Mrs. J. C. Adams Attended Convention In Austin Apr. 24-26

Mrs. J. C. Adams has returned home from Austin where she was a delegate for the Burkburnett Garden Club to the annual Garden Clubs, Inc., Convention April 24-26.

Mrs. Adams flew down to Austin and was met by a long-time friend, Mrs. D. R. Peevey. She checked into the Commodore-Perry Hotel where the convention was held and was accompanied by Mrs. Peevey. All the activities except one banquet were held at the hotel.

State and National speakers filled the entire program. Welcome address was given by our own governor, Allan Shivers. Another never to be forgotten program was Tables Around the World, by Inez Hamilton of Wichita Falls. Mrs. Howard Kittell of Fort Worth had an interesting arrangement demonstration using roses sent direct from Jackson Perkins Co., N. J.

An important guest for the convention was Mrs. Gross R. Scraggs of Dallas, founder of State Garden Clubs, Inc., also the first secretary of the first organized club, Austin Violet Crown Club.

Tours of interest were planned around the Governor's mansion, French Legation garden, Church of Good Shepherd Garden and Laguna Gloria Art Gallery and garden where a tea was planned to honor the president, Mrs. Peeryear. July 25, 1929, was the day the first club was organized.

One of the most outstanding events of the convention was the presentation of awards. The Burkburnett Council of Garden Club won an award on their Flower Show scrap book. The Redbud Junior Garden Club won the coveted Eula Glider cup. All the glory goes to Mrs. C. M. Archer and her choice of helpers in the club. Burkburnett Junior Club won a certificate on point scoring honors. Unity Garden Club won a certificate of merit on Therapy Program and also Publicity Award.

At the end of the last meeting, Mrs. Adams had an accident and had to undergo treatment. She was well cared for in the home of Mrs. Peevey. Tea calls were made to the Peevey home and Mrs. Adams was happy to see the families of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Roberts, Mrs. Pattie Thompson Brown, Mrs. Connie Evert Ramming and the bride-to-be of Mr. Scranton Peevey.

When Mrs. Adams boarded the plane Saturday, she had a happy surprise in store for her. Her niece, Mrs. Billie Lucas of Fort Worth, was on board. She was returning to her home from a Bankers Convention in Corpus Christi.

The trip home was very trying, as they had storm warnings out over the state. However, she made the trip just fine and shortly after arriving it began hailing in Wichita Falls.

3 Inches of Rain Here This Week Wheat Is Revived

Up to Thursday morning 3.1 inches of rain had fallen in the city proper. West of town some 8 miles the total was above 5 inches. The moisture began falling Sunday, continued Monday at intervals, topped off by about one and one-half inches Tuesday night.

Wheat farmers have made a new estimate of possible harvest following the ideal rain. Some had contended last week that rain would help little if any coming this late. However, the estimate now is for an above the average crop, barring any one of the many things that could happen to a wheat crop yet.

Several small fields have been estimated at 40 bushels per acre or better. In this immediate area, yield per acre will probably be much better than last year, and may compare favorably with the good crop three years ago.

Some two weeks ago a crew of combine men from Minnesota was here looking over the prospects. They have harvested grain in this area for many years and seemed pleased with this year's outlook. Incidentally, they have not plowed their wheat land for planting yet!

Gilbert Creek closed the Cropper Road for a few hours Wednesday afternoon. Highway 287 Gilbert Creek bridge was running up to the bridge floor, but never covered the highway.

RECIPE FOR SURVIVAL

A young man by the name of Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., went to work in his first job, as a draftsman, for the Hyatt Roller Bearing Company in 1895, a year in which 300 automobiles were built in the United States.

Just the other day, 61 years later, Mr. Sloan completed his business career by resigning the board chairmanship of General Motors, leader of an industry that built 9,200,000 cars and trucks during his last full working year.

It is said of the retired chairman that in all those years he never issued a direct order. He sought advice from all whom he thought could give it. "Our scheme of management," he once said, "is to develop the ability, imagination and ambition of the individual. We are not afraid to delegate great responsibility and place authority with responsibility. Then we expect results."

And certainly, throughout American industry today, there can be no more important result of such a policy than the building of men big enough to take over when the giants, such as Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., step down.

On this, in fact, our national future depends.

Let's Back Up Our Brags

It has been said that Texans brag a lot about the history of their state but do little to preserve their historical landmarks. Anyone who has visited the historical shrines in the Northern and Eastern states where practically every historical spot has been properly marked and developed must admit this fact. Texans have been too busy making history to preserve it.

