Fix Your Stop And Waste Drains!

Dave McNeil, city water superintendent, warns the citizens to check their waste and stop drains and see if they are in working condition before cold weather sets in. Avoid expense and waste of water by a freeze by doing this now.

If you do not have a stop and waste drain, have your plumber install one now. McNeil also warns it is against a city ordinance to use the city meter stops.

Burk Mill Sued For Accident Injury

Suit for $10,000 damages was filed in district court Wednesday by H. K. Aldridge against the General Mills, Inc. and J. F. Kelley as the result of an accident related by the plaintiff as having occurred last June 22. Aldridge states in his petition that while in the employ of the defendants on the above date, he was sent under a building at Burk Burnett to "clean out" debris from a grain-cutting machine. While he was so engaged, he relates, the machine suddenly was set in motion. Aldridge states that he lost the second and third fingers of his right hand in the machine.

Dogs Show Up Good In Defeat

By W. E. Laxson

Flashing a brand of football that looked good even in defeat, the Bulldogs raised their stock in the minds of fans who saw the Canine-Bobcat game Friday night. The 18-8 defeat handed the Dogs was closer than pre-game dope had it pictured, and the determination displayed by Burk's team was outstanding.

For one and one-half quarters it appeared that the team receiving the ball was scheduled to drive to a goal line before giving the other team a chance to carry the mail.

Childress opened the game by receiving on their 25, then Barry and Kitchen took time about advancing the oval until Kitchen crossed the goal from the two yd. line.

Then it was Burk Burnett's time to display their offense.

Preston took the kickoff on his 35 and fifteen plays later crosses the Cat's goal without losing the ball. Preston and Dunaway drew the assignments to work the ball to Childress' 10, where Preston flipped Eidson a pass good for 9, then Preston plunged over from the one yard stripe.

Barry for the Cats was the plow horse in the third drive that ended across the Bulldogs goal early in the second quarter. This score ended the alternating touchdown idea, but not the scoring as the Dogs drew next blood in an exciting moment of the game.

Early in the third quarter, Childress was backed to their goal line by good defensive play on the part of Burk's line, plus a holding penalty. The Bobcats attempted to kick from behind their goal only to have their punter smothered by Burk's forward wall before getting the kick away. A Bobcat recovered the ball to save his team having the score tied by a touchback, and gave Burk Burnett two more points.

Morgan and Gravelly, two Bobcat backs, came into the game late in the fourth quarter to predominate the visitors' offensive plays, and scored the final point of the game.

Moore and Mills showed up outstandingly by being in the Bobcats backfield most of the game. See "DOGS SHOW UP," Page 8

Gospel Meeting

Services will begin each evening at 8:00. You who live in and around Randlett are cordially invited to attend all of these services. Important gospel lessons will be given each evening. Let us meet there to study God's Word together. "Come, let us reason together, saith the Lord."

Attention! Think It Over!

The State Guard is in need of recruits. Every man who is not in the armed forces and is between the ages of sixteen and sixty-five should consider it his patriotic duty to his country and to his home to become a member of the Texas State Guard.

We are far away now from the screaming shells, but plenty can happen at home. It did happen in Beaumont and Detroit, and the Guard took it well in hand. We don't want to wait until it happens here. So, wake up, and let's be prepared. A man without any military experience would be more in the way than he would be of help in case of any emergencies. You furnish a little time and effort, the Guard will furnish equipment and instructions. You can receive information at Capt. Tucker's insurance office, or at Lt. Steve Marchand's Service Station.

Also, Sgt. Mowery Service Station, or from 1st. Sgt. J. E. Cypert.

Seniors Sell Hot Dogs And Peanuts

The Senior Class had a very successful concession at the football game Friday night with Childress. They sold hot dogs, cokes, popcorn and peanuts. The students who helped in the stand were: Lewis Fulks, Dale Johnson, Kathryn Blewitt, Hugh Key, Jessie Lee Uselton, Clyde Peed, Betty Wilson, Carol Lohoefer, and Christine Suttles. Mrs. Lyles and Mrs. Higgins, the seniors sponsors, assisted them. A profit of $48.64 was made.

Out of Shells? Then Try This!

Evidently the editor of an official publication for American soldiers in Iran has been sold on a new twist on the threadbare "snipe hunt," wherein the credulous victim is left alone on a dark night with an open sack and told to whistle obliging snipe into the bag. We have it on the authority of Iowa's "Conservation Notes" that the Iran publication gives the following instructions for duck hunting in all seriousness:

"You will need a large flashlight, a dishpan, a butterfly net and a club. Plant yourself in the reeds at night, turn on the flashlight, bang on the dishpan with your club, and scoop up the duck in the net when he flies at your light. It is not as easy as it sounds, and more fun than banging away with a gun!"

Who's kidding whom?

Burkburnett To Battle Quannah Friday Night

A much improved Bulldog team will journey to Quannah Friday for their fourth try at a conference win. The boys showed so much improvement in the game with Childress last Friday that the odds are about even that they will come back with a win under their belt.

