Wichita Office of Social Security 8th Anniversary

September 9 marks the eighth anniversary of the opening of the Wichita Falls Social Security Board office, located at 412 in the Post Office Building. The office was established for the purpose of issuing social security account numbers and furnishing information and assistance in the filing of claims for old-age and survivors insurance benefits under provisions of the Social Security Act.

Early in the program our biggest job was the issuing of account numbers, said R. L. Surles, manager of the Wichita Falls office. Although issuing these numbers still involves considerable time in this office owing to the fact that new workers are entering the labor market daily, our biggest job now is taking claims for benefits, and at the present rate, it will continue to take up a considerable part of our time.

Another special service is to the returning soldier who has social security problems to solve, and to each we give careful personal attention, he continued.

The claims department of the Wichita Falls field office is now paying out monthly benefits amounting to more than $16,300.00 in the eleven counties served by this office. The majority of the monthly payments are being made to widows and their children, based on the wages earned by the husband.

At present, only workers in commerce and industry are included under the old-age and survivors insurance sections of the Social Security Act. The Board has this year recommended that coverage be extended to about 20 million workers who are now excluded, including farmers, farm workers, self-employed, and other non-covered groups.

Funeral services were conducted from the Owens and Brumley Chapel Monday afternoon at 2 P. M. for George Henry Cheney, 84, who died in a Wichita Falls hospital Saturday, September 1. Rev. A. E. Harrison, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city officiated.

Pallbearers were Fred Thompson, Arthur Bostick, Ed Lewallen, W. W. Chambers, Ott Kinder, and Dot Busby.

Survivors include three sons, J. G. Cheney, Electra; George Cheney, Uvalde; and Earl Cheney, Burkburnett; two daughters, Mrs. Christine Grooms, of Burkburnett; and Mrs. Celesta Crow, Uvalde, Texas, 15 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Lt. Sam Brashear Killed In Okinawa Airplane Accident

2nd Lieut. Sam Brashear

A telegram from the War Department announcing the death of Second Lieutenant Sam O. Brashear was received by his wife here Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

The telegram addressed to Mrs. Daisy A. Brashear stated: "The Secretary of War has asked me to express his deep regret that your husband, 2nd Lt. Brashear Sam O., was killed on Okinawa 13 Aug. '45, in an airplane accident; confirming letter follows." Signed Watseil, acting for the Adjutant General.

No details have been received as yet, but it is believed that Lt. Brashear was flying a C-46 cargo plane from the Philippines to Okinawa.

Lt. Brashear who received his promotion in rank to that of second lieutenant about two months ago, volunteered for military service, being inducted at Sheppard Field in January, 1943. He trained at San Antonio, Texas, Tulsa, Greenville, Texas, and received his wings at Frederick April, '44, as flight officer. He was then given further training at Sedalia, Mo., as a transport pilot. He was sent overseas in November 1944, being stationed at New Guinea, later being moved to the Philippines and was apparently flying from bases in the Philippines to Okinawa.

Last week his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Brashear, received a letter from their other son, Sgt. Cline Brashear, stating that he and his brother, Sam had met August 12, the day before the latter was killed. This was their first meeting since they have been overseas, and were together about 35 minutes. As Cline was to be in that sector for ten days, they planned to be with each other more.

Lt. Brashear is a graduate of the Burkburnett, Texas, High School with the class of 1935 and from that time until he enlisted in the service he was employed by the Shasta Oil Company, the same company which owns and operates the Grandfield Gas Co.

On Sept. 24, 1941, he was married to Miss Daisy Anita Bell of Odessa, Texas, and in March of this year, a daughter, Karen, was born to this union. Although he had received pictures of his baby he never had the pleasure of seeing his beautiful little daughter in person.

Besides his wife and daughter, and his parents, he is survived by his brother, Sgt. Cline Brashear and one sister, Mrs. Cletus Davidson of this city.