But Texas has become of age. More people today are interested in preserving the historical relics of earlier days than ever before. We are at last awakening to the fact that we Texans have a history far more glorious than the average state. Our forefathers fought against terrific odds to carve out a republic of their own. When they defeated the Mexican army and gained their independence, those early Texans exerted a profound influence on the remainder of the United States by making it possible to extend the country all the way to the Pacific Ocean. The documents which they wrote, the costumes they wore and the articles they used and handed down through their descendants prove both interesting and inspirational to present generations, when they are put on public display.

But in addition to the patriotic and educational value of museums of Texas history, they form a magnet to attract tourists to the state. Last year some ten million persons visited Texas in search of interesting places to see. That is more than the population of the entire state. The number can be increased by providing them with interesting shrines to visit. Needless to say, tourists are profitable to the entire state.

Texans now have an opportunity to develop one of their most sacred shrines into a No. 1 historical and tourist attraction. A movement is on foot to raise one million dollars by public subscription to build a memorial in keeping with the bigness of Texas at the spot where it was born. That is Old Washington on the Brazos where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed. It ranks with the Alamo and the San Jacinto Battlefield in importance in the history of the state. The other shrines have been developed. Only Old Washington has been neglected. Now is the time to change all that.

In cooperation with the Texas Press Association, which has endorsed this movement, this newspaper will accept contributions to the fund to build this museum of Texas history, which will honor the names of the signers of the Declaration. We shall acknowledge the contributions and send them on to the Texas Independence Day Organization, which is in charge of the project.

Let every loyal Texan join in this worthwhile cause.

Housewives On The Warpath

Little has been heard about Housewives United yet — but just you wait.

It is out to eliminate the pet peeves of housewives. And while the organization is small, it is dynamic and determined, and its influence is reaching out over the nation. While its headquarters is in the Washington, D. C. home of Mrs. Louis Wright, it has members in California, New York, Ohio, Texas, Illinois, Indiana and Nebraska, and has recently established its first branch in Virginia.

Housewives United meets every month at Mrs. Wright's home, where they discuss inflation, legislation and economics from the viewpoint of homemakers. Six times a year they publish a news-letter which is reaching a widening circle of housewives whom they believe are also conscious of the privileges and responsibility of citizenship in a democratic country." Mrs. Wright stresses that "We are non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-subversive."

Pet peeves to be cited in their forthcoming news-letter include singing commercials, pry-off tops on glass jars instead of the screw-off kind, shoddy pocket books that fall apart after a few weeks of bargain-hunting, "painting" oranges and yams to make them look prettier in the market, different parcel post rules for different communities.

Besides Mrs. St. George, who is expected to ask her New York constituency for a fifth term in Congress, the membership includes a number of Congressional wives, women columnists on small newspapers and directors of radio and TV programs. But for the most part, Housewives United, are just housewives — united in their concern over the price of this and that and in their resolve not to be pushed around.

Grade School News

We have been very excited the last few days trying to get our Grade School Library ready to have books ready to be checked out to the children. Two of the second grade rooms have been down to the room that is being used for the Library storage and have selected the book that each would like to read. The books are then brought back to the home room and kept for a week and the students may exchange books with other students in the room. The boys and girls from the second grades who have been down looking over the books have been very excited. They have expressed a desire of trying to read many of the books.

We are very pleased about the beginning of a central Library and hope that we will be in a position to add many more books during the next few years. We wish to thank Mrs. E. C. Randall and Mrs. R. C. McMillan for helping to catalogue the books and to attend to the cards to go in the books.

Wayne Randall of Long Beach, Calif., flew in last week to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Randall and to attend to the funeral of his niece, Judy. He returned home Sunday.

Let's Think About WATER!

When Galico expounded his belief that the world was round, he was nearly crucified. On his aged knees, he was forced to retract his words and agree that the world was flat.

When Columbus started off to the west to find the east, he could only engage a very few to sail with him who believed in his fantastic mission. Paster, Edison, Bell and Fulton were all denounced, challenged and ignored until their contributions to science could no longer be denied.

How long will the majority of people ignore the fact that soft, filtered water is best in every way for the entire family?

Do you ever think about water. Most people give thought to the type oil and gasoline they use in their cars, trucks, tractors etc. But little thought is given the water they and their families drink and use in so many ways every day.

