Felony Indictments Made By Grand Jury

Investigators Call Upon Officers To Redouble Vigil On Honky-Tonks

"Solemn warning" that "law observance in Wichita county is at low ebb" and that "sound citizenship cannot long endure with moral conditions such as they are here" was sounded by the Wichita county grand jury in a report Tuesday afternoon to Judge E. M. Robertson in 89th district court.

In session four days last week, and since Monday morning this week, the grand jury returned 41 felony indictments along with its lengthy report to the court. One indictment for murder, five for assault with intent to murder, and one for negligent homicide were included in the review of mid-summer violence. Complaints investigated by the inquisitors in the current session were filed during July and August.

Murder Indictment

The murder indictment voted was against Roy Larimore of Vernon in connection with the death of Clyde Cunningham, bus driver, in the bus station in Wichita Falls July 18.

An indictment for negligent homicide was returned against Gilbert Jessie, negro, in connection with a traffic crash on Aug. 4 in which Dreibon Mauldin of Electric met his death.

G. E. McWilliams was indicted for assault to murder as a result of the shooting of P. D. Dittie on the morning of July 21.

Other indictments voted were as follows: A. E. Spegal, two cases, forgery and passing; E. H. Fountain, theft over $50; Claud Hollyfield, robbery; Joe Fox, burglary; Ernest Terrell, forgery and passing forged instrument; Ernest Terrell, possession of forged instrument; H. L. Powell, two cases, forgery and passing; Ruby Hampton, negro, assault to murder; Paul Schroeder, burglary; James V. McKinney, theft over $50; Edward Blankenship, assault to murder; Harry Richardson and T. B. Warren, theft over $50; H. W. Cecil, theft over $50; Leonard Barker, theft from the person; Henry Berry, burglary; 10 defendants for drunken driving; and 10 defendants not yet apprehended charged by indictment with the following offenses: assault to murder, removal of mortgaged property from the state, assault with intent to murder, burglary, child desertion, theft over $50, forgery, wife desertion, and converting public money, two cases.

Twins No-Billed

Amos and Amer Lewis, 17-year old twins of Mrs. G. W. Lewis, of the Kama community, were no-billed by the grand jury in connection with the death of their step-father, G. W. Lewis, Aug. 11.

Lewis died as the result of blows allegedly wielded with a spade and a hoe after a serious altercation in a cotton field near the family home. The boys stated that they acted in self-defense.

In its report pleading for more active public effort towards improvement of moral conditions in Wichita county, the grand jury urged that drunken driving "be firmly dealt with because of the danger to the public."

Fifteen Post Grads Enrolled At BHS

Fifteen students have enrolled for post graduate work at Burkburnett high school, according to Supt. C. J. Duncan.

They have organized and elected officers and a sponsor as follows: Miss Janice Holland, sponsor; John H. Rigby, president; Margaret Turner, vice president; Jessie Mae Brady, secretary-treasurer; Norma Jean Cannon, reporter; and Doris Ruth Barnes, yell leader.

Arrangements have been made for special musical numbers and Gordon Kent, James Walling and Volus Bowman will bring messages during the services.

Members of the department will fill the choir and will serve as ushers.

Stray Dogs To Be Destroyed

Stray dogs have become a menace in Burkburnett. The danger of rabies is ever present and mangle and distemper have become so prevalent that hardly anyone's pet is free from one or both of these dread afflictions.

It is necessary from the standpoint of public health and from a humanitarian standpoint to get rid of all dogs who do not have a home.

Dog owners are asked to see that their dogs stay at home and do not run loose. If they are allowed to run loose they will run the risk of being destroyed in the campaign that is to be waged during the next few weeks.

Her resignation as teacher of commercial work and math in the local high school was accepted last week, according to Supt. C. J. Duncan.

Miss Wesbrooks received her Master's degree from George Peabody college in Nashville, Tenn., this summer.

The position left vacant here is being filled by Miss Othella Parsons, graduate of Sul Ross Teachers college at Alpine, Texas.

Burkburnett Coaches, Superintendent Attend 2AA Lions Football Banquet

Supt. C. J. Duncan, Coach Volney Hill, Assistant Coaches Polk Robinson, and C. L. Scarborough and Fred Brookman attended the annual banquet given by the Wichita Falls Lions club for the coaches, school officials and sport writers.

According to the informed opinion of the coaches over the district the Wichita Coyotes have the 2AA district "in the bag," and the schedule will be played out only to determine the order of the other teams' finish.

Climaxing a program of music by Hugh Comisky's orchestra, uproarious skits, an initiation ceremony for Volney Hill of Burkburnett and Pete Acker of Olney, new coaches, and an "Information, Please" program in which Dan Salkeld of Quanah won the $5 prize, the mentors gave their ratings of the district teams.

