The Lotus-Eaters Of 1940

(Reprinted from the Louisville Courier-Journal)

America has had time to recover from her descent into the opium dens of politics. But she seems to have caught the drug habit; she shrinks from returning to the cold ugliness of life.

It was fun to turn our backs on the world blizzard, to behave for a time as if nothing mattered but the fairy-tale wickedness of Roosevelt or of Wilkie. But during our days of indulgence the blizzard grew more severe, and now it is not fun to face again into that freezing wind. Like the lotus-eaters of old we weakly cry:

"Let us alone. Time driveth onward fast,
And in a little while our lips are dumb.
Let us alone. What is it that will last?
All things are taken from us, and become
Portions and parcels of the dreadful past.
Let us alone. What pleasure can we have
To war with evil? Is there any peace
In ever climbing up the climbing wave?
All things have rest, and ripen toward the grave
In silence—ripen, fall, and cease:
Give us long rest or death, dark death, or dreamful ease."

There is no rest for anyone who faces reality today, no peace, no abiding pleasure. Those who cry for peace when peace is impossible are modern lotus-eaters, the peacemongers who may yet succeed in drenching our land in blood. There is no reason why war need come to these shores; but the peacemongers are doing their best to bring it here, the silly lotus-eaters who dream that all is well because our last allies have not yet bled to death.

Fate gave us the chance to protect America thousands of miles away, on the cold North Sea and in the mist above the British Isles. Fate offered us as allies a noble people. But our peace-mongers ask only for "long rest or death, dark death or dreamful ease." In the world of Adolf Hitler "dreamful ease" cannot be had for the asking. "Dark death" is the one drink for the lotus-eaters of 1940; it is the potion they are preparing for their betrayed country.

This is all the more discouraging because the Winged Victory herself is wooing us today, offering her favors cheap but for the last time. If we reject these advances we shall not see her face again until we, too, have known the toil and tears and sweat of Churchill's England. Freedom and peace can be had today at the cost of a little courage, a little breadth of mind and spirit. Tomorrow the cost may be years of total effort on two oceans and across the two Americas. Tomorrow the cost may be so great that we of little faith refuse to pay it, preferring retreat and frustration to such prolonged pain.

Today we need only admit a total emergency, and uncompromising intention to see the war won, and the game is ours. Tomorrow it may be forever too late to win the easy way, or to win at all.

The bravest men alive are on our side today, prepared to do almost all the fighting and take almost all the loss. By summer they may have gone, as France is gone, leaving us alone in a contemptuous world. Our caution will have landed us in the old dilemma: either defeat, or victory at the cost of rivers of blood. It is our peacemongers who are driving us to that awful choice.

All winter the resources of the continent of Europe will be used, 24 hours every day, to prepare the machinery for the murder of England. The enemy is relentless, untiring, filled with a vicious zeal. He owns Europe and most of Africa, and his friends have the upper hand in Asia. What he began in the spring of '40, he intends to finish in the spring of '41. We alone can surely stop him; but we cannot be certain of success unless we go "all out" at once.

The American people decided long ago that they would like Britain to win. That decision, with the small results that have followed it, is not enough. We must now decide that we insist on a British victory, come what may. If we reach that pitch of determination today, Hitler's game is ended. If we reach it in two or three months we may be too late.

But what can we do, say the lotus-eaters, that we are not already doing. Haven't we appropriated a lot of money? Haven't we traded 50 destroyers to the British? Those who are not yet weakened with "the yellow lotus-dust" not yet ripe for peacemongering, know there is much we can do.

First, we can repeal the Neutrality Act, a law that looks more sickly with every day's experience. It has become a disgrace, an admission that we do not mean business in opposing Hitler.

Second, we can repeal the Johnson Act, a law that was passed on the lying assumption that we got into the last war to recover our debts, and which is preserved on the outrageous hope that only love of cash could move us to strong action today.

With those laws out of the way our chances to help Britain would be increased many fold. We could begin giving (not selling) the goods with which Britishers are helping

Burkburnett . . . History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 years ago.

The continued rainfall, which has soaked the vicinity, has not dampened the spirits of the fighting All-Stars or the vicious Bulldogs who are scheduled for combat in the "Battle of a Century" on the Burkburnett high school gridiron this afternoon at 2:30. The proceeds will go to charity.

Hugh Cole Preston, Jr., is in the Wichita General hospital suffering from a broken leg. He is the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Preston.

The Current Literature club is sponsoring "The Dixie Blackbird Minstrels" to be presented Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Old Palace theatre.

Tuesday at the city hall the following citizens, Mayor J. C. Adams, J. M. Alexander, H. B. Smith, Bob Tevis, Judd Exley, Dave McNeill, John Bostic and Pat Morrison met and organized the United Charities of Burkburnett.

During a weekly meeting of the Tidal Western employes this week, sixty tickets to the Charity football game were sold. Each man bought at least one ticket.

Wichita county residents will receive their allotment of Christmas seals this week, as the Wichita County Tuberculosis association sends out the first section of 2,500,000 seals purchased for the third annual sale in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brookman announce the arrival of a son, Jerry, on Thanksgiving day. Another son, Donald Wayne was born on July 4th, 1928. Mr. Brookman is a printer at the Burkburnett Star.

Little Miss Emma Tow Yearly celebrated her seventh birthday Saturday afternoon, November 22, by entertaining sixty-four of her little friends at her home on 612 East College street.

Sam Cox has purchased the residence of Mrs. Audie Clower on East Main street. He and his wife who was formerly Miss Winnie Jean Waldroup, have moved to their new home.

Mrs. J. H. Bentley, who has been quite ill, is reported to be improving.

Miss Mildred Pilkenton, a student at Oklahoma University, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pilkenton.