Notes From The County Agent and

Mrs. J. G. Cheney, family economics demonstrator for the Midway Home Demonstration club is remodeling a dresser and is working on a business center for the home. Her business center includes storage space for small equipment, storage for family records as well as writing space.

Rural churches are playing an important role in the community improvement programs of the state. Rural pastors are working closely with local county extension service agents in rebuilding community spirit and fellowship, according to B. T. Haws, county agent.

The number of broilers produced in Texas more than doubled from 1950 to 1955. Production jumped from 33.4 million broilers to 79 million broilers and Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist says, if the rate of chick placement which has prevailed for the first 12 weeks of 1956 holds throughout the year, 1956 production could exceed 90 million by the end of the year.

Wool sales made before April 1, 1956 are eligible for incentive payments this year, provided the application is in the mail by April 30. Details on the program may be obtained from local ASC offices.

Disorder ranks second only to poor judgement as a cause of accidents. Farms and homes can be made safer and living conditions more pleasant by giving them a thorough spring clean up. Get rid of accident and fire hazards.

The spotted alfalfa aphid has become a serious threat to the production of alfalfa in all major areas. This aphid has been found infesting alfalfa in all areas of the state. In many instances the aphids have seriously damaged or completely destroyed the plants. The insects feed principally on alfalfa but have been found on some clover according to B. T. Haws, county agent.

Only malathion or parathion is recommended for the control of spotted alfalfa aphid on alfalfa. Tests conducted by personnel of the Experiment station show these aphids can be controlled with 1 pint of a 5 pound malathion emulsion concentrate per acre or 1 pint of a 2 pound parathion emulsion concentrate per acre. In some cases, an application of malathion or parathion will be effective for a period of only 7 to 14 days. Precaution: Forage crops treated with parathion should not be grazed or cut for hay 3 weeks after treatment while those treated with malathion may be grazed or cut for hay 10 days after treatment.

Alden Smith won the District Public 4-H Speaking contest held at Midwestern University. He will represent District III at the State 4-H Contest held in June at College Station.

Burk Women Attended Convention In Austin April 24th
Mesdames J. C. Adams, Burk Garden Club; Mrs. Jack Mathis, Bluebonnet Club and Mrs. A. W. Newman of the Unity Club, represented the local garden clubs at the annual State Garden Clubs, Inc., convention in Austin April 24-26 at the Commodore-Perry Hotel.

The Burk clubs had outstanding displays at the meeting. The following awards were presented to Burk Garden Clubs: Redbud Club received a trophy, Unity Club won the Fairfield award; Burk club won an award for their work with the Junior garden club and District 2 won a special cup.

Spraying-Dusting Increases Yield Of 100 Lbs. Per Acre

Cotton producers who apply insecticides at the proper time may expect an increase in yield of at least 100 pounds of seed cotton an acre for each spraying. This is a return of about $6.00 for each dollar spent for insect control, says B. T. Haws, county agent.

As an aid for cotton farmers in their fight against insects, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has just received its 1956 Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects. It is L-218 and is available from the offices of local county agents.

Covered in the guide are suggestions on early and late season control and early stalk destruction and farm cleanup; timing of insecticide applications; seed treatment with systemic insecticides and general information on spraying and dusting.

Also listed are the insects which are best controlled by early season or late season programs along with the recommended dusts or sprays for the control program. The recommended amounts or mixtures of the various insecticides for both dusts and sprays are given along with timely suggestions on timing of applications and when to begin and stop the use of insecticides.

The guide was prepared under the direction of Fuller with assistance from C. F. Garner, assistant extension entomologist and other members of the Entomology Department of the Texas A&M College System. All recommendations listed are based on the results of research work.

Texas State Dept. Of Health

Cancer, the second leading cause of death, took the lives of 9,379 Texans last year. This means that a little over one person out of every 1,000 of our population died from this disease during that period.

According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of Health, one-third of these deaths could have been prevented by earlier detection and prompt treatment. On this basis, 3,126 Texans needlessly died of cancer in 1955, because proper treatment was begun too late.

There are some encouraging aspects in the fight against cancer. Deaths from that disease among women in the United States have declined more than ten percent in the past ten years. Many thousands could be saved if men and women would have a complete physical examination once a year. Women over 35 should have a mid year check up for signs of uterine and breast cancer and men should secure an X-ray for signs of lung cancer.

Dr. Holle says that at least 50 percent of all cancers are accessible to examination by a physician through sight or touch.

