Big Cat Killed By Clyde Davis

Clyde Davis, who lives at Randlett, Oklahoma, just across the Red River bridge, came by the Star office Wednesday to display a big bob cat in the back of his pickup. The cat weighed 29 pounds several hours after it had been killed, and was too long to stretch out cross ways in the pickup bed.
Clyde has a crippled rabbit call which he uses to call up bob cats and coyotes. Tuesday night he went down near the River at the edge of a wheat field and started tooting his call. Soon this big cat came into the field. He turned the spotlight on him and released four big tough greyhounds. The dogs made quick work of disposing of the cat, but not before the wild critter had got in some ripping slashes with his claws on the hounds.

LAY THAT PISTOL DOWN! DECLARES WILL ROGERS, Jr.

If we had more larriats and fewer guns, this would be a much happier world. That's the opinion of Will Rogers, Jr., a most accomplished gentleman in the fine art of roping, whose latest starring vehicle, "The Boy From Oklahoma" Sunday and Monday at the Palace Theatre.
Instead of sticking a toy pistol into a youngster's hand almost as soon as he is able to walk and say "Bang! Bang!", parents should give their son a lariat. If it were possible to make this a universal practice, our youth would grow up with an entirely different attitude as to the proper way to settle disputes. A skilled roper can tie up his adversary completely without resorting to bloodshed," vigorously declared young Rogers, who in his current Warner Color show, "The Boy From Oklahoma," provides a variation to the proverb that the pen is mightier than the sword. In this film Rogers, as a sheriff without the usual two pistols, proves conclusively that the pen is mightier than the gun.
In "The Boy From Oklahoma," in which he co-stars with Nancy Olson, Rogers reportedly makes proficient use of the gun-shy, galley sheriff of Bluerock county and visibly demonstrated his theory.

MIRACLE OF SPRING

With spring busting out all over in many sections of the USA, and moving vans beginning to blossom on the highways, we are reminded that Benjamin Franklin once remarked: "Three removes are as good as a fire."

Which only goes to show that the author of Poor Richard's Almanac was born about 230 years too soon. Now-a-days, whether a citizen is moving three thousand miles or three blocks, about all he has to do is remember his new address, and get the family there. Today's movers will even take care of the dog, the cat, the bird and the guppies.

As a matter of fact, it's the long-haul movers who have changed the picture from a nightmare to a pleasant and exciting expedition. It is their particular pride and joy to walk into your old home, with everything in its normal place, even to the pictures on the wall and the clothes in your closets—and turn over the new residence to you with the effects just where you would have put them yourself!

We do not know how they do it, any more than we know how an artist paints a masterpiece, or a composer pulls a rhapsody out of the air. But the largest of these, Allied Van Lines, picked up 125,000 households from here and transplanted them to there—or vice-versa—during 1953.

One reason for this, we think, is the fact that Allied is not a "soul-less corporation", but a family that's nation-wide. Thus, wherever you start from, the man who takes your treasures is likely to be someone you know, or who knows you, and your ideas of home sweet home.

Until lately, no American loved moving more, or did it more nonchalantly than Dan'l Boone. But even he had to carry his gun.

TAKE-CARE PACKAGE

President Eisenhower has asked the Congress for changes in the Atomic Energy Act that will, among other things, permit us to give our allies "such tactical information as is essential to the development of defense plans and to the training of personnel for atomic warfare."

Having already shipped some half-dozen of our huge atomic cannons to the NATO forces in Europe, this request may seem mere routine at this time. But we hope that our lawmakers will consider carefully the terrible significance of this request.

There has been a considerable shifting of alliances within the memory of Congressmen now at the Capital. How permanent are our present allies? Are we to give these awful secrets to allied nations, such as France and Italy, where the Communist Party may come into power? Can we give such secrets to one ally and not to another? How shall we judge the capability of an ally to protect this knowledge? Or do we really have any atomic secrets left?

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Herald: "It has taken them 14 years to find out in New Zealand that 'free' government services aren't so 'free'. But after all, it took us 20 years to find out the welfare state was a dream.

