Annual C. of C. Banquet Thursday, Jan. 24th

THE FIFTH FREEDOM

Every good American cherishes the Four Freedoms contained in the now-famous Atlantic Charter: Freedom of Speech, Freedom of Worship, Freedom from Want, Freedom from Fear.

There is another freedom for which all humanity is fighting: Freedom from Disease.

One of the most feared and most insidious diseases that annually threatens this nation is infantile paralysis. It is high on the list of Public Enemies because its victims are chiefly children under 16.

Infantile Paralysis—the Great Crippler—is no respecter of persons. It strikes rich and poor alike, white and black, Catholic, Protestant and Jew.

Through contributions to the March of Dimes, conducted January 14-31 by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, you can help bring the Fifth Freedom closer.

MOST POLIO PATIENTS RECOVER; MARCH OF DIMES ASSURES CARE

More than half the men, women and children attacked by infantile paralysis get well, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which conducts the March of Dimes.

Of those attacked, the Foundation says 50 per cent recover completely, 29 per cent are left with slight residual paralysis, 18 per cent remain handicapped and 3 per cent die.

Give to the March of Dimes, January 14-31, and help assure the best of care and treatment to all needy poliomyelitis victims, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

Paul Browning to Head March of Dimes Campaign

Plans for the 1946 March of Dimes in the fight against infantile paralysis moved forward today with the appointment of Paul Browning as chairman for the Appeal in Burkburnett.

The local campaign, which opens on January 14 and closes January 31, is part of the nation-wide appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for funds to continue the fight against poliomyelitis. As in the past, March of Dimes coin collection boxes will be placed at convenient spots throughout the county and coin cards will be distributed. In the light of widespread public knowledge of the National Foundation's tremendous achievements in recent epidemic years.

Poliomyelitis is one of the most expensive diseases known to medicine. Hospitalization for a single patient costs more than $2,500 a year. Some cases require continuing care for several years. Not only must many victims of past epidemics receive continued care, but each year's outbreak adds new names to the steadily growing list. Few families can meet the cost of extended polio treatment. Through the annual March of Dimes, treatment and care can be assured for all polio victims regardless of age, race, creed, or color.

Burk Takes Basket Ball Game At Olney

The Burkburnett Bulldogs winners of the Eastern division basketball title of district 2-AA, in 1945, successfully defended their title last Friday night when they went to Olney and walloped the Cubs 26 to 17.

The contest was hard fought throughout, with scoring honors going to Cypert, hustling forward, who rung up 9 points, and Rogers, who accounted for 8 points for the Bulldogs.

In a preliminary game, the "B" team smothered the Olney section stringers beneath a 38-8 score. Coach Don Short is whipping the boys into form as fast as possible, and if they continue to improve as they have in the past few weeks, they should end the season in an enviable position.

O. G. Burnett, president of the County Association of Odd Fellow and Rebekahs, attended a meeting of that organization in Wichita Falls Wednesday night.

Termed as one of the most enjoyable barbecues ever held in Burkburnett, was Thursday night, Jan. 10 when the Masons held open house in the Masonic Hall.

Master of the lodge, G. T. England opened the meeting. Henry Ferguson gave the opening prayer, followed by the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag." The principal speaker of the evening was Al Ellis, recorder of the Maskat Temple of Wichita Falls. Other speakers were H. L. Riee, deputy grand master of the 88th Masonic District; Earl Craven, director of Maskat Temple, Wichita Falls; Charles Percifield, Potentate, Maskat Temple, Wichita Falls; and Col. J. O. Dotson, of Wichita Falls, recently returned from overseas. The speakers were all introduced by Mr. England.

Approximately 100 plates were served. The venison and beef barbecue and ice cream refreshments were furnished by Geo. Counter, Jr., and R. L. Gragg. The lodge stewards, Bro. W. K. Clayton, A. R. Allen and assistants served. The members of the Eastern Star were well represented.

Burkburnett Lodge No. 1027 will hold Master Degree work at 7:30 P. M. Friday, January 18. All Master Masons are urged to attend.

Don Short has returned to the Burkburnett schools after serving three years in Uncle Sam's Army. Prior to his entry in the service, Don had been with the local schools two semesters.

Mr. Short is basket ball coach and assistant foot ball coach. He is a graduate of East Texas State Teachers College, where he majored in physical education and history, and coached two freshman basket ball teams that won wide acclaim in college circles. In the few short weeks that he has been coaching this year's Bulldogs he has produced a team that promises to give a good account of itself in defense of the district -AA basket ball championship won by Burkburnett last year.