With the 12th Armored Division Army, Germany.—Pfc. Robert L. Brock, of Preston Street, Burkburnett, Texas, was recently awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

Pfc. Brock, who is a member of Co. C of the 119th Armored Engineer Battalion, left a position of safety to recover a bulldozer from a trailer towed by a truck that had received a direct hit, setting the truck on fire and detonating a load of mortar ammunition carriage in the bed of the truck. Disregarding his personal safety, Pfc. Brock, with the aid of one other member of his company, demonstrated great skill and courage in successfully dismounting the bulldozer from the trailer using only one available skid.

Mr. and Mrs. Tex Allen of Graham is visiting their parents here this week.

Every Burkburnett man breathes gratitude to God and a revered profession. They continue to serve through peace comes to one front. Doctors die in war, others take their place, for there is no let-up in healing. The releasing of many doctors to return to civilian practice, will help the many towns suffering from a shortage of medical men. We must still spare that hard-worked doctor, whose majority of cases are probably more serious than ours.

RATIONING ON THE WAY OUT

The Federal Government freed 210 products of war-time control one day, recently. More than 800 controls were in operation during the peak period of W. P. B. With the relaxation of the 210 items there were only 125 controls left—and there are doubtless less than that number while you are reading this report from Washington.

Burkburnett . . . . History

As revealed by the files of the Star 10 years ago.

Joe McCloskey brought the first bale from Oklahoma to Burkburnett Wednesday evening late, and it was baled early Thursday morning. The bale weighed in after ginning at the Farmers Gin at 520 pounds. The farmer received the $15.00 check from the Chamber of Commerce for the first bale across the river.

A small twister struck with lightning rapidly Sunday afternoon and tore apart one major building and demolished eight garages and several small shed houses according to the last report. The O. C. Whitaker warehouse shed was smashed and thrown several hundred feet from its foundation. The wreckage caused fear in the minds of the nearby residents.

Pieces large enough to damage any place were thrown across the Wichita road, and back in the other direction. Among the garages torn up was that of the City Manager Ross Reagan. The garage was splintered and only the tip of the cars radiator cap was damaged.

A blaze caused by friction in the engine at the Pilkerton oil well South East of the city caused a run by the fire department Friday afternoon. The blaze was reported by neighbors and the department arrived before damage ensued. The engine that started the blaze was badly burned but the blaze did not spread to the surrounding area. This is the second time that the local department has made a run to the same well in the last few months.

The paving in order to widen Avenue D. South of Burkburnett was under way again this week. Previously the Eastern side of the road had been completed and the Western side of the pavement is receiving several feet of additional concrete. This widened road will give the city a much better approach for the centennial visitors for next year.

J. M. Patterson and Bern Alexander made a business trip to New Mexico last week.

Dr. I. D. Russell returned early this week after a vacation trip spent in California.

Roy Magers and family left Sunday for a trip through West Texas and New Mexico. The family plans to visit the Carlsbad Cavern.

DON'T BE OPTIMISTIC ABOUT TAXES

We taxpayers must continue to pay, and pay, and pay. Most of the talk about tax relief is imagination. The cold fact is that billions will be called for to take care of commitment of the Government abroad, at home, and to ease up the slack in military expenses, and for the big purpose of pulling our partner-nations out of the mud.

Dependable estimates in Washington are that war spending for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1946, will be 46 billion dollars. The costs of mustering out the war, and providing aid to veterans, besides keeping four or five million men in uniform through the current fiscal year will run into more billions of dollars.

Neighbor, we hate to tell you that taxes will continue to be way-up for several years. So, prepare to meet your tax collector, and don't expect him to slice anything off the bill—for a long time to come.

COMMUNITY COOPERATION

WHEN IN PIONEER DAYS A FAMILY NEEDED A HOME, PEOPLE FROM THE WHOLE COUNTRYSIDE CAME TO HELP IN THE HOUSE-RAISING. WITH MANY HANDS AT WORK, OFTEN A FAMILY—HOMELESS IN THE MORNING—HAD THE PROTECTION OF ITS OWN ROOF AT NIGHT— THROUGH COMMUNITY EFFORT THE JOB WAS DONE.