Zeke Says . . .

By Nugent Ezekiel Brown

A traveler informed a Pullman agent that he wanted a Pullman berth. "Upper or lower," asked the agent. "What's the difference?" he asked. "A difference of fifty cents," replied the agent. "The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is paid for the lower. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. In other words, the higher the lower, most people don't like the upper, although it is lower on account of it being higher. When you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed and get down to get up. You can have the lower if you pay higher. The upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. If you are willing to go higher, it will be lower."—"But the poor man had fainted!"

Texans Approve Him

U. S. Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma is not a Texan but he has been making much talk of the kind Texans approve in several Texas cities recently. The Sooner solon leaves the impression, wherever he goes, that he is, first of all, strong for preparedness. So impressed were a group of Gladewater citizens with his talk that they followed him to Fort Worth last week to hear him again and to make a recording of his appeal for an adequate Navy and an invincible Army, the said recording to be used at future political rallies. Senator Josh Lee is a strong booster for the Red River Dam project at Denison.

Says Boak Carter

Columnist Boak Carter says in his copyrighted column that the William Allen White Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies has dropped its mask. It is virtually advocating immediate United States entry into the war, says a columnist, who adds "the committee appeared in its true colors immediately after the Presidential election." Before the election, the committee had merely emphasized aid to Britain would give the United States time to build strong defenses. Ten days later, Carter says, the same influences behind the Committee were urging the United States to go to war immediately in Europe and the Far East. Twenty-two million Americans voted for Willkie because they felt America's chances of remaining at peace under his leadership were brighter. Twenty-six million more voted for Roosevelt because he promised to preserve this nation's peace position. The question uppermost today in America is whether or not this nation is heading into the War by next spring. Most certainly the great majority of the American people don't want it. While the Southwest has contributed more volunteers, proportionately, than any other section of America, yet we do not believe the majority of the people in this part of the United States want war now. Judging by the "farewells" being given draftees at Dallas and other large cities, it would look as though we are getting into the big fight next spring.

A Great Monument To Peacetime Pursuits

While billions are being spent to plunge all civilized nations into war, it is refreshing to pick up a magazine like Collier's and read the story about the great musical organization at Southern Methodist University, in Dallas. This great school, whose football team played in the California Rose Bowl a couple of seasons back, is now celebrating its 25th anniversary. Just a short 25 years ago, this great denominational school got off to a start! This is an institution that gets not a dime from the taxpayers pockets for its support. The present president of S.M.U., Dr. Humphrey Lee, was a student on the campus that first year, 1915. He has been head of the university just a year now but is planning great things for the future. During the past summer, a native son of Texas, Dr. Harmon Lowman, was made executive secretary of S.M.U. While President Lee is not a native son, yet he received his high school training in West Texas and his undergraduate work was done at Trinity University. The new executive secretary, an overseas World War veteran, was a member of the United Nations conference, which succeeded in joining the Northern branch of the Methodist church with the Southern branch three years ago. Both President Lee and Dr. Lowman are in their middle forties. They will strengthen to save our world. We could begin using American ships to take to the British Isles the machines without which the war must go against us in the spring.

Third, we could use American warships to convoy boats across the full extent of our declared "neutrality zone." Or we could convoy all the way to British ports.

Fourth, we can make easy the enlistment, in the armies of the British Empire, of large numbers of American aviators and mechanics. Twenty thousand such volunteers, in Britain or the Near East by next spring, might turn the tide of war and save our world from years of agony.

Fifth, we can promote some form of understanding among the English-speaking peoples, all alliance or a union looking toward a peace of justice in which all free-men can share equally. We shall not conquer the Satanic daring of Hitler until we lift our imaginations to an equivalent daring in the service of Man.

All these are actions that can still be described as "short of war," if we insist on clinging to that ambiguous unworthy phrase. Most of us know that war, in the modern Hitlerian sense, is being waged against America, and that America must fight back or be ruined. Whom are we afraid of, that we dare not say these things out loud, unambiguously, and at once? Instead of the soft song of the appeasing lotus-eaters, America needs a voice like John Milton's to cry unceasingly:

"Awake, arise, or be forever fallen."

With 34 states of the nation already having passed anti-loan shark laws, the Texas legislature, meeting in January, again will wrestle with the problem that faces Texas today. Fifteen hundred leading business and professional men of Texas have become members of a state-wide committee that is combatting the loan shark evil of Texas which is now a 40 million dollar profit steal from small salaried people of the state. — The girls have been worrying their pretty heads because they were not allowed to register for the selective service draft. According to announcement this week, Texas alone will be asked to furnish 450 Red Cross nurses to complete a national quota of 4,000 for active service with the military forces. Oklahoma and Louisiana will be asked to furnish a proportionate number. Fifteen hundred volunteers are being asked to enlist in the first reserve nursing corps, says Mrs. Jessie L. Compton of Dallas. — The boxing profession in Texas has "got to clean up and weed out its undesirable practices," says Texas Deputy Labor Commissioner Travis McCall, the "boxing czar" of the southwest. "I love the sport," he says, "and, unless the customers—the guys who pay the freight—get a square deal, the game will take a dive." McCall is a former boxing promoter, well-known in the southwest. — With one railroad commissioner already in service, another, Jerry Sadler, received a questionnaire last week. He is married but has no children. — Governor O'Daniel is expected to again submit his so-called transactions tax in January to the new Texas legislature, which means another "hot" season at Austin for four of five months.

"God, the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Dec. 8.

The Golden Text is: "Every house is builded by man; but he that build all things is God" (Hebrews v.4.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before him" (Ecclesiastes 3:14.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The three great verities of Spirit, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience.—Spirit filling all power, filling all constituting all Science—dict forever the belief that can be actual. These verities reveal primeness as the radiant rest God's creation, in which he has made is pronoun His wisdom good" (page 186.)

