Good Turn-Out For '42' Party

There were 21 tables for "42" when the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored a party Thursday, Jan. 31, at the USO Hall. Mrs. Sam Lax won high score for the ladies with Jerry Miller winning high score for the men. The Auxiliary meets the 1st and 3rd Thursday each month, and urges all women to attend. They especially invite the wives of World War 2 veterans to come and take their part in the work.

Lions Club

A good attendance of Lions reported at Town Hall Tuesday night for the regular weekly meeting.

Lions Nichols and Patterson had charge of the program. Very interesting talks were made by two returned veterans, Charles White, son of Lion Ralph White, told of his experiences in Japan with the occupation forces. He spoke of how Japs utilize every foot of ground to grow food and of their seeming friendliness to American troops.

Donald Kaiser, son of Lion Paul Kaiser, told interesting experiences serving as a driver in the European theatre of operations. He helped clear the harbors on the French coast thru which poured supplies to our armies chasing the Germans back to their home soil.

Leonard Browning was welcomed to the club as a new member.

Visitors were Lion Paul Williams of Kilgore and Clois Tedder, son-in-law of Jim Ady.

Program next week will be in charge of Lions Rigby and Preston.

Lion President A. E. Harrison presided.

Methodist Church

The pastor, Rev. P. G. Hightower, requested a relief from the church for a few months rest beginning February 1st. Since then the Board of Stewards and many members of the church have asked that we withdraw the request and stay on as pastor. After much consideration and prayer, we have decided to remain with the church. We are indebted to our many friends for their expressions of love and devotion in this trying time of our life. It is our hope to be a much more able pastor in the future than we have been in the past.

I will preach at both hours Sunday. You are invited to worship with us. Church school at 9:45, preaching at 11 A. M. and at 7 in the evening.

Yours for a greater church,
P. G. Hightower.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—Perhaps some of you heard my speech last night over the NBC hook-up from the City of Washington attacking the program to set up a permanent Fair Employment Practice Commission. In that speech I pointed out that if a secret vote were taken in Congress less than 25 per cent of the members would vote for this legislation. However, through political pressure and for political reasons, on a record vote of the Congress the legislation would doubtless pass. It has been strongly supported and advertised by the Political Action Committee of the CIO, and by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and by other organized minorities. I shall have this speech mailed to the box holders of our district shortly in order that you may understand just how pernicious and dangerous to everybody this proposed legislation is.

Admiral of the Fleet Chester W. Nimitz was the main attraction at the "Texas Brags" dinner held at the Statler Hotel on Wednesday of this week. The Admiral did a little bragging about Texas in his own right. He is proud of being a native son and claims Kerrville as his home town. He stated that proportionally more volunteers came from Texas than from any other state that Texas furnished 500,000 men for the Army, 189,750 for the Navy, 29,194 for the Marines and 8,000 for the Coast Guard. Texas units in all branches of the service gave remarkable accounts of themselves. More than twenty eight Congressional Medals of Honor, our highest decoration, were awarded to Texans. This is a higher percentage per capita than went to any other state.

Among so-called minor bills to be considered in the House within the next few days is a bill to clip the wings of that autocratic, arbitrary dictator of American music, James Caesar Petrillo. For the last several years high school bands and army bands could not broadcast without paying tribute to the musicians union headed by Petrillo. Passage of this legislation is long past due.

Hugh Veach, discharged from the Army after a trip to the European theatre of operations, is back at home now working at Two Joes Barber Shop.

Merchants in Burkburnett have cooperated with every Bond drive and other war activity move during the past year by sponsoring advertising to keep the public informed about the various projects, their needs and their progress from week to week. No business concern in Burkburnett ever turned down an opportunity to sponsor advertising to aid the war effort.

Many of the merchants who run regular ads in the Star devoted the space each week for a number of consecutive weeks in support of War bond drives, Red Cross, clothing collection campaign, War Chest fund, and finally Victory bonds when the war was won.

During 1945 City Grocery & Market, owned and operated by Henry Prinzing and Bud Hicks, carried at least a quarter page ad in the local paper each week. Only a few of those ads mentioned groceries or grocery prices.