IN THOUSANDS OF AMERICAN COMMUNITIES THIS SAME SPIRIT OF WORKING TOGETHER—INTENSIFIED BY WAR—IS FUNCTIONING TODAY. IN U.S.O., RED CROSS, IN SALVAGE DRIVES, IN CONSERVATION PROGRAMS AND IN THE NATIONAL EFFORT TO PREVENT INFLATIONARY PRICE RISES BY SPENDING PRUDENTLY AND PUTTING MONEY INTO WAR BONDS, LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS ACCOUNTS—COMMUNITY EFFORT IS PROVING A WELL-SPRING OF STRENGTH FOR OUR DEMOCRACY.

BOYCE HOUSE TOOK A STAND

"The overwhelming adoption by the people of the soldier vote amendment and the rejection of the pay hike for the legislators no doubt were highly gratifying to Boyce House, the only man whose name we have seen mentioned in connection with State race next year who took a public position on these two matters" says an editorial in the Wolf City Sun.

"Back in 1942, when House made a strong race for State office, he urged that citizens of Texas who put on the uniform in time of war were still citizens and should be allowed to vote and without having to pay $1.75 out of their meager military pay. So when the matter at last was submitted to the people, House made speeches, wrote statements for the press and went on the air to urge that the amendment be adopted as a gesture of gratitude to our fighting men.

"At the same time, he took a slap at the year-round $10-a-day pay for legislators.

Top for Toy Chest Is a Folding Table

STENCILING the scalloped borders, bright stars and topsy-turvy letters on this toy chest is sure to put you in gay spirits. The chest itself is easy to make from scraps of plywood.

Then off comes the lid; folding legs are opened up, and Little Miss Muffin has a table just the right height for play. When Mother wants to move, toys and all are trundled along until it is time for pandas and dolls to be tucked away under the star-spangled top for another night.

NOTE—Pattern is available to readers showing how to make this chest and folding table top. Also illustrated directions for decoration with stencils which require no special skill for perfect results. Color guide is included. Ask for Pattern 252 and enclose 15c with name and address.

Kathleen Norris Says:

When the Lonely Wife Flirts
 Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"This man is married, has a wife and two daughters in some eastern state. He is about 32, and very attractive."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
 ON MY desk today is a letter from a girl in Seattle, Wash., whose problem is poised between loyalty to the father who is away in the service, and the wife he left behind him.

"My own mother died when I was nine," writes Jo-Ann Davis. "Two years later my father married a lovely gentle woman who had been my mother's friend. She was a true mother to me, and until her sudden death in a motor accident two years ago, my father and I were happy. Six months after the accident he married a third wife, whom I will call Betty. My father is 44, Betty 28. I am 19.

"Dad met Betty on a trip to Chicago; they had known each other but three weeks when they were married. I had never seen her until she came to the house to be my new mother. I am a nurse's aid, and it was a great relief to have Betty there managing things, planning good meals and keeping my adored father happy. I have grown very fond of her; it is impossible not to like her, she is so helpful, cheerful, enthusiastic and affectionate.

"The trouble is that Dad, who is a lieutenant in the army, was ordered away overseas about seven months ago, and immediately after he left a change came over my young stepmother. She began to go out nights with various men, dancing and dining, and, of course, drinking somewhat, and often not home until early morning hours. Since we were just two women this wasn't so important, for I manage my own breakfast and lunch at the hospital, but what seems to me important is that there is now one man with whom Betty is falling in love. He is constantly here—he is a naval officer on duty near here; all the others have dropped away. Betty has been absent from home all night more than once in the last month, and she laughs and flushes when I make any comment on the affair.

He is 'Very Attractive.' "This man is married, has a wife and two daughters in some eastern state. He is about 32, and very attractive. The other day he walked to the piano and turned my father's portrait face down, saying jokingly, 'I don't think I like this man, Betty.' I was at the other end of the room, telephoning to a friend, but I heard it and saw it. Betty stood the portrait up, and it still stands, but it shows how he feels.