GARNER, IOWA, Leader & Signal & Herald: "This editor thinks we Americans have set such a fast pace of life that we are losing the art of gracious and wholesome living; we are on the move day and night to keep up with our business and social obligations; to keep just one jump ahead of the tax and bill collectors, and one lap ahead of that monster we know as communism."

WALTHAM, Mass., News-Tribune: "The emphasis within the International Revenue Department will be on accurate and complete returns. This means that more checking will be done than ever before—this being so, there are a few elemental rules to follow: Be sure of dependents, report all income; recheck deductions, watch your arithmetic, and most important, save your income records and receipts for deducted expenditures."

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Herald: "The administration's policy is geared to peacetime prosperity, which is the only kind of prosperity that can be maintained on a sound and permanent footing. If it means temporary sacrifices real Americans will take them in stride."

YOUR BIGGEST DEBT

Manufacturers Record points out that most American families have a good idea of how much money they owe on home mortgages and other obligations. The average is around $2,900.00. But there's another debt we tend to overlook. That is our share of the $274,500,000,000 national debt. It amounts to more than $6,000.00 per family.

Flying Saucers

By R. D. Laney

It is no longer satisfactory just to announce that flying saucers don't exist. A lot is going on behind the scenes. The Canadians never have poohpooed Flying Saucers. The Canadian government is erecting an official observatory for the exclusive observation and study of so called Flying Saucers. A 24 hour watch will be kept and jet interceptor planes will be kept on hand to be sent up with airborne equipment to make observations of any mysterious objects which make their appearance and which are not identified by those making the observations.

For generations past men have recorded astonishing descriptions of awsome things hovering in the skies above them. Mysterious floating objects, flashes and fire balls, and luminescent manifestations of every description, are recounted in the annals of western civilization as far back as Roman times. Speculation as to their origin was, of course largely conditioned upon the degree of scientific knowledge at the disposal of the observer. Generally, however, they were isolated instances, unrelated and void of organized study anywhere.

Certain airline pilots, after sighting strange machines, have publicly announced their belief that the saucers are spaceships from another planet, that an advanced race is making long survey of the earth, delaying contact until they understand every phase of our life and can gauge our probable reactions. But even if many unexplained saucers have been seen, they would not necessarily be identified as spaceships. To call them spaceships is jumping to an extremely unlikely conclusion. It would be like trying to explain a small mystery by pinning it on a big mystery.

The ancient Greeks could not explain lightning, so they gave up and called it a weapon of God, Zeus. This was no explanation at all. The saucer observers are doing the same thing. They explain a few puzzling reports by dreaming up spaceships, and they give them a god like ability to violate all known physical laws. The world is full of mysteries, and the way to solve them would be to observe them and study them carefully.

Spaceships are not impossible theoretically. The human race can build them if it makes the effort, and there may be races in space that have already done so. At least, it cannot be proven at this time, that there are not. But to say that flying saucers are spaceships, just because a few of the reports are hard to explain is naive and primitive thinking.

But what are the airlines pilots actually seeing? It is my belief that they are seeing a great variety of things. They can see reflections from the tail fins of aluminum airplanes—you can see them at a much greater distance than you can see an airplane. They can see weather balloons, and many more mysterious and various kinds of optical effects. These are not illusions any more than a rainbow is. A rainbow is an effect, an optical effect. It is very real; it is so; we know how it works. And there are a great many other ways that lights can be apparently displaced and made to move. But the mystery is being seen all over the world. They have been seen everywhere from the North Pole up to Greenland and Alaska and every country that we know except behind the Iron Curtain, and there has been very few cases, but a few, from that area.

Science speculates that there are at least 100 million inhabited planets in this universe. We are not alone. This is something for everyone in the country to ponder. Out of 100 million, there must be one or two somewhere near enough that they could be launching spaceships to observe this earth. Some of these races would undoubtedly be far ahead of us, so that men would seem decidedly primitive.

A person wrapped up in himself makes a small package.

