Lions Annual Mop And Broom Sale, Today

The Lions annual mop and broom sale, headed by co-chairman Royce Wood and Charles Thornhill, will be held today, Thursday, May 11th.

Thirty-six items of merchandise, including mops, broom, pot holders, oven mitts, dust cloths, dish towels, ironing board covers, door mats and many other items, will be offered for sale. These items are made by the blind workers in blind shops, or Lighthouses in Texas, furnishing them employment on a non-profit basis.

Funds obtained from the sale will not only benefit the Texas Lighthouse for the blind, but also will help Haskell Lions to carry out local worthwhile community projects, mainly the "Goodfellows" project, which at Christmastime brings a bit of happiness into the homes of the less fortunate families.

Roaring Lions will be on the prowl today, so watch for them and buy a mop, broom or other much-needed household merchandise.

Okay Asked For Doubling Lake Size

The North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority has asked the Texas Water Rights Commission to amend a permit that was granted in 1961 for construction of a reservoir on Miller Creek.

The amendment would increase the size from 25,500 to 52,920 acre feet and would permit use of 5,800 acre feet a year instead of 5,000.

The dam, 10.5 miles south of Seymour in Baylor County, is intended to provide water needs of Haskell, Goree, Munday, Rule and Asperment into the 21st century.

Fresco, Nichols and Endress, engineers for the project, estimate total cost at $4,500,000. They propose a $1.5 million federal grant, a $1 million loan from the Texas Water Development Board, and revenue bonds.

Wanta' Shop, Swap And Visit, Come To Haskell On Trades Day, May 16th

Residents of this trade area should circle the date of Tuesday, May 16, on their calendar and on that day of days, saddle up, life band and gun or fix to Haskell for May 16 will not only be Trades Day but Crazy Daze and Trades Day.

Rural area residents are especially invited to bring to town farm implements, livestock, poultry, household items, or just about anything of value they would like to trade or sell.

Yes, May 16 will be kind of like the good old days... just like first Monday used to be when "Ma" and "Pa" would load up the kids and bring along a ewe or two of chickens, a sow, a cow, a mule or a pony to town to trade.

The Commissioners' Court has granted the use of the wide sidewalk around the courthouse square to be used by area residents to trade or sell their merchandise. Bring along tables, or stands to display your wares and a rope to tie your cow or horse, and setup shop on the sidewalk around the square.

In connection with "Crazy Daze", merchants will set up tables on the sidewalk in front of their places of business and will be wearing crazy dress or western wear (also Rodeo Week).

Not only will Haskell merchants be offering the biggest bargain of bargains ever offered... what it will give the rural area residents a chance to bring in to town farm equipment, livestock, poultry, household items, etc., to trade or sell.

So make plans now to be in Haskell, Tuesday, May 16.

Fire Sunday Night Destroys Old Farm House

The annual Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce Rice Springs Rodeo will get underway Thursday, May 18, and will continue through Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20. Performances will be held nightly at the Rice Springs Rodeo Arena, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Stock will be furnished by rodeo producer Adrian Parker, of Saint Jo, Texas. Mark Smith, well known rodeo clown from Little Rock, Ark., will be on hand at each of the three performances. Haskell's James Powell will be the rodeo announcer.

In this year's Jaycee Rodeo, events include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, junior barrel racing, senior barrel racing, saddle bronc riding, junior pole bending, old-timers roping, double mugging, bull riding, and a goat-sacking event for children under 12 years of age (one night only).

A parade through downtown Haskell will officially kick-off the rodeo. It will take place on May 18, beginning at 5:00 p. m. The Jaycees are holding a barbecue supper at the Corral Building, and serving will begin at 6:00.

A contest to select this year's rodeo queen is now underway. The winner will be selected by having sold the greatest number of tickets to the rodeo performances and the barbecue. Tickets are now on sale; rodeo tickets are priced at $1.50 for adults and $.75 for children and tickets for the barbecue are priced the same.

The Jaycees are sponsoring a beard-growing contest, and prizes will be awarded the winners. A fabulous grand entry will get the first night's performance underway, featuring numerous local riding clubs. First, second and third place trophies will be presented to the winners after the parade.

