Methodist Church METHODIST MEN EAT BARBECUE

The Men's Bible Class at the Methodist Church, with Jimmy Boyd as teacher and Luther Caffee as president, called all members to meet at the church last Monday evening for a real old time barbecue. Luther Caffee presided and the program was carried out in a most wonderful way. The men were asked to be seated at the tables and pitch until they won. It was not handed out in little pieces, but it was a real feed, all you could eat.

Virgil Brookshear arranged for the meat. Just where, or how he got it, we do not know, but it was the very best, and cooked under the finest process known to man. It was juicy, sweet, and very delicious, with all the trimmings that went along with it.

After the meal was finished the dishes were cleared away, and various games were played to the delight of all. While some were busy at games, a large group gathered around the piano with Jimmy Boyd playing, and sang the good old hymns until our hearts were made to rejoice.

There were (81) by count, present for the dinner. Some came early, ate and went home who were not counted. There were some visitors but most of them were members of the class. Rev. Floyd Boulware, pastor of the Methodist Church at Iowa Park was a visitor. There were 63 in the class Sunday morning, and we are expecting others for next Sunday. All men of the community who are not in church at some other place are invited to worship with us, and be a part of one of the best Men's Bible Classes in Wichita County. May we see you next Sunday in our class.

Lions Start Move To Secure New Post Office Building Here

Members of the Lions Club have thrown their weight behind the move to secure a new post office building in Burkburnett.

For a number of years local citizens have realized the need for such building. Several years ago it looked as if this city would be in line for a new Federal building. Then came the war and of course the project was abandoned.

Tuesday night every Lion pledged to write representatives in Washington urging them to use their influence toward securing an appropriation for erecting a new post office building in our city. A number of the letters are already on their way to Washington now. A committee from the club was appointed to urge all business men and women to join in the move.

If enough people in Burkburnett get behind this project its success is assured. Now is the time for action. Let's get busy.

Subscribers For A Long Time

Virgil Farrington sends in a renewal to the Star from Kermit, Texas. In short letter accompanying the renewal check, Mr. Farrington said they were a long way from Burkburnett, but they still enjoyed reading about their friends in the Burk Star.

They have been taking the Star for 22 years, which may be some sort of record. Any one else been taking the Star longer than that? Drop us a card or letter.

Sophomore News

We are all back in school after two ugly days of mid-term exams last week. I hope everyone is lucky enough to pass, especially on the report cards. I hope the teachers, as well as Mr. Douglas and Mr. Davis think they made us very happy by giving us those awful tests. We think differently tho, don't we kids? Our brains were working fast and furiously to finish and still answer every question correctly, but they had worked so much studying the night before they failed a few times.

Maybe our students have found

Burk just as interesting as Oklahoma, Wichita Falls, Iowa Park, and surrounding territory, at least they don't spend all their spare time in these towns.

We are happy to welcome

Virginia Mills to our section. She has been here a few weeks and has really made friends. We hope she likes Burk Hi as well as everyone else does—at times.

Reporter, Betty Alvey.

Houses will have all the conveniences enjoyed by homes within the city.

GETTING CLOSER

Back in 1929 there was a thing called a depression that hit this nation after a boisterous period of inflation when the taste of a glorious dream of grandeur became a scene of suicides and bankruptcies. We carry the memory, still, here in Burk Burnett. Overnight millionaires lost their fortunes, died through heart attacks due to the excitement, pumped out of windows and marked as forever as a foolish people in the face of good times. Chickens in every pot, two cars in every garage today, what does it matter as long as we ride high. In 1929 or 1930, stocks rising before they collapsed, poverty banished and good times forever and anon. Spent in order to be a boon to the factories, to give the workers something to do that they might buy high-priced goods for their wages. They asked for shorter hours, less work and more money for it was a time when it was dog eat dog. Wealth flowed and production plummeted. Paper profits and nobody to care who carried the waste basket. Have sixteen years taught us anything.

LONGER DAYS

In spite of winter's cold dawns and too early dunks, the sun is longer in the sky from now on and the days are slowly becoming longer. Though the sun in the country still does his morning chores by the dreary light of day-break, the city dweller notices the change in his breakfast hour and dinner time, as day light advances. There is a gain for both town and country and even if Old Sol seems as distant, so cold and beyond our reach, he is still favoring us with a time extension. There are many grateful in Burk Burnett, where hopes are high for a relief from the strenuous demands of winter as February rolls around.

