Country Owen and Booger Wood to Battle Sept. 2nd

Fire works are again blasting away across Red River. Country Owen on the Texas side is firing at will, with Booger Wood returning the fire from over Oklahoma way.

These baseball enemies are not yet satisfied with the outcome of a game played earlier this season. Booger, who lost by a small margin, says he can beat Country with a bunch of high school boys. Country says he can beat anything Booger can rake up, by a score of 20 to 2!

To settle this feud, the two teams coached and managed by the above will get together for a game on Thursday night, September 2nd. The game will be played in Burk Burnett under the lights, beginning at 8:00 P. M.

Get ready for a lot of shenanigans. Either one of the above would take candy from a baby, when it comes to baseball, and laugh at his tears!

Band Soliciting Funds From Sale Of Calendars

KNOCK, KNOCK!
 Whose there?
 CAL!
 Cal? Cal who?
 CAL ENDAR of the B. H. S. Calendars. Remember?

Now, if we have your attention—did you say corny? Perhaps, but serious, too. Soon, Burk Burnett residents will hear knock, knock on their doors. When they answer, they will see hard working band members soliciting orders and names for their annual Band Birthday Calendar.

This calendar is basically like all good calendars: it shows the phases of the moon, all holidays of the presidents. Besides these things, it will list on the day and month the birthday or anniversary of each person who wishes it recorded.

It is possible to list the names of everyone in Burk Burnett. Then, Burk Burnett people would have a unique record containing the birthdays of their families, friends and business acquaintances.

The proceeds from the sale of these calendars go to the Burk Burnett High School Band to help defray current expenses. The band is made up of your boys and girls. Participate in this community project.

Buy a Band Birthday Calendar. Hang it near your telephone and use it daily to remember and make happy every birthday of your friends in Burk Burnett.

"Botany Bay" Is Vivid and Exciting Drama of A Historic Sea Voyage

A sprawling romantic adventure, in Technicolor, a top notch cast, is the brand new hit, "Botany Bay," which moves into the Theatre Sunday-Monday.

Alan Ladd, James MacGregor Burns, Patricia Medina, with the Hardwicke, "Botany Bay" is an action-loaded sea story that maintains an unflinching pace from beginning to end.

The production values, "Botany Bay" is based on Chas. Nordenskiöld's best selling novel. Essential is the tale of the 1787 voyage of the "First Fleet" from Australia, dealing specifically with the 267 day voyage of the prison boat Charlotte, bearing a human cargo of convicts from England to the new settlement at Botany Bay.

The ship is commanded by James Mason, a subtly satanic shipmaster whose cruelty is reminiscent of the brutalities inflicted upon his crew by the notorious Captain Bligh of Bounty renown.

As produced by Joseph Siström and directed by John Farrow, "Botany Bay" emerges as a film that will excite the imagination and cause the pulse to pound. It is a film for the whole family to enjoy and savour. Put it on your "must see" list.

NATURAL LAW IS BEST

Many learned treatises have been written on the theory and the practical workings of the law of supply and demand. These are often couched in the forbidding language of the economists and aren't for the laymen. But the way that law affects us in our daily life can be very simply explained.

In the last two years or so the meat industry has provided an exceptionally good example of the law in action. In 1953, the amount of beef that went to market was much greater than in 1952. The result was that beef prices declined between 10 and 35 percent, depending upon cut and grade. Other meats also demonstrated the strong production-price relationship that exists.

Under this natural law, in other words, prices tend to rise when the available supplies of any commodity in wide use decline—and they tend to drop when the supply increases. This year, as last, there is a lavish supply of meat in the markets. And during a recent six weeks period wholesale meat prices throughout the country dropped an average of 11 percent.

Anything which tends to artificially limit production, or otherwise interfere with the supply and demand market, hurts producers and consumers in the long run, because of resulting shortages. Man has not been able to improve on natural economic law.

FOOD AND GASOLINE

We have read much about Guatemala recently. As usual where Communism is involved, discord and revolution brought misery and loss to the common citizen.

The country's economy was sagging badly after the anti-communist government took over. An interesting commentary on the situation appeared in Newsweek which said, "Food and gasoline were short and inflation was depressing the quetzal."