George Blair, Electra, who won the title last year, reckoned that the Coyotes should be first, Qu-

Burk To Tackle Twin-Jinx, Friday 13th At Nocona

Coach Volney Hill's Burkburnett Bulldogs will be the first 2AA football team to see action this season when they invade the stadium of the Nocona Indians Friday night for the annual pre-season game between the two clubs.

The Bulldogs started school last week the same day practice opened and have had to confine conditioning to one session each afternoon. The light green squad of 21 players is rapidly rounding into shape to tackle the double jinx of playing Friday the 13th at Nocona.

The Bulldogs have only three veterans at the start of the season. Bobby Hayes, starting back in many games last year, will open the season as the Bulldogs quarterback. He is the only really seasoned back of the team. Melvin Kerner, Glenn Woods, Bill Bowman, Truman Perry, E. J. Reed and Chester Todd, the remaining candidates, have had very little experience in actual competition.

Most of Burkburnett's line strength is concentrated around the middle of the forward wall. At guards Capt. Hugh Frank Brown and Babe Green are returning lettermen. Green played center last year. In the center spot he deserted, Jimmy Roy Morris is taking it over.

The remainder of the line has had little football game experience. They are boys who served as cannon fodder for the regional champs last year. So at least they are accustomed to battering.

Local Fire Dept. To Sponsor Free Rodeo

Coming direct from the Henrietta Frontier days celebration, Texas Kidd Shows will open a four day engagement here Wednesday evening, Sept. 18.

A free rodeo will be featured every night and local riders are invited to participate. Cash prizes from $1.00 to $100 will be paid to the outside riders.

There will also be six rides and several other attractions for the entertainment of the Harvest Festival patrons.

Plans have been made to contact local business houses with a proposition for giving away guest tickets which will be good for 5c on any of the rides. Tickets will be given away with each 25c purchase.

This is a clean attraction catering especially to women and children.

The shows are being sponsored by the local Volunteer Fire department which will receive a percentage of the proceeds.

Support Enterprises Already Established, Then Look For Others

An editorial appeared on the front page of the Vernon Daily Record last week regarding the purchase by local people of bread which was baked in another city. The editorial was crammed full of sound reasoning and common sense. The same situation exists right here in Burkburnett where several families are dependent upon the local bakery for their living and the bread they are making is as good as any you can buy. In fact, since Mr. and Mrs. Snow have taken over the bakery the bread is of a much better texture and compares favorably with a brand from the bakery of Wichita Falls.

Let us be fair and square and patronize the industries we already have in Burkburnett, and then if the occasion arises for some new industry to locate here, we'll be justified in going after it. Everybody likes a thriving city, whether large or small but for that to be true, it takes the active support and boosting of local people.

The splendid editorial follows and the same argument applies in Burkburnett:

"Why Not Support Industries Already Here?"

"If a chance were offered to the business leaders of Vernon to secure an industry which employs 20 people, it would receive serious consideration. But if it should be possible to obtain such an industry at no cost to the city, the proposition would be doubly attractive.

"A proposition very much like that is involved in a situation which has developed here within recent weeks, and probably within a very short time it will be decided whether an important industry already located here will continue in business.

"The bakeries of Vernon are threatened with competition from sources outside of Vernon which may force the local bakeries to cease operation. Bread is being brought here and sold at prices below the usual price for the same bread in the cities where it is made, and lower than the prevailing prices in this territory.

"The usual procedure in such cases is to use the lower prices to force local bakers out of business and then raise the price back to its regular level, or even higher. It is the familiar practice of big concerns which engage in unfair competition, in order to gain control of the market.

"Assuming that Vernon bread prices and quality are fair, Vernon people should not indirectly support a movement which has for its object the destruction of Vernon business and the loss of jobs by Vernon people. Two things can be done to prevent this. Local people can buy Vernon-baked bread, even though a competitive bread from the outside may be offered temporarily at a lower price. Vernon merchants can help by refusing to permit the use of their stores as outlets for bread sold at cut rates for the purpose of destroying competition.

"If Vernon bakers are not producing bread of a quality equal to that offered by outside bakers, or if their prices are unreasonably high the people owe them no special consideration. They are entitled to a fair deal and no more. But they are entitled to that, just as any other business concern is entitled to fair treatment.

"Why go out seeking new enterprises unless we are willing to support the ones we already have."

The Salvation Army Marches Again

There is one army whose uniform is respected in every land. Its wearers go wherever their mission takes them, singly or in bands, without molestation. It carries no arms, but it marches with banners, to the blare of brass and the rat-tat-tat of drums, playing not the martial tunes of victory and national hatreds but instead, familiar hymns of Divine love and the Peace of God.

It is the Salvation Army.
No American who wore the khaki in the World War can fail to remember the Salvation Army with anything but affectionate respect. If our doughboys recall no other cheerful note from their experiences overseas in 1917-18, they all remember the doughnuts which the Salvation Ladies fried for them.

