"OUR" COUNTY HOSPITAL

Most of the people who live in Haskell County with medical facilities available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, take for granted one of the most valuable possessions that our county could own.

Everyone knows it's imperative to have a County Courthouse, good county roads, and a jail to house the criminals, but most important of all is our Hospital. When people are not ill, they can make the best of what we have, but if some of our loved ones are suddenly struck by a heart attack or some dreaded disease, the most important thing at hand is a "refuge in the storm." We want the best facilities that money can buy and the prompt attention of competent Nurses and Doctors.

We all know it takes money to have the nice things in life, but to have our hospital properly equipped and modernized to compare with other institutions built at much later dates than ours, it will cost money.

Hospitals have been compared by the price of a room with the best motels in the country. The statement has been made, "I could have the best motel room for the price of this hospital room," but what they don't Heap big Haskell Indian Chiefs continued on the war path here last Friday night and "skinned" the Olney Cubs to the tune of 25 to 6.

The game was a stalemate through the first quarter as the Cubs threatened to score twice and the Indians penetrated to the 14-yard line at one point when a fumble stopped the drive. Haskell got going, however, early in the second quarter as quarterback Lanny Ivy lofted a 46-yard scoring strike to end Ray Herren. Herren added the PAT, and the Indians latched on to a 7-0 second quarter lead.

Late in the second period, Tim Everett, who racked up 108 yards on 24 carries for the Indians, punched across from the one for Haskell's insurance TD. The kick failed and the locals took a 13-0 lead at half-time.

The third quarter was scoreless, but in the final quarter the Cubs, with their back to the wall, near their own goal line, tried to get off a third down quick kick, but Tommy Perry blocked the pigskin. The Indians recovered on the Cubs' 19 and five plays later, Everett hit the "promised land" from the two. The PAT failed and the Indians led 19 to 0. With the rain beginning to fall, Olney quarterback Nick Dixon fired a pass up the middle which was intercepted by Everett at the 45 and returned to the Olney 24. Four plays later, "Daring Derrel Davis" hit pay dirt from five yards out. The run for extra points failed.

After Coach Sonny Everett had called off the dogs late in the fourth quarter, with only 10 seconds remaining, Nick Dixon scrambled 36 yards for the Cubs' lone touchdown and the clock ran out as he crossed the goal line. A pass for extra points fizzled.

WHEREAS major goals of business and professional women are to help create better conditions for business women through the study of social, educational, economic and political problems; to help them be of greater service to their community; to further friendship with women throughout the world, and

The program opened with Flossie Rogers leading the group in song. Mrs. E. W. Andrews presided over the business session and Mrs. Rogers gave the thought for the day. Mrs. Andrews installed the new officers. Reports from the committees were given and cards and flowers sent to the sick. Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Andrews reported the most sewing.

A special, "Neath the Old Olive Tree," was sung by Mrs. Andrews, Stella Josselet and Annie Thomas.

The social hour was enjoyed by all joining in the singing of songs. Mrs. Andrews received the hostess gift. Meeting was closed with the group singing, "Willing Workers."

MRS. LYNN WILLIAMS SPEAKS TO WEINERT MATRON'S CLUB

Mrs. Lynn Williams, president of Mesquite District Federated Women's Clubs, was guest speaker at a brunch which opened the club year for the Weinert Matron's Club, Thursday, October 5, at 9:30 a. m. at the Community Center in Weinert.

Mrs. Fred Monke greeted members and guests as they arrived. Following the president's welcome by Mrs. R. W. Raynes, the group sang the Federation song directed by Mrs. Raymond Liles, immediate past president of Mesquite District. Mrs. P. F. Weinert gave the invocation.

Mrs. Williams' topic of discussion was her district theme "Knowledge Is The Treasure of Which Education is the Key." Mrs. Williams, along with Mrs. Liles and others had returned one night before from a TFWC Workshop and her speech was sparked with points of interest concerning the different phases of Federation.

Mrs. Williams expressed a few of her sincere desires for Mesquite District: for each club to enter the Community Development contest; for each club to donate $300 toward the State Permanent Endowment Scholarship Fund, so that TFWC may award scholarships annually to seven girls, and maintain them in the club house in Austin while they attend the University of Texas; for each club to be 100 per cent subscribers to the publication, "The Texas Clubwoman"; and to be invited to visit each of the 58 clubs during her tenure of office.