Of a total of 1,590 column inches for the year, only 450 inches of advertising were devoted to groceries. 120 inches carried information concerning the Red Cross drive. 72 inches devoted to the Clothing drive. 1,080 inches of sponsored advertising for one Burkburnett concern represents quite a bit of advertising. That is the record of the City Grocery & Market for the past year.

A check through the files for 1945 of the grocery establishment's advertising gives a good picture of this nation's war activities efforts throughout the year. The first week in January carried the Grocer-Consumer Anti-Inflation Pledge. All during March Burk citizens were urged to give their support to the Red Cross, that humanitarian organization. "Keep Your Red Cross At His Side" was the campaign slogan. Burkburnett went over the top with $4,600.00.

April 5th issue showed some of Europe's destitute millions. "What can you spare that they can wear" made an appeal for old clothing. More of same for April 12th.

May 3rd announced the opening of the mighty seventh War Loan drive. Uncle Sam wanted seven billions of dollars from individuals. For eight weeks City Grocery & Market boosted the 7th War Loan.

August 9th carried an urgent notice from the War Department urging citizens to refrain from giving information on the movement of men, ships and materials in the Pacific-Asiatic area. Japan desperately sought this information as the noose tightened about her neck.

August 16th, the Statue of Liberty. "Symbol of World-wide Dream." Japan had given up her struggle to dominate the world. August 23, "How Many Shock Absorbers (War Bonds) Do You Own?"

Sept. 13th and 20th, "Hold On To Your War Bonds."

October 4th, "Give a Texan's share to the United War Chest Fund." Same for Oct. 11th.

Beginning October 18 for five weeks ads were sponsored in support of the Victory Loan drive.

Nov. 22, Thanksgiving ad.
Nov. 29, "How War Bonds Grow in Value Yearly," showing chart of Bond values each year to maturity the tenth year.

Dec. 20th, "Merry Christmas."
Dec. 27th, "Happy New Year."

The dance was in celebration of the 4th birthday of the United Service Organizations. The cake, which was a beautiful two tiered creation was topped with red and blue roses, carrying out the patriotic decorative scheme. Cake and coffee was served buffet style, and a soldier from Sheppard Field cut the cake.

Next Tuesday, Tom Britton will bring the program.

In spite of an increase of approximately 150 over last years poll tax receipts, it is still below the average of Election years receipts. This is probably due, however to the returning service men who are not required to pay poll tax.

MORE COURTESY

The business man who is still serving his clients in a superior kind of way as though he is doing them a favor, is yet to have his day. The time will come when goods will be available to all and when business will have to compete to hold its customers. Those he has shrugged off today will remember in the tomorrows. The way the filling station attendants started in to wipe windshields again made us hope that we were back to the old-time service with a smile. But try it out with the dry cleaners, laundries, garage repairmen, electricians, plumbers, and see first.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Too often the greatness of a man is appreciated only after his death, when people observe his birthday, visit his grave, remark upon his fame. The naming of February 12 as a national tribute to Abraham Lincoln is proof of his renown. Those who feel him as sainted, as blameless, never committed to the errors of human ways, have built the wrong ideal. Lincoln was very unpopular in Washington, his honesty was questioned, he was almost impeached from public office, was damned by members of his own party and not the many phases of graft that such a public life entails. But having lived to see the goodness of the man, to assess his worth in history and to know his very humanity, as a nation we bow to his name.

These traits which made Lincoln great are ones which are possible today to give this country the help it needs.

One of his most pronounced virtues was his charity to others. Though abuse was heaped upon him, derided and despised, Lincoln had the strength to forgive. He so loved peace he extended it to others. His common sense carried him down the path to glory and there is no time limit nor geographical boundary line on common sense. The bigness of Lincoln was also in his willingness to acknowledge his failures. This is greatness in any of us. But the most famous characteristic of Lincoln was his love of country and faith in it. To preserve it, keep it free from class distinctions, racial prejudices, honor human rights of a free people, he laid down his life.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

MUNITIONS TO JAPAN... WASHINGTON—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee has now spent nearly three months digging into military-political reasons why we were caught asleep on December 7, 1941.

Meanwhile, we have seized various documents from the Japs, showing that this war was carefully built up over a period of years and that certain American munitions makers were either unsuspecting or deliberate Jap co-partners.

If we are to prevent war in the future—and that presumably is one motive of the Pearl Harbor committee—the manner in which American business aided the Japs to prepare for Pearl Harbor is important. We must build up machinery so this doesn't happen again.