Of all Americans who die of cancer today the deaths of one-third could be avoided if proper treatment were begun before the cancers spread. The profession of surgery is proof of this, as the latest figures show that cancer deaths among surgeons are only 66 percent of the general rate. Evidently surgeons not only have proper knowledge of the facts about cancer, but act promptly on the basis of that knowledge.

Today cancer is being attacked by research within nearly every branch of science. Also, studies are being made of large numbers of people to discover if living conditions are in any way responsible for cancer.

Thanks, Farmers For 50,000,000 Tons Of PURINA CHOWS

On April 5th one of the 41 Purina Mills made the 50 Millionth Ton of Purina Chows.

It is a glorious achievement and we are mighty proud . . . . If all the 50,000,000 tons were here today they would fill a Checkerboard train over 21,306 miles long and reaching four-fifths of the way around the world!

So you profit-minded farmers have cast your vote for far more Purina Chows than any other feed.

And the real credit goes to progressive livestock and poultry feeders. You kept asking for more and more and better and better feed. You kept Purina Research busy making better Chows—Purina Mills busy mining to fill your needs—Purina Dealers working hard to keep you supplied.

So, we say to all of you from bottom of our hearts:

"Thanks a million for 50 Million Tons of business."

Lowanna Activities

Jr. Gardners Hold Workshop
The Red Bud Junior Garden club held a workshop in the home of Mrs. Louis Brocker April 3 with Loretta acting as hostess to her group. The entire meeting was devoted to the workshop which was under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Gilbow. The Santa Rosa Junior Division classes were discussed and during the workshop arrangements for the different classes were made by the young girls. Pictures of the group were made by Mr. Ben Fish of Iowa Park. Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the members of the Junior Garden club, Mesdames A. L. Gilbow, L. Brocker and Walter Riley.

Girls Work on Honors
A serious study of the requirements for their next rank was made by the Lowanna Camp Fire girls at their April 10th meeting, held in the home of Irma Ned Riley with Ietha Herring as official hostess for the meeting. After refreshments had been served, Jo Ann Hervey, president held a business session, during which programs for the remainder of the season were discussed. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary and approved by the members. Shirley Hodges led the sing-song. During the meeting, it was decided that members would have a hand craft workshop at their next regular meeting and make some article for their room or for camp. Loretta Brocker was in charge of the program for the meeting. Honor beads were readied for the next ceremonial. All members of the group were present.

Red Bud Gardners Win Awards
All members of the Red Bud Junior Garden Club participated in the Santa Rosa Flower Show held in Vernon, April 14th. Members met in the home of their chairman Friday night, April 13 and made their arrangements. These were entered early next morning and the girls won thirteen ribbons on their exhibits. Another workshop will be held Friday April 20th to construct entries for the Wichita Falls Garden club flower show.

Two New Members For Lowanna

Joan Ann Hervey, president of the group was hostess to the Lowanna Camp Fire girls when they met Tuesday, April 17th at 604 E. 4th st. After refreshments of cakes, cookies and candy bars, business was transacted. At the conclusion of the business session, the president announced a surprise and brought in a birthday cake with thirteen lighted candles. The cake was placed before Irma Ned while the girls sang a birthday song. The Lowanna group widened its circle to welcome two new members, Charlotte Johnson and Linda Gale Lawson into the group. A workshop will be held Friday, April 20th immediately after school. The group completed its plans for a rummage sale to be held May 12th to raise funds for the group. The ribbons won at the Santa Rosa Flower show were passed out. It was announced that the group had won an award with the State Federation of Garden clubs for its work with the children of the Fowler Home for children. Mrs. J. C. Adams, member of the sponsoring club will receive the honor for the girls at the State meeting the 24th at Austin. The Red Bud Junior Garden club is a unit of the Lowanna Camp Fire Group and is sponsored by the Burk Burnett Garden club. The members of the group played basketball during the social hour following the meeting.

More than 41 percent of the deaths and more than 35 percent of the injuries due to motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on Saturday and Sunday.

Ford costs start low—Ford costs stay low...

Certified studies show Ford Trucks last longer than any of the other four leading makes

Compare Ford model for model with any other truck line and you'll find that, based on factory-suggested list prices, Ford has more models priced under competition than any other line.