Gragg, who now does most of the kicking, replacing Hughes, who left to join the navy, and Preston, quarterback gave a good account of themselves last week, as well as most of the line.

Burkburnett townsites, residents proper and families residing in the rural communities are going to dig deep and subscribe to the 2nd. War Chest Drive, is the belief of George McClarty, chairman of the drive.

communities. You may be called upon to give a little more than on similar drives in the past but please remember that this will be the last drive this year, and is for a whole year ending Sept. 30, 1944. There are 17 reliefs that will benefit by your donation and they have been approved by the President and the War Chest Board. In other words we are making 17 worthwhile drives and having the expense of only one.

Please examine the 17 various societies and relief organizations listed on page 5 of this issue, and if you are in sympathy with the most of them please give all you can spare. Let's put Burk Burnett and America over in this drive.

Please remember that the persons names appearing below are giving their time as well as money to this drive, and be considerate of their time when they call on you for your share, which is small regardless of what you give, when you consider the suffering and hardships our boys and civilian populations of our Allies."

BURKBURNETT STAR, THURSDAY, OCT. 29, 1943

Hallowe'en

Again comes Burk Burnett into the cutting of Hallowe'en capers, to the tricks of fastening pins in doorbells and auto horns, soaping glass, applying tacks to windows, hoisting a gate or two, throwing baskets of leaves on cleanly swept porches, dressing up in outlandish costumes and throwing corn. Hallowe'en is observed in many different ways in various communities. Some children haven't tried the small-fry racket of beggar's night with its forfeit of popcorn, candy or pennies. No need to speak of the national custom of soaping windows, as the young everywhere know about this proceeding. In cases where air is let out of automobile tires this year, a jail sentence wouldn't be too heavy a penalty for such a trick! There are probably a number of new Hallowe'en stunts that haven't reached us, but the old ones couldn't be improved upon. They will be practiced by our children's children, no doubt.

Deserters, What Else?

The head of the American Legion, in addressing labor leaders, said that a man who lays down his tools on a war job to strike is just as guilty of an act of treason as a soldier who deserts his post of duty.

Labor leaders bitterly assailed this viewpoint, but their arguments are unconvincing. Morally, it is no less reasonable for a man to throw down his tools which provide a soldier with equipment to fight than it is for the soldier to throw down his weapons and refuse to fight.

Strikes cannot justify desertion of war jobs. In leaving their posts, they are traitors to a common cause, even though they enjoy immunity from punishment such as would be meted out to soldiers who desert.

Burk Burnett History

As revealed by the files of the Star 20 years ago.

Twenty Years Ago—

The First Annual Community Fair under the management of the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce, closed a very successful two-day event Saturday night. The efforts of those in charge of the program and various departments to make this a good fair did not fail. The farmers took a big interest and co-operated in every way possible. The ladies department and merchants booths deserve much credit.

Suit for the alleged failure of contractors to complete a ward school at Burk Burnett, was filed by the school trustees of this city Thursday against the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland and J. P. Roodhouse and W. M. Mauldin, contractors, asking damage totalling $4,758.10.

On Tuesday afternoon about 6:30 fire from an unknown cause broke out in the upper story of the J. B. Stevenson home on West Second and Holly Street, partially destroying the roof and second story rooms, together with much of the family clothing kept on this floor. Nearly all of the furniture was saved and though the flames were advanced when discovered the city fire department saved the dwelling from entire loss.

Burk High's Black and Gold warriors opened the season's games Friday, Sept. 21, with a decided victory over Temple High; the score being 22 to 0. At all times the local boys were masters of the game, and only once did Temple near their goal.

The high school orchestra, the first of its kind in the Burk Burnett School, is giving some good concerts in the city and other near-by towns this week. Their costumes of black and white are most attractive and services that are worthy of the encouragement of citizens.

Mrs. J. C. Adams has returned from a visit to Fort Worth and Dallas, among relatives.

Jasper Majors left Monday for Boston, where he will enter Boston Tech College for the coming year.

I. C. EVANS, Principal

We are enjoying the reading of our first book. We Look And See.

Our attendance was off last week. Among those absent were: Melva Ann Barnett, Naomi Meadors, Margie Nell Peters, Freddy Trotter, and James Bishop. We miss these boys and girls when they are absent, and they get behind in their work, which makes it difficult for them to catch up with the rest of the class.

Those reading in their books are enjoying it so much. They feel that they can really read now.

We were so proud of the mothers that came to the Parent-Teachers Association. We are still hoping that sometime this year we will have enough mothers there to win the room award.

We are all looking forward to our Hallowe'en party. The following students were neither absent or tardy the first six weeks: Dale Boren, Richard Gilbert, Donald Oglesby, Jimmie Dean Wood, Patty Layne, and Nita Jo Reel.

We are so happy to be reading in our books now. Most of us find that the books are easy to read, and they have many beautiful pictures in them.

Our room looks very much like Hallowe'en now with its Jack-O-Lanterns, black cats and pumpkins. We are looking forward to a little party in our room next Friday.