MUNITIONS LOBBIES... One thing the Pearl Harbor committee might well investigate is the way lobbies developed in Washington to put pressure on the government to sell war goods to Japan.

One man they never affected was Harold Ickes. As secretary of the interior he controls the export of helium gas, and at exactly the same month the above report was written, the Germans were trying to buy helium from the U. S. A. for their zeppelins.

The army, the navy and Secretary of State Hull gave their okay. But Ickes said no—unless American inspectors were stationed in Germany to see how the helium was used. Finally the question came up in cabinet meeting.

But Ickes still said no. Under the law, the secretary of the interior has absolute control over the export of helium. No one can overrule him. So finally FDR turned to Ickes and said: "Well, Harold, you're the boss. You win."

VETERANS' PROBLEMS... Lt. Col. R. P. Bronson, chief of the contact and service branch of the Veterans' administration, blinked when he was handed a telegram from a distressed veteran the other day. It read:

"Assistance needed stop brother murdered here December 26 stop reply by wire." Colonel Bronson instructed an aide to phone the veteran's home city and see that he was given immediate help. Then he continued to leaf through the daily file of pleas that come to his desk.

"It's all in a day's work," he said. "But I'll admit that one had me stumped for a while." Wide and varied are the SOS appeals the Veterans' administration receives from men wearing the discharge insignia. They range from vets wanting to get traffic tickets "fixed" to those who want to adopt children, purchase new automobiles or get liquor licenses.

"We're the 'Little Mother' agency of the government," said the colonel, a two-fisted overseas veteran with a sense of humor and four battle stars on his campaign ribbons. "We do our best, but of course we can't please everybody. It would make it a lot easier on us if some of our correspondents realized that their off-the-track problems hinder the handling of thousands of legitimate requests from men seeking benefits under the G.I. Bill of Rights and so on. When they ask us to find them wives, that sort of stumps us."

The love interest is uppermost in unusual V.A. mail. However, a Maryland vet recently wanted help in getting his water main connected. A West Virginian posed the following $64 question:

"Do you know of or can you find out about some government agency which can assist me in finding a wife? I am a veteran of two years and nine months service—age 39—and so far, for some unknown reason, I am unsuccessful in finding a bride. Hope to receive a favorable reply very soon."

Kathleen Norris Says: The 'Invisible' Woman

"Hartley is better in nerves and spirits than ever before in his life—if my marrying him in the beginning was the result of youth and passion, I think I have atoned."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS... WHEN you were a small reader of fairy-tales did you want to become invisible? Did you think that was about the most fascinating thing that all the old witches' charms or the magic walnut shells could do for you? I did.

Well, here is a letter from a woman who became invisible. She wrote me four years ago, a letter so snarled with troubles, fretting, doubts, despairs that there didn't seem any way out for her.

I advised her to become invisible, and it worked the cure. This is a part of a very long letter I've had from her this week. "I told you, if you remember," writes Susan, "that my situation was hopelessly complicated. I had been confidential secretary to a man whose position—whose work, rather, was of an extremely delicate nature. He was, and is, one of the heads of a hospital for mental cases. He was at the time 40 years old, married, and father of two children—a girl of 9 and a boy of 14. His wife agreed to a divorce, and wished to keep the boy. The girl had never been sympathetic to her, and she wished to have her come to me. My own family was so distressed at the circumstances of my having "broken up a home," as they considered it, that they dropped me completely.

Disillusionment Comes. "However, with Hartley and myself it was the so-called "grande passion." I was then 22; this was 10 years ago. After a year or two, when our first ecstasies of possession and novelty had worn away, we found ourselves a normal man and woman, both with faults, both a little disillusioned, but with new complications. Sonya, my stepdaughter, was a strange and difficult child, and we had a daughter of our own, Karin, a splendid child, but with a serious defect in eyesight, requiring very special care. We later had a boy, who died in his third month.

"My struggles with Sonya, anxiety for Karin's state, and grief over my wonderful boy, resulted in a nervous breakdown for me, and Hartley and I reached the point of discussing a separation. My special grievance against him was his devotion to his son by his first wife, and his constant visits to them. But everything was a grievance and more than once I contemplated suicide.