"What I want to know is whether it is my duty to write my father of this state of affairs. It is very hard to write him at all and not mention Paul. Yet I don't know what he could do about it, and it seems terrible to tell tales on Betty. I've gone as far as to say to her that I hoped Paul wasn't dimming her memory of a much finer man, and for a moment she was serious—then her usual laughter broke out and her only answer was, 'Jo-Ann, life is fun!'"

A DAUGHTER'S DUTY

Has a daughter a duty to tell her father how her stepmother is behaving while he is away in the army? That is the question posed by a reader, Jo-Ann. She is 19, her stepmother is 28, her father 44. Betty, the stepmother, is very nice, affectionate both to Jo-Ann and her father. Furthermore, she is a good cook and home-manager. Everything was splendid until Jo-Ann's father, an army officer, went overseas.

Betty then began to run around with men, stay out late, drink and dance. Lately she has been seeing only one man, a handsome naval officer named Paul. The affair is getting serious, Jo-Ann realizes. She has mentioned the matter to Betty as delicately as she could, but all Betty replied was "Jo-Ann, life is fun!"

To complicate a bad situation, Paul is married and has two children. Jo-Ann doesn't know what to do. She hates to "rattle" on Betty, whom she still likes very much, yet she feels her father ought to know of his wife's infidelity.

"I feel as if I couldn't just look on at this affair any longer, but I don't know what I can do."

My dear worried little Jo-Ann, I say in answer, I think you have gone as far as you need go, in giving the flirtatious Betty a hint that she is letting the handsome officer intringe upon your father's rights. I wouldn't write him; I think that would be a great mistake. Written words are hard and unmanageable things; to write these words to your father would be to crush the happiest and most confident belief he has.

Your loyalty to him involves only your own conduct, not Betty's. Keep as friendly and unsuspecting as you can; plenty of other tongues will be ready to inform your father of what is going on, if anything really serious is going on. Let your voice always be one of affection for Betty and trust in her.

Leave Betty Isolated. It would be a good thing if you could go away for awhile, visit an aunt, combine resources with some girl friend, or take a room in the hospital itself. Nothing will straighten Betty out so fast as to feel that she is completely on her own; nothing will warn her admirer more eloquently than to feel that the decks are cleared and that he and she must either end their affair or face possibly serious consequences. Most men with nice wives far away, and baby daughters, have no permanent intentions in regard to a love affair.

A NATION GOD USED

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 41:46-57. GOLDEN TEXT—He hath given meat unto them that fear him; he will ever be mindful of his covenant.—Psalm 111:5.

Conservation of natural resources—that phrase has a modern touch to it, and yet we would do well to turn back to the story of Joseph in Egypt and learn anew the importance of not wasting what we have if we are to be fed in the days of shortage.

Certain it is that we should face at once the shameful record of waste in the manufacture and sale of intoxicants. This is temperance Sunday. Let us not fail to stress this truth.

Joseph recognized the provision of God and made use of it for His glory and the good of the people.

I. Food—God's Provision (vv. 46-49). As men work with God in the cultivation of the land they are apt to begin to think of themselves as producers, when they are actually only the servants of the Lord in the orderly care of that which He provides.

We need to renew our sense of complete dependence upon God lest we become proud of our own supposed attainments and forget Him. Then He will have to withhold His bountiful hand and we shall stand with empty measures.

Remember, too, that what God has given to feed the nations cannot with impunity be used for the manufacture of intoxicating beverages which are designed and used for no good purpose—only for destruction. Let's not forget that God could send us a famine, too!

The manner in which Joseph cared for the gathering of the grain is worth noting. He did not sit in his royal office and send out an edict. He went throughout the land building storehouses, seeing that the grain was properly conserved.

We need more of that personal touch in government. Too much of life is controlled by "directives" and "rules" with too little of the touch of human kindness and a personal knowledge of the needs of the people.