We have bought $50.45 worth of bonds and stamps. Those buying stamps this week are Gad Garland, Jo Beth Burnett, Stanley Owen, Jerry Goble, and Monte Ray Ferrell.

The boys and girls on the Honor Roll for this six weeks are: Monte Ray Ferrell, Jerry Goble, Jack Jamison, Billy Jenkins, Robert Lytton, Jerry Dean Miller, Stanley Owen, Bill Ruston, Milton Sauls, Richard Van Loh, Eddie Vernon, Jo Beth Burnett, Virginia Chavis, Wanda Crume, Darlene Culpepper, Norma England, Kenya Howard, Shirley Jones, Kathryn Mardis, Dorothy McAfee, Barbara McBride, Jacqueline Partney, Robbye Lon Potts, Wilma Loy Spivey, June Vaughn, and Nola Dean Walker.

Wilma Douglas, L 1-3.

We made Hallowe'en Decorations this week—witches, black cats, little pumpkin people and other cut-outs. Walter Schroeder brought a real jack-o-lantern, which delighted the children. Next Friday we are all looking forward to a Hallowe'en party.

We received eight new library books this week. We are very proud of them.

Vann, L 2-1.

When we finished the "Bob and Judy" Reader this week, we gave a little radio program in our language period. Calvin Ray Allen brought a microphone and announced our program. We had songs, safety and fire-prevention poems, and some stories.

Those who bought Defense Stamps last week are: Bobby Ray Boydston, Sylvia Cozby, Shirley Stradley, James Talley, Charles Hall, Jill Bernethy and Harlan Hicks.

We are sorry to lose Charles Hall who is moving to Virginia. We hope that he will be back with our class sometime.

We have enjoyed making things for Hallowe'en this week. We are looking forward to the Hallowe'en party we are going to have next Friday. Our room mothers are giving this party, and we think they are very kind to do this for us.

In language this week we have been learning about Autumn and the other things that happen in Autumn.

Kay Morrison brought some gold fish to school and Frances Ray Spencer brought some flower bulbs. We thank them for these things to make our room more attractive.

Owen, L 2-3.

The children in Low Third Section 1 finished their Reader, "Little Indian" and are ready for another book. We all enjoyed reading about the Indians. Our new Reader is "Wheels and Wings".

We have been making Hallowe'en decorations for our room this week.

Kay Harris bought Defense Stamps. Jon Hy Bear, Donald Wills and Marie Dickie have been absent on account of illness. We hope they are back Monday.

Nine children made the Honor Rolls in Spelling this week. They are Shirley Berringer, Rita Fawler, Kay Harris, Mauritta Milan, Lanell Pitts, Erma Mae Smith, John Wayne Smith, Billy Dee Suddeth and Kenneth Wise.

Roberts, L 3-1.

The following pupils bought Defense Stamps last week: Anita Wolfe, Shirley Ann Wellington, Mary Jean Henderson, Shirley Ann Tyler, Maxine Broyles, Maurine Elliott, Clarence Monroe, Bettijean Harrison and Wynona Reed.

Last week being fire prevention week, we spent time in reading stories and in art we made fire prevention posters. The class voted Lillie Bell Hrazdil's poster the best.

Majors, L 3-2.

Spelling Honor Roll for this week included the following names: Wanda Lou Barker, Bobby Jo Brock, Hugh Fewin, Nathalie Foster, James Hicks, Gayle Henry, Ruth Mills, Larry Quinn, Laxson, Thomas May, Bobbie McDavid Sample, Kenneth Sanders, Raymond Schroeder, Betty Smith, Josie Vernon, Judy Willingham.

Very few children bought bonds and stamps this week. Our total is only $171.55 with one week to go to reach our $200. We must really try to meet our room goal.

Several children have been absent because of illness.

Adams, L 4-1.

We have two new pupils: W. C. Marton and Betty Jean Brickson. W. C. has attended school here before, but Betty Jean is new in our school. She comes from California.

We have been making Hallowe'en decorations. Everyone is looking to our party Thursday.

Stephenson, L 4-2.

The following pupils bought Defense Stamps this week: Mike Harms and Earl Wayne Mills. Our total amount, spent for bonds and stamps, is seventy eight dollars and seventy cents.

We are glad to have Mary Ellen Trotter back with us. Mike tells us that he went squirrel hunting over the week end. However, he found only owls and pecans.

Jimmie Hunt visited his aunt and uncle in Madill, Oklahoma, this week-end.

We were very happy that two of our room mothers came to P. T. A. last week. We hope that more of our mothers will attend the next meeting. We know that our mothers will attend the next meeting. We know that our parents are interested in us so we are sure that they will take this opportunity to investigate our school work and help us solve our school problems.

Our report cards were handed out last week and the results were that most of us have started working harder. Perhaps some of our cards will be better this next six-weeks.

One of our classmates, Dolores Vaughn, moved to Arizona this week. We received word that she would attend school there, but still likes her memories of L 6-2.

We have had three pupils absent from our room this week. They are: Charlie Payne, H. P. Waggoner, and Carl Whiteacre. Surely hope they are back with us again next week.

