DO YOU KNOW?

Facts All Your Community Should Know

Article Submitted By W. A. Roberts

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . .

A formidable task force could be supplied to the Navy with America's average annual loss from fire? ($300,000,000).

This task force could consist of two airplane carriers, three heavy cruisers, four light cruisers, 10 destroyers, one submarine, 90 dive bombers and 100 fighter planes.

The annual fire loss would pay for equipping a huge Army field force?

This equipment could consist of 2,500 medium tanks, 1,200 seventy-five mm. guns, 1,500 anti-tank guns, 10,000 cars (jeeps) and 1,000,000 Garand rifles.

Fire losses increase an average of 44 per cent in the cold months?

As soon as cold weather makes people light their furnaces, many fires break out from faulty heating apparatus. In 1942, fire losses increased 78 per cent from September to December and continued high through the cold months.

Fires can start by themselves, without the application of flame?

Spontaneous ignition is a phenomenon that occurs in such common articles as oily dust cloths, mops or waste and paint-stained rags or clothing. Chemical reaction causes the material to heat up until actual fire bursts forth.

Common household dusts, both from waste material and food, may explode with terrific force?

Flour is one item and dust from vacuum cleaners is another. When either is thrown loosely into an incinerator or furnace, so that a dust cloud forms, a violent explosion takes place as soon as the dust cloud reaches fire.

The Coconut Grove fire killed more persons than the losses suffered by our troops landing in Africa?

The night club fire in Boston took 490 lives, whereas it was officially reported that 360 of our soldiers and sailors were killed in overcoming all resistance in Morocco and Algeria, territories with 14,300,000 inhabitants.

Smokers strike 6,000 matches every second?

Careless smokers start numerous fires; and, with so many handling matches continually, it is evident that extra caution should be smokers to prevent fires.

America could have armed in peacetimes with the dollar totals destroyed by fire between 1918 and 1939?

The amount destroyed was $8,285,689,525, and this would have purchased 27,618 medium tanks and 207,142 seventy-five mm. guns and 98 heavy cruisers and 6,183 heavy bombers.

Persons on the top floor of a building sometimes die in a fire that never gets beyond the cellar?

Super-heated air and fumes from the fire travel upward through unprotected openings and cause death when inhaled, although the actual fire may never reach the victims.

Flames could engulf the average American dwelling with appalling speed, spreading upward through hollow walls?

Most frame buildings have hollow spaces between the studs in the walls from cellar to attic, without fire-stops at floor levels to check the travel of fire.

Fire kills more persons in the United States each year than the Armed Forces of the United States lost killed in action during the first year of the war?

The annual death rate from fire approximates 10,000 lives, whereas the Army and Navy reported 8,000 combat dead in the first year.

Evangelist On Rotary Program

Cap Fred Boden had charge of the Rotary Program last Tuesday at noon and introduced Rev. A. E. Harrison, pastor of the First Baptist church, who in turn introduced Rev. David F. Boston of Houston, who is conducting the revival at the Baptist church. After a few introductory remarks and a special invitation to attend the revival services, Rev. Boston introduced Mark Short, song leader, who rendered several selections on the piano. Rev. Harrison also led the members and guests in a religious song.

President Garland introduced Aviation Cadet Russell Brookshier and his friend, Jock Brown, of Scotland. These boys are stationed at Miami Field, Okla., and made short talks. Brown, who came to this country in 1942, stated the most noticeable difference he found here was the friendliness of the people compared to his native country. He also told of the conditions existing in Scotland and compared the prices of his country with those here. For example: an electric razor over there cost about $6.00 compared with $15.00 in this country.

Wichita Rotarians present were H. A. Haynes and Dee Campbell. Cadet Russell Brookshier and Jock Brown, leading air craftsman, were the guests of Rotarian Leo Dudley.

Tom Boyd has the program for next week.

Harold VanLoh was the only absentee.

Motorists Urged To Delay Request For Additional Gas Allotments

Motorists who suffered loss of mileage in the recent OPA coupon value reduction order were urged not to ask for adjustment at the ration board offices until at least Oct. 15 by local Chairman Bob Tevis of the gasoline panel of the Wichita County War Price and Ration Board.

"Don't ask us to adjust your supplemental mileage because of the cut until at least Oct. 15, for we have no information yet as to how we may proceed on that," Tevis said.

He added that information instructing boards on the procedure of determining what adjustments should be made was to arrive soon. In no case, Tevis declared, will any adjustment be made until the present supplemental supply B or C coupons, is exhausted. Proof of need for greater supplemental rations will then have to be submitted at that time to secure he coupons, Tevis said.

Milk Situation Discussed By City Commissioners

At the regular meeting of the City Commissioners held Monday night the most important thing they discussed was the milk situation in Burkburnett.

It was agreed that something must be done about the milk situation and the feasibility of passing an ordinance whereby only Grade-A or Pasteurized milk can be sold in the City limits. This is of vital importance to the health of the citizens of Burkburnett.

Mayor Hill stated there are a number of things to be worked out before the dairymen here can go to Grade-A or Pasteurized milk, such as materials for modern barns and milk houses, etc.