There is a warm human sympathy about the Salvation Army and the devoted men and women who risked their lives to follow the fighting men closer to the front lines than most other civilian workers dared to go, which made even the most hardened feel that there must be something in the faith which led the Salvationists to give all and take nothing, for the glory of God and the love of their fellowmen.

Now the Salvation Army is marching again. Its devoted workers have been ministering to wounded Russian soldiers in Finnish hospitals, to French and British troops under fire in France and Belgium, to refugees wherever they are to be found. They have been risking, and some of them have lost their lives. One Salvation Lassie was killed by a Russian air attack in Vasa. Another, wearing the red-ribboned black poke bonnet was struck down by a German bomber at Dieppe.

To the Salvation Army all men are their brothers, for all are children of God. Their mission is help the helpless, relieve the suffering of any human being in distress. They are again asking the American people for money with which to carry on their noble work. We hope, and feel sure, that America will respond as generously as it always has done in the past.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

How do you go about writing a book?

Well, in case you're figuring on doing so, be assured it's a lot of work—at least, this commentator has found it so.

Take "Were You in Ranger?" for example. Upon returning to Texas in 1920 (I had spent several years in the state during my boyhood), it was my determination to write about the romance of oil. So when, in response to a bunch of letters sent out to newspapers over the state, R. K. Phillips—publisher of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News—wrote that he needed an editor in that oil town, "Here," said I, "is my opportunity."

But being the one-man staff of a daily paper is a full-grown job and for 10 years—including Cisco and Ranger, likewise oil towns—there was too much to do in the way of writing up killings, accidents, new wells, football and other day-by-day happenings to thing much about the proposed book.

However, many incidents were stored away in memory; there was a sub-conscious accumulation of colorful incidents and, on quiet Sunday afternoons, the dust was blown off the old files of the Ranger Times and bygone events were studied.

When J. R. Record, managing editor, offered a job on the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram there was less responsibility (a fellow just had one "run" and not a whole paper to carry on his shoulders). Then began a spare-time search of the files of the Star-Telegram for 1917 through 1920. The big, flat volumes, wrapped in heavy brown paper, were on top of the shelves in the public library and could be reached only by climbing on a chair. There was no table on the narrow balcony and so a clumsy volume would be balanced on the heavy iron railing in front of a window and your author stood hour after hour. When a news item bearing on the Eastland County boom was found, the volume was balanced awkwardly with the left hand and notes were jotted down. No doubt the library force would have made the task much less arduous had their aid been asked but I didn't want to tell them I was working on a book when I might never be able to write it.

Here is an odd thing: It was necessary for me to leave Eastland County in order to get the perspective but, during this research in Fort Worth several trips back to Ranger had to be made to talk to people about boom events when I used to see those people every day while living there.

You've got to have some luck too. By coincidence, I ran into Gene Reynolds on the street in Fort Worth and, in a long interview, he unfolded the information about melodramatic Police Chief Byron Parrish and the criminal element that Parrish conquered in Ranger—(Gene himself was desk sergeant there and later chief of police) and this information was the basis for the most exciting part of the story. Then I encountered Dick Hodges in Fort Worth and he told me about the time he was offered $50,000 just for his photograph. Then I ran into J. W. Knightlinger, veteran railroad man, and he related the forcible crossing of the T. & P. by the Jake Hamon railroad at midnight.

After filling a fat notebook, it was necessary to allow the material to take shape in my mind for a year—in other words, 10 years of living in the oil fields, one year of concentrated research and interviewing, one year of study—before a single word was written. The actual writing took only six months of spare time.

But, now that the manuscript was completed, could a publisher be found? It looked as though the answer would be, No, for six houses rejected it. Finally a small company in Dallas accepted it. Then came the question, would anybody be interested? Maybe the writer was the only one who cared anything about the Ranger rush, the greatest in the history of oil. In five weeks, however, the book was out of print; every copy of the first printing had been sold!

It went into a second, a third and a fourth edition. That was several years ago but there has been a revival in the demand for "Were You in Ranger?" in the last couple of months because of this columnist's connection with the big Texas oil movie, "Boom Town."

Anyway, there is the story of how to write a book.

Here's an old joke: Ikey and Moe were walking along on a very cold morning. Ikey, who had been talking suddenly became

Over Thousand Students Already Enrolled At Tech

Lubbock, Sept. 4—Preliminary steps in fall registration at Texas Technological college will begin Sept. 11, according to Registrar W. P. Clement. Students who desire to do so may get physical examination housing and registrar's approval, and pay fees before general registration opens Sept. 16-17, then schedule classes during the two-day registration period.

Over 1,000 high school transcripts and 352 college transfers had notified the registrar's office of intention to attend Texas Tech this fall by last Thursday.

"This indicates that the pending conscription bill may have little effect on enrollment," Clement said.

Six faculty changes and 10 new positions have been announced by President Clifford B. Jones.