"You advised invisibility, and I tried it. I dropped all thought of myself; you said for a period of three months. I made it six. I waited for Sonya quietly and considerately, like a perfect servant. You said, 'become God's good servant,' and I tried to. I never had anything but soothing welcomes for my tired man. I took my baby through the long convalescences that gave her, after two operations, perfect eyesight. I bore a daughter I call 'Joy,' for joy she is to us all. I never complained, never asked Hartley where he was going.

Thoroughly Happy Now. "Well, how to summarize all this?" the letter concludes. "Sonya has become a different child, and sometimes—when her mother is trying or her father irritable, she tries the invisibility game, too. Hartley is better in nerves and spirits than ever before in his life, and—if my marrying him in the beginning was the result of youth and passion,

I think I have atoned. We have our own home on the institution grounds now and my mother is with me. This letter comes from that rare creature, a thoroughly happy (if invisible) woman."

Like all professional and home women, I have many problems in my own life, many small humiliations, many disappointments, and sometimes deep grief. But a letter like this one is like sunshine breaking through a heavy gray sky, and irradiating everything it touches. To know that a much younger woman has learned where all safety and all security lie, and how to reach them, is a heartening thing in this world where courage and character and sober common sense are so pitifully needed.

Possibly you can solve your home problem by entire forgetfulness of self, by complete subjugation to the needs of others. Silence rarely does any harm; all the women of all the ages, who ever reached anything like true serenity of mind, have reached it through long hours of that silence in which God speaks to the soul.

Make your home a place which husband and children hate to leave in the morning, to which they return eagerly at night. A place of peace and silence. These beautiful words are as true as they were when they were first spoken two thousand years ago: "Who so loseth his life shall gain it."

VITAMIN C IN PEELS... The next time you peel an orange, save the skin, for it is one of the most nutritious parts of the fruit. Citrus fruits are one of the best sources of vitamin C, and the peels contain a great deal of that vitamin. Most people dislike the peels because they are bitter. But they can be appetizing if used in marmalades, or grated and added to saucers, salads, sandwich fillings and desserts, says the college of home economics at Cornell university.

"Sonya was strange and difficult."

A PEOPLE DISCIPLINED Temperance Lesson... LESSON TEXT: Numbers 14:11-24. MEMORY SELECTION: For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.—Proverbs 3:12.

Instruction, training and culture, sometimes calling for the touch of judgment or punishment, that the lesson may be rightly learned—this is the meaning of discipline. It is a good word and speaks of that which is much needed in a disordered and dissolute world.

Our lesson tells of God's plan for the discipline of the people of Israel in preparation for their entry into the Promised Land. They were not ready when God first brought them up to it, but through hard and trying experiences they learned. They did not believe God, so they had to learn the hard way.

One wonders whether we will be wiser than they. America is now in the awful grasp of a postwar wave of careless living, of moral disintegration and of awful dissipation. Alcoholic liquors flow in an uncontrolled flood of destruction. Where is the moral fiber that made America great?

I. There is a Limit to God's Patience (vv. 11, 12). The background of our lesson is the report of the spies who were sent up into the land. All agreed that it was a good land, but 10 of them were afraid of its inhabitants. Two of them, Joshua and Caleb, urged the people to take God at his word and go up to possess the land. But the people rebelled and wanted to turn back to the feshpots of Egypt.

God had been patient with the people, but the time had come when further patience ceased to be a virtue and would only be indulgence. Then judgment came—and fast!

There is a limit to God's patience with a sinful people. It is almost heartbreaking to think of the possibility that America may all too soon press its downward course to the point where God says, "It is enough."

II. There is Power in Intercessory Prayer (vv. 13-19). Moses stepped into the breach and made a mighty and moving plea for his people. He knew the power of intercession and called on God for mercy upon the people. He pointed out that the honor of the Lord was involved in bringing His people into the land. He recognized the guilt of the older members of the nation but asked for another chance for the children. He based his prayer on the known qualities of God, his justice and, above all, his mercy.

Does not this strongly suggest the importance of Christian people making their influence count in the solution of social problems? Prayer accomplishes more than this world has ever conceived to be possible. Praying people count with God, and hence they count in the affairs of men.

More Christian people ought to be deeply concerned about our country's liquor problem, and all the physical, moral, social, political and spiritual ills which are caused by drink.

