Indians Maul Munday Moguls; Meet Bulldogs Friday Night

Led by Quarterback Lamy Ivy, the Haskell Indians went on the warpath last Friday night and scalped the Munday Moguls 42-13 in a non-conference game played at Munday.

Ivy started the scoring with 9:28 left in the first quarter as he passed to Gary Felker for the touch-down and then kicked the extra point.

Munday came charging back in the same period, with only 2:58 left with Quarterback

Stamford Bulldogs Next

The Haskell Indians, victorious in three non-conference games thus far this young season, will be playing for keeps when they meet the mighty Bulldogs of Stamford here tomorrow night, Friday, in the first conference game.

Thus far this season the Indians have not been tested, but will definitely meet the "acid-test" against Stamford.

Indian stadium is expected to be packed to capacity to view what perhaps could be the most hard-fought game of the year, between these two arch rivals.

Wayne Ziffel's 20-yard Pass To Bulkin

Wayne Ziffel's 20-yard pass to Wayne Bulkin and Donnie Michalik's extra point conversion, knotting the score 7-7.

This seemed to infuriate the Indians as the blasted out 21 points in the second period, to take a 28-7 lead into the half. It started with a four-yard keeper by Ivy and his point-after with 8:19 left in the half.

With 2:13 remaining in the first half, Charles Franklin sped 14 yards for the Haskell score. Ivy's kick was good. Another keeper by Ivy, this time for five yards, finished the first half scoring. The extra point by Ivy was again good.

Another Ziffel pass, again to Bulkin, led-off the second half scoring, as Munday attempted to get on the score board again. With 8:27 left in the third period Bulkin took a three-yard toss into the end zone.

Terry Chapman put the Indians on the board again in the third quarter with a 20-yard romp, followed by Ivy's kick. Haskell again hit pay dirt with 6:16 left in the fourth, as "Rabbit" Franklin scampered 44 yards for the score. Ivy kicked the point-after.

FAMILY FIRE DRILL

Conduct family fire drills at least once a year, says Johnny Hartford, Hartford Insurance Group's Junior Fire Marshal. Plan more than one way to escape from every part of the house.

BORDER BEAUTIES

Pink Heather alyssum makes an effective border to unite flowers of many sorts in the long bed behind the planting.

Mini-Pink is a color selection from the dwarf zinnia, Thumbelina. The 6-inch-high plants are pretty as a border.

Borders are important in the garden because they unify the plantings, an effect hard to achieve by other means. An elaborate planting is not necessary, nor is one of rare or unusual flowers.

A border should, however, be entirely of one kind of flower that does not vary greatly in either height or spread. The flowers may be of one color or of the varied colors available within a single kind or variety.

Shown above are two of the best border plants—sweet alyssum and dwarf zinnias. Several years ago, a truly tiny zinnia, only 6 inches in height, was introduced and named Thumbelina. Perfect for a border, this has 1 1/2-inch-wide flowers of red, yellow, pink, rose and white.

Colors now have been selected from this strain so that a border of one color is possible. The variety pictured is one selection—named Mini-Pink.

For generations sweet alyssum was known only with a white flower. There still are white-flowered varieties available such as Carpet of Snow, Little Gem, Tetra Snowdrift or even the old-time Sweet, the original wild, honey-scented alyssum that added the adjective to the flower name.

But there also are varieties with colored blooms: Royal Carpet, purple; Violet Queen and Pink Heather, names of which describe their blossom colors; and Rosie O'Day which has rose-pink blossoms.

So, within just the ranges of dwarf zinnias and sweet alyssum, many color combinations are possible between the border plantings and the flowers in the border.

Both sweet alyssum and dwarf zinnias are best grown from seed sown in a sunny place wherever the flowers are to bloom.

SIX FLAGS TO BEGIN FALL SCHEDULE NEW $20,000,000 CALIFORNIA PARK DUE

The world's largest land-based oil derrick, which will be Six Flags Over Texas' newest attraction, is seen in this artist's rendering. Construction is already under way on this 300-foot "rig," which will be the tallest single structure at the popular 140-acre, $18,000,000 theme entertainment center located in Arlington, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Arlington, Texas: Six Flags Over Texas will begin its Fall operating schedule on September 7 and will operate on Saturdays and Sundays only until the 1968 season ends on December 1. Operating hours will be from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The popular historical-theme entertainment center, located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, has set Monday, September 2, as the final day of the Summer season, during which Six Flags has been open seven days a week.