The following article appeared in the Sheppard Field Tex-Acts this week and shows what the Army thinks of the milk situation here:

ADVISE BOILING BURK MILK

Sheppard Field Military personnel have been advised by medical inspectors that until further notice milk produced or supplied by all Burkburnett dairies should be brought to a boil before it is consumed.

Burk To Face Tough Foe In Vernon Friday

Facing one of the district's toughest teams, the Burkburnett Bulldogs have his week started workouts to put them in shape for their Friday night session on the home field of the Vernon Lions.

The Burkdogs have thus far rolled up a 6-0 record in their two games, but expectations point toward a loss of their undefeated status when they tangle with the Lions. Burkburnett played Nacoma to a scoreless tie and battled a 6-0 win over Holliday.

Coach A. D. Beck expects to start practically the same lineup which faced the Holliday Eagles, with Hugh Preston, 135-pounder, in the quarterback spot. It was Preston's short plunges which put the six-point smear on the Holliday team's record.

The lineup, tentatively, will have Bill Estes and Joe Bill Duke in the end positions, Kenneth Gibson and Donald Moore at tackle, and Phillip Johnston and Donald Mills in the guard spots. The backfield will boast Hugh Preston, Lee Dunaway, Ell is Gragg and Buster Hughes.

Ralph Foster, 145, will work at center. Beck's backfield lineup has the following weight: Preston, 135; Dunaway, 148; Gragg, 153, and Hughes, 156.

Church School Office Enlarged At First Methodist Church

Work has been completed this week on the new Church School office at the First Methodist Church. The office formerly was not large enough to accommodate the enlarged attendance and work of the school, and the Pastor's Study has formerly been used for a part of the Secretarial work.

A partition was moved out to make sixteen foot room, so that a sufficient number of shelves and desks can be accommodated. The room is finished in ivory and is an attractive asset to the building.

GO TO ARMY POSTAL UNIT AT LEESVILLE

Neal Hall, member of the local postal force has been notified by the Post office Dept. that he has been assigned indefinitely to the Army Postal Unit at Leesville, La.

Hall has been a regular clerk in the Burkburnett Postoffice since 1923, having worked in all departments of the office. He will be in the financial department of the Leesville office, and will report about Sunday. Mrs. Hall will not accompany him, owing to the crowded living conditions at Leesville.

There are more farmers in the country than there are agriculturists.

Burkburnett and area rallied Thursday night in honor of the men and women from the community who are in the armed services to dedicate an honor roll and push the precinct's war bond goal toward the peak. Money rolled into the bond booth by thousands of dollars.

Burkburnett went over the top for the community with sales of over $140,000 in bonds.

John Lee Smith, lieutenant governor of Texas, sparked the rally and dedication program with a call to the Burkburnettans for renewed pledges of service to the nation in war. In spite of the intermittent rain a huge crowd cheered the state officials and pledged to back the community's heroes in the war.

Smith, who was introduced by State Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, was invited to Burkburnett by the American Legion post, sponsors of Thursday's big bond rally. The rally reached its climax in the dedication of a plaque containing the names of more than 700 men and women from the community who are in service of the United States in the fight against the Axis.

Lieutenant Governor Smith told the Burkburnett crowd they should buy until it hurts. "If you could trade places for a moment on the battle field with the men who are fighting for us, you would give until it hurts" Smith said. He described the training program at the army camps and the rigid and tough program for the men who fight for the nation. He urged the Burkburnettans to not shirk he fight on the home front.

Senator Moffett, in introducing Smith said "It is up to us to go over the top just as much as it is up to the soldier to go over the top."

Hitting Hard

We have heard much concerning the training for jungle fighting given our boys before they are sent overseas. Pictures have shown us special weapons used in jungle warfare and types of holds taught in ju-jitsu. There is a sly dexterity and fleetness and cunning about the Japanese fighter that needs more careful study than in fighting the German. The craftiness calls for skill and caution on the part of the American soldier, so he is trained in the art of ju-jitsu. We are not saying that this sort of defense originated by the Chinese and then taught to the Japanese, is not effective. There is a quickness and deftness to its style that calls for alertness and fast thought as well as muscular strength. But somehow it is our belief that when boys in the jungle country meet a Jap in hand-to-hand fighting, he starts out with the ju-jitsu, but before he is through throws in a few licks of the good old American free-for-all, with a left-upper cut, a haymaker to the right, that he learned back home taking care of himself against a neighborhood gang. The Japs are experts in their line of fighting, light and fast, and seemingly nervous. Even so, there are some mighty hard-fisted American lads from around Burk way who are over there swinging from the shoulder, muscles developed, morale strong, cause right, and ju-jitsu or a punch in the pouch or a pop on the snout, they are willing and able.

Columbus Day

We are reminded that we are just as old as we think we are when we stop to recall that America was discovered by a man of fifty-seven years. It sounds almost like a young man's undertaking, doesn't it. That man of 57 years had to surmount many obstacles, had to overcome the superstitious belief that monsters would devour the ships, try to secure a crew, get money to finance the journey and continue to hold forth the belief that the world was round and not flat. Columbus is rightfully listed as an adventurer. He had courage and persistence and faith to bring him his discovery and then fate turned him back to his country to make of him a prisoner who died in his jail. This nation that was thought to be India in 1612, has come a long way. Today our men are adventuring to the lands of the early explorers, are equally as courageous and persistent and faithful. They well know the world is not flat, but many of these Americans have never been outside of their native state to see whether this fact is true. These lads of ours have charts, maps and instruments of the finest, to steer them on their course. They are in modern ships and manned by a skillful crew. They are tasting of as daring adventure as any Columbus. There are men serving who are as old as Columbus in 1492, but for the most part our adventurers are youths. They see new lands with the eyes of the young. Character is not a standard of years, as anyone in Burk can tell you.