III. There is Punishment for Unbelief (vv. 20-23). The pardon of God for the people as a whole did not overlook or wink at the awful unbelief of those who had rebelled against God.

He had not left them without a strong basis for faith in him. Again and again he had made known his might in miraculous deliverances during their days of travel from Egypt. But they simply hardened their hearts in unbelief.

Lack of faith in God is no little offense against him. He has a right to our unquestioning belief and immediate obedience. Somehow we have come to regard it as a special favor toward God if we believe him, when the fact is that unbelief in such a God is definitely and obviously sin.

IV. There is a Reward for Courageous Living (v. 24). God is looking for men of faith. All through Scripture we find the Lord coming magnificently to the help and blessing of the one who will believe him.

Caleb and Joshua were brought into the land, preserved through all of Israel's wanderings, and kept in vigor even to old age in order to enjoy the promised possession (see Josh. 1:6-9; 14:10-12).

Caleb is an example of what courage, faith, self-control—yes, discipline, can do for a man. We need men and women—yes, young men and women with the spirit of Caleb. Social customs of our day encourage self-indulgence. Drinking is on the increase. Moral standards are low and seem to be getting lower. What shall we do? Teach our young men and women to have faith in God and to discipline their lives in accordance with his word, so that they may be set free for courageous and useful living.

Maid Had Toothsome Bit Of Information for Mistress THE mistress had given the nursery-maid notice to leave. "So I'm a flirt, am I?" said the nurse indignantly. "You are—and more," answered the mistress. "Well, replied the girl, "I just think you are jealous because I am better looking than you are—your husband told me so! And what's more, I can kiss better than you. Like to know who told me that?" "Don't you dare to suggest that it was my husband!" stormed the mistress. "I'm not suggesting anything," laughed the maid. "But if you must know, it was your dentist!"

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Radar Opens Way for Scientific Exploration of Stratosphere; Filibuster Fair Employment Bill

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

RADAR: Reach Moon

With U. S. army radar contact with the moon, vast possibilities confronted a rapidly developing scientific world, which had recorded the explosive use of atomic energy only a short six months ago.
Having sent radio waves 238,857 miles up to the moon at the rate of 186,000 miles a second and registered echoes 2½ seconds later, army physicists working on the project at the Evans Signal Laboratory in Belmar, N. J., saw these possible revolutionary wartime and peacetime uses of the new technique:
● Radio control of long-range jet or rocket-propelled missiles, circling the earth above the atmosphere.
● Study of effects of upper layers of atmosphere on radio waves.
● Drawing of detailed topographical maps of distant planets and determine the composition of other celestial bodies.
● Radio control of strato-ships sent aloft to record astronomical data computed aboard such craft by electronic devices.

CONGRESS: Seek Labor Curb

Despite the general congressional tendency to give the administration wide latitude in handling the strike situation, especially in an election year, southern solons led by Representatives Smith (Dem., Va.) and Cox (Dem., Ga.) have prodded cautious legislators toward consideration of anti-strike measures.
Hitting congressional timidity for taking the teeth out of the President's proposed fact-finding legislation, Smith declared his intentions to restore the right of federal officials to look into disputants' books in studying issues and establish a 30-day anti-strike period.
In addition, Smith joined with other congressmen in calling for legislation which would make unions as well as companies equally responsible for observing contracts, and went even further in demanding the prohibition of sympathy strikes and the organization of supervisory and management employees.

Crippling Strike

As the far-flung steel strike involving upwards of 800,000 workers took effect, government officials looked to a widespread closing of many plants dependent upon the vital material for peacetime products.
Ordinarily, the big auto manufacturers hold only a 10-day inventory of sheet steel, while producers of washing machines, vacuum cleaners and similar items build up 30 to 40 day stocks. Anticipating a walkout, however, many companies ordered heavily in preceding weeks, though the government restricted permissible inventories of sheet steel to 45 days and other steel to 60 days.
In evaluating the situation, government officials declared that the volume of production would be partly influenced by the amount of material manufacturers may decide to draw on from stocks. Though many of the bigger companies in the auto and appliance industries have been struck, smaller plants and parts suppliers have been free to work.
Rescinding all priorities after the CIO-United Steel Workers left their jobs, the government directed warehouses to channel stocks to utility, fire, police, hospital, railroad, food processing and other outlets serving the public needs.

