OUNCE OF PREVENTION

As we look ahead to warm weather to come, we might absorb some advice offered by an article in Fortune magazine on precautions to take when using the famed DDT. Keep DDT insecticides where they will not be used as medicine or in foods.

Avoid inhalation from sprays and DDT bombs. Wash hands and parts of skin thoroughly which come in contact with solutions.

If applying on a large scale, wear a mask to prevent irritation from kerosene and inhalation of DDT.

Have some source of ventilation during the spray treatment.

Cover or remove food when applying DDT. Cover the fish bowl and remove any caged birds from the area.

Keep children and pets from the sprayed parts until sprays are dry.

Watch out for fire.

THE NATION'S HEALTH

We remain staunch only as long as our nation's children remain healthy. To be assured of a solid future we must minister to the health and education of our young. The country's assets in numbers of dollars is nothing in comparison to what the country can quote of the state of health of bodies and minds of its children. Upon this we build for tomorrow.

The United States has a Children's Bureau that handles funds for child welfare service. They have been receiving 1 1/2 million dollars for the entire country but on this only 400 of the 3,000 counties can be taken care of in a year. We pride ourselves on our standard of living when 40 of every 1,000 babies, born alive, die before they are a year old. During war we had an emergency maternity and infant care program for wives and babies of servicemen. This should not be ended but broadened to help all in need of such care, and children without supervision of parents to be sustained. A senator has introduced a bill before the Senate as The Maternal and child welfare act, to extend more millions for the cause. In Burk Burnett we feel such a need is more worthy the attention of our dollars than some of the other bills that absorb the taxpayers' coins.

We're Investing $8,000,000 to provide more and better Electric Service for West Texas

We're proud of West Texas' past growth and steady development and solidly sold on its future. That's why we're convinced that an additional $8,000,000 investment in new and modern equipment to improve and extend electric service facilities for this area is sound business.

Our policy is to look ahead—to see that there is always an ample, dependable supply of electricity for West Texas industries, stores, offices and homes—to do whatever is necessary to maintain and encourage prosperity in the territory we serve.

It was such a policy of planning and building ahead that enabled this Company and other privately-owned, business-managed electric utilities in the State and nation to serve the tremendous war loads when they came on, without stint, delay, rationing or any increase in price.

Looking ahead at the expected increased demands for electric power from industrial development in this part of Texas and planning to provide ample electric service to operate new electrical equipment soon to be available for homes has encouraged us to set a two-year construction budget of $8,000,000.

Every penny of this money has been earmarked for some specific addition to or improvement in our electric generating facilities, transmission and distribution system, farm electric service and oil field electric power supply.

It is our peace-time hope and promise that the ever-expanding business and home life of the people we serve will find good electric service always available at the least possible cost.

Here's a Simple Way To Make Slip Covers

THERE are a number of ways to make slip covers. This sketch shows the method of making a pattern from unbleached muslin, or an old sheet, if you do not have the confidence to fit the fabric right on the chair.

Fit the muslin smoothly but do not stretch. Allow one-half inch seams and a four-inch tuck-in around the spring seat.

Kathleen Norris Says: You Can't Get Back What You Never Had

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Clay is safe from trouble; he will have—or has had—no difficulty in explaining to his wife that one of the office girls is cracked about him."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

LOVE does not last; not all by itself. Love all by itself is like a bottle of pure, rich milk. Leave it alone for a few days and what have you? A bottle half-filled with sour curds, and half of evil-smelling water.

But mix milk with flour, yeast, butter, salt, and you have the fine bread that is indispensable to the growing bodies of boys and girls.

Unless you mix love with service, companionship, mutual interests, mutual ambitions, honor, honesty and common sense, you have the bitter draught in life to drink. It won't stand alone, no matter how deliciously exciting and satisfying it is in the beginning.

Nothing is so hard on a woman as the grand passion that peters out into loneliness, bewilderment, shame, crushed pride and vanished illusion. Especially if that grand passion is illicit, and it usually is. The sweeping, breath-taking, absorbing, dizzying type of loving rarely comes into your life by the pleasant, well-worn trail of friendship, engagement, marriage. There again a great many elements enter to stabilize matters.

