NUMBER 23

(by H. C. D.)

Girl Friend—"I hope you're not on guard tonight." Soldier—"Nope. Are you?"—Exchange.

It's always those who never get any who tell you what you should not eat.

Lots of fixin' up goin' on around town. Counter and Counter have cleared out their building next to the show to the walls, getting ready for plastering and redoing the show windows. Soon they hope to be displaying radios and refrigerators, etc.

George McClarty is making progress on his building at the corner of Main and Ave. C. The front is ready for the plate glass, the ceiling is shaping up and it's getting far enough along that one can begin to tell what it will look like when complete.

Joy Sessums got tired wearing his long handles and shivering too, so he has put a ceiling in his implement building and run a petition across to cut the repair shop off from the sales room. As soon as he can get some stuff he will run the building on back to the alley to enlarge the repair department.

Blankenship has transformed the brick building next door to the implement company into a useful and more beautiful structure. He has moved his laundry into the back part of the building, made living quarters upstairs and added some neat apartments too. More next week.

The skeleton framework of the air port is still awaiting some covering for its bones. Office buildings are complete but the hangar still needs some skin.

A chip on the shoulder is merely dandruff from the wood higher up.

American Legion Auxiliary Plans '42' Party

The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring a 42 party to be held in the U. S. O. Hall, January 31st at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend.

War Loan Workers Urged to Turn In Their Reports Now

Paul Browning, chairman of the War Loan in Burkburnett, urges all workers to turn in their reports to him not later than January 15th. Many workers have made no report to date.

An award to the ladies' club selling the most bonds was offered and it will be necessary to check the final reports in order to determine the winner. When the chairman receives all reports they will be checked against bond purchases, for most reports will show bond purchase pledges as well as bond purchases.

Make your report as soon as possible.

Plans Completed For Clothing Drive

B. H. Alexander, chairman of the local clothing collection campaign, announces that all plans to put the drive over are complete. Mrs. Bertha Cropper is working with Mr. Alexander as co-chairman.

At a meeting of the chairmen and their co-workers at Town Hall Thursday night, instructions were given concerning the operation of the campaign. Each block in town will have a Captain, who will select her own helper to assist in canvassing every house on her block. When the Captains and helpers call at a house they will explain just what kind of clothing is needed and how it is to be prepared before it is picked up.

Not just any and everything is acceptable. For instance, the blouse to a suit is no good unless the skirt is with it. Outfits must be complete. Sheets and curtains are wanted. So are wearable shoes. But, hats, purses and toys are not wanted.

Clean out the closets and attics. Get ready to do your part.

Miss Dorothy Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Burns left Saturday nite for Provo, Utah, where she is attending school. Miss Burns spent the holidays with her parents.

Dr. Philip Carpenter returned to practice Monday after being a patient in a Wichita Falls hospital for the past few weeks.

Fred Boden is in Austin this week on business.

Mr. C. M. Archer and Mr. Clifford Dodson made a business trip to Dallas, Tuesday.

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT SHE CAN WEAR?

Clothing that you may consider old can bring new life to some suffering person to whom war brought despair and destitution.

Your spare clothing will be distributed free, without discrimination, to victims of Nazi and Jap oppression in Europe, the Philippines, and the Far East.

Dig into your attics, trunks, and closets today... dig out all the clothing you can possibly spare.

Misses Josephine Utts, Mary Ann Davenport and Dorothy Preston, who are attending T. S. C. W. in Denton spent the holidays in Burk visiting their families and friends. Mrs. P. A. Wiggins took the girls back to school Monday.

If the business men and citizens in and around Burkburnett are interested in maintaining a State Guard Unit in Burkburnett, more men between the ages of 16 and 65 must enlist. It will be necessary for each citizen to prove his or her patriotism to the State of Texas by encouraging more men to enlist in the Guard. Talk it over with your friends.

Many returned U. S. soldiers are enlisting in the Texas State Guard in other Texas towns. Are we overlooking our interests? Think it over.

Company C can use thirty more enlisted men now. You can do your part by helping these men to enlist. Do not put it off, but start to work today. Insist on the men attending drill regularly for two hours each Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, in the Armory on the North side of 2nd Street, just North of the Burkburnett Gin and Elevator.

Keep the home Texas State Guard going by your interest in same. It is the people's choice. The local unit is headed by Capt. M. C. Tucker, who has given freely of his time to the interests of this organization. Complete equipment will be provided for each man who enlists.

Until the National Guard is again organized, it is very desirable that the Texas State Guard be maintained. Office Supplies—Star Office

Babson Says Event of '46 Will Be Start of Harnessing Atomic Energy

Business And Financial Outlook For 1946 By ROGER W. BABSON

The great event of 1945 was the ending of World War II. A great event of 1946 will be the start at harnessing atomic energy to bring about a new industrial era.

General Business A year ago the United States Babsonchart Index of the Physical Volume of Business finally registered 145. Today it is estimated at 128 justifying my forecast of a year ago. The Canadian Babsonchart Index of the Physical Volume of Business finally registered 205 a year ago; today it is estimated at 190. 1946 will show a further over-all decline in both United States and Canadian business. Furthermore, most of the following comments apply to both countries.