Plant Seizures

In taking over struck packing plants, the government declared that meat was a vital product, necessary for the maintenance of American strength in securing the peace during the continuing postwar emergency, differentiating it from goods of a civilian nature.
Though AFL members agreed to return to their jobs, the CIO packinghouse workers rebelled at going back in U. S. controlled plants under old pay rates. By taking over the plants and re-establishing old conditions, they said, the government had robbed them of their one weapon for enforcing higher wage demands.
While the government took over the plants of Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson, Morrill and others, with company officials conducting the business under U. S. supervision, federal conciliators maintained efforts to bring the disputants together on the wage issue. Increased price ceilings were proposed to offset higher pay advances.

GRAIN: Big Demand

With the government planning to export between 200 and 225 million bushels of wheat during the first half of 1946, and with livestock producers and distillers scrambling for grain to meet heavy feed and processing needs, farmers were assured strong and steady markets through the year.
Because of the government's export program and feed and processing needs, the nation's supply of wheat was expected to dip to around 200 million bushels by July 1, with some sources predicting even less.
With one to two months supply on hand, many mills already are beginning to feel the pinch, and distillers have been forced to use hulled oats for alcohol despite smaller gallonage per 100 bushels.
Though the department of agriculture considered limiting the use of wheat for feed, it reportedly was reluctant to act because of a shortage of feed in the poultry producing New England states.

South America May Be Rich Oil Source

Some of the world's greatest deposits of oil may be found locked in or beyond the forbidding Andes mountains of South America, says Ethyl News magazine. South America already is the second largest oil-producer in the world, and evidences of the presence of petroleum are found the full length of the Andes, giving foundation to the belief that some of the world's major deposits may be located there, it is declared.
Wartime depletion of oil reserves makes the discovery of new deposits all the more imperative, according to the publication, adding that part of the answer may lie in the snow-clad, towering Andes running 4,500 miles from Tierra del Fuego up to the Caribbean coast of Venezuela.

PEARL HARBOR: Short's Turn

In telling the Pearl Harbor investigating committee that the war department's withholding of intercepted Japanese messages prior to the fatal attack on the naval base had not permitted him to make adequate preparations against assault, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short took the same position as Admiral Kimmel.
Lashing the war department for having made him the "scapegoat" for the disaster, Short declared that had he been furnished the gist of intercepted Japanese messages pointing toward imminent war, he would have girded his Hawaiian command for an all-out alert. As it was, he said, he only ordered a watch against sabotage and presumed it was satisfactory since Chief of Staff Marshall had not countermanded the step.
Discussing the intercepted enemy message of December 6, indicating a break in diplomatic relations, and the concluding part of the dispatch December 7, specifying the exact time for the rupture, Short asserted that had the war department sent him the information promptly, he would have had four hours in which to prepare for an attack. A telephone call to Hawaii would have taken a few minutes, Short stated.

TALK: And More Talk

Resisting northern efforts to push through the fair employment practices bill, which prohibits discrimination in hiring workers, southern senators led by Mississippi's Theodore G. Bilbo carried on a lengthy filibuster against the measure in their drive to talk it to death.
With all of the southern senators save Pepper (Dem., Fla.) lined up against the FEPC, one outside the other in holding forth against the measure. Whereas Bilbo announced his readiness to deliver a 30-day speech, Eastland (Dem., Miss.) threatened to outshine his colleague by filibustering for two years.
In forming ranks to talk the FEPC to death, the southern senators, referring to chamber members as "my delightful and revered friend," etc., concentrated on discussion of:

As leader of Southern filibuster, Sen. Bilbo girds for 30-day talk.

the contents of the formal senate journal, which carries a detailed account of proceedings. For hours Dixie's stalwarts talked about the advisability of including a chaplain's prayer in the report before Taft (Rep., Ohio) got them off on something else by succeeding in having the matter tabled.

