Bulldogs To Play Vernon Friday Nite

The Bulldogs are all set to play the game of their lives Friday night when they tackle the Vernon Lions on the local field. The Bulldogs are still smarting from the defeat they suffered at Olney last week. The Lions lost a hard-fought game to the Wichita Falls Coyotes last week and they will be out for revenge. Burk Burnett is rated as the under-dog of the conference due to the fact this is their first year in the faster company and there are only three of last year's players back on the squad, but the fans can be assured of a fighting aggregation of Bulldogs when they take the field. They demonstrated their ability to take it last week when decision after decision went against them. The boys deserve a world of credit for the sportsmanship shown in the game at Olney and the fans owe it to them to turn out 100 per cent strong for the game Friday night.

Man With Seeing Eye Dog Spoke To Lions Club

Clyde McDonald of Iowa Park and his "Seeing Eye" dog were featured at the regular meeting, Tuesday, October 22. Mr. McDonald told of his interesting experiences in going to Morristoryn, New Jersey, for training with his dog. Lions E. E. Wallace, Curtis Sewell, and Miles Hines of Iowa Park, were guests. The Lions club will meet at Fairview school next Tuesday, October 29, and at Rabbit Creek Tuesday, November 12. Chief of Police, W. M. Green, was introduced as a new Lion.

A COMMUNITY DEBACLE

(By W. A. ROBERTS)

In these days of world-wide strife and turmoil it is an opportune time for those with ulterior motive to strike telling blows in every community by misleading the citizens, through agitation of, more or less, immaterial questions, into an eventual act designed to profit the motivators at the expense of the masses. In my humble opinion this very thing is being attempted, with no little success, right here in our own community.

During this year you have witnessed a continual barrage of "Whisperings" and petition passing for this, that or the other proposition of debatable merits, to say the least, and backed by the same group, who virtually went out and led the Voters to the Polls with the misleading argument that they were doing something for the old home town, when, as a matter of fact, the whole deal was designed to keep the Voter "Steamed Up" for the big "Kill" which is yet to come, that being the scrapping of most all of the worth while accomplishments of the past few years and particularly our Municipal Light Plant.

Having resided in and around Burk Burnett since the year the town was founded, and having known its citizens as neighbors and as people who are, in general, willing to work for any move that would prove beneficial to the entire community, I am convinced that if you will carefully investigate the charges herein set forth that we will have done with this needless agitation and put those few who are responsible for same strictly "In their Places." You are especially invited to investigate the men who are backing all of this "Hullabaloo" and see if they are patronizing our own Light Plant, then look into their history and see if they have ever done anything worth while for the old home town.

This is our community and every man, woman and child residing here is a stock holder, so to speak, therefore, we should not consider anyone loyal who does not work for the success of our community enterprises, and certainly, if they are not willing to do so and are motivated by outside influences to serve special interest, then they are not entitled to any place of leadership in our community affairs and should be relegated to some inconspicuous place for solemn meditation of the error of their ways.

It is high time to carefully investigate these underlying motives, seek out the facts, and have done with every movement adverse to our community welfare.

Tex Theatre Damaged By Fire Wednesday

THE WORD CLOSED

There appeared a sign on a business building in Burk Burnett Monday morning. The sign said CLOSED—just one word—but to the people that ran the place it meant the end of their dreams of making a living in this city. To the casual observer passing by it meant no longer open for business—but to the one who placed it there it spelled tragedy. The undramatic end of a useful career, the blasting of a lifetime of hopeful endeavor, the result of misplaced confidence, the dejection of disillusionment, the disintegration of ideals beneath the crushing blows of defeat.

CLOSED because the accounts carefully entered in a worn ledger show a greater number of debits than credits, because of customers who regarded their debts so lightly, and forgot their promise to pay.

CLOSED because there was no longer money to buy merchandise to put on the shelves or to pay for that sold on credit to irresponsible customers.

AND when that closed sign is placed upon the door, it means the loss of another institution that the town could ill afford to lose, it means that when no lights glow from behind those glass windows, and when no bright flames from the gas jets shed their inviting warmth and when no telephone jangles from the wall, that the utilities have lost another account.

IT MEANS that when the noise of bat wings beating the air in that darkened interior, replace the pleasant sounds of industry and a pall of dust settles like a shroud over the fixtures that another name is added to the delinquent tax rolls because vacant buildings pay no dividends.