THE QUESTION BOX

O. D. DIAL, Minister
 "Is it not advantageous to have several denominations with different doctrines, so that each person can find one that pleases him?" This question comes from "D.W."
 The above question has come to me many times. This time it comes from one who honestly believes it is best. Many good people will be of the opinion that I should answer it in the affirmative. But to my mind we should not answer this or any other question from the viewpoint of honesty and sincerity alone. Nor should we consider the "convenience or pleasure" of ourselves as an evidence of the right or wrong of any matter. It is not a question of what I believe, like, or dislike, that matters. It can be answered only by "what the Bible says."
 I am not going to attempt to answer this question in full. I am not going to comment on the Scriptural quotations. I am not going to give my opinion. I am simply going to give you a number of passages of Scripture and urge you to turn and read them for yourself. This is a controversial question, though not debatable, for all that the Bible says about it, is on "one side" of the question.
 Please read carefully each of the following Scriptures: Jno. 17: 20-23; Rom. 12:3-5; I Cor. 1:10-13; I Cor. 3:1-4; Gal. 1:6-16; II Thes. 2:5-12; II Thes. 3:6; II Jno. 9-11; Eph. 4:1-25.
 Now friends, these Scriptures need no interpreting. They will interpret themselves if you will only read them slowly and prayerfully, and accept them for what they say. Please turn to each passage, and remember, you are reading from your own Bible, and that it is the Word of God.
 Does it not seem that it is a reflection on the Divine Wisdom and intelligence of God, to think that we can improve on His plan? The Church of Christ is pleading for these principles of God's Word. Come and worship with us.
 Ray Allen Peevey will bring us a solo in the Vesper service.
 —Atwood A. Hyde, pastor.

Denton, Dec. 4.—Recently initiated with colorful ceremonies into the North Texas State Teachers College Mavericks club was Billie Jo Shrum of Burkburnett, freshman student in the Denton Teachers college.

The Maverick club, made up of NTSTC students from West Texas, initiated 22 new members with formal candlelight ceremonies, preceded by informal football games, boxing matches, and mock marital proposals by the initiates.

Methodist Announcements

A schedule of services during the absence of the pastor, who is attending a conference in Nashville, Tenn., has been arranged as follows:

R. H. Henry in charge of prayer meeting December 4.

Rev. W. W. Pittman of Wichita Falls to preach at the 11 o'clock morning services Sunday and Rev. A. A. Hyde, pastor of the Burkburnett Presbyterian church to preach at the evening services which begin at 7:15.

M. C. Tucker will lead the prayer meeting on Dec. 11.

A Young Adult class is being sponsored by the Board of Christian Education of the First Methodist church and will meet in a special room each Sunday morning. This class comes under the "Wesley Fellowship Division" of adult work and it is expected that an elective course of general interest will be studied.

Mrs. Boyd I. DeVore, who has been made District Director of Children's Work for the Wichita Falls district, attended the luncheon and meeting of the Children's Workers of the First Methodist church in Wichita Falls Thursday.

Many comments have been made regarding the fresh appearance and increased light in the auditorium of the First Methodist church. A number of men who are members have worked during evening the past two weeks on general improvements about the church.

Homebuilders Had Annual Xmas Party

The home of Mrs. M. L. Urban on East Main formed a lovely setting Wednesday afternoon for the annual Christmas party of the Homebuilders class of the First Methodist church.

Christmas decorations and a large Christmas tree loaded with gifts lent atmosphere to the occasion. A gift exchange followed the short business meeting which was conducted by Mrs. B. M. Cropper, president.

The meeting opened with song led by Mrs. Boyd I. DeVore and the devotional from the 2nd chapter of Luke by Mrs. H. C. Gilbert.

Plans were made for a bake sale and bazaar to be held Saturday at the Burkburnett Tailors.

The next meeting will be held on January 1st at the home of Mrs. D. A. Westbrooks. Mrs. A. J. Key will serve as joint hostess.

Favors on the lovely refreshment plates reflected the Christmas motif.

Visitors present were Mrs. Paul C. Reed and Mrs. Ernie Gosnell of Wichita Falls, both former members of the class, Mrs. Boyd I. DeVore and Mrs. W. M. Majors.

Members present were Mesdames H. C. Gilbert, W. A. Browning, M. C. Tucker, D. A. Westbrooks, C. J. Moreman, Scott Morris, A. J. Key, E. P. Holliday, Pearl Ouzts, R. S. Ragsdale, L. F. Jones, W. T. Vance, A. Lohofener, F. R. Knauth, B. M. Cropper, G. D. Stacy, W. H. Lewis, M. H. Rhodes, R. A. Simpson and the hostess.

Shower Tuesday For Mrs. Tex Allen

Mrs. Tex Allen, a recent bride, was named honoree at a lovely shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Glen Bear.

Guests were met at the door by little Jon Hi Bear and Mrs. B. M. Cropper and guided to the register which was presided over by Mrs. Lev Hudspeth and Mrs. Don Chesnutt.

Miss Elmer McClarty played piano music throughout the evening and accompanied vocal selections by the Hardin School octet directed by Miss Ethyle Virginia Allen.

Miss Lela Mae Pinkston and Mrs. Hugh Preston gave readings. The program was introduced by Mrs. B. M. Cropper.

The evening was climaxed by a 'Treasure Hunt' by the honoree introduced with a reading by Jon Hi Bear, and which ended in her finding a lovely assortment of gifts which were opened and displayed.

Refreshment plates were served to forty guests.