Six weeks test are over and we are ready to start a new six-weeks. We are going to work much harder next six weeks and try to bring our grades up.

We are very glad to get a holiday Friday.

L 6-3.

The Seventh grade has just completed their seventh week of school. Everyone survived the six weeks test. All were very happy to receive their report card on Wednesday. Some pupils came out with high honors. There were fifteen on the honor roll in English. Several pupils were on the honor roll in every subject.

Some of the Seventh Grade girls stayed after school and decorated the home room No. 11 for See GRADE SCHOOL, Page 5

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."
"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."
"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the war-alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. This entire industry stopped making whiskey over a year ago and has been working night and day producing nothing but war-alcohol."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that really is."

Map Forces Smashed in Sea and Air As Allies Pound Main Supply Bases; Germans Fall Back to Massico Ridge; Higher Dependency Allotments Fixed

U. S. army engineers clear path through ruins of a large town in southern Italy, where bitter fighting has raged along the road to Rome. Picture shows streets piled high with rubble, against a background of blackened and hollow buildings, stripped to skeletons by bombings.

ITALY: High Going

Following their usual tactics, the Germans were expected to hold out in the mountains. Italian Scenes Preceding New War Declaration Thirty-five days after surrendering to the Allies, Italy declared war on her former Axis partner, Germany. Marshal Pietro Badoglio announced the declaration and said that German ferocity had "surpassed every limit of human imagination" at Naples. In picture above, British anti-aircraft units are shown covering the arrival of troops near the Chiunzi pass, gateway to that city. Inset: After the fall of Naples, Italians mobbed a car carrying three fascist generals who had been in charge of defenses there. The generals had co-operated with the Germans and required Allied protection from the angry Italian masses.

Yankees in Germany Fare Better Than Civilians

A visiting delegate of the War Prisoners Aid of the YMCA made these photographs of captured American soldiers at a German prison camp southeast of Berlin. The prison camp fare plus weekly 1 1/2 pound food packages from the American Red Cross give the interned Yankees a better diet than that of German civilians. Top left: Prisoners receive Red Cross food parcels. Bottom left: American prisoners lined up before the mess hall. Some wear British uniforms because theirs were worn out or destroyed in battle. Right: Henry Soderberg, Swedish YMCA representative, talks with a leader of American prisoners.

The Cafe Society Uptown proprietor, who is so proud of the murals there, said to Mike Romanoff: "Prince, who did the decoration of your restaurant on the coast?" "Decorated?" replied Mike. "I am the decoration!" "Yes, I know that," was the retort delightful, "but who did the interior that pales into insignificance when you are not around to give it a glow?"

Betty Smith, whose first novel, "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," is a best seller, will soon be a grandmaw, and she's practically a girl herself. Last Laff Dep't: A West Coast biggie withdrew his 25 per cent interest in "Laugh Time," the hit, at the last moment. The show is making nothing but money.

When Mountbatten was in Washington recently they say he had a session with Admiral King, who graciously said: "If there is anything you want, you may have it. Just name it." The Admiral, of course, was speaking of ships, etc. Mountbatten replied: "There's just one request. I hope you will grant me a favor." "What is it?" asked Admiral King. "I would like," said His Lordship, "a top button from your tunic." King seemed puzzled. Mountbatten continued: "You see, I have General Arnold's wings and General Marshall's top button, and I am certain that with yours we will have good luck. Nothing, sir, can then happen to us."

"Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 3: Walter Winchell, New York City: Thought probably the politicians in Washington who are endeavoring to speak for the young men of America would be interested in the following resolution: Whereas: We the Utah State Junior Chamber of Commerce represent a cross section of the young married men of draft age in Utah. And Whereas we fully realize our responsibilities to our country in this time of war. "And Whereas: Acts and statements made by misinformed persons have created the false impression that draft age fathers wish special consideration from the selective service system on a dependency basis notwithstanding military requirements. Be it resolved: By the Utah State Junior Chamber of Commerce, in State Board meeting assembled this third day of October, 1943, that we urge the defeat of all legislation which attempts to defer heads of families on the basis of dependency only and reaffirm the fact that we have been and are ready and willing to answer the call to arms if and when we are summoned.—Pres. Provo Jr. C. of C., Provo, Utah."

The Eyebrow Raiser of the Week: Common Sense magazine's editor appeals for subscriptions from Americans to "repair any damage" we may do to Tokyo and Berlin. Editor A. M. Bingham says a group of vigorous thinkers and famous writers will contribute articles to that end. They include: Pearl Buck, Stuart Chase, Thomas Mann, Quincy Howe, Lin Yu-tang and John Haynes Holmes. "Tokyo may soon be destroyed," says Mr. Bingham. "The world's third largest city will not be pocked with areas of destruction like stone and steel-built London and Berlin. It will be literally gutted and 7,000,000 human beings will be homeless. To rebuild Tokyo, however, and Berlin and Essen. . . will require real statesmanship and an application of genuine democracy. Are you ready to help do it, or shall we crucify democracy on the cross of hate?" We just want to know one thing before we send in our check. . . SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER In the 45 years between 1889 and 1934, the output of rubber produced by the Far East plantations jumped from half a ton to 98 per cent of the world's supply—1934 shipments were 1,000,000 tons. The first official record, that for 1899, shows that four tons of rubber were produced from 4000 acres under cultivation.