It is rather startling to see gasoline bracketed with food. One does not ordinarily think of it as being so vital a necessity, and yet what would happen in the United States if the gasoline supply were shut off for even a few days? Confusion would be complete in cities and on the farm, and in many cases food would be unobtainable.

The United States can be thankful that it has the greatest systems of food and gasoline distribution in the world. The two can be rightly paired together as necessities.

MORE NEW INVESTORS

What do typical Americans think of investors in the stocks of the corporations that provide us with our incredible abundance of goods and services?

A pretty good answer to that question is provided by what happened after last January 25th, when a plan for installment buying of stocks went into effect.

Since that time, more than 19,000 of these Monthly Investment Plans have gone into effect. New plans are being undertaken at the rate of 100 to 150 a day. There have been few cancellations, even though this can be done without loss to the investor—he gets whatever amount he has paid for. And, of great significance, some 90 per cent of the pay as you go buyers are new investors. It is apparent that the plan is doing a great deal to change the public attitude toward stocks. For one thing, it is demonstrating in practice, not just in theory, that brokerage houses want to do business with the small investor as well as the large. And it is showing a steadily increasing number of people, most of them in the moderate-income brackets, that stock ownership is for the many, not the few.

Another interesting development is that several companies have inaugurated payroll deduction plans for the purchase of stocks on the pay-as-you-go basis by employees who wish to do so. Deductions can run as low as $3.08

In other words, we're getting more and more "public weekly ownership" of American enterprise—the sound kind of public ownership that is the antithesis of government ownership, or socialism.

The Health Insurance Boom

"The multi-billion dollar health insurance business has quintupled in size in the past 10 years," writes John S. Cooper in the Wall Street Journal. He adds that "there is no sign this explosive growth will come to a halt," even though the House voted, by an almost two-to-one margin, against the proposal for government reinsurance to extend the benefits.

The story that Mr. Cooper tells is a dramatic one. At end of 1941, about 16,000,000 people had hospital coverage, fewer than 7,000,000 had surgical coverage, and medical coverage, which usually pays for doctor's calls in the hospital, was practically unknown. Now 100,000,000 of us have the medical coverage.

Moreover, as Mr. Cooper points out, "the variety of protection today is almost endless—Policies are available for everything from dental cavities to 'catastrophic illness' with surgical bills as high as $10,000." This seems due in large measure to increased competition for the business. About 800 insurance companies are now active in the field, in addition to the Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans. And some labor unions and corporations have plans of their own.

This is certainly proof that the vast majority of Americans can and will take care of their health needs on a voluntary basis. The minority which is unable to do that can be helped without subjecting all the rest of us to compulsory health insurance, which almost inevitably would be the prelude to some form of socialized or state dominated medicine.

RE-ELECT A TEXAN

SHIVERS

FOR GOVERNOR

A Proved Democrat Governor Who Put Texas Democracy Above National Politics to Save Our Tidelands.

Teacher Pay Raise Confusion

(From The Dallas Morning News, August 6, 1954)

Under the orderly processes of Texas State Government, this happens: The Legislature finds a worthy purpose, a psychiatric hospital for instance. It provides for same. It enacts a bill, appropriating X dollars for the purpose. Senate and House have whooped it through. But it does not go to the Governor for signature. It goes instead to the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Astonishingly, The News has found Texas teachers who think that the pay raise enacted in 1953 had to wait on the special session in 1954 because Governor Allan Shivers vetoed it. What happened, of course, was that the Legislature passed the bill and the Comptroller found no funds available. The Governor had no bill to veto.

Instead, he had a problem to solve. And he did solve it. He called together a committee to work out ways and means. They came up with both the bill and the necessary appropriation to cover it. The Legislature was called into special session to provide both, and did.

You would think that every Texas teacher would know that. Yet a great many teachers are unaware either that Shivers did not and could not block the pay raise or that his determined action got it for them in the only way constitutionally possible.

Fly Pests Biting Cattle

Flies are pests primarily in the summer and in spite of the fact that we are doing some things to control them, the adult fly resembles a house fly but it is about half the size. The females lay eggs in manure almost immediately after it is dropped by the animal and these eggs hatch in less than a day in warm weather. They bite cattle in 10 days to years and is still the recommended procedure. According to B. T. Haws, county agent, stockmen have not been following this procedure due to the work involved and the possible weight loss in roundup and handling of the livestock. It is a very unfortunate circumstance that such has taken place because it has been demonstrated that control of large horn fly populations increased weight gains of beef cattle 42 to 70 pounds in 2 to 3 months.

