President Garland Presents Rotary Program Tuesday

President Truman Garland had charge of the Rotary program Tuesday noon, and presented a program by local Rotarians.

He introduced Carl Morrison, who is going in his sixteenth year of perfect attendance record, who made a talk on "What It Means To Have 15 Years of Perfect Rotary Attendance." His talk was well enjoyed and was an incentive to the other members to attend regularly.

He was followed by M. C. Tucker, who made a talk on "What It Means To Be A Rotarian." He told of his experiences in Rotary and What Rotary Stands For. After Mr. Tucker's talk, Samuel DeBlock, president of the Newburgh Camp of the Gideons Society was presented to the club and he told of the organization of the Gideons Society, and their mission in life. The organization is composed of Christian business men of every denomination.

It was announced that the District Governor, "Eric" Larmour, will pay his official visit to the club next Tuesday and the Rotary Anns will be the guests of their husbands.

Nine Rotarians from Wichita Falls made up the attendance here. They were: Tom Edwards, E. M. Crump, Charlie Tucker, Kindell Paulk, J. K. Estes, Hugh Allen Harnes, Everett McCullough, and Fred Story. Chaplain Boggs, who recently moved here, was the guest of Boyd I. DeVore; Samuel DeBlock was the guest of Tom Boyd; Coxswain Jim Clark was the guest of Walter Riley, and Joe Nichols had as his guest P. W. Tucker.

Burkburnett Area Girls Enter U. S. Cadet Nurses' Corps

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 22.—Recognition of war workers has been a big factor in the enlistment in the U. S. Cadet Nurses' Corps of 65 out of the 70 new students in the University of Texas John Sealy College of Nursing here, Miss Marjorie Bartholf, director, has declared.

The new class began work the last week in October, and is already busy in classroom and laboratory working toward the coveted "R. N." which will be awarded at the end of the three year course, Miss Bartholf said.

In addition to the almost unanimous enlistment of the new class in the Cadet Corps, 75 per cent of the students already in the College of Nursing has also enlisted.

The two members of the class from this area are: Valta Brookman, Burkburnett; Marie Estelle Hill, Wichita Falls.

DEAR SON

I wish I had the power to write The thoughts wedged in my heart tonight As I sit watching that small star— And wondering how and where you are.

You know, Son, it's a funny thing How close a war can always bring A family, who for years with pride Have kept emotion deep inside.

I'm sorry that when you were small I let reserve build up the wall. I told you real men never cried— And it was Mom who always dried Your tears, and smoothed the hurt away So that you soon went back to play.

Nw suddenly I find my Son A full-grown man with childhood gone. Tonight you're far across the sea Waging war for men like me.

Well, somehow, pride and what is right Just doesn't seem to go tonight. I find my eyes won't stay quite dry I find that sometimes men do cry— And if we stood here face to face I'm afraid 'we'd find men do embrace.

Son, all Dads are a funny lot And if I've failed you in some spot It's not because I loved you less It's just this cussed manliness.

But if I had the power to write The thoughts wedged in my heart tonight The words would ring out loud and true I'm proud my boy, yes, proud of you.

Seaman first-class and Mrs. Roy Lee Simpson are here from Coast Guard Station in Galveston, visiting their parents, Mrs. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Charboneau.

Sgt. Melvin Charboneau is at home on furlough from Arizona, visiting friends and parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Charboneau, in Devol, Okla.

Bangles will be for sale through the schools. Last year a sizable contribution was given by the school students. It is hoped that many will buy the bangles for five or ten cents.

Additional seals may be obtained from the above named parties, or directly from the office in the County Court House.

Next War Loan Drive Will Begin Jan. 18

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The nation's No. 1 salesman—the millions of volunteers in the war bond campaigns—prepared today for the $14,000,000,000 fourth war loan drive which will begin Jan. 18 and run until Feb. 15.

The treasury in announcing the new drive yesterday, said state war financing committees have been strengthened and expanded and that major emphasis this time will be placed on the $5,500,000,000 quota for civilians. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau emphasized however that other non-banking investors also will be invited to participate.

Season Tickets To Be Good For Game

The Thanksgiving day game between Burkburnett Bulldogs and the Wichita Falls Coyotes, scheduled to be played here Thursday afternoon, Nov. 25th, has been transferred to Coyote Stadium in Wichita Falls.

The change was agreed upon by the officials of the two schools in meeting held last Saturday. The game is called for 2:30 Thursday afternoon and the change was made due to the poor attendance at the past game here, and will enable the fans of Wichita Falls and the soldiers of Sheppard Field to see the game without having to go out of town.

Supt. Davis announced that all season tickets for the game scheduled here will be honored at the box office at Coyote Stadium. He has secured Section K, on the East side, for the fans of Burkburnett. Section K is on the 50-yard line. He also states that those not attending the game and wishing their mney back on their season ticket (for this game) can have same by contacting him at the High School before game time.

The Bulldogs have played some good and bad ball this year, but the fans can be assured of good game when they tangle with Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon. The Bulldogs may play listless football during the season but you can be assured that they will put out all they have when they tackle Wichita Falls—the team every school in the district dreams of beating.