The greatest enemies to the long life of natural rubber are sunlight, heat, oils, greases and solvents. The ultra-violet rays of the sun penetrate the surface of rubber, causing it to oxidize; heat causes deterioration, and oils develop swelling and softening, making the rubber more susceptible to damage. Dr. Eben Ryan Moving After Four Years At Randlett

At the recent session of the West Oklahoma Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, Dr. Eben Ryan, who has been serving the Randlett circuit for the past four years was moved to Cashe, Oklahoma. Dr. Ryan has been well known and greatly beloved in Burkburnett during the years he has pastored at Randlett and will leave many friends in this section. It was expected that he should continue as pastor at Randlett, but the charge boundaries were changed and Randlett was put on with Devol, where Rev. Perry McArthur has recently been appointed pastor.

Dr. Ryan visited in the services at the local Methodist Church on Sunday night and his very talented daughter, Nora, played a piano solo to the delight of the local congregation.

Calvary Baptist Church News

Sunday School begins at 10 a. m. with all classes studying the first chapter of Exodus—"The Children of Israel In Bondage." The book of Exodus is the book of redemption, and in it is vividly illustrated and typified the New Testament theme of redemption. We have had a great time in our Sunday School going through the book of Genesis, chapter by chapter, and now we are looking forward to another rich study in the book of Exodus. You cannot understand the New Testament as you ought without a working knowledge of the Old Testament. The old Testament is the New Testament unfolded, and Christ and His atonement is the theme of both.

Preaching at 11 o'clock. Sermon subject, "The Lord's Day—What Would It Mean To Us?"

Evening services begin at 7:15 with prayer groups and study groups meeting in their respective places. If you are a member, please be in your place; if you are not a member, you are cordially invited to be one of us in one of these groups.

Services in the auditorium begin at 8 o'clock, with Rufus Welborn leading the choir and congregation in the good old songs you love to hear and sing. There will also be special numbers.

Sermon subject for the evening message, "Where Are We Going? What Lies Ahead?" A timely message for this hour in which we now live. Make plans now to attend Sunday School and Church Sunday. We extend to you a most hearty welcome.

Clara Luth. Church Announcements

Paul Kaiser Pastor
Our nation has found in its people's government a way of life that preserves human dignity and permits the individual to live out his life as a steward of the talents which God has bestowed upon him. We cannot thank God sufficiently for our democratic form of government. When we see how other peoples are dominated, how they are denied the right of self-expression, we praise our God for this free land of ours.

Next Sunday, Reformation Day will be observed at the Clara Church. Thanksgiving will be offered up to God who through His chosen instrument, Martin Luther, restored the Word of God in its original purity. Luther was a mighty proponent of political and religious freedom. Freedom of conscience, freedom of religion, freedom of the individual—these were the great principles strongly espoused by Luther. The sermon to be delivered Sunday morning will take cognizance of these facts. Come out to the Clara Church and hear this message. The service begins at 11 a. m.

Holy Communion will be observed in the evening service, beginning at 8:00 P. M.

The Ladies' Aid meets on Thursday, November 4, at the home of Mrs. Edd Hieserman.

All other week-day activities as scheduled.

Grade School...

Hallowe'en. It really is a spooky place this week. The goblins will surely get the ones who do not study their lessons.

On October 30th, at her home, Gwynda Stevenson is giving a Hallowe'en party for the L 7-1 class. The pupils are looking forward to this occasion with pleasure. They had a grand time last year when Gwynda entertained the class.

The pupils should all have good lessons and be ready for hard work after their holiday last Friday. The teachers were busy issuing Ration Stamp books to the citizens of Burkburnett.

The absentees for the week were: Dawn Collier, Lloyd Kramer, James Mullins, Donald Pharis, Yelda Howard, Jesse Butler.

We were glad to have Joe Dale Sampson to enroll in our section. McGinnis, L 7-2.

The prize award of $1.00 for having the most mothers at the P.T.A. meeting last Tuesday went to the L 8-1 section of the 8th grade and is to be applied on a book for our room.

Our section was also in charge of the program for the meeting and several interesting numbers were contributed by Norma Ruth Lincoln, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. A. "Football Game" was the title of a reading given by Jessie Ruth Preston and a girls chorus composed of ten of our group sang, "The Victory Polka". The chorus was made up of the following girls: Carolyn Boyd, Gloria Minick, Jesse Ruth Preston, Beatrice England, Betty Ruth Cole, Dolores Kaspar, Donna Browning, Beth Brookshear, Norma Ruth Lincoln, and Vivean Suttles.

Two new posters motivating reading have been added to our room this week.

We regret to lose Wayne Anderson who has moved to Freeport, but we are happy to welcome Eddie Toland from California, as a new member of our group.