Angus G. Wynne, Jr., President of Great Southwest Corporation which owns and operates the Six Flags Over Texas and Six Flags Over Georgia (Atlanta) entertainment centers, announced last week that the company will build a new 147-acre, $20,000,000 theme entertainment center in the Oakland/San Francisco Bay Area on the West Coast. The new park, tentatively named Six Flags Over California, is located east of Oakland in the city of Pleasanton. The California Park is scheduled to open in the Spring of 1971.

Construction of new attractions at Six Flags Over Texas for the 1969 season is already under way with the building of the world's largest land-based oil derrick. This 300-foot oil rig will tower 300 feet in the air and will be supported by 800,000 pounds of steel. Costing in excess of half a million dollars, the oil derrick is located on a new 1.5-acre site near the Boomtown area of the Park. Giant elevators will take visitors to the two top observation platforms at the 267- and 255-foot levels.

The Oil Derrick will become the most prominent single structure at Six Flags, looming far above the 190-foot Sky Hook and 55-foot Astrolift rides.

VIETNAM VIEW

(As reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by Gysgt Bob Montgomery)

Vietnam does offer an occasional chuckle and opportunity to display a bit of humor if you are so inclined.

The 1st Marine Division Sergeant Major recently received the following letter which was apparently intended for blanket distribution to all stateside Marine Corps bases:

"To assist the Career Advisory Program for retention of Marine it would be most helpful if you have any information like books, pamphlets, or any publication giving information on housing or the duty at your base or station that can be used to encourage Marines to extend or re-enlist for duty there."

Pulling no punches the Sgt. Major forwarded this reply, "I received your inquiry concerning housing and duty at my duty station today. I'm sorry, but we don't have a book or brochure, so I'll have to give you the details.

"We are fortunate in that we have a beautiful tropical climate and a variety of housing, some of which is quite similar to stateside bases, some of which is not. For example, we have huts, bunkers, shelter halves and the usual collection of tents. Many of them have running water, especially at this time of year. Mine does. Married personnel have a few problems here. We treat them all alike..."

"Uncle Sam not only pays us extra for serving here, we are also tax exempt."

"We also have shuttle runs to 11 Far East cities which are provided free of cost by our indulgent 'Uncle,' just to provide us with five days of relaxation... Check with your local travel agency to see what any one of these trips cost stateside."

"Sometimes the troops go picnicking and carry box lunches. These contain ham, pork, lima beans, hot dogs and beans, fruit, bread, candy, coffee and sometimes even cocoa..."

"Our Marines learn a variety of trades here; bridge building, sandbag filling, bunker building, sandbag filling, carpentry, sandbag filling, maintenance and care of a variety of the latest firearms issued to all who furnish proper identification. In short, it is a little more interesting than the routine guard duty and classroom instruction you are faced with.

"I hope the above details about our duty station will help you in your re-enlistment program. Sincerely, Sgt. Major, 1st Marine Division, Da Nang, Vietnam."

They weren't using lever-action Winchester, but the new, versatile M-16 rifle.

They weren't wearing dusty, old, white Stetson hats, but green camouflaged helmets.

They weren't riding through sage brush and cactus, but walking through bamboo tree lines and rice paddies. You didn't hear "Head 'em up, move 'em out," but the cry, "Marines, let's go."

These props for a western-Vietnamese melodrama were staged when Viet Cong "cattle rustlers" stormed through a village south of Phu Bai, stampeding a herd of water buffalo.

Col. B. F. Meyers, commanding officer of the Twenty-sixth Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division was told by the village Chief of Thon Cahn Duon that an estimated force of 20 VC "rustlers" had a herd of 200 water buffalo from the village and forced the villagers to leave.

About three days later, after the homeless Vietnamese moved to the village of Trung Kien, a group of them went after their animals. The VC drove them off with small arms fire.

Then it was time for a showdown. The village chief appealed to the Twenty-sixth Marine Regiment for help.

On "Operation Buffalo," the nickname given to the Vietnamese cattle drive by Marines of "M" Co., 3rd Bn., Twenty-sixth Marines, the unit provided security for the Vietnamese "Vaqueros" as they rounded up the buffalo. As the operation kicked off, the "trail boss," 1st. Lieut. W. C. Hutsler, 26, Ferguson, Mo., formed his men around the herd to protect the "cowboys" while the buffalo were driven back to the village.