USING EVERYTHING

It begins to look as though one is not secure in throwing away any waste, for along comes a scientist and finds out that we have something there. Many farmers around Burk Burnett has jokingly remarked that if grain prices didn't come down he would feed his stock sawdust. The time is almost here, according to recent research. They are furthering the uses of wood products and by-products and many are going to prove very profitable. The study of forestry is furthered in many states. Already they have made a soil builder from wood, and chop food for cattle and poultry coming through this scientific study, is not beyond our comprehension. Even our whitening may become profitable.

THEY NEED IT

It took many young people a long time and to be thousands of miles away from home, to really appreciate this country. They saw how it stood in world affairs, what is being contributed to our neighbors, and even thought about our responsibility to others. In some cases, young Americans are strangers in American history. Many schools fail to teach enough of this in fall, trying to give a light smattering of knowledge on a subject so vital to the education of every one of us who enjoys being an American. History books, civic books, aren't just forced subjects to get credit for passing into another grade. The school must make it their business to see that there is a greater degree of understanding between the student and his American history.

Burk Burnett . . . History

As revealed by the files of the Star 10 years ago.

T. Guy Willis of this city has accepted a position with the Wichita Packing house as Order-Buyer and assumed the duties the first of the week.

Mr. Willis is owner of the Half Circle W. ranch and is an experienced cattle man. He stated that he would pay the highest market prices for four cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules. He can be reached by phoning T. Burk Burnett or 7423 Wichita Falls. Mr. Willis has been a resident of this county since 1890. "Old Pappy" evidently helped run the first buffalo out of this country.

Ray Lawler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lawler, left last Friday for Dallas where he will enter Burns Commercial College.

Robert Gregg visited his parents in Burk over the week-end.

A farewell dinner was sponsored by the Assembly of God

Church and served at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Savage. Jan 12 for Rev. and Mrs. Kenay Savage who left for Cuba, January 17.

Kenay, the son of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Savage, graduated from the Burk High school and Latin American Bible Institute of San Antonio. His career as a minister began at the age of 18, and most of his work has been among Spanish speaking people. He and his wife, Esther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Goston, also of Burk, have been appointed as missionaries to Cuba. They with their 2 daughters, Bobbie Jean, and Patsy Joyce, plan to sail from Tampa, Fla., Jan. 23.

Butler Westfield, J. G. Hartman and other Burk Burnett school patrons and officials attended the ceremonies starting the Martin College in Wichita Falls, Friday.

State Guard Aids Disaster Victims

Texas State Guard units were employed in four Texas towns, Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Greenville, and Palestine. In the recent January 24, 1946 tornado which swept eastern Texas with varying degrees of intensity. Three inches of rainfall, up to 80 mile gales, 30 dead to date, 200 injured, houses, business buildings and cars wrecked, electric power and communications interrupted, communities isolated, debris piled high were some of the disastrous features.

The Nacogdoches unit was on duty for 48 hours, searching for bodies, removing debris and packing. Headquarters was set up in the police station, and first-aid stations in the hotel. Medical supplies, comforts and other guard equipment was used to care for the wounded, chilled, and shocked.

The Lufkin unit worked with the Red Cross in providing shelter for the injured and homeless, then went to the assistance of the Nacogdoches unit.

Greenville did valiant duty for 48 hours, righting cars and removing debris.

The town of Palestine was probably the worst hit by the tornado. There the guard unit was on duty 48 hours, almost 24 hours of which was without relief. When the job became too big for one unit, guard units from Corsicana and Cleburne came to its assistance. They stopped looting and fights over loot, patrolled the area and captured order, then went on guard duty around the affected area. The unit set up its own field kitchen to feed troops and casualties, assigned by the citizens of the town. State Guard Jeeps and trucks were used to transport the injured and to remove the wreckage. Patsy Newstead took pictures of the guard on duty.

All guard units received the highest praise from city and county officials and from the newspapers and citizens. Rescue would have been fatally delayed without the trained and willing co-operation of the State Guard Units.