A New Drug

Most of Burkburnett has heard of the wonder drug called penicillin. It has become important within this past year and our scientists tell us that it is many times more effective than the powerful sulfa drugs that have themselves proven so wonderfully effective in healing and saving lives. There are now nine firms manufacturing penicillin in order to fill the call of civilians as well as the necessary military quota. These firms hope to have stock on hand within probably six weeks, but this will not nearly supply the increasing demand. Penicillin is grown from mold and to extract the fluid is a long process. Sometimes the molds don't produce and then more time is needed and time is vital when lives are at stake. We are thankful it is already being used successfully in a limited number of cases. We thank our scientists, the laboratory workers who toil day and night that we may benefit. Time means more to them than to the awaiting public for they realize the effects before we realize the discovery.

You Can Build

Certain priority rights or stopping manufacturing altogether of some necessary building materials doesn't mean that farmers around Burkburnett can't find an answer to building problems. Although the government has increased the quota of farm lumber there still isn't enough of critical materials needed to take care of the requirements. But, we are informed that there is, on the market today, a number of non-critical materials available and by seeing about it you might find types of insulation boarding that can be used for exterior walls, partitions, ceilings and, used with other types of non-critical materials, will build roofs. So there need be no hardship around these parts where farmers need new animal shelters or buildings to store machinery.

Everyone in the room is happy because Mrs. Brooks brought us a new standable.

Stephenson, L 4-2.

The fifth grade boys and girls have been very busy this week. We have worked on Penmanship every day but one. We have finished all the oval letters and will soon start on another "Letter Family".

A short time ago we did some poster work in Art and found that we needed some practice in letter cutting. On Friday of last week we started the work of folding and cutting a block form cut-paper alphabet. They are enjoying this work and it will be of much use to them in making books and posters in all the subjects. We will finish this work this week.

Elrod, L 5-1.

The following pupils in our section bought war saving stamps last week: Peggy, Joyce Tyler, Jackie, Wayne McDonald and Olene Wellington. The total for the week was one dollar. We are expecting to increase our amount each week. As we expect and want to do our part.

We are learning to use our study period of the morning for real study. We find that if we use it we can get much of our school work done during this time.

We are sorry to report that we had two absent from our room this week: Grace Welbourne, and Lawrence Cheyney. We are hoping both of them will be back with us next week.

We learned two new songs in Music this week, and we like to sing them very much, as they are both comical songs.

We planted two bulbs this week for our room, and hope that they soon grow and make pretty flowers for our room.

L 6-3.

There are thirty-seven members in our room.

TELEFACT

OF LIVING INCREASES IN THE AMERICAS

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC:
Spring Another Trap

Japanese troops manning the important New Guinea base of Finschafen were hemmed in on three sides by Allied forces following Gen. Douglas MacArthur's master plan of utilizing units to land in strength behind the enemy's key points and work to cut off his supply.

After the pattern of the conquest of Lae farther to the south, big airplane transports landed Allied troops northwest of Finschafen. As these troops pressed in against the Japs from the west, other ground forces moved in on the enemy from the south.

Capture of Finschafen would place the Allies a short distance from the Jap air bases on New Britain island to the east and thus reduce the efficiency of these bases as points for attack on U. S. forces.

WORLD RELIEF:
Plan Proposed

America's participation in an international relief and rehabilitation program to be administered along the lines of the League of Nations was to come up for congressional approval.

Winston Churchill

Under the plan, the organization established will be authorized to acquire, hold, and convey property; make contracts; undertake obligations; manage undertakings, and perform any legal act appropriate to its object and purposes.

Every yearning proves the existence of an object meant to satisfy it; the same law creates both the giver and the receiver its longing and its home.

ARMED FORCES:
Ask for Fathers

October 1 was at hand and before congress was the Wheeler resolution which would delay the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers scheduled to begin on that date.

Before the house and senate military committees came the nation's manpower experts. Also before these legislators came the highest officials of the army and navy.

Generally speaking the nation seemed to agree with this viewpoint but those who were opposing the drafting of these pre-Pearl Harbor fathers based their case on the assertion that the whole manpower program was being mishandled and that was why the drafting of fathers "appeared necessary."

More soap is on the way, according to the War Food administration, promising a 28 per cent increase in supplies by November.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

DEBT: Congress may soon be asked to raise the debt limit of the nation to 300 billion dollars, Representative Cannon, chairman of the house appropriations committee, stated recently.

LUKE: Luke Appling of the White Sox baseball team is the American league with an average of .324, slightly ahead of second place man, Dick Cato of the Detroit Tigers.

to make it the right height. That will make it useful but still no beauty. A remnant of flowered chintz will cover the cushion and the objectionable part of the carved back. Paint to match the soft blue background of the chintz will bring the whole thing together and soften too prominent curves.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Make an oilcloth cover for your ironing board to cover it when not in use; also use the cover when brushing and sponging garments.