A Huey helicopter gunship "rode drag" on the buffalo straws, keeping them in the herd. When a stray broke from the herd the gunship swooped down and drove it back.

Haskell County Triple 4-H Club Elects Officers

Gary Stammer was elected president of the Haskell County Triple Four-H Club at a meeting held Wednesday, September 25th, in the community room of the Haskell National Bank.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, Charles Kirkland; secretary, Teresa Rogers; reporter, Linda Kirkland; song leader, Alma Benavides.

Council delegates are Linda Kirkland, Teresa Rogers, Kim and Gary Stammer.

Plans were made to enter a float in the Haskell County Fair parade October 31. Plans were also made to earn money to decorate the float by selling cakes, pies, candy and cup cakes. The club will also have a 4-H booth at the fair.

Attending the meeting were Kay Marville, Belia Perez, Jeff Stammer, Gary Stammer, Kim Stammer, Teresa Rogers, Linda Kirkland, Alma Benavides, Charles Kirkland and Lee Anderson.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

If your spouse is so cantankerous that you can't live with him (or her) the Texas community property law may cause you an income tax problem: IRS must consider the income of each spouse as community income up to the date of divorce. Even if you haven't seen them or spoken to them all year, before you file separate returns you have to take the income of both spouses and split the community income, with each filing on his or her half. If you itemize your deductions, these may have to be split, too. Don't blame the tax folks—they didn't get you into the community with your problem spouse. The good tax folks may be sympathetic, but they still have to follow the law. In Texas, for married folks, it's either a joint return, or each spouse filing on their half of the community income.

"H" Co., Combined Action Group assisted the villagers.

It was a long, hot "trail drive" for the weary Marines but there was one consolation not offered to cowboys of the old west—steak and cold drinks instead of beans and jerky were waiting on their return.

Haskell, Rule HS Students To Participate In Driving Tests

Students of Rule and Haskell High Schools will have an opportunity on Monday, October 7, at 9:30 a. m. at Rule and 1:15 p. m. at Haskell to see for themselves how the false impression and sense of security that a driver of a modern automobile gets, and does, often lead into the danger zone and trouble, when they participate in a series of driving tests. Connor Horton, and H. T. Wilkinson, announced.

The tests, which will be in two parts, will be given under the direction of Ben Bullard, Assistant Safety Director, Texas Farm Bureau.

High point of the demonstration will come when driving tests are made with various students and faculty members in the specially equipped car. An electric detonator which is mounted on the front bumper of the car, will fire yellow point bullets to indicate the distance required to stop the car in an emergency.

The driver being tested will be signalled to stop by the report of the first shell. The second will be fired automatically when the brake is applied, and the third when the car halts. Distance between the spots of paint will then be measured to determine reaction, braking and total stopping distances.

Tests will be limited to 20, 30 and 40 mile per hour speeds because the danger of making emergency stops at higher speeds. Police officers will be used as drivers in the high-speed tests.

As part of a program for safety on the highway, the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department presented this driving demonstration 876 times for 176,442 students in 202 different counties since 1957. The program is being brought to Haskell and Rule under the sponsorship of the Haskell County Farm Bureau, Dale Middlebrook, local president, advised.

The public is invited to attend.

Make Money! Have Food Booth At County Fair

The Haskell County Fair will be held at the Corral Building on Oct. 31-Nov. 2. The drawing crowd for the fair will include the five counties surrounding Haskell—Knox, Jones, Throckmorton, Stonewall and Shackelford. This may be the money-making opportunity that your club or church has been waiting for as a means to raise money.

The food booths may be purchased through the County Fair Association for $40 for three days, or 25% of the total amount made from the food booth. These booths are being offered on a "first come-first serve" basis. The food booths are being provided by local bottling companies. Water and electricity facilities are available. If the four food booths are not spoken for by October 10 by Haskell County organizations, the food booths may be purchased by out-of-county organizations. ## Local Appliance Dealers Tuning-Up For 1968 Waltz Through Washday

Local appliance dealers are tuning up for the 1968 Waltz Through Washday—the sixth industry-wide dance which began in 1963 and has increased in tempo with each succeeding year. "Let's Dance again" is the invitation and it's extended with free bonus S&H Green Stamps for the homemaker, exciting new home-laundry equipment and budgeted purchase plans. The Waltz will begin October 1, and extend through November 30.

