FOOT BALL QUEEN'S RACE

Sophomore
JIMMIE SUE LANE

Freshman
BETTY LOU POOLE

Junior
MARY EVELYN SITES

Senior
PATSY BEAVER

Ensuing interest during the past three weeks in the Burk Burnett High School has spotlighted the campaign for Football Queen of 1946-47. This activity has been omitted from the school calendar as of the preceding four years, the last football queen having been nominated and elected for the year of 1941-42. The fact that Burk Burnett has not produced a competitive football team accounts for the omitting of this campaign. Miss Peggy Kemp, graduate of the class of '42 was the last person to hold the position.

The first of November three girls from each of the respective classes were nominated by the football squad under the supervision of Coaches Short and Stevenson.

Tabulation of results of the nomination were: Freshman, Bess Turner, Joan Sites, and Betty Poole; Sophomore, La Clea Jennings, Wanda Hicks, and Jimmie Sue Lane; Juniors, Vivien Suttles, Bobbie Lynn McCullough, and Mary Evelyn Sites; Seniors, Dolores Redman, Anice Taylor, and Patsy Beavers. Then as a result of class elimination election the actual nominees are: Poole, Lane, M. E. Sites, and Beavers.

Voting thus far, of course, has not reached the peak as the finals will be on the twenty-fifth of November.

At the present, however, Sophomore Sue Lane is in the lead with 5,812 votes with Freshman Betty Poole following closely with 5,069. Junior Mary Sites is third in rank with 2,820 and Senior Patsy Beavers trailing at the moment with only 1,307. The election will not end until the twenty-fifth; so there is still plenty of time for any of the classes to take and maintain the lead. Votes are placed at one cent each—the final funds obtained from the voting will go into the athletic account and be used as such during the coming year.

Climaxing the election will be the crowning of the winner at the Thanksgiving Football Game here on Thursday night, November twenty-eighth. She is to be presented with her attendants at the game by the captain of the football team.

Veterans May Lose Subsistence Pay If Fail To Report

Only one-half of the 32,895 non-disabled veterans in North Texas receiving subsistence for job training or attending school had filed a report of their quarterly earnings on the November 5 deadline, the VA announced today. Disabled veterans in Rehabilitation Training do not have to make this accounting.

Unless these non-disabled veterans in training make the required statements on printed forms which have been sent to them with monthly checks since Sept. 1, they will be cut off the subsistence rolls, the VA Regional Office in Dallas said.

Mrs. Tom Harms Hostess To Wesley Bible Class

The Wesley Bible class met in the home of Mrs. Tom Harms November 7 for their party. After a short business session in which the Christmas party was planned, Mrs. O. V. Thompson gave the Devotional, and Mrs. J. N. Hicks gave a Thanksgiving story that was enjoyed by all.

Lovely refreshments of coffee and cake were served to: Mesdames T. H. Minga, Bert Lepley, Blake Browning, Paul Browning, B. W. Fink, Jim Pirtle, Marshal Young, B. N. Cauthorn, W. S. Duval, J. N. Hicks, O. V. Thompson, J. L. Caffee, F. L. Pilkerton, B. Danforth, A. R. Bunstine, D. C. Dodson, H. W. Prinzing, T. C. Wright and Mrs. Harms.

B. H. Alexander, who has been confined to his bed for the past six weeks with a heart attack, was able to be up town for a short while last week end. Doctors tell Mr. Alexander he will have to take things easy for many more weeks.

Fire Damaged Paul Browning Home Sunday

Last Sunday morning firemen were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browning on Magnolia, where they fought a stubborn fire of undetermined origin, finally bringing it under control after the fire had raced through most of the interior of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning were at Sunday School when the alarm sounded. Neighbors noticed smoke pouring from all windows and doors and called the fire department.

So far as can be determined, the fire probably started in a closet from defective wiring. All stoves were turned off when Mr. and Mrs. Browning left the house, and the area around the stoves was not damaged as severely as other portions.

Fire, smoke and water damage ruined practically everything in the house, including all the clothing. For some time firemen were unable to determine the seat of the fire, but when that discovery was made the blaze was quickly put out. The outside of the house and roof can be repaired, possibly some of the floors may be saved.

T. E. L. Class Has Monthly Social

The Devotional was given by Mrs. L. A. Hodges. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be Friday, December 13, and names were exchanged for gifts.