Three of our group are on the honor roll for the six week period just ended. They are Beth Brookshear, Dolores Kaspar, and Jessie Ruth Preston. As a new six weeks begins we are expecting this number to greatly increase by the time this six weeks period comes to a close.

L 8-1.

The L 5-1 section enrolled Mary Lou Rush from Fairview, Monday morning. We were glad to have the new pupil as we had lost two pupils since school started. We hope you like school here, Mary Lou!

Pearlene Nixon brought us another bowl of goldfish this week. That makes us seven real pretty fish for our room.

The L 5-1 section had nine mothers present at P.T.A. this week. We are very anxious to have a few more there next time.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 31

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

BIBLE TEACHINGS ON ABSTINENCE (International Temperance Sunday)

LESSON TEXT—Leviticus 10:1, 2, 8-11; Proverbs 31:4, 5; Luke 1:13-16. GOLDEN TEXT—Beware, I pray thee, and drink no wine nor strong drink.—Judges 13:4.

Total abstinence from all alcoholic liquors is the only sensible and effective policy for Christian people. Some, who want to use alcohol themselves, like to stress the Bible's teaching of temperance. They point to the use of wine on the part of people in biblical times, although they fail to note that more often than not it was non-alcoholic. (See "The Bible and Wine," published by Loizeaux Brothers.)

Another thing they ignore is that we live in a different day with a mechanized society, when alcoholic beverages are offered through high pressure advertising and in highly distilled and potent form.

What we are most interested in is what the Bible teaches about the matter. We note that—Abstinence is Necessary I. For Spiritual Obedience (Lev. 10:1-2, 8-11).

In the religious life of a nation one expects the leaders to set the example for the people to follow. Two things we may rightly demand of those who serve the nation in its religious life: (1) a vision of God and obedience to that vision in life and service, and (2) the exercise of sound, God-guided judgment in the affairs of the people.

But note what happens when the prophet and the priest turn to wine and strong drink. They err in vision (Isa. 28:7). That is, they have no clear concepts of divine truth, and lead the people into error. Further, we see that "they stumble in judgment."

To every true servant of God comes repeatedly the opportunity and the need of rendering judgment, that is, of advising and counseling those to whom he ministers. If his mind is befuddled by the use of alcohol (or, for that matter, by any other kind of worldly indulgence) he will "stumble," and cause his people to stumble.

A sad incident is related in Leviticus 10:1, 2, of the sons of Aaron. We are not told directly that they were intoxicated, but it is implied in the fact that there is an immediate injunction against the use of wine by the priests (Lev. 10:8-11).

II. For National Order (Prov. 31:4, 5).

It is a notorious fact that the liquor interests strongly influence the political life of a nation. (See "The Wrecking of the 18th Amendment," by Ernest Gordon.)

While political leaders may make sanctimonious protestation that government agencies are not influenced by the liquor interests, it is common knowledge even to those who are slightly informed that the two are closely associated.

The result of that unholy alliance is rightly described in Proverbs 31:5—"They . . . forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted." Much of the sad disorder in the body politic is traceable directly to the door of the makers and sellers of alcoholic beverages.

It is a depressing and disturbing thing when the leaders of a nation are known to lean on alcoholic stimulants—the broken reed on which man can only be pierced. The destructive influence of their example can be imagined.

III. For Personal Usefulness (Luke 11:13-16).

John was to be born into a life of such blessed usefulness to God and man that he was to be a "joy and gladness" to his parents, "great in the sight of the Lord," and instrumental in turning "many of the children of Israel . . . to the Lord."

Such a life is worthy of emulation on the part of every young man and woman. What is the secret of it? Undoubtedly, fine Christian parentage had much to do with it.

Other elements also entered in, such as rearing and training, but of great importance was the fact (v. 15) that he was not to be driven by the false stimulants of this world, but by the infilling of the Holy Spirit of God. No "wine nor strong drink," but being "filled with the Holy Ghost"—there, young people, is the secret of a happy and useful life.

Note that John was to be "great in the sight of the Lord" (v. 15)—nothing finer or more distinctive could be said about a man. That greatness simply could not exist along with indulgence in "wine nor strong drink." Being filled with the Spirit precludes the use of intoxicants.

Let us bear that in mind when we are tempted to be led astray by the smooth arguments of those who talk "temperance" as a ground for indulgence. Our boys and girls—yes, our men and women—need a constant warning against the evils of alcoholic liquor. (See Alcohol, a Deceiver, Depraver and Destroyer, published by Moody Press, Chicago.)

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former feature editor of the Charlotte (N. C.) News, has been inducted into the army and completed the first few weeks of his training at Fort Bragg. Before getting into the army, Hargrove advises selectees to "paint the town red." Once in, "the first three weeks are the hardest" so keep "an open mind." Hargrove has had plenty of trouble learning the fundamentals of army life and as a result has spent a good share of his time on KP duty. Classified as a cook he thinks it's good experience. His sergeant doesn't agree. Hargrove has learned a large portion of army slang and is about to enlighten the civilian on this score.