Getting clothes, kitchen showers, house-hunting, acknowledging presents, calling on Jim's people, making arrangements for bridesmaids, church, music, reception—all these things are delightful in themselves, and they help make a girl feel that she really is getting married. But they don't go hand-in-hand with the mad sweetness, the agony and joy, of love completely unsupported by material, everyday, practical common sense.

Loves Her Boss. Take Evelyn Peters' affair, for example. Evelyn is an office worker of 28; she writes me that she has loved Clay for seven years. Clay is 40; he is her office boss.

"How shall I know if he no longer cares?" writes Evelyn. "There is no question of this being the real thing, for it has survived every possible difficulty and handicap. In the first place, Clay is married, and although he no longer loves—or even likes his wife, they have a daughter of 12 whom he adores.

"Four years ago Clay went to officers camp, emerging a captain; I was intensely proud of him, even though the long separation was hard on us both. "Up to this time I had held our friendship to strictly platonic lines, but the pressure of war tragedies and partings made me feel I could refuse him nothing, and during the first war year, when he was in various American camps, we managed to meet very often. Far from being ashamed of having surrendered, I was proud of his love. When he finally sailed for South Seas duty it was with the implicit promise that when he returned he would make our relationship legitimate.

"He has now been home seven weeks, and I count the days in growing uneasiness. I don't doubt his love, but what is keeping us apart? It may be that he is going to surprise me by arriving suddenly to announce his freedom, but so far I have had only one unsatisfactory telephone call, which terminated with his casual promise 'see you soon' but on that occasion his wife may have been within hearing.

You mean "as you wish you were of your own feeling, Evelyn." You know very well, in your heart, that this affair is cold—cold as the Iceland snows. Clay is safe from trouble; he will have—or has had—no difficulty in explaining to his elderly wife that one of the office girls is cracked about him. I would bet even money, although far from a betting woman, that there is another woman—not in the wife's place, but in yours. He and his wife may have had their upset times, but she will prove a fine buffer between him and any disturbance you can create. There is only one piece of advice for you. It is contained in two forceful words. "Forget it."

Gelatin Stiffens Rayon When rayon dresses become limp from washing they may be given a lift by dipping in a gelatin and water solution. Two tablespoons should be enough. Soak the gelatin a few minutes in a little cold water, then dissolve with boiling water. Pour the solution in a bowl large enough to hold the dress and add cold water. After the dress is washed and rinsed, dip in the gelatin solution and squeeze gently. Then roll the dress in a thick towel until dry enough to iron.

Lesson for March 3

A PEOPLE FINDING A HOMELAND

LESSON TEXT: Joshua 1:1-4; 23:1-11. MEMORY SELECTION: Thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee.—Deuteronomy 8:10.

God is the Lord of nations as well as of homes, and he is concerned that those who honor him in their homes have opportunity to serve him in their national life. This was true in a special way with Israel, but it is also true of us today.

Ready to enter the Promised Land, the people had to part with their great leader, Moses, who was not permitted to enter. The time comes when even the mightiest of men fall, but life must go on and new leadership must be found.

I. The Changed Leader (Josh. 1: 1-4).

1. Workers Die—God's Work Goes On (vv. 1, 2). God buries his workmen at the end of their day of labor, but God's work goes on. The people had become attached to Moses and had learned to trust his leadership, even though they often murmured. With his death we might have assumed that there would be a letdown, but that was not in God's plan.

The Lord works through men. He gives them abilities and uses them for his glory, often in a way which astonishes them and others. But let them not become proud, for God has someone to take their place when they are gone. They are not indispensable.

2. The Need Is the Same, So Is the Blessing (vv. 3, 4).

The promise given to Moses was still good. God's promises are always good. They are the only really stable thing in a trembling universe. The question is, Are we ready to take him at his word?

They were to step out by faith. The land was promised to them only as the sole of their foot should tread upon it. Israel never took out the full promise of verse 4. They lacked faith.

God honors those who believe him and who move forward by faith to plant the foot of spiritual conquest in new territory. Some are doing it now. Are we?

The enemies of God's people were many and mighty, but they were not able to stand in the way of God's people when they were moving forward for him. Here again, Israel failed. They did not drive them out, because they did not take God at his word. The application of that truth to us is obvious.