There have been some stockmen in the county interested in rubbing devices for decreasing population of horn flies. The degree of control usually depends upon several factors. The rubbing devices probably are more successful in feed lots and trap pastures without trees than in wooded pastures with trees and other competitive rubbing contraptions.

Cable type rubbing device is commonly used. This may be constructed by wrapping burlap around 3 pieces of barbed wire or chain. If barbed wire is used the 3 strands should be twisted and tied together before covering by wrapping with burlap sacks and tied at intervals of about 3 inches with binder twine. The chain or wire may be any length, but most of them are about 15 to 20 feet long. The burlap-wrapped chain or wire is tied to two posts, or other anchoring structures such as trees, etc., usually about 4 feet high at each post. The chain should be allowed to sag midway between the posts to within 18 inches or 2 feet of the ground. Some people continue the burlap chain from near the top of one post at about 45 degree angle to a dead man in the ground. Some claim that the animals will rub their legs and flanks on this portion of the set up.

DDT, toxaphene, TDE or methoxychlor at 5 percent strength may be used on the back rubbing service device. DDT, TDE and methoxychlor usually are available in 25 percent oil solutions or emulsion concentrates. Wettable powders are not satisfactory. A 5 percent mixture may be prepared by mixing one quart of the 25 percent emulsion concentrates of insecticides in 4 quarts of fuel oil. If 60 percent emulsion concentrate toxaphene is used, mix one quart of it with 14 quarts of fuel oil to make a 5 percent solution.

Adams-McCarthy Debate

By R. D. Laney

Very few Americans find entire agreement among themselves as to the content or proportion of the personal, political, and constitutional factors involved in this historic debate. Equally few Americans can appraise with detachment the effect of the hearings upon the parties involved, upon the major political parties, upon the government itself or upon the American people at large.

One must, in the first place distinguish between the written and formal intention which was set forth in the newspapers time and again and to the subjective, but nevertheless less real, intention which, as one sees it, was an intention on the part of some Republican misguided politicians to get rid of Senator McCarthy. Now, so far as the effect or result of those hearings, there were a number of effects, because it was a long drawn out process. In the first place, it was perfectly clear that Army Secretary Adams did not make out his case. The monitored telephone calls between himself and Senator Symington just threw the Army case out the window, and that throwing out by means of the window was only confirmed by General Reber's testimony.

It would appear that one of the effects has been to increase in Senator McCarthy's popularity as indicated by Gallup poll. The people had a chance to see him in action instead of being diverted by slanted appraisals of him that constantly appeared in the newspapers. The third thing that happened was the United States got a lesson in humility; the humility that indicates that it is a real job to perform the difficult surgery that separates truth from falsehood, and you are born with it by intuitive knowledge. It takes a lot of home work, a lot of reading of testimony, and people began to realize that they had to do that home work or they just spoke without any real right to speak.

Then it would seem that another thing was demonstrated, and that is, a wholesome lesson maybe some people were impressed with the undignified episodes that time and again cropped out. But it was a very human performance. They were to a certain extent on a stage and they knew it. They knew they were being watched by the public, but it is high time that the American public, and twenty million people avail themselves of the opportunity, learned that their congressmen are not paragons of virtue, and they are all not brilliant people. They have the same human failings of the rest of us. And to hold Senator McCarthy to a degree of perfect performance, which you never got from any congressional committee, is to exact from him a rule of conduct that is unfair and that is exactly what has been done many times in the past.

One of Senators McCarthy's purposes was to root out and to expose Communist infiltration. There could not be a better demonstration that he was effective than the way Communists all over the land spouted out their venom and hatred against him. That was perfect proof, from the enemy's camp of how effective he was. All we do now when Communism has spread, after we won the last war, so that eight hundred million people are behind the iron curtain, is to compare the massive malice of Communism all over the world, with the slave labor camps, with the tiny flaws which one will admit exist in Senator McCarthy or in any human being. When you make the comparison between the flaws and the character been fair enough to read that must come to the conclusion that the character of Senator McCarthy and the obvious malice of Communism there has been a lot of infiltration all over the world, the flaws are mere nothings that have no bearings to smother consideration of the tremendous threat to Communism.