Two Burk Youths Team Up To Beat S.M.U. Mustangs

Two former Burkburnett Bulldog stars now playing with the Texas Tech Red Raiders, teamed up last Saturday to beat the Southern Methodist University Mustangs by the score of 7 to 6.

They were Freddie Brown in the back field, and Bobby Hayes, guard. It was Brown who kicked the point that untied the game, and Hayes was in on the play that blocked Allen's kick, which might have meant a tie for S.M.U.

Jimmie Brookman, a member of this year's Bulldogs, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jingle Hays to the game, and acted as water boy for the Red Raiders.

The highest denomination of bank note issued by the U. S. Federal Reserve is $10,000.

Thanksgiving In War

Is there one in Burk to ask why we should give thanks this year in a sorry world? The list is long indeed, this matter of blessings, whether in time of war or peace, of danger or safety. In the days of the Pilgrims, when the first Thanksgiving was observed in 1621, the festival did not find them surrounded by privileges and opportunities without peril and privation to accompany them. They were refugees, had had their faith tried on every hand, suffered and toiled to make a living in this new land. Their devotion to a cause, their courage to surmount obstacles, their energy to overcome their enemies, all lead to our present Thanksgiving. We too have had lessons in privations, suffered death in our midst at the hands of enemies, found purses touched by heavy demands, been upset by criticism and known injustice. But should we pass by this Thanksgiving and wait until peace and harmony is established before we continue our prayers of thankfulness for blessings?

Our stomachs have not suffered from hunger, we have not lost our rights in education and worship. We have had less in luxuries and certain privileges and opportunities. We still have the basic idea of the Pilgrim Fathers as our guide and our right. This was carved out for us never to be destroyed. We will not concede one inch in thankful ness, be not one whit less grateful for democracy, tolerance, church worship, educational advantages, will not cease struggling to overcome prejudice and bigotry. The Thanksgivings of past years have found us pretty self-satisfied with ourselves and our nation, might even be called smug in our attitude. We are better able now to give reverent praise and deepful thanks for our wonderful beneficence and pray to be worthy of the happiness and joy to be had in a great country built by brave men and watched over by a just God.

Doing It Earlier

There is nothing new in the yearly suggestion to "do your Christmas shopping early". When isn't it advised in order to facilitate delivery, wear not too thick the clerks and to offer a better selection of merchandise? This year they ask us to do it even earlier than usual. Some of the Burk Burnett shoppers have already heeded the advice to mail gifts in November and the plea will be answered by many others before the month is past. The postoffice must get the cards and gifts at least three weeks before Christmas and then can't assure us of prompt service. Due to the experience they had in handling the overseas gift boxes, they feel it is necessary to do our heavy mailing in November if we want to play safe and sure. No matter how important are gifts and cards to keep up morale, even at Christmas time the movement of war materials, war personnel and the usual military mail, will go first. We only have just so much transportation. So let's hurry and be about our gift wrapping.

Butchering

November brings to rural America the institution we call butchering and it is being done in certain small towns and country settlements all over, at this season. Changes have been made in farm life, in many ways, but the manner of modern living haven't put a stop to the time of slaughtering, which brings together the men to talk politics and the women to cook the meals as they exchange recipes and gossip. Friends gather and appetites reach a new high. Butchering day becomes a festival of sorts and what might be unpleasant about the killing is really an invitation to attend a sociable event. It all leads up to spareribs, backbone, sausage and tenderloin. It approaches the real of dumplings and mince pie. A time for taste and not distaste.

Still Plugging

The fact still remains that we can't let up in our duty to our country, our boys, ourselves. Over-confidence and we slacken in buying war bonds, gathering scrap to give to steel mills who are sorely in need of it, turning in fat for explosives, keeping military news to ourselves, seeing production continues without no more than lawful, ending black markets and collecting papers and magazines. Such things as over-confidence, coal strikes, political jealousies, can make this country suffer. The war is not over, effort must be exerted to keep up the good fight—but with the enemy and not among ourselves. None of us in Burk Burnett must relax or withdraw until the peace is a certainty.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"
"In 'The Stars and Stripes'... the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"
"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"
"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.'"

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

This is a Wartime... THANKSGIVING

LET US GIVE THANKS for all the precious relationships and possessions that we have. But let us rededicate ourselves unstintingly striving for the Victory which will endow all the people of all the world with that liberty which is our greatest reason for Thanksgiving! The most gratifying way you can observe this holiday this year—is by inviting one or more service men into your home for dinner and heart warming companionship.

WORLD NEWS ANALYSIS

Wreck Northern Italian Ports Hamper Future Allied Operations; Allied Nations Formulate Relief Plan; U. S. Issues Current Casualty Figures

NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Wreck Northern Italian Ports

Northern ports of Leghorn and Genoa were blocked by Nazi bombers and squads to render them unusable to the Allies for future operations in the event Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower attempted landings to trap elements of five German divisions holding out in the Italian peninsula.

CROPS: Weather Helps

Profiting from favorable weather, the 1943 corn crop was estimated at 3 billion, 85 million bushels by the department of agriculture on the basis of conditions November 1. This compared with last year's record crop of 3 billion, 175 million bushels.

With October weather good and without widespread frosts, the large acreage of late corn reached maturity in Iowa, Missouri, northwestern Ohio, and parts of Michigan and Indiana.