Coach Short got his first Army training with the ski-troopers in Colorado shortly after entering the service December 15, 1942. Later he went overseas with the 9th Division and hit the Normandy beach on D-Day plus 4. His division was one of the first two divisions to enter Cherbourg, France. From there they fought their way to Paris, across France, Belgium, into Germany and across the Rhine river. They were on the front lines continuously from June 10 to late in November, when his division was pulled back for a breathing spell. Besides his coaching duties Mr. Short is teaching Economics and Physics.

Welcome back to Burkburnett. We're all behind you and the Bulldogs.

HELP THEM

The March of Dimes is the parade of thousands of feet to stamp out infantile paralysis, which calls its appeal in a campaign from January 14-31. The purpose is to contribute to the valiant efforts of hospitals and laboratories to conquer this dread disease. Over 7,000 new cases of polio have been reported in our country this past year. The March of Dimes moves forward and hopes Burkburnett will aid you and yours against becoming victims. Support humanity and fight infantile paralysis.

MEAT EATERS

Those hardy pioneers who shouldered musket to bring in the wild game for their hungry families, didn't eat any more meat than we are doing today. We're breaking records with out jaws, putting down steaks, chops and roasts as fast as they are produced and this means there isn't much left for storage. From the 106 pounds per person before the war, we are now consuming 165 pounds of each in a year. Some of us wonder why America is eating more meat than ever before. Perhaps we are working harder and need it or are making more money and can buy it. One thing we all know however, is that all of us are eating better than much of the rest of the world.

IT ISN'T FUNNY

The latest edict from Petrillo, the czar of the musicians union, tells radio governors that they must not broadcast over seas musical programs since it harms the business of American musicians through competition. Canadian broadcasts are alright since their musicians belong to the union. This may sound silly to us, but we might find that the powerful Petrillo could rob the radio audience of its musical fare. This is not the first time he made demands and we felt the affect before. It is about time our law-makers did something not so funny nor so silly in the way of controlling such measures. All of us in Burkburnett believe in fair practices and this bit of news from the Petrillo camp doesn't seem to come under that heading.

CONGRATULATIONS RADIO

Radio broadcasting is 25 years old and as we tune in our Burkburnett sets to tonight's programs we congratulate the pioneers of this industry in furthering this device for entertainment and education. The talk that radio is still in its infancy recalls the early crystal sets that did not gather much but dust and static but thrilled us to the marrow. We think radio has come a long and wonderful ways. You may wisecrack that there hasn't been too much change in the comedian's jokes but it goes without saying that we wouldn't be without a radio in every home, stale gags or not. Remember how we used those ear-phones on the old sets and when a distant station came in we bragged about it for days. How we sat up late at night when the air was better for broadcasting, trying to find new call letters, turning the dial for unusually more static and less program, finding that the noises from the east coast crackled and boomed about the same as these on the west coast. Let them speak of television which comes to Washington and New York in mid January, and tell us that our present model will soon be out-moded, but nothing in television can make us forget the days when radio was really an infant.

When Your Back Hurts— And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par. It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood. You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. THE LAWS OF A PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:1-17. GOLDEN TEXT—I will delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved.—Psalm 119:47.

Law is necessary to order. Basic laws have been laid down by God for the orderly administration of His universe. Physical laws are of great importance, but of even deeper significance are the moral and spiritual laws which control the human life. There is in the world a moral law a distinction between right and wrong—which man may ignore only to his own sorrow, and which he cannot abrogate or destroy. All laws of men which are true and right are founded on this underlying moral law, and they are in reality simply a development and interpretation of "God's Code of Morals"—the Ten Commandments. These fundamental laws were given to Israel at Mount Sinai, but they speak to us with remarkable freshness and directness. They merit more extensive study than we can give them in this limited space, but we can note their broad outlines and certain practical applications. There are two divisions—one concerns man in his relation to God, and the other in his relation to men. We have:

I. A Right View of God (vv. 1-11). The first and most important question to be asked regarding any law is, "By whom was it established?" Legislation by an unauthorized person or organization has no power over others. Who gave the Ten Commandments? Verse 1 tells us "God spake all these words."