West Texas Utilities is coordinating the 1968 Waltz in a 50-county area, and according to WTU representative, Bill Tedder, there will be 100 per cent participation by electric appliance dealers in the area.

Waltz Through Washday is nationwide, and one of the most successful campaigns ever staged by the home appliance industry. Individual manufacturers, the Association of Home

Appliance Manufacturers, and U. S. Steel supply promotional materials and plans the basic Waltz.

With the aid of the Waltz, 94.3 per cent of the nation's total wired homes have automatic washers, and 34.6 per cent have dryers. (Source: Starch Consumer Market Report; Time Magazine; MW Research Dept.) That comes to a whopping 56,638,488 washers and 20,781,452 dryers. 1967 sales alone accounted for 3,820,000 washers and 1,550,000 dryers. This year's waltz promises to up those figures by several million. Add to these figures the washers and dryers in homes not listed in the total wired homes research and the magnitude of the home laundry increases.

Washday Glamorized
 The phenomenal success of the Waltz can be attributed to the fact that washday has been glamorized. If someone had told grandmother that washday could be glamorized, she would have removed her reddening hands from the hot wash water and shaken a sudsy finger in her face. It was a long, toilsome day, and woe to the member of the family who dirtied more than a normal share of clothing and linens. Upholstered furniture was protected by dust covers or antimats.

Today, millions of women would consider it behind the times not to know how to "Waltz Through Washday." The family doesn't give a second thought to the number of washable clothes they wear or to the number of linens soiled. America has entered a bright, clean era—thanks to manufacturers of home laundry equipment.

NATURE'S WONDER FIBER

What is this fiber called cotton? Take a cotton boll apart and you'll find it's made up of several clusters of fluffy fiber. Each cluster contains seven to ten seeds. The cotton fibers... thousands of them in each cluster... grow from each seed, from thousands of cells in the seed wall. One hair-like fiber comes from each of the thousands of cells.

But this still doesn't explain the miracle of cotton, its flexible strength and comfort, its durability and soft absorbency when woven into fabric.

For answers to these questions, look at the fiber itself, and like the scientist, take a microscopic view.

The growing cotton fiber is a hollow tube. When it has completed its full growth, the tube has become layered, filled with twenty to thirty layers of cellulose. The layers are made up of infinitesimal fibrils arranged in spirals. This structure accounts for cotton's unusual combination of strength, flexibility and absorbency.

When the cotton boll opens, the fibers dry out. The dried fiber resembles a twisted soda straw, a shape that is ideal for spinning into yarns.

Man has never been able to duplicate in one artificial fiber the qualities found in Nature's wonder fiber, but he has been able to add more desirable properties to cotton through the wonders of science.

Thus, a fiber that is highly absorbent, that soaks up perspiration and moisture, can be made water-resistant if needed, with a special chemical finish.

And the fresh, crisp "hand", or feel of cotton fabric, can be made durable and resistant to wrinkles, by means of a finish that will last through many washings with only touch-up ironings.

In addition, the natural soft luster of cotton can be improved with special lustrous finishes, adding high sheen and polish to the fabric surface.

Cotton is already flexible, with natural "stretch." Yet this stretch can be chemically controlled, with fibers treated to spring back into permanent shape.

Moreover, agricultural scientists can breed into the cotton plant new and better fiber properties, such as greater length, strength, and fineness of fiber.

With its great adaptability for improvement added to unique natural qualities, cotton will never be outdated.

In fact, although cotton is thousands of years old, it's really the fiber of the future.

UNITED STATES ARMY IS LOOKING FOR YOUNG MEN

The United States Army is looking for young men who are interested in training as radio relay and carrier operations specialists.

To apply, a volunteer needs good hearing, some talent for electronics, like to work with his hands and have good eyesight for close work. He also must pass certain apt tests.

The Army conducts a special 12-week course in radio relay systems at Fort Gordon, Georgia. Sgt. Donald Hollister, local Army recruiter, has all the facts on the job.

Once enrolled, the radio relay specialist learns about basic carrier telephone and telegraph systems. He operates very high frequency radio systems. He installs, operates and performs limited maintenance on relay equipment. He tunes receivers and transmitters, checks their alignment, and maintains contact with distant radio stations.

After a soldier has gained experience, he oversees selection of radio locations, helps install the equipment and supervises radio technicians in operating relay stations.