If you do not believe the Communist have been hurt by Senator McCarthy, then look at the record. Read the Ft. Manmouth hearings, and anyone who has tion of Communism into vital and sensitive places in our set-up and it was to McCarthy's great merit that he called attention to it. It doesn't do any good for Secretary Adams to get on the stand and say "Well, we knew all about it." That's just the trouble, if he knew about it, why didn't he do something about it?

Shivers' Stands on Pensions

Allan Shivers said this morning that twisted facts and mis-statements were hampering his efforts for an increase in old age pensions.

He said the facts were being twisted in such a way by his opponents that the voters did not have a clear understanding that they have the right to cast ballots in November on increasing old age pensions.

He pointed out that the people who voted in the November election on a constitutional amendment to raise the ceiling on old age pensions.

Many people do not realize that this question is not for a vote by Allan Shivers or by Yarbrough, but by the people themselves in the November election," the Governor said.

The Governor said misleading statements by Yarbrough have misled the people to the point that it is crippling prospects for a fair vote on the amendment.

Shivers said that his opponent, district judge, has lifted a finger to help increase old age pensions. Instead of working diligently to increase pensions for retired judges who were really interested in old age pensions, he would do the same thing for the people of Texas that he has done for the retired judges.

He appeared before the Legislature urging $400 a month for judges, but he never asked the six blocks from the State Capitol.

The Legislature meets, to spend even so much as one more for the old folks.

Do not believe he really does anything about old age pensions, or other problems of Texas people, except to use them as a vehicle for meaningless campaign promises."

Senator George Parkhouse of who has just won another four year term without opposition, supported Shivers on old age assistance record.

Shivers noted that Shivers was the first old age assistance ever put on the statute books.

Allan Shivers told the old age pensioners two years ago that he would lead his support to obtain legislative approval of a constitutional amendment to increase old age pensions. The people of Texas will vote on that amendment to increase old age pensions.

The people of Texas will vote on that amendment in November—proof that Allan Shivers carries out his promises."

Parkhouse said while others were making promises to lure the vote of the old people, that the Shivers administration affected a program to absorb all old age assistance administrative costs in the State's general fund, leaving the entire $35,000,000 yearly limit on welfare spending wholly for that purpose.

J. S. Gore Ready to Harvest Delicious Apples

J. S. Gore, 201 Holly is about ready to harvest his crop of delicious apples, but the task will not be very great. He has a 14 year old Red Delicious apple tree which has been bearing for several years, and although some years it has been loaded down, this year the crop will consist of only about two dozen apples.

Mr. Gore is a strong advocate of planting fruit trees for shade. He says a tree that won't produce anything but shade is not worth the space it takes up!

The sample he brought by the Star office measured 9 1-2 inches in circumference.

Don't Fall Down On The Job!

Some 450,000 Americans workers literally fell down on the job last year!

That's the number of workers who were injured or killed in falls while at work in 1953, according to the National Safety Council. "Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook, just off the press, estimates that 2,500 of the injuries resulted in death and some 10,000 in permanent impairment.

Falls also accounted for half of the 29,000 persons killed in home accidents in 1953.

VETERANS Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I recently was discharged from the WAVES. If I take a school course under the Korean GI Bill, could I count my husband as a dependent for GI allowance purposes?

A—You could count your husband as a dependent only if he were in fact dependent upon you.

Q—My child was born a couple of months after my husband's death. I now am getting a VA pension for myself. What must I do to receive an additional amount for the child?

A—Within one year after your husband's death, you must notify VA of the birth of your child. VA then will ask for official proof of birth. This must be submitted within one year from the date of VA request. The additional pension payments may be made effective as of the date of the child's birth.

Q—Would I be allowed to enroll in two schools at the same time under the Korean GI Bill?

A—You would be allowed to enroll at 2 schools only if one school does not offer a complete training program that will lead you to your objective, or if it would be impossible for you to complete your program in time at one school.

Q—If a veteran dies without naming a beneficiary for his GI insurance, what happens to the proceeds?

A—The proceeds will be paid to his estate in a lump sum.

News From The Congress

By FRANK IKARD

Senator Harry F. Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, Chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, released the following statement regarding unexpended balances in federal appropriations.