INSURANCE: Policy Loans Up

Reflecting increased emergency needs resulting from the economic dislocations following V-J Day, life insurance policy loans have risen since the end of the war, almost doubling in the case of some companies over the record low point of 1945. Advances averaged between $100 and $200.
Despite the rise in new loans, however, the debt position of policyholders was far more favorable than in 1939, the amount outstanding at the end of 1945 having been pared almost 200 million dollars to about 1 billion from the prewar years. Whereas the ratio of loans to reserves stood at 13 per cent in 1939, it now is only 5 per cent.
While cash surrender value payments also rose moderately following V-J Day, the total of 240 million dollars in 1945 compared with 739 million in 1939.

FARM PRICES: Familiar Pattern

Since the end of World War II, the prices of farm products have shown a tendency to follow a trend similar to that which occurred after the end of World War I, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. When World War I was drawing to a close, prices first showed a moderate recession from the peak which was reached during the wartime rise, and then resumed their advance.

VETS: Surplus Goods

Disposal of surplus goods to vets promised to be speeded up through the formation of a special division in the War Assets Corporation to handle the program and meet numerous objections posed by past practices.
Though the volume of surplus goods for disposal will depend upon the final determination of service needs after demobilization, the Chicago regional office of WAC was quick to set up model procedure to facilitate the movement of government material to G. I. applicants.
Under the new system, any vet desiring surplus goods will be given a certificate to purchase whatever material he wants, and a WAC representative then will conduct him to the department handling the item. If the product is not available, the vet will then be notified when it has been received, and he will be permitted to make a purchase under ceilings established by OPA.
Formerly, vets had complained that ceiling prices were too high, and that they had not been notified of public sales to dealers on a bid basis for unclaimed surplus material.

Doctors Aid 'Blue Baby'

Snug in a scarlet and ivory suit, with a red cap tucked over golden curls, 2-year-old Judy Hackman of Buckley, Wash., kicked impishly as she was wheeled out of famed Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, Md., to be taken home after a delicate operation had repaired a malformed heart that menaced her life.
When first brought into the hospital, Judy faced early death as a "blue baby," but Doctors Blacklock and Taussig skillfully sewed a good artery to a defective one, increasing the supply of oxygenated blood in her system. As the youngster recovered, the blue line in her lips gradually was supplanted by a rosy hue.

GERMANY: Rural Elections

First free voting in Germany since the Nazi rise to power in 1933, elections held in the rural sections of the American zone of occupation resulted in a decided victory for the liberal Social Democratic party, which polled 41.4 per cent of the ballots.
In swinging to the Social Democrats, the Germans passed up the conservative Christian Democratic Union of Catholics and Protestants, which drew 28 per cent of the vote, and the radical communists, who polled about 3 per cent.
Lending credence to the American authorities warning that the elections were largely determined by personalities rather than basic party principles was the defeat of the Christian Union. Seeking to swing over the small land-owners' vote, organization candidates asserted that a radical victory would lead to subdivision of existing acreage to accommodate refugees.

Things You Knew All Along: (But which dopey me just found out.)

President Truman is not ill, but the Army has completed plans for a Presidential suite at Walter Reed Hospital. FDR and other gov't officials invariably used the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md. Since Mr. Truman served in the Army (in World War I), the Army has no intention of turning over its prize alumnus to Naval medics, should he need a doctor. (Mr. Truman discovered that trying to be a middle-of-the-roader means you get slugged from both sides.)
In Berlin the Nazis (civilians, too) gather in front of U. S. PXs and beg the Yanks "for chawklott, choon-gum" and other goodies, even ciggcs. The Americans often share with them. When the Nazis are a safe distance away they make "cracks," thumb to nose, etc. Nurses just back also report the Nazis practically dare the Yanks to hit them with their vehicles or bikes as they cross streets. But when they see the Russians coming in cars, they flee. Because the Russkys run over them! (They respect THEM!)
"Fala at Hyde Park" is the title of an unusual short released on FDR's birthday, Jan. 30th.
Six thousand of the 82nd Airborne Division (who marched up Fifth Ave. the other day) will re-enlist.
During the war ammunition was manufactured in the House of Lords, London.
Believe it or not, but there is even a lobby in Washington to prevent the gov't from establishing national cemeteries in each State. (Cemetery associations are behind the lobby.)
Telephones immaculate (The Hygienic Phone Service of N. Y., Inc.) is a service which disinfects your phones twice weekly. A New Yorker borrowed the idea from London, which is supposed to be decades behind New York.