Members of the hostess group included Mesdames B. M. Cropper, George McClarty, Marian Blackburn, S. I. Hill, Morris Bookbinder, J. C. Adams, Lev Hudspeth, Don Chesnutt, Hubert Gragg, Chas. Kirsh, and Glen Bear.

WMS Had All Day Mission Study

The WMS of the First Baptist church met in all day session at the church Monday for a regular monthly program on missions.

Program leader was Mrs. Burl Simpkins. She presented Mrs. Sam Davis, who brought the devotional; Mrs. Hattie Buchanan who led in prayer; and Mesdames C. C. Kelley, F. M. McMurtry, George Kent, Mowery, Edd Lewallen, Jack Manning, who spoke on the following subjects:

"Christmas and the East," "Difficulties in China," "Steadfast for Christ in China," "Difficulties in Japan," "Steadfast for Christ in Japan," "The Star Again in the East." The morning meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. A. H. Lohofener. A covered dish luncheon was served and the afternoon was devoted to business.

How To Be Hostess, Cook And Waitress, Too

By Katharine Fisher

Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

No one finds it easy to play the gracious hostess when she must double in the roles of cook and waitress, too. But it can be done with great finesse by planning meal-getting in ways which cut down on trips to the kitchen, on dishes, table space, and time.

SAVING ON DISHES. Arrange vegetables on one platter or chop plate, as, for example, buttered peas in center and broiled tomatoes around them. Use a compartment vegetable serving dish for two vegetables. Arrange the main course on hot individual plates in the kitchen.

Let your individual salad plates do double duty as bread-and-butter plates. Serve an all-in-one casserole main dish, which combines meat, fish, or cheese with vegetables. Make frequent use of main dishes and desserts that can be cooked and served in the same dish, as casserole main dishes, scrambled eggs in the skillet, bread puddings, custards, etc.

KATHARINE FISHER Director of Good Housekeeping Institute

SAVING STEPS. Use a tray or tea wagon for setting and clearing the table, etc. Keep extra bread, the butter, water, silver and dishes for later courses on a small table or tea wagon conveniently near your end of table. If your table on wheels or tea wagon has a lower shelf, put the dessert plates and dessert, if a cold one, on it. When ready to serve dessert, put used plates of main course on this shelf. Serve salad and dessert courses from a serving dish at the table, rather than bringing individual servings from the kitchen. Let the boys and girls help Mother by waiting on table. If tea or coffee is to be served at table, at start of meal put tray holding cups and saucers, creamer and sugar on side table.

SAVING TIME. Plan menus of fewer courses that are easy to serve. Choose dishes that can be cooked early in the day or the day before, and kept in the refrigerator until mealtime. Serve a first course of fruit or vegetable juice in the living room. Then you can slip out and put the main course on the table. Serve the first course of fruit or vegetable juice with the main course. Place this glass just to the right of the water glass. Serve course-in-one main dishes, such as casseroles, hearty salad bowls, or hearty soups. Use plate dollies that are easy to wash or wipe off. Use a tray or tea wagon in setting and clearing the table.

SAVING TABLE SPACE. Arrange the food on a buffet or side table, so that everyone can help himself and carry his own plate to the set dining table. Use, as the table centerpiece, a bowl of salad, crisp fruit, or an attractive dessert that does not need to be kept hot or cold. Arrange the main course on hot individual plates in the kitchen. If the meat is sliced or in individual portions, arrange one or more vegetables in center of it or around it on a platter. Place to right of host a small side table, tea wagon, or small table on wheels from which vegetables can be served. A similar table at hostess' right can be used for extra dishes, waffles, toasting bread, serving dessert, salad, coffee, etc.

WCS Plans Annual Charities

In the last meeting of this year held at the Methodist church Monday afternoon members of the WCS planned their annual drive for foodstuffs for Christmas baskets for the poor, and announced that old clothing, rags and shoes will be sent to Mexican Missions. Anyone who has clothing of any sort which can be disposed of is asked to take it to Majors' Variety store and give it to Mrs. J. D. Majors.

The Mission Study book, "Shifting Populations," was completed. The devotional was brought by Mrs. M. W. Majors, who chose for her subject, "The Good Samaritan."

Mrs. O. E. Melton, president, and Mrs. Bertha Cropper, vice president, spoke on the last chapter of the Mission Study book which was entitled "How Can the Church and Missionaries Best Render Service to these Shifting Peoples?"

Those present were Mesdames S. S. Reger, W. A. Browning, F. R. Knauth, Scott Morris, J. L. Caffee, W. M. Carter, G. W. Stripling, R. M. Gilchrist, George Kerr, M. C. Tucker, F. L. Pilken-ton, B. I. DeVore, W. W. Arrington, R. L. Gragg, M. W. Majors, O. E. Melton, B. M. Cropper, J. H. Rigby, H. W. Prinzing.

TREE LEAF CURL

By J. S. GORE

Most of the leaves have fallen, but you all noticed the numerous colors which blended together in real beauty, but no doubt very few of you even thought, that some disease caused each leaf to change its color before the frost had killed it. In school when a boy I was taught that was nature's way of showing the approach of Autumn.

Leaf curl disease is caused by fungus which enters the leaves early in the spring and later causes a yellowish or reddish swollen appearance of the foliage.

The leaves fall prematurely, which weakens the vitality of the trees, so they may not bear a satisfactory crop of fruit. The peach is very often damaged by leaf curl, when well loaded with fruit, so that very little fruit is to be found on the same trees the following year.