Observe also the wisdom of storing the food in the place where it was raised and where it would eventually be needed. No shipping and re-shipping, no undue centralization, and no temptation to form a special "grain bureaucracy."

II. Family—God's Gift (vv. 50-52). From among the Gentiles, Joseph took himself a bride. While it is not indicated, we have reason to assume that she was a believer in the true God. One cannot imagine a man of Joseph's character and spiritual integrity marrying an unbeliever.

The sons which came into the home were recognized as God's gift. Note how God was counted into the life of these boys and of the home.

We spoke above about the need of conserving grain. Think now of the infinitely more important conservation of boys and girls.

The liquor interests have used this war to create a taste for beer on the part of millions of young men and women, both in the armed services and in our war plants. They have broken down the objections and the religious principles of many and we are almost at the point where one who objects is regarded as a foolish fanatic.

If America cannot with impunity use her grain to make booze, do you think God will hold us guiltless if we stand idly by and let the rapacious breweries and distilleries take our boys and girls? It is high time that we awakened to our responsibility and stood up for our convictions, come what may!

III. Famine—God's Opportunity (vv. 53-57). Now the time had come when God's word to Joseph was proved to be true. When His loyal servant stood before the world as the one who was in touch with the infinite One, he had the food to give out because he had obeyed God's command.

It is in the crises of life that the things of God prove themselves. When man's hand drops in weakness and despair, God steps in and does the abundant thing; that is, if we are willing to recognize Him.

There is another sense in which the coming of famine was God's opportunity, for it gave Him the chance He wanted to speak to men. In the days of plenty and prosperity mankind is self-sufficient and too busy to listen to God, but when there is no food to eat, he has time to hear God.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Poached eggs are much tastier if fixed in hot milk instead of water.

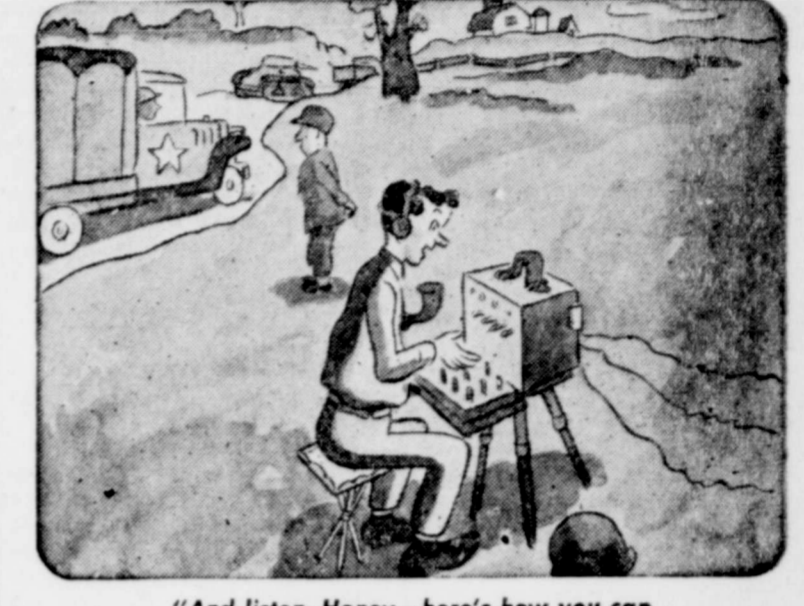

In making coffee, tea or chocolate to be served iced, double the strength—to allow for the ice used in cooling the beverage.

When saving buttons from an old garment, put matching ones on a safety pin to keep them together. It will save time later.

Keep all furniture about an inch away from the wall, then you are certain you will not rub the wallpaper and make a mark or grease spots by an overdose of furniture polish on the back of a table or chair.