Other crop estimates for 1943: Wheat, 835,816,000 bushels; oats, 1,148,692,000; barley, 330,212,000; rye, 33,314,000; flaxseed, 51,486,000; soy beans, 206,017,000; rice, 69,019,000; potatoes, 469,092,000; sugar beets, 7,239,000 tons, and peanuts, 2,681,955,000 pounds—record highs for rice, potatoes and peanuts.

Hogs Crowd Markets

Chicago's sprawling stockyards teemed with over 60,000 live hogs after a high three-day shipment of 128,500 head, which compared with 85,550 for the previous week and 66,418 for the same period of 1942.

As a result, packers paid the "floor" of $13.75 for only the heavier weights out of the 200 to 275 pound range on which the government has pledged price support.

So called "floor" prices were high on the flooded market, equalling the lowest tops since last December.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC: At Japs' Rear

Pursuing his policy of pinching off Japanese strongholds in the Southwest Pacific by cutting off their communications, Gen. Douglas MacArthur has established U. S. forces to the rear of the enemy's important forward base of Buin on Bougainville island in the Solomons.

With U. S. marines and doughboys standing astride the Japs' communication lines leading to Buin, they were in position to strike against the enemy supplies, and his main body from the rear.

Bougainville is the Japs' last important holding in the Solomons, and apparently they were determined to take advantage of the wild nature of the humid, tropical isle for another long, delaying action.

U. S. CASUALTIES: Total 120,967

U. S. casualties totaled 120,967 for almost two years of war, with the army reporting 89,648, and the navy 31,317.

Of the army casualties, 12,841 were killed, 30,263 wounded, 23,952 missing and 22,592 prisoners. Since the landing at Salerno, September 9, the U. S. suffered 8,556 casualties in Italy, with 1,295 killed, 4,764 wounded and 2,497 missing.

Of the navy casualties, 12,548 are dead, 5,542 wounded, 8,999 missing, and 4,228 prisoners.

Of the nearly 7,700,000 men in the army, about 2,500,000 men will be serving abroad by the end of the year.

Wounded American Prisoners Reach Allied Port

Repatriated from prison camps in Germany, wounded American fighters are shown as they reached Allied port at Leith, Scotland. Left: One of the first Americans to be brought ashore was Sgt. John Gardner. Right: Many of these men are fliers who fell into German hands when their crafts were downed.

Coastguardsmen's Wives Keep House in Pacific

On the Farallon Islands, 32 miles from the coast of San Francisco, five wives of coastguardsmen keep house for their husbands. Their only means of transportation to the mainland is the weekly trip of the light-house service ship. Left: Warrant Radio Electrician George B. Warwick (right) and Chief Motor Machinist's Mate Frank Barnett, first and second in command respectively. Top Right: Wives of the coastguardsmen are (left to right) Mrs. Maxine Smith, Mrs. Betty Barnett, Mrs. Gloria Dunn, Mrs. Sara Hewett, Mrs. Betty Barnes, and Mrs. Eileen Spears. Mrs. Barnett has a little daughter with whom she lives on the mainland. Bottom Right: Rabbits abound on the Farallon Islands.

Children Give Thanks for Deliverance GodfatherGen.Smuts

Although the words are not uttered in English they could readily be understood by a casual observer as these Polish refugee children say grace at a camp in Santa Anita, Calif. They are some of the 300 Polish refugee children who are on their way to Mexico where they will remain for the duration as wards of the Polish government in exile.

Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, high commissioner of the Union of South Africa, played the role of godfather to Angela Petrina Hugo, whom he holds in a London church. Miss Hugo's father is a captain assigned to the Mediterranean theater of war.

Morning After the Night Before

The morning after a night raid on Japanese objectives in the South Pacific, members of a patrol torpedo boat crew discuss the battle. This picture was made at a concealed base in New Guinea where the "Green Dragons," as the Japs call the PT boats, hide out between forays. The men are leaning on a torpedo tube.

Photogenic WAC

Judged the most photogenic WAC in the army air forces west of the Mississippi, Mary Lou Ferguson, 26, has been named "Poster Girl." Her picture will be used for recruiting.

About New York:

What looks like a palace at Park Ave., and 51st is merely the uppity Racquet and Tennis Clubhouse. . . There is a Park Ave. penthouse that has a garden with a 30-foot waterfall. . . Radio City's studios are built like boxes within boxes, separate rooms within rooms, raised from the building floors by steel springs covered with felt in order to improve acoustics.

Thirty-two years after Columbus discovered America the strip of land now known as Manhattan was discovered by Giovanni da Verrazano. There isn't even a street named after him. . . What many sightseers think is romantic and picturesque in Chinatown are merely rundown tenements. The city's worst slums are located there. . . Our fighting Mayor LaGuardia has installed a punching bag in one of the City Hall rooms. . . Only six cities in Germany contain more Germans than Yorkville. . . Many of the Oriental herbs sold for high prices in exclusive food shops are grown in Staten Island. . . If you want a whiff of old New York, go to the Murray Hill Hotel.