Approximately 120 guests were present to enjoy the delicious meal and lovely decorations.

Mike Guess, freshman, served as master of ceremonies for the gala event and Bobby Ther-wanger, high school teacher of social studies, gave the invocation.

Janice Moeller, high school junior, gave the welcome address.

The high school girls choral group presented musical numbers, "The Sound of Music," "My Favorite Things," and "Give Me A Place in the Sun." Members of this group are Janice Moeller, Kathy Hager, Susan Weise, Diana Davis and Debbie Campbell. They were accompanied by Mrs. Elton Klose at the piano.

All board members and their wives were given special recognition along with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Stavall of Stamford, former teacher of Mattson.

Grades one through four of Mattson Elementary, formed two squares and presented their audience with some fascinating square dancing.

Appreciation gifts were presented to all faculty members by their home-room students. These faculty members are Mr. Tom V. Alvis, superintendent and sponsor for the 7th and 8th grades; Mr. Ben Anderson, Senior sponsor; Mr. Bill Anders, principal and sponsor of the Junior Class; Mr. Bobby Ther-wanger, sponsor of the Freshman class, and Mr. Bill Guess, sponsor of the Sophomore class. Elementary teachers are Mrs. Ben Anderson, 5th and 6th; Mrs. Bobby Therwanger, 3rd and 4th, and Mrs. Norris Gibson 1st and 2nd teacher at Mattson for the past 12 years. Mrs. Elton Klose serves as Teacher-Aide and was presented a gift from the elementary grades and a corsage from the high school girls. Mrs. Joe Davis, Mrs. Janice Stewart and Mrs. Charlie Campbell were presented gifts of appreciation for their service in the lunchroom.

The Benediction was given by Mr. Tom V. Alvis, superintendent at Mattson.

Following the banquet, a prom was held in the school gymnasium, under colorful lights and decorations.

Music was provided by the group formerly known as "The Spedels," now named "Love So Divine." Members of the group are Ricky Hambleton, student at Mattson, Wilmer Sims of Abilene, and Mel Register and Bill Rollins, both of Stamford.

This was a climax to social events for Mattson High School. The banquet was in honor of all the students and their parents, faculty members and the board members and their wives. The banquet was considered excellent, a most successful and enjoyable evening for all. This was held due to the consolidation of Mattson, a last farewell to a school full of beautiful memories. "On the Plains of Haskell County, Neath the starry skies, Proudly stands our Mattson High School, As the years go by, ever onward is our motto, our faith will never die, Mattson first, last and always as the years go by" ... Mattson school song.

Mexico was the theme for this banquet since the Junior Class is going to Old Mexico on May 12 and our Senior Class is leaving for Mexico on May 17.

Texas' June Draft Calls For 975 Men

State draft boards will be called upon to furnish 975 men for the armed forces in June, Cpl. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

This compares with quotas of 885 for May, 675 for April, 761 for March, 674 for February and 1,110 for January.

The Selective Service boards will forward approximately 4,000 men in June for pre-induction examination, Cpl. Schwartz said, and they have scheduled 3,000 for this examination in May.

Local board quotas for induction and pre-induction examination in June are scheduled to be mailed from state Selective Service headquarters on or about May 10. May calls for the Social Security Q's and A's

Q. Someone has told me that I don't have to completely retire to receive social security checks. Is that correct?

A. Yes. Your total earnings and the number of months you work are the two things which determine how much of your yearly social security benefits can be paid to you. If your earnings do not exceed $1,500 for the year, you can get all your benefits. Even if your earnings exceed $1,500, you may be able to get some of your benefits. We are enclosing Pamphlet 23 which explains these provisions in detail.

Q. What earnings are to be counted to determine if I earn more than $1,500 in a year? A. Count all wages (before deductions) you earn from work as an employee and all earnings from self-employment. Any bonus, commission, fee, vacation pay, etc., you get from your employer must also be counted.

Q. Am I required to file any report of earnings with the Social Security Administration? A. You must file a report after December 31 and before April 15 if you earned over $1,500 between January 1 and December 31 unless you were age 72 all months of 1966.