IT MEANS that another pay roll is lost and more names are added to the list of unemployed and consequently loss of customers to every kind of business in town.

IT MEANS a loss to the schools, churches, and civic organizations, a loss of citizens, of established friendships, but more than all a loss of courage to continue on.

CLOSED—a word full of meaning.

The petition presented to the city commissioners asking for an election to elect the Chief of Police by popular vote was turned down, according to the city attorney, on the grounds of legal insufficiency. When the petition was notified by R. D. Laney a mistake was made in writing the date, according to the one presenting the petition. The date should have been Oct. 15 instead of Sept. 15th.

I am in favor of getting up a petition to end all petitions.

Every fan that I have talked to that witnessed the game at Olney last Friday between the Bulldogs and the Cubs are of the opinion that the team did not receive fair treatment from the officials or "whistle-blowers!" It is not often that I take the side of the fans who complain about the decisions handed down by the officials but when everybody you talk to about the game last week are of the same opinion there must be something to it. Where there is a lot of smoke there is bound to be some fire.

I don't know who the officials will be for the game here Friday, but it is a safe bet that they will not be the same ones that officiated at Olney.

C. J. Brannan, Wichita Falls attorney, received his appointment from the Governor last week to select assistant members of the advisory board on registration under the selective service law for Wichita county, Texas.

He has named W. A. Roberts, A. R. Hill, R. C. Tevis, J. V. Brookshear and the Rev. A. A. Hyde to serve Burk Burnett in this capacity and the Rev. Paul Kaiser will serve the Clara community. Mr. Brannan states that any registrant may go to any member of this board for assistance in filling out his questionnaire when he receives it and will be charged nothing for the services rendered him. All board members serve without pay.

If there is any reason why a local registrant cannot appeal to any of the local board members for assistance when he needs it, he is free to go to any member of any advisory board in the county, or to anyone who is qualified to help him.

TREE SURGERY

By J. S. GORE

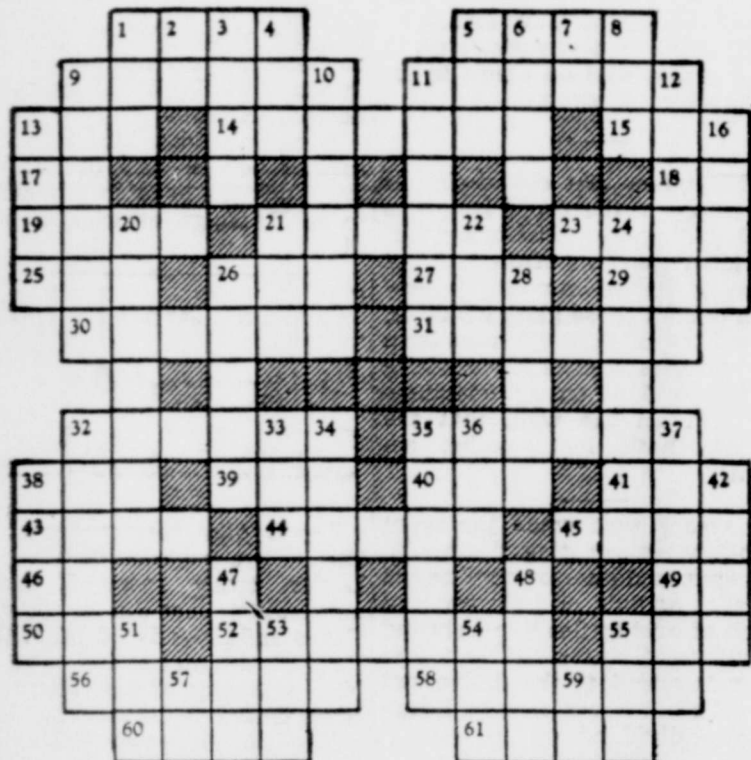

The early treatment of an orchard is of great importance to the future growth and fruitfulness of your trees; therefore, the following suggestions are based upon 15 years of experimenting in this city and information secured from various experiment stations; the department of agriculture's bulletins and articles written by Prof. H. W. Anderson, Pathologist, dept. of horticulture, University of Illinois.