II. The Unchanging God (Josh. 23: 1-11).

Between our first scripture and this selection will be found the history of the conquest of the land (at least, of the larger part of it), and the division of the territory between the tribes.

Years have passed quickly, and the new leader, Joshua, is now an old man, soon to go to his reward. He gathers the elders who represented the people and gave them good counsel for the days ahead, even as he recalls the blessings of the past.

1. God Did Help (vv. 1-3).

Israel had been in many hard battles. They had gone through the trials of pioneer days in a new and unfamiliar land. Now they were established and at peace. Perhaps they were recalling their mighty exploits and their own sacrificial efforts.

Joshua reminds them that it was God who fought for them (v. 3). We need just such a reminder in our land today.

2. God Will Help (vv. 4, 5).

Joshua had a word of encouragement for the days ahead. There was much yet to be done. The land had not been fully taken. He reminded them of God's help in the past, so that they would depend on it in the future.

It is one mark of a great man that he looks beyond the end of his own short existence and plans for the future.

What about the future? Joshua reminded them that every blessing they had received, every victory they had won, everything had come from the hand of God. There and there alone was their hope for the future. And it was enough!

3. Help Yourself (vv. 6-11).

To keep true in the land where their neighbors engaged in idol worship and all manner of immorality required definite action on the part of Israel.

They were not to deviate in the slightest from God's way, "to the right hand or to the left" (v. 6), for a little beginning in the wrong direction winds up in awful departure from him.

They were not even to swear by the heathen gods, not even to mention them. They were to "cleave" to the Lord, a graphic presentation of the close relation between God and his people.

There are many thoughts here which can be profitably applied to our daily lives. Faith in God calls for stalwart action and separated living for him.

Mother 'Knows Best' How to Rear Johnny

Mr. Smith was very annoyed when Mr. Jones' young son interrupted their conversation by marching round the room noisily banging the coal scuttle with a poker.

"If a child of mine made such an infernal din," he said crossly, "he'd be severely chastised and sent to bed."

"It's the wife's fault," apologized Mr. Jones. "She allows him to make as much noise as he pleases as long as it keeps him quiet."

SENIOR NEWS

If the Seniors have a tendency to stand at the windows Tuesday it isn't because we are mean. We have our own reasons. We are going skating Monday night, and from what I've heard several of us may be sorry.

The six weeks' exams come this week, and here we go chewing our finger nails again. This makes us nervous every time it rolls around.

We had a class meeting last Wednesday. We discussed the skating party, the gift for the school, and the Senior trip. The committee for the trip consists of: Donald Brookman, Birtie Baumhardt, Alice Scarbrough, Iva Jo Fields and Ernest Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chasser of Olney, and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Winkles, Holliday, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Winkles in Burk.

Rogers, Walter Pidgeon, Lana Turner, Van Johnson Are Starred in New Hit, Palace Theatre, Sun. & Mon.

In at the world's most luxury hotel with M-G-M time all star cast in "End at the Waldorf," is an exciting, romantic drama of 48 hours packed with thrills and intrigues. Film stars Ginger Rogers, Walter Pidgeon, Lana Turner, Van Johnson, with Edward Robert Benchley, Phylicia Keenan Wynn, Lina and Xavier Cugat and his maid. At the same time the flier wishing to make his will finds in the stenographer portrayed by Miss Turner, his one hope to live. Around these four is built, in most clever fashion, a tale of intrigue involving Edward Arnold as a shady operator in oil who is trying to swing a deal involving millions of dollars and a visiting Bey, a potentate from the Near East. It is the shady operator who almost blasts the romance between the stenographer and the flier, in the course of the novel twists of the story. You'll enjoy every minute of your "Week-End at the Waldorf" — with out reservations. Make a date to see it now.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Stabilization Policy Designed To Spur Production; Argentine Military Junta Under U. S. Fire

Released by Western Newspaper Union

WAGE-PRICES: Go Sign

Formulation of the administration's new stabilization policy setting a pattern for wage increases of from 15 to 17 per cent and permitting price boosts wherever necessary to assure prewar profit margins, represented a victory for the conservative advisers of President Truman.

In announcing the new wage-price policy, which was designed to settle the major steel, auto and electrical strikes, Mr. Truman hoped that it would result in an early resumption of mass production that alone could head off an inflationary spiral.