The re-conversion of industry from war to peace business will increase during much of 1946. However, time required for re-conversion will not be as great as most people believe.

Inventories, quoted both at their price values and their volumes, will increase during 1946. Both raw material piles and manufactured goods will be larger.

Commodity Prices Some rationing may continue through most of 1946, but it will rapidly be eliminated. Price restrictions will gradually be lessened. The retail prices of most manufactured products will be higher during 1946 than at present. The prices of some of the food products may decline.

The unit sales of some department stores will begin to decline some time during 1946; but the sales of the food and variety chains may continue at peak figures.

The great question mark of 1946 will be how, to whom and at what price the government will dispose of its billions of dollars worth of unneeded supplies.

Farm Outlook Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and more bales of cotton will be raised in 1946 than ever before in our history. Although some prices may slide off, the total farm income for 1946 should hold up fairly well.

There should be an increase in certain fruits, fish products and vegetables with a decline in prices. The U. S. will have more to eat in 1946 than in 1945. The per capita consumption should be 10 percent above the prewar level of 1935-1939.

Dairy and poultry products will continue to increase in volume with no increase in price. There will be a great surplus of eggs; but fats, sugar and some canned goods will continue short.

Farmers will start in 1946 to work to extend legislation on their parity program due to fear of a postwar collapse in farm prices.

Taxes Taxes will not be increased during 1946; and there may be further reductions. Some nuisance taxes will be eliminated altogether.

The Federal Debt will continue to increase during 1946, but I expect no War Bond Drives. Whatever is done about taxes the cost of living will continue to rise during 1946 due largely to increased wages.

Providing jobs for returning soldiers at satisfactory wages will be the big political task of 1946. There will be jobs for all, but not at the wages desired.

The volume of retail sales will be about the same as in 1945. Sales of ladies apparel and general luxuries will suffer, but many items now unavailable will be purchased.

The total dollar retail sales should exceed 1945 with an increased demand for woolen and cotton textiles.

There will be a great demand for men's clothing and especially for shirts with honest standard length tails.

Wise shoppers will buy only what they need and not grab to stock up unnecessary supplies.

Foreign Trade The United States will own over 50 percent of the world's shipping in 1946.

We will make England and some other countries loans provided they will agree to spend a fair proportion of the money in the United States.

Both the British Empire and Russia will keenly compete for foreign trade during 1946; but cartels and government monopolies will be frowned upon.

Russia, Germany and England may try to "gang up" against the United States but we will fearlessly oppose such actions if they occur.

Labor The Little Steel Formula will be forgotten during 1946. The year will be noted for strikes and labor troubles.

Industrial employment during 1946 will be off both in hours and in pay rolls, labor leaders' efforts notwithstanding.

Many industries, now operating on a forty-eight hour week, will return to a forty or forty-five hour week during 1946.

Hourly wage rates will increase but take home income will be less. Labor will demand better management and closer labor management relations.

Inflation The Inflation Era which I have been forecasting for several years will be very evident in 1946. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decline.

Both wage and price controls will gradually be removed during 1946 until the government throws up its hands and lets nature take its course.

Some time after 1946, production will catch up with consumption, people will have spent their money and then there will be a surplus of goods. By 1950 there may be much unemployment. Then may come the severest inflation by Congress attempting to check the decline by printing currency. But this is something we need not worry about for two or three years.

If Stalin's health continues good, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1946 and may be a factor in determining world prices as well as production. The markets may even witness a communistic scare during 1946; but they should recover soon thereafter.

Stock Market The rails will decline some time during 1946. Certain airplane manufacturing, shipbuilding and other war stocks may decline; but the Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will reach higher figures some time during 1946 than at present.

The safest stocks to buy—considering value, income and safety—will continue to be the merchandising stocks, especially chain store stocks.

1945 saw a large increase in the demand for inflation stocks with a lesser demand for non-inflation stocks; but 1946 should witness both groups moving more or less together. Switching has been over-done in many cases.

Stock markets will continue to witness creeping general inflation, although the stock market as a whole may appear to have reached its peak before December 31, 1946.

Bonds Although bank loaning rates should have an upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1946. The money supply is now 25 per cent above normal and government financing demands continued low rates.

Anticipating the expected decline in Federal taxes, 1946 should see a falling off in the price of most municipal and probably other tax-exempt bonds.

The high grade corporation bonds may hold steady but sooner or later decline considerably. Whether this will start in 1946 I do not know. Investors will give more attention to diversification and staggering maturities during 1946.

More public utilities will be taken over by Municipalities and "Authorities" during 1946. Wise investors will consider this possibility when selecting public utility bonds. Some stocks such as "Eastern Utilities Associates Convertible Shares," in which I am personally interested, should be helped by public ownership.

Real Estate Surban real estate will be in much greater demand with higher prices during 1946.

City real estate should hold its own, excepting in the former congested war production areas where declines may set in.

Small productive farms will continue to increase in price; but large commercial farms may sell for less in 1946 than in 1945.