Cold, wet spring weather, while leaf buds are opening is very favorable for leaf curl infections. The leaf curl can generally be controlled by spraying with Lime-Sulphur (1-8) used as spray in spring before leaf buds begin to swell, which will be of much benefit to the fruit and help to control San Jose Scale and other diseases, to be mentioned later. The great fruit belts spray about five times or more annually, so we certainly should be willing to use one or more sprays in spring. Your county agent or agricultural teacher in high school can be of assistance to you with your nursery problems, also.

VERSATILE PLASTICS CAN BE MADE TO SING, PLAY, OR MAKE SPEECH

The "Vinylite" pressed record, still warm and slightly flexible, is lifted from the mold. The recorded lines are now all in place.

ONCE there was a scientist who went so deeply into his experiments in physics that he reported he heard atoms singing. But did you ever hear a plastic? It's perfectly possible. In fact, you hear them every day, and by what you consider a most ordinary device.

For plastics which can be heard rather than seen are an essential part of the radio programs you hear all day long. Recorded programs, many serials, all rebroadcasts, and most "spot" commercial announcements come over the air from transcription records commonly made of plastic materials. The best programs are now recorded on "Vinylite" plastic. This plastic is made from intricate chemical combinations of simple materials—gas, coke, limestone, salt, air and water.

proper ingredients, turned into a tough, dough-like mass that heat—essential in plastic making—can be made into many forms.

For broadcast records, "dough" is thoroughly mixed, kneaded and calendared fairly thin, partially translucent. Small pieces of this mass, six inches square and about a quarter of an inch thick, are reheated to pliable consistency used in a press to stamp or imprint the recorded sound from a troplated disc.

With accurate heating, cooling, and tremendous pressure, vinyl resin "biscuits" take perfect reproduction of recorded dramatic programs, speeches, effects or radio station commercial broadcast studies for all transcription records. Their chief advantage is that the plastic material high fidelity records, free from surface scratch and other mechanical sounds. In addition, these records are tough, practically unbreakable, non-warping and long-lasting.

The chemist, by imagination and experimentation, has made from these natural substances, plastic materials for many varied uses. Under certain conditions, these materials have been made to react chemically to form white vinyl resin powders, which, when mixed with

"Hear! Now! The story no woman could ever tell! The story the world must know by Head Nurse Bowers: 'I am head nurse in a maternity ward. I have seen all kinds of women come to meet their rendezvous with life. A murderer who would never see her baby again—hard women who hate their babies before they are born—young wives, frightened in the face of being a mother—housewives, chorus girls, heiresses. But once the maternity doors swing closed behind them, they are all women facing life's greatest experience! I have wanted to tell the startling drama my eyes could never forget. I think that all the world should know the stories of these brave women, facing the moment of their greatest adventure! O'Daniels Proclaims Sunday, December 8, As Texas Bible Day

Austin, Dec. 3.—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel has proclaimed Sunday, Dec. 8, being widely observed throughout the United States as Universal Bible Sunday, as Texas Bible Sunday.

Since the Bible is the one international book, having been translated in its entirety into 183 different languages and some part of it into total of over 1,000 tongues, the American Bible Society has chosen for the theme for Universal Bible Sunday this year, the timely and appropriate phrase from the Bible, "For the Healing of the Nations." Tens of thousands of pastors will observe the occasion in their pulpits and parishes, calling particular attention to the grave responsibility which lies at our nation's door to see that this book, upon which America was founded, is kept in circulation among the distressed nations in these days of war.

In addition to the celebration in the churches there will be hundreds of broadcasts throughout the nation. The Columbia Broadcasting Company's popular Sunday morning program, "Wings Over Jordan," will present Dr. V. C. Hodges, Secretary of the Cleveland Division of the American Bible Society's Colored Agency. At 9:15 a. m., EST, the Columbia Network will also carry the voice of Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania.

The American Bible Society, which the coming year will celebrate its 125th anniversary, has sponsored Universal Bible Sunday for many years. The response this year, with the world so desperately needing a guiding light, is overwhelming. For a day at least—December 8th—the nation will be Bible conscious as it has not for many years.

In urging the observance of Texas Bible Sunday Governor O'Daniel says:

Whereas, Western Civilization is founded upon the Bible; our ideas, our wisdom, our philosophy, our literature, our art, our ideals come from the Bible more than from all other books put together; and

Whereas, the American Bible Society has decided to adopt as its theme for Universal Bible Sunday, "For the Healing of the Nations," and

Whereas, they have decided to dedicate Sunday, December 8,

1940, as Universal Bible Day

Whereas, it is the hope of many people that the evil which exist in our world could be eliminated, and peace and prosperity enjoyed all, if everybody would and follow the teachings of the Bible,

Hardin Grade School News

Following pupils have been tardy or absent: Bobby Morris, Naomi England, Johnnie Ouzts, Lorraine Maxine Gibson, and Maxine Gibson.

We have a contest on "good citizenship" and "Reds and Blues." The teams are the "Reds and Blues" and the "Whites and Blues." The "Reds" are ahead.

Mickey Thornton from Grandfield became a member of the L5-3 section last Friday. We are happy to welcome her to our class and we hope she shall be happy with us. (Miss Doty).

We welcome to the 6th grade J. T. Berry who comes from Dallas. Kenneth Garrett spent several days in Oklahoma last week. (Miss McGinnis).

We will decorate our room for Christmas this week. We are going to make trees, Christmas bells and colored pictures pertaining to Christmas. Group 1 has a new book. It is the Elson Basic Pre Primer which is a complete story of a little girl and boy named Dick and Jane. Group 2 has enjoyed reading the Tom and Jip Pre Primer. (Mrs. Kimbrow).

L6-1 presented the assembly program in the auditorium last Friday. There were many mothers present. We enjoyed having them here. We gave a play "America the Beautiful." At the close of the program Mr. Davis presented the football award to L7-2. (Miss Gibson).