A young man can enlist for this specialty and be guaranteed in writing that the Army will give him the necessary training.

JUNIOR FIRE MARSHALS LAUNCH HOME FIRE CHECK

Each year more school children join the ranks of Junior Fire Marshals in a program of fire prevention and safety sponsored by The Hartford Insurance Group.

Schools in Haskell are among 15,000 that participate. Here the program is coordinated through Hess Hartsfield of The Hartsfield Agency in cooperation with local school and fire department officials.

One of the first projects for Junior Fire Marshals this school year is an inspection of their homes for fire and safety hazards. With a check list in hand and under the guidance of their parents, the youngsters look for such common causes of fires and accidents as overloaded electrical cords and paints and other flammable liquids left in open containers or stored too close to furnaces.

According to Mr. Hartsfield the check list is part of the Fall issue of the Junior Fire Marshal magazine, which reaches several million children in the U. S. Each child who turns in a completed Home Safety Report to his or her teacher becomes a Junior Fire Marshal and receives an official badge and fireman's helmet. The school in this area receiving the highest percentage of completed reports will be awarded a Junior Fire Marshal Achievement Award Flag. Mr. Hartsfield said.

While the program's major emphasis is on fire safety, other areas of safety education are covered at different times of the year.

This past spring, Junior Fire Marshal sponsored the third annual "Hazards in Nature" campaign to alert children and adults to the recognition of poison ivy, the dangers of wild animal bites, bee stings, and eating unknown wild berries and wild mushrooms. Children were shown actual sprigs of poison ivy sealed in clear plastic envelopes.

With each chapter of the Junior Fire Marshal program, teachers receive guidance and educational materials to incorporate into classroom instructions. Now in its 21st year, this public service of The Hartford Insurance Group has reached millions of youngsters with instructions in fire prevention and safety.

Stitching And Stewing

By Ruth Ann Fansler
County H. D. Agent

Results of an extensive national survey involving over 3,000 families exploring the American habit of buying and eating snacks recently revealed some interesting "snack habits."

(1) The principle reason most people don't eat snacks is because they are dieting (51.2% of those surveyed).

(2) Among all snack items, potato chips are most frequently purchased, followed by nuts, corn chips and pretzels. Potato chips were noted as the favorite kind of snack across all age groups.

(3) The majority of housewives purchased snacks once a week, or even more often; and most do not decide what brand to buy until they are inside the store.

(4) Seventy-six per cent of those surveyed indicated that they had a strong tendency to buy new kinds of snacks as they become available.

(5) When the housewives' favorite snack is out of stock, over three-quarters of the women will usually buy the same kind of snack in another brand, another kind in some other brand, or won't buy at all. They rarely go to another store simply because they cannot find their favorite.

For second Mexican food recipe, from the Knox County Home Demonstration Agent, I have chosen a Tacos recipe.

Tacos
1 lb. ground beef
1/2 clove garlic, minced (or garlic salt)

2 tbsp. grated onion
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. chili powder
Salad oil
16 tortillas
1 cup finely shredded tomato
2 cups finely shredded lettuce
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 c. shredded mild Cheddar cheese

Taco Sauce
1 cup tomato juice
3/4 tsp. ketchup
1/8 tsp. tabasco sauce
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Mix first 6 ingredients. Brown meat mixture in skillet in a small amount of oil (meat mixture should be moist).

In about 1/4 inch of very hot oil in skillet, fry tortillas quickly one at a time. Fry on one side just until tortillas start to puff in center but are not crisp. Turn to second side and fold into a half moon shape, leaving an opening for filling. Hold the top side of the tortilla down with a spatula or wooden spoon and fry until crisp on one side. Drain shells on absorbent paper. Stack the shells, open side up, in a baking pan in slow oven (200 degrees). When all tortillas are fried, fill with 1 to 2 tbsp. of ground beef mixture (depending on size of tortilla). Top the meat mixture in each taco shell with shredded lettuce, tomato, cheese and sauce. Makes 8.

Putting-you-firsts

(A quick tour of some of the thoughtful new features the 1969 Chevrolets offer that other cars in Chevrolet's field don't.)

Headlight washers
You push the windshield washer knob and hold it, and your headlights come clean. Fluid is diverted to two jet nozzles at each light lens. (Outer lights only on duals.) The spray removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt. The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes. It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice and Kingswood Estate Wagons. It is available on all other models except Corvair.