Building will show a considerable increase. Contracts will be up with advancing prices due to scarcity of lumber, cement, bricks and labor.

Office and residential rents during 1946 may be expected to increase.

1946 may see the beginning of a real building boom. The pessimists will make little money in 1946.

Politics and Postwar Peace President Truman may lose control of Congress, but he will try to take a middle-of-the-road position. I believe that all wise Republicans and Democrats should support his efforts.

Our foreign headaches will become worse and more frequent during 1946. What we are going through to reorganize Germany will be repeated in other countries.

YOU CAN HELP

No job, no place to live, unable to buy a decent priced shirt, not quite able to cope mentally with the maze of civilian problems yet, the returning soldier is up-set. Jobs don't pay as much as the Army, he says, and how can a fellow live on less today he asks. The red tape in getting his papers in order with visits to agencies that deplete his energy add to his worry. And all of this approach to living is the process of being rehabilitated. It is taking understanding and courage on the part of the soldier as he does his level best to get straight, but it is also a piece of work for us in Burkburnett to assist him to iron out these wrinkles. It is still our job, on the home front.

TALKING TOO MUCH

Free speech may lead us into trouble through misunderstanding. There is criticism that the U. S. intervened in the recent presidential campaign in Brazil, a verbal attack on the lack of democratic policy of China's First Lady, an accusation of prominence that we were interfering in the present Chinese conflict, makes us more convinced than ever that we should guard our talk on foreign affairs. It is loose and maybe undergound, or even if true, can play havoc with international relationships and even bring misunderstanding between Allies. We should not aggravate any issue not our direct concern by "popping off" too heatedly. This holds true in Burkburnett circles as well as international ones, if we want to maintain friendship.

A PEOPLE DELIVERED

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 6:6-8; 13:17-22. GOLDEN TEXT—I will trust, and not be afraid, for the Lord Jehovah even the Lord, is my strength.—Isaiah 12:2.

"Is thy God able to deliver thee?" was the question asked of Daniel in the lions' den (Dan. 6:20). It is in the minds and on the lips of many in every hour of crisis.

God is able to deliver. Moses found that out when in answer to his complaint that the Lord had done nothing for his suffering people (Exod. 5:22), the Lord revealed Himself as the One who was not only able but ready to take them out of their bondage. I. God's Promise (6:6-8). Moses was to remember that he was dealing with the Eternal One, unchangeable, and always true to His word and able to make His will come to pass (v. 2, 3).

So often men in dealing with God think of Him in terms of their own weakness and failure. What we need is to have a Godlike conception of God, not a manlike idea of Him. God is the infinite and the Eternal One with whom we have no right to quarrel, and whose dealings with us are too high for us to judge (Ps. 139:1-6).

God's covenant with His people was established (v. 4). He had heard their cry (v. 5), and His deliverance was sure (v. 6). The only thing Moses had to do was to wait and see God work.

That word "wait" is a little one. It seems to call for no effort, to be easy of fulfillment; yet it seems to be the hardest thing for a human being to do. Christians who can speak and work for God when things are active and moving become querulous and despondent when they have to wait or when they are laid aside for a time.

His promise is sure. That is not just a religious sentiment. It is a fact, and it is proved by history. II. God's Plan (13:17-19).

There was a direct, easy road along the coast of the Mediterranean up to Canaan, but God with His pillar of cloud and fire did not lead in that way.

How strange that He should take them by a longer, more difficult way! Not at all. He knew the danger of the easy way. It was there that the warlike Philistines would be lying in ambush. Such immediate conflict would discourage Israel and tempt them to return to the fleshpots of Egypt. So He took them the other way.

Note that God's guidance for them was one of intelligent planning, not just impulse or chance. He knew what to do, and He did it, for their good.

God has a plan, not only for the nations, but also for individuals, for your life and mine. Let us find His will for us, for it is good, acceptable and perfect (Rom. 12:1, 2).

Note the honoring of the faith of Joseph in God's promise (v. 19). The memory of his assurance was a blessing to his descendants, and they honored it and him. What will our descendants have to say about our faith in God?

III. God's Presence (13:20-22). Our God does not just send a plan or program to His people. He is always with them and is ready to go before them.

God's plan is made known to His people as they follow Him step by step. This means that there must be guidance, moment by moment, if His plan is to be worked out. He gives such guidance and it is only when His children fail to follow it that the pattern of life becomes confused.

The field of divine guidance is one in which Christians have widely diverse experiences. Some know the sweet, unconfused daily experience of God's hand upon them, caring for even the minor details (or are they minor?) of life. Others have known the directive power of God in some life crisis, but not in the ordinary affairs of life. Many, and perhaps most, think of divine guidance as a spiritual theory of which the preacher talks, but know nothing of it in their own lives.

What makes this great difference? Faith—or the lack of it. Those who trust God accept and receive His blessed leadership moment by moment. It is as simple as that. Others reach out and take it when the pressure of life makes them cast themselves on God. Others simply muddle along "doing their best," which is not their best, for God is not in it.

The pillar of cloud, which became luminous at night, was ideal for the guidance of Israel. It provided shade from the hot sun by day, and it was a sure guide in the darkness of the night.