Handy and Easy "Sign Up"

Last month's safety drive was a big success—almost. Every one helped—the schools ran movies on safe driving, Rotary put up posters, and Handy and Easy Peters went out on their own.

The boys put up a big sign by the side of the highway. It said, "Slow down—the life you save may be your own." It was a good idea—after the police moved the sign back twelve feet.

In their enthusiasm Handy and Easy put it too close to the road—in fact, right on the sharpest curve on the highway. They made

GOOD LIGHT Every Night With Proper Bedroom Lighting

Good lighting usually costs very little more than poor lighting... so why not enjoy better bedroom lighting by following these suggestions:

Make certain the favorite corner where you perform your personal grooming tasks is brightly lighted to insure careful, detailed attention.

Reading in bed is an enjoyable way to relax if your bedside table is equipped with a reading lamp that lights your book or paper properly.

Any spot in a bedroom is important to your grooming. A pair of attractive dresser lamps on your vanity will spotlight your face and hair so that you can give them the best of care.

See your dealer for the sight-saving lamps that will give you the right light for every corner of your bedroom.

DOUBLE STAMP DAY

Martha Washington Tea Observed By Uni. Study Club

The University Study Club held their annual Martha Washington Tea, Wednesday, Feb. 17th, at the Town Hall.

The members of the other Federated Clubs of the City and a number of guests were invited.

The hall was decorated with Spring flowers and gay geraniums. The members of the host club were dressed in Colonial frocks, some with wigs and fans which all made a very quaint and attractive setting.

The receiving line was composed of the high officers: Mesdames S. S. Reger, O. E. Melton, Joe D. Majors and T. M. Jenson. The other officers and members were gracious hostesses mingling and greeting the guests. Mrs. Bill Crosley officiated at the registration table.

There were several tables displaying antiques, among which was a beautiful old time melodeon, belonging to Mrs. Gene McCabe who played several numbers on it.

Mrs. R. P. Reagan presented the program which consisted of several musical numbers with Mrs. Eugenia Lincoln at the piano. Mrs. W. J. Lacy, violinist and Miss Kay Morrison played the flute.

Following the musical numbers, Mrs. Reagan presented Mrs. A. B. Gemar of the Treita Story Club of Wichita Falls in a story "My Rich Neighbors," from "No High Adobe" by Dorothy Pillsbury.

Mrs. Reger and Mrs. Melton presided at the beautiful silver serviced coffee table which was decorated with a large white arrangement on a cut work cloth.

Approximately 80 guests enjoyed the occasion. Out of town guests were Mrs. A. B. Gemar and Mrs. Albert Owens of Wichita Falls.

VETERANS Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I'm going to night school under the World War II GI Bill. I'll have to stop training for a while because my employer wants me to make an emergency two month trip to another city. This is the first time I've had to travel on the job. Will I be allowed to continue with my GI Bill schooling after I return?

A—Yes, provided you resume your course within 30 days after you return, or at the first time enrollment is permitted, whichever is later.

Q—I'm a disabled Korean veteran in training under Public Law 16. VA recently gave me a physical examination and reduced my service-connected disability rating to zero — which means I no longer will draw compensation pay. What about my Public Law 16 training? Will I have to quit that, too?

A—No. So long as you already were in training when your disability was rated as noncompensable, you will be permitted to go ahead with your Public Law 16 training until you attain your objective.

Q—I'm in college under the World War II GI Bill, and I'm running out of GI entitlement. I've been figuring out the number of days I lost because of regular school holidays, illness and other absences from class. Could I refund my subsistence pay to VA for those days, and thereby add on to my entitlement?

A—No. Subsistence paid during regular absences may not be bought back for the purpose of adding to your entitlement. End-of term extensions of training, on the other hand, may be repurchased.

Q—I'm taking a correspondence course under the World War II GI Bill, and my entitlement will expire when I'm only two-thirds of the way thru. Will I be permitted to continue the course anyhow?

A—So long as you've completed a major number of lessons at the time your entitlement expires, you will be allowed to finish the correspondence course. However, this extension is limited to the number of lessons that $125 will buy.