Do not wash eggs. Washing destroys the protective film that keeps out air and sun.

To mend broken glassware, dip it into melted powdered alum. Remove it and hold the pieces together with adhesive tape until the alum has hardened.

Uncooked meat should be lightly covered with waxed paper before storing in refrigerator. Place right under the freezing unit and maintain temperature at 33 to 37 degrees.

A cork when soaked in hot water—even if it is a little too large—will fit a bottle readily.

To smooth and polish both metal and wood parts of farm equipment, use one-foot square pieces of old burlap folded into a pad.

For safe storing, mattresses should be covered, then hung or placed on a flat surface with no more than one mattress on top of another, in a dry, well-ventilated space.

A dustless dustcloth may be made by pouring one tablespoon of furniture polish into a glass fruit jar and shaking jar until polish is well coated on sides of jar.

Never add soda when cooking vegetables, because it destroys those precious vitamins, B1 and C. Cook vegetables quickly and they will retain their bright color.

Lemon and water is good for you. Lemons are among the richest sources of vitamin C, which combats fatigue, helps resist colds and infections.

All That! Mrs. Reed—I'm going shopping today, dear. What does the paper say about the weather? Hubby—Rain, hail, sleet, thunder and lightning!

Reasoning Teacher—Rastus, why does Missouri stand at the head of the mule raising business in this country? Little Rastus—I dunno, 'xactly. Must be 'cause de other end am too dangerous.

So It Is! Teacher—In some countries men are allowed more than one wife. That is polygamy. In Christian countries like ours a man is allowed but one wife. What is that called? Bright Pupil—Monotony.

Baptist Church Announcements

Sunday School, 9:45.
Preaching, 11:00.
Training Union, 7:15.
Preaching Services, 8:15.

A fine spirit has been manifested during the revival and many of the members are becoming revived.

The Lord has been sending wonderful messages through the wonderful messages through the singer. You are certainly the poorer for having missed these services.

The meeting will continue through Sunday night. Sunday has been designated VICTORY Day. The Sunday School goal has been set at 444. Last Sunday we fell just a little under our set goal, but this failure to reach our goal will serve as a springboard to push us out and encourage us to reach the higher goal for Sunday, October 10th.

A splendid spirit manifested in the teachers' and officers' meeting Wednesday night. Cards with special invitations—information, and goals were given to every teacher who wanted them, and they in turn were urged to send these to the absentees and prospects.

Every Christian in Burk Burnett, is invited to worship with us at any of the services. Only a few more services—opportunities awaits us and then our special helpers will be gone. The pastor urges every member and invites everyone to take this opportunity of hearing the Word of God fresh from the heart of this Evangelist and the splendid Singer for the few remaining services which are yet to come—a great big welcome awaits you. "Come with us and we will do these good"—is our invitation to you.

A. E. Harrison, Pastor.

"REGULAR" AGAIN AFTER 2 WEEKS!

"Cereal Brought Relief from Long Siege of Purgatives!"

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "dozer" will want to read:

"I was a sufferer from common constipation. Took pills or medicines of some kind, but got no lasting relief. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Have been eating it about 2 weeks now, and have stopped taking pills and things. My bowels move regularly every day. I am a KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN eater from now on!" Mr. Earl Brown, Warren, Ark.

How do scientists explain KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN'S gentle-acting, amazing relief, so familiar to thousands? Simply this: Lack of certain cellulose elements in the diet is a common cause of constipation. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's richest sources of these elements—which help the intestinal flora lighten and fluff up the contents of the colon, for easy, natural elimination. Not a purgative, that robs the system of water. Not "roughage" that acts by "sweeping you out!" ALL-BRAN is a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if it doesn't give you the relief you've dreamed of. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former feature editor of the Charlotte (N. C.) News has been inducted into the army and has completed the first few days of his training at camp. He has given prospective inductees advice to "paint the town red" before getting into the army and once in he tells them that "the first three weeks are the hardest." He has gone through the experience of the army physical exam, has been fitted with a uniform, been classified as a cook and has had a good taste of KP duty. In fact, he has had so much of the latter that his sergeant is beginning to despair. So is Private Hargrove. He has completed a KP session and returns to his quarters.

CHAPTER III

I tiptoed into the squadroom so that the sergeant wouldn't notice that I was wearing fatigue clothes. His voice rang out to me as I passed his door, and I slunk in guiltily.

The sergeant's face showed that he was hurt. "You were on KP again today, weren't you, Hargrove?"

"Oh, I get so discouraged sometimes," the sergeant said. "I try so hard to make something of you and what good does it do? Every time I go through the kitchen I see you in there scrubbing the sink! How many times have you been on KP this week?"

"Only three times, sir," I said, avoiding his eyes.

"It was all the corporal's fault, sir," I said, looking around to make sure that the corporal wasn't there to defend himself. "Just because I right-faced a few times when I was supposed to left-face, and I zigged when I should have zagged, and because I forgot and smoked in ranks—and a few other things like that."