Q. Should I start my social security benefits at age 62 or age 65? A. This is something you should discuss with a social security representative three months before you reach age 62 (age 60 for widows). Failure to do so may result in loss of benefits to you. Unless you are working steadily for high wages, it may be better to file at age 62, but this is a decision you should make after discussing your situation thoroughly with a social security representative.

Q. I will be 62 on March 17th and will retire then. What is the best time for me to sign up for social security and medicare? A. You can sign up now for monthly retirement checks and they can begin as early as March. Your March check would be delivered to your home in early April. You will not be able to enroll in the medicare program until you are age 65.

Q. What do I need to take to your office when I sign up for social security? A. You can help by bringing several documents showing your age or date of birth. Older records are preferable. We will also need your social security card and an estimate of your total earnings since January 1, 1966.

Waco Pastor Briefs Rotarians On Conditions In Europe, Middle East

Members of the Rotary Club last Thursday noon heard a first-hand report from Europe, the Middle-East and the Holy Land, when Rev. Robert Young, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Waco, told of some of his experiences.

"England as a whole seems rather distant to the American, with the exception that they are happy to have the tourist dollar to boost their economy," the speaker said.

"France has a rather unusual situation in that they have DeGaulle who is in many ways a dictator, yet it seems that so long as he is a benevolent dictator, the people are willing to go along with him. The people seem uneasy for fear of the time when DeGaulle comes to the end of his rule, and the man who takes his place might not be so generous. They are also wondering about the military build-up which is being allowed in Germany," Rev. Young said.

"Switzerland is a wonderful land for tourism and also for the Cosmopolitan atmosphere which exists there. One can easily use his own coin or money in exchange for goods in that country.

"The United Republic, under Nassar, is seething with unrest, even though Nassar is trying to play all angles to get the most help for his people.

"Egypt seemed to be filled with an atmosphere of trouble. This may lead to further trouble in the near East.

"Lebanon is another place where there is evidence of beauty and a Cosmopolitan atmosphere," the guest speaker said.

Rev. Young was impressed with the Jordan Valley with the many interesting places to see, even though there too, was a feeling of unrest.

"Israel and more especially the city of Jerusalem, is much like Berlin with its division of loyalties. Fighting and gunshots are always in evidence," Rev. Young said.

Bob Greenroy presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, R. W. Heiren. Mayor H. V. Woodard gave the invocation and R. C. Couch led the singing, with Mrs. Withers at the piano.

Two visitors, Kenneth Lane, of Haskell and Glenn Merideth, of Detroit, Michigan, were introduced at the meeting.

County Agent Says That Skip-Row Planting Increases Cotton Yield

Skip-row farming has become a popular means of increasing cotton yields in Texas since the change in government cotton allotments in 1962. R. W. Schumann, Haskell County Agricultural Agent, has pointed out the feasibility of interplant cotton, planted in four-row skips with two rows of guar.

Cotton planted in the 2x4 system produced 219 pounds of lint per acre. This same system interplanted with two rows of guar produced 195 lbs. of lint cotton and 511 lbs. of guar per acre. The resulting difference was a net increase of $14.65 per acre.

The 4x4 cotton and fallow system produced 279 lbs. of lint per acre. Using the same system interplanted with guar, 247 lbs. of lint cotton and 357 lbs. of guar were produced. The difference was a net increase of $7.30 per acre.

In evaluating the results of this test, consideration should be given to the fact that the total effects cannot be fully determined in one year. However, this study does show the increased yields the 4x4 interplanted system produce.

The amended regulations omitted from the allotment any idle land in skip-row planted cotton. As a result, skip-row systems employing one or two fallow rows were used extensively throughout the state.

This past year the regulations were amended again. This new regulation increased the percent cotton in the 2x4 system from 66.67 to 86.67 per cent and in the 2x2 systems from 50 to 63 per cent. The 4x4 and the 4x2 systems remained at 50 and 33.33 per cent, respectively. Schumann remarked.

This change has caused a major shift to systems employing four fallow rows. The four-row fallow system will take some cotton land out of production, but still offers some yield advantage, Schumann pointed out.