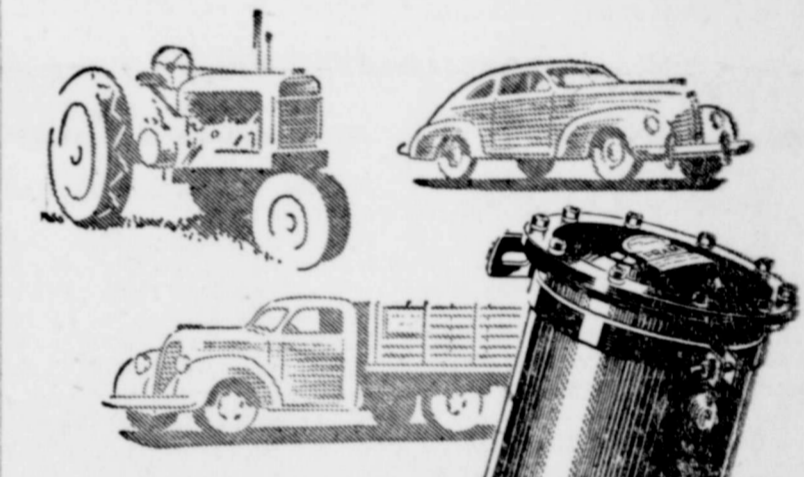

To keep brass or other metal door knockers, door knobs, and the like shiny, apply a thin coat of colorless wax to them occasionally.

Put FRAM Oil Filters on All Three!

HERE'S how to save a lot of long, costly repairs... lengthen the life of your car, truck, tractor or stationary engine. Just install Fram oil filters!

WHY EVERY ENGINE NEEDS FRAM During normal operation, dirt, dust, grit and other abrasives are sucked into engines. At the same time carbon and sludge are formed within the engines. Unless filtered out, the dirt and carbon grind away moving parts, while the sticky sludge clogs oil channels to hamper lubrication and increase wear. But with a Fram, these impurities are filtered out, to keep motor oil visually clean! That's why millions of Fram filters and cartridges are used by our armed forces—why Fram is standard equipment on more than 75 famous car, truck, tractor, bus, marine and stationary engines. Experts agree on Fram!

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE Remember, a Fram oil filter must satisfy you, or you get your money back. If your equipment is already filter-equipped, Fram replacement cartridges can be put in present filters to step up performance. Remember, Fram oil filters are easy to install and cartridges may be changed in a jiffy. So see your dealer today! Find out "How's Your Oil Filter?" The Dipstick tells the story!

"Hard Sponge," a new synthetic rubber product developed by E. F. Goodrich, combines great strength with extreme lightness. Experiments point to its possible use in airplane wings.

A type of vine recently discovered in China, which attaches itself to trees and other objects, has been found to yield latex (natural rubber). Stems grow to 50 feet in length and yield about a pound of latex.

Inner tubes made with a special type of synthetic rubber hold air much longer than tubes made of natural rubber.

Grace Lutheran Church

With schools and colleges opening their doors once more to the youth of our land, we are reminded of an important fact never to be overlooked. It is the following truth: Reason and science alone are not sufficient to answer the basic questions of life. An understanding of the inner and ultimate significance of things requires an illumination greater than that provided by the intellect alone. And so the church endeavors to see life and the world in the light of God's light, the Holy Scriptures. Seen in this light, life and the world assume a unity, a meaning, of value, and a purpose sufficient to satisfy our deepest and most abiding needs.

It is the aim of Grace Lutheran Church to enlighten those who attend the services both with the light of reason and with the light of the knowledge of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

Methodist Church

The pastor of the Methodist Church closed a revealing meeting at Bridgetown, Texas, last Sunday evening, and he and the family returned home early Monday morning. He will preach Sunday at the 11 o'clock hour using for the theme, "Spiritual Mal-nutrition." We have heard much of late on how our soldiers were so poorly fed in the prison camps. The pictures of them almost make our hearts stop. Now we wonder if it is possible that many of our people are getting such poor spiritual food that they are failing to become strong Christians. Where do we find good spiritual food?

We are changing the evening hour back to 8 o'clock. Sunday School begins at 9:45 in the morning, and we have a class for you.

You are cordially invited to worship at the First Methodist Church Sunday, and at all the services during the week. The Choir meets on Wednesday evening, and Prayer Meeting on Thursday evening.