Ten times as many people visit New York during a year as live in the metropolis. . . As far as earthquakes are concerned, the Big City is the safest part of the world. . . Only 4,000 of the 18,000 Chinese in New York live in Chinatown. . . This gives you an idea how cosmopolitan our burg is: It has three Arabic daily newspapers. . . The Chinese maintain a school for their children in Mott St. . . The merriest locale in town is the Puerto Rican section of Harlem on Saturday night. . . There are laws regulating the shape of our skyscrapers. . . The opening of the Brooklyn Bridge was celebrated as a national holiday. For twelve years, while the bridge was being built, the chief engineer had lain partially paralyzed. The first lady to drive across it was his wife, who acted as his intermediary.

The Herman Goering award is presented monthly to a member of the American Air Force in England. . . It is given to the Yank who contributes most to the German war effort. It is a large iron cross (12 by 12 inches) worn around the neck. . . The RAF has a similar prize—published each week in its paper—a parody on an official seal.

Recently it was awarded to the crew of a large bomber, returned from a mission. . . It seems they couldn't make their radio work properly on the way home. The gas was almost gone and finally they were forced down in what they thought was Holland.

Upon landing, they immediately set fire to their bomber, stayed with it until it lit up the black night. . . Then they ran like anything for what they thought was the nearest house, praying that the tenants were sympathizers.

It was the saloon around the corner from their base!

One of the most important stories of the war (how the surrender of the Italian fleet was achieved by a radio engineer of the Overseas Branch of the OWI) was ignored or buried by most newspapers. Not one of them even mentioned his name. He is Robert Morris Pierce of Cleveland, Ohio, attached to the Army's Psychological Warfare branch, of which OWI is an important part. . . Here is how it was done. . . When Italy surrendered, a message was prepared for broadcast to the Italian fleet. . . It is doubtful if the fleet would hear it—because the Italian Navy had a strict taboo on listening to our broadcasts. . . Pierce solved the problem by working all night to shift the big transmitter to the international distress signal band to which ships of all nations listen. . . The message was broadcast every 15 minutes for several hours. . . When the Italian fleet steamed into Malta (as a result of the broadcast) Admiral Sir Andrew Brown Cunningham, Allied Naval Force Commander, said: "Tell General McClure they've accomplished in one day with propaganda what I've been trying to do for three years with the Navy."

Groucho Marx told Artur Rubinstein that Southern California was becoming the home of musical greats. Rachmaninoff, Menuhin, Iturbi, Rubinstein, Heifetz, all of whom played at the H'wood Bowl. The maestro said when the season ended he was in the foyer of the Philharmonic and heard two dowagers discussing music. "How was the season at the Bowl?" one asked. "Quite good," was the answer, "considering that we had noitjns but local talent."

WHAT a lucky girl to own this pinafore! It took very little of Mother's time to do this simple pattern and this easy stitching. There are motifs for two pinafores. . . or use them on nursery linens or some tot's clothes or bibs.

The mace, or symbol of authority, of the speaker of the house of representatives stands in a pedestal at his right hand during every session, says Collier's. When a member ignores the order of the speaker to be silent and resume his seat, the speaker reminds one and all of his position and power by having the mace carried around the room.

Enthusiasm Marked Meth. Fellowship Anniversary Banquet

A very enthusiastic group of Young Adults met at the First Methodist Church Monday night to observe the third anniversary of the organization of the Fellowship Class with a Turkey Banquet together. The turkeys were done to a turn and the table was beautifully decorated with patriotic colors. Flags and a V shaped table with many flowers gave a beautiful setting.

The Class has been enjoying the fine lessons brought by Mrs. DeVore, and has a beautifully decorated room in which to meet. Because of prevailing conditions the membership of the class changes rapidly, but the friendly enthusiasm of the group carries forward a real service.

Pat Morrison Speaker
The class enjoyed the inspiring message brought by Pat Morrison, formerly of Burkburnett, on The Church and The World After This War. Special music was rendered by Joella Morgan and Mamie Browning, by the Reed Sisters, and a reading "Dress Up" by Shirley Jean Jones.

Harry Goble, the very popular president of the Fellowship Class, was toastmaster and introduced several new members of the class.

This class has just completed the sending of Christmas cards to more than fifty men in the armed services from the local Methodist Church and is sponsor of the Cub Packs of Boy Scout Troop 155.

Baptist Church Announcements

Sunday School, 9:45.
Preaching, 11:00.
Training Union, 7:00.
Preaching Services, 8:00.
Up a little each Sunday is the record of the Sunday School, with a mighty good crowd each preaching service.

The services last Sunday centered around the Thanksgiving Service. The Lord was good to us and four people responded—three for baptism and one by letter.

Were you in your place last Sunday? Did you neglect the Lord—His church—His Day? No command will mean more to a people—a nation—or an individual than the fourth—"Remember the Sabbath and keep it Holy", and it literally means WHOLY too, not just a part of it.

For the first time the Training Union has gone over the 100 mark. There were 105 in the Training Union. We are gradually climbing up the hill. Our goal in the near future is 150 and why should we not have even more than that?

November's record will be made next Sunday. It is the last Sunday. Thus for the average attendance has been 320—will we raise that or go under it?

Remember there is a place for all your family in the First Baptist Sunday School and preaching services. You will be blessed and be a blessing if you will find your place of service with us. Thrice welcome.

A. E. Harrison, Pastor.

We are looking forward to our Thanksgiving holidays and are planning to have a good time. We have been studying the history of this holiday, and we understand more fully its meaning. Several of us are planning to go out of town to visit.