Men may sneer at theology as being outmoded, but the fact is that Christian doctrine is the only safe foundation for Christian character. 1. Whom to Worship (vv. 2-5). There can be but one true God, and He alone is to be worshipped. He is a personal being, ready to enter into communion with each one of us. No image or likeness can take His place. Bowing down before idols, no matter what they may be called, is expressly forbidden by God. 2. How to Worship (vv. 6, 7). We are to love Him and to keep His commandments. There is to be no sham about this, for no matter how sweet and pious may be the praise and prayer of man, he has taken the Lord's name in vain unless he keeps the Lord's commandments by holy living.

3. When to Worship (vv. 8-11). God has ordained that man should not inordinately bear the burden of toil. He is to have a day of rest and a time for worship, undisturbed by the duties and responsibilities of daily labor. America needs a mighty stirring up about the desecration of the Lord's day. The stalwarts of the last generation fought a valiant battle against a rising tide of secularism and worldly pleasure. Now no one seems to care. Do you? "Six days shalt thou labor." Give God one day out of seven.

II. A Right View of Man (vv. 12-17). To be right with God means that we will also be right with our fellowman. Conversely, the man who is manifestly wrong in his relation to his fellowman is either not right with God at all, or he is not living out his Christian life in practice. This should show in:

1. Family Life (v. 12). The fifth commandment has to do with the relation between child and parent. There is a plain and direct command that father and mother should be honored. Only in respect and obedience to parents can the child possibly find true and proper development. Parents who have permitted children to go astray during the war years will need to stress anew the God-required obedience to their authority.

2. Physical Life (vv. 13, 14). God is interested in our bodies. Already we have noted His provision for a day of rest each week. Now we are reminded of the sanctity of human life. "Thou shalt not kill," and remember there are many other ways to kill a man other than shooting him.

Let us be sure that we are not a party to the destruction of anyone's life either by reason of carelessness or greed. Note the emphasis on adultery. Moral uncleanness, which is so awfully common in our day, is one of the most effective methods of destroying the body even while degrading and defiling the soul with sin.

3. Social Life (vv. 15-17). "Thou shalt not steal!"—and remember any dishonest appropriation of what does not belong to you is stealing, call it what you will. And "false witness"—how it has honeycombed our very civilization! Not a little of it is found within the church, more shame upon us! Lastly we come to "covetousness"—which has been called one of the "respectable sins of nice people." It is subtle and often hidden. Let us root it out of our own lives by God's grace.

Kathleen Norris Says:

The Girl With No Boy Friend

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Join a language class—Russian or Spanish. You'll meet interesting people of all ages at evening classes."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS "I SIMPLY am not interesting, and I know it," writes Georgia Carter, from a Georgia city. "I am 30, I have a good job, I live in a nice apartment, I have no family, and I am completely uninteresting. Oh, and I am not bad-looking."

"I feel like Galsworthy's little man, 'Am I alive?' Life roars on all about me. Girls are crying their hearts out over soldiers gone away, they are welcoming them back, house-hunting, job-hunting, having babies. The newspapers shriek with headlines. In our town we had a big fire, a big flood, political changes of the most drastic sort—none of it touches me."

"My friends are married. They have babies, I smile at all the babies. But even the babies are not interested, and as for the husbands—well, I have sense enough to keep out of their way. I dress nicely, eat well, have a luxurious bed and a pleasant room, and at 58 I will have enough money saved and invested to give me a modest income for life. Am I not lucky! So lucky that I seriously think of suicide."

"Years ago mother used to tell me to interest men by getting them to talk. It makes my face hot to remember how often I started into bright conversations about law, meat-packing, planes, real estate, bulldogs. The man would look at me blankly, answer in a monosyllable, and turn to the girl on the other side. I simply can't do it."

Afraid of Future. "Those years between 30 and 58 fascinate me. There's something rather scary to a woman of 30 in looking ahead. Perhaps it's easier at 40. What shall I do? My job is superintendent of the mail order department of a drug firm. I have about 20 girls under me. They all know the answers better than I do."

Earlier in the letter she says that her father was an invalid for many years, unable to stand noise or the presence of strangers, and that when he died, in her 21st year, her mother sank into an invalidism almost as complete.

So Georgia had no youth, no joyous girlhood of home entertaining and home security. No wonder she is still stiff-necked and awkward with men, fumbling about for subjects in which to interest them, and knowing—or half-suspecting in her uncomfortable heart—that the simplest thing in which to interest them is herself.

And you have to be interested in yourself if anyone else is to find you interesting. Georgia. So stop trying to attract outsiders, and attract yourself—to yourself.