"And," said the sergeant shaking his head sadly, "you just turned around casually every time he ordered 'about-face.' And you kept watching your feet all through drill. And you stayed out of step all morn-

"That's all, Hargrove," he said, mopping his brow; "you're not supposed to salute a non-commissioned officer—just go to bed."

ing and you took those plowhand strides of yours and walked all over the man in front of you. And you passed the drillmaster three times. And you generally spoiled the whole morning's drill. Why can't you be a good boy and learn the drills?"

"I don't mean to be bad, sir," I said.

"And that's another thing," the sergeant moaned. "Why must you say 'sir' to the non-commissioned officers and forget to salute the commissioned ones?" He mopped his forehead wearily. "Do you know what the top sergeant told me today?"

"No, sir," I said, twisting my cap and awaiting the worst.

"He said—and don't 'sir' me—that when the battery commander had you on the carpet yesterday you stood there leaning on the table, and you shifted your feet eight times. And you saluted four times during his talk—and when you saluted you gave a European heel-click and bowed. And when the captain dismissed you, you told him, 'Thank you, sergeant' and forgot to salute when you left."

"Was there anything else, sir?" I asked in a whisper.

"That's all, Hargrove," he said, wiping great drops of perspiration from his forehead.

"Thank you, sir," I said. I saluted, clicking my heels, and turned to go.

"Hargrove," the tired voice said. "You're not supposed to salute a non-commissioned—Never mind, Hargrove. Just go to bed."

"Just look at me," the exercise sergeant roars in a voice that would go four miles against the wind. "Just look! I weigh two hundred and eight pounds and I'm in the worst physical condition I've ever been in! I ought to be busted for the way I've allowed myself to get fat and flabby! I'm ashamed!"

You look at the exercise sergeant and wonder what he's leading up to. To you he looks like the "after taking" part of a malted yeast advertisement. He could probably lick his weight in police dogs.

in worse shape than I am. If I can do it, you can do it—or else!"

He outlines the exercise and you begin wondering how a contortionist happened to wind up at Fort Bragg. This self-styled "fat and flabby" calisthenics master doesn't have any knees or elbows. You stand there waiting to hear his spine fall apart under the strain, but he comes up all in one piece.

"That's the way I want you boys to do it," he says, beaming cheerfully. You begin to feel your face getting gray and you wonder why a bolt of lightning doesn't come to deliver you from the prospective torture.

"One. Two. Three. Four. Five. Six. Seven. Eight. One. Two—"

The first three or four times are the hardest. After that, you get the swing of it. It's really tame stuff, you decide.

"The next exercise," says the sergeant, "is what we call the quarter, half and full knee bend. It goes like this. He shows you. When you see it, the corners of your mouth go up in a sneer of derision (unless the corporal is looking). Ho Hum, you say to yourself. Why do they take up time with this play?"

"Exercise—one, two, three, four—Quarter, half, full recover. Your knees get That Tired Feeling after the third time. After the sixth time, you feel your eyes getting glassy. After the ninth, you're floating in space. By the time the exercise is over, nothing matters any more.

Before you have marched off the drill field you notice that you still haven't collapsed. In fact, you find to your disappointment that you're beginning to feel good. All limbered up.

Quarantine has been lifted for us of the July 17 contingency. If the sergeant wasn't looking over my shoulder, I'd say it's about time. Before our release from isolation, Army style, I was able to get around and swap lies and gripes with every one of the boys in our group.

A little under 100 per cent of them came up with the same account, which reads as follows: "Our battery has the worst food in the Army. We've got the worst sergeant in the battery. No kidding, though, our platoon makes all the others look crummy. Here two weeks already and I haven't pulled KP or had the sergeant jump me a time yet. Don't let a soul, but I think they're going to make me a corporal." All of which is a lot of hot air.

Actually, they're fighting to get into the mess hall first at every meal. They're gaining weight and tanning where they used to blister. They're sassing their sergeants, who deplore them as the sorriest bunch of rookies they ever sweated over. Every one of them has been on KP at least once.

By the time Congress says I may go home and be a mere civilian again, I suppose I'll be the best soldier at Fort Bragg. At least I seem to get more individual attention than anyone else. Private tutoring, I always tell the boys.

We were at work the other morning learning how to handle a rifle. The sergeant was putting us through our paces.

"Hargrove," he said with infinite sweetness, "where is the balance of your rifle?"

"This is all the supply sergeant gave me, sir," I said. "I thought it was all here."

The sergeant slapped his forehead and mumbled something furiously under his breath. "Wonder-child," he said, "this (pointing) is the balance of your rifle. I can't imagine why they call it that, unless it's because when you hold the rifle there with one hand, it's balanced." He then went on for a few minutes, explaining a few of the things I had still failed to master.

"Now do you understand it?" he asked, beaming at me with a look made of all sweet accord.

"No, sir," I said.

The sergeant sighed wearily. "Private Hargrove," he said, "right down by the next barracks there's a group of young people who are practicing with rifles for the first time. They haven't had theirs for three days like you have. Run along down there and see if you can keep up with them."

I tried. There was some confusion about the orders, however. At the end of a movement where I wound up with my rifle on my left shoulder, the rest of the detail had theirs on the right. I noticed also that I usually finished a command long before the others.