We are very proud of our new books, "Dick and Jane." We are sorry Ronald Wayne is still sick and hope that he will soon be back. (Miss Parris).

In art class, we have just finished some designs that we call wallpaper patterns. Some of them are very attractive, we think. This week we are going to make some Christmas silhouettes. Marshall Miller spent the week-end in Iowa Park, and Barbara Ray spent the week-end in Archer City. (Miss Isbell).

The Hardin Octet will sing at a shower honoring Mrs. Tex Allen Tuesday night. The following compose the octet: Mamie Browning, Louis Fuks, Alice Millikin, Dorothy Ann Preston, Janice Caffee, Billy Sam Poteet, Jerry Jack Miller and Mary Frances Gamblin. A duet composed of Jerry Miller, and Mamie Browning will sing "I Love You Truly." (Miss Allen).

The L7-2 class was presented the trophy as the winner over the seven teams of Hardin grade school. The trophy will be kept in the home room of the L7-2. It will become the permanent property of the team winning it two consecutive years. It will have "Champions 1940-L7-2" engraved upon it. We closed our football season last Friday and will start our basketball this week. (Mr. Burnett).

Barry Howard has reentered school. We are glad to have him with us again. Mrs. Sam Wood, John's mother, visited with us Thursday and helped finish some costumes for our play. Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Casey, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Wood visited our room Friday afternoon after our program until school was out. Mrs. Hrazdil visited in our room before the program. Row 1 won again in the health crusade. Pupils on Row 1 are Daisy Nolan, Georgia Hrazdil, Jack Garner, Joan Podberger, Paul Watson, Carl Whiteacre, Roy Stonecipher, and Joyce Elaine Teel. A number of pupils are being careless about washing ears, brushing teeth and keeping clean finger nails. We hope that we won't have to put the names in the Pig Pen in the paper. A good citizen is clean. (Miss Smith).

Several of our class went to see Santa Claus upon his arrival in Wichita Falls last week. Now we are counting the days until Christmas. The following pupils had perfect papers in a spelling review lesson Friday: Charles Caffee, Ralph Cecil, B. D. Evans, Billy Gilbow, Bobie Miller, Earl Mills, Harry Smith, Arnold Story, Christine Cassell, Sidney Gamblin, Mary Gresham, Cherry Kolter, Edna Long, and Arnela Muller. We are sorry that Jimmie Hunt will have to be absent several weeks on account of illness. (Miss Lassetter).

Not a pupil in L5-2 made the honor roll for the second six weeks, but this section is really going to work to see if several members cannot get on the list for the coming six weeks. The Junior band is moving right along. Billie Nolan joined last week. She has a very fine saxophone. We are expecting several new mem-

Getting Better Results in Your Vacuum Cleaner

By Katharine Fisher

Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

Are you not satisfied with the job your vacuum cleaner does on your carpets, perhaps you may need a new cleaner. On the other hand you may not be using your cleaner correctly so that it can do its best. The first rule in using your vacuum cleaner is to make sure the motor is adjusted to the thickness of each rug or carpet. This is a must, if you want your cleaner to do its best on rugs and carpets of different thicknesses. Some cleaners have a dial to adjust the nozzle. Find out whether nozzle of your cleaner should be adjusted and how it should be done.

If your cleaner has a motor-driven brush, the second rule is to keep the brush in good working order. Brushes will wear out with use. When worn they should be replaced.

EMPTY DUST BAGS FREQUENTLY. Your vacuum cleaner will also be better able to do its work if you will empty the dust bag each time you use the cleaner. This is a disagreeable task, but if the bag is emptied on damp newspaper it really isn't so bad. Wear your household gloves and shake the dirt down toward the opening. Then hold the bag close to the damp newspaper and shake the dust out gently. And here's a caution note: Don't dump loose dust directly into your furnace or incinerator. Loose dust mixed with air sometimes forms an explosive mixture, which may explode on contact with flame. Disposable paper-bag liners are available in cleaners of some makes. When old, dust may escape from them. When this happens, do not attempt repairing the fabric. Buy a new bag.

USE IS GOOD. How long should a cleaner be run over a rug? This upon the regularity with which rugs are cleaned, the traffic they get, the kind of soil in the rugs, and the kind of rug. The best thing about cleaning rugs and carpets is to get the dirt as a chance to settle far down into the pile, where it is most likely to be eventually do damage. A good rule is to use your vacuum cleaner daily in rooms where traffic is heavy. Twenty minutes spent in cleaning a 9 by 12 rug will probably get the dirt in the rug. So don't be disturbed if a vacuum-cleaner gets dirt out of your rug immediately after it has been cleaned by your cleaner. If your cleaner is a good one, and is working properly, it would get this extra dirt, too, if you emptied the bag and ran over again.

ARM TO RUGS. Forget the bugaboo that a good cleaner will injure rugs or carpets. It is well established that one of the reasons rugs wear out before their time is the dirt that is allowed to accumulate on them. Gritty dirt, ground under the heels, can shorten the life of the best rug. Reduce the dirt accumulation by regular use of your vacuum cleaner, and you will be helping to prolong the life of your rugs.

THE FLOOR CLEANING. Most vacuum-cleaner manufacturers attachments for their cleaners for dusting and cleaning woodwork, draperies, radiators, clothing, and the like. Ask to see attachments demonstrated for you, and be sure you try them. Some may seem more useful to you than others. You may not have the time to use them.

Attachments for above-the-floor cleaning are the small hand-type cleaners that are tested and approved. These are light enough to be carried around with one hand. Hand-type cleaners are particularly useful for cleaning upholstery. Attachments for other above-the-floor jobs come with some cleaners of this type.