The class sent a gift to one of its members who is ill.

Lovely refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Gilger, L. A. Hodges, R. H. Hill, G. T. Roberts, Floyd Parker, J. T. Miller, C. Peed and a visitor, Mrs. Ola Adams of Brownwood, Texas.

Bulldogs Lose Close Game With Crowell By Score 14 to 7

Burkburnett's young Bulldogs held the powerful Crowell team scoreless for almost three quarters here last Friday night in a thrill-packed game.

Late in the third quarter Crowell took the ball on their own 38 yard line in marched down the field to the Burk 5 with 4 successive first downs. From that point, Joy, Crowell fast quarter back, went through center for a touchdown and repeated for the extra point.

After the fourth quarter got under way, Burk Burnett took over on their own 45 and worked the ball to the Crowell 8. Potts, quarter-back, went over standing up for 6 points, and Gibson kicked the extra point, tying the score 7-7.

It look as though the game would end 7-7 until the last two and one-half minutes of play when Burk fumbled on their own 48 and lost the ball. Crowell marched for another touchdown, Joy carrying the ball and also making the try for extra point.

Six play later the game ended, 14-7 in favor of Crowell.

This Friday night the Bulldogs go to Nocona.

J. L. Story, Navy, flew here from Siapan to be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. J. R. Story, who is very ill.

Frazer Features Safety, Comfort And Roadability

ON DISPLAY HERE FRIDAY

The new Frazer automobile embodies 1947 styling and engineering features designed to provide utmost passenger safety as well as comfort and roadability.

Now on public display here for the first time, the Frazer is powered by a 100 horsepower, six-cylinder Continental engine developed by Continental and Graham-Paige Motors engineers. Of L-head design, the high-compression engine has aluminum alloy pistons with a displacement of 226 cubic inches, and a bore and stroke of 3 5/16 and 4 3/8 inches, respectively. The compression ratio is 7.3:1.

An overdrive, providing a smoother, quieter ride with greater fuel economy will be available as optional equipment on the Frazer. Other mechanical features of the new automobile include a forged counter-weighted crankshaft with four main bearings, rubber engine mountings and automatic choke. The S. A. E. horsepower is 26.3.

Mechanically conventional, the Frazer nevertheless embodies extensive improvements on the features which have made the American automobile the best in the world.

Among its safety features are wide, five-inch wheel rims which provide greater steering safety and stability on turns at high speeds. Increased visibility is provided by the two-piece 765 square inch windshield, which is approximately 100 square inches larger than the windshield areas of competitive models. The pillar posts have been moved back, increasing the angle of the windshield and providing greater side vision for the driver.

In addition to the fundamental safety features of the all-steel body with safety glass throughout, rigid box frame, and large self-centering hydraulic brakes, the Frazer has entirely new-type door handles which operate by gentle pressure on a trigger concealed in the inside curve of each handle. The door handles are designed so that there are no open ends to catch clothing.

Other interior appointments include a smartly designed instrument panel and attractive two-tone upholstery. Seat cushions are of air-foam rubber.

Providing unexcelled riding comfort and enabling the driver to maintain more perfect control at high speeds, longer-stroked shock absorbers have been incorporated into the chassis design. The front wheel independent suspension is effected thru helical-type springs, while the semi-elliptic rear springs are rubber mounted with rubber inserts between the leaves.

Also providing for passenger comfort, the rear seat of the new automobile is located ahead of the rear axle, so that the passengers are seated in the best riding positions. The advanced location of the rear seat also provides greater storage space in the rear luggage compartment and makes possible unprecedented seating width.

Both front and rear seat cushions in the Frazer are 62 inches wide, with the door to door with 64 inches.

With a 123 1/2 inch wheelbase, the Frazer has an overall length of 203 inches, a loaded height of 64 1/2 inches and is 72 7/8 inches wide at the widest point. The front and rear treads are 58 and 60 inches, respectively, and the tire size, 15x650.

Test models of the Frazer have been on road laboratory breakdowns 24 hours a day for several months. Special tests include an extended trial run in the Great Smoky Mountains in Tennessee and North Carolina where hill climbing, braking, acceleration and other performance factors were checked under extreme rugged driving conditions.