CHAPTER VI

When Junior comes home from camp on furlough or for the weekend, he probably will throw out his chest, pull his shoulders almost out of joint, and speak a sort of jargon entirely unintelligible to you. There is no cause for alarm; Junior is merely exaggerating to show off his familiarity with military life.

You will not be consoled by this knowledge when he begins speaking this unknown tongue. In order to understand some of his conversation, you might tear out this page and tuck it away in the drawer with your recipes and patterns.

Goldbricking is an Army term signifying in a word, loafing. In its strictest sense, it means avoiding your fair share of the work, thus making the load harder for the other boys. When Junior uses the term, however, it merely means hiding from the work in the first place or stretching an easy job out to make it last as long as possible.

Bating the breeze is the military equivalent of "bullshooting."

Police, as nearly as it can be explained, means "to clean up" or "to keep clean." Examples are kitchen police, or kappes, canteen police, and police the area.

Fatigue duty is work that is not actual military training, but a part of the turnabout method of getting the dirty work done. Fatigue clothes are the blue denims worn for extra duty. Regular uniforms are called OD's, an abbreviation for "olive drab."

GI is short for "Government Issue." GI soap is the yellow laundry soap, a GI brush is a hard-bristle scrubbing brush, and a GI haircut is the regulation style which sacrifices two-thirds of Junior's way locks to cleanliness and sanitation.

The PX is the post exchange, or canteen, a co-operative enterprise which sells practically everything the soldier needs. Three times a month, canteen books of credit tickets may be obtained in denominations from one to five dollars. Ten per cent of the proceeds from these are returned to the battery fund, which is used to buy nonessentials for the battery.

The old man is the battery commander, who may also be referred to among yourselves as the BC or the skipper. The top kick is a first sergeant, the chief of the battery's noncommissioned officers.

Jawbone is an apt word meaning "credit." A Jawbone corporal is an acting corporal, who has neither the acting nor the pay of a corporal.

Over the hill is an artistic way of referring to unauthorized absence. This is another expression for AWOL.

Food is chow or mess. Stew is slum or slumgullion. Salt pork, which you rarely see in the Army,

"Over the hill is an artistic way of referring to unauthorized absence—AWOL."

is called lamb chop. "They lam it against the wall to get the salt out of it and then they chop it up into the beans."

To fall out, soldiers vacate the barracks quickly, before the sergeant gets really mad. To fall in, they take their places in ranks.

A yardbird is the lowest form of animal life in an Army camp. Under animal life in law, he is rated as one the common law, he is rated as one the rank below a buck private. The rank below a buck private, or that yardbird, for this misdeed or that shortcoming, spends most of his time in menial labor about the battery area.

When Junior refers to a yardbird, you will notice, he is invariably speaking of someone else.

It was our afternoon off and we were lying around in our barracks, too lazy to dress for a movie or a trip to the Service Club. All of us were, that is, except Private Zuber. With an enthusiasm and energy for which an enthusiast's afternoon off, Zuber was applying a blinding glaze to his shoes. This finished, he con-ected an iron and began sharpening the creases in his trousers. "Going somewhere, I take it," asked Private Clarkin, the Jersey milkman.

Private Zuber grinned happily, and nodded. He donned his fresh clothing, gave his necktie several unnecessary tugs, and combed his hair for the twelfth time.

Private McGlauffin, late of the Minneapolis bar, laid down his copy of the Bartender's Guide and sat up on his bunk. "Didn't you know?" he asked. "Zuber's girl's coming down from Rochester. They're going riding."

"That's a fine thing," crowed Clarkin. "I haven't been for a spin since I've been here. Get your shoes on, Hargrove. And straighten your name plate, McGlauffin. We must make a good impression on our guest . . ."

"You sure are a pleasant surprise, ma'am," Clarkin prattled on to the pretty girl in the front seat. "Fancy Ben Zuber even knowing anybody like you. You should see the homely looking things he brings to the dances here."

She smiled a polite thank-you at Clarkin and glanced sharply at Zuber. "I never could even get him to the dances at home," she said. "He wouldn't even look at the girls at all. Would you, dear?"

"No, ma'am," groaned the martyred Zuber, who spent almost all his evening hours writing letters to Rochester.

"Just to look at Ben," said McGlauffin, "you'd never think such a quiet-seeming boy could raise so much devil. It constantly amazes me."

Private Zuber's girl friend's smile was not so spontaneous this time, and there was a baleful gleam in her glance at poor Benjamin. "What have you been doing, dear?" she asked with terrible gentleness.

Private McGlauffin went on glibly. "Tell her about the time you got tight in Fayetteville and tried to take the policeman's hat away from him, Ben?"

The one-girl audience was shocked. Her expression, as she looked at Zuber, was one of anxiety and doubt.

Clarkin began again. "And the terrible fight he had that time—ooof!" McGlauffin gave him a hearty dig in the ribs. To make sure that it had registered and created sufficient horrible curiosity in the feminine mind, he repeated it.

Private Zuber, guiltless but helpless, drooped his shoulders further as the terrible ride continued. "Here's the Service Club, dear," he finally said. "Shall we go in and have something to drink?" He gave the three of us a pathetically beseeching glance.

