GOOD RECORDS SAVE TAX DOLLARS

Good record keeping throughout the year can save tax dollars at income tax filing time. Taxpayers who keep good records are less likely to overlook deductions to which they are entitled, says Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue in northern Texas. Those who itemize their deductions on page 2, Form 1040, should keep cancelled checks, receipts, statements and other data to support them. One way to keep records is to get a supply of large envelopes or folders, label them according to the types of income and deductions you have, and accumulate the information, Mr. Campbell said. If you keep good records, preparing your 1967 tax return will be a much easier task, the Internal Revenue Service official said.

Art Exhibit Viewed Here

Students, teachers and some parents enjoyed a rare treat last week, due to the courtesy of Dr. Paul B. Crawford, of Bryan. The group had the privilege of seeing an art exhibit done by school children in Greece. Dr. Crawford works closely with the Bryan Public Schools, and Texas A&M University. On a visit to Greece, and the Holy Land in the early spring on a research project, Dr. Crawford visited many of the Elementary schools in both countries. Dr. Crawford was especially impressed with the beautiful work of art done by the children. He arranged for an exchange program in art, between our schools and the Bryan Public Schools. Pictures were sent to Dr. Crawford from Israel and Greece. Dr. Crawford sent the exhibit to Miss Madalin Hunt, who was responsible for having it displayed in the Haskell Elementary School. Students, teachers and parents were greatly impressed with the subject matter, the materials in which the pictures were done, and the high quality of work done in art by Greek Elementary schools. Teachers feel that it was a fine experience for our children, and they think it will encourage them to meet the high standards of the Greek schools next year. We hope to prepare some work to send to Dr. Crawford to help with his exchange program. Madaline Hunt, third grade Elementary teacher here, said.

TEXAS CALENDAR OF EVENTS IS OFF THE PRESS

The cowboy and the pioneer are favorite subjects for Texas recreation and community events this spring and summer, according to the Texas Calendar of Events just published by the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department. A full one-fourth of nearly 450 events in 177 cities are rodeos, reunions and frontier day celebrations. The April 1 to September 30 pocket-size guide carries still another 41 events featuring horse shows and race meets. Forecasting a possible "Texas, Land of Water" slogan are 64 water sport, fishing and aquatic events with every area of the state represented. In addition, fairs, art exhibits, music festivals, flower shows and sports are scheduled for each month. The semi-annual calendars are part of some four million pieces of free travel literature provided annually by mail, and to 750,000 travelers who visit the Highway Department's eight Tourist Bureaus. A copy of the new calendar may be obtained by writing the Travel and Information Department, Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 78703.

LOCAL COLOR FOR SANTA ROSA—The Santa Rosa Palomino Club will provide incomparable "local color" for the 22nd annual Santa Rosa Roundup at Vernon June 7-10. The colorful mounted group, featuring perfectly matched palominos and equipment, have headlined as special attractions many of the big city rodeos across the country. But they're nowhere more appreciated than at Vernon, where their precision drills have been an annual feature of the Santa Rosa Roundup, which was founded by the late E. Paul Waggoner. The proud non-professional group, riding with breath-taking precision that professionals could envy, has packed home over the years more first place trophies than it can find space in which to display them. Many other special attractions, in addition to the usual four nights of solid rodeo fare, are planned for this year's Roundup by general manager John Biggs.

California Creek Soil And Water District Enters Competition

The California Creek Soil & Water Conservation District has entered the 21st annual Good-year competition to select the nation's top 53 conservation districts, according to Gene Overton, Route 1, Haskell, district chairman. Activities of the district will be weighed against the performance of other districts in the state in determining the outstanding district in the annual event sponsored by the Good-year Tire & Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio. Key agricultural leaders will serve as judges and will select the state winner. Soil Conservation efforts from January 1, 1967, through December 31, 1967, will be awarded. Grand award for the 53 districts selected nationally will be an expense paid, work-study trip to Arizona in December, 1968, for one member of the district governing body and the outstanding farmer-cooperator in each winning district. The 105 men selected will be guests at Goodyear Farms, a 14,000-acre general farm operation near Phoenix. California Creek District Supervisors are M. E. (Gene) Overton, Route 1, Haskell; John R. Brown, Jr., Route 3, Hamlin; D. B. Sauls, Box 206, Hamlin; Elmer Boedeker, Sargent, and H. Birger Haterus, Route 1, Avoca. Overton said the district's outstanding cooperator will be selected from over the 1,605 farm operators enrolled in the district program. Nationally, over 2,000,000 farmers in over 2,950 districts have signed cooperative agreements with local soil and water conservation districts.