We are busy taking our second six weeks test. We can hardly realize that we have finished one-third of our fourth grade work. We are going to try even harder next six weeks.

L 4 1, Adams.

We have been studying about the company of the Pilgrims and have decorated our room for Thanksgiving.

Our stamp and bond sales amount to $122.90 for the year. Several children continue to be absent. We hope they will soon be back in school.

Stephenson, L 4-2.

Six Weeks' test are to be given real soon, so all of us studied hard this week trying to raise our grades. A list of all making U's was posted on our board and it is up to each one of us to raise our grades and shorten the U list. We have been told that some of us are going back to a lower grade if our grades are not raised this six weeks. We do hope everyone will study hard so that we can all stay together.

Peggy Rinefeldt and Thomas Denmon each bought $1.00 in War Savings Stamps last Thursday.

We were very sorry to hear that Kenneth Nixon broke his right arm. We hope you will soon be back in school Kenneth.

We're looking forward to our Thanksgiving holidays, with plans for hikes, pean hunts, and weekend visits.

L 6-3.

"Thanksgiving is a joyous time. Harvests rich and peace sublime. And all our blessings we parade Naming each that God has made. Kitchens filled with turkeys brown, Shelves with pies are loaded down, Geese and chickens everywhere. In the bins are pumpkins rare. Visiting grandma thrills us all In the cool, crisp days of fall, Now we pause a prayer to say— God make us worthy of this day."

—Donovan Marshall.

The L 7-1 class has been busy all the past week getting ready for Thanksgiving. They have colored pictures and put up posters of November scenes above the blackboard.

The pupils have been busy getting their note books up to date and reviewing for their six weeks test. Friday they were given an extra period for study. This time was spent in reviewing for their English examination. Some of the members found difficulty in selecting the subject of sentence, others would recognize the subject readily.

On last Friday's spelling test the following pupils made perfect paper: W. L. Gibson, Wanda Hicks, Georgia Hrazdil, LaCleta Jennings, Linda Sands and Wanda Tyler.

The ones who made G in arithmetic were: W. L. Gibson, Georgia Hrazdil, Jimmie Sue Lane, Kenneth Hervey, Lloyd Lorang, J. T. Reasoner, Wanda Tyler and Joe Wood.

The class has shown some improvement in their penmanship. J. T. Reasoner drew an excellent diagram of a "divide" for Geography. The teacher put it on the bulletin board.

We regret very much that Wanda Hicks has been absent several days due to illness. The class sent her flowers and a greeting card to cheer her.

We trust she can soon return to school, in time for the examinations at least.

Mrs. Gracey, L 7-1.

Christian Science Services Sunday

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 28.

The Golden Text is: "Be merciful unto me, O God; for man would swallow me up; he fighting daily oppresseth me. . . . What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee" (Psalms 56:1, 3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways" (Psalms 91:10,11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth and Love come nearer in the hour of woe, when strong faith or spiritual strength wrestles and prevails through the understanding of God"

Welcome, SOLDIER!

Every day armies of servicemen move in a never-ending line throughout the Gulf South. At nearly every stop, at railroad stations and bus terminals, these men in uniform are met by friendly volunteer workers who are ready to serve coffee and doughnuts, to answer questions, mail letters, and to help in the thousand and one other ways that mean so much to a soldier away from home.

In the small hours of morning or after a hard day of house work these volunteers give unselfishly of their time. They feel that any sacrifice of theirs is small if it makes life a little easier for thousands of sons, husbands and friends who are giving up the comforts of home to fight for Victory.

We recognize the valuable service rendered to our fighting men by the Red Cross and other organizations . . . appreciate the helping hand that America's volunteer workers daily extend to the more than 800 United men in uniform.

THE Heavenly Blue morning glories bloom indoors the year around in this bathroom. The thought of such morning cheer should prompt a man to get out his key hole saw and cut out scallops for the top and bottom of a box cabinet like the blue and white one in the sketch, and should start someone making applique towels and curtains. The mirror on the window sill is kept from sliding forward by a pair of firmly anchored spools painted to match the frame.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears has designed a pattern (No. 207) for all types of cut-out scallops to be used in wood or fabric. The handy man will be fascinated with the variety of things he can make with this pattern. The Morning Glory pattern (No. 202) contains 10 designs. Send 15 cents for each pattern desired to:

Kathleen Norris Says: Two Letters From the Boys

By KATHLEEN NORRIS A SOLDIER stationed in Guadalcanal sent me a letter from his wife this week. Another soldier, this one now in Sicily, also sent me a letter from his wife. The first man merely wrote largely on the margin of the letter, "My gosh, this is certainly a swell rat-race to fight for!"

This is the first letter. The writer is 23; she was married a year ago; her husband was in America for some months and had frequent home leaves; he went away in January.

"Darling old Pete, awful heat here, I'll bet you don't have it any worse, no matter what you're up against. Nothing ever happens in this jay town; I don't see how your mother and father stand it. I drink long iced drinks all day long and take ten baths a day.

Night Swims With Soldiers. "We all go swimming up by the bridge hot nights. There are plenty of enlisted men to go with us; some awfully nice, some fresh of course. Ned Smith's cousin is here, he is a peach. After we swim Mac runs us up to Jackson's; they've got a big open-air restaurant at the back now, with a band, and we dance."