"They don't sell lemon extract in there, Zuber," I suggested. Clarkin, McGlauffin and I exchanged looks that purported to show a hidden knowledge of another terrible paragraph in the collapse of the soul of Benjamin Zuber.

We sat at a table in the Service Club drinking the sodas our victim bought for us. Clarkin looked long at his glass of water.

"The sight of water," he remarked, "reminds me of what the sergeant was telling Ben last week about daily bathing."

McGlauffin took pity on the innocent Zuber, who was dying for a cause he knew not. "We'll have to be going. We have things to do and I imagine you two young people want to enjoy each other's company."

"Yes," said Zuber's fiancée slowly. "Ben and I have SO much to talk about." Private Zuber shuddered and his shoulders slumped tragically.

"We certainly have enjoyed the afternoon," crowed Clarkin. "Lovely time."

One of the first people I looked up when I went to Charlotte on leave was Ward Beecher Threatt, who writes a column of sorts for the Saturday edition of the Charlotte News.

"Well, Hargrove," began the postcard philosopher, "how's the Army agreeing with you? I've been aching to find out what you've been doing." This was a subtle slam at my column.

"Well, all things considered—" I began.

"Nothing like the Army," said Ward Beecher. "I wouldn't take a million dollars for the time I spent in it. Nobody'd offer me a million anyway. Have you got a rating yet?"

"Well—" I began again.

"Lord, did I have my ups and downs! Got all the way up to sergeant three times and was busted three times—for the good of the service." He paused to light another cigarette and I thought I saw an opening.

"Let me tell you about the trip over," I said. "We left the—" "We started a crap game on the train," said Threatt, "and I had to wire home for money before I got to Rock Hill. Have you had a payday yet?"

"We'll have one—" I started.

"On that ocean voyage," he broke in. "I went for fourteen days without a cigarette. I followed one man all around the boat waiting for him to throw away a butt. Instead of throwing it on the deck, where I could have scooped it, he flung it over the rail. I followed another and just when I thought he'd be ready to throw it away, I asked him for the butt. The son-of-a-gun told me he had three different kinds of colds—and he threw his cigarette over the side. He didn't have another, he said."

"We landed at Brest," he said, "and we had to walk up one of the longest durned hills I've ever seen before we could drop our suitcases. The Frenchmen swarmed around us, selling everything from steamer trunks to fine-toothed combs. Twenty of us boys pooled our pocket money to buy a pack of cigarettes for fifty cents. What are you going to spend your first pay on?"

"Oh, I suppose I'll—" "First payday I had I went out and bought myself a pack of cigarettes and lay awake almost all night smoking them. Best cigarettes I ever tasted. By the way, how's the food at Fort Bragg?"

"I find it very—" "Over in France we used to take our drinking water and swap it to the French for wine. It was a toss-up which tasted worse—our water or their wine. Ah, there was the days! Like your uniform?"

"I think it's very—" "Nothing like the ones we wore. There we were, in the hottest part of the summer, with these woolen

A CLASSIC for the school-girl wardrobe, this casual jumper with the set-in belt and ample pockets will make her eyes sparkle even more brightly, getting her off to a perfect start.

Rapid Flashlight

A new portable photographic flashlight, using a mercury lamp about the size of a cigarette, goes on and off in one millionth of a second, and it can "freeze" the action of a wheel making 70,000 revolutions a minute, says Collier's. While the life of this lamp is only one second, it will provide a million flashes or the number used in 10 years by 20 busy newspaper photographers.

When a sergeant tells you that it's the little things in life that are important, he's not just saying it. A sergeant who impresses that one corny slice of homely philosophy upon a rookie's mind is giving him one of the most important lessons of his Army life.

The soldier has a thousand and one small things to remember in his everyday life. Most of these he forgets at least once before a non-com etches them vividly on his mind with kitchen duty.

At retreat, the afternoon inspection of the soldiers, I always check everything before I fall out for the oncoever. Are my shoes shined? Is my rifle cleaned and oiled? Is my name plate pinned straight over my left shirt pocket? Can I get by with this morning's shave? Do I need a haircut? Are all my pockets buttoned? When I make sure that everything is as it should be, I sigh with satisfaction and fall out.

The battery assembles in a neat, precise picture of mass formation. The battery commander orders the top kick to "Prepare the battery for inspection!" The top kick opens the ranks and the lines straighten out to perfection. From where I stand, everything looks perfect.

The battery commander begins his inspection. Until he gets almost to me, I feel almost smug to think that for once I've stood retreat and not fallen short somewhere. To bask in my own perfection, I sneak a forbidden peek at my gun and uniform.

Then, to my horror, I see two shiny strands of stainless steel just below my belt—the chain on that daddledollar watch! Your whole day can be spoiled by doodads such as that marring the neatness and simplicity of your uniform. Back to the kitchens, Duley!

There's one good thing, however, about forgetting to take off your nonkosh watch chain for retreat, or to put on your leggings for reveille, or to straighten the shoes under your bunk! After the first time, you remember them!