Cotton and guar were planted in nine skip-row and interplant systems to investigate the yield potential of these systems and

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The folks at Internal Revenue work hard at giving taxpayers all the information they need to file their tax returns. In Texas and the seven other community property states, the tax education job becomes a little tougher. The tax instructions sent to taxpayers throughout the country are correct only for common law states. The community property law definitely affects the amount of tax you owe in Texas. Be sure to check on community property instructions on dividend exclusions, capital loss, and retirement income credit before you cost yourself tax dollars.

Fertilizer Is Big Business

Fertilizer is big business in Texas. In 1966 about $100 million was invested in the industry.

Fertilizer usage continues to increase in the state and for good reason. County Agent R. W. Schumann says research and on-the-farm demonstrations show that farmers have been getting better than a 3-to-1 return on each dollar spent for the needed plant food.

With more efficient use of applied fertilizer, producers can get an extra bonus from the use of plant nutrients. Schumann suggests these five points as aids in getting the extra bonus: 1) Pay close attention to all factors of production such as seedbed preparation, rate of planting, date of planting, recommended crop varieties, weed control and cultivation practices.

2) Use a soil test to determine the type, grade and rate of fertilizer required for maximum production for a specific crop.

3) Make sure the fertilizer is applied at the proper time and in the correct way to make the nutrients available to plants when they need them.

4) Secure the latest information regarding fertility research in your area from Texas A&M University.

5) Visit with your local county agent regularly. He has available latest crop production information from many sources, and will be glad to share it with you.

Our thanks also for all the wonderful food and for the ladies who served, for the beautiful floral tribute to his memory, for every word of prayer and consolation. May God bless each of you as our prayer. The family of Earl Daniels. 19¢

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO
(May 14, 1937)

The West Side Singing Convention will meet at the Pinkerton Church Sunday afternoon, May 16, at 2:30 o'clock, according to A. D. Lewis, president.

Horace O'Neal of this city has been named as WPA case-worker in the Haskell County Welfare Office, succeeding Bruce Raley, who resigned the place to accept a position with H. H. Hardin Lumber Company recently.

Annual meeting of the West Texas Firemen's Association composed of volunteer groups in this section of the state, will be held in Knox City Thursday, May 20.

Change in ownership of the East Side Barber Shop was announced this week, with Marvin Letz, who has been employed in the shop for the past eight months, purchasing the establishment from Otta Johnson.

Jones & Son Service Station this week completed the installation of three late type electrically operated computing gasoline pumps at their station just south of the Tonkawa Hotel.

L. D. Ratliff Sr. made a business trip to Anson Wednesday morning.

Work is progressing rapidly on the remodeling of the Fields' building on the west side of the square, to be occupied after June 1st by Perry Bros. Co.

With terms of 14 rural schools in the county already ended, and this week marking the end of terms for eight more, only 16 of the county's 38 rural schools will be functioning next week.

While this immediate vicinity was enjoying a quarter inch of moisture late Wednesday evening which boosted the total precipitation for the week to .70 of an inch, the south and east portions of the county were visited by heaviest rains of the year, according to reports of farmers in the Post, Howard and Irby communities.

Ten criminal cases have been set for trial in District Court next week.

40 YEARS AGO
(May 12, 1927)

Constable J. H. Ivey, of this city, and Constable D. P. Bell of Rochester, captured a large still in a raid made by them last Wednesday afternoon. The stills were complete and ready for operation and were found in a farm house west of Rochester.

City Marshal Welch last week completed marking the parking zone around the square, which will be of much benefit to motorists in complying with the parking ordinance.

AGE IN AN ERA OF YOUTH

With so much emphasis on youth and the "swinging" set these days, there is a tendency to overlook the fact that numbers of older citizens among us has increased as dramatically as the number of teens and pre-teens in our population. More than 20 million of our citizens are in the over-65 age bracket and by 1980 their number will exceed 25 million.

Over the years, improved medical and health standards, and an abundance of nutritious foods, have contributed to the improved longevity of our population.