There are many ways to do this. They all sound flat and unconvincing, but you only have to try a few of them honestly to be reborn into enthusiasm, first for your own life, and then for the lives all about you.

Get a Country Place. I'd get out of the two-room city apartment, and find some small place in the country, near town. Buy it if you like it enough; as well now and as at that future date, when you will have saved enough money for your old age. Enjoy it now and in your old age, too. You'll never find yourself at a loss for conversation when you can talk of your fire-place, the things that will and won't grow in your garden, the difficulty in getting furnace oil and a second-hand refrigerator, and the ridiculous kitten that has adopted you.

Get some picturesque clothes, even if you haven't nerve enough to wear them anywhere except in the house. Ask an occasional office friend to come out to lunch some Sunday, and warn him—or her—that he or she may have to help weed. Join a language class—Russian or Spanish. You'll meet interesting persons of all ages at evening Spanish classes. Then budget your time as well as your income. Three hours in the garden on Sundays, extra jobs about the house, written menus for the week, church, just so much radio amusement, and one or two letters, or your language lesson, written to radio music late in the evening. When you're thoroughly absorbed in all these new activities, you'll discover that someone else is, too. The man who came out to help you weed will want to come again; your new friend in the Russian class will ask you if he may not come and do your language study with you; a neighbor will step over to borrow a hose and suggest a movie. And you will be so absorbed in your own interests that you will be amazed to find deep gratitude when you have a whole evening to yourself.

A NEW APPROACH

Many young people in big cities can't seem to fit in socially. They are fairly successful in business or professional life, but they go on, year after year, unable to attract anyone who could possibly be considered in marriage. So they remain single. Eventually they drift into their thirties. Then suddenly one day there comes a panicky realization that the future will not take care of them; that without vigorous trying, they are facing a drab middle age, and sad, lonely old age.

Such a situation is presented in a letter Miss Norris reprints in today's paper. A girl just turned 30 has a good job, a nice New York apartment, good clothes, in fact, practically everything. She says she is good looking, well educated, and agreeable. Somehow, nevertheless, all the men she meets soon turn to someone else. It just seems impossible for her to be interesting, no matter what she tries to talk about.

Miss Norris advises this unhappy girl that she must take a new approach; try to get interested in something herself. She could go to evening school, for instance. There are always intelligent people taking night classes, and among her classmates there are sure to be some who would be glad to number her among their friends. Another possibility would be to move to a small place in the country, just outside of town. Here she could develop new interests—gardening, poultry raising, perhaps. Soon she would have a host of new acquaintances. She would never be at a loss for something to talk about, either.

REFINISHING A COAT To give a repaired coat a finished look, steam press wool fabric. Protect it with one of the treated press cloths which can be bought with directions for use, or by covering the wool with a dry wool cloth, then a dampened cotton cloth. To steam press, set the warm iron down, then lift it with just enough force to drive steam through the wool—that is, use patting or pressing instead of the usual back-and-forth ironing motion. Be sure that the lining is smooth under the coat to avoid wrinkling.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Don't attempt to dry a fur coat over a radiator. Heat dries the skins and cracks them.

Better stick to the plain hand-weave darn for mending small tears or cuts in wool materials. With these you'll be able to match the pattern or grain of material more easily, making mend less likely to show.

A warped door often can be corrected by adding a third or middle hinge.

To run new tape or elastic through underwear, fasten the end of the new to an end of the old. As new is worked in, old is pulled out. Takes just about half the time and effort.

A couple of folding chairs are fine for use in a small kitchen.

A small piece of sandpaper placed on the table before clamping the food chopper into position will save wear and tear on your disposition. Grind anything you like, and the chopper won't slip.

Lid-lifting and opening the oven door causes heat loss that lengthens cooking time and wastes precious fuel.

Huge War Picture Took 130 Artists to Complete

The largest oil painting in existence is the Pantheon de la Guerre, a panorama of the first World War, which is 402 feet long and 45 feet high, says Collier's.

Painted in France during the four years of that conflict by more than 130 artists, the gigantic work contains—besides battlefields, flags, monuments and symbolic figures—the life-size portraits of six thousand war heroes and leaders of fifteen countries.

Service Unites Well-Known Pair

Double ring vows were read at 6 o'clock p. m., Monday, January 14, by Rev. P. G. Hightower, to unite Jonita Wandeem Majors and Garland Floyd Johnston, two of Burkburnett's most prominent young people. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Majors and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Johnston, all long time residents of this city.