SNAPSHOT GUILD TAKE CHARACTER PICTURES

Character studies make interesting, truthful pictures—well worth having in your snapshot collection.

Character studies make interesting, truthful pictures. Choose a subject whose face is marked by character, and you have the key for a real picture—personal series of pictures. Character studies are usually more interesting than ordinary portraits—but the reason why a younger person can't be used, or even a child, is that a picture of Johnny doesn't tell you anything about his spinach, or trying to get out an especially hard arithmetic. Make your picture truthful and characterful. Sometimes the face is not sufficient for the picture. In some cases, you may want to show the subject in his or her normal setting. For example, a sweet-faced woman in her favorite chair, busy with her sewing. These accessories, the chair, would help explain the character. They would also add a natural quality to the picture. The face only is shown, a plain background is best. With most subjects you will have to include the subject's head. How the enlargement is made,

Hardin Grade School News

We are glad to welcome our first graders this year and hope that they will soon learn to enjoy school with us. We have a new pupil this morning. She is Veta Ray Kelley from Wichita Falls. (Miss Parris.)

There are forty-six boys and girls in our room and all of them were present last week except two girls. Myrtle Hilbers and Oma Fae La Grone. We have resolved to work hard and try to become one of the best classes in Hardin grade school. (Miss Billinglea.)

There are 36 boys and girls enrolled in our class. We are proud of the large U. S. flag in front of our room. So we have learned to say a flag pledge. We also colored flags in art classes.

We are enjoying an airplane unit in reading class, so we have built Hardin Airport on our table. A number of planes are in the flying field, and we have cut paper planes with which to decorate our rooms. Earl Wayne Mills contributed a pilot for our airport, Charles W. Counter, a large plane and Betty Poole, some dolls to represent children. Cleo Askins made a plane from wood and brought it to school. Billie George McClarty, after reading "The Pilot's Pet" which was a squirrel, brought his own pet, a baby ground squirrel to visit us. A few of our classmates have gone up in a plane, and many others hope to do so in the future. Barbara Lee Ferguson accompanied her parents to Edmond, Okla., Sunday, when her sister, Mary Lois, returned to enroll in the college there. Cherry Wayne Kolter visited her aunt in Abilene last weekend. (Miss Lassetter.)

Thirty-nine pupils have enrolled in our room this year. The children of our school are studying patriotism. Our L3-1 pupils are learning the pledge to the flag and the United States. Many of them know it and all are going to know it by Monday the 9th. Each child is coloring a picture of the flag to take home. We are studying Indians in our reading class and expect an interesting unit on that subject. Scranton Peevy brought some interesting picture books about New York City to show our class. (Miss Smith.)

We are very glad to be back in school again. We are happy to see all of our old friends, and to welcome the boys and girls from other schools. We are doing many interesting things in school. Although we are small, as the older boys and girls are doing, we are learning the flag salute. We like to give it. We are learning an action song in our music class. In art we are coloring flags. We will begin a "Circus Parade" frieze this week. We are getting ready for a circus. (Mrs. Vann.)

We have 34 pupils in our room. Betty Jo Hutchens was chosen as "Fire Captain." She will see that the doors leading out of the building are open, and will lead the children out of the building. David McNeill will lead the children back into the building. (Miss Jackson.)

Thirty-six pupils are enrolled in our room. Several of these pupils are coming to the Burkburnett schools for the first time. We hope they enjoy the Burkburnett school. We are looking forward to the time when Walter Blair will be able to enroll in our class. He was in a car accident before school started and hasn't been able to start school. Cecil Jennings is Fire-captain for our room. It is his duty to lead all L4-2 pupils from the building when the fire alarm rings. (Miss Isbell.)

This week L4-1 has been studying Indians, so we have decided to start an Indian museum. We have quite a number of things already. Pupils who have brought things for our museum are Jessie Ruth Preston, Beth Brookshear, Wanda Simpson, and Donna Browning. There are thirty-eight children in our room. We have learned the pledge to our flag.

Melvin Gragg is our fire marshal and Roy Jackson, Jr., is our assistant fire marshal. (Miss Solomon.)

Thomas Bryan was appointed fire marshal for our room. Tibby Hauger is his assistant. Our room welcomes Glen Allen, who has moved here from Fort Worth. We have twenty-six boys and girls in our room. We are learning a pledge to our flag. (Miss Majors.)

We are glad to enroll in our school the following out of state pupils, Wanda Gene Duke, Billie Marie Nolan and James Simmons. (Miss McGinnis.)

Pupils in L7-2 have been studying the flag. The purpose of this particular activity is to build patriotism in our youth and to develop a thorough understanding of the proper display of Old Glory and the history of our flag. Each pupil has memorized the "Flag Salute." They also feel that since they have learned "The Star Spangled Banner," "God Bless America," and other patriotic songs they are preparing themselves to make better citizens. Billy Reynolds gave a very interesting report on "Betsy Ross and the First Flag." We were very sorry that Kenneth King moved to Wichita Falls. (Miss Allen.)