Agencies of the Federal Government in the first three quarters of fiscal year 1954 spent $49.9 billion, and entered April with authority to call on the Treasury to meet their bills in the future totaling $113.0 billion. As of March 31, military services exclusive of civil functions in the first three quarters of the year had spent $30.4 billion, and entered April with authority to call on the Treasury to meet their bills in the future totaling $65.2 billion.

In prior years. These figures were revealed in the fourteenth monthly compilation of "Federal Appropriations and Authorizations, Expenditures and Unexpended Balances", by the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. (The term "Unexpended Balances" in appropriations and authorizations does not mean that the cash is in the Treasury. It means the agencies are still authorized to call upon the Treasury to meet their obligations up to so-called unexpended balances in their appropriations and other spending authority.

The activities in the Senate have been attracting most of the attention of the public recently; however, the House has been working long hours almost every day in an effort to wind up the business of this session. A few days ago the House passed a resolution fixing the date of adjournment as the last day of July. This was rather a futile gesture and I could not support the resolution as I did not see how anyone could seriously talk of adjournment until we had finally acted upon the agriculture program, Social Security, and other matters that are of the utmost importance.

Ever since the Puerto Ricans sat in the House Gallery early this spring and emptied their revolvers into the Chamber, we have been discussing the possibility of forming a Capitol Police Force which would be charged with the responsibility of guarding the Capitol and the Members of Congress. Generally speaking, I think this is a good idea but it has been hard to get a bill before the House which had a chance to pass.

Know Your Signs And Stay Alive

"Know your signs of life - and stay alive!"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, and Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corp. gave this advice today to the people of Texas in referring to the "Signs of Life" traffic safety program which his group is conducting this month in cooperation with the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"Signs of life are the traffic signs, signals and pavement markings which remind motorists and pedestrians of the law and warn them of potential dangers on the road ahead," he said.

"The name 'signs of life' is appropriate," he explained, "because countless lives would be saved if all drivers and walkers learned to recognize these signals and tried to follow their directions with courtesy."

"Special emphasis in the August program is being placed on publicizing the five basic sign shapes," Col. Tilley said.

"If drivers would learn these five shapes, he said they would know immediately what to expect when they saw one of these signs for each shape carries a distinctive type of message."

He listed the basic sign shapes as follows: 1. Eight Sided, yellow and black or red and white. This sign means stop, one message, one requirement, never anything else.

2. Diamond, also yellow and black. This sign indicates danger ahead, carries such messages as School, Narrow Bridge, Men working, or the directional symbols describing curves, intersections, side roads, etc. They mean slow down, stay alert.

3. Rectangular, white with black or colored lettering. These tell of speed limits, mark no passing zones, give other regulatory information such as parking rules. Obey their messages.

4. Round, yellow and black. These signs call for reduced speed and extra caution, so the driver can make sure no train is coming before he drives across the tracks.

5. Railroad Crossbuck marks railway. Cross only when the intersection of highway and way is clear.

These five sign shapes actually can save lives if they are recognized and obeyed. Col. Tilley said, as he called attention to the slogan, "Know Your Signs of Life, which is being featured this month by the Texas Safety Association, The Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

Tractors Are Dangerous

It is a well known fact that farm youngsters and others enjoy the dangerous practice of playing and riding on tractors. Some parents even allow their children to operate them. It is also a pretty well known fact that tractors are associated with more accidents than any other farm machinery.

Less Publicity has been given to the fact that many young children are injured and killed in tractor accidents.

ments. Ralph Ray Swinford is chairman of the 4-H safety committee at Friberg.

A recent farm news story tells about a twelve year old boy who was helping his father haul hay from one farm to another. The boy was operating the tractor alone. He misjudged a corner and the tractor toppled over into a ditch, throwing him under the rear wheel. He suffered a broken pelvis, a cracked rib and severe bruises on his face and body.

This particular accident happened in Minnesota, but it is typical of what could happen in any area when children are allowed to drive tractors.

A survey of some newspaper clippings of farm accidents from May to December, 1952 produce the following facts:

1. 45 children were seriously injured or killed while operating farm machinery.

2. 35 children were operating tractors.

3. 17 children were killed and an 11 year old killed a 75 year old man.