Misses Thelma Dunaway and Natalie Gorin, former Burk Burnett teachers, now of Hardin College and Wichita Falls High School, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Blum Sunday.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY THE YEAR

In Wichita and Cotton Counties, $1.50 — Outside These, $2.00

UP TO YOU

If the consumer resists, refuses to buy goods at high prices, the price line will get under control, the invasion on the public's pocketbook will cease. In places where beef was quoted at $1 to $1.25 a pound, it put the meat before those willing to pay this high price but found other shoppers who refused this inflated cost and were going to do something about it. Protesting, yet buying won't dent the economic pressure. But, a united front against high prices by means of a buyer's strike, will get a response. In some places, butchers, not wanting to get caught with high priced meat stocks in a falling market, have not met the increase from the wholesale house. Only in such co-operation will we get relief from these costs.

THIS IS A RELIEF

Such furbelows as delight women, as trimmings and frills on their ensembles, again become legal. Lifting the wartime ban on skirt fullness and length, pockets and ruffles, finds a welcome response from Burk Burnett ladies. There will still be the market for slacks, overalls and blue jeans that made that style so popular during defense industry, but most women are happy to return to a frivolous display. As a result of the order, women won't have to haul and pull skirts every time they sit down, which a war ban on so many items, this recent edict concerning women's apparel makes glad the feminine heart that hankers after fuss and feathers.

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bate's uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold pheasant and champagne...?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk—that's worth a fortune, after all!

Sr. Study Club Entertains At Town Hall

The Senior University Study Club were hostesses to a number of guests at the Town Hall Thursday, November 7. The hall for the occasion was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. Especially effective was the lovely chrysanthemum arrangement as a center piece on the lace covered tea table, where a refreshment course was served. Presiding at the silver tea service were Mrs. O. R. Wood and Mrs. A. R. Bunstine, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Rigby and Mrs. I. D. Russell.

Out of town guests were introduced by Mrs. S. S. Reger. Miss Norma Lincoln entertained with a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Vivian Suttles. Mrs. W. W. Knaust kept the audience spellbound for almost forty minutes with a miscellaneous collection of poems, one of which was her own original, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." Mrs. Knaust was accompanied by Mrs. Stewart Cole at the piano. Both ladies were from Wichita Falls. Mrs. Maxine Inlow played two lovely piano solos.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
British to Adopt U.S. Arms; U.S. Agrees to Disarmament; Scotch World Food Proposal

Released by Western Newspaper Union

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Pickets at Allis-Chalmers plant at Milwaukee, Wis., tip over workers' car as deputy sheriffs attempt to check act. (See LABOR.)

BRITISH ARMS: Adopt U. S. Pattern

Close U. S. and British relations, first fostered toward the turn of the last century with the recognition of British naval strength in the Atlantic as a defensive bulwark, have been knitted even more firmly with Britain's decision to adopt American patterns for land, air and naval weapons.

Back of the move was the growing political unanimity of the two countries, already intimately bound by close racial, social and economic ties. Together they stand for a way of life spread over the width of the globe by British enterprise and now supported by U. S. diplomatic and military might.

Practically, standardization of U. S. and British weapons will permit the British to purchase arms in this country in case of a future emergency without the need for redesigning American productive facilities. At the same time, it will allow for the manufacture of American type weapons in such British outposts as Australia and New Zealand, where the U. S. will have ready sources of supply for Pacific operations.

Ten years may be required to complete the conversion of British arms to American standards, with rifles, cartridges, mortars, artillery and naval guns undergoing change.

U. S.: In Accord

Warren R. Austin

The U. S. and Russia came off all even in their first swap at the United Nations assembly in New York. If anything, the U. S. got the better of the exchange as Delegate Warren R. Austin of Vermont conducted himself with a gentlemanly reserve that contrasted with Foreign Minister Molotov's vitriol.

Molotov was the first to speak, calling for international disarmament, a report on the number of allied troops in non-enemy states, retention of the veto power of the Big Five in the security council. He bitterly attacked U. S. and British imperialists, headed by Winston Churchill, for seeking world domination.

Ignoring Molotov's political charges, Austin entered into a discussion of the proposals raised by the Russian.

If the Russians wanted international disarmament, the U. S. would gladly oblige, provided an adequate system of inspection and other safeguards would be established to guarantee fulfillment of the program. After the last war, Austin recalled, the U. S. accepted the principle of disarmament but remained alone in carrying it out.