We who believe in Christ have an even better and more precious evidence of God's presence—the Holy Spirit who indwells us. He reveals God's will to us, urging us on, or restraining us as the need may be. Are we obedient to His blessed promptings? Do we walk in the light of His perfect guidance?

Kathleen Norris Says: The Hit-and-Run Marriage

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Any two young persons could work their way to successful marriage, if the husband had been taught the solemn responsibilities of matrimony, and the wife were a well-trained young creature, who takes her marital vows seriously."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

WAR conditions have certainly put marriage into the hit-and-run category," says Judge Robert Williams Jr. of Suffolk, Mass.

"Frequently now," he adds, "I have cases in which it is admitted that the couple saw each other only once, twice or three times before they were married."

"Often there is no such thing as 'I want you to meet the folks.' The first time the parents see them is when they are brought home as in-laws."

Court authorities follow this up with the statement that marrying on a mere speaking acquaintance was the cause of the frightful jump in divorce statistics; nearly 2,300 last year as against 1,500 in 1940.

Twenty-three hundred hopeful young hearts—no, twice that many, for boys' hearts can break too,—wrecked and embittered and disappointed. It is a fearful total of unhappiness; it is something to make older married folk think.

Where are we failing our children, that they can leap into the most serious relationship humans can know, so ignorantly, so lightly, and often so fatally? For fortunate second marriages don't often follow on mistaken first ones. Sometimes the scars of the original failure last a lifetime. And if a child, or children, result from these hit-or-miss matches, they start life on most unfortunate terms.

Blamed on War. "Well," say the mothers and fathers ruefully, "this is one of the tragedies of war. The youngsters are demoralized and excited. Young men have been torn away from home and college, are to be sent to far and distant countries, perhaps, never to return. Girls are prematurely matured by the atmosphere of chance, movement, emotional crisis, dramatic situations.

With so many chances surrounding the future, girls and boys plunged ahead absolutely without thought. "Maybe he won't come back for years. Maybe the war won't end for a long time. Maybe they'll live in some foreign country after the war." Maybe this and maybe that, but not often the sober probability, the unsensational truth.

Not often "maybe he'll come back without a job. Maybe we won't like each other when we've seen each other more often. Maybe he'll look very different to me, out of his uniform. Maybe he won't immediately get a good job after the war, and we'll face the necessity of living on the family. Maybe he ought to meet my mother and father first. Maybe he's tied up with some girl in his own state—or with half a dozen girls in half a dozen states. Maybe I'll fall much more deeply with some other man, while he's away. Maybe I'll have a baby immediately, and have to give up a good job and start taking care of the baby."

All these possibilities have come true, for hundreds and hundreds of

JOYS AND SORROWS OF MATRIMONY

As was anticipated, hastily contracted marriages entered into under the stress and excitement of war, are breaking up at a frightening rate. Miss Norris points out that it is partly the responsibility of parents, who have failed to impress upon their children the seriousness of matrimony, and the necessity for various adjustments by both partners.

The misery and heart-break of these divorces can hardly be calculated, Miss Norris says. Young lives are often permanently wrecked, because those who have once failed to find happiness in the married state the first time are frequently unable to make a success of a second marriage. The early scars remain, and doubt and distrust arise easily.

Our parents and grandparents understood the problem of marriage better, in many ways, than we do. They entered it determined to make a go of it, come what would.

rash young couples. In New York a few months ago a girl asked her chum to go with her to meet her husband, who was invalided home. She had seen him about a dozen times in all, and was afraid she wouldn't know him.

These quick marriages are dangerous enough, but the real danger lies in the quick divorces. If our boys had been somewhat schooled in the solemn responsibilities of husbandhood; if they had been taught gentleness, patience, courage, faith in themselves, that they hardly knew these girl-wives of theirs, it would not be so serious a matter.

Making It a Success. If girls went into even this higgledy-piggledy sort of marriage persuaded, under all the surface excitement and hysteria and passion, that any marriage may be made a success, if the wife determines that it shall be. Any two persons, granted the first physical attraction that hurled them into matrimony as a start, could work their way to a successful marriage, if the husband were possessed of the aforementioned qualities of character and the wife were a sweet, inexacting, sensible, well-trained young creature who meant the great promise she made when she said "I do."

The glory of golden wedding days has shone on many a man and woman who hardly knew each other when their hands were united. My own grandmother, at 17, was summoned to the library to meet the man to whom she was to be married on the same day. Of clean strong Irish stock on both sides, neither the principals nor the devoted parents had any misgivings as to the outcome.

If we trained our children more carefully for the great duties of the marriage state, it would not matter so much who they married, and there would be many fewer divorces among them.

MADE-OVER CLOTHING Making over garments for smaller children is more than merely cutting them down to size. Colors, pattern and weight of fabric all need to be considered in such cases. Fabrics adults wear, may be too heavy for a small child. If the material is not light enough in weight to be comfortable, use it for some other purpose. Avoid stripes, plaids and prints that are too big for the child.

When planning a make-over, consult the youngster. Most times it's just the little things that make clothes acceptable to children.