Prune the tree when planted, leaving about 4 limbs with the lowest limb on the southwest side to shade body of tree in early afternoon. Peach trees should have first limb about 1 foot from ground and others 5 to 6 inches apart and the center or leader cut off about 30 inches from the ground, to produce open top and low headed tree. Avoid having two limbs of similar size grow out from same place, as they will form a weak crotch, which causes tree to split when loaded with fruit. If necessary cut one of two limbs back to retard its growth and force it to grow out from side of the leader instead of making well balanced fork. The four limbs may remain unpruned until all severe cold weather is over, after which they should be cut

Puzzle No. 32 Solved

Burkburnett . . . History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 years ago.

According to the managers of the two local gins 1851 bales of cotton have been ginned here to date. Cotton picking is at a standstill because of the inclement weather.

Last Friday the Olney Cubs and the Burk Bulldogs clashed in one of the most important games for both teams. Olney came here with confidence in winning the game with ease, but to their surprise they found the Bulldogs in full speed and ready to go. The Bulldogs have the credit of being the first to score against the Cubs this season. They held Olney to a 38 to 6 defeat. Outstanding players for the Bulldogs were Leo Salyer, Al Ragsdale, Dale Johnson and "Fat" Smith. Ragsdale made the lone Bulldog score.

J. M. Isbell, county engineer, was authorized by the commissioners to go to Austin for the next meeting of the state highway commission to ask that body's approval of the county's proposal to pave the short section of unimproved road now connecting Burkburnett with the end of the pavement on state highway No. 30.

La Nelle Elder entertained her friends with a Hallowe'en party on her ninth birthday, October 20th.

Harold Haire, a member of the Junior class and the football team of Burkburnett high school, died Friday at the home of his brother, O. A. Haire, of spinal meningitis.

Mrs. Charles L. Schoch of Electra honored her little granddaughter, Kathryn Mae Houser, with a birthday party at the Houser home here Saturday.

State Health Officer Gives Rules For Keeping Fit

With open season for colds at hand, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, suggests ways by which they can be avoided or reduced to a minimum. Here they are:

Number One: Keep yourself as fit as possible. Substitute the simpler and more nourishing foods for rich mixtures. Eggs, milk and other dairy products, fruits and green vegetables are rich in the vitamins that are a protection against colds. Add them to your diet. Drink several glasses of water daily.

Number Two: Dress according to the weather. Keep comfortably warm. Have a sweater handy or a warm coat to slip on when the days turn cold suddenly. Light a fire or turn on the heat if your house is damp and chilly. If you are a housekeeper, get your warm bedclothes out—and use them.

Number Three: Avoid sudden chilling. Change as quickly as possible to dry shoes and dry clothing if you are caught unprepared in a drenching rain.

Number Four: Get some exercise in the open air every day—a brisk walk, if you can't do more than that. Hold your head up and breathe deeply as you walk. Keep your sleeping quarters and your working rooms well ventilated, and get plenty of sleep.

Number Five: Colds are catching. Don't go where people are coughing or sneezing. Wash your hands before eating.

Number Six: If your powers of resistance have been lowered and a cold "catches" you, don't fight it. You will save time and also strength and get well more quickly if you go to bed, eat lightly, drink plenty of water and stay in bed until your physician says you may get up. Don't wait, either, until you are seriously ill to send for your doctor. Send for him promptly, and follow his advice.

Number Seven: Don't give your sold to others. Have your own towel and drinking glass. Don't broadcast your germs. Don't sneeze or cough in your neighbor's face. Keep yourself well supplied with paper handkerchiefs and destroy them after using. Postpone visits to friends until your cold is non-communicable.

Who Beats The Drum?

What or who "beats the drum" for the ruffled grouse when he goes into action? This is a question long undecided by sportsmen. The common assumption was that the noise resembling that of an old-fashioned engine being started in the distance was produced by the wings beating on the sides of the body or legs. Motion pictures, however, show that the bird makes the sound by fanning the air.

back leaving a few buds on each. Cut each limb near a bud with slope in direction the last bud is pointing to force branch to grow in that direction and to heal or cover the scar and prevent decay where cut. Make each cut sloping to drain off water and close enough that bark will soon cover completely. Never leave snags or dead limbs on trees, as such dead wood is ideal housing for worms which frequently kill the trees.

A badly crooked young tree may be straightened by pruning heavily on side the tree leans and leave the other side of top heavy until it is pulled near position desired, after which that side may be thinned out leaving winding stair step style of limbs, which seldom give trouble with breaking or splitting.

