FUTILE AND FOOLISH

As could have been predicted, the steady march of inflation, as a result of government spending and fiscal policies, has aroused the wrath of housewives across the country. And, as also could have been predicted with reasonable certainty, they have turned their wrath against the nation's retailers, who have no alternative but to pass along the consequences of inflation in the form of higher prices to consumers. About all that can be said of the situation now is that it is time for level heads and clear thinking.

Wearing out shoe leather picketing the retailers will do no good in the long run. Nor will it do any good to clamp restrictions on the free market, mass-production, mass-distribution system that has brought this country the highest living standards ever known.

There is no more certain way of insuring both fair prices and an abundance of goods of all kinds, from clothing to food to the hundreds of luxury items that we all enjoy, than to let the distribution system continue to work as it has in the past within the constraining framework of competition and the natural laws of supply and demand. Blaming the retailer for price increases that result from inflationary government spending is both futile and foolish.

Sign-Up Dates For '67 Feed Program Set February 6th Through March 3rd

In the hustle and bustle of starting off a new calendar year, farmers should not forget the sign-up dates for the 1967 Feed Grain Program, cautioned Manford Reid, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

The four-week sign-up period begins February 6 and ends on March 3. The 1967 voluntary program is similar to the program for 1966, although it has been strengthened in some respects. The Chairman listed these changes:

—The price-support loan rate has been increased. For 1967-crop corn the rate is up five cents, from $1.00 to $1.05 per bushel. The loan rate for grain sorghum is up proportionately—from $1.52 to $1.61 per hundredweight.

—These changes will mean an average increase of about five percent in price support for 1967 participants. They should provide a higher floor price for the market, according to USDA program forecasters, Mr. Reid said.

—The support payment rates continue at the 30-cent per bushel level for corn and 53 cents per hundredweight for grain sorghum production on 50 percent of the farmer's base acreage.

—The loan rate on barley is up from 80 cents per bushel to 90 cents, national average. This rate is available to all producers on their entire acreage. Barley is not included in the feed grain program this year. Farmers who grow barley and also participate in the 1967 wheat program may arrange with the county ASCS office to plant wheat as a substitute on barley base acres, on a full acre-for-acre basis.

Chairman Reid also outlined some of the benefits that are continued in the 1967 program from preceding voluntary feed grain programs:

There will be advance payments. If a farmer wants to take it he may receive one-half of his total payment at the time of sign-up. This provision will be of particular interest to farmers who earn only a price-support payment in 1967.

The small base provision remains in effect. Small farms with feed grain bases of 25 acres or less may divert more than the qualifying minimum of 20 percent on up to as much as the entire base. They will be eligible for payment on all of such diversion.

Farmers may plant soybeans on any or all of their permitted corn and grain sorghum acres in 1967 without loss of program payments or loan eligibility.

Chairman Reid said the need to expand grain production in the range of 12 to 15 million acres in 1967 and divert 15 to 18 million acres is indicated by the reduced carry-over this year.

"The marketing year begins October 1 each year. Last October 1, the carry-over of old corn was 886 million bushels, down one-fifth from a year earlier. Grain sorghum stocks on October 1 were 393 million bushels, down nearly one-third from a year earlier. If we add in barley and oats, the total feed grain carry-over is about 43 million tons. This is about the cushion or reserve that is desirable.

Western's Program To Be Directed By H. R. Crawford

A program to investigate a unique chemical method for solving pollution problems from combined sewer systems will be undertaken by research division of The Western Co., Richardson, Texas, under a $300,000 contract received from the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration. The program calls for development and testing of methods using polymeric material additives in the sewer system to increase the ability of the sewer lines to carry additional quantities of sewage during heavy rains. The polymeric additives have been shown to increase the flow in pipes by reducing the turbulent friction loss. Western anticipates that small amounts of the additives will increase capacity of existing sewers, thereby eliminating bottlenecks and overflows. If the method proves feasible, the demonstration tests will be conducted in Dallas-Fort Worth area in mid-1968. Western's program will be directed by Dr. H. R. Crawford, internationally known scientist in fluid technology, who devised use of the polymeric additives in torpedo system work for the Navy. Dr. I. W. Santry of Southern Methodist University, will serve as sanitary engineering consultant. H. R. Crawford is the son of Mrs. J. M. Crawford of Haskell, Texas.