Attachments for above-the-floor cleaning is the small-size tank-type cleaner we have approved for this kind of work. However, we have on our approved list any of the tank-type or cylinder cleaners that are sold for rug and carpet cleaning. We have not as yet found a tank-type cleaner that meets our requirements for removing dirt from above-the-floor cleaning. We feel that rug and carpet cleaning is a vacuum-cleaner's important function. There is no other way we know of for keeping her rugs and carpets clean, and lessening the amount of destructive gritty dirt, except by using a cleaner that is designed for this kind of work.

L1-1: Wiley Browning, Jr., Odie Lavon Foster, Carlton Gibson, Charles Volney Hill, James Kelley, Thomas Lee May, Earl Dean Paris, Lester Ray Pribble, Charles Roberts, Kenneth Sanders, Lee Roy Williams, Judy Willingham, James Hicks, Lauretta Ashmon, Wanda Lou Barker, Bennie Sue Boswell, Nathalie Foster, Oma Fae LaGrone who have been sick with colds. (Mrs. Grubbs).

The following students have been neither absent nor tardy during the past six weeks: Betsy Ball, Lola Beckham, Jack Blanscet, Jean Boyd, Mamie Browning, Janice Caffee, Edsel Cassell, Margaret Ferguson, Jarvis Foster, Kenneth Gibson, Ellis Gragg, Bobby Hall, Keith Jones, Mary Kelley, Paul Miller, Alice Millikin, Donald Mills, Dorothy Preston, Billy Sam Poteet, Ila Prinzinger, Joy Rankin, Lynn Schroeder, Billie Stacy, Joyce Tyler and Bobbie Wise. Our class will start the decoration of our room this week; it will be decorated as a cathedral. Most of the decorations will be made in the art classes after we finish making our Christmas cards. We are also going to make Christmas presents for our families and orphan children. For the shut-ins, we intend to make some bright cheerful menu covers or favors. We are sorry that Virginia has been absent for the past few days and we are looking forward to her return. (Miss McSween).

Boys and girls in L4-1 who have been neither absent nor tardy this six weeks are: Billy Askins, Roy Jackson, Jr., Darrell Nichols, Theron Oxley, Buddy Whitney, Carolyn Boyd, Beth Brookshear, Mary Cagle, Beatrice England, Mary Evans, Evelyn Evans, Betty Gobble, Juanita Klinkerman, Gloria Minick, Bobbie McClure, Jessie Preston, Carleta Stamps, and Vivian Suttles. We organized our Citizenship club Friday. Jessie Preston was elected president, Melvin Gragg, vice president, and Beth Brookshear secretary. Several committees, such as the Safety First, Character Study, Thrift, and Good-Manners committees. The Good-Manners committee always tries to be polite, and this helps other to remember. The members of the Character-Study committee will write down every example they see of an unselfish act to report at the next meeting. The Safety-First committee helps the boys and girls to avoid accidents on the playground. Our club meets each Friday. We elect five of our class as "best citizens" every week. We think our club helps us in our school work. Pupils who make our spelling honor roll this week are Leon Allison, James Reece, Kermit Simpkins, Buddy Whitney, Marilyn Loffler, Beth Brookshear, Evelyn Evans, Vivian Suttles, Caverna Clync, Melvin Gragg, Juanita Klinkerman, Carolyn Boyd, Gloria Min-

Hrazdil, Laclata Jennings, Mary Frances Kent, Patsy Miller, Daisy Nan Nolen, Joan Podberger, Wanda Tyler, Claudine Wise and Beverly Wyant.

L3-2: None.

First Baptist Announcements

"The Book for the healing of the Nations", and "The Book that answers every question about life", will be the pastor's subjects this next Sunday, Dec. 8, which is International Bible Sunday.

We are asking that everyone bring his Bible Sunday for each and all of the services, Sunday school, Training union, and for both of the preaching services. Let us be 100% in Bibles brought and used.

The Juniors, Intermediates, Young People, adults, and some from the other departments will help with the services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. with songs, music, scripture quotations, Bible book recitations and sword drills.

One of the things that we need today as much as any other thing is to read and study God's Word for ourselves, and accept its teachings as the only authority for our lives.

Burk Loses Last Game To Coyotes

The Burk Burnett Bulldog lost the last game of this year's conference to the Wichita Falls Coyotes by the score of 30 to 0. The game was a listless affair from beginning to end and was marred by a parade of substitutes.

Among other rough spots of the evening, the game was drawn out a full half hour longer than usual, the Coyotes fluffed five chances to convert extra points, and the substitutes cluttered up the field. Both teams used all the players able to see action.

The most spectacular play was one of the longest forward passes seen in Wichita Falls in recent years. Scrimmaged from Burk Burnett 44-yard line, the pass from Hill to Robert Marshall actually traveled a full 50 yards in the air. This play in the second period set up the second touchdown, made by Hill on a 4-yard plunge.

The opening score came on a lateral-forward pass, Bell to Hill to Arthur, good for 4 yards just as the first period ended.

The Burk Burnett attack that accounted for four first downs and 68 yards rushing was led by Reed, W. P. Boydston and Bill Bowman. Stanley Green, the big all-district tackle, distinguished himself on defense in his final game of the year.

Knowing that they were being scouted, the Coyote staff may have sought deliberately to confuse the Amarillo coaches. At any rate it was a drag showing.

Baldridge Returns From Used Car Meeting In Dallas

Used car buyers of Burk Burnett and vicinity are to be given the benefits of an unprecedented research program which the Chevrolet division of General Motors has been conducting over the past three years, in connection with the reconditioning of dealers' used cars, results of which are being presented to the dealer organization in a series of meetings throughout the United States.

This is the announcement of E. M. Baldridge of the Baldridge Chevrolet Co., who has just returned from a meeting with officials of the Dallas zone, at Dallas, Texas.