Young people meet at 6:45 P. M. under the direction of Bro. K. W. Baker and wife. All youth welcome.

You always have a warm welcome to this friendly Baptist Church with an open Bible for all people with open hearts and minds. We are not trying to keep up with all the modern, streamlined, high-gear religious organizations that exalt men, but believe in an old time God with an old time message for old time sinners doomed for an old time hell unless they trust an old time Christ and have their names written in the record book of an old time heaven. Come as you are and hear the Word of God as it is.

Junior High News

We are very pleased that the calf of one of our students, Frank Morton, has been declared the Grand Champion of the District 4-H and FFA Calf show. Frank is an eighth grade student and a member of our 4-H Club.

The amount of our saving stamp sales this week was approximately $40.00.

In the next few weeks we want to inform you about the different departments of study in our Junior High School. Today I would like to give you the general plan that Mr. J. B. Tyler and Mr. Jim Whitaker follow in their physical educational classes. There are about 150 boys enrolled in the following activities:

In the fall they first take up touch football and a champion is selected in each section. Then wrestling is supervised and tag matches held. When basketball season arrives, each section participates in a basketball tournament. About 25 games are played and trophies are awarded to the winning sections.

Following basketball they take up boxing. The boys are classified according to weights rather than sections. In the late spring tumbling becomes the main event. This year a tumbling show is being planned for May. New mats and a trampoline are recent equipment in this department.

This year for the first time boys in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will be able to participate in track events if they wish.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Westbrook visited his parents in Austin over the week end and attended the Jewelers' gift show in Dallas Tuesday.

Little Miss Linda Evers of Ardmore, Okla. visited her grandparents Mrs. B. A. Landers and Mrs. H. S. B...

Bobo The Magician Coming to High School Auditorium Mar. 4th

BOBO & CO. MAGICIANS

J. B. Bobo is one of the top professional magicians of today, with more than twenty years of brilliant success. Each great magician specializes in some phase of the magical art, and Bobo's is sleight-of-hand and comedy. He believes in entertaining while confusing. He is famed for his dexterity in handling balls, coins and cards. Bobo gives a novel touch and a personal twist to each effect. Personality and showmanship dominate his program. His charming assistant, Mrs. Bobo adds much to the grace and precision of Bobo's magic. The Bobos have a most unusual record for repeat performances. Each year thousands of youngsters from six to sixty await the arrival of two great events — Christmas and Bobo the Magician. Bobo is also a magician's magician. His services are constantly in demand as a teacher of magic, and he has appeared in this capacity at many magicians' convention. He teaches magicians the new and finer points of the art. He is the author of two text books on magic, 'Watch This One' and 'Modern Coin Magic', the latter considered a classic in magical literature. The Academy of Magical Arts and Sciences has named him Magician of the Year and his coin book was voted the best book of the year. Surprisingly, Bobo is the real name, derived from the old French name Beaubeaux. Magic has been a life long obsession with him. He learned his first magical lessons from Redpath Chataqua entertainers who frequented the Bobo family restaurant in Canada. The Bobos may be found at their home in Texarkana, Texas, when their nine-month tour ends each May. Southern School Assemblies have Bobo and Company for many years in the South and South-west.

Southwestern Life Insurance Co. Sets New Records in '53

B. H. ALEXANDER

Several new high marks in its business operations were recorded by Southwestern Life Insurance Company in 1953, it has been announced by President James Ralph Wood in his report on the company's financial statement for the year.

A new record in annual life insurance sales was established by the company's agency as it produced $153,680,329 of new paid for business, up $3,657,411 from the 1952 total. As a result the company's total insurance in force at the end of the year was $1,065,059,933, a gain of $85,338,012 during the 12 month period.

Policy benefits paid to policyowners and beneficiaries totaled $14,910,827, a new record for one year and nearly $2,500,000 above the payments in 1952. Since 1903, when it was organized, the company's policy benefit payments amount to more than $180,000,000.