But low initial cost is only one of the reasons why Fords cost less. Take resale value—it stays high, thanks to the demand for used Ford Trucks. Take operating costs—no other trucks give you the dependability of Ford's rugged chassis design with the gas and oil economy of a modern Short Stroke engine. Only Ford gives you a Short Stroke engine, V-8 or Six, in every truck—and at no extra cost.

Ford Trucks cost less to maintain because they last longer. This is a fact certified by independent life insurance experts. There are plenty of reasons why. Ford Pickups, for example, have the highest combined front and rear axle capacity in the half-ton field. Ford Heavy Duty engines have sodium-cooled valves that last up to five times longer because they run up to 225 degrees cooler.

When you take everything into consideration, you'll agree it costs less to own a FORD Truck. Before you buy any truck, see your Ford Dealer.

FORD TRUCKS LAST LONGER

Certified by independent insurance actuaries for the ninth consecutive year! Studies of over 10,000,000 current license registrations show that Ford Trucks last up to 9.9% longer than any of the other 4 leading truck makes!

Current Literature Club Presents Guest Day Fri. April 27th

April 27th was Guest Day at the Current Literature club meeting in the Mary Martha Room of the First Baptist church of Burkburnett, which was tastefully decorated with Spring Flower arrangements.

Guests were greeted by club president, Mrs. F. G. Jeffers assisted by other officers. After registering in the Guest Book, over which Mrs. F. M. McMurry presided, they were served Lime ice from a beautiful lace covered table by Miss Ella Billingslea and Mrs. C. M. Archer. Miss Jean Dodson furnished soft background music.

Mrs. Jeffers gave a very gracious welcome and recognized the members and visitors from the various clubs of the City and presented one of the Current Literature club members, Mrs. Fred Hunt, who charmingly and ably reviewed the book "Valley of the Vines" by Joy Packer. Approximately 35 attended the Review.

Miss Frances Clark Director Of Sextet

The Mary Hardin-Baylor Sextet appeared in Dallas, Friday, April 20th representing the 4th District of the Texas Federation of Music clubs at the state convention. The ensemble received this invitation after being presented in Waco last October.

The sextet, including Wynne Machino, Ft. Smith, Ark.; Tommie Halbert, Epps, La.; Linda Renfro, Cleburne; Johnette Shaffer, Marble Falls; Willie Ruth Boyd, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Caroline Valdivia, Harlingen was selected by its director, Miss Mary Frances Clark, early last fall because of the quality of the voices and the outstanding blend. The Sextet has made many television, radio and personal appearances this year.

Accompanying the ensemble in the original score of piano duet were Jackie Campbell Richardson and Mary Ann Adams, Georgetown. Bonnie Phillips, Pasadena, regular accompanist, augmented the sextet in its Dallas appearance.

Notes from County Ag. Agent and HD Agent

The Wichita Valley DHIA during the last month ranked second in the state with 790 average pounds of milk and second in the state with average pounds of fat. The average pounds of fat was 32 pounds. This speaks well for the dairy program in this area. We have 26 dairy farmers in the Wichita Valley DHIA Association. Anyone interested in joining the Association is asked to call B. T. Haws, county agent, or H. R. Chandler, DHIA technician in Wichita Falls.

Now is a good time to plant your temporary summer pasture for your livestock. You cannot beat sudan. Plant an acre per cow. Make plans now for that silage crop for your dairy herd.

The confinement method of rearing the replacement laying flock during recent years has grown in favor with Wichita County Poultry producers. The method has several advantages over the range method of rearing pullets, according to B. T. Haws, county agent.

The USDA reports that farm real estate values in Texas dropped slightly—1 percent during the last four months of 1955 but was 3 percent higher on November 1, 1955 than on the same date a year earlier.

Effective June 1, 1956, the Commercial grade of beef will be divided into two new grades designated as Standard and Commercial. The Standard grade will apply to beef from younger animals. Commercial will be retained by beef from mature animals falling in the present commercial grade.

Over half of the lamb and mutton produced in the nation in 1954 went to New York, California and Massachusetts, says a USDA report.

Prices for consumer goods and services are expected to rise slightly during 1956, according to Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent. However, food, the biggest item of the family budget, is expected to show little change. This should tend to keep overall increases in family living small.

On the whole, farm families maintained their level of living during 1955 despite a drop in farm income. Increase of income from non-farm employment is one factor which made this possible. The latest agricultural census shows an increase of farm operators working more than 100 days off the farm. It also shows 22 percent of the farm wives now in the labor force.