The opportunity and the ability to serve in natural and domestic disasters is the privilege of the Texas State Guard. Men from 18 to 40 are invited to visit the nearest State Guard Unit and obtain details of membership.

"Carriers" give us a lift with the long distance load

Carrier equipment, looking and operating something like radio, makes it possible for one pair of long distance wires to handle as many as 12 calls at one time.
But even with carrier helping out, many lines are still crowded and some calls are delayed.
Our new construction program—now going ahead rapidly and at an ever-increasing rate—calls for a lot of carrier. The goal is to provide as many circuits as we need to get YOUR call through promptly.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

"On our wedding night he began to tell me of his conquests. It secretly made me sick, so that we started off badly."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CAROL is a very pretty girl who married her school hero; she adored Johnnie in secret all through her girlhood, she watched him win football games in college years, she cried when she kissed him goodbye and saw him off to war, and they were married six months ago, when Johnnie came marching home.

"He would be a perfect husband," she writes me, "if he were not so stuck on himself. I suppose the right word for that is 'vain,' but stuck on himself seems to express it better. Johnnie has been a good deal admired, he was a football idol in our small town, and he has a good war record—but my gracious!

"On our wedding night he began to tell me of his conquests. It secretly made me sick, so that we started off badly. I listened all through the honeymoon to casual references to girls who had made fools of themselves over him and married women who had abandoned virtue when irresistible Johnnie came along.

"Naturally, this disgusted me a good deal, for the nature of these revelations was rather shocking, but what disheartened me more was Johnnie's vanity and his simplicity. He revelled in long quoted conversations, in which this or that shy damsel gradually surrendered to his charms, going on to review the love letters that pestered him while in the service, and the praises of his superior officers, many of whom envied him, his record, and his success with the ladies.

Keeps on Boasting.

"My saying, 'oh, please, I'm not interested!' has no effect. Johnnie goes right on boasting. Once or twice I tried a back-fire, and began on my own romantic adventures, but that didn't interest him at all. He hardly listened and was off again on the fascinating history of a little Filipino girl, or a little Australian nurse—it's so tiresome that sometimes I want to scream.

"I'm aware," the letter continues, "that I'm describing a stupid, self-engrossed man, but that's not the case. Johnnie is kind, generous, amusing, extremely popular, and came back from service still cheerful and well-balanced, and has already made his way as a member of our best firm of architects. Of course he doesn't talk this way all the time, we both love the little farm where we live, and Johnnie is really clever in planning for the chickens and fruit by which we mean to make it pay. He is pathetically pleased that a baby is coming, and rather touched me by saying, when I was hoping for a boy, 'I want a girl, like her mother.'

"But with all this he can't see that he's hurting himself and boring me by this Adonis-complex, this eternal complacent posing, this continual reference to himself as stronger, taller, handsomer than all the men with whom he comes in contact. 'She took one look at me,'

MALE VANITY

A girl who marries a handsome, talented man can hardly be surprised if he is vain and boastful. Men are that way. Carol complains that her husband, Johnnie, talks endlessly about his conquests of the heart, about how envious other men are of him, how married women fall for him, etc. This is getting pretty tiresome, Carol thinks. She is herself a beauty, and apparently completely satisfied with Johnnie, outside of his obnoxious egotism. They live on a nice little farm outside the city where he works as an architect. He is successful, well balanced despite his war experiences, affectionate and generous. They are eagerly awaiting the arrival of their first child.

Miss Norris replies that no marriage can be completely happy. There is always some flaw. In Carol's case, it seems to be merely an annoying trifle. The advancing years, says Miss Norris, will bring Johnnie many sobering experiences. This phase of Johnnie's will pass, says Miss Norris, leaving nothing but memories, if Carol will have the patience and wisdom to wait it out.

he will say, 'and her darling Fred dy faded from the picture.'"

Well, Carol, I say in answer, every marriage has its percentage of difficulty and disappointment; some as high as 80 per cent, some—as in your case, that I would rate about 10 per cent. Johnnie's vanity is innocent enough after all, for the probability is that his conquests exist principally in his own fond dreams; any man who is popular, farm-loving, wife-loving, baby-loving, and who belongs to so eclectic a profession as his, is sound at heart.