Dig up old trees or remove the dead worm infested wood and burn all such or remove from orchard.

All pruning wounds over two inches in diameter should be covered with Bordeaux paste for antiseptic benefits and to exclude air and help to prevent wind cracks and blister, canker. Large wounds should be coated annually with white lead or antiseptic tar paint, but care should be taken to leave the green bark free from paint, so it may close up the wound as rapidly as possible. Many kinds of paint have proven to be injurious to the green bark of trees.

Best results have been obtained by pruning twice annually rather than heavy pruning at one time. In autumn small limbs may be removed any time, but best to wait until leaves fall to begin cutting off larger limbs and it is best to wait until about February or just as buds begin to show signs of swelling, to remove the largest limbs, which slightly retards the growth, helps prevent early blooming and avoids having fresh open wounds exposed to severe cold weather. Further care of old trees and peach borer prevention will appear in a later issue.

Waterfowl Food Varies

Ducks eat a large variety of food as attested by the fact that thirty different kinds of food were taken in the crops of 101 ducks found last winter from four lakes in northeast Texas, according to a biologist's report to the executive secretary of the Texas game department. The plant menu is typical of practically every county in East Texas. All the plants can be transplanted and the practice is recommended to persons desiring to improve lakes for waterfowl.

Acorns head the list of food eaten by ducks in northeast Texas. Corns, chiefly sagittaria, is second and watershield is third. Among the other foods are snails, insects, crustacea and pondweed.

Plants furnishing cover as well as food are sedges, butterwillow, and the various smartweeds.

First Baptist Announcements

We are happy to report a good day in both Sunday school and training union Sunday, and to report real progress and success in our revival meeting. Our total attendance in Sunday school was 605, with 10 new members, and offering of $146.49 and 100 visitors with us. In our training union the attendance was 10 more than the number enrolled. Next Sunday is Rally Day for the training union and some of the unions reached their goals this past Sunday, one week ahead of schedule. In our Sunday school our adult classes did particularly well, and every department made a good record.

We have been and are really being blessed by the revival led by Rev. Chaffin and Singer Cohen. Our church has been revived and many lost won during these days. Through Tuesday morning of this week 30 new members had been received, some for baptism and some by letter. Here is a partial list of those received either for baptism or by letter: Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cook, Merle Lassiter, Hal Dean Mabry, Katherine Becham, Mrs. Billie England, G. T. England, Mrs. Zella Slusser, Bernice Kinder, Bennie Jack Turner, Kermit Simpkins, Charles Gist, Martha Parr, Marshall Miller, Ted Harris, Mrs. W. J. Suddeth and Donald Wilson for baptism; while the following come by letter: Mrs. Paul Fields, Mrs. Fred Datson, W. J. Suddeth, Chas. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kelly, Mrs. W. S. Bryarley, Mrs. Jack Hamner, J. C. Peyton, Fidelity Strickland and Bobby Bradley.

Better Bee Careful!

It was the first day of the season. John and I were favorite bass stream, our "ringing" the water, when moon honey bee buzzed around head, attracted by the smoke my pipe.

"Pull that red bandana around neck!" John yelled. "Hell and get mad."

Folks in general know about bees than any other man's helpful insects. The honey-makers are absolutely blind. They even locate in flowers by scent.

"Listen, My Children—"

Game Warden Ralph Hamilton of Lee county, N. Car., smiled slightly as he listened to the 16-year-old youth expound on the alleged misdeeds of deputy wardens in that county. According to the boy, who had an interested group of listeners in the filling station, about everybody in that county, including the deputy wardens, hunted out of season.

When the youth had finished his story, not realizing that there was a game warden in his audience, Hamilton showed his badge to the boy and spoke curtly. "Well, son, if what you say is the truth, we've got a sorry state of affairs here in Lee county. You and I will go see these wardens and confront them with your story."

The boy wilted visibly and said he had been telling some "whoppers" just to hear his ears ring. "I want you and everyone in this station to kick me for telling such stories," the boy directed.

"All right, son," the warden compromised. "I won't take you to those deputy wardens if you'll promise me that you'll attend Sunday school every Sunday for one year. The teacher of your class must mail a postal card to me each week certifying your attendance. If you don't wish to do this—well, we'll see the deputy wardens."