The bridal party stood in a nuptial space backgrounded by candelabras and baskets of white gladiolus on either side of an arch outlined with white mums and gladiolus. Greenery and candles along the Chancel rail added to the setting.

The ushers were Robert L. Butts and Truett Majors. Before the service, candles were lit by Thomas Manson Hamilton and Donald Wills. Janice Ruth Wright and Linda Beth Hall, neices of the groom were flower girls and preceded the party sprinkling rose petals along the aisle.

The musical setting for the ceremony was provided by Miss Sadie Beth Tevis, pianist, and Mrs. Floyd Cates of Ft. Worth, vocalist. Mrs. Cates gave "Because" and "Oh Promise Me" accompanied by Miss Tevis, who played the traditional precessionary and gave Debussy's "Clair de Lune" as a background for the ceremony. She also played "Blessed be the Tie that Binds" during the prayer.

J. D. Majors gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown, that was fashioned of deep-ivory slipper satin, featured a drop yoke with lace at the high neck line and long fitted sleeves. The fitted bodice accented the full circular skirt with inset of lace, which swept into a deep train. Her veil extended in circular tiers from a headdress of rose-point lace. For something old and borrowed, she wore a necklace belonging to her cousin that is 150 years old, and carried a bouquet of white roses, centered with an orchid which completed her costume.

Matron of honor for the bride was Mrs. Donald Davis Phillips of Austin who chose an ice-blue frock featuring a bodice of satin with a sweetheart neck line and three-quarter length sleeves. The head-dress and matching floor length skirt was of net. To complete her costume, she carried a bouquet of Better Time roses with ribbons to match. Other attendants for the bride were the bridesmaids, Misses Carol Lohofener and Betty Mills. Their dresses duplicated those of the monor-matron but carried bouquets of Talsimon roses.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Russell Johnston of Dallas.

Mrs. Johnston is a graduate of the Burk High school and re-

Grace Lutheran Church

We should not deceive ourselves by arguing that it makes no difference whether Christ is truly God or only man. It makes all the difference in the world.

Because Jesus is more than the greatest men, higher than the loftiest angels, nothing the Scriptures promise, "shall be impossible" to Him. He can do all things.

When everything else gives way; when human hopes collapse—when reliance on men has cruelly failed, we can cling to Christ as our God, find a firm anchor for our storm-tossed souls in the faith which accepts Him as the Lord.

Resolve to make this year your banner year by giving Christ first place in your life. Sunday School, 9:45 A. M. The officers of the church will be formally inducted in a special installation service following the sermon.

Evening worship, 7 P. M. Walther League topic study and social hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Bowles. Junior Instruction Class on Thursday night, 7:30 P. M. Grace Lutheran Church extends a cordial welcome.

BACK IN STATES

Mrs. B. E. England, 714 N. Ave. E has received a wire from her husband Pfc. B. E. England that he has arrived in Seattle, Washington and would be in Texas in a few days.

England has been in the Pacific theatre, in Leyete, Luzon and Okinawa. From Okinawa he was sent home for discharge.

First Baptist Church

Sunday School, 9:45. Preaching Services, 11. Training Union, 9:45. Preaching Services, 7:30.

The first two Sundays of this year have been good days. We have run over the 300 mark in Sunday School each Sunday, with good crowds and additions each Sunday.

This good attendance helps to keep up our good average. However, we must prepare against some bad Sundays.

The pastor is bringing a series of sermons on the Church—The two preceding messages—A Victorious Church—and a Rich Church will be followed by this Sunday's message on A Cold Church.

The Training Union has picked up in attendance. We had even 100 last Sunday night. Were you one of the 100? Are you lending your influence, help to the Training Union? Are you receiving blessings from it? Remember you are the loser if you fail to attend every service on Sunday.

There is a place for the entire family both morning and evening. The nursery is open for babies.

At 11, the preaching hour, the Sun Beams will meet in the Beginner Department. This group includes children of ages from 4 to 8. This gives the mothers an opportunity to attend the preaching services.

Welcome to all visitors—come and worship with us.

—Pastor.

Safe, Sane Warfare

Until about 1900, natives of the Gilbert islands, unlike all others in the South Pacific, employed a safe and sane method of warfare, says Collier's. When a dispute arose between two villages over hunting rights or stolen women, the matter was settled by a battle in which each village was represented by its bravest warrior who would be dressed in his community's one suit of "armor," made for the purpose from coconut fiber and dried fish skin.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Takes Legislative Fight To People; CIO Extends Drive To Retain High Take-Home Pay

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Living in damp, dark basement like average German family in Frankfurt, this couple emerges with chickens and rabbit in arms for breath of fresh air.