The sergeant in charge of the detail commanded on this. "You know, Shorty," he said, "you have all of these routines worked out much better than the War Department was able to do them. Where it took them sixteen counts to complete the sixteen-count manual, you always manage somehow to complete it in twelve."

I was still blushing modestly when he called the corporal over. He said something to the corporal, who took me by the elbow and guided me gently around the building at a spot where, he said, the battery officers wouldn't see me drilling and thereby be discouraged.

"This," he said, pronouncing each syllable slowly and distinctly, "is what we have come to call a rifle."

R-I-I-e. It is used for the purpose of shooting. Primitive man, we are told, did not have a rifle. Primitive man was forced to bring down his supper with a knife, a spear, a stone, a bow and arrows or his own little primitive hands."

I nodded automatically and paid scant attention to all this. I already knew it.

"Today," he continued, "civilization has been improved upon to the extent that—" and he went on and on. After that we began at the beginning of the manual of arms and took each command slowly. The corporal sweated for forty-five minutes.

"Are there any questions now, Private Hargrove?"

"I thought for a while. 'Yes, sir,' I said. 'That is, 'yes, corporal.' What use will I have for a rifle? I'm going to be a cook."

The corporal mopped his brow. "Well, Private Hargrove," he said, patting me lovingly on the shoulder, "you'll find use for it. Ha! ha! In the first place, you can peel potatoes with a bayonet. And in the second place—if you're as good a cook as you are a soldier—you'll need it every day. After breakfast, lunch, and supper you'll need it to protect yourself from murder at the hands of your comrades in arms."

"See here, Private Hargrove," the sergeant sighed. "Can't you try just once to do something right? Don't you want to be a credit to the platoon? You don't want us to be the worst bunch in the battery after we've been the best for so long, do you?"

"Please, sergeant," I begged him, "couldn't I just stay inside for this once? They'd never miss me at rifle inspection. I'd be very quiet and nobody would ever know."

He ignored the request. "Try hard to remember, private, these few simple things. When the officer reaches the man next to you, open the rifle. When he grabs your gun, don't hang onto it or you'll have a bellyache for two weeks. When he throws it back to you, don't catch it with your chin. And when you get it back, snap the trigger. And heaven help you if you ball this thing up!"

The forces of Destiny placed me second in the front rank at inspection. We stood at attention for three minutes before the inspecting officer approached. For seconds after we brought our rifles up for inspection, a fly which seemed to be a little larger than a June bug landed on my forehead. The sergeant shot a warning glance across my bow and I decided to humor the fly. It would go away soon, I told myself, although I knew it wouldn't.

The inspecting officer still had not begun his rounds. He was waiting for us to get off our guard. The fly demonstrated its impatience by stepping up to double-quick in its pacing. "Oh, if I only had you alone!" I thought. The itching nose became more insistent. A gnat made a three-point landing on it and began playing about the left nostril.

I gave the sergeant a glance which said distinctly, "This can't go on much longer. Something's going to pop!" His return glance said, in italicized words, "But just one eyelash and I'll break your neck!"

Suddenly the inspecting officer grabbed the rifle from the hand of Grafenstein, who stood beside me. His lightning swoop on the gun, coupled with the speed with which Grafenstein relinquished it, completely paralyzed me. An almost inaudible groan made me look at the sergeant. He was making furious grimaces at me and his face looked as if he was going to burst a blood vessel. He kept wagging his eyes down to the bolt of my rifle. A split second before the officer reached me, I managed to pull the bolt.

I could see the sergeant unloading freight carloads of potatoes for me to peel. I could see the next weekend, with me restricted to quarters while the rest of the platoon enjoyed themselves in town.

The officer reached me several lifetimes later. He looked at my face and sighed wearily. Then, with infinite tenderness, he gently lifted the rifle from my grasp. He inspected it and handed it back to me as though he was laying a brick on an orchid or giving a hundred-pound weight to his aged grandmother. He sighed again and passed on to the next man, whose rifle he grabbed with the confidence that the man wouldn't fall apart when he snatched it.

Lesson for October 10

REVERENCE FOR GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:3-7; Matthew 4:10; 6:9; John 4:23, 24. GOLDEN TEXT—God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth—John 4:24.

The first three commandments bring man into the presence of God, where he is taught how to worship God in spirit and in truth.

"The first commandment (Exod. 20:3) bids us worship God exclusively; the second (vv. 4-6) bids us worship Him spiritually. The first commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar). The third commandment (v. 7) indicates that true worship will deal reverently with the name of God.

Israel had lived among the Egyptians, a people known for their worship of images, and were about to enter into Canaan where there were many false gods. The Lord was therefore careful not only to forbid the worship of other gods, but also to forbid the making of images of any kind, whether they represented the many gods of heathendom, or were attempts to symbolize the true God.

I. The Command to Worship (Exod. 20:3-7). God first claims the entire devotion of man. If He is Jehovah, the Lord God, it is obvious that there can be no other god before Him. He is a personal God (v. 2) with whom it is possible for man to have fellowship. He must come first in our thought and our love.

The second commandment expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold. (1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness which to them represents a being to be worshipped. It matters not whether it be an image or what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, a heavenly body, in fact, "anything that is in the heaven above," or on the earth—such as a man or animal; or under the water—such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment.

Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants.