Defeats will Come.

You may have to put up with his absurdities for a while longer, and then may have the harder trial of seeing Johnnie disappointed, his pride tumbled in the dust, his beauty impaired — and for sheer pity of him, in his childish hurt and amazement, you may feel a love and sorrow that will wipe out all the memories of younger, bumpier years.

The mills of the gods often bring this to pass. And the higher these men have to fall, the deeper these every young girl dreams of marrying—tall and handsome and popular—and a football hero and a war hero—isn't that about the prescription? — and if he is good-natured and affectionate and smart in his profession you got more than you ordered.

You can do something, in this particular moment in world affairs, by calling his attention to the wounded, the handicapped men who are coming home, and getting him to help them — that may sober him. Anyway, sooner or later, life itself will, and Johnnie the magnificent will grow to man's estate.

JAP WOMEN TO VOTE

The sudden opening of the ballot box to the women of Japan marks a tradition-breaking milestone in the movement looking to greater freedom for Japanese women. About 60 years ago, a Japanese "Susan Anthony," Miss Kageyama, started a campaign for women's rights, and was jailed for her daring.

Throughout the Orient the idea of granting women a share in political life made practically no progress until 1935 when the Philippines granted equal voting rights.

A PEOPLE AT WORSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 28:1; 35:4-9, 20-29.

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.—Matthew 4:10.

A nation which knows God must have a place and a plan for worshipping Him. The history of Israel has moved forward in the account in Exodus where the people delivered from bondage are established as a theocratic nation; that is, one governed by God.

The covenant at Sinai (ch. 19) was followed by the giving of the law (chs. 20-23), and then in chapters 24-40 we find the worship of God established. Two elements are necessary—a way in which God may be approached and a place to meet Him. The former is provided in the ordaining of the Aaronic priesthood, and the latter by the building of the Tabernacle.

I. God Provides a Way to Worship (28:1).

The appointment of Aaron as high priest, and his sons to serve with him, provided for the proper conduct of the worship of God which was to take place in the Tabernacle.

The sinner coming into the presence of God must approach by way of the brazen altar where sacrifice could be made for sin. This called for a priest set apart for this holy duty, which would open the way for the repentant one to enter into the Holy place, and ultimately to know that his sin was covered in the Holy of Holies.

Consider the grace of God in thus providing for the deep spiritual need of His people. All of this pointed forward to the day when Christ the true High Priest was to make the perfect and final atonement for sin by the sacrifice of Himself on Calvary's tree.

The symbolic dress of the priest and his consecration for his duties are all very instructive, but we do not have space to comment at length. Suffice it to say that the one who is to serve in the conduct of the worship of God is to be a called, cleansed and consecrated man, set apart for a holy calling and eager to be used of God to lead men into fellowship with Him.

From these first provisions for the worship of God we thus may learn many of the high principles which are to guide the church regarding the call and separation of men to the ministry. The gift and grace of God shown in the man's character are far more important than intellectual or social standing.

II. God Provides a Place of Worship (35:4-9, 20-29).

The plan for the Tabernacle was given by God to Moses in much detail. A close study of it will bring rich reward.

Although the plans were made by God (Exod. 25-27), note that He gave to the people the privilege of providing the materials. They recognized it as a high privilege and not a burden, and they came enthusiastically with their gifts.

That thought bears application to the believer, for we know that God still loves a cheerful giver (II Cor. 9:7). Those who groan and grumble about the money and material needed for the worship of God have not caught the real spirit of Christian giving.

The children of Israel brought more than enough of their most treasured possessions and of the labor of their hands; in fact, they had to be told to stop (Exod. 38:1-7). Imagine having to tell people to stop giving! That would be a novelty!

The Tabernacle was duly built, and thus there was provided for Israel a place of meeting (Tabernacle literally means "tent of meeting"), beautiful and appropriate for their days of sojourning in the wilderness.

The significance of the Tabernacle is both interesting and important.

(1) It is a symbol of God's presence with His people. All who were defiled were excluded because God was there.

(2) It is a type of God's method of bringing sinners to Himself. There must be a sacrifice for sin before communion can be established.