Heated glass
In a moment your rear window will self-defrost. Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface. Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly. You just flick a switch. The heated rear window is available on the 1969 Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Pushbutton tire chains
You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chains."

Headlight washers
You spin your wheels once, wait a moment, and you're off—with traction you wouldn't believe possible on slick ice, or packed snow. Available on all 1969 big Chevrolets.

Steering wheel lock
When you own a car as desirable as the 1969 Chevrolet, you don't take chances. When you leave it, you lock it. Not just the doors. You lock the ignition, steering wheel and transmission lever, too. Our new lock on the steering column takes care of all that. Standard on all 1969 Chevrolets, Chevelles, Chevy Novas, Camaros and Corvettes. Sorry, car thieves.

Power steering plus
The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering. Variable-ratio power steering. What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.

Variable-ratio power steering is particularly helpful in full turns. And parking becomes believably easy. You'll see.

Walk-in wagons
The tailgate swings open a door on most of our 1969 wagons. Which in itself is no big deal. But wait, there's more. We've built a concealed door into the rear bumper. You simply step up, and in. (The way we built wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.) Walk into a wagon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

The Singing Six Organize

(From The War Whoop)
When all of the members of the Singing Six graduated last spring, they asked that six girls be chosen to take their places. With much enthusiasm these six girls are in the process of organization.

They are: Cathy Money, Diane Summons, Lynda Lane, Katie Darnell, Brenda Nanny and Penny Darnell. They will be under the direction of Mrs. Anna Kimbrough, and Suzanne Thomas will be the pianist. Since all are sophomores, they hope to have at least three good years of singing together.

VISITING HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Archibald of Fort Belvoir, Virginia, are visiting here a few days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Heeren. Mr. Archibald recently received his discharge from the Army.

Rabbit hunting is almost a lost sport in Texas.

I mean honest-to-goodness rabbit hunting.

Sure, some hunter will be out after doves or quail and will plunk an occasional bunny. But how many Isaac Walton Leaguers do you know who go hunting strictly for rabbits? Very few, I betcha.

Why this is true, I don't know. Rabbit hunting offers some of the finest sport to be had in the great outdoors.

Perhaps it is because the bunny isn't protected by game seasons in Texas. You can hunt cottontails and jackrabbits anytime. Somehow, by throwing the sport open to anyone, any time, it sort of takes something out of the pleasure.

But it shouldn't. Rabbit hunting actually is a bonus hunt. When other hunting seasons are closed and the hunter is home twiddling his thumbs, wondering what in blazes he can do, there is great sport to be had in scouting the woods for rabbits.

Believe it or not, rabbit hunting can be as simple or as complicated as you want it to be. This is one of the real appealing aspects of the sport. There are deluxe rabbit hunts and plain vanilla rabbit hunts, and just about everything in between, depending on your pleasure.

One of the most enjoyable means of seeking Mr. Rabbit is with a dog or dogs. Any canine that will chase rabbits can be used in the sport. But when you talk about rabbit hunting, you sort of think about Bassetts and Beagles. These are the rabbit-hunting hounds.

Basically, both accomplish the same purpose. Idea behind rabbit hunting with dogs is to flush the bunny into the open where the hunter can get his sights on it. But dogs are not alike in their hunting methods. Beagles pursue rabbits mostly by sight; Bassetts by scent.

When a Beagle speaks a rabbit into the open, the dog takes out right on the heels of the bunny its legs a blur of motion. Since the Beagle has short legs it can't stay up with a rabbit in a foot race. However, this really is an advantage rather than a disadvantage. If the dog makes the rabbit run too fast, it will take off instantly and soon be out of gun range.

Experienced hunters know that a rabbit often will circle and come back to the spot where it started. Thus the hunter stands still and waits, listening to the high chop-chop bark of the pursuing Beagle. Chances are the bunny soon will come hippity-hopping back in view again.

A Basset hound moves along with its nose almost dragging the ground. Seldom does it look up to see where it is going. When a rabbit is spooked by a Basset, the bunny sort of hops off leisurely in front of the dog, always keeping well out in front, but not hurrying. The hunter tagging along usually can get some fine shooting opportunities.

But dogs are not absolutely necessary to make a rabbit shoot a memorable event. If you don't believe this just take out your trusty shotgun or 22 rifle and walk through any wooded area known to be inhabited by rabbits. Keep your eyes alert. Be on the lookout for one to jump suddenly into view ... often from almost under your feet.