$135 Million In Federal Funds

Allocated To Educational Programs

President Johnson announced the allocation of $135 million in Federal funds for innovative educational programs to be developed by local school districts throughout the country.

The funds, allocated under title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, represent an 80 per cent increase over the $75 million available in 1966, the first year of the program.

Purpose of the Federal grant program is to encourage local school districts to develop vital needed educational services and new elementary and secondary school educational programs which can serve as models for improving regular school programs.

CREATES FORT WORTH DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

Baylor University recently created a Fort Worth Development Office covering 21 north Texas counties.

Truman L. Crouch, former vice-president of National Fund-Raising Service, Inc., will be in charge of the office.

WE NOW have in stock a four-page map 28"x36" showing the United States, its neighbors, Asia, the world and the Presidents and when they served. The perfect thing for home... school or office use, at $1.75 each. Haskell Free Press, 39tp

Project must be used to supplement and not to replace local funds.

Last year, school districts submitted proposals for 2,700 such projects, with 839 approved. Additional approvals since the start of the current school year brought the total to more than 1,100.

Purpose of the Federal grant program is to encourage local school districts to develop vital needed educational services and new elementary and secondary school educational programs which can serve as models for improving regular school programs.

THE WATT and THE KILOWATT

Producing power is a gigantic battle with nature. The windmill produces enough power to pump water from the ground—something a few watts of electricity can do. But the huge generating plants which produce the power transmitted over the vast network of WTU transmission lines which reach from the Red River to the Rio Grande are measured in kilowatts—hundreds of thousands of them. Power enough to serve 166 cities and towns in 50 West Texas counties. You can live better electrically—West Texas Utilities provides the kilowatts.

MRS. O. W. VAUGHN

Workers Conference At Paint Creek
Those attending Haskell-Knox Workers Conference from here Tuesday night of last week were Rev. and Mrs. Ross Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Hobbs and Mrs. Clifford Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Randell Denton, of Fort Worth, visited her mother, Mrs. P. F. Weinert and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Harlon Weinert, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Vaughn visited their sons and families, Clifton, in Abilene, and DeWayne, of Anson, Wednesday through Friday of last week.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed

Sunday at the Richards Park in Brady where the W. B. Guess and Hale Aldermans, of San Antonio, met. The Guess' took their granddaughters, Cynthia and Dana to meet their parents after having spent last week here. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Guess Jr., and Little Bill accompanied the Guess' to Brady.

Mr. C. L. Garrett spent all last week with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Garrett, in Wichita Falls.

Guests in Mrs. C. L. Garrett's home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Oran Shoe, Mrs. A. J. Brazzell and granddaughter, Ramona Garrett, all of Abilene; also Mrs. Beatrice Curd, of the Mattson community.

CAGE RESULTS

TIGERS SCALP INDIANS
Haskell's Indians threw up practically every kind of defense except a brick wall against Anson's Tigers last Friday night, but none of it could keep the Tigers from posting a 94-53 victory.

Everybody on the Anson bench saw action, and all but one got into the scoring derby paced by Mike Brown (27) Eddie Andrus (21) Randy Langerhans (13), and Tommy Adkins (11). Ray Herren and John Stark led the Indian attack with 13 each, while teammate Doug Bartley followed closely with 12.

At least five different defenses were used by Haskell, but Anson still controlled 59.3% of its field goals, 75% of its free shots, and 67 per cent of the game's rebounds. The Tiger press also caused 24 turnovers.