If the Russians desired a report on the number of Allied troops in non-enemy states, the U. S. suggested that the check be extended to former enemy countries as well. Such an all conclusive report would provide the world with an adequate estimate of Russian troop strength behind the iron curtain, said by Churchill to total 200 divisions.

If the Russians opposed a modification of the veto power at this time, the U. S. also was against revision of the U. N. charter. However, the U. S. hoped that the Big Five could get together in the future to modify the veto in the case of peaceful settlement of disputes, although retaining it on the question of applying force.

This Boy's No Pansy

In a city of quaint characters, Jimmy Galvin, 13, of Washington, D. C., more than holds his own.

A rugged, two-fisted little man, Jimmy refuses to have his hair cut despite playmates' teasing over his beautiful golden tresses. When their ribbing becomes too annoying, Jimmy slaps them down. Noissy, Jimmy likes football and baseball.

FAO: U. S. Backs Down

Having heartily endorsed a plan of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization at Copenhagen, Denmark, for distribution of food to needy countries at bargain prices, the U. S. repudiated its position as an FAO commission met in Washington, D. C., to work out details of the project.

Under the plan, FAO would have purchased food from surplus producing countries out of a revolving fund contributed by member nations. When the world price for food would have gone above a predetermined level, then FAO would have sold its reserves to needy buyers at the lower figure.

In rejecting the plan, Undersecretary of Agriculture Norris E. Dodd expressed doubt that FAC could achieve its objective under present conditions. Instead, Dodd suggested that the problem of future farm surpluses and marketings could best be solved through a system of international commodity arrangements.

LABOR: Militant

Police were hard put to maintain order at the Allis-Chalmers tractor plant at Milwaukee, Wis., as striking pickets of the CIO-United Auto mobile Workers bucked a back to work movement of over 3,000 employees. As violence mounted, the number of returning workers was cut in half.

As militant pickets turned over cars attempting to enter the plant, clashed with returning workers and hurled stones at company windows, county and suburban police were compelled to appeal to Milwaukee authorities for reinforcements. Over 200 of Milwaukee's finest were sent to the plant, but even so the enlarged police detail encountered difficulty holding the strikers in check.

Allis-Chalmers remained adamant against granting UAW a closed shop as the strike entered its seventh month. While agreeing to check off union dues with workers' permission, the company stood out against compromise on compelling employees to join the UAW.

WORLD TRADE: Hit British Pact

The U. S. state and treasury departments joined in objecting to the recently concluded British-Argentine trade pact, with American officials feeling that provisions of the treaty violated promises Britain made in obtaining a 3.75 billion dollar loan from this country.

State department objections centered around Britain's agreement to purchase 83 per cent of Argentine beef the first year and 78 per cent annually thereafter. Officials declared that such provisions as incorporated in trade pacts with Canada, New Zealand and Australia as well as Argentina tended to restrict world trade as advocated by the U. S.

The treasury protested against the clause restricting Argentina's use of blocked sterling balances in world trade. Blocked sterling balances represent the credits owing Argentina for goods and services provided Britain during the war. Britain agreed to release some of Argentina's sterling balances for use in world trade only if she buys more from the United Kingdom and associated countries than she sells them.

SHOES: Decontrolled

Following upon the decontrol of meat and livestock and rising cattle prices, Reconversion Director Steelman ordered the removal of ceilings on shoes, hides, skins and leathers in the interests of higher production.

The government's action reversed the position previously taken at the time of decontrol of meat and livestock that shoes and their component materials would remain under regulation because of their scarcity and importance in the cost of living. As a result of their decontrol, OPA said that shoe prices could be expected to rise 20 and 30 per cent. Under OPA, the annual shoe bill amounted to 2 billion dollars.

The decontrol order covered all types of domestic and imported skins and hides and processed leather, including calf and cattle, kid, goat and sheepskins, and all types of men's, women's and children's shoes, including dress and sportswear, play shoes and slippers.

FARM MACHINERY: Huge Demand

Despite heavy production, farm machinery manufacturers will not be able to meet the big demand for equipment for at least another year, according to officials of the National Retail Farm Equipment association meeting in Chicago.

With demand high, dealers have been able to meet only 40 per cent of their orders and manufacturers have not promised great improvement in 1947, it was said. Farmers' increased interest in equipment was said to stem from wartime emphasis on more efficient operations and large accumulation of funds.