From Senator George Moffett

The Burkburnett Star is in receipt of the following statement from State Senator George Moffett relating to the sale of surplus war goods, which may prove of considerable interest to many readers.

"Large quantities of war goods are rapidly being classed as surplus items. Quite a number of people ask me daily how these goods can be bought. I do not have any direct information but on a very recent trip to Dallas and Fort Worth gathered the following which is believed to be reliable as of this date.

"Surplus government property has been divided into two general classes. First, consumer items ordinarily bought at a retail store. Second, non-consumer items, such as electric motors, machine tools, lathes, chemicals, scientific apparatus, etc.

"The government has decided to sell the consumer items thru dealers engaged in a retail business. These will include retail outlets handling hardware, farm implements, automobiles, trucks, and tractors, clothing, blankets, coats, and various other items customarily sold at retail. A veteran may purchase these items if he plans to engage in business. He is limited to twenty-five hundred dollars worth. Two veterans may form a partnership and buy double this amount. If you are interested in these consumer items, write to the Department of Commerce, Neil P. Anderson Building, Fort Worth, Texas, or call upon them in person.

"For non-consumer items write to, or call upon the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Cotton Exchange Building, Dallas, Texas.

"Cities, counties, colleges, hospitals and schools have a certain priority which should be beneficial if used promptly. Anyone can ask to be placed on the mailing list for bulletins describing the property which will be sold. But the best way is to go, or send someone to personally arrange the purchase.

"Farmers have a certain priority which is established through their local Triple A Committee. There is considerable red tape involved in purchasing surplus government merchandise. However, the regulations can and may be changed whenever the Surplus Property Board at Washington sees fit."

Bible Crusade

MORRIS C. LOWERY

It is said that when Sir Walter Scott, the great Scottish novelist, was lying on his death bed, he called his trusted servant to him and with slow, almost inarticulate utterance said, "Read to me—a little—from the Book." Since he had many books in his library, the servant promptly asked, "What book, Sir Walter?" The novelist said: What book do you ask? There is but one book—the Bible.

The written word of God is the most valuable, the most important book ever written, it is without a rival.

One proof that it is of Divine origin is of Divine origin is its prophecies. No man or group of men regardless of their brilliance or education can correctly foretell the future without more than human aid. But God can—"I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My council shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure." Isaiah 46:9-10.

Divine Prophecy Sure

It was one of the apostles of our Lord who declared, "We have also a more sure word of prophecy whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, unto a light that shineth in a dark place, etc." 2 Pet. 1:19. Peter had been speaking of those things which he had both seen and heard while with Jesus in the mount. More sure than the evidence obtained by sight and hearing, are the words of the inspired prophets of old according to this statement. Our Saviour gave further assurance when He said, "The Scripture can not be broken." John 10:35. Men have tried on various occasions to change the course of events from the outline given in divine prophecy, but none have succeeded. An outstanding example of this is found in the experience of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, in his dealings with the Israelites. To Abraham, God had revealed the future history of His people until the time when they should possess Canaan for their inheritance, Gen. 13:14, 15, and Gen. 15:13-16. As the time drew near for the Israelites to leave Egypt and God began to work on a very definite way to deliver them He was opposed by the ruler of Egypt.

God had said, "I will bring them out," but Pharaoh replied to Moses' appeal in their behalf, "I will not let them go." The greatest monarch of that day set himself and his kingdom to oppose the will of God and to break His word. The outcome of this controversy is briefly related in Ex. 12:40, 41. On the very day that the four hundred and thirty year period came to an end, even the selfsame day it came to pass that all the hosts of the Lord went out from the land of Egypt." The mightiest nation on earth could not break the divine prophecy; no, could not even delay its fulfillment for as much as a day beyond the time appointed.