All of these youngsters were 6 to 15 years old. Handling a tractor under most farm conditions requires mature skill, coordination and sound judgement which a 12 year old or even older, does not have.

Of course children vary a great deal in these capacities at certain ages, but youngsters are not allowed to drive automobiles in most states until they are 15 years of age.

4-H and FFA Land Judging Contest At Texas-Okla. Fair

A land judging contest for 4-H and FFA members will be held at The Texas-Oklahoma Fair, sponsored by The Wilbarger-Wichita SCD.

Plaques will be awarded the three high teams and medals to the five high individuals will be given. National land judging contest score card and definitions will be used.

Land class will be determined by marking surface texture, movement of air and water in the sub-soil, depth of surface soil and sub-soil, slope, erosion, wind and water, surface drainage, and the factors considered in selecting the land class and land treatment.

The score card will list 17 vegetative practices from which to choose treatment, along with six mechanical practices, and nine fertilizer and soil amendment practices.

Burkburnett, Electra, Waurika, and Iowa Park FFA teams placed in that order in last year's contest. Don Hrazdil of Burkburnett FFA was high individual of the contest.

Supervisors Fenton Dale of Iowa Park, Henry Vaughn of Burkburnett, Jack Walser of Electra, and Wm. A. Bond of Vernon attended an area meeting of District Supervisors in Fort Worth August 12th. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss the Small Watershed law recently passed by Congress, and hear a report of State Association activities. Henry Mills of Del Rio and president of the Association, was in charge.

The Supervisors voted to purchase an Engler hydraulic scraper, a grass drill and a soil mover scraper at their regular meeting held at Electra August 11th. The grass drill will be stationed with the FFA Chapter at Burkburnett, and the Engler scraper will be stationed at Iowa Park. The soil mover scraper will be stationed at Vernon. A small rental will be charged for their usage.

"Signs of Life" Traffic Program

"Signs of life can reduce traffic accidents and save many lives," Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association and services advisor for the Gulf Oil Corp., said today.

"That is the reason," he said his group is actively conducting the "Signs of Life" traffic safety program in Texas this month in co-operation with the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

The traffic signs, signals and pavement markings called signs of life are designated to regulate guide and protect us."

If we follow them with respect and courtesy, very often they will save us from very serious accidents.

Col. Tilley pointed out that annually fatal accident reports show 70 or more law violations per 100 drivers involved.

Most of the violators listed are covered by visible reminders of the law—the signs of life being stressed in this month's safety program, he said.

Just how important signs of life are," Col. Tilley said, "perhaps can be illustrated best by example.

Have you ever driven down a new highway before the highway department signs or lane markings and no passing lines have been installed? he asked.

If so, he said, you probably were surprised to feel a disquieting sense of insecurity.

Most drivers feel this, he said. When signs of life are missing they began to realize, to some degree, just how much trust and dependence they place on these signs.

On a hill or curve, he explained, if there are no broken stripes on your side of the center line your judgement must serve you instead of the engineer's careful measurement of visibility for safety in passing.

This is just one of many ways in which signs of life provide both a convenience and a safeguard for motorists, he said.

Col. Tilley pointed out that the August traffic safety program sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Dept. of Public Safety and the National Safety Council features the slogan, "Know Your Signs of Life". This slogan is good advice for everyone, he said.

More Texas Trade with Hawaii — Far East

The first shipment of Hawaiian raw sugar into the Southwest in 16 years is shown being unloaded at Galveston for Imperial Sugar Company at Sugar Land, Texas only sugar refinery. The cargo represents a significant upturn in the area's import-export activity with Hawaii and the Far East. Imperial is one of the Southwest's largest single importers, paying nearly $3,000,000 annually in duties on raw sugars from Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Government Can't "Give" Anything

The Dawson, Minn., Sentinel, speaking editorially, said this: "It is about time that the average American citizen does some hard-headed thinking tax-wise. If we want tax reduction, we will have to demand less from government and again start doing things for ourselves on the local level."

That certainly is incontestable, and it should be as apparent as sunshine to everyone. Yet years of reckless spending conditioned many people to the insane idea that government can give us all manner of things from community swimming pools to old age security. Actually, government can only spend what it first borrows or takes from us in taxes—and we always get back less than we are forced to contribute.