Other things have changed over the years as well. As an example, it would be difficult to conceive in the pre-World War II days, of a nationwide observance of National Old Folks' Home Week. Indeed the existence of the old folks' homes was all too often the source of scandal rather than pride in our urban communities.

All of this leads up to the fact that National and Texas Nursing Home Week will be observed May 14 to 20. May 14, Mother's Day, is a fitting day to begin the observance since nearly a half-million of the more than 600,000 aged and infirm residents of nursing homes are women. 45,400 of these residents are in homes in this state.

One need only visit a modern nursing home, and there are many close at hand, to see the metamorphosis that has occurred in the care and treatment of our senior citizens who cannot be cared for in their own homes, or who lack family or friends to care for them.

In fact, that's just what the Texas and American Nursing Home Associations want you to do. The ANHA audits 6,700 licensed nursing home members throughout the country, are sponsoring National Nursing Home Week. Governor John Connally has proclaimed this same week Texas Nursing Home Week and the TNHA and its 535 members are sponsoring the state observance. A major part of the observance is open house on Mother's Day. Owners and administrators of participating nursing homes are urging citizens in the community to visit. They have pointed out that many of their elderly patients are alone in this world and would welcome a visitor from the community.

We think it's a grand idea—one that should give the visitor great satisfaction as a humanitarian gesture and at the same time add to his knowledge and understanding of how nursing homes are contributing to a "fuller life" for our senior citizens.

cotton planted, about 100 acres of which was up sufficiently to be killed and this will have to be planted over.

On last Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Day gave in honor of their sister, Miss Willie Callaway, who was shortly to leave for her home in Southern Texas, a farewell party to the friends of the young lady, who were many, as attested by the large crowd gathered to spend the last evening with her.

Mr. Jim Williams of the Foster school neighborhood, who was thrown from a buggy Sunday was sufficiently recovered from his injuries to come to town yesterday.

"ENJOY YOUR CHRISTIANITY"
(I Peter 1:6-9)

Wise men have said, "Laughter is medicine for the soul." Robert Ripley said that it takes less muscles to smile than it does to frown. Couldn't we say, "A person has to work harder to be an old grouch?"

Christianity is a positive religion. Christ offers joy, peace, and happiness. Do not make the mistake of attempting to find lasting joy in a temporal world. The world gives a false sense of happiness. It gives, "Peace when there is no peace." When David the King gained the world he lost the joy of his salvation. He lost something the world could not give, but takes away.

God intends you to enjoy your Christianity. Don't look as if your religion hurts you. Glorify Christians are poor advertisements for God. The devil hates a happy singing Christian. He attempts to make life miserable. God will lift the Christian above adversity, put a smile on his face and a song in his heart.

The Lord Jesus is our example for genuine joy. He loved people. He enjoyed their company. He was always popular with young and old alike. Enjoy your Christianity by: (1) helping others, (2) being busy for God, and (3) living for God day by day.

PAINT CREEK ... COMMUNITY NEWS

By Mrs. Gene Overton

These hot, dry days are causing the wheat to ripen much faster than most farmers had expected. Some Paint Creek men will be cutting wheat the last of this week, unless it rains. This is one time the wheat farmers would like to have the rain hold off a few days, maybe longer. It's not that rain would be so bad, but the weather just can't be trusted this time of year and every rain seems to bring along some hail, too. The hail at Avoca and Leuders last week ruined some wheat in the Ericksdahl community.

The cotton farmers would like to have rain so they can start planting the latter part of the month. So, no matter what the weather does, someone will be pleased about it. That is, if it doesn't hail. Nobody in their right mind ever wants hail.

The senior class entertained their parents and sponsors with dinner at Zentner's in Buffalo Gap last Monday evening. Enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Earles and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walton and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell and son, Danny, Mrs. John Spurlin and Joann, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ross Mielker. Special guests were Jeannine and Janice Isbell and Phil Coleman who helped the seniors on the annual staff.

Mrs. James Nelson of Lake Charles, Louisiana is spending last week and this with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walton, Larry and Terry. She came especially for the graduating exercises in which Larry graduated.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton attended the special Soil and Water Conservation service at the Bethel Lutheran Church in Ericksdahl last Sunday. Supervisors of the California Creek Soil Conservation District were special guests at the program.