Pat Herndon and Mary McCaleb led Anson's Tigerettes to a 57-41 victory in the girls' game with 21 and 19 points, respectively. Kathy Burson was high for Haskell with 14.

RULE RIPS GOREE

The Rule Bobcats bombed Goree 64-40 Friday night to stay on top of the heap in District 12-B.

The Bobcats climbed into a 36-16 lead as the first half ended, then coasted to the victory.

Paul Cornelius and Johnny Westbrook shared scoring honors for the winners with 20 each and Chris Allison added 14. Three players scored 11 each for Goree.

Goree's girls won their game 45-39 with Marsha Burefield scoring 18 points, Sue Gann hit 26 for the losers.

ROCHESTER POPS PAINT CREEK

Scoring 45 points during the second half, the Rochester Steers banged out a 70-46 victory over host Paint Creek Friday.

David Hollingworth with 24 and John Hudspeth with 18 were Rochester's offensive aces and Steve Livengood hit 12 for Paint Creek.

The Rochester girls also earned a routine win, 48-19.

WEINERT WIN

A balanced scoring attack fueled Weinert past O'Brien 63-46, in a battle of the Bulldogs in District 12-B play Friday night.

Cecil Davis poured in 18 points in pacing the victory but three of his teammates hit in double digits. The Hewitt boys led O'Brien, Mike getting 21 points and David 19.

The win put Weinert above 500 in league action with a 5-4 record. O'Brien is 4-5.

Weinert also captured the girls' game, 40-13, as Dorina Adams scored 14 to set the pace.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

Soon we will be preparing beds to plant dahlias for summer beauty. There are so many varieties to choose from that if we are careful in our selection there can be a continuous display of blossoms all summer.

Giant decorative dahlias come in both formal and informal varieties. The color range is wide... red, mahogany, gold, white, yellow, pink, orchid and purple are a few of the colors to be found in decorative dahlias. Often the blossoms reach the size of a large dinner plate. Mahogany, afire with brilliant flame red and yellow markings, often grows to the unbelievable size of a 12-inch dinner plate.

Decorative dahlias should always be grown disbudded if extra large blossoms are desired. A few outstanding decoratives besides mahogany are... Dixie Winedot, with white wavy petals suffused with rosy magenta, Clara Carder, a clear clemypink with a touch of yellow at the base of the blossom.

House of Orange, as its name implies, is a soft, glowing orange.

Cactus dahlias are distinctly beautiful of the highest fashion, and are the most graceful of all the dahlias. The petals are curved and twisted and give a starlike appearance. The blossoms are fairly large, often as much as 10 inches across... Berger's Masterpiece, a soft lavender pink with a yellow base, is one of the most outstanding cactus varieties... Wonder Cactus Dahlias, a new variety of cactus tus, has petal tips deeply incised and fringed, giving the blossoms a gossamer, lace-like look... Promise, a deep glowing yellow, with a halo fringe of deeply incised petals, keeps better in water than any other variety.

Pompon Dahlias, as their name implies, are like little fluffy pompoms of many colors. They are small enough to arrange beautifully... Collarette dahlias have broad overlapping petals around a golden center. This variety is a conversation piece.

Anemone Dahlias have an outer row of overlapping petals and richly contrasting inner color petals with quilled crested centers. This variety is dwarf and busy. They make good border plants.

Sweetheart Dahlias are bushy and make wonderful border plants with their decorative type three and one half blossoms. They come in pink, white and red.

There is also a miniature Cactus Dahlia that is fine for arranging and is low-growing. The blooms are graceful and long lasting, coming in a variety of colors.

And last of all is the bedding type dahlia. This variety is low and bushy, seldom reaching over 18 inches in height, but is literally covered with brilliant, attractive four-to-five inch blossoms from early summer until frost. I would like to see the Haskell Garden Club try several varieties of this versatile plant this year. It would be nice if all who had the space would plant at least a few of these lovely flowers so that when travelers come through our city they will leave with a thought that Haskell is indeed a beautiful city.