The concrete results of the past three years' research were presented to the dealers and their used car reconditioning managers in a session lasting all day. Mr. Baldridge expressed amazement at the thoroughness with which Chevrolet had gone about improving used cars, and said that his dealership would immediately put into effect the whole sweeping program which the factory recommends.

"Much is heard about the constant improvement of automobiles," said Mr. Baldridge. "Each year sees new advances in performance, safety, comfort and all-round value. And now, through its used car department—the first such department in the industry—Chevrolet has taken a step which is bound to have far-reaching beneficial effect upon the value and general desirability of its dealers' used cars."

The job the used car department is doing, to assure better and better used cars, is in a way even more complex than the one the engineers must do to improve each new year's models. For the used car department has to deal with every car and truck built, year by year, and model by model, and work out reconditioning procedure which can be applied throughout the field. And in spite of the numerous problems involved, that is just what has been done.

"Special equipment like that which was shown us at the meeting will be installed in our shops at once, and mechanics are now being trained in its use. From the standpoint of used car buyers in this vicinity, all this will have two important results: first of all, better used cars, because of the better methods and equipment entering into their reconditioning; and second, less expensive used cars, because of the savings which the new scientific reconditioning will enable us to pass along to buyers."

Southern Flowers Used For Perfume

Fragrances of Wild Varieties Lent To Cosmetics.

Southern flowers, especially woodland varieties, are coming into their own in the world of perfume and this new type of perfume is being used in toiletries known as "Old South."

The wild flowers of southern origin are being culled to lend their fragrance to this pungent line of perfumes which are supplemented by other old garden aromas, such as mignonette, dogwood, honeysuckle and jasmine. Old South Toiletries come in two distinct fragrances: One is known as Woodland Spice bouquet; and the other, Plantation Garden Bouquet. Corner Drug store here in Burk Burnett has installed a complete series.

An attractive feature of these delicate toilet waters and scented soaps and powders are their containers. The bottles in which the toilet waters are distributed are copies of old southern decanter jugs and other glassware, carried out not only in design but in the decorative cut. One bottle is a replica of an early American "Violin" or "Scroll" bottle, highly prized by collectors of glass. Another container is a handmade reproduction of an antique Waterford glass decanter jug.

They are graceful and unusual and redolent of the Old South. The boxes for the dusting powder are fashioned out of old ribboned hatbox models, such as seen joggling on stagecoaches in early American scenes. They are covered in paper designed after wallpaper motifs of former days. The bath crystals for instance, are packaged in a miniature version of the famous old flour bin of bygone days, complete with wooden scoop. The cakes of soap are cameo shaped ovals decorated after the carving on the gilt mirror that hung over the mantel in an old plantation mansion.

Packed away in the boxes which contain the delicate articles are photographic copies of a page from an old southern newspaper—the Savannah Daily News of November 12, 1852, recording the election of General Pierce as President of the United States. The page is on a soft tissue paper with proportions generous enough to read the text of the paper.

freshments were served to about twenty guests, the hostesses and their husbands.

Bulldogs Lost But Are 'Tops'

In reading proof on dog Growl' this week felt should be called to attention of everyone in Burk Burnett.

The item was clipped from Corral, Childress high paper. "This happening took weeks ago when the Bulldog Burk Burnett. In the game the Burk Burnett did something else that he was just as proud of. I the praise they received conduct before and at the Hotel and coffee shop proclaiming them the best team that has ever here.

"After the game, it was ed, when the boys were eat, they waited for the Coach Volney Hill. When rived, he called on a team to say grace. This being sat down and enjoyed. Waiting for every boy the team got up, not one but as a body, and boan bus. This sort of conduct indeed, so to Coach Hill boys of Burk Burnett were success be yours always.

When discussing the Coach Hill we were in pressed by his statement we may not be able to body, but we are trying to live right and do right.

"The way I figure it is boys play football just years and then it's over football is not what they ing to do all their lives. ing to be courteous, to men as brothers is some what's what I'm trying over."

There's nothing we ca that. The whole story progress since the beg time is revealed in this count of one man's str a better world for the eration.

Yule Lighting Effects Indoors Can Be Novel

No End of Unique Effects Can Be Created to Give Indoor Christmas Lighting Individuality. All It Takes Is a Little Dreaming and Originality. Above Are Two Suggestions. Each Is More Fully Described Below.

By Jean Prentice

Many folks wrote me last year for recipes on how to create new and "different" Christmas lighting decorations for the living room. Apparently these enterprising women have tired of the conventional tree and the wreath encircling a red bulb at the window.

This year, fortunately, numerous novelties using lights are on the market. But if a shopping tour doesn't quite "ring the bell" for the decorations you have in mind, perhaps the two effects shown above will do. At least, they may give birth to a better idea of your own.

A simple yet effective treatment for the mantel may be made by surrounding the base of a standard candelier with holly or pine. In this instance, instead of ordinary Christmas tree lights, candle-like amber-tinted lamps, referred to as "T-3/4" by dealers, were used. The miniature trees at each end of the mantel consist of two planes cut from heavy white cardboard. The silhouette effect is obtained by burning colored C-7/8 lamps in the manner as shown in the above sketch.

The explosive lighting effect shown in the other display back of the radio was achieved like this. The bowl of pine branches was made to "spill" backward toward the wall. Bright light from clear-glass T-3/4 Christmas lamps, either bunched in the bowl or concealed from view behind the bowl, created the lovely shadow patterns pictured. The shadows may be tinted by adding one or more larger lamps of contrasting color.

Try one or both of these decorative stunts and I'm sure the returns in enjoyment will repay your efforts many times over.