That is one wife's letter. Here is the other. "Dearest Keith; five o'clock, and that seems to be the hour when I miss you most. Your mother is usually upstairs then, resting before we get dinner; your father isn't home. I've had my long sleep after breakfast, and my bath, and don't have to report until seven. And this is the moment I let go, just a little, and need you. So here I am walking out into Sicily, among the big bomber hangars, and asking for Captain Keith. Here I am, dear, putting my face up for you to kiss me, and taking just one moment of your time to say 'Everything's all right. We're working hard and praying hard and holding hard onto the future, when everything we've ever dreamed will come true.'"

"Well, first I'll tell you where I am and what I'm doing, and all the

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former newspaper employee of a North Carolina paper, has been inducted into the army and is receiving his basic training at Fort Bragg. He has become well acquainted with many phases of army life but because of his classification as a cook and his too-often KP assignments he knows more about the company kitchen than most rookies. He has acquired a good understanding of "goldbricking," "shooting the breeze" and all the other extra-curricular soldier activities. As we pick up the story he is discussing some of the interesting traits of his close friend, Private Sher. It is with Sher that Hargrove has shared many of his adventures.

CHAPTER X

There was one Sunday evening when Sher started a letter to his family and found, after a couple of paragraphs, that there was nothing for him to write about. "Here, Junior," he said. "Write a letter for your old daddy. Give them the old Hargrovin schmaltz."

Since Junior was in a devilish mood, he sat down and wrote a long and inspired letter to the Shers of Columbus, Ohio—telling them how their little Maurice was falling behind in his class by goldbricking and hanging out late at the Service Club, entreating them to return him to his true career, the Army. I finished by saying, "You see who's writing the letters; you should know where to send the cookies. Forget that bum Maury."

Several days later—after I had swapped in skillet for a typewriter and had moved to Headquarters Battery—I came by Battery A to see if I had any mail from my nonwriting friends in Charlotte. There weren't any letters, but there was a package which looked about the size of a steamer trunk. There were enough cookies inside to feed a small regiment for three days.

The card inside read: "Dear Hargrove—We think your idea about the cookies is superb. Give Maury one or two; he's a good boy when he wants to be. Why don't you come up to Columbus on your furlough?"

It seemed that this beautiful friendship—with all its fragrant memories, its happy hours and hell-raising, its beautiful cigarettes, cookies, and Samaritan relatives—was destined to end with the closing of the basic training cycle here.

The old gang, which has lived and worked and played together for over three months and has grown into a close and sympathetic brotherhood, is dissolving now. The training cycle is being finished and already the old ties are loosening.

The student cooks whom I grew to know and feel a fondness for during those months are not so fortunate as some of the other soldiers. The Charlotte boys who were inducted with me and who went through their antitank training together will go together to Fort Knox and will continue to be with each other for at least a while longer. On the other hand, these student cooks of Battery A will not go out together. No Fort is going to be sent a whole battery of cooks. One cook will be needed here, another there, and the old third platoon will be scattered from hell to breakfast.

An old thirty-year man, with five or six hash marks on his sleeve, will tell you that no matter how long you stay in the Army, you'll never find a battery that quitters quite up to the first battery in which you served, no group of buddies quite like the old gang you knew first.

There's a reason for it. In your first organization, you learn for the first time all the regulations and the customs and the traditions of the Army. When you first face them, they're tough or they're uninteresting, and when you finally get to understand and agree with them, they're identified in your memory with the battery where you learned them.

With the men who serve with you there, you grow closer through hardship and privation than you can possibly place as God is clearly in your mind as a follower of the faith.

His enemies to convict him of falsehood. No one has been able to meet that

He made for Himself and the Saviour of the world are plain and unmistakable about you are sensitive, delicate boys, newly yanked from home or school, accustomed to an easy-going and usually painless life. You share each other's illness, fatigue, despair. When Happy Menza grows homesick for Buffalo and McGlauffin starts a wistful reminiscence about the lakes and forests of Minnesota, you are homesick for them rather than for yourself. You are companions tested in misery.

Friday night was probably the last evening the boys of my old crowd would be together. At least, it was the last evening they were sure of being together. The following day they were to go home for a week's furlough. On their return, next Monday, they will be assigned to their permanent stations to enter the field as soldiers. So they arranged to hold a party Friday night on the river beyond Fayetteville.

When we rode to the river in our chartered bus, we rang the welkin with the old songs—the faintly fragrant songs you pick up through the years and the "Caisson Song" and "Old King Cole" that you learn in the Army. They were boisterous, those songs, but a melancholy strain ran under all of them.

At the party we ate barbecue and we drank beer and we recalled the best anecdotes of the training cycle. We sang and we shouted. Two or three of the boys dipped a little too deep into the keg and became slightly sentimental. And although the food and the beer were the best, the songs were the songs we loved and the anecdotes were the cream of the season, it was empty joy. It had a dull undercurrent of sorrow.

It was the sort of feeling that you know in the last hour before the New Year's bells, the feeling that reaches its fullest when "Auld Lang Syne" is heard.

Since we left our homes last July we've learned a lot. Drills and rifles, pup tents and gas masks, all of that.