In winning his point of view, Snyder was permitted to retain his over-all control over the stabilization policy, with former OPA chief Chester Bowles put in charge of administering the new formula.

At the same time, the state department's indictment against the army junta, charging collaboration during the war and in establishing a fascist economy in peace, came on the eve of the Argentine presidential election, lending possibilities to a nationwide swing against Peron's candidacy. Taking cognizance of the U. S. action, Peron laid blame for the strained relations between the two countries on Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden, whom he accused of undermining previous accords.

"Strong Man" Juan Peron, whose military junta was under state department fire.

In charging Argentina with collaboration with the axis in war, the state department's "blue book" declared that the military regime engaged in espionage against the allies, sought to undermine governments in neighboring countries friendly to the united nations, and protected German economic interests.

Boundary Problems Plague Peace Makers

Indicative of the complex problems facing the Big Five committee drafting the postwar European peace treaty are the rival claims of Italy and Austria to the southern Tyrol, ceded to the former after the first World War.

CAPITOL HILL: Dems Row

Harold Ickes

With Harold L. Ickes having quit the department of the interior after President Truman had questioned the accuracy of his testimony before a senatorial committee probing Edwin W. Pauley's nomination as undersecretary of navy, political sagas pondered what effect the self-styled "Old Curmudgeon's" action would have on Democratic chances in the 1946 congressional and 1948 presidential elections.

In resigning from the cabinet after 13 years of service as one of the liberal New Deal stalwarts, "Honorable Harold," as Ickes is sometimes known, warned Mr. Truman that political pressure for retention of state control over underwater oil reserves could result in a scandal similar to Teapot Dome.

Although it was long rumored that Ickes might leave the President's cabinet, his dramatic departure grew out of his charges that $300,000 could be raised for the 1944 presidential race if the government dropped a suit the interior secretary instituted to place underwater oil reserves under federal rather than state control.

Ill feelings between Ickes and Mr. Truman were further pointed up by the President's order making the resignation immediately effective rather than on March 31 as the interior secretary had requested so that he might push through the Anglo-American oil treaty "which (he) had nurtured and raised by bottle from the beginning."

While the liberal Ickes, long a prominent figure in reform politics, said he would not oppose the President's re-election in 1948, he qualified his statement by pointing out that he had cast his ballot as a delegate to the 1944 convention for Henry A. Wallace for vice president.

GRAIN MOVEMENTS: Co-Op Proposals

Holding an emergency meeting in Chicago, Ill., the National Federation of Grain Co-operatives urged President Truman to speed up movement of box cars and clarify the price and tax situation to spur lagging shipment of grain to market.

Representing member groups, which handle approximately 400 million bushels of grain annually, the federation said that the acute shortage of box cars has been further aggravated by delays in movement. Runs that normally required four or five days from the northwest to Minneapolis-St. Paul, now take 30 days or more, officials said.

AIR PACT: U. S., Britain Agree

Resolving differences over the question of regulating international air travel, the U. S. and Britain reached agreement after month-long discussions in Hamilton, Bermuda, on a postwar pattern inclining toward the American concept of freest possible flight.

NATIONAL GUARD: Postwar Increase

In accordance with plans to keep America strong in the postwar world, the national guard will be increased to 622,500 officers and men, more than double the total of 300,034 in the prewar period.

REA: Complete Rural Electrification

Complete rural electrification is nearer a reality in the northeastern states than any other section of the country, the Rural Electrification administration has reported. Seventy-seven per cent of the farms in the area already are receiving central station electric service.

Man About Town:

Champion Joe Louis in the RKO gateway quietly downing a huge beaker of milk. . . Lt. Col. Greg Boyington says he is called "Skipper" or "Skipper" by those who know him, not "Pappy." . . The much decorated war hero at Reuben's being told by his mother to "eat all his vegetables." . . Reaction of Cliff Mack to the paintings of W. Churchill: "Well, at least they're better than Hitler's."

Von Ribbentrop has requested a Jewish lawyer (instead of an alienist). . . If you see a man's discharge button with a ball-and-chain dangling from it—he was a prisoner of war. . . Pat, the popular newsboy at Miami Beach, got off his best quip the day Churchill arrived there. "Hide yer money!" he exclaimed. "The British are coming!" . . Ho, hum, Everybody on strike except the tax collectors!