Warden Hamilton has received two such weekly reports from the Sunday school teacher already, and another will be due shortly! Moral for youngsters: Listen more, talk less, and you'll stay out of trouble.

Simple Changes Provide Light Conditioned Living

Secret of This Cheery Living Room Is Sight-Saving Light. It Comes Mainly from Old Lamps and a Ceiling Fixture Equipped with New Accessories Introduced Recently by Lighting Experts.

Jean Prentice

Having discovered that the less apt to strain than under poor, is as easy for every family as lighting, and designers in the light-worked out ways to older lamps and fixtures in the home of very modern can be light conditioned, shown here two old-fashioned lamps were given better lighting, by installing a new indirect lighting fixture to give them a new life. From the old-fashioned lamp, a change in the shade and the ingenious light-improvement designed is a round plate which slips readily into an old-style bridge lamp. This disk plus a new silvered-bowl light bulb provide excellent indirect lighting.

Many other make-over lighting items are now appearing on the electrical counters in stores everywhere. What looks like mixing bowls with a hole in the bottom are really translucent diffusing bowls which can be screwed into most older lamps. They convert harsh raw light into soft illumination.

Such a bowl was installed in each of the two lamps at the davenport shown here. A 100-watt light bulb was added in each. White-lined shades were used to reflect a maximum amount of light. Uncomfortable glare was eliminated. The lighting is well distributed. It is ample for easy seeing.

Because a pianist needs especially good light to read small music notes without eyestrain, a new scientifically approved lamp with 100-200-300-watt bulb was placed in this room by the "upright."

The old-style ceiling fixture had been both a decorative and lighting problem, as it is in many homes. But new attractive indirect lighting was secured in a jiffy with metal and plastic shades and silvered-bowl bulbs.

Lighting specialists have devised neat ways to improve almost all types of old fixtures until new ones can be purchased. For the single ceiling socket or drop cord so prevalent in many homes, there are new indirect lighting adaptors that can be easily screwed into the socket.

In fact the woman who decides to make over her lighting for the longer evenings ahead will find any number of new inexpensive ideas to help her brighten the corners.

Burk Garden Club Has Program On Arrangements

The Burk Burnett Garden club met in regular session Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carl Morrison with Mrs. Glen Bear sharing hostess duties.

THE QUESTION BOX

O. D. DIAL, Minister

I have been asked by a number of individuals if I would answer questions in my articles in this column. I am happy to announce that in the future I shall be glad to receive personally or by mail direct to me, your problems or questions, and that I have permission from the Editor, to answer them through this column.

Many people came to me with questions or personal problems that have caused them much trouble and worry. I am always glad to assist them by helping them, if possible, find the correct answers, that can bring peace and comfort to them. The Bible is the only source of information on these questions, that we may fully and completely rely on.

I realize, too, that many people are rather timid and hesitant about bringing their questions. So, as a matter of fact they continue through life, in uncertainty and doubt, being troubled in soul and oppressed in spirit. Hence, it is this type of individual that we want to help, through the "Question box."

I am not asking for questions from those who wish to be critical or who wish to antagonize. I am not asking for questions for controversy, or from those who are insincere. But, if there is a passage of Scripture that you would like to have help to understand, or a question you cannot find an answer for in the Scripture, or if you want advice on some personal problem, you may rest assured that I shall be happy to answer them, if I can, in the light of the teachings of God's Word. I will, where possible, merely give you the chapter and verse, and let you turn and read it for yourself.

Remember this is asking you to give us an opportunity to help you solve those questions that are troubling you. Remember too, that the answers and thoughts herein given, are those of the writer, as he finds them from the Bible, and they do not necessarily reflect the views of the editor of the Burkburnett Star.

Address all of your questions to O. D. Dial, Box 582, Burkburnett, Texas. You may sign your name in full, or only your initials. In either case your answer will appear in this column with your initial only. Please remember, I am anxious to help you, so let me have your questions, soon. We invite you to attend services at the Church of Christ, that we may further help you. A welcome awaits you.

Into Stomach Of The Whale

Many peculiarities are found among animals, reptiles and insects, although few are witnessed except by persons interested in nature study. When spiders bite each other's legs off, new legs grow back. The black widow spider eats her mate and makes herself a widow. A snake recently ate another one, but the "victim" didn't die, as was witnessed by a group of Texans, according to the Fredericksburg Standard.