Year-end assets totaled $296,192,307, an increase of $25,799,461 for the year. The major part of the company's new investments in 1953 went into loans on real estate. A total investment of $142,395,587 in this category accounts for 48 percent of the company's total assets, and reflects the continuation of the strong demand for capital to be used in the construction or improvement of Texas homes, farms and business properties.

Total liabilities appear in the statement as $268,068,923. Funds for safeguarding the savings of policyowners, including capital, surplus and contingency reserves, amount to $28,105,383.

Policies purchased from Southwestern Life by individuals in 1953 averaged $5,905 in face

Texas Safety Association

"Spring may be just around the corner, but we've still got some slippery roadways to travel before we turn that corner."

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, and Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation who heads up the February traffic safety program which the Texas Safety Association is conducting in cooperation with the Texas Department of Public Safety, gave that reminder to drivers and walkers today.

He warned especially against treacherous ice patches that drivers and walkers may come upon suddenly when they least expect them.

"It's the surprise element that makes patches dangerous, Col. Tilley explained. "At this time of year roads are likely to be fairly clear of snow and ice, consequently, drivers travel at a faster pace than they would if roads were coated with ice or snow. This increase in speed is enough to throw an automobile into a dangerous skid if the car suddenly hits an ice patch."

He said that pedestrians, too, are likely to relax their vigilance as snow and ice disappear from the sidewalks. Hurrying along at a pace geared to clear surfaces, a walker can suffer a painful fall if he unsuspectingly steps on an ice patch in the roadway or sidewalk.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Garrett and their 3 boys of Snyder visited relatives and friends here Tuesday.

TODAY'S TELEPHONE TIP

by Emily Post

A correspondent complains: "A few people I know are careless about hanging up the receiver after finishing a telephone conversation. Don't they realize that slamming the receiver down makes an unpleasant noise in the other telephone?"

Slamming the receiver is as discourteous as slamming the door. Always hang up gently as a parting, thoughtful gesture. And when you hang up be careful to replace the receiver securely in its proper place. A receiver off the hook means that no calls can get through to your telephone.

News From The Congress
By FRANK IKARD

It is traditional in the House of Representatives that on Washington's birthday a Member reads to the House Washington's Farewell address. Monday of this week being Washington's Birthday, this tradition was carried out. This ceremony is always impressive and inspiring. It is fitting, I think, that we listen each year to the words of the "Father of this Country" in the speech he made as he retired from public service. It renews our faith in the principles for which Washington and the group of patriots that he led fought and died. We are often inclined to think that the problems that confront us are new and different and have never been faced by man before; however, a reading of this Farewell Address will convince us that much that Washington said there applies today, and the advice that he gave to the Country then will provide the answers to many of the problems that face us today. We are all familiar with this Farewell Address, but few of us are familiar with the Prayer that Washington offered for his Country. I first came across it about a year ago and was greatly impressed with it. I thought possibly you would like to read it.

A Prayer For Our Country
"Almighty God, who has given this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion; from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one United people the multitudes brought out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of Government, that there may be peace and justice at home, and that through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; all of which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

This week the House considered the first appropriation bill and again the fact that the Executive Branch of the Government and not Congress pretty well controls the spending of this country became apparent. Congress in a matter of weeks is charged with the responsibility of examining and passing on the recommendations of the Bureau of the Budget and the various departments of the Government. These requests are the result of months of study and work by the Bureau of the Budget and the Executive Departments. It is almost impossible for committees of Congress and their meager staffs to adequately check these requests and to study them. It is my hope that shortly Congress will recognize this as a real problem and will provide itself with an adequate staff of professional budget and management analysts on a permanent basis to conduct year-round studies for the Executive Departments' Budgets and their spending programs. Until this is done, Congress cannot have the power over spending that the Constitution contemplated that it would have.

It's hard for some people to turn a cold shoulder to a hot spot.