Faces About Midtown: Charles Coburn, plus his monocle, strolling along 7th Avenue—and teen-agers gleefully exclaiming: "Oooh, look! There's Jean Arthur's father!" . . Joe Cotten, the star, gabbing in the Stork with Kenneth Friede—the producer who once paid him $40 per week in a play. Joseph today gets $100,000 per film. . . Victor Moore of "Nellie Bly" and his bride. Don't feel sorry for Victor because of the show's sour notices. He's down to his last million. . . Book-writer J. Gunther and the chomping Marina Svetlova, the premiere danseuse at the Met. . . Cesar Romero, who used to hoof for coffee-and-cake coin, spinning Renee DeMarco in a waltz at the Cotillion Room. . . Helmut Dantine, the star, thrilled over becoming an American. . . Ex-Mayor LaGuardia, who had it changed to the Avenue of the Americas, yelling at a friend: "You must come up to see my new offices on SIXTH AVENUE!"

Sounds in the Night: At the Carnival: "Judging by the notices or 'Nellie Bly' the critics didn't do right by Nell." . . At the Versailles: "That much-married playboy oughta change his name to Girlville!" . . At the Boulevard: "Oh, Heel be around!" . . At the Enduro: "She's playing second fiddle." . . Lou Holtz (at the Miami Beach-courier): "I had a very smooth trip down. Only two wrecks!" . . Leon Henderson, former OPA administrator (to a much criticized gov't exec): "It took me 2 1/2 years to be called the No. One So-and-So. It took you only 2 1/2 weeks!" . . In the Washington Press club: "He goes around acting so obnoxious because he wants everybody to think he's syndicated." . . At Reuben's: "She's very dull. Never knocks anyone!"

Quotations of the Town: F. Scott Fitzgerald: The silver pepper of the stars. . . Roger White: Any one discriminating against race or religion is a discriminator. . . Tom Reddy: She was wearing a hatrocity. . . Ralph Edwards: As fleet as babyhood to a parent. . . H. C. Carter: A moth leads an awful life. Allen Raymond: Editors are 3rd basemen whose legs have gone. . . H. Davies: Funny, but the ashes of a broken heart can stir up more heat than the flare of a new flame. . . James Cannon: He talks about himself like a guy who just left the room. . . Disraeli: Every man has a right to be conceited until he is successful. . . Rev. R. W. Sockman: The test of courage comes when we are in the minority; the test of tolerance comes when we are in the majority. . . John Buchan: Little towns dumb with snow under the winter moon. . . J. Conrad: Kisses are what's left of the language of Paradise. . . Damon Runyon: She has an ice-cream cone where her heart is supposed to be. . . Anon: Nazism is like small-pox. It leaves permanent scars on its victims. . . When you see a married couple coming down the street the one ahead is the one that's mad.

Sallies in Our Alley: Two columnists were discussing their sons. . . The first 3-dotted said: "Do you want him to become a columnist when he grows up?" . . "N-h-nh," said the other. . . "Why not?" What's wrong with becoming a columnist?" . . "I don't want him to be another imitator!" . . George Jessel's imitator at the Alfred E. Smith memorial delighted everyone. George was immaculately groomed—white tie, tails, etc. . . A warning: "Hey, George, fergossakes don't lie down—or somebody'll bury you!"

Stylish Two-Piecer. A LEADER in the spring style parade is the smart and versatile two piece outfit. This one has brief, comfortable sleeves, dainty scallop edging and gently flared peplum accenting a tiny waistline. The gored skirt is easily made and very graceful.

Household Hints. If salt fish are soaked and cooked in milk they become much sweeter than when soaked in water.

Shoes that are stiff after being worn in the rain will become quite pliable if vaseline is well rubbed in with a soft rag.

Clean the underside of rugs frequently, for dirt works through, and insects are likely to hide underneath.

Paint wooden knitting needles and crochet hooks with a coat of colorless nail polish the minute they begin to get rough or scratchy. Smooths them off. Make sure polish is thoroughly dry and hard before putting needles to use again.