Emil Petsch, Pete Webber and Harold Puhl came upon a coach whip and another snake fighting viciously. One snake measured about five feet in length and the other about three feet. The large snake finally started swallowing the other. The smaller snake was eaten head first, but when two-thirds of it had been consumed the men used rocks to kill the larger snake. They thought they had also killed the smaller one, but were amazed when the three-footer crawled all the way into the large snake, turned around and emerged head first, unharmed.

the Honor roll. We intend to have more next time. (Miss Gibson).

The boys and girls of L1-1 are happy because they won the book money at P-T A. meeting last Tuesday. They are proud of their mothers' interest in their school. They will enjoy the books that will be purchased with the money. (Miss Billingslea.)

Joan Podberger went with her mother and father to Sherman Friday afternoon. Row 1 won again last week in health. Our nature class brought a nice collection of seed to school last six weeks. We are now studying leaves and expect to have a collection of many kinds of leaves by Friday. There were eight pupils made a straight G or G-card. Their names will appear in another column in this paper. (Miss Smith).

Those visiting over the week-end were as follows: Mary Ruth Clement visiting in Denton; Ray Morris visiting Ringgold and Sunset, Texas; and Etta Wanda visiting in Randlett. We shall soon start working on events for county meet. We hope to win the prizes. (Miss Goodwin).

We have several new library books for our room. The ones we like best are "Peter Pan," "When I Grow Up," and "Honey, the City Bear." Most of the boys and girls who have been picking cotton are back in school now. (Miss Isbell).

We are very proud of these people who are on the honor roll from L1-2. (Miss Parris).

Many of the students in our class are working on a Halloween play to be given at assembly Oct. 31. Billie Jo Stacy was in Ft. Sill Sunday. Opal Lee Taylor and Betty Riddle went to Ardmore Sunday. The 155 Scout troop went to Wichita Saturday morning to play football. Edsel Cassell and Keith Jones were fishing at Kamay. Donald Ray Mills and relatives went to Diversion Lake to fish Saturday. Sons of the Legion band went to Vernon for the thirteenth district convention. (Miss McSwain).

The Junior band is now having regular rehearsals three times a week. The band is still making very nice progress. It is still not too late to join so get in now and start in with us while we are just beginning. (Mr. Reed).

We missed Barbara Jones and Polly Turner at school last week. We are studying the seasons in language class, so we have made an Autumn table which already contains acorns, pine cones, Autumn leaves, a pomegranate, a squash, and an ear of corn. We hope to add to it this week. (Miss Lasseter).

All honor roll pupils for the first six weeks were given a large gold star to put on their desks. There are ten now. Some of the other pupils are trying very hard to get one. There were 18 perfect scores in spelling last week. This week we shall give the names of those making perfect scores. Mrs. J. R. Wood visited us Tuesday. We were very glad to have three other mothers visit our room Friday. Our visitors were Mesdames J. C. LaGrone, J. E. Turner, and J. T. Harms. The next time we have visitors we can sing our new song we are learning in music—"How Do I Do?" (Mrs. Vann).

In the physical education classes fundamentals of football are being stressed more than playing. This week work was done on place kicking of goals and for kick offs along with punting and passing. Also tackling and blocking, and running and charging the ball. (Mr. Burnett).

The following pupils of L3-2

made the honor roll in spelling for this week: Mary Joyce Butts, Della Fae Duncan, Charles Gist, Jimmie Hauger, David McNeill, and James Rogers. (Miss Jackson).

Friday L7-2 and L6-1 played for first place in the elimination of our tenquote tournament, but the score was tied at the end of our time and they plan to play off the tie today (Monday) at the noon hour. ## United Gas Pipe Line Company To Protect Employees

Employees of United Gas Pipe Line company and associated companies who enter the military service of the United States either by enlistment or selection under the National Guard and Selective Training and Service Acts of 1940, will receive three months pay, a year's leave of absence and other benefits, according to an announcement today by company officials.

Various other provisions which will protect employees' continuity of service, group insurance benefits and other rights are embodied in the general statement of company policy. During the first three months that employees are in military service they will be paid their regular salaries, less the amount of their government pay.

The group insurance of each employee will be maintained in force by the companies during the entire period the employee is in military service and the companies will pay the employees' share of the premium after the first 90 days of service.