Indicative of the trend toward mechanization, farmers were reported to be seeking four-row, tractor-drawn corn planters, to replace the old two-row horse jobs; combines for binders in harvesting small grains; tractor-drawn corn pickers, and new types of haying equipment which reduce crews up to 50 per cent.

Extract Sewing Bobbin

With one yard of black thread hanging from his mouth, 1-year-old Kenneth Howell was rushed to Hollywood receiving hospital by his mother, who anxiously informed doctors that he had swallowed a needle. Placing the youngster on the operating table, the medics gently removed the thread. Instead of finding a needle, however, they extracted a sewing machine bobbin. Kenneth's mother is at left, Nurse Rebecca Lund at right.

COTTON: King Tumbles

Southern legislators called for decontrol of finished textiles and government purchases of the crop to stabilize the sagging cotton market. Within two weeks of spiraling sell, the commodity had dropped $54 a bale and sunk below 30 cents a pound from a peak of nearly 40 cents.

Senator Maybank (Dem., S. C.) and Representative Sparkman (Dem., Ala.) joined Senator George (Dem., Ga.) in calling for decontrol of finished textiles. At a time when the new crop was coping in mills were forced to limit purchases to 120 days ahead to protect themselves in the fluctuating market and stay within their ceilings, George said.

As the South reverberated with charges that widespread speculation by farmers, merchants, doctors, etc., had brought about the crash, Rep. Rankin (Dem., Miss.) called for legislation to curb future operations on the exchanges. Meanwhile, officials of the New York market denied that the big break was caused by the liquidation of "long" interests, contradicting earlier reports that the slump had started with the clean-out of the account of Thomas Jordan, who had parlayed a $300 loan into a million in cotton.

However, arrangements were made for the sale of Jordan's seat on the New York stock exchange for $64,000.

DRIVERS' SCHOOL:

Mobile schools for drivers, contained in scientifically equipped safety-buses, now are being used to reduce traffic accidents in Kansas, Indiana and Iowa, according to American Public Works association.

Kansas is the state most recently to adopt a drivers' school-on-wheels program, operating a bus that stops at county and state fairs, schools and major football games. The bus is equipped with two-way radio, public address system, sound movie projector and safety films.

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for November 17

PAUL MINISTERS TO THE THESSALONIANS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:1-7; 1 Thessalonians 1:2-8. MEMORY SELECTION—Be not weary in well-doing.—II Thessalonians 3:13.

A great city, commercially active, religious to a high degree, a military center and a harbor so fine that it is important to this day—such was the city of Thessalonica. It presented a challenge to the preachers of the gospel and, in the name of Christ, Paul accepted and won a great victory.

In the face of persecution, bitter and persistent, the believers in this city remained faithful. The reason for that appears in our lesson. Rooted and grounded in Christ, they had brought forth the fruit of real Christian living under circumstances which were difficult and trying. Our lesson tells of both the preaching of the gospel by Paul and the living of the gospel by the Thessalonians.

I. The Gospel Preached—Accepted and Rejected (Acts 17:1-7).

Paul began his long and successful ministry in Thessalonica in the synagogue. It was to the Jews who worshiped the one true God that he came with his message about their expected Messiah—Christ the Lord. Here he established a strong church.

What was the message which so signally succeeded in this great strategic center? Well, it was not (as some modern preachers in large cities seem to think necessary) a series of social, political, or literary discourses. Paul preached Christ. He reasoned with them and presented the Saviour (v. 3) as One who was

1. Dead for our sin. These people were like us in that they needed a solution for their sin problem.

Without the death of Christ there is no salvation for any man. Only through the shedding of blood can there be remission of sin (Heb. 9:22). Paul had no part in the folly of a "bloodless gospel"—as though there were any such gospel.

2. Raised for our justification. It was not enough that Jesus died, marvelous as that is in our sight. For many a man has died for his convictions, but none has risen from the dead. Christ could not be holden of the grave. He arose the victorious Redeemer.

3. Declared to be the Christ. He is more than a man, more than a great leader and an earnest teacher. He is God's anointed One, himself divine—and our Lord.

Some believed (v. 4), including many devout Greeks, and not a few of the leading women. The gospel does have life-giving power as the Holy Spirit applies it to the hearts of willing men and women.