Should the loud ticking of a clock in the sick room bother the patient, place a glass bowl over the timepiece.

Cat-stitch seams on baby's sleeping garments and underwear to hold them flat. Helps prevent needless irritation to his sensitive skin.

A little salt in the bottom of the skillet will keep the fat from popping.

For cleaning tiles in the bathroom and kitchen, use a soft cloth moistened with kerosene.

Screw a hook into the end of your broom handle. You'll find it handy for reaching objects on high shelves, also the window shade pull that springs to the top. And naturally you hang the broom up by its hook in order to preserve the bristles.

Let Victory Gardening Live On!

During the war many a family, for the first time in their lives, ate vegetables right out of their own garden. Better yet, they found "em! If Victory Gardening in America accomplished nothing that was a priceless gain.

Thousands of men, women, and children in cities, towns, and on farms have been enjoying better food in the last four years because of the response to Uncle Sam's "grow your own." The backyard patch, the vacant lot, the square feet of ground in a city plot became a gold mine. And over it has been proved the food value is greater, the more delicious, when vegetables are eaten garden-fresh.

You heard of gardening as a certain form of exercise for certain field hospitals before the war to help convalescing men rebuild their minds and other field hospitals all over the country are now going ahead with the idea. Doctors and scientists are urging "back to the soil gardening" as a vital force in bringing physical and mental health to a garden in connection with a cure. A home garden will be an "ounce of prevention" and every member of the family can profit by it.

In many cases the home Victory garden actually became a family garden. Dad, Mom, and the young ones had fun together planting, watering, and weeding the rows, and $8,000,000 Program Announced by Texas Electric Service Co.

Announcement of an $8,000,000 program of power plant and power line construction by Texas Electric Service Company has been made by J. B. Thomas, president and general manager. This program, to be completed within two years, will result in increased employment and will prepare for increased demands for electricity that the Company confidentially expects from expanded industrial development in West Texas. Greater amounts of power also will be available to operate new electrical equipment that soon will be commonplace in many stores and homes.

"Additions and improvements will be made throughout the Company's power system," Mr. Thomas said. "One project in the two-year construction budget is the installation of a 40,000 kilowatt turbine and generator at the Company's power plant at Handley, order for which was placed last year. This unit, one of the largest in use by any public utility in Texas, will be in operation by the middle of 1947, and will greatly increase the power supply available to West Texas towns supplied with power from the Company's transmission line system. Along with the expansion of the Handley plant will be the construction of 50 miles of 60,000 volt power line which will complete an industrial loop around Fort Worth, greatly enlarging the area in which large industries may receive power direct from high voltage lines."

Other projects include a 66,000 volt power line to serve Andrews and the Fullerton Oil Field. This line will connect with the Company's high voltage transmission system at Odessa and also will supply power to the North Cowden Oil Field. Power service for Andrews and Fullerton Oil Field is now supplied from diesel engine power plants until this new power line can be completed.

A 66,000 volt power line is planned from Wink north into the Keystone Oil Field to supply power to oil companies and others in that area.

Approximately 80 miles of 12,500 volt power line will be built to extend service in oil fields of West Texas. Much of the line will be built in Ector, Winkler and Andrews counties. "More than 350 miles of rural power line were constructed in 1945," Mr. Thomas said, "and more will be constructed as a part of the two-year construction program. Many of these lines will be extensions of present rural lines, to reach additional farm and ranch homes, and other lines will be built into new areas to extend the benefits of electric service as widely as possible.

"Extensions to the Texas Electric Service Company's power transmission system will be made to provide ample channels for marketing the incidental power output of governmentally financed dams, wherever suitable and contractual arrangements can be made, and any savings therefrom will be passed on to the public by the Company.

"One of the interesting developments planned for the coming year and years immediately following is the application of the new mercury vapor street lighting equipment for arterial highway lighting. The new light source has revolutionized lighting possibilities on heavily traveled highways in the near cities. The Company plans substantial extensions of this type of lighting and the replacement of older equipment where used for this purpose.