There are 39 pupils in L6-1. We are ready to go to work. Every one in our room enjoyed the summer vacation. Most of us went out of Burkburnett for a few days. The following are some of the interesting places which we visited: Juarez, Mexico, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arizona, California, Austin, San Angelo and Galveston, Texas. (Miss Gibson.)

The Junior band will be organized Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 10, immediately after school in the Hardin grade school auditorium. We who have played in the junior band before and those interested in playing in this band, please meet Mr. Reed after school Tuesday. Members will be accepted from the 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th grades. If you would like to join this band, whether you have a horn or not, be at this meeting. (Mr. Reed.)

We are glad to have the following as new students in the L7-1 class. Betsy June Hall, Margaret Ferguson, Jarvis Foster and Charles Eugene Todd. Jarvis Foster is absent today. The fifth, sixth and seventh grades are designing covers for portfolios in which they are to keep their class work in art. (Miss McSweeney.)

Girls of the 5th, 6th and 7th grade formed Health and Safety clubs Friday. Clubs will meet once a week for the purpose of learning and applying health and safety rules. Girls in the 5th, 6th and 7th grades will begin volleyball practice the later part of this week. (Miss Doty.)

The boys physical education classes of 5th, 6th and 7th grades have been having intra squad games. The intra mural games will begin soon with prizes going to the winning teams. (Mr. Burnett.)

Low 5-1 have thirty-one pupils enrolled this semester. So far, there has been no one absent. Billy Ray Bowman has been appointed fire marshal. Departmental work is new to us but we think we shall like it fine. (Miss Goodwin.)

HIT-or-MISS

DOROTHY GIBSON

Intolerance is just another way of saying "Go wash your linen, brother. There isn't room in this town for anybody's sins but mine."

I can't get over the inconsistency of those women who curse Hitler for bombing poor, helpless children and then drive down the streets with their own and half a dozen neighbor children hanging out the windows and leaning against the car doors.

Before you have too much to say about the mental caliber of the people Hitler rules, take a look to see who is doing your back seat driving.

I don't believe statistics have been compiled on it, but I'd be willing to bet that for every fifty men anywhere in the world there is one who has assumed the responsibility of Godship over the fifty's destinies and I'd also bet that from Hitler on down you won't find a dictator in the bunch who doesn't abuse his power.

There is certainly not enough independence of thought in this world. And if you do happen on a man with a mind of his own and the courage to speak his convictions he is looked upon by the rest of his fellows as a sort of monstrosity.

Just about the time I make up my mind that all true neighborliness is dead and that the world has lost all the graciousness of courteous gestures, someone comes along and gives me back a proper perspective.

Thanks a lot for the peaches, Mrs. Wesbrooks.

"You know, folks," it is really going to be Hell for some people when they get to Heaven and find that everything has been going along beautifully without their help; that the Lord judges everybody by the same yardstick; that He won't tolerate any constitutional amendments or telling Him how to run His business and that a lot of people they wouldn't speak to on earth have just as good seats for the show as they have.

Everybody was glad to hear about the nice break Mildred Milford is getting at the hospital in Oklahoma City where she is in training. I'm sort of hazy on the technical details but it seems that she has perfected a gadget for blood transfusions that will eliminate the use of so much cotton and gauze. She has been highly complimented by the hospital authorities. Congratulations, Mildred.

I'm not exactly superstitious, but I do wish the Bulldogs were opening on any day but Friday 13. However, the Nocona Indians are taking the same chances we are and maybe what is poison for them will prove tonic for us.

I never have been able to figure out why it is that the only thing that catches my eye when I walk into a shop is the very thing that I can't possibly afford and nothing else looks just right after that.

Another thing: I just know they do something to the mirrors in hat shops. I'm sure it couldn't be just imagination that makes you think 'this little number' is really the most becoming hat you've ever had on until you get home and look in your own mirror.

It has always seemed strange to me that mothers want their daughters to get husbands who will treat them like millionaires' wives and who will put up with their tantrums without a word but they expect the wives of their sons to combine all the virtues of an excellent cook, housekeeper, and laundress with the ability to look charming all the time and to look upon the faults of their husbands as very minor flaws in gems of inestimable value.

In these days when you hear so much fault-finding from husbands and wives alike, and the divorce courts run on a twenty-four hour schedule, it is refreshing to hear, as I heard recently: "My husband is hard to beat. I guess he probably has his faults but I'm so busy being thankful for his virtues that I never notice them."

If those of us who are presumptuous enough to sit in judgment upon our fellowman would always recall those times in our personal histories when we hoped for lenience for ourselves or someone close to us I think there would be a lot less crying for our brothers' blood.

Frank Clement says it took two cows and one pretty good sized calf to turn out the good-looking pair of boots he is wearing.