This, though—the scattering of our first fraternity—is another thing we have learned, now and for the first time. It is our first lesson in a new kind of homesickness, bred only in the Army.

"Private Hargrove," I said to myself, "you have been doing quite too much gallivanting lately. There have been too many movies, too many bull sessions, too many hours spent at the Service Club and too much time spent flirting with that cute little waitress at the delicatessen in Fayetteville. Tonight, Private Hargrove, you will take this interesting and improving book, read it until Lights Out and go to bed promptly at nine o'clock."

There was a little back talk, a little argument, a little entreaty. However, the forces of Truth and Progress prevailed. Immediately after supper I adjourned to the squadroom, arranged myself comfortably on my bunk and dug into the interesting book. Peace and quiet held sway about me.

Private Wesley Sager, late of Amsterdam, New York, grew weary of the quiet. Yawning widely, he rolled over in bed and with a sudden swoop yanked the pillow from beneath the head of Private Melvin Hart. "Yippee," screamed Private Sager, tossing the pillow across the squadroom to a willing accomplice. "Yippee," screamed the willing accomplice, tossing the pillow back to Private Sager.

Private Hart rose and retrieved his pillow with dignity and formality. He placed it on his bunk, smoothed it and laid his head upon it. Three privates sighed in resignation. The incorrigibles were at it again.

Private Sager lay quiet for a while. Then he broke into a loud, regular, but unconvincing snore. The three sighing privates did not return to their occupations, but lay in philosophic expectation. Once the boys in that corner got started, nothing but physical exhaustion could stop them.

Private Sager turned as if tossing in his sleep. Private Hart noted the move and held his book ready to strike if a hand came toward his pillow. Private Sager turned again, facing away from Private Hart, and Private Hart relaxed his vigil. When he did, the hand shot out once more and the pillow sailed across the room and into waiting arms.

Again Private Hart retrieved the pillow and again he lay down. "Why," he asked, "must you behave like a two-year-old infant? Can't you act like a normal adult?"

"Sure I can," Private Sager replied. "Kindly step outside with me and put up your fists."

Private Hart gave vent to a quiet and gentlemanly oath. "Please do me the honor to shut your mouth," he requests. "I should like to read without the clamor of your big yap roaring in my ears."

This is but the opening gun. Almost daily it marks the beginning of a half-hour session of blusters, sibilily grow to any other group. After you get out into a line organization—a real tactical unit, such as these boys are entering—any hardship or misery is just a part of the routine. The sufferers are men rather than boys.

Silence reigns again, but its throne is shaky. Private Hart tires of his book and turns to Private Sager. "Were you at the dance last night when the redhead got started telling what she thought of Jim Carney's dancing?"

Private Carney picks up the bait. "Anything Hart says about me or about what anybody else says about me is entirely fictitious, and any resemblance to persons living or dead is coincidental and not intended."

Private Sager sits up suddenly in bed. "Don't talk like that about Hart," he says in a quiet, serious, and menacing voice. "Anything you say about Hart is a personal insult to me. If you're inclined to insult me, kindly take off your stripe and step outside with me."

"Don't you go talking like that to the ranking first-class private of this section," rasps Private Hart. "I don't like your manner at all. Kindly step outside with me while I beat your brains out."

If you want peace and quiet on these stay-at-home nights, the best solution is to go to the second barracks down the line. There's nobody down there except fifty-eight members of the band, who are always rehearsing at this time of night.

Slang runs wild in the Army. It's like a disease or the liquor habit. Among the boys who sit around or the back steps after Lights Out and bat the breeze far into the night, no simple and understandable English word is used where a weird and outlandish concoction can be substituted.

Water is GI lemonade. Salt is sands or Lot's wife; pepper is specks; sugar is sweetening compound. Milk is cat beer; butter, dogfat. Ketchup is blood. In the untiring imagination of the soldier, green peas become China berries; hominy grits are glamorized into Georgia ice cream; rice is swamp seed. Potatoes become Irish grapes; prunes change to strawberries; hot cakes become blankets. Bread is punk and creamed beef on toast is punk and salve. Meat loaf and hash are kennel rations.

It is strictly against the code of the Army to say a complimentary word about the food or the cook, no matter how good the food is or how hard the cook labors to make it so. Oscar of the Waldorf in the Army would still be either a slum-burner or a belly-robber.

Back at the News, the boys in the composing room and the mailing department used to send greenhorns searching all over the building for erasing ink, striped or dotted ink, paper stretchers, and other non-existent items. Here, a new and glibbie man is sent for the cannon report, or for the biscuit gun, the doggie key, or the rubber flag which is used on rainy days.

Here are some of the most popular figures of speech: Army Bible—the Articles of War; regulations. Barrage—a party, especially where the Demon Rum rears its ugly head. Blanket drill—sleep. Butchershop—a dispensary or hospital. By the numbers—like clockwork; with precision and efficiency. Chili bowl—regulation haircut. Chest hardware—medals. Didie pins—the gold bars of a second lieutenant. Dog robber—an orderly. The eagle—money. On payday, the eagle flies. Front and center—come forward. Flying time—sleep. Gashouse—a beer joint. Glue—honey. Goof off—to make a mistake. Handshaking—playing up to superiors. Higher brass—the higher ranks of officers. Hollywood corporal—an acting corporal. Holy Joe—the chaplain. Honey wagon—the garbage truck. Housewife—a soldier's sewing kit. Jubilee—reville, which is too often pronounced "revelee." Mother Machree—a sob-story alibi. Pocket lettuce—paper money. Pontoon checks—canteen checks, good for credit at the post exchange. Ride the sickbook—to goldbrick the easy way by pretending to be ill. Shoulder hardware—the shoulder insignia of a commissioned officer.