"This two-year program to extend and improve electric service is a part of a long-time program of the Company planned a number of years before the war. It was such a policy of making substantial investments to build ahead that enabled this Company and other utilities in the States and in the nation to serve the tremendous war loads when they came on, making stint, delay, rationing, or any increase

More Pay Less Work - United Gas Employees

Higher base pay schedules and a shorter work week will become effective March 1 for most of the employees in the Wichita Falls district of United Gas Pipe Line Company, it was announced today by Walter W. Clopton of Wichita Falls, district manager. The base pay schedule will be increased by approximately 18 percent to all employees on an overtime basis, Mr. Clopton said, the exact amounts varying according to classification of employees. At the same time, the pre-war 40 hour work week will replace the present 44 hours for office workers and 48 hours for field employees.

The United companies have adhered to their unique policy of providing jobs for all former employees who had served in the armed forces, even though many of them were only temporary employees at the time they entered the service, and some were merely replacements for others who had previously gone into uniform.

Several returning veterans have expressed a desire to complete their education. For the 20 men making this request thus far, United has granted extended leaves of absence so that they may take advantage of the educational benefits contained in the GI Bill of Rites, and then return to the companies after they finish school.

Perhaps he was just out of high school. Or maybe he never had the chance to learn a profitable trade, being occupied as he was with less promising work.

But while in the service he went through Radio Mechanics School. It might have been Photography, Welding, Airplane Mechanics, or any of the other 200 trades and skills to be acquired in the U. S. Regular Army.

dwelt elsewhere and recently that's just what happened. An individual, signing himself as Rattlesnake Robert, went to bat for New Mexico in the New York Herald-Tribune. Actually, he is the noted poet and short story writer, S. Omar Barker; and the Herald-Tribune and Mr. Barker have given permission to quote his kidding articles:

"Despite a profound reverence for the self-confessed colossality of Texas, I feel that the Lone Star's tall shadow should not be permitted unduly to adumbrate the modest merits of her nearby neighbor to the west.

"I refer to New Mexico, forty-seventh star in the flag, not to be confused (though generally is) with Mexico—the good neighbor republic which supplies, via the southwest wind, 50 per cent of the Grade A sand in every Texan's craw, New Mexico, of course supplies the rest. Actually, Texas is no bigger than New Mexico. It only appears to be bigger because it is spread so much thinner. The mean average thickness of New Mexico from sunshine to sea level is 5,600 feet. The higher you go into the mountains, the meaner it gets. Straight down from the snow capped crest of Truchsa Peaks, New Mexico is 13,206 feet thick, and a little left over. Mashed down and rolled out to the same thinness as Texas, New Mexico would reach all the way from Yalta to the Atlantic Charter with enough lap-over to flap in the Texas wind. On the other hand at the thickest pint in Texas, an average New Mexico screw-billed angleworm could bore through to the bottom in one wiggle.

New Mexico is the Sunshine State because its scenic beauty is so entrancing that even Old Sol cannot let a day pass without taking a good look at it.

"Compared to New Mexico, Texas is a newcomer. A million years before Tex Columbus fourteen-ninety-twoed America, an early settler known as the Folsom Man was practicing point rationing in New Mexico. He used arrow heads for red points. No points, no buffalo meat.

"Fourteen years before the First Texas cowboy scuffed a high-heeled boot on Plymouth Rock, a Mr. Coronado, of Spain, was eating corn off the cob in New Mexico and mailing home pictograph post-cards of five storied Pueblo tourist courts marked 'X-My-Room-X. Come on over, the climb is fine!

"Speaking of Climate, New Mexico is where all Texans who have the tires come every summer to cool off and brag about the Texas climate.

"New Mexico has plains so flat that the State Highway Department has to put up signs to show the water which way to run when it rains; yet its mountains are so steep that the bears which inhabit them have all developed corkscrew tails so they can sit down once in a while without sliding off into Texas.

"There is no place in New Mexico from which on a sunny day (which means every day here) you cannot see a mountain, smell a pine tree, or hear a Texan. Snow falls so deep in New Mexico's mountains that it takes 40,000 automobile loads of Texas hot air each summer to melt it.

"On that fabulous river, the Rio Grande, New Mexico and Texas split honors fifty-fifty; New Mexico furnishes the water and Texas furnishes the sand for it to sink away in.