The careless, vain or irreverent use of God's name is forbidden (v. 7). How common that practice is today, even among Christian people. If we do not actually use His name, we use some slang expression which stands for His name.

Now we turn to two passages from the Gospel of Matthew to see how Jesus practiced these commandments.

II. The Example of Christ (Matt. 4:10; 6:9). To the temptation of Satan, offering rich reward for an act of worship to himself, Jesus gave prompt and effective reply by quoting Deuteronomy 6:13. Thus He gave His approval to the command that all our worship and service is to be given to God.

This spirit shows itself in the reverent devotion of the prayer (6:9) which Jesus taught His disciples. The name of God is to be hallowed—that is, to be regarded as holy. No one set a higher example of that than our Lord, Himself God, He was obedient to the Father, even unto death, always doing those things which pleased Him and honored His name (John 8:29; Phil. 2:8).

III. The Manner of True Worship (John 4:23, 24). God is to be worshiped in spirit and in truth, not in dead formalism or by empty ritual. There must be reality in such devotion.

One would suppose that a truth so obvious and vital would long since have completely saturated the life of the church as well as of the individual believer. "God is a Spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Even today, countless men and women still believe that worship has something to do with place (vv. 20, 21) or race (v. 22) or some other external device or formula. What a pity, when the gracious and delightful way to worship is through personal spiritual communion between God and man.

Deadening formalism is not our only enemy. There is the powerless preaching of modernism—and in all honesty must we not admit that even some so-called fundamentalism has in many respects lost the true spirit of the faith for which it rightly contends.

We see then that the commandment of God regarding reverence is not just a law on a faded page in an ancient manuscript. It is a living, vital reality, operative today.

"In the first place you can peel potatoes with a bayonet."

SNAPPY FACT ABOUT RUBBER

Heat and friction are greatest enemies of rubber. Tire treads wear out 100 times as fast in a temperature of 100 degrees as when thermometer registers 40 degrees.

Rubber previously used for car tires will provide for over 4000 miles of service in a car of 8,500 lbs. weight. 6,800 37-mm. anti-aircraft tires and 600 pants for Army blouses.

Samuel Peat was granted first rubber patent in England in 1791. It covered the vulcanizing of rubber, the proofing of leather, cotton, linen, etc.

Mixing end runs with off-tackle plunges, Preston and Hughes carried the ball to the Eagles 15 yard marker where it was lost on downs, and, with the transfer, Burkburnett fans' hopes for victory was all but vanished.

The break that the Bulldogs had been playing 59 minutes for, came two plays later when Dunnaway again intercepted a pass, this time on Holliday's 30 and returned it to the 18.

Hughes and Preston carried the ball to the 2 yard line in two plays, and Preston knifed off right tackle to score with only 20 seconds left to play.

A fake place-kick for the extra point failed when Hughes slipped through left guard, falling short of the goal line by one yard.

Coach Jim Eddlemann's team then took to the air late in the second quarter, and showed most of their offensive strength there. A running attack was the Eagles' strongest bet for yardage.

Mills, Dog right guard, threw the opposition for losses to kill Holliday's two scoring threats in the second and fourth periods.

Preston, in the Burk backfield, used speed on end sweeps to gain most of the Dogs yards, and Hughes carried the responsibility of gaining through the line.

Killian's, right half for the Eagles, punts averaged 45 yards, which kept the Bulldogs at bay, the greater part of the game, and Harmon's passing set the stage for gains deep into Bulldog territory.

The Bulldogs meet the Vernon Lions Friday in their first Conference tilt. The Lions are pointing for a District championship, and Friday's game may prove to be Burkburnett's greatest stumbling block.

Coach Beck during the past week, has been ironing out kinks found in his team's pass defense, and perfecting better blocking for a more effective ground defense.

The Burkburnett-Vernon game is to be played at Vernon, Friday, October 8th.

Garrison Urges Look at Dates On Operator's License

AUSTIN, October 6, 1943—State Police Director Homer Garrison today asked Texas drivers to take a look on their operator's licenses. The first group of the new type licenses, which are good for two years from the date of issue, begin expiring this month.

Renewal forms are available at drivers license offices in all court houses, and at the Chamber of Commerce in Burkburnett.

"Texas people are bothered with so much red tape now that we are especially anxious to carry out the renewal program with a minimum of inconvenience to them," Garrison said. "It will help the people and the Department of Public Safety a great deal if applicants for renewal will be careful to observe the following points:

"Be sure the application is properly filled out. It has been necessary in the past to reject many applications because of insufficient or incorrect information.

"The application must be accompanied by a renewal stub, which is to be torn off the present license.

"The application must be mailed prior to the expiration date of the current license. If this is not done, the law provides that the applicant must be treated as the new driver and subjected to an examination.

"The application must be mailed to the Department of Public Safety in Austin. Each application must be processed in the headquarters office so that remedial action may be taken with drivers who have been involved in numerous accidents or traffic violations.

"The application should be accompanied by a money order or cashier's check for $50, the fee for a two-year license. Personal checks cannot be accepted, and it is unsafe to send uninsured cash through the mails."

Local Pastor Distinguished Amidst Dirt Farmers

Last Wednesday night Rev. and Mrs. DeVore attended the barn yard frolic at the Floral Heights Methodist Church. This annual family night part was held in the basement of the church and all who attended were to be dressed as farmers.