Decrease in family savings is another result of the squeeze between a drop in income and increased prices for consumer goods. Families in the south keeping records of expense show a decline of home produced foods. Records from home accounts show more spent for clothing in 1954 than in previous years, while the country as a whole spent less. Records also show more spent for furnishings and equipment.

Farm family enrollment in voluntary health insurance program has been slow. Latest figures show 45 percent of rural families participating in such programs as contrasted with 70 percent of urban families.

Beginning with the second quarter in 1956, most farm operators will be covered by old age security insurance. This will provide protection against the risk of death of the bread winner. It will give retirement benefits to the farm operator at the age of 65, as it does to the city workers.

Price trends and a decline of farm income indicates that farm families must add income from non-farm sources, or reduce their savings in order to maintain the present level of living. Home production of food also offers a hedge against lower cash incomes.

Mrs. Herbert Adams, Mrs. R. J. Ring, Mrs. C. H. Bowman, Miss Thelma Wirges and Mrs. Nellie Cobb attended the District TH-DA meeting in Childress this past week.

Mrs. Gail Mitchell, County Civil Defense chairman and members of the Valley Farms demonstration club are planning a civil defense program for Thursday, May 4th at 7:30 p. m. in the Valley Farm Community House. This is an important subject in the Wichita Falls area and everyone is urged to attend.

Infestation Of Grasshoppers

Farmers should be alert to the possibility of severe grasshopper infestations this spring and summer and be ready if necessary, to take the proper control measures in time to stop heavy crop damage, says B. T. Haws, county agent. Observation made by the county agent shows some grasshoppers hatching out in Wichita County.

USDA reports indicate that farmers will need to be on the lookout for hoppers in Panhandle and southward along caprock and from the Red River into deep Central Texas.

If conditions are favorable, young wingless grasshoppers will begin hatching during this month and during May and possibly June. Applications of insecticides should begin as soon as possible after hatching, and if the insects are numerous, several applications may be necessary. In applying insecticides, farmers should look for hatching grounds on roadsides, field margins, ditch banks and unused bordering croplands. Treatment of these areas will prevent hoppers from moving into the fields where such operations as plowing and disking may already have cut down the numbers of hatchable eggs.

In the use of any insecticide the instructions of the manufacturer should be carefully followed to avoid harmful residues on crops. County agents are a good source of information about specific measures to be used in any particular region or situation.

A number of insecticides are effective in grasshopper control. Aldrin, dieldrin, heptachlor and toxaphene are among those listed.

Flock Replacement Largest Expense In Producing Eggs

Flock replacement costs, determined by pullet costs and rate of lay, next to feed are the largest expense item in producing eggs. Therefore, says B. T. Haws, county agent, the cost of producing pullets is a major consideration in a successful poultry operation.

Generally, points out Haws, costs are figured on the basis of the number of days required for the flocks to reach 50 percent production. At this rate of lay, the pullet will normally pay a return over the current feed costs. In the 1955-56 Texas Random Sample Test the pullets averaged 172 days (24½ weeks) of age when they reached 50 percent egg production. The range of the entries tested was from 157 to 181 days.

Haws estimates the major cost of producing pullets at about $2.16 per bird. He breaks the figures down this way: 110 pullets $66 (10 extras to provide for 10 percent mortality); feed $100; $25 for labor and the same for other costs other than feed, chicks and labor. Thus $216 would be needed to get 100 pullets to the stage of 50 percent production. The costs will vary, he adds, depending upon prices and practices of individual poultrymen. A high figure will make the replacement cost per dozen eggs high during the laying year.

Excessive mortality of feed wastage during the pullet growing period must be avoided if costs are to be kept low, says Haws. He advises a daily check for spotting "off conditions" and recommends immediate diagnosis and corrective treatment to prevent serious disease or parasite troubles.

Wasted feed is money thrown away. Provide at least four inches of feeder space per bird after two months and keep the feed level at least two inches below the lip of a good feeder. Keep the feeders shoulder high to the pullets as they grow, advises Haws.

Plenty of good, clean water is a must. Pullets will drink two to three pounds of water for each pound of feed consumed and the water trough space should equal at least a sixth of the feeder space. An inch per bird is recommended during hot weather. Finally, says Haws, the ultimate profit per hen depends on how well and cheap the pullets are produced.

Most of us are able to make both ends meet. What we'd like to do is see 'em overlap a little.