Others opposed (vv. 5, 6). Note that they were "of the baser sort." They always are, even when they appear to be cultivated and educated, for there is something fundamentally wrong in a life which rejects Christ.

It was a serious charge they made against the Christians (v. 7), for it was treason punishable by death to have any other king but Caesar if one lived in a Roman colony.

But the thing which they hated worst in these Christians was the fact that their topsy-turvy world was in danger of being set right (they put it the opposite way, v. 6), and they did not want to be made right. It is interesting to note that these early preachers had divine power to turn over the social order. Would that we showed more of that power in the church today!

Accepting the truth is good, but it must go on in daily living. The Thessalonians knew that and they are models of

II. The Gospel Lived—Followers and Examples (I Thess. 1:2-8).

Paul, the missionary, was a courteous preacher. He recognized the faithfulness of Christian brethren and did not hesitate to commend them. We could do more of that when we meet true and faithful believers.

They were followers of Paul, but only because he followed Christ (v. 6). His power was from above (v. 5), even as they also were chosen from above (v. 4).

Following Christ meant affliction to them (v. 6), but it also meant the joy of the Holy Spirit, which is entirely independent of the circumstances of life—and above them.

These Thessalonian believers were examples of what it meant to be Christians. Wherever Paul went their faith toward God was recognized and he did not need to explain or argue for his gospel. People knew the Thessalonian Christians, and thus they knew real Christianity.

There could be no finer witness to the faith of anyone than to be able to bear testimony that it is an example—a model—to which others may look and not go astray. Do we dare to measure our Christian lives by such a standard?

Household Hints

White woolen toys which are not too soiled can be freshened by cleaning them with a paste made of white starch and a little cold water. Rub in and let dry thoroughly, then brush off.

Don't let a few pieces bear the brunt. Rotate the use of your sterling silver to distribute wear.

New clotheslines are clumsy to put up. To make them more soft and durable, try first boiling the line for a few minutes in soapy water.

To hold a stained spot tight while trying to remove it from a cloth, use embroidery hoops.

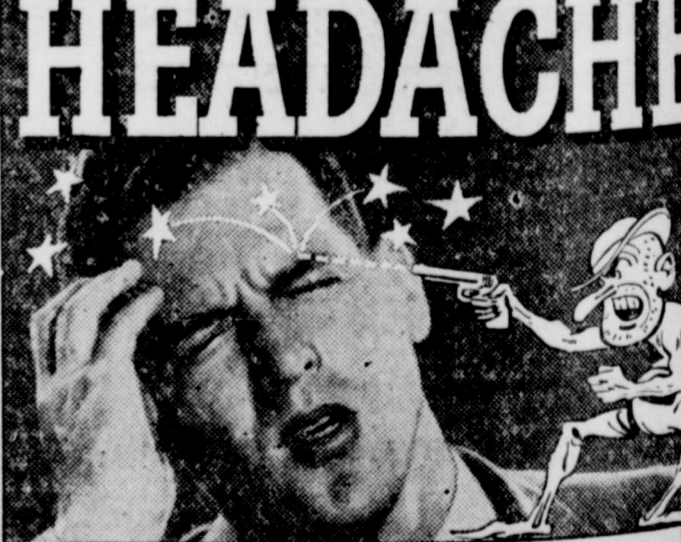

Place linens on the shelf with the big fold to the front so that at a glance you can see the number of pieces of linen on the shelf.

A crack between the edge of the bathtub and wall can be mended with a wide strip of adhesive tape. Paint the mended spot the same color as the wall. This is not a permanent method.

It's easy to keep your dresser from becoming stained and spotted from perfume and toilet water bottles. Place a piece of wax paper under your dresser scarfs for sure protection.

Wash rag rugs in rich suds and warm water. Rinse carefully, and dip into a light starch solution. Press out the water by hand or put them through a loose wringer. To dry, lay the rugs flat on a paper. The starch will give them more body and cause them to lie flat.

Age To U. S. Boxes

Henry F. Schumaker, Stoughton, Wis., issued a statement regarding the penalties for late delivery of mail boxes and receptacles of U. S. Mail.

the year, and particularly following the Hallow'e'en celebration, complaints are received at post offices throughout the nation of damage to rural and other mail boxes and receptacles for deposit of U. S. Mail.