Schedule For Basketball

Games are played each Friday night.
 Difference Games:—
 Feb. 12—Burk at Graham.
 Feb. 12—Open.
 Feb. 15—Burk at Wichita Falls.
 Coach Short hopes to fill all the dates with home games. Attendance and interest in the games are very good this year.

Senior News

Forgive me if the news sounds just a little conceited this week. But we of the Senior Class have a perfect right to be stuck up. Both basketball queen and princess were chosen from the Senior class. We're proud of Jarvis Foster and Ramona Milford for the honor bestowed upon them. Our basketball boys lived up to our expectations and won the game with Olney Thursday night. We were defeated, however, by the Wichita Coyotes Friday night at Hardin Jr. College. The boys really played a good game, though, I know, because I was there.

Deputy Collector Here Feb. 25 to Offer Assistance

"In spite of all the changes in the income tax laws, March 15 is still the deadline for filing final income tax returns.
 "Everyone who had a gross income of $500 or more in 1945 must file a return. This even includes minor children with -500 or more gross income. In addition, many wage earners whose salaries were subject to withholding will not owe a tax for the year, but must, nevertheless, file a return in order to obtain a refund of amounts withheld by their employers from their salaries of wages.
 "In order to give taxpayers of this locality first hand assistance in the preparation of their returns, W. A. Thomas, Collector of Internal Revenue at Dallas is sending Deputy Collector Clois L. Greene and Luther O. Gentry to City Hall, Burkburnett, Texas, on February 25, 1946.
 "All taxpayers who need assistance or information in filing their income tax returns for the year 1945 are urged to go to the town nearest them on the date of the deputy collector's visit. Between March 1 and March 15 most of the Deputies will be stationed at their various Zone Offices. If you miss seeing them on their visit to your town, you will then have to go to the nearest Zone Office for help.
 "The Collector urges every taxpayer to make an effort to bring his tax problems before the Deputy Collectors named above, on the date shown. The point is stressed that you must bring with you all of your Withholding Receipts, together with complete information as to all 1945 income, expenses and deductions. The Deputy Collectors will need this information before they can give you advice as to how to file your return.

Burkburnett Girl Wed In California

A wedding of interest to many in Burkburnett, is that of Miss Fordia Ouzts, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Ouzts, to FC3/c James Clifton Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood, of Randlett, Oklahoma.

Double ring vows were read by Rev. Dobbs B. Bunch, in the Chapel of the Chimes, in Oakland, California, January 5. White tapers burning in tall silver candelabra provided the only illumination for the ceremony. The nuptial space was background with white gladiolus and white mums interlaced with greenery.

The bride was smartly attired in a tailored blue wool crepe dress with black accessories. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias to complete her costume. For something old and borrowed, she wore a wedding band belonging to her great-grandmother.

Miss Geneva Wood, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and her chosen costume was a blue tailored suit with accessories to harmonize. A Ship-mate attended the groom as best man.

Mrs. Wood attended school in Burkburnett, and graduated with the class of 1942. She received her nurses training at the Dallas Methodist hospital, and at the time of her marriage was nursing in the Stone Convalescent Hospital in Oakland.

The groom graduated from the Randlett High school in 1941 and entered the Coast Guard in '42, most of his service has been aboard a Hospital Ship in the Pacific. He is now stationed in Oakland as a Patrol Guard.

The couple plan to make their home in Oakland for the duration of his service.

B. W. C.

The Business Women's circle of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Alline Frields Tuesday evening, Feb. 5.

The meeting was opened with the W. M. U. song and was followed with a prayer by Mrs. R. P. Thaxton. A short business meeting followed and another prayer was led by Mrs. Bernice Wattenbarger. Miss Reed gave the devotional and presented a very unique missionary program depicting signs that point to a spiritual revival. Black crepe paper represented a miniature highway with familiar road signs such as "Men Working Ahead", "Watch Out For Holes", and "Slippery Pavement Ahead". The sign messages were interpreted by different members on the program to be a symbol of a spiritual awakening. The circle was dismissed in prayer by Mrs. L. C. Evans.

After the meeting, a refreshment plate was served to Mesdames Bernice Wattenbarger, I. C. Evans, A. L. Scott, M. E. Lewallen, R. P. Thaxton, Alline Frields, Amy Moore, and Misses Bessie McKnight, Jewell Reed, and Joyce Frields.