Draft Boards Issues Advice To College, University Students

The state director of Texas draft boards recently advised nearly 100,000 draft-age college and university undergraduates classified in Class II-S to take action before the end of the spring semester on an "important matter for their possible benefit." Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, urged these students to request their college or university registrars to send their class standings for the 1966-67 school year to their local boards as soon as these standings are available after the spring semester ends. "If these class standings are not sent in for the 1966-67 school year, it is likely that a lot of these students will get reclassified into Class I-A next fall just because their draft boards don't have this information," the state draft director said. "Some colleges and universities will report these class standings without requests from the students," he continued, "but others will do it only when the student asks that it be done." Because class standings were not sent in on many college students in Class II-S during the summer of 1966 for the 1965-66 school year, approximately a third of them in Texas were reclassified into Class I-A. "Eventually nearly all of these were restored to Class II-S," Col. Schwartz said, "because they took steps to get the class standings upon reclassification, but some had to undergo the armed forces physical examination and some got orders to report for induction into the armed services before certificates for class standing reached their local boards." College and university registrars will be able to report the class standings during the summer after all grades are reported and compared. The standings are reported to local boards by the registrars on Selective Service System Forms Nos. 109 or 109-A, or on forms designed by the colleges and universities themselves. Class standings are not reported on graduate students and students of professions such as medicine, dentistry and law. Only satisfactory or unsatisfactory performance is reported on these.

80 Four-Year, 115 Two-Year ROTC Scholarships Told In Fourth Army

Eighty of a total of 800 four-year Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) scholarships awarded in the entire United States will be offered to outstanding high school graduates living in the five-state area encompassed by Fourth U. S. Army, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Of this number, 55 will be offered to Texans, the second largest individual state allocation; Virginia will have 81 scholarships. Winners were selected from over 12,000 high school seniors who applied. Students selected for the scholarships may attend any of the 247 colleges and universities offering the four-year ROTC program in the United States. Each scholarship pays for tuition, textbooks, laboratory fees and provides a subsistence allowance of $50 a month. During a six-week summer camp between the junior and senior years of college, the student receives $151.95 per month. In addition, the Fourth Army area will receive 115 of a national total of 856 two-year ROTC scholarships, awarded to college students completing the second year of Army ROTC training. The ROTC scholarship program was authorized by Congress in 1961. Approximately 2,200 scholarships were awarded during the past two years. The selection of recipients is based on academic excellence, extracurricular activities, physical standards, results of college entrance examination boards and evaluation of motivation and leadership potential. Upon graduation from college and successful completion of the Army ROTC program, scholarship students are commissioned second lieutenants in the U. S. Army and serve on active duty for four years. High school seniors desiring to compete for the four-year scholarships next year should write for application blanks in December 1967 (or earlier) and submit completed applications by Jan. 15, 1968. Address letters to: Commanding General, Fourth U. S. Army, ATTN: AKAAG-R, Fort Sam Houston, Texas 78234.

BE PATIENT ABOUT YOUR REFUND
If you filed your tax return at the last minute, don't expect that refund check to get there in a few days. It takes longer for Internal Revenue to process the flood of returns that come in at the last minute. Last-minute filers tend to make more errors in the excitement of meeting the deadline. This further delays the refund checks. The best policy is to be patient. If you haven't heard from Internal Revenue by July 1, write and ask them what happened.