The furniture of the Tabernacle is therefore significant. The altar of sacrifice and the laver of cleansing come first in the outer court. Then on his journey from the sacrifice to the communion of the Holy of Holies, the one who seeks God is fed by the showbread, lighted by the candlestick and sustained by prayer, of which the altar of incense speaks.

Christ is the Bread of Life, the Light of the world, our High Priest and Interceding Advocate.

Within the Holy of Holies the mercy seat typifies the covering of a believer's sins by the blood of Christ.

(3) It is a symbol of the incarnation of Christ of whom it is said that He "tabernacled" with men.

(4) It is a symbol of heavenly things. Christ now appears in heaven for us as our minister and high priest (Heb. 8:1-5).

(5) It is a symbol of God's dwelling with men in the ages of eternity (Rev. 21).

Our culture and education must go back to God, since all true wisdom starts with the severance of His name.

When our young and old people learn to worship Christ as the Redeemer who, by His saving love, removed the curse and punishment of sin, and find in Him the Guide and the Way to a blessed eternity, they have indeed discovered the beginning and the end of all true wisdom. WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

New Wage-Price Policy Pattern For Settling Industrial Strife; FBI Warns Of Crime Increase

Released by Western Newspaper Union
EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Industrial Front—With labor adamant in its demands for appreciable wage increases to assure continued high "take-home" pay, and with management equally determined to resist sizable raises in the face of OPA ceilings, President Truman and his aides sought to stave off an economic deadlock imperiling reconversion by granting companies price relief.

Representing a complete reversal of announced administration policy of granting price increases only after operations had proven that management could not absorb wage boosts given first, Mr. Truman's new approach to the problem was expected to result in a general pattern of settlements embodying pay raises of from 15 to 18 per cent.

The administration's new policy was first applied to the dispute in the steel industry over the CIO-United Steel Workers demands for a $2 a day wage increase and was quickly utilized in efforts to break the deadlock in the packing field over the CIO and AFL bid for a 25 cents an hour pay boost.

As a result of the administration decision to grant price increases to the steel industry, the companies agreed to resume negotiations with the USW, though they were not permitted the full advances asked. Pending industry offers of what the USW called adequate counter-proposals to its wage demands, the union considered holding off its scheduled strike of 700,000 workers, affecting the aluminum and magnesium as well as steel trade.

In holding out offers of price increases to the big packers, the government stated that they could help the companies in figuring out what wage raises they could actually advance following their initial proposals of about 7 1/2 cents per hour. In asking for a 25 cents per hour raise, the CIO and AFL declared they would be willing to accept 17 1/2 cents to start with before the situation clarified itself.

The packing dispute was of particular interest to the nation's farmers since companies' fixed costs would go far to determine bids for live cattle to permit profitable operations against wholesale price ceilings. Of general interest was the whole new administration policy in its possible effect upon efforts to hold down living costs and avert an inflationary spiral which would cheapen wages and income and lead to still further demands for relief.

DEMOBILIZATION: G.I.s Kick

Incensed over war department plans for a slow-down in demobilization, G.I.s the world over raised a storm of protest, with the army quickly reacting to the complaints by ordering the immediate return of surplus overseas troops and announcing a re-examination of policy.

At the same time, General MacArthur declared that soldiers would not be punished for orderly demonstrations in the Pacific theater, stating that the unrest was primarily caused by "acute homesickness aggravated by the termination of hostilities."

In ordering the immediate return of surplus overseas personnel Chief of Staff Eisenhower said that extensive shipping facilities should be used in sending the men home, with troops with the highest point scores and longest record of service given priority.

A re-examination of the whole demobilization program would touch the recent formula for spreading scheduled shipments home for the first three months of 1946 over a half-year because of war department claims of a shortage of replacements. Despite the slowdown army strength was expected to be paraded by 400,000 under previous estimates by July 1, with more than half of the 1,500,000 troops remaining in service in overseas duty.

Having started in the Pacific shortly after announcement of the slow-down program, G.I. demonstrations quickly spread to Europe where troops protested in support of their buddies in the east. In all cases, the men were orderly and no violence occurred.

