and their pay increases to $200 per month. Then they are detailed to extended active duty with the various tactical organizations of the Air Corps. They have become full fledged pilots.

Food Stamp Plan—

history of surplus commodities in the United States, said every grocer in Wichita Falls and every relief client will be mailed full information regarding the food plan before it goes into effect on December 1st.

In discussing the background of the food stamp plan, Lanham said 22,000,000 persons in the United States do not get sufficient food because they do not have sufficient purchasing power.

Aid Purchasing Power
"The purpose of the stamp plan," Lanham said, "is to increase the purchasing power of these persons."

It was explained to grocers that after stamps are taken in exchange for food they may be cashed at the local RSCC office, they may be used by the grocer to pay his wholesaler or they may be deposited at any bank in Wichita Falls, or any town where they were issued, the same as a check.

With all stamps issued in 25 cent denominations, Lanham stressed that under no circumstances would relief clients be given currency in change when they make purchases.

If a client makes a 15-cent purchase with a 25-cent food stamp the grocer will give him a credit slip for 10 cents which may be used for a future purchase of food.

C. W. Boyd, L. L. Harris, J. V. Brookshear, D. C. Dodson, F. R. Knauth, and W. R. Hill of this city attended the meeting.