When armored knights met, it was customary for each knight to raise the visor of his helmet as a means of identification. This gesture has come down through all armies in the form of the salute. Traditional, too, is the Army man's preference for Camel cigarettes. With men in the Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard, actual sales records in their service stores show that Camel is the favorite. It's one of the favorite gifts with service men. And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

It was not until almost 300 years after Columbus that first commercial use was made of rubber. Native rubber articles—play balls, bowls, bottles, hats, capes and shoes—were brought to Spain and Portugal from various parts of Central and Northern South America years before the commercial merits of rubber were realized.

A rapidly growing army of more than 500 rubber-growing specialists from the U. S. is now in the Amazon rubber district expediting the collection of crude rubber and conquering the leaf disease that has taken severe toll of the jungle trees.

Health Level Remains High In Texas

Austin, Texas, Nov. 30.—The first Thanksgiving Day in America was proclaimed for the purpose of expressing thanks for the colonists' sturdy health that had allowed them to survive the hardships and exposure of the first rigorous year in America. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer is appealing to every citizen of Texas to give serious thought to the preservation of his own health and that of his community in the national crisis now existing.

"We can certainly be thankful that our health level has remained high despite the sacrifices and deprivations of war," Dr. Cox said. "Our people have retained their health to a remarkable degree and even under war conditions Texas has continued to show a decline in maternal and infant deaths."

Dr. Cox stated that within the last fifty years, health departments have been established throughout the country for the purpose of preventing disease. While their activities have been hampered by the lack of sufficient funds, nevertheless a great improvement in the nation's general health has resulted. Among the other benefits derived from the public health program is the fact that during this period the life span of the average person has been increased more than 15 years.

"The State of Texas has much to be thankful for in the steadily increasing interest and cooperation being shown in matters pertaining to sanitation and control of communicable diseases," said Dr. Cox. "Responsibility for the success and advancement of the public health program lies not with the health department primarily but with the people who support and encourage the community effort put forth and who apply in their own individual lives the knowledge which they have acquired."

Navy V-5 Aviation Training Program

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—Requirements for enlistment in the Navy V-5 aviation training program have been broadened to include 17 and 18-year old high school graduates, it was announced today by the Navy.

Lieutenant Commander G. W. Cook Jr., of the office of Naval Officer Procurement, said that for the first time in several months 18-year old youths were being considered for training as future Navy and Marine Corps pilots.

It is required that applicants be high school graduates or seniors in high school with a scholastic standing in the upper half of the males in their class and with a reasonable expectation of graduating by February 15. Boys also will be considered who have already graduated in the top 50 per cent of their class, or who are now in college and have indicated their ability to maintain a scholastic standing in the upper two-thirds.

Interested boys of 17 and 18 are urged to contact their nearest Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board or office of Officer of Procurement in Dallas, New Orleans, Memphis, Houston, or Oklahoma City immediately.

Young men of 18 who have been processed and found qualified as Naval Aviation Cadets, will be given a letter to their draft boards, Lieutenant Commander Cook said. They will be inducted into the Navy and enlisted as apprentice seamen for training leading to their commissioning as Navy and Marine Corps fliers.

Steers Stampede Bulldogs 46-0 Burkburnett

The Graham Steers stamped over the cellar-chained Bulldogs here last Thursday night 46-0.

Although the victory for Graham was their first conference victory it was clear from the first that the Dogs were again playing out of their class.

Shortly after Burk's opening kick-off, the Steers ploughed their first touchdown from the 9 yard stripe. D. Orr skirted left end to start the scoring spree that never slowed in each of the remaining quarters.

Burkburnett's team was playing without the services of their first team aces, who were benched for disciplinary reasons. All phases of the game were slowed below past Bulldog performances.

The Orr brothers, along with Wilde, McClellan and Butler, were outstanding in their offensive play for the Steers.

A shifted Burkburnett backfield and line failed to reveal new Graham talent, but Moore and Mills played their usual determined brand of hard, straight football. Gragg flashed in on defensive plays to slow Graham's line plunges.

Penalties called against both sides slowed the tempo of play to very near the draggy stage, and also broke up two scoring threats the Steers had set up.

Graham's Coach, Pat Clifford, played his entire traveling squad after gaining a substantial lead. Munley, a lineman intercepted a Bulldog pass to turn in his longest gain of the evening. He was finally overtaken after running 53 yards. Again this lineman was forced to do ball-carrying duties when he received a punt to prove his ground gaining ability by returning the ball 68 yards.

The Bulldogs play host to the Wichita Falls Coyotes Thursday at 2:30 in a Turkey-Day game to be played in Coyote Stadium, and closing the 1943 football season.

The Coyotes can boast of holding the strong Vernion Lions to a 7-0 score, while the best the Canines could do was a 53-0 score with the league leading team.