Sermon "Who Dunnit?"
Evening Service—7:30 (Acts 14)

A chaplain in the service of his country was once heard to say to a young soldier seeking his advice on prayer, "Remember, son, when you go to God in prayer, you are not giving Him orders; you are reporting for duty." Jesus gave the illustration of two types of prayer, one acceptable; one not acceptable. The first involved a self-righteous Pharisee who prayed with great show, "I am thankful that I am not as other men are." While the second bowed his head humbly to say, "God be merciful to me a sinner." Then Jesus explained that the first man prayed in vain while the second man's prayer was accepted.

When we pray, do we give God orders or do we report for duty? Do we pray vain, repetitious, worn-out, carbon, copied, half hearted prayers? Or, do we pray in a humble fashion that God might point out our duty. Think before you pray; be humble before Him who is mighty.

Texas Employment Commission

April 30 Deadline for Reports

Several thousand Texas employers are apparently letting a new tax deadline of April 30th creep up unheeded, the Texas Employment Commission warned today.

After that date the employers of four or more people in twenty weeks during the last half of 1955 face possible penalties if they have not filed wage returns with the TEC and paid unemployment taxes for January, February and March.

Forms are available at any local TEC office, the warning added, or can be secured by writing the Texas Employment Commission at Austin.

Those who had four or more people employed for as many as twenty weeks last year became subject to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Program this year. Previously, only employers of eight or more had been affected.

In news releases and by direct mail, the TEC has tried to contact the 30,000 employers who are liable for payroll taxes in 1956. The beginning tax rate is three per cent—2.7 per cent going into the state's unemployment compensation fund. The remaining 0.3 per cent is collected by the Federal Government for administrative purposes. A lower rate is possible later on under the state's program, using the employer's experience as a basis for reduction.

A spokesman for the Commission estimates that more than ten thousand employers have not yet reported.

Kay and Robbie Brummage of Dallas spent last weekend with their cousins, Phyllis and Joan Kress of Burkburnett.

Lifeblood of Egypt

THE STORIED NILE: Since the beginning of time, inhabitants of the African Continent have watched the ebb and flow of the mighty Nile as the gauge of their annual prosperity. The River Nile, the lifeblood of Egypt, has played an important role in the history of Egypt and Africa, both economically and politically, in many instances tipping the scales one way or the other. On both sides of the Nile in Cairo can be seen houseboats in which all conveniences can be found during the hot days in summer. The sailing boats, called Feluccas, add to the picturesque scene along the river, and are very popular with tourists for moonlight trips. The tall building shown in this picture is a modern hotel and has a well arranged roof garden overlooking the water.

Oasis of Siwa Is a Refuge in Egyptian Desert

To the traveler who penetrates the Libyan desert of Egypt with its seemingly endless sands, with here and there a softly curving dune, the oasis of Siwa is first perceived as a very slight sinking in the road.

Soon, lakes which become larger and larger begin to break the harsh monotony of the desert and then one can make out the graceful outline of palm trees. These lakes with their sparkling water constitute for the visitor a real marvel. After the miles and miles of barren sands they seem to him almost like a mirage. They make of Siwa the most delightful and the most luxuriant of Egypt's oases.

To the marvel of the lakes must be added the delight of the springs which feed them. Certain historians say that there used once to be a thousand of them in Siwa. Nowadays there are only about two hundred, half of which are used by the inhabitants for drinking water and for irrigation.

These springs are remarkable for their infinite variety. One is cold, another warm; this one is mineral, that sulphurous. The springs have often been mentioned by name in history. Herodotus, for example, spoke of that of Cleopatra and of the Sun, situated near to the temple of Amun and the waters of which varied in temperature according to the time of day—becoming icy at mid-day, and warm during the night.

Here's what the well-dressed man about town is wearing for his leisure hours this season. The candy-striped shirt and bright solid shorts are of Avondale's perma-pressed cottons that are wrinkle-resistant and require little or no ironing. The outfit is designed by Alfred of New York.

PAINT POINTERS

A floor may be power-sanded and re-done with two coats in one day, using penetrating wood finish. This is a clear, varnish-like material that enhances the natural grain of the wood and is preferred by many homeowners. Penetrating wood finish, or sealer, is simply swabbed on and allowed to soak in for 15 minutes. Then the floor is wiped dry. After a couple of hours the process is repeated. Varnish or wax may be applied next day but two coats of the sealer alone provide a beautiful surface that will stand a lot of traffic for a long time.