All regular employees of the companies are eligible for these benefits and at the conclusion of their service with the United States armed forces they will have an additional period of 40 days in which to apply for re-employment. Any employee so applying during the 40-day period will be re-employed at the same rate of pay he was receiving when he was inducted into military service and will be restored to his former position or to a relatively similar position, provided he is still qualified to perform the duties required.

Beard Singed

Way down in old Alabama, where game is plentiful and tall stories are numerous, it is said by the hunting companions of T. J. Lavender of Grove Hill, Ala., that he went out one morning after turkeys and becoming chilled, built a fire. This was during the spring open season when hunters are allowed to take wild turkeys in Alabama from March 20 to April 15.

The warm fire caused Lavender to doze. He was awakened by a wild comotion and found a big wild turkey flapping smoke and ashes in his face. Why the old gobbler was moved to such drastic actions, our informer failed to state.

Three days later, Wes Hicks, a member of the hunting party when this episode happened, went to the same vicinity and killed a twenty-pound gobbler with half his beard singed off.

Hicks sent the beard to Laverder, who mounted it we hear to prove his story to future generations. Strange things can happen in the outdoors, yes sir—and strangely, they don't happen often.

A Dessert Treat for Family or Guests With Mandarin Oranges

BEAUTIFUL and delicious — in one easy baking! How frequently do you find that combination in your day to day cooking? Not often. So, a real adventure awaits you when you make this upside-down cake with its colorful topping of perfect-shaped mandarin sections dotted with rich brown dates.

Everyone will greet this culinary triumph with praise. The subtle tangerine flavor of the mandarin oranges, baked with dates, brown sugar, butter and cake, makes a long remembered dessert.

This type of cake is easy to make, too, for everything is baked at one time! What's more, this decoration is one of the simplest to arrange you can imagine. For the canned mandarin sections are peeled, free of membranes and seeds — ready to use!

This fruity cake may be served warm or cold. As a gentle hint serve the first one warm, topped with whip cream and a few mandarin orange segments. Or make a name for yourself with the gentlemen and serve each piece with a scoopful of vanilla ice cream!

Mandarin Orange Upside-Down Cake

2 11-ounce cans mandarin oranges	1 cup sugar
Few dates	2 eggs
1 1/2 cups brown sugar	1 teaspoon orange flavoring
1/2 cup butter or margarine	2 cups cake flour
Batter	2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup shortening	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk	3/4 cup milk

Drain mandarin orange sections. Arrange sections in bottom of any heavy round pan about 8 1/2" diameter, 3" deep, overlapping sections in circles. Here and there put a date. Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine. Add brown sugar and stir until well blended. Spread evenly over mandarin orange sections.

Batter: Cream shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add orange flavoring. Sift cake flour, baking powder and salt together. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Beat until smooth. Pour over fruit and sugar mixture. Bake in moderate oven 250° F. about 1 hour, 10 minutes. Remove from pan immediately after baking.

Christian Science Services

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Oct. 27.

The Golden Text is: "Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not" (Galatians 6:9.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead" (1 Peter 1:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritual development germinates not from seed down in the soil of natural hopes, but when these decay, Love propagates anew the higher joys of Spirit, which have no taint of earth (page 66).

Work Advances On Hi-School Stadium Project

Bleachers on the west side of the Burkburnett high school stadium were torn down this week and moved to the east side preparatory to construction of new seats and to insure sufficient seating capacity for the crowd anticipated for the Burkburnett-Vernon game here Friday night.

Supt. C. J. Duncan states that exactly the same number of seats will be available Friday night as in the past, but the temporary arrangement puts four sections of seats on the east side. Of these sections, the two on the south will be reserved for Vernon fans; the two on the north for Burkburnett people.

Those who purchased reserved seats at the beginning of the season or have boxes will sit in the north section on the west side.

Construction on the stadium has been held to ground work until the last of the home games this season. However, definite progress is being shown in the laying of the foundation for dressing rooms, the setting of six-inch iron supports and preparations for an all-metal supporting structure for the wooden seats.

The new bleachers will have eleven rows of seats and the seats themselves will be twenty-four inches wide.

Mr. Duncan stated that no taxes will be required to pay the school's portion of the project. Arrangements have been made to pay the school's part of the expense out of athletic receipts extending over a period of five years.

The whole project is under the supervision of WPA engineer C. C. Kelley and employs twenty men.