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

I hope the rain last night was all over the community. We had 8/10s here and it seemed heavier southeast of us. Farmers who planted Concho and other late maturing wheat are right in the middle of their harvest. But maybe the wind didn't blow any grain. Gene said it was just a steady, straight down rain like they had in the tropics. It lasted almost an hour.
Mr. and Mrs. Phil Williams of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mickler.
Mike Overton of Texas A&M spent the weekend with home-folks. He returned to the campus to take finals this week. He moved some of his things home as he came and you should have seen that Volkswagen with a 6-drawer desk, his books, lamp, clothes, golf clubs and him in it. I don't know how these college boys do it. To remove the desk from a VW, one removes the front seats, and the desk is easily moved out. I had to be shown.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Montgomery are spending several days with their son, Carlos, his wife and children in Midland.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry were in Lubbock last weekend to visit their daughter, Milla, and to move her from one dorm to another. Milla is going to summer school at Texas Tech this summer.
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Chaney of Abilene spent the weekend with their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. James Ross Mickler and children.
Janay and Vicki Morrison of H-SU are spending this week at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morrison and Jo. They return to school for the summer session next week.
Mr. and Mrs. Pat Moberly were in Abilene Sunday with his father, Guy Moberly of Plainview, who is recuperating from eye surgery at Hendrick Memorial Hospital.
Mrs. W. S. Cole was a visitor in the community last Wednesday morning with her niece, Mrs. Gene Overton and family. William called last night and he can't bring his "Peecos Bill and the Indians" out here. His school closed yesterday and his cast are all involved with Little League, Drivers Ed and one is to sing in a wedding. The parents all approved of the trip, and the boys and girls were so excited about coming to the country, but there were just too many conflicts. He surely appreciates everything everyone did in planning the trip. Especially do we all appreciate you who

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hunter's yard is an enclosed, shady retreat. Tall arbutus and magnolia trees screen the yard from the street. Brick walls complete the enclosure. An L-shaped flower bed, filled with periwinkles (vinca) runs the full length of the north wall of the yard and down the west side of the house. A lone photinia guards the bed next to the house.
Pink four-o'clocks, wax leaf ligustrum and grape myrtle march along the garage. A winding walk meanders through the yard, past the garage to the back gate. Yard furniture, resting beneath the towering shade trees, seem to say "welcome" to all callers and give an invitation to sit and drink in the beauty of the yard.
A bird bath and swinging feeders attract many hungry birds. Gene and Margaret can watch the birds bathe and eat as they sit in their den.
A small wing of the yard is graced by three flower beds nesting beneath a spreading non-bearing Mulberry tree. A border of oxalis makes a frame for a bed of vinca minor and cannas.
Cannas grow along a low redwood fence in the east flower bed. But the brightest picture of all is a bed of Comanche petunias of fiery red, purple and white, bordered by a hedge of Chinese boxwood that runs the full length of the den.
A very large plum tree acts as a background for a winged barbecue pit. Roses climb a trellis nearby.
Just outside of the north wall a long bed of flowers gives color for many months. A sweetpea tree with long racemes of pink blossoms blooms early in the spring.

Open Meetings Mandatory By Governing Bodies

Gov. John Connally, on May 22, signed into law an "Open Meetings" bill which he proclaimed as "a great step forward for the people of Texas."

He was referring to Senate Bill 94 sponsored by Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena. Similar legislation was introduced in the House by Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville.

Passage of the "Open Meetings" legislation at the 1967 session culminated a drive that began some 20 years ago. It was engineered by legislators and the press to insure a better flow of information to the public.

At the bill signing ceremony, Gov. Connally made this statement regarding the importance of the legislation:

"Senate Bill 94, commonly known as the open meetings bill, provides basically that all meetings of boards, agencies and commissions shall be open meetings, open to the press. This is something that the working press throughout the state have been interested in for a long, long time. I think it's an historic and significant bill and a significant day."

"Certainly there's never been any desire, as far as I know, on the part of anyone who serves on a board or an agency or commission to transact its business under the cloak of secrecy. But, nevertheless, the meetings have from time to time, been closed."

Connally added: "This bill will now end that and provide that all the meetings shall be open to the press. It is a great step forward in trying to provide a means where the public can be more informed with respect to governmental affairs and public affairs."

Beyond any question, one of the weaknesses of a democratic society is that it is always difficult to try to articulate and to inform the public of the problems that surround the administration of government. I personally feel that if the public is informed if it has the knowledge, people themselves will always make the right decisions. And this is going to be a step in providing the means where people can be better informed on the workings of their government."

Gov. Connally further stated: "This is particularly important because the affairs of this state are run by the various agencies, boards and commissions. People generally do not quite understand the significance of these various boards, agencies and commissions and the work that they do and the decisions they make. It is really the heart and the essence of government in Texas."

"So I want to applaud the efforts of the press itself to bring into light and to the awareness of the Legislature the need for this type of legislation. I want to commend the members of the Legislature who supported it and congratulate the people of Texas that they now can be better informed on their own affairs."

Excepted in the bill, so far as open meetings are concerned, are grand juries and certain executive sessions supported by or expending public funds. The law also excepts meetings called to consider the appointment, employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such persons, unless the individual concerned requests a public hearing.