In early Texas it went farther than just dying with your boots on. Records in the University of Texas library show that at least one early colonist was buried, according to his own instructions, standing erect and in full dress, holding a rifle on his shoulder.

ANOTHER DRY HOLE

In the constant search for new oil in Texas, even the dry holes benefit the communities in which they are drilled.

They mean employment and wages for labor, lease money for Texas farmers, ranchers and many other expenditures benefit all lines of business.

2,300 dry holes were drilled in Texas year at a cost of nearly 60 million dollars.

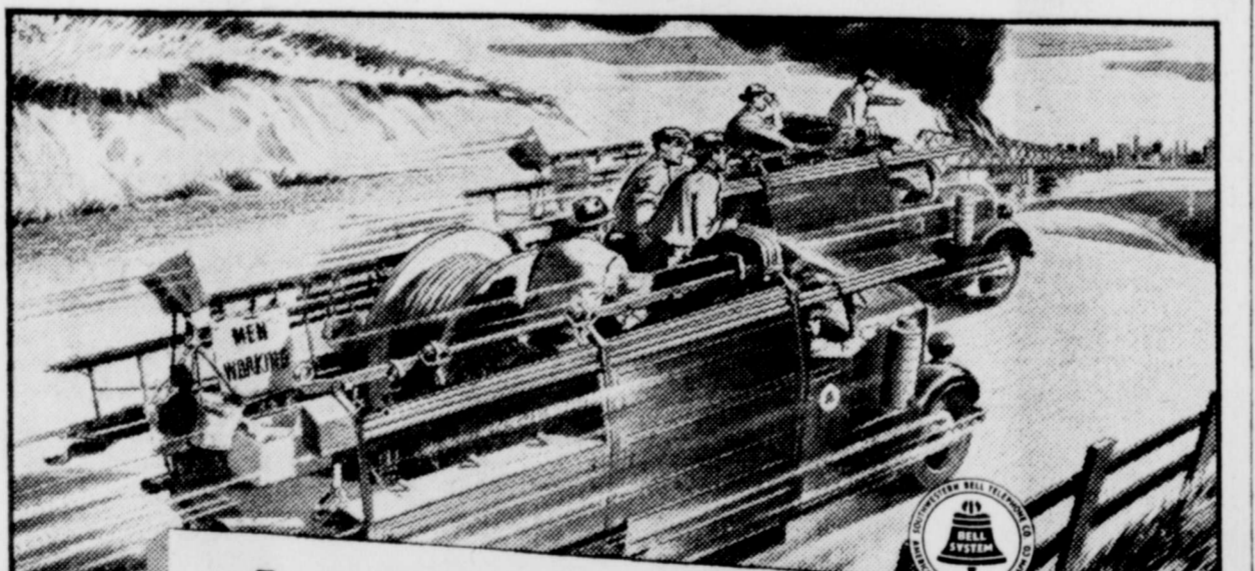

Since oil was discovered in Texas, 52,000 holes have been drilled in all sections of the State at an expense of more than one billion dollars.

This billion dollar research has resulted in the discovery in Texas of over 100 billion barrels of oil for the Nation. The creation of this wealth benefit Texas citizens for generations to come.

A "FOUR-ALARM" FOR THE BLUE-GRAY TRUCKS

A KANSAS CITY bridge burst into flames one morning last spring. It twisted and writhed under the terrific heat... then stout steel spans splashed into the Kansas River.

"Voice bridges" went out of service, too. For attached to the bridge were two large telephone cables, containing wires to 1,700 telephones. It was a four-alarm for the telephone repair crews—the men in the blue-gray trucks. While flames still soared near by, the reconstruction work began.

In a fire department rowboat they got a line across the river. Emergency telephones were rigged up at strategic locations.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL

Then came a driving rain to make the task even harder. All night they worked against great odds. By midnight 60 telephones were working. By breakfast time three-fourths of the silenced telephones could speak. That afternoon telephone service was back to normal.

Meeting—and whipping—emergencies is a part of the telephone man's job.

HAWKEYE'S NEWS ...

From Liberty Hill Community

Well, the stork visited the Dartersville community last Sunday night and left in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Evans, a big, fine baby girl. Mrs. Evans is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Darter who lives in Dartersville.

Well, sir, folks you know that Hawkeye got the surprise of his life last Thursday as he was called up to our county seat, Walters, to transact some business, so after being in the city an hour or so and knowing that Thursday was the first day of the County Fair, Hawkeye went down and took in the whole Fair's exhibits. It took him over two hours to look over the cattle, hogs, sheep and horses, mules and poultry exhibits and the exhibits of fruits and vegetables; saying nothing about all the crop displays. He sure was surprised to see such a fair as he saw in our county seat. In fact, he had never dreamed of such fine stock raised in the county. You just won't see any better down at the Fat Stock show this fall down in Fort Worth. You may see a little more, but not any better. Hawkeye had the pleasure of meeting a Mr. Clark, the manager of the chamber of commerce, in person and several other leading business men of Walters and was treated by all with the very best courtesy. Hawkeye left the city at about 2:10 p. m. At that hour there was over 2,000 people on the streets and one auto after another was coming in and that was just the first day of the fair.