County Pioneer Died Wednesday

FUNERAL FOR ED FOSTER TODAY

Ed Foster, 72, one of Wichita county's most prominent stock farmers, wealthy landowner and resident of the county for more than 53 years, died in a Wichita Falls hospital Wednesday morning at 11:05 o'clock.

Foster, who had been listed by the Texas Historical Society in its centennial publication as one of the state's most outstanding farmers and ranchmen, had been ill for several months. He had been in the hospital in Wichita Falls for nine weeks.

Ran Model Ranch
Since 1921 Foster had resided on the Foster ranch southwest of the Clara community. The ranch constituting about 8,000 acres, is widely known as a model stock farm. The area also includes many oil wells.

Funeral services were held from the First Methodist church of Electra this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock with Rev. J. L. Huffstetter, pastor, assisted by Rev. C. C. Davis of Iowa Park, officiating.

Burial was in the Electra cemetery under the direction of Owens & Brunley Funeral home of Wichita Falls. Pallbearers were N. M. Clifford, Moval Fowler, Carter McGregor, Frank Baldwin, R. P. Willis, Ben Shultz, Wid Phillips and Will George.

Honorary pallbearers included a long list of friends whom Foster met during his half a century in this area. It was said of him Wednesday, "Everyone who met him was his friend."

Arrived 1887
Born in Georgia in 1870, Foster came to Wichita Falls in 1887. He worked on farms and ranches near Wichita Falls and Henrietta for several years, moving from Wichita Falls to the Charlie community in 1896. He married Miss Sefie Waller.

In 1907 Foster purchased part of the Specht ranch north of Clara and additional land southwest of Clara. The Fosters moved to the present place in 1921.

Progressive in his farming methods, Foster was considered one of the outstanding Hereford breeders in Texas. His farm also contains some of the best wheat land in this area.

Ardent Mason
Foster was an ardent member of the Masonic lodge and a charter member of the Burkburnett lodge, assisted by Wichita Falls, Electra and Iowa Park Masons, will perform ceremonies at the burial.

The entire family with the exception on a daughter, Josephine, who is attending school in Boston, was at the bedside at the time of Foster's death.

Miss Foster left Boston by airplane Wednesday afternoon and reached Wichita Falls Thursday morning.

Survivors include the widow; three sons, Waller, Edward, Jr., Frank, and five daughters, Mary Ruth, Salina, Josephine and Sefie all residents of the ranch in north Wichita county; a brother, N. W. Foster, of Alabama, two grandsons and one granddaughter.

Neal Allen Moves To New Location

County Endeavor Meeting Here Monday Evening

The young people of the Central Christian church were hosts to the Wichita county Christian Endeavor Union on Monday evening. Attendance was so great that permission was asked for use of the basement of the First Methodist church for the meeting and that permission was graciously granted.

One hundred and one delegates registered and many came in late who did not register. Young people of the First Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls presented the program which consisted of devotional reading, special music and two splendid talks. After the program the meeting was turned over to the social committee.

A trophy is awarded each month to the largest delegation present and the trophy Monday evening went to North Side Christian church of Wichita Falls for a total of thirty representatives present. This is the second, consecutive win for the Wichita Falls church. They had the largest representation at the Iowa Park meeting last month.

The Northside church is working in a pastoral unit with the Burkburnett Central Christian church. The Rev. Pearce J. Burns is pastor of both churches. He preaches here Sunday mornings and at the Wichita Falls church every Sunday evening.

Clara Church Plans Annual Mission Day

Clara Lutheran church will observe its annual Mission Day next Sunday with three special services, according to the Rev. Paul Kaiser, pastor. Guest speakers will conduct the services and large gatherings are anticipated.

Morning service begins at 10:30 o'clock with the Rev. C. A. Gaertner of Plainview delivering the sermon. At the afternoon service, beginning at 3 o'clock, the Rev. J. A. Birnham of Vernon will bring the message. Another service will be held in the evening at 7:30 and the Rev. Gaertner will again occupy the pulpit. Special music will be presented by the choir and the girls' choral club.

Annual Mission Day is a banner day in the calendar of the Clara church. Many visitors from congregations in this area usually attend the services. St. Paul's church of Wichita Falls will not hold services on that day to enable the members to attend the festival services at Clara.

Clara Lutheran church extends a cordial invitation to her many friends to attend these inspirational services and enjoy the fellowship of this annual gathering.