Troop 48, Boy Scouts of America, attended the Fish-to-Remember at Lake Hamlin this past weekend. The boys left Friday afternoon after school, arrived at Lake Hamlin, made camp and cooked supper. Saturday they fished and competed with other troops in the Northern District. Troop 48 won 3rd in most fish caught, and Philip Cockrell caught the 4th largest fish. They had about 50 fish for supper on Saturday night. Scoutmaster Waller Overton led their devotional service Sunday morning and after breakfast they broke camp and came back to Paint Creek where they swam and cooked and ate dinner at Overton's tank. Scouts making the trip were Larry and Philip Cockrell, Buddy and Ricky Morrison, Glen and Dale Cassiberry, Mike and Ricky Brazell and Sam Powell. Camping with Paint Creek scouts were Leo Young of Abilene and three little scouts from Leuders (whose names I didn't hear). Scoutmaster Waller Overton and assistant, Gene Overton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton, Sr., spent Sunday in Abilene with their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton Jr. and Mary Margaret.

Wednesday afternoon there was a four-school track meet between pupils of the Elementary grades of Goree, Weinert, O'Brien and Paint Creek at Paint Creek. It was nice, hot track-meet weather and everybody had a good time.

Mr. Jim Dean died at his home Wednesday morning and funeral services were Friday morning at the Methodist Church. The community extends its deepest sympathy to Mrs. Dean, Jessie and his family, the Elmer Dean family, Mrs. Dale Middlebrook and her family, Mrs. Truett Kuenstler of Kress and her family and Mrs. Tommy Lambert and family of Commerce. He will surely be missed at the Methodist Church. He and Mrs. Dean always sat in the same place every Sunday. We were so glad Mrs. Dean was able to come Sunday.

Mrs. Gene Overton was in Garland Tuesday night to attend the musical, "Pecos Bill and the Indians," which was written, directed and produced by their son, William. William teaches speech and English in the Basse, Junior High School in Garland and the play was given by 41 of his pupils. This play is his Master's Degree thesis and will be given before the graduate Board at North Texas State University later this month.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

My husband, Mrs. Sam Scott and I decided to visit Hubbard Creek Lake Wednesday. As we neared Avoca, wild flowers began to show up along the right-of-way... the long, waving inlets of salt cedar were waving in the breeze; yellow cone flowers with their long black centers mingled with purple thistle and black-eyed susans along the road near Leuders.

Just beyond Leuders the whole floral picture begins to change. Deep red Indian blankets, blue spider wart, buttercups, blue yarrow, white poppy thistles and purple sweet williams blanketed the bar ditches.

Five mile hill above Albany was yellow with catclaw and yellow daisies, beargrass sent its tall spikes of blossoms reaching toward the sky. The hill just above Albany was a great disappointment to me; I have always thought it most beautiful, with its winding road sloping down toward the city. The lovely hill is giving way to progress; large machinery has torn down most of its top. It looks as though they mean to build a two-lane highway there.

Several miles beyond Albany toward Breckenridge is almost bare of grass or flowers because of the drought, but surprising as it seems we saw two pretty good fields of wheat; we saw one patch that would not even make back its seed. Orchard catclaw as well as the yellow tie showed up among the mesquite in the pastures.

The water is pretty low in the lake at the first bridge out of Albany, the fishing ramps are high out of the water. As we neared the second bridge we turned and drove down the lake across a retaining dam to a camping area, from this point we had a wide view of the upper half of the lake. Waves were rolling high and breakers were causing white caps everywhere. One lonely boat was fighting the waves. The hills were alive with yellow daisies and red Indian blankets.

As we drove back across the dam we were treated to a picture of utter beauty... a small deep blue pool of water surrounded by cattails and pink salt cedar, made a lovely setting for two ducks gracefully floating along.