Log rolling, corn husking and shelling, and other contests were held during the evening and Rev. DeVore won first place in the hog calling contest. (Some feel that is rather a dubious honor for a preacher). He also placed second for the best costume among the men. Mrs. J. M. Alexander, formerly of this city, won first place among the women; James Martin Hoggard, 27-months old, won first place among the children.

It was a most enjoyable evening for the more than 300 who were in attendance. Refreshments of buttermilk, gingerbread, and apples were served. Mrs. Paul C. Stevenson was in general charge and was assisted by eleven committees.

The many friends of Mrs. C. A. Jordan in this community will be glad to hear that she is improved in health and that she and her husband are planning a trip to the coast soon to visit with O. B. Sam and Tom in South Texas.

Mr. Jordan wrote a friend here that he would have to make some arrangement to get his live stock, consisting of some 5 head of cows, and a number of chickens and pigs, taken care of before they could leave. He also reports that they are virtually living out of their fine fall garden.

Their many friends here wish them well in their new home.

Intermediates Have Newly Decorated Class Room

Last Sunday was the first class session of the new Church School year for the Methodist Young People of the Intermediate Department. A large number of Intermediates had been promoted to the Senior Department, and a good group of Juniors were received into the Intermediate Class.

Mrs. Sam Cope assumed her new duties as teacher of this group, most of whom she had taught at sometime during the past ten years in the Children's Division.

This week the classroom is being completely redecorated, and new curtains are planned. The room is to be finished in a light buff, to match the floor and the new curtains.

The Intermediates are enthusiastic about their work.

Mrs. Fred Brookman, C-o. Burkburnett, Star, Burkburnett, Texas, Hello, Fred:

A V-line to tell you how much I appreciated the first copy of the Star that I received since arriving in his area. It's only thirty to forty days behind, which we consider excellent, due to the great distance separating us. You folks are doing a great job with this mail situation and as you have heard before, it is the greatest morale factor that may be found. Your column on writing the Boys often was good, hit the nail square with the head. As may be easily imagined there are frequent dull moments in this global war and if one has a line from the states, it becomes the silver lining of that so-called dark cloud.

Have'n't found any of the boys from home around here. However, the great state of Texas is very well represented. Better than fifteen per cent of the fellows in my own unit are from our Texas, so you may rest assured that we carry the "vote" everytime. Most of us are well-satisfied here, in so far as the country and climate is concerned, but there is much to remind us of North and West Texas. Especially the sand, wind and that torrid temperature. Reminds me, in particular, of the Burkburnett of twenty years ago, Remember? The hustle and bustle of the boom, lines block long waiting to get in to the best "cafe" (called Victualer here), whiskey five pounds ($15.00) the pint, the scarcity of the baseball extra, and not a room to be had anywhere. Most of us get along with the people here very well, for the native is much like us in many respects, especially gambling. These folks will wager on anything and usually do. As you know, this is the horse and dog raising nation, so everything closes Saturday afternoon in order that all may attend the favorite park to watch that favorite come home in front. Too, these "caskets" (Natal Lottery) are played by everyone from six to sixty. Will say right here that of all the places I've ever been these are the most uncomplaining sort of people that I have ever had the pleasure to meet. Many of them have been "hit" pretty hard by this war, too, yet they all feel that it's only "doing their bit". One thing we have a wealth here is beef and you know how we like our steaks, big inch thick ones with plenty of juice. Leaves only one thing to be desired and that, a cup of American coffee. However, most of us are beginning to drink their tea with a little more enthusiasm. Wish you would tell Alvin Hill and Bus Morgan that if they will take a little trip over this way I'll take them on one of the best Kangaroo hunts they've ever been on. We got two last Sunday and I'm telling you it is sport, about twice the delight of our old wolf hunts. Tell George Counter that my little 4x4 jeep is much better for the hunt than his P-A, for it is quite a bit more maneuverable, although not quite so fast. Some of these fellows stalk these Kangaroos with a P-40, so you have an idea just how fast these animals are able to travel.

My best regards to all, Fred, and please don't let me down, regarding the receipt of your paper each week, for its read by all, cussed by a few and well-liked by me. An old friend, Exley.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To Sam K. Thorn, Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 78th District Court of Wichita County at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 25th day of October, A. D. 1943 then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 9th day of September A. D. 1943, in this cause, numbered 38451-B on the docket of said court and styled Laura Thorn, Plaintiff, vs. Sam K. Thorn, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

After alleging jurisdiction, Plaintiff further alleges that she and defendant were married on October 16, 1935 and lived together until on or about September 6, 1939 at which time they separated and have not since lived together as man and wife; that defendant is guilty of cruel, harsh and excessive treatment which renders their further living together insupportable; that her former name was Norwood; that there were no children born of this marriage and that no community property was accumulated.

Wherefore Plaintiff prays that Defendant be cited to appear and that on final hearing she have judgment for divorce, restoration of former name and for such other and further relief to which she may show herself justly entitled.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas this 9th day of September A. D. 1943.

Attest: Glenn Haynes, Clerk, 78th District Court, Wichita County, Texas. 7-4tc-L.