Our Day In Prophecy

The day in which we live have been clearly described in various utterances made by the inspired writers of the Bible. Let us notice a few of the many predictions concerning our time that are now being fulfilled. In Daniel 12:4 we are told that in the time of the end, "many shall run to and fro and knowledge shall be increased." For nearly six thousand years men were content to travel on foot, on horse or camel back, or by sail boat. But within the last century have been developed all the marvelous inventions we now use in our running to and fro. That which the angel of the Lord told Daniel would come to pass is now fulfilling.

In Joel 3:9-14 it was foreshown that when the "day of the Lord" is near the nations of earth would be found engaged in making preparations for war as never before. Implements of agriculture would be converted into implements of warfare. No one needs to be told that this is actually occurring today. The wealth of all nations is being poured out like water for military purposes in the exact manner foretold.

Jesus prophesied that just before His second coming there would be upon earth, "distress of nations with perplexity—men's heart failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth." Luke 21:25-27. Can we doubt the present day fulfillment of this Scripture when we remember that the greatest wars, the most destructive pestilence, the most terrible famine, the most disastrous earthquake, the most widespread financial depression, and the greatest floods since the time of Noah, have all occurred within the past thirty years.

These and many other prophecies spoken concerning the "last days," "the time of the end," or the time when the day of the Lord is near, are meeting a remarkable fulfillment. These things have been foretold so that we who see them come to pass could know with certainty that Christ's coming is near, even at the doors." Matt. 24:33.

Perhaps the greatest of all present day happenings as foretold in the Bible is the rapidity with which the message of Christ's return is being carried to all the people of earth. In all countries, and in more than nine hundred languages, ministers of the gospel, thousands in number, are now proclaiming the soon coming of Jesus.

Your Bible tells you, "And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come." Matt. 24:14.

REPRESENTATIVE U.S. DOGS AND THEIR OCCUPATIONS

FIGHT ON DISTEMPER IS GAINING GROUND

Vaccination Prevents Many Cases and Serums Soften Attack of Dog Malady

Carry a person through the ailments of his first twelve or thirteen years and chances are that he will grow into a sturdy, healthy individual. Carry a dog through its first year and in all probability you will have a vigorous, hardy servant or companion for the rest of its life.

So states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City. In their first years of life humans run a gauntlet of whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and the Lord knows what else. About the only serious ailment the dog has to contend with during the first year of its life is distemper. There are countless thousands of dog owners who, having once carried their pets through distemper—and perhaps a worming or two—have had them live out their years with no further ailments of any kind.

Whooping cough in children and distemper in dogs are not, of course, comparable illnesses. Nevertheless, there is a lesson for dog owners in the medical profession's present-day attitude toward whooping cough. Like whooping cough, distemper is best prevented than cured. As with children and whooping cough, until recent years every dog was expected to catch distemper. But now, again as in whooping cough, vaccination prevents a great many cases entirely and makes of others lighter cases. Now that anti-canine distemper serums are available, even the situation of dogs already stricken with this malady is not nearly so hopeless as it once was. It is wise, therefore, when a dog shows first signs of illness that might mean distemper to place him in the hands of a competent veterinarian at once.

It has been observed that puppies with weak constitutions and pampered, overfed, underexercised pets are the most likely to contract the infection. As in the case of human influenza, a filterable virus starts the trouble and bacterial organisms do the rest. A rise in body temperature, accompanied by shivering or sneezing, an eye or nasal discharge, diarrhea, partial loss of appetite and sluggishness, is very suggestive of distemper.

In immunizing his puppy against distemper, the dog owner has his choice of several methods, any one of which is helpful in controlling the disease. The best time for immunization is when the puppy is three to four months of age. Usually there are two injections of vaccine or serum two weeks or so apart, with a final administration of living virus. The dog to be inoculated should be free of worms or rickets and in a state of general good health.

George Gillum is visiting Mrs. W. J. Justice here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Miller and son Jerry Jack and Wayne Lax have returned from Bellville, Illinois where they visited with their daughter, Mrs. Evans and her husband, Pvt. Harley G. Evans, who is stationed at Camp Scott.

Dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Jodie Metz Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Muhlinghouse, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Muhlinghouse and Lloyd Ray.