Crossing the long bridge we went high on the hill to a road side park where one can see for miles in every direction. The park was one of the most beautiful ones it has ever been my privilege to see. A wall of yellow and cream native stone completely surrounds the rest area and slopes to the road on one side. The entire area is paved, the upper half is raised about a foot to accommodate two blue and cream shelters... complete with concrete tables and chairs.

Six sycamore trees are planted around the shelters, a large circle is left in the concrete, the tree is planted in the middle of it and gravel completely covers the soil so no weeds can grow and sap the water from the trees. The concrete slopes down toward the trees, making the circles like basins to match the rainfall.

Breckenridge, unlike Albany, showed the results of recent rains; lawns, trees and flowers were luxuriant and of good color.

From Breckenridge we started back to Haskell via Woodson and Throckmorton. A few miles from Woodson we turned off the road to cross the main dam to the lake. Believe me, that is some lake. We traveled for miles around it. After leaving the dam we drove out on a point high above the lake where we could look across a cove and see three boat loads of fishermen casting their lines into water that was protected from the harsh wind by a large rocky hill.

We stopped at the Brazos river bridge, two or three miles from Woodson and watched the swallows flit in and out of their mud nests. It was very interesting to see them put little dabs of mud on a new nest with their beak.

Between Woodson and Throckmorton the bar ditches were like a blanket of red with yellow and purple flowers. Indian blankets were so thick the only thing that showed was purple thistles and yellow cone flowers.

After taking lunch at Throckmorton we drove up on the dam to see their lake. We were amazed at the variety of wild flowers that covered the hills around the lake there... yellow daisies, blue salvia, buttercups, pink saw flowers, wild pinks, white mountain daisies, wild larkspur, peach colored prickly pear, white poppy thistles, orchid sweet williams and a blue flower that we could not identify.

The only thing of real interest from Throckmorton home was a field of yellow prickly pear with a few yellow catclaw waving in the wind.

MOTHER
By TEMPLE BAILEY
THE YOUNG MOTHER set her foot on the path of life. "Is the way long?" she asked. And her guide said: "Yes. And the way is hard. And you will be old before you reach the end of it. But the end will be better than the beginning." But the young Mother was happy, and she would not believe that anything could be better than these years. So she played with her children, and gathered flowers for them along the way, and bathed with them in the clear streams; and the sun shone on them, and life was good, and the young Mother cried, "Nothing will ever be lovelier than this!"
THEN NIGHT CAME, and storm, and the path was dark, and the children shook with fear and cold and the Mother drew them close and covered them with her mantle, and the children said, "Oh, Mother, we are not afraid, for you are near, and we know no harm can come," and the Mother said, "This is better than the brightness of the day, for I have taught my children courage."
AND THE MORNING came, and there was a hill ahead and the children climbed and grew weary, and the mother was weary, but all times she said to the children, "A little patience, and we are there." So the children climbed, and when they reached the top, they said, "We could not have done it without you, Mother." And the Mother, when she lay down that night, looked up at the stars and said, "This is a better day than the last, for my children have learned fortitude in the face of hardness. Yesterday I gave them courage. Today I have given them strength."
AND THE NEXT DAY came strange clouds which darkened the whole earth—clouds of War and Hate and Evil, and the children groped and stumbled, and the Mother said, "Look up. Lift your eyes to the light." And the children looked and saw above the clouds an Everlasting Glory, and it guided them and brought them beyond the darkness. And that night, the Mother said, "This is the best day of all, for I have shown my children God."
AND THE DAYS went on, and the weeks went on, and the years went on, and the Mother grew old, and she was little and bent. But her children were tall and strong, and walked with courage. And when the way was hard they helped their Mother and when the way was rough, they lifted her for she was light as a feather, and at last they came to a hill, and beyond the hill they could see a shining road and golden gates flung wide.
AND THE MOTHER said: "I have reached the end of my journey. And now I know that the end is better than the beginning, for my children can walk alone, and their children after them."
AND THE CHILDREN said: "You will always walk with us, Mother, even when you have gone through the Gates." And they stood and watched her as she went on alone, and the gates closed after her. And they said, "We cannot see her, but she is with us still. A Mother like ours is more than memory. She is a Living Presence."

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide, 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard.

Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.