Similar legislation was introduced by the Texas Press Association some 20 years ago. This year it had the backing not only of TPA but also the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity, plus the support of radio and television media.

Co-sponsors of the new law, in addition to Senator Brooks, were the following Senators: Joe Christie of El Paso, Barbara Jordan of Houston, Criss Cole of Houston, Henry C. Grover of Houston, A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, and Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

Joining Rep. Rapp in escorting the bill through the House were Representatives Russell Cummings and Paul Floyd, both of Houston.

To Do, Or Not To Do, Your Own Remodeling Confronts Homeowners

To do, or not to do, your own remodeling is a question confronting many homeowners this spring, says Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist with Texas A&M University.

Whether to secure a professional contractor depends to a large extent on the skill of the homeowner and the project he has in mind. It is possible for the homeowner to do his own contracting by entering into a separate agreement with all the sub-contractors, ordering all the materials and directing workmen on the job.

Many minor home improvements and repairs can be undertaken by the non-professional without fear of complete failure or unnecessary expense. Many materials suppliers have recognized the interest homeowners have in making improvements themselves, and have developed simplified materials and methods to assure a professional job. The installation of a tile floor for the basement or utility room, applying paneling to a junior's room, or converting unused space into a storage area are typical projects which the average homemaker can usually do.

Contracting a major home improvement or a remodeling job without experience in construction is, at best, a gamble. Mrs. Berry points out. Only in rare cases does the self-styled contractor save a professional contractor's profit and overhead.

In the event of serious complications, the homeowner-contractor will be completely on his own. There will be no contract to assure him that the job will be completed in the face of unforeseen problems.

The homeowner can compromise, though, by letting a professional contractor handle the job, with the agreement that certain minor jobs will be handled by the homeowner himself.

Contracting a major home improvement or a remodeling job without experience in construction is, at best, a gamble. Mrs. Berry points out. Only in rare cases does the self-styled contractor save a professional contractor's profit and overhead.

Herald of Truth Radio Series Being Broadcast

Herald of Truth international religious radio programs are now being broadcast on KCAD, Abilene, Sunday, at 7:30 a. m. John Allen Chalk, the young evangelist named "Outstanding Young Men of America," and nominated for "Outstanding Young Man of Tennessee" in 1964, is the radio speaker.

Herald of Truth programs are currently being broadcast by 770 radio stations and telecast by 148 television stations in more than 14 countries.

The program is produced by the Highland Church of Christ in Abilene, and supported by Churches of Christ and interested individuals throughout the world.

Herald of Truth expanded to television in 1954 with 23 stations and has grown steadily since that time. It is now one of three half-hour religious programs in America produced exclusively in color.

Presented in an undenominational format, the Herald of Truth has a goal of world saturation with the Christian message.

Herald of Truth is the only international religious telecast produced under the supervision of a single congregation.

Starting with a program of radio sermons and a cappella music, the Herald of Truth later entered television with programs of actual worship services of congregations.

In 1960 the first dramatic series was produced, featuring Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter, well-known minister and Christian educator, assisted by a cast of church members with professional dramatic experience.

A new concept in religious television was introduced the next year in the "Living Christianity" series, which related true-life, documented episodes of conversion and Christian development.

Today radio programs are taped with careful attention to detail and quality to ensure utilization of the new dimensions of sound available in modern radio.

Dear Parents,
"I BELIEVE IN GOD" is the selected theme for the Vacation Bible School, June 5th-9th, TIME (9 a. m. until 11:00 a. m.) at the CHURCH OF CHRIST building in Haskell. We believe this would be an excellent opportunity for all children to learn more about God, His creations, and His will. The Bible says that the Word of God is quicker and powerful and sharper than any two-edged sword, Heb. 4:12. Due to the high rate of crime and immorality in our country today it is evident that our children need to be fully educated to cope with these problems. We believe that the knowledge of the Word of God can do more to keep our children from being a part of crime and immorality than any other type of education. In Proverbs 22:6 we are told to train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it.
It would please God and us to have you and your children attend this Bible School. We will only teach the Bible which we feel is sufficient to accomplish our purpose. Nursery through adult classes will be taught. Refreshments will be served and transportation available.
Please call 864-2896 for transportation which will be provided to and from classes. Won't you consider bringing or sending your children. The invitation is yours as well as the benefits derived from it.