WHITE HOUSE: Puts on Heat

With President Truman having taken to the fireside to carry his legislative program to the people, interest centered on public response to his appeal to prod congress into action on a string of proposals deemed important to the orderly functioning of the postwar economy. In calling upon the people to arouse their representatives, Mr. Truman was careful not to antagonize congress itself, patting the solons on the back for having fully supported the administration's foreign policy designed to further international collaboration, and charging only a few members in committee for having blocked consideration of domestic legislation.

While the President touched upon no less than nine phases of his national program, he placed particular emphasis upon the creation of machinery to outlaw strikes for a 30-day period during which a fact finding board with subpoena power would study labor controversies and recommend solutions; mobilization of resources for providing five million homes as quickly as possible to relieve an acute housing shortage, and extension of price control and emergency authority to head off inflation and permit equitable distribution of scarce materials to industry until supplies balance demand.

Declaring that "what the American people want is action," Mr. Truman suggested that if congress did not favor his proposals, it should go ahead with its own to solve immediate pressing problems.

LABOR: Strike Spreads

With no major reconversion wage pattern yet set, labor unrest continued to mount, with the latest strike threat shaping in demands of the CIO-United Packinghouse Workers for a 25-cent hourly pay increase for 200,000 members.

The possibilities of a walkout drew an immediate response from Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who declared that a work stoppage must be averted, with reserves low, civilian and overseas needs high, and normal marketing of farmers threatened. Though 60,000 members of the AFL-Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's union announced that they would not join the CIO, a strike of the latter would seriously curtail the production of 100 million pounds of meat daily.

In asking for a 25 cent hourly wage raise, the CIO stated that it would agree to a 17 1/2 cent hourly pay boost, with the remainder to be negotiated when the general business picture became clearer. Standing alone, the Hormel company was the first to accept the compromise, and the union announced that the firm's plants in Minnesota, South Dakota and Texas would not be struck but would produce meat for hospitals and other institutions.

Meanwhile, the government sought to avert a walkout of 700,000 steel and allied workers over the CIO-United Steel Workers' demands for a $2 a day wage increase by presidential appointment of a fact finding board to study the issue and instructions to OPA to consider industry requests for price increases on carbon products to assure profitable operations.

In asking OPA to weigh the industry's bid for higher ceilings and then submit them to the fact finding board pondering the wage issue, Mr. Truman reversed the previous administration policy calling first for the boosting of pay and then for an application for price increases if necessary to cover the added expenses.

Administration back-tracking on original policy followed indications that the CIO was determined to press its bid for the $2 a day raise and the U. S. Steel corporation, as pacesetter for the industry, was equally determined to hold out against settlement until granted relief on price schedules. With steel products essential to the manufacture of many major items, any disruption of output of the metal would play havoc with the reconversion program.

Government efforts to curb the mounting strike wave also extended to the telephone and electrical industries over demands of both independent and CIO unions for increased reconversion pay to maintain high wartime take-home earnings.

ARAB LEAGUE: Push Boycott

Seeking to apply pressure against Jewish ambitions in Palestine, the Arab league, standing 33 million strong throughout the Middle East, prepared to undertake an extensive boycott of "Zionist" manufactured goods.

Though Syria, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia reportedly had already acted, and Egypt, Iraq and Trans-Jordan were completing arrangements, Palestine itself held back, with the close business relationships between the Arabs and Jews in that troubled state leading to a more cautious approach to the movement.

Jewish exports to Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Iraq and Trans-Jordan have increased five-fold since 1938, rising to $12,500,000 in 1944 and representing 30 per cent of Jewish sales abroad. At the same time, the six Arab states' deliveries to Palestine tripled since 1938, reaching $34,000,000 in 1944.

NAVY: New Outfits

Traditional garb of seafaring men since the 14th century, the laced sailor trousers with bell-bottoms may be discarded by the U. S. navy if new uniforms including regular type pants are permanently adopted. Also scheduled for elimination is the big black neckerchief, copied by the early American navy after the British design created as mourning dress for Lord Nelson.

Currently under test for the gobs' wardrobe are three new uniforms: two consisting of blue and white pants with blue battlejacket for dress or winter wear and one comprising gray trousers and shirt for duty. Sport shirts of jumper design will replace the present tight wear. Typically American, the new working uniform also will include a long-peaked gray baseball type cap, notably worn by Vice Admiral Mitscher through the Japanese campaign and extremely popular among personnel fighting under the scorching Pacific sun.