Well, the old stork didn't forget to visit Hawkeye's old stamping grounds, the Big Rabbit Creek neighborhood where Hawkeye lived from 1906 to 1940, as the stork called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Darter last Thursday night and he left them a fine big baby boy. At this writing mother and son is in the Burk Burnett Clinic. Brother Harold is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Darter of Dartersville and Mrs. Harold Darter is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed of the Dartersville community. Brother Harold is farming his father's fine Big Rabbit Creek farm this year.

Hawkeye has noticed several bales of cotton going on the highway to Temple Saturday to have it ginned. By the 15th cotton pulling and picking will start up in full blast in the Liberty Hill and the Needler communities. Pulling has started at 50c per 100 pounds. Quite a number of pulling families has already moved in to pull cotton.

Hawkeye accompanied a Mr. Willie Gibson and son up to Temple Friday. The Gibsons own a fine farm 1 1/2 miles from where Hawkeye lives and they are one amongst the leading and prosperous farmers in the Liberty Hill neighborhood.

Today, September 7, 1940, is one of the hottest afternoons of the year. At 3:30 p. m. the temperature reads 103 3-4 in the shade. About the only way so far, that Hawkeye has been able to get away from this hot afternoon sun was to go out and get under his 4-strand barbed wire fence.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Graham and their daughter, Miss Peggy, went to the county fair Friday evening. They report seeing a wonderful county fair. (That's what everyone says.)

One of our farmers one night of last week was scolding his hired man for carrying a lighted lantern when going to call on his best girl. "The idea" he exclaimed, "when I was courtin' I never carried a lantern. I went in the dark."

"Yes," said the hired man sadly, "and look what you got."

A guy asked Hawkeye a few days past up in Temple, "Why do dollars have eagles on them?" Hawkeye answered "Because they fly so fast."

Angry Hawkeye: "I've worn this cafskin shoe only two months and now look at 'em."

Salesman in Temple: "My dear

Do You Know Texas?

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact by writing to A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas.

Q. How many underpasses are there on the highways of Texas?
A. There are 271 underpasses and 131 overpasses on the State Highway system.

Q. What type of unsold land does the state now have remaining, that can be purchased?

A. Bascom Giles, commissioner of the General Land office, says at the present time there is no unsold surveyed land being offered for sale. A recent sale—January 3, 1940—was the first such sale in ten years.

Factual: The history of art in Texas begins in the Elisabet Ney Museum. Her biography is the first book about art ever written in Texas. In Europe she won great renown for her portraits of members of royalty. Her arrival in Austin marked the beginning of the advancement of Texas in the realm of art and makes her an important figure in the cultural history of Texas. Many yet live who were well acquainted with this truly great woman. Hers was a busy life as is revealed in the extensive collections in the two studios of the museum in which she labored, lived, and died. Hers was not an easy sojourn under Texas skies. Friends will say today that Elisabet Ney, like so many of the truly great of all time, suffered even for the necessities of the body. Hunger was not a stranger to her, yet she plodded, planned, and achieved until the end to serve mankind; and the plaudits of the grateful people of Texas today acclaim Elisabet Ney to have been a genius, a pioneer, and a leader in her art worthy of a place beside the immortals of Texas who died in their path to glory.

Q. Will the Texas State Democratic committee maintain headquarters in Texas during the current presidential campaign ending with the general election?
A. Yes. National Committeeman Myron G. Blalock of Marshall states that headquarters are being maintained in Austin. This service to the party and the people has been made possible through the aid of the Austin chamber of commerce and friends. For any information address Democratic headquarters, Austin, Texas.

Editor Schoedel: Charles Schoedel, who for the past two years has been an employe in the Texas State Health department, has not forgotten the smell and lure of printer's ink. He has resigned his job, returned to the county and section in which he was born, and become the publisher and editor of the Somerville Tribune.

In Memoriam: L. B. Russell, 89, pioneer publisher and early editor of the Comanche Chief, died in recent weeks in his beloved home town of Comanche. In an era of motoring, to the very last his preference as to mode of transportation was via horseback. Comanche knew him, his horse, and his saddle. This saddle, beautiful in its simplicity and appealing as to comfort, has been presented to the Texas Memorial Museum for exhibit and safekeeping in the Pioneer room of the History division.

L. B. Keeter for several days past this week has been transacting business in Stillwater, Okla., in the interest of our Uncle Sammie.

Bruce McCarty, for more than a third of a century publisher of the Eagle Lake Headlight, is now numbered with the travelers who never return. But Editor McCarty left a record of service to mankind that can never be buried and that will dwell in the hearts of his people so long as Americans are left free to vote according to the dictates of conscience, retain democratic government, and the institutions of democracy which Bruce McCarty upheld, defended, and adored.