Best time to hunt is real early in the morning or late in the afternoon. During these periods the rabbits are up and about, feeding. Then they are more susceptible to a stalk. In midday they bed down in clumps of brush and you almost have to step on one to make it show itself.

Whether you prefer a shotgun or a 22 rifle is simply a matter of personal preference. A shotgun loaded with No. 6 shotshells is more deadly at short range and on running shots, but the 22 rifle is more sporting. Get your 22 out often during the year, for a little rabbit shooting, and you won't have any trouble connecting with a deer when the big-game season rolls around.

Another facet of rabbit hunting, usually ignored, is that cottontails are very good to eat. A young tender cottontail is especially delectable.

Skin one by making a cut crossways right on the backbone, insert your fingers under its skin on each side of the opening, and spread your arms apart. Half of the skin will peel down over the hindquarters, the other half over the head.

Cut the meat into chunks and fry it just as you would Southern fried chicken, in a deep skillet brimming with lard and laced with some bacon drippings. Or if you prefer, boil and later add dumplings.

One session at the dinner table when cottontail rabbit is the specialty of the house and you'll be a rabbit-hunting convert for life.

Anyway, rabbit hunting itself is just plain fun.

Rule Rips Bronte 34-14

The Rule Bobcats rolled over the Bronte Longhorns by a score of 34 to 14 Friday night.

Halfback Charles Lott put Rule on the scoreboard in the first quarter with a 12-yard run. Extra point was booted by Fullback Jimmy Lisle. In the second quarter Lott again hit the scoreboard on a 22-yard scamper and the point try failed.

Fullback Jimmy Lisle got into the act late in the second quarter scoring touchdowns on runs of 57 and 15 yards.

Bronte got on the board in the closing seconds with a scoring pass from Quarterback Keith McCutchen to Halfback Randy Barbee.

Fullback Lisle opened up in the third quarter with a spectacular 33-yard run for a touchdown. Rule added to their total tally with a safety in the fourth quarter. Bronte scored late in the fourth quarter with a 15-yard pass from Quarterback McCutchen to end Willie Zuniga.

Goree Gobbles Weinert 43-12

Goree galloped over Weinert 43-12 at Goree Friday night.

Goree gobbled all its scores in the first three periods, leaving the last half open to Weinert, which scored in the third and fourth periods.

Jayton Jars Rochester 12-6

Jayton's Jaybirds managed to drop the Rochester Steers Friday night, 12-6.

Rochester scored first in the first quarter as fullback Sid Smart took a quick pitch from quarterback Keith Gant and ran three yards for the touchdown. Extra point try was no good.

In the second frame, halfback John Davis took a pass from quarterback Kim Nichols for a 20-yard scoring play. PAT was unsuccessful.

Fullback Joe Alvarado finished the night's scoring in the second quarter with a five-yard TD run from off tackle. Again, try for the extra point conversion was no good.

SERVING ABOARD AIRCRAFT CARRIER

Airman Apprentice Lewis L. Davis, USN, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Davis of Route 1, O'Brien, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

The San Diego-based carrier is engaged in her third series of operations off the coast of North Vietnam.

During her second cruise "on the line" at Yankee Station, pilots from the Constellation flew air strikes against enemy supply lines in North Vietnam. Over 200 trucks were destroyed or damaged in day and night raids and over 100 barges were crippled or sunk in the waterways north of the Demilitarized Zone. The pilots also destroyed a 16-mile long petroleum pipeline. With the pipeline inoperable the enemy was forced to transport the petroleum over bombed out roads and bridges.

WTCC Committee Endorses Five Amendments

The State Affairs committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in session in Abilene last week supported five of the fourteen constitutional amendments to be voted on November 5th and took no position on the other nine amendments.

Foremost in the discussion was the approval of the amendment which will permit government bodies (cities and counties) to issue industrial revenue bonds for the expansion and development of industry in Texas. This amendment is number 12 on the ballot.

Also given approval by the committee were amendments which set the salary of legislators at $8,400 per year, provide for the exemption from ad valorem taxes on air/water pollution equipment required by law, elimination of the State ad valorem tax after 1978 except for the 10c allocated for buildings for certain colleges and universities, and the exemption from State ad valorem taxes on goods stored in transit.