"New Mexico is a game country, too. If all the deer horns in the state were clustered together into one giant hatrack, it would make a good place for Texans to hang their hats on when not talking through them. Combine all the mountain lions tails in New Mexico into one and you could brush all the heel flies out of Texas in one swish.

"Speaking of oil, all you have to do in southeastern New Mexico to start a filling station is to stick a garden hose down a gopher hole.

New Mexico raises every mentionable crop, including cotton, cattle, beans, buckaroos, wheat, sheep, chili con carne and the hopes of Texans who hanker for some place to go trout fishing.

"There are more writers, artists, jack rabbits and political aspirations to the square inch in New Mexico than there are bureaus in Washington.

"And the sun shines 365 days of the year, and twice on Sundays."

So says Mr. Barker of New Mexico.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22nd.

—Two committees on which I serve have been extremely busy this week. The House Committee on Immigration started hearings on my bill, H. R. 3563, to restrict immigration. National representatives of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars appeared before the committee and testified in favor of the bill. The bill was specifically endorsed by the National Convention of the Legion.

The House Committee on Expenditure in Executive Departments has been busy investigating the question of surplus property disposal. A letter I have just received from a soldier begins this way, "Your statement of surplus autos by the acre and mile as made yesterday certainly hit the nail on the head. I have recently returned from the Philippines. At Batangas on Luzon jeeps in their packing cases were piled five high and these piles extended as far as the eye could see. In addition there were thousands upon thousands of brand new three-quarter ton trucks, two and a half ton trucks as well as countless field ambulances." The letter goes on to describe how badly this equipment is needed at home.

As a result of committee pressure both Army and Navy this week sent directives to all field commanders to immediately load and return to this country for disposal all equipment not actually in use or to be immediately used in military operations.

The House also passed this week a bill to clip the wings of James Caesar Pettillo, the head of the American Federation of Musicians. Pettillo has become so dominant over American musicians that Army and Navy and Marine bands, even high school bands, have been refused permission to play for concerts or to broadcast without paying tribute to the Pettillo union. This bill should become law shortly, and eliminate this absurdity.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.

—I have just returned from a little surprise birthday party given by Congressman J. J. Mansfield of Texas, affectionately called "Judge" Mansfield. The Judge has represented the 9th District of Texas in the Congress for 15 consecutive terms, or 30 years.

In the House Committee on Immigration this week I made a motion to take up by bill, H. R. 3563, to restrict immigration. The motion carried by a vote of 9 to 7. Hearings will start within two weeks. The bill will deny admission to this country to all persons who bore arms against us during World War II, and members of the Fascist and Nazi parties, the Gestapo, Storm Troopers, and auxiliary organizations and will reduce immigration by 50 per cent for a period of ten years.

Persons returning from inspection trips in the Pacific war theatres unanimously agree that Manila, once one of the most beautiful cities in the Orient, is the most devastated of any war-torn city. The Japs did a good job of sabotage and destruction before leaving Manila. Buildings constructed of mortar and steel were dynamited and the job of clearing these sites for new construction is a tremendous one.

Much interest and discussion is going on in Washington concerning atomic bomb experiments soon to be conducted on some 90 naval vessels in the far Pacific. Bombs will be exploded in the air above this fleet, then on the surface, and bombs will be set off a mile under water. Some scientists greatly fear these deep sea experiments, saying there is a possibility of setting off some sort of chain disintegration of atoms which might be catastrophic.

Non-Commissioned Officers May Enlist With Present Rank

Under a new War Department policy, former non-commissioned officers may now reenlist and retain their rank in the Regular Army at any time within three months after release from active duty, Capt. David Hickman, the Wichita Falls Army Recruiting Officer, announced today.

The previous policy, now rescinded, required former Army noncoms to reenlist within 20 days after discharge and before January 31. Now discharges are permitted 90 days in which to decide upon return to active duty without loss of rank.

This offer, however, expires next June 30.

The new 90-day policy also applies to the automatic promotion of former Army privates to the grade of private first class, if such applicants for reenlistment have previously served six months of active duty.

Former officers, warrant officers, and flight officers are also given three months in which to decide upon enlistment in the grade of master sergeant. The last day of terminal leave is considered the date of release from active service, it was explained.

After June 30 the Army will again revert to the 20-day deadline for reenlistment with retention of previously-held rank, the announcement said.