Predicts Eclipses

Although the shadow of war no longer darkens the earth a near-maximum number of six eclipses will darken the heavens in 1946, according to Prof. Oliver J. Lee, of Northwestern university's observatory.

Despite the abundance of eclipses, only one will be visible in the United States. It will be an eclipse of the sun, with 44 per cent of the sun covered.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

MISSOURI SNOW SHOVELERS

WASHINGTON. — The problem of snow removal from the sidewalks around the "Summer White House" created something of a problem just before President Truman paid his Christmas visit to Independence, Mo.

At first nothing was done about the snow around the Truman mansion. Secret service agents guarding the house said it was their job to guard, not to shovel. Finally James T. Hopkins, aged 59, got out his horse Dick, aged five, and with a home-made snow plow cleared the snow from the North Delaware street side of the Truman home. But he didn't have time to clear the West Van Horn road side because he had to clear the walks used by children.

One day before Mrs. Truman arrived, however, George Dodsworth, president of the Independence chamber of commerce, called out the chamber's six new directors. He told them that the snow around the "Summer White House" would have to be cleared and their initiation into the chamber would be to do the job.

They did a good job. The walks around the Truman home were thoroughly shoveled.

They did not, however, tackle the drive in the rear of the house. So next morning, two employees from the highway department arrived to clear the driveway. They had shoveled for about 20 minutes when the first lady appeared on the back porch.

"You are shoveling gravel on the grass," admonished Mrs. Truman, always a meticulous housekeeper.

There were some explanations that they had been sent by the highway department to clear the snow.

"I don't care who sent you," replied Mrs. Truman. "I want you to quit."

Which is exactly what they did. Mrs. Truman left instructions with a secret service agent not to let anyone scoop snow from the drive. And no one has.

THE OTHER LaFOLLETTE.

When the name LaFollette is mentioned in Washington, most people think of the senator from Wisconsin, who succeeded his crusading bull-moose father. But another LaFollette, from Indiana, not Wisconsin, who sits in the house of representatives, not the senate, is also attracting more and more attention.

Empty chairs fill up quickly when Rep. Charles LaFollette takes the floor for a speech. Colleagues may sometimes disagree with the two-fisted Indiana Republican, but they agree that what he says usually is interesting and never fails to pack a wallop.

In fact, one of his recent speeches packed such a wallop that conservative colleagues on the Republican side almost swooned. For LaFollette attacked that super-secret cow, states' rights, and before he was through had virtually dehorned the animal.

"There are no such things as states' rights," declared the red-headed Hoosier. "There are rights of citizens who live within a state. The man who speaks of state sovereignty speaks the language of totalitarianism. There is only individual sovereignty."

Colleagues on both sides of the aisle listened in amazed silence. Only congressmen to answer were two Republicans: Jensen of Iowa and Bates of Massachusetts. Significantly, no whippers came from southern Democrats.

"Did not the sovereignty of the states exist long before the federal government was established?" asked Bates.

"Yes, but man existed long before the state of Massachusetts," shot back LaFollette. "The state of Massachusetts did not create its citizens and does not own them. The citizens own the state. In the continental congress and the convention which created the constitution... the issue was not states' rights."

"The issue was, 'Shall the people determine that they can be better served by a (federal) government with power over the state.' That is the constitutional answer, and it is the only answer that parallels with any idea of the innate dignity and honor of mankind. From that premise I do not yield, nor shall I ever yield, God giving me the strength to retain my intellectual, moral and spiritual integrity."

CAPITAL CHAFF.

Since publication of General Marshall's letter to Governor Dewey telling how we were cracking Japanese and German codes, every major government has been changing its codes almost daily. In addition, the best cryptographers in the world are now hard at work in every capital trying to figure out new unbreakable codes. All suspect we have broken their codes too. . . . The row between Mayor Maestri of New Orleans and Jimmy Comiskey was patched up at a secret caucus.

Playful Kitten That Rolls a Spool Between Its Paws Charms Everyone

By Ruth Wyeth Spears

THIS cutting gray and white kitten with a bright red bow is so life-like that it charms everyone, young and old. It is designed so that it playfully rolls a spool between its paws, yet it is very simple to make. It is just layers of wood fastened together with brads. An actual-size pattern for all the parts gives an accurate guide for cutting the pieces either by hand or with a power jig saw.