"Boys' hearts can break too..."

Household Hints

Cutting knives are best kept by themselves in a wooden rack in the kitchen drawer. If allowed to rub against other knives or utensils, they dull quickly.

If you want to make your letters absolutely sure-seal, glue them shut with colorless nail polish. These can't even be steamed open by unscrupulous persons.

Clean gilded picture frames by rubbing with a soft cloth dipped in milk or egg white. They'll look like new.

Should you want to make your own roller shades to match the fabric used in the decorative scheme of a room, better stick to glazed chintz, heavy sateen, percale or other material of similar weight and weave.

An ordinary double book strap is excellent to have with you when you are traveling. Should you annex a package too bulky for your suitcase, wrap it in suitable wrapping over a cardboard base, bind it with a book strap and carry it by the handle.

Stiff brushes and brooms will last longer if wetted now and then. This prevents fibers or broomstraw from becoming too brittle and consequently breaking off.

You've resolved to stretch the family stocking supply by keeping up with your darning — and then your favorite aluminum darning egg disappears. Next time a light bulb burns out see if it doesn't make a perfect substitute.

To Get Better Cough Syrup, Mix It at Home

So Easy! No Cooking. Real Saving.

To get quick relief from coughs due to colds, you should make sure by mixing your own cough syrup at home. It's no trouble at all, and you know it's pure and good. It needs no cooking and it's so easy to make that a child could do it.

From your druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add enough plain syrup to fill up the pint. To make syrup, stir two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, if desired. The full pint thus made should last a family a long time, and gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick results, you've never seen its superior. It seems to take hold instantly, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritated membranes, and helping to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.—Adv.

The quiet dignity of a home wedding was characteristic of that performed Saturday, December 22nd at 4 o'clock to unite Lt. Margaret Nell White of this city, and Lt. Harold Scott McCall of Wichita, Kansas. Only members of the family and close friends witnessed the Double Ring ceremony which was read by the Rev. A. E. Harrison, pastor of the First Baptist Church at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. White.

A decorative setting arranged for the service, featured two white baskets of Chrysanthemums and Gladiolus in the shades of peach blossom pink and white, combined with smilax and other greenery on each side of a large mirror reflecting the picture of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Vernon Duke, pianist and Mrs. Floyd Cates, vocalist provided music for the wedding. Their offering included the traditional professional and recessional selections and "Because."

Ralph W. White gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was lovely in an afternoon frock of light blue crepe with gold threads, fashioned in a fitted bodice with bracelet length sleeves and a soft bow neck line. She wore a feathered hat to match her dress and a gold tied corsage of Talisman roses. As a bit of sentiment, something old and something borrowed, she wore ear screws belonging to her sister, Mrs. Ralph K. Winkles.

Matron of honor for her sister, was Mrs. Ralph K. Winkles, who wore a frock of Alice Blue crepe with a rippling peplum at the waist line. Her accessories were black and her corsage was of pink carnations.

The groom was attended as best man by the brides brother,

Jimmy Roy Morris, of College Station, Texas.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom cut the three tiered white wedding cake that was served from a refreshment table in the dining room, which featured a decorative arrangement of flowers and lighted candles in silver holders, and a Silver Tea service on a white cutwork cloth. Mrs. Ralph K. Winkles, assisted by Mrs. V. C. Heinauer, cousin of the groom served the cake, and Mrs. Jimmy Roy Morris presided at the Tea service. Signature of the brides book by Mrs. Heinauer.

Following the reception, the bride and groom departed for a short wedding trip, after which they returned to Ft. Sam Houston, where the bride is serving in the Army Nurse Corp.

The bride is well known in Burkburnett. She was graduated from the Fairview High School and attended Hardin Jr. College. She graduated from Wilson N. Jones School of Nursing, in Sherman, Texas, and took Post Graduate work at Baylor Hospital, Dallas, Texas. She has been employed in the Burkburnett Clinic, and St. David's Hospital, Austin, Texas. At the time of her entry into the Army Nurse Corp., she was Supervisor at the General Hospital, Wichita Falls, Texas.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McCall of Wichita, Kansas, formerly of Thrift, Texas. He graduated from Fairview High School and attended Nebraska State Teachers College. He served five years in the army with the 1st Cavalry, serving thirty months in the South Pacific. He returned to the United States from Japan, November 23rd, and was placed on terminal leave at Ft. Sam Houston.

Out of town guests for the wedding, included Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Watkins of Denton, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison, of Electra, Texas; Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Cates of Fort Worth, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers, Jr., and Betty of Dallas, Texas; Lieut. Mary Margaret Smith, Ft. Sam Houston; Vernon Duke, Radio Tech. 2/c of Los Animitos, California.

"Now the Victory's Won"

I Promise...

"... My help in keeping the money end of this peace business sound.

"... That I'll go slow on extra spending until the things I want become more plentiful and prices are right.

"... That I'll work up my bank balance a little each year. Someday this ready cash may come in handy for a first payment on a home, to educate the children, or to help establish my credit if I need to borrow at the bank.

"... That I'll buy more of my country's Bonds and hang on to the Bonds I own. They are a reserve fund for me and my wife.