Almost invariably, he continued, investigation proves such damage or theft was a prank of some individual or group of school age, or slightly older, usually performed as fun, rather than with malicious intent.

It is our opinion that adequate information with regard to the gravity of such depredation and the punishment prescribed for same, would prevent its occurrence.

Mr. Lohofener quotes from Postal Laws and Regulations as follows:

Cases of depredation on or interference with United States collection boxes or their contents or with rural mail boxes or their contents, shall be reported promptly by the postmaster of the distributing office to the post office inspector in charge of the division where such depredations occur.

Punishment for such depredations provide up to three years in a penal institution, or a fine of $1,000 or both.

Martha Gayle Parr of T. S. C. W. spent the week-end at home.

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON, President—Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas

Decisions

Men and nations gain or lose by the quality of decisions they make. Founders of this remarkable republic made a wise decision long ago, in favor of personal self-reliance and individual government.

Not all Americans are models of progress and success but they all have benefited more or less from the achievements of those who did have the immortal spark. You can't pick successful men before they try, but more men of outstanding talent are sure to come to light where everyone is allowed to do his best.

Not Luck at All. People may orate about America's greatness coming from her vast natural resources.

America's economic system is what made America great. It is a system of liberty giving every man the right to pick what he wants and go after it hammer-and-tongs.

What Developed? Limitless opportunity and keen competition have borne a rich harvest. Our farmers live better than the people of some foreign lands.

Chick Chats

Worms Curtail Yield, Growth

Of the many types of worms known to the poultry parasites, there are but few that are numerically important enough to cause serious trouble. But these few species are found everywhere poultry is raised.

Large Roundworms Common

One of the commonest is the large roundworm. This is the worm with which most poultrymen are familiar. It is large—1 1/2 to 4 inches in length—and causes heavy damage when great numbers of them infect a flock. They are prolific breeders, female worms passing several thousand eggs daily. Under favorable conditions a small worm develops in an egg in about two weeks and when such an egg is eaten by a chicken an adult worm develops after another five to seven weeks. This worm then hatches more eggs which the chicken passes back to the soil through the droppings. Large roundworms in their development in chicken cause considerable damage to the intestinal wall. This damage frequently causes birds to become emaciated and stunts their growth. If the infection is severe enough the chick will die.

The cecal or pinworm is a tiny worm between one-fourth and one-half inch in length that lives in the tips or blind ends of the ceca of chickens and turkeys. While it is not especially harmful to chickens, the cecal worm or its egg acts as the carrier of blackhead organisms infecting turkeys and is often responsible for severe losses in turkey flocks. Its life cycle is similar to that of the large roundworm.

The intestinal capillary worm is a long threadlike worm that may cause chickens to become droopy and emaciated to develop diarrhea, and if the infection is heavy enough, to cause death losses.

The several types of tapeworms are flattened, ribbon-shaped, segmented worms that are found in the intestines of poultry. They vary considerably in size, carry both sexes in each segment and do not have either a mouth or intestinal tract. Flies, ants, grasshoppers and bugs serve as the intermediate host for tapeworm eggs, and when one of these insects is eaten by a chicken the tapeworm infection gains a foothold.

Calvary Baptist Church

Last Lord's Day marked the close of our first year of fellowship together. God has wonderfully blessed in the salvation of many souls. Truly we have seen manifested before our eyes the power of the Lord Jesus Christ to forgive on the earth.

We wish to express our gratitude for the beautiful floral gift and the bouquet commemorating our first anniversary with you.

As the flowers from a cursed earth picture the beauty and fragrance that will prevail when the curse shall have been lifted, may also the Holy Spirit dwelling in us sweeten our lives and give power to our testimony of Christ that all men may be prepared for the new heaven and the new earth.

—Pastor, A. C. Graham.

C. M. Archer attended the Shoe convention in Dallas Monday.

An Expression Of Appreciation

To the many people who helped at the risk of life, in moving the household goods out of our home during the fire last Sunday, may we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation.

Had it not been for the faithful members of the volunteer Fire Department, our home would have been reduced to ashes.

We do not feel that we are worthy of the sympathy and interest expressed and exemplified by so many on this unpleasant occasion.

—Paul and Adelaide Browning.

Mrs. C. M. Archer spent Armistice day in Frederick.

G. T. Roberts and family of Mineral Wells visited this weekend in Burk.