Household Hints

To press materials that get shiny easily, like white rayon for instance, try using a firm piece of cheesecloth washed until all the sizing is out of it. Dampen slightly before placing over the material to press.

To insure longer life for pillows, fluff them gently each day to force air around the feathers.

When washing woodwork, use a strip of cardboard to protect the wall next to door frames and baseboards from getting splashed.

Take the headboard off that old-fashioned bed and the foot becomes the head. Make a slip-cover for the new head or leave as it is and stand by for compliments.

Cut away one side of a grocery cart and keep it for your very own. Kneel in the box when scrubbing floors. Protects knees and skirts.

The painting is fun. There is a lot for that. As you follow it comes to life—the fur looks so real, the expression in the face so appealing, you like to make novelties for gifts.

NOTE—Pattern 291 with actual-size cutting and painting guide and complete instructions for this kitten is 15c. Write for it:

Washington News - Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28. —Just before Congress recessed for the Holidays it made several important amendments to the G. I. Bill of Rights which liberalized the loan educational provisions.

Heretofore, a veteran has been allowed $50 per month living allowances for educational purposes and $75 if he has dependents. Hereafter, $65 will be allowed for single veterans and $90 for those with dependents.

Heretofore, all veterans were presumed to have had their education interrupted if they were under 25 years of age when they entered the service. This new bill removes that limit so that now any veteran can get a year's training plus as many years as he was in service, with a maximum of four years. Short, intense courses are also approved in the amendment, as are recognized correspondence courses, cost not to exceed $500.

Heretofore, the veteran was required to start to school within two years after discharge or the end of the war, whichever is later; this is changed to four years, and instead of being compelled to complete his course of study in seven years, this has been extended to nine years after the end of the war.

Under the old law, a veteran could get a guaranteed loan after two years. This is extended to ten years after the war, and the period of amortization is extended from twenty to twenty-five years on real estate and from twenty to forty years on farms.

Maturity of all non-real estate loans is set at ten years. The term "reasonable normal value" has necessarily kept appraisals low and the number of loans low. Under the new law, the term "reasonable value" is substituted which will liberalize the act.

The maximum guarantee on real estate loans is raised from $2,000 to $4,000. However, guarantees are still limited to fifty percent of loan, and guarantees on non-real estate remain at $2,000.

These are the principal provisions of the changes in the Act. The provisions of the original Act concerning unemployment and other benefits remain unchanged.

We're positive that grandpa remembered us when he wrote his will, cause he left us out.

Temporary promotions made during the war automatically become permanent upon reenlistment into the U. S. Regular Army if the veteran reenlists within 20 days after discharge and before January 31.

Mrs. Robert Hickey left Tuesday morning for Champaign, Illinois where she will join her husband.

And another of his sayings was "Beware of meat twice boiled or an old foe reconciled."

Mrs. Frank Shannon of the Wharton Spectator says that a lady in that city has a very fine dachshund that is taken to a Houston veterinarian for regular checkups and he advised that the dog's tonsils should be removed. Will an appendectomy be next?

DeForest Kline, Oak Cliff Tribune editor, has had a highly varied experience in the newspaper field, ranging from service on some of the largest papers in the United States to a weekly in Canada which had 275 subscribers. Kline covered sessions of the British Parliament and speeches delivered by World War I Premier Clemenceau "Tiger" of France. World affairs, it is hardly necessary to add, are of special interest to Kline and he writes his interpretations of international events each week.

"Scholars have said there is no humor in the Scriptures", a reader writes in. "How about this?"—and he quotes Second Chronicles, 16th chapter, 12th verse:

"And Asa in the thirty-ninth year of his reign was diseased in his feet, until his distress was exceeding great; yet in his disease he sought not the Lord but turned to the physicians—and Asa slept with his fathers."

A Great Financial Bulwark For Our Own and Our Country's Future

One of the brightest facts of the war effort is that many billions of dollars have been saved and are now in possession of the people. Eighty-five million Americans have bought War Bonds and are hanging on to them and have seventy-five million bank accounts, too.

These savings can mean much to the future welfare of our country and ourselves. They will permit us to spend more of our current income once goods become plentiful again. The savings themselves can be used to tide us over emergencies and for such things as new homes. Thus the savings of the war years and the months immediately ahead can contribute to demand for goods, busy factories and jobs later on. Save now while goods are scarce and the threat of rising prices continues. Buy Victory Bonds.

Help the nation's efforts to keep your living costs DOWN, the buying power of your dollar UP.