"... That I'm going to stick to this plan as long as it's humanly possible—for the good of myself, my family, and also for the good of my America."

Makes sense for all of us, doesn't it?

Help the nation's efforts to keep your living costs DOWN, the buying power of your dollar UP.

When unbelievers square their shoulders, proudly hold their heads high and challenge, "I do everything I want without Christ. Christ means nothing to me now, and He never will," they make a fatal mistake. Even as they boast of their self-sufficiency, their own conscience quietly but persistently warns them that at some time, sooner or later, they will face their Maker. We must have Christ, who, pleading our cause before the bar of eternity, secures the acquittal of all believers, since He Himself bore their sins and carried their griefs. Give Christ first place in your life in 1946. Come and hear the Christ-centered messages at Grace Lutheran Church.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Big Three Draw Closer Together; British Break Ruhr Monopoly; New Work Stoppages Looming

Released by Western Newspaper Union

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

BIG THREE: Meeting of Minds

With the declaration that "progress, and great progress, has been made," the foreign ministers of U. S., Britain and Russia concluded their quarterly conference in Moscow, and observers looked to a smoother relation between the major powers for re-establishment of order out of the dislocations in Europe and Asia.

Though the agreement between Messrs. Byrnes, Bevin and Molotov to work for control of atomic energy and eliminate it as a war weapon commanded the most popular attention, political understandings reached were equally important in their assurance of settling populations, permitting organization of comprehensive governments and spurring the resumption of trade.

One of the principal items of accord involved agreement on procedure for drafting the European peace treaties with Axis satellites, the Big Three deciding to let France in on discussions over Italy and consulting all of the United Nations on pacts covering Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland.

In agreement on Europe, the Big Three also moved to closer understanding on Asia, where they decided upon the establishment of a four-nation control commission for Japan to implement directives formulated by the far eastern advisory council with unanimous approval of the member countries.

RUHR: British Take Mines

An integral part of Germany's economy, 130 Ruhr coal mines owned by 46 companies were taken over by the British occupation authorities in a move to break up the country's war potential and also contribute to the decentralization of the Reich's industry.

In announcing the expropriation of the properties without compensation to the owners, the British declared that the coal mines were controlled by the same monopolistic interests which dominated the iron, steel and chemical industries and exercised a decisive influence on the character of prewar German economy.

In taking over the mines, the British announced that the financial interests of France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg in the properties would be safeguarded.

Fix Reparations

Though U. S. reparations from western Germany were set at 26 percent of the total to be shared by 21 countries, this country's actual amount may fall short of the agreed figure since it waived rights to enemy ships and industrial equipment because of small losses in these categories.

In addition to such capital goods as plants, machinery, etc., German foreign assets, current stocks and items from production have been declared available for payments, and the U. S. is expected to draw primarily from these sources.

Besides the U. S., Britain will also receive 26 percent of reparations, with France allotted 16 percent. Other recipients include Yugoslavia, the Netherlands, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Greece, India, Norway, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, Denmark, Luxembourg, Egypt and Albania.

Under the Potsdam agreement, Russia was to obtain its principal reparations from eastern Germany, and German assets in Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Romania and eastern Austria.

FRANCE: Trade Move

In a move designed to bring the purchasing power of the franc in line with foreign currencies, France devalued its monetary unit to 119 to the American dollar and 480 to the British pound.

As a result of the new arrangement, French foreign trade is expected to pick up, since the rise in prices due to decreased production will be offset by giving up more francs to the dollar or pound. In certain of its colonies where there has been no inflationary spiral, the French maintained the old value of the local franc.

Because of the disruption of industry and commerce, France's foreign trade since liberation has been mostly of the token variety to keep overseas channels open. Some perfume, cognac and champagne has

RAISE STATE PAY:

At least 300,000 employees of 41 states received salary adjustments during the war period, a survey disclosed.

The methods of pay adjustment varied in the states, increases being directed by legislative action in 17 states, and adjustments made through administrative action in 13 others. Six states reported pay adjustments both by legislative and administrative action.

CHINA: Propose Truce

Even while 50,000 communist troops reportedly sought to cut the Yangtze river between Nanking and Shanghai, Red political leaders attempted to bring about a truce with Chiang Kai-shek's nationalist forces by suggesting the cessation of hostilities with troops of the two factions permitted to remain at present positions.

Advanced shortly after Gen. George C. Marshall's arrival in China to help untangle the complicated political situation there and promote unification of the country, the communist proposal was a modification of an earlier demand that nationalist troops withdraw to positions previously occupied before V-J Day.

Meanwhile, as communist and nationalist leaders of the political consultative council sat down to lay preparations for later discussions of unity, Red strategists sought to exert pressure on the U. S. to withdraw more support from Chiang's faction and enhance their own bargaining position in conferences. Held throughout China, leftist student rallies called upon Uncle Sam to let the Chinese settle their own differences without interference.

CANDY: Short Supply

Because of both ingredient and labor shortages, candy production will fall short of expected demands during the first nine months of 1946, the trade predicted, with the deficit amounting to 700 million pounds.