Most vociferous of all, the Pacific demonstrators attributed the slow-down to administration efforts to force through a compulsory military bill to secure replacements; "brass-hats" seeking to retain wartime rank by maintenance of a large army, and the state department's "imperialistic" policies in the far east. G.I.s were told to apply pressure to friends back home to petition congress for a revision of demobilization plans.

Americans Heaviest Investors in Insurance

Though reliable statistics from abroad are not readily available, about two-thirds of all life insurance in the world is owned by citizens of this country. Claris Adams, president of the American Life convention, declared. Supporting his statement, he said that at the end of 1945 71 million Americans owned life insurance, that is, more than one-half the

WAR CRIMES: New Case

Even as the U. S. Supreme court considered Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's petition against his conviction by an American military commission in the Philippines, the war crimes trial of his predecessor, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, got underway in Manila on similar charges of countenancing atrocities of his forces.

In appealing to the highest American judicial tribunal, Yamashita's three U. S. army attorneys had declared that the cessation of firing had ended the need for special military measures and entitled the deposed Jap chieftain to a hearing before an ordinary court. In contesting the petition, the government declared that a ruling against war crimes procedure would upset efforts for punishment of suspects.

Forty-nine-year-old V/Sgt. James Baldassarre of New Haven, Conn., a vet with 28 years of service, was one of the principal witnesses as the Homma trial began. One of the survivors of the "death march of Bataan," he told of how Jap guards shot or bayoneted sick or thirsty American soldiers who wandered from their ranks. "The Japs did nothing for us," Baldassarre said. "No food, no water, no medicine. Nothing but bullets and bayonets."

Ask German Relief

While Senators Wherry (Rep., Neb.) and Langer (Rep., N. D.) rapped the administration for refusing to permit the private shipment of food to Germany to help avert starvation, Dr. Lawrence Meyer of the Missouri synod of the Lutheran church revealed efforts to organize a Christian congress to push for alteration of government policy.

Wherry's and Langer's criticism of the administration came in the midst of President Truman's announcement that he had told a senatorial committee that it was impossible under present conditions to permit shipments. In reporting on the conference with Mr. Truman a member of the delegation said that Russia objected to reopening of mail to Germany, and service could not be re-established without the unanimous consent of the Big Four.

In revealing his intentions to work for a Christian congress embracing both the Catholic and Protestant churches, Dr. Meyer declared that the force of 60 million members of all faiths in America must be mobilized to impress the administration that the country is not committed to a policy of vengeance. Reporting on his visit to Germany, Dr. Meyer said that 100 children he saw in one Frankfurt hospital, 75 were marked for death because of insufficient food.

FOOTBALL: Fewer Deaths

Reflecting improved techniques, football fatalities continued to drop during the last season, with only 3 reported as against 49 when Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Purdue university first undertook a compilation of grid accidents.

While no fatalities directly attributable to collegiate football were recorded through 1945, those occurring were evenly divided between high school and sandlot play, Eastwood said. Despite the toll among secondary teams, the actual incidence of high school deaths was only about 48 per cent per 100,000 of contestants.

In undertaking his study for the rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic association and the committee on injuries and fatalities of the American Football Coaches association, Eastwood called for consideration of methods for minimizing occurrence of cerebral hemorrhages. Such mishaps have accounted for 44.7 per cent of all football fatalities reported since 1931.

TOBACCO: Kentucky Acts

As the market for burley tobacco took a big drop and farmers reportedly were losing $1,000,000 a day in comparison with the previous month, Gov. Simeon Willis of Kentucky acted to close all warehouses under unanimous recommendation of the state legislature.

Main cash crop of Kentucky farmers, burley tobacco, used in cigarette, chewing and pipe mixtures, is auctioned off in various warehouses throughout the state, with buyers from the big manufacturing companies bidding against each other. The season usually runs from December through January.

With the requirement that all sales be transacted under OPA ceiling regulations, prices have been set on all 26 different grades of the tobacco, ranging up to 50 cents a pound or more. Following sharp price recessions after early favorable bidding, average paid for the crop slumped to 38 cents.