Ford presents two new deep-block engines

THE NEW 130-h.p. Y-block V-8

This new Overhead-Valve V-8 has an extra-deep block which resembles a "Y" in cross-section. This new deep-block design means greater rigidity for smoother, quieter performance... longer engine life. Other features which make this engine a long-lived, smooth, savingful performer are: new low-friction (short-stroke) design, Free-Turning Overhead Valves, new 5-bearing crankshaft, and new high-turbulence combustion chambers.

THE NEW 115-h.p. I-block SIX

Like the new Y-block V-8, this engine has Ford's deep-block design for greater rigidity, longer engine life. Also, like the V-8, you get Ford's modern manifold, low-friction design, high-turbulence combustion chambers, and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot. One advantage of both new engines is an amazingly flat "torque curve" which gives you top pick-up power through the whole range of driving speeds.

Blind National Convention To Be In Houston

The Blind who lead — or at least work for — the blind will meet in Houston 600 strong next July 11-16 when the American Association of Workers for the Blind convenes at the Rice Hotel. Most of the delegates will be totally or legally blind and many will be accompanied by seeing-eye dogs, Chamber Convention Committee Chairman J. Barry York pointed out. Totally blind 10 year Houstonian, W. S. (Bill) Wood, placement counselor of the Texas State Commission for the Blind conducted a sight seeing tour during the recent visit of AAWB secretary-general Alfred Allen, Chamber Convention Department Manager W. J. (Bill) Jones reported. By corners and free ways over pass "humps", Wood was able to describe accurately and in much detail, the points of interest as they were passed. Mr. Wood is a former resident of Burkburnett, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wood of Wichita Falls.

WOMAN DRIVER GIVES AUTOMOBILE EXPENSIVE PUSH

The following was swiped from the Wednesday Wichita Falls Record News: Cranston, R. I. — A motorist from this city Sheepshly swears this story is true— but even if it isn't, a newspaper would have to be pretty selfish not to pass it along as he tells it. He was driving on the Merritt Parkway toward New York when his car stalled and he discovered the battery was dead. He flagged down a passing driver, who was a woman, and she agreed to give him a push to get the car started. Because his car has an automatic transmission the driver explained to the lady, "You'll have to get up to 30 to 35 miles an hour in order to get me started." The lady nodded wisely and the stalled driver climbed into his car and waited for her to line up behind him. He waited. And waited. Then he turned around to see where the woman was. She was there all right — coming at him at 30 to 35 miles an hour. The crash caused $300 damage to his car.

Unity Garden Club To Sponsor Game Night, Town Hall

The Unity Garden Club is sponsoring a Game Night Monday night at 7:30 at the Town Hall. Canasta, Bridge and 42 will be played. Tickets may be purchased from any of the Club members or at the door. The proceeds will be used in the Club's project of beautifying the Burkburnett Cemetery. Some of the fence on both the East and West side needs to be replaced and all of the fence must be painted. Much has been done under the supervision of the club and even more has been accomplished by its own members in setting out shrubs and plants and having the South entrance built up. Mrs. Ralph White, president of the club, is general chairman of game night, with Mrs. H. A. Goodwin in charge of ticket sales; Mrs. R. W. Kent, refreshments and Mrs. Herman Miller table arrangements. Mrs. R. C. Gilbow is the club treasurer. The club has a membership of 24 and is very active. The members state that if anyone, whether living here or out of town, is interested in this Cemetery beautification and would like to contribute to the cause, they would greatly appreciate it. A few have given donations which helps so much. Our Cemetery should be a place of quiet dignity and beauty, a spot to be proud of instead of a plot to be apologized for. —Club Reporter

A Famous American

The MEMPHIS, one of the glamorous Mississippi River old. With light draft and high pressure she was able to make an hour, according to the American Merchant Marine Plush, elegance and sumptuous interiors staggered the tourists to America who happened to travel on ships of this line in Mark Twain's day. Owned by the Anchor Line, she served between St. Louis and Memphis. Today only a few boats remain that even faintly resemble this gaudy craft. Powered by steam, she and her kind are being replaced by diesel powered tows move up and down our great rivers and the seaports where ships of the American Merchant Marine abroad. We can not rely on foreign merchant fleets, the