While nuts, peanuts, many fruits, coconuts, cocoa oil and other oil, and sugar apparently will remain in short supply through most of the year, the anticipated return of workers to confectionery plants from higher paying war industries has not materialized, though leveling off of other employment and increased wages should lead to solution of the manpower problem.

In addition to prospective higher labor costs, the trade said, material costs are also expected to remain at upward levels because of the shortage of supplies and the declared program of the government to eliminate subsidies on items entering into manufacture of candy. Straightening of difficulties will be the signal for extensive plant modernization and expansion, experts said, with installation of equipment heading the program.

Journey's End

"O God, thou art my God; early will I seek Thee"—Chaplain Edwin Royal Carter Jr. of Richmond, Va., intoned as soldiers lifted the flag that covered the casket of Gen. George S. Patton and held it a few inches above the silver top.

Rain pattered upon the canvas canopy covering the burial site at the end of a long row of little white crosses in the American military cemetery in Luxembourg, Luxembourg, where 6,000 of the former G.I. Patton had led in the historic Battle of the Bulge the year before rested in peace. Beside Patton lay the body of Pvt. John Pryzwara of Detroit, Mich.

"But the king shall rejoice in God; everyone that sweareth by Him shall glory; but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped," the chaplain concluded in reading the fallen warrior's favorite 63rd Psalm. With the recitation of the Lord's prayer, the military men bowed their heads, then three rifle volleys echoed through the hills. As taps sounded softly, all stood at attention, and distinguished generals from Russia, Britain and France held themselves stiffly in salute until Mrs. Patton turned to leave.

Most distinctive of the floral pieces honoring "Old Blood and Guts" was an evergreen wreath from the men he had led to victory. It bore the simple and touching inscription: "To our leader!"

Though falling below the department of agriculture's goal, the 1945 pig crop of 86,714,000 slightly surpassed 1944 production and topped the 10 year 1934-43 average by over 7,000,000.

While the 1945 spring pig crop fell below 1944, fall production rose to offset the early year drop, USDA reported. While large increases in the fall crop over 1944 were noted in the western corn belt, small decreases were recorded in the Atlantic states.

With 5,503,000 sows farrowed during the fall season, the number of pigs saved per litter totaled 6.33 compared with 6.34 in 1944 and 6.23 for the 10-year period.

In view of farmers' intentions to breed 8,542,000 sows next spring, the USDA's goal of 52,000,000 pigs should be achieved if the number saved in each litter equals the 10-year average. With heavy 1945 fall production and the retention of a large percentage of 1945 spring hogs on farms for extra feeding, pork supplies should be good through the ensuing months.

G.I. INSURANCE:

Despite the fact that the veteran's National Service Life Insurance is probably the greatest bargain in life insurance today, many discharged servicemen are dropping it and making a big mistake, says Dr. W. M. Curtis of Cornell University. Premium rates are lower than for mutual and stock companies, and include a waiver of premiums in case of disability, Dr. Curtis said. This feature costs about 75 cents extra per $1,000 of ordinary life insurance from a private company.

Man About Town:

Lady Astor is trying to arrange a "visit to the U. S." mainly to avoid being summoned as a witness by the war criminals at Nuernberg, who still fondly recall the Cliveden Set. . . . The State Dept. is anxious to learn just how Doris (World's Richest Gal) Duke could enter Italy without a visa, which the State Dept. didn't give her. . . . The reason Herbert Hoover's marriage to a wealthy widow is being retarded, they say, is "family static." . . . Biggest story that ever happened in the Washington Press Club didn't make any of the papers. A. U. S. Marine, fed up with a columnist's poison about FDR, etc., picked him up bodily and tossed him from the bar into the lobby.

After the San Francisco Conference, a Russian attache visited Hollywood as the guest of Gregory Ratoff, the director. . . . Ratoff pointed out numerous movie queens. . . . On one set Ratoff sighed: "They are all so beautiful, but, unfortunately, they don't stay happily married very long!" . . . "In Russia," explained the visitor, "one reason marriages last longer is that a wife looks the same after washing her face!"

At the 400 (which features name bands) a Broadway song plugger had too much to drink and started being a bore.

"Oh," oh'd Lenore Lemmon, "climb back into your flask!"

Errol Flynn's forthcoming book, "The Showdown," is said to be better than his first book. . . . As Flynn strolled with his friend, artist John Decker, John remarked: "I wonder if Hollywood will believe you wrote it!"

"Yes," said Errol, "if they think it's not good."

In Ciro's the other midnight Jack Haley was seated near an actor who had just lost a chance for a choice role in a film. He was popping off about "all the inefficient directors, blind producers, two-timing agents, etc." . . . Jack turned to his wife Flo and nifted: "Pardon me, honey, but I think I smell somebody burning."

Lee Sullivan, the singer, relays the yarn about the two shipwrecked drama critics. They drifted for weeks on a raft. . . . The more frightened of the two started seeking forgiveness for his sins.

"I've been a louse all my life," he said. "I've been cruel to actors. Too often I went out of my way to hurt them. If I'm spared, I promise. . . ."