"WE CAN DO IT"

R. D. Williams

East Side Baptist Church

Who does not become weary? Work, sickness, problems, sorrow, and many activities add up to a heavy load.

"Though my flesh and my heart fail, God is the strength of my heart." And again the Psalmist says, "I am waiting for the Lord, my soul is in expectation, and in His word do I hope." To wait on the Lord is to pause, look up, and move to the work at hand, believing God's strength will be ours.

There is a fable about how birds got their wings. God made the birds beautiful creatures with sweet voices to sing but without wings. Then God made wings and laid them on the birds. He said, "The birds hesitated, but when they were placed on their backs, they saw how heavy the wings were. They seemed but the wings grew to their bodies. Then the birds soared into the sky—THE WEIGHTS COME WINGS."

A fable, yes. But we less creatures can take den which is our strength given by God and demonstrate the God in us.

"He giveth power to and to them that have He increaseth strength 40:29 (Read Isaiah 40:29)

TIGHT MONEY & YOU??

Q: "What is tight money—and how did it get that way?"

A: When money is tight, credit is simply harder to get. That's because demand for loans is greater than the supply of funds available for lending.

This is the situation we have today.

After many months of business expansion, all of us—business, individuals, and governments—have spent record sums. Continued optimism has made us want to spend even more through use of credit.

With a step-up in Viet Nam, Federal Government needs prompted many a business to gear for stepped-up production—and this led to more demand for loans.

Banks did their utmost to provide these loans; but the demand increased at an even greater rate. So money became tight.

This is Part I

in the "tight money story"; Watch for succeeding ads!

GOOD NEWS FOR ROLLING PLAINS COTTON FARMERS

"The possible $2 million dollar increase in projected yield income payable to Plains cotton farmers under the announced additional reserve allotted to Texas resulted from the refusal of Farmers Union and Texas members of Congress to give up in their effort to get USDA to correct erroneous projected yield allocations for certain skip-row pattern counties for 1967," according to Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco.

The good news for Rolling Plains cotton farmers was released from Sen. Ralph Yarborough's office while the Texas Farmers Union president was in Washington. According to Naman, "The additional projected yield was released in response to persistent appeals by Sen. Yarborough, Congressman Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson, and Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, who recognized that the projected yield figures for 1967 unjustifiably penalized areas of Texas that had traditionally planted cotton in skip-row pattern." In a letter to the senator and the congressman, Naman praised their effort in behalf of west Texas cotton growers who had been unjustly penalized.

Some counties that have been particularly adversely affected by the original projected yield announcements might recoup as much as $100,000 in income as a result of the additional projected yield allocation. Fifteen to 20 Rolling Plains counties should be materially helped by the boost, and it is believed that all twenty-three counties generally considered in the Rolling Plains will be helped to some degree.

"Even though this is a step in the right direction to correct a grievous wrong, we will continue to work to see that all projected yield inequities have been completely corrected and that there will be no penalty because of any pattern of planting cotton," stated Naman.

Wayne Peiser, of Haskell, is president of the Haskell County Farmers Union.

The state farm organization president called from Washington to advise several county Farmers Union presidents in

Commission Slates Special Meeting Feb. 10

The Commission on Christian Social Concerns of the First Methodist Church would like to have anyone interested in taking part in a Vocational Training Program to be held possibly in the Negro school building over a set period of time, to meet Friday, February 10th, at 7:30 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church.

It is the purpose of the Commission to help better qualify the common laborer in his field of interest, hoping that it will help him hold a better job, or do a better job whatever it might be, such as farming, service station assistant, builder's helper, etc.

TAX REQUIREMENTS FOR STUDENTS

Students who work during the summer and earn less than $600 are not required to file an income tax return. Unmarried students who earned less than $900 usually don't owe any tax. However, it is very important for students to file a tax return if they worked during the year and income tax was withheld from their wages. They must file if they expect to get their refund. Just like Dad, most students like to get a refund.