POLIO: Infantile Paralysis

Infantile paralysis attacked nearly 14,000 persons in the United States in 1945, making it the fourth worst poliomyelitis year on record, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis revealed. Invading all 48 states, polio erupted into epidemics in sections of six states and hit 28 states harder than in the near-record year of 1944. The incidence of poliomyelitis reached its peak the week of September 15, when 992 cases were reported.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round DREW PEARSON

UNDER THE DOME

WASHINGTON—Busy Tom Corcoran, the ex-brain-truster, has been promoting his law partner, ex-Senator D. Worth Clark of Idaho, to replace Harold Ickes when and if the latter resigns as secretary of the interior. Clark, a former die-hard isolationist, is not likely to get the job. An off-the-record quote from President Truman: "A lot of people used to accuse President Roosevelt of being a liar—especially on Capitol Hill. But having been in this job for a few months myself, it's hard to know how anyone could be President of the United States without occasionally being a liar." Boss of the Bronx Ed Flynn, close friend of FDR and former Democratic chairman, is in for tough political sledding. Hard-hitting Congressman James Roe, leader of Queens county, who spearheaded Mayor LaGuardia's victory, is out to replace Flynn as Democratic national committeeman from New York. Ed Flynn, always more interested in the coveted field of diplomacy, plans to leave for Moscow this winter to try patching up relations between the Kremlin and the Vatican. Some senators who backed Cordell Hull in ousting Sumner Welles, have now become strong Wellesian rosters since his masterful testimony before the Pearl Harbor committee. The demagogue business must be picking up. Gerald Winrod, race-baiting editor of "The Defender" and under indictment for sedition, has moved from a modest dwelling on North Green street to a pretentious home on Broadway street, the exclusive section of Wichita, Kans.

SOL BLOOM SLIPS

Congressman Sol Bloom of New York, who imported the "Salem dance" from Egypt to the Chicago World's fair many years ago, nearly got away with a fast one during a secret session of the house rules committee called to consider the UNRA appropriation bill.

Bloom, who is chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, attended the rules committee meeting as its guest. He was not supposed to vote. Congressman Charles Eaton of New Jersey, ranking minority member of the foreign affairs committee, also was a guest and supported UNRA generally. However, he began to tell the rules committee of his strong conviction that a "freedom of the press" amendment should be included in the bill.

Anxious to avoid more argument over this, Bloom, though not a member of the rules committee, shouted, "I move the previous question!"

Rules Committee Chairman Adolph Sabath of Illinois banged his gavel and remarked, "The question is called."

Members of the rules committee then prepared to vote. Not so Representative Clarence Brown, Ohio Republican. Turning to Bloom, Brown asked: "Sol, how long have you been a member of the rules committee?" Bloom flushed, while other members of the rules committee grinned sheepishly, realizing they had been taken in.

"I just thought I could get away with it, I would," Bloom replied. He did get a rule to put the UNRA appropriation before the house, but not without a good deal more discussion.

CAPITAL CHAFF

G.I.s in India report the U. S. army, fearing the British may be faced with revolt, has issued rifles, bayonets, and ammunition to American G.I.s. Many American soldiers in India never had weapons in their hands during the war, but now get weapons after the war. Secretary of State Byrnes has offered Ken Galbraith, former OPA executive and editor of Fortune magazine, an important job to help run peacetime Germany. American members of the Anglo-American Palestine commission will begin hearings in Washington on January 10. Assistant Secretary of State Jimmy Durn is leaving for London to help complete the peace treaties for Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and Italy. Floyd B. Olson was a famous governor of Minnesota, but Congressman Havenner of California is probing charges that the U. S. ship named for him has been forced to carry a cargo of sick Japanese from Pacific islands to the Japanese mainland. Nearly all the patients had communicable diseases, and two of the 60 tuberculosis patients died during the voyage. Most controversial subject that has hit the Truman cabinet in weeks is the Moscow agreement.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Maury Maverick, who had the smaller War Plants corporation knocked out from under him while he was in the Far East, reports that General MacArthur is doing an A-1 job in Japan. If the Russians want to make a hit with G.I. Joes, they could loosen up their absurd policy of not permitting Korean coal from the Russian zone to be shipped to the American zone a few miles south. As a result, ships which might be used for hauling G.I.s, now carry coal to Korea.