Oddy: The road runner or chapparral bird is a member of the cuckoo family. It is known to Mexicans as the "paisano", meaning fellow countryman or compatriot. Many interesting yarns have been spun about the high speed the bird can run.

Di You Know: That the Bluebonnet, the state flower of Texas, was adopted in 1901 by the Twenty-seventh Legislature? Or that "Texas, Our Texas", the state song, was adopted in 1929 by the first called session of the Forty-First Legislature?

Christian Science Services

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 15.

The Golden Text is: "If we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it" (Romans 8:25.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." (Malachi 3:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The universe reflects and expresses the divine substance or Mind; therefore God is seen only in the spiritual universe and spiritual man, as the sun is seen in the ray of light which goes out from it." (page 300).

County Budget Approved By Commissioners

County commissioners Monday approved the 1941 budget, set the 1940 tax rate at 51 cents per $100 of property valuation, and ordained that the county auditor's office shall be moved from the third floor of the courthouse to a ground floor location to provide space for the county law library near the three district courtrooms.

The 1941 budget, on which a public hearing was held Monday afternoon, was adopted with little change from the form in which it was drawn up early in August. It anticipates revenues of $538,360 during 1941, and estimates required expenditures for next year at $514,672.28. The 1940 tax rate was 55 cents.

Slight alterations made Monday include provision of $165 monthly instead of $150 for the assistant county hide and animal inspector; and addition of $720 to the $11,100 previously approved to pay salaries for assistants in the county clerk's office.

One week earlier the court had ordered the auditor, county attorney, and sheriff to move their offices in order that the county law library might have space now occupied by the auditor and his staff. Sharp protest against such a series of migrations mounted steadily until Monday, and was voiced before the court. A WPA records project had been removed last week from a large, recently-renovated room on the ground floor. That space was assigned Monday afternoon to the auditor, and the move is expected to be effected in the near future.

The court was advised Monday that through Aug. 31 a total of $311,984 food stamps had been issued in this county, of which $187,022 were free blue stamps.

The three main blocks downtown will be roped off for concessions and decoration of the streets is in charge of the American Legion, who have asked that all farmers in the area cooperate with them by bringing cotton, corn, maize, cane and hay to them which will be used to decorate the fronts of shops and shop windows.

Banners and bunting will be used profusely and all merchants and business houses are asked to display their flags the entire week of September 16 through the 21.

A tentative program has been completed through Saturday afternoon and further plans for entertainment Saturday evening will be made later.

At present the program calls for the official opening of the Festival with the parade at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

At three o'clock there will be a square dance on horseback at the old rodeo grounds. From 4 till 6 o'clock special events will be conducted on Main street. These events will include a tug-of-war between the Lions and the Rotarians, the losers to be publicly ducked.

From 5 till 6:30 eleven teams comprising the North Texas Fire Marshals' Association, will be presented in water fights.

At 7:30 the Burkburnett Bulldogs will engage the Cisco eleven on the local gridiron.

The Midway will be open from 9 till 11 in the evening.

On Saturday special events will begin on Main street at 2:15. They will include nail driving contests between Burkburnett business men and Oklahoma farmers, Burkburnett women and Oklahoma women; a slipper kicking contest and a balloon blowing contest for the ladies; a pie eating contest for the white boys and one for the colored; a bicycle race for boys not over twelve years old and one for the girls.

Favorite hobby of Lenore Wenzel, tiny 19-year-old tap-dancing beauty shown above, who will be seen with the Rubin and Cherry Shows at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20, is jitterbugging. The meeting Wednesday afternoon was presided over by H. D. Smith, general chairman and was attended by Ray Hill, secretary, Wylie Browning, Fred Brookman, Lynn Kincaid, Virgil Brookshear, Paul Browning, L. L. Harris, Alvin Hill, W. A. Roberts and Leonard Mattingly.

Mr. Smith laid particular stress on the importance of the booster trip scheduled for next Wednesday and asked that everyone who intends to go begin making preparations now.

The cavalcade will leave the city hall at 9 o'clock and all cars should be in line before that time.

Two-Bodied Cat Born At Devol

Priscilla, a four-year-old cat belonging to the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Patterson of Devol, has been enjoying a mild attack of fame recently.

Her claim to a place with the great and near-great, is a kitten with two bodies and one head, or should we say, two kittens with one head? For the bodies are fully developed and one is male, the other female.

Mrs. Patterson discovered the kitten shortly after its birth and states that it was breathing when she picked it up. Six normal kittens were born in the same litter.

Mrs. Patterson plans to display the kitten—kittens—whatever it is, which has been preserved in formaldehyde, during the Harvest Festival.

The Intermediates gave us real proof of their ability to help in the worship service. The Young people will have charge of services Sunday and every part of the service is being done by three young men from the department. Jack W. Mann