"Just a moment," shouted the other one, "don't go too far. I think I see smoke from a ship!"

An executive of the Scientific Research Development Board had an appointment with Prof. Oppenheimer, the scientist who had so much to do with completing the atomic bomb. . . . Oppenheimer was to have registered at the Statler Hotel in Washington. . . . But the caller was told that he was not registered, and he wasn't. . . . This is why. . . . While the phone operator kept getting important calls for Oppenheimer—he was seated in a far corner of the foyer—patiently waiting for a room! . . . In any other country he would have been given a hotel or a palace. What does!

Sportsman R. S. Evans brought this back from California. . . . A street corner prejudist screamed: "There ain't enough room in this country for furriners and us Amurricans." . . . To which a lumbering giant among the listeners interrupted: "Yessiree, especially pale-face foreigners!"

The squelcher was Jim Thorpe, American Indian Olympics star.

Nothing New Under the Sun Dept: Bob Berryman of the WOR news room has traced the origin of "wolf" as applied to current usage. . . . In the Decameron of Boccaccio, a king with a roving eye was accused of being a "wolf." The Decameron stories were published in the 14th century. . . . This king wanted a man's two daughters as his wives—and the father intoned: "I firmly believeth you to be a king and not a ravening wolf!"

John W. Raper, a Cleveland paragrapher for decades, has put some of his peppigrams between covers. The title is: "What This World Needs." . . . We liked these especially. . . . The theater box office counts the cash, not the applause. . . . Justice is what we get when the decision is in our favor.

Quotation Marksmanship: John W. Raper: Success has made failures of many men. . . . Anon: One man with courage names a majority. . . . Doris Keane: Romance and marriage are two different things. . . . Voltaire: Satire lies about literary men while they live and eulogy lies about them when they die. . . . Alan Sands: He's one of those in-the-nobodies. . . . Wilson Mizner: There is something about a closet that makes a skeleton terribly restless. . . . Helen Sims: Unplanned as a hiccup.

Members Famed 36th Texas Division To Meet Jan. 19-21

The first reunion of men of the famed 36th Infantry Division, the Texas Division which invaded Hitler Europe at Salerno, fought through the rugged mountains of the interior of Italy, and pushed the Nazis back through France, Germany and Austria, will be held in Brownwood January 19-21.

All former members of the 36th Division—and that includes veterans of the World War I Division—are invited to attend the reunion by officials of the 36th Division Association and by the City of Brownwood and the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

Highlights of the three day reunion include a street parade in downtown Brownwood, memorial services for 36th Division men killed in action, several dances, business sessions and general get-togethers of the Texas soldiers.

Pete Boswell, returned veteran working at City Grocery and Market, likes Burk Burnett and wants to know the people here. He hands the Star his subscription to help him get acquainted as he reads the happenings from week to week.

Pearl Harbor, T. H.—Pfc. Delmus L. Womack, husband of Mrs. Pauline J. Womack of Burkburnett, Texas is one of 300 high-point Army veterans whom the "Magic Carpet" is bringing back to the States aboard the U. S. S. Starlight.

The U. S. S. Starlight—one of more than 300 carriers, battle-ships, cruisers, and attack transports in the Navy's famed "Magic Carpet" fleet left Saipan, December 19, and is scheduled to arrive in San Pedro about January 3rd.

The Starlight is one of the many APA's which proved the worthiness of these ships as troop carriers, hauling more than 12,000 men without a single serious casualty. This ship characterizes the part the APA's have played in giving the U. S. the Naval superiority needed to defeat Japan.

Word came this week from Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Green of Klamath Falls, Oregon, stating that they are moving to California. Green was recently discharged from the Marine Corps.

NATION'S BUSINESS

How to be a Business Hero

The forward-looking executive who is the first to see and advocate the tremendous strategic advantages of a plant, branch plant or warehouse in the new industrial Southwest is bound to win the approbation of his firm.

The Southwest is "open country" for business enterprisers... a bustling land where markets, materials and manpower meet. Here is to be found every advantage for industrial expansion—vast and varied reserves of raw materials, power, water, fuel—willing labor, sharpened by wartime skills—rich home markets.

How to Start...
Send for the booklet, "The Industrial Southwest," packed with essential data on population, housing, climate, native resources and industrial opportunities in the Katy-served trading areas adjudged by U. S. Dept. of Commerce to possess outstanding prospects for productive prosperity.

Main Street of the Southwest. The Katy publishes this advertisement because it is the "home town" railroad of the progressive cities of the Southwest. The Katy serves the Southwest well because it has only the Southwest to serve... does not criss-cross a dozen states... but is a closely-knit, friendly, Class "1" railroad, devoted exclusively to the development of its strategically-located Southwestern corridor.

The Katy serves the Southwest well because it first opened it to commerce in 1870 and has grown up with it. That is why Katy's Industrial Research Staff is in a unique position to furnish timely and comprehensive studies to help you establish new industry, relocate or expand. Write Industrial Development Dept., Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines, St. Louis 1, Mo., or Katy Building, Dallas 2, Texas.

When you travel or ship Southwest, remember Katy.