During the business session, the Matron's Club voted to cash three bonds that have now matured, and donate the $75.00 to the scholarship fund. Mrs. Fred Monke volunteered to contribute $25.00, thereby making the first $100 of the $300 donation asked from each club.

Mrs. R. C. Liles and Mrs. P. F. Weinert will represent the club at the district workshop in Lubbock, October 14.

Mrs. H. W. Liles, treasurer, reported the club saved approximately $53.00 by using last year's yearbooks and having only the programs printed this year. The money saved will be put into the Community Center, the improvement of which has been a project of the Matron's Club, as well as a project of the whole community of Weinert. A fund for a new floor has been started.

Mrs. M. W. Phemister, vice-president, presented a challenge to the club to be so interested in the "Curriculum for a Better World," they will stand-up to be counted in all things for the betterment of the community and the world. She mentioned that those who stand-up, may at times be knocked-down by the opponents, but those who are, can rise again. But those who are flattened by their own indifference and laziness will never rise.

Mrs. R. W. Raynes is beginning her second year as president of the Matron's Club and her theme has been "Curriculum for a Better World." During her first year the club completed each project they undertook under her able guidance, and the Community Center Improvement has been a project of which she has spent many hours already, with plans to continue until the Center is completely refurbished.

Mrs. Raynes and Mrs. Phemister co-hosted the brunch. Decorations were arrangements of artificial fruit. Plate favors of miniature jack-o'-lanterns wearing witches hats (dance hats), will serve throughout the year to remind the Matron's to be alert and studious and avoid wearing the "dance hat."

Those enjoying the refreshment plate of fruit salad, ham doughnuts and sweet rolls were: Meses, Williams of Moran, Raymond Liles, P. F. Weinert, Fred Monke, C. W. Winchester, J. W. Liles, C. G. Hammer, H. W. Liles, W. A. King, C. F. Oman, Ross Anderson, Henry Smith, R. J. Ramey, H. Weinert and the hostesses.

Next meeting of the club will be hosted by Mrs. R. C. Liles, at which time Mrs. W. C. Winchester will direct a program on "Driver's Education."

Magazine Club Slate Meeting October 13th

With Mrs. J. G. Vaughter directing, program theme of the October 13th meeting of the Magazine Club at 2:30 p. m., will be "Prospectors, Cowmen and Sodbusters."

This is the first meeting presenting varied facets of Texas History and Mrs. K. H. Thornton will discuss "The Trail Driving Era." "Ranch Histories" will be discussed by Mrs. R. L. Lemmon.

Jack Springer Speaks To B&P.W. Club

Members and guests of the B&P.W. Club in a meeting Tuesday evening at the community room, Haskell National Bank, were privileged to hear Jack G. Springer, executive vice-president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

His address was most rewarding, as he told of the many various ways the West Texas Chamber of Commerce helps each town and community over the State.

Mr. Springer especially stressed the importance of the small towns, and the many opportunities they had to grow. He pointed out that people must work together in order for a small town to progress.

The speaker told of the increase of the cattle industry and what the WTCC is doing to help promote it. He spoke of the growing tourism, the advancement of agriculture, and the many uses of its by-products as a future business.

Guests present were Dr. T. W. Williams who is a director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Jimmy Medley and Johnny Isaacs, local Chamber manager.

The finance committee, composed of Dora Montgomery, Pauline Norman and Lola Scott, were in charge of the program. The social hour was hosted by the membership committee, Leone Pearsey, Ruthie Winters and Christine Greene.

Health Hints

How To Stretch Your Health Care Dollars

It has always been popular to complain about the cost of medical care. No doubt you have heard countless complaints from relatives and friends—or made some yourself—about the rising costs of health care.

Here are a few suggestions to help stretch your health care dollars:

- *Select a family doctor before you are sick, and don't be afraid to discuss medical fees and services before treatment is given.
- *Telephone your doctor about minor health problems. If he wants to see you, go to his office rather than request a house call.

- *Have routine annual physical examinations, and periodic check-ups.
- *Don't insist on being hospitalized unless your doctor recommends it.

Pampering Your Laundry Goes Long Way Toward Saving Ironing Time

Pampering your laundry goes a long way towards saving ironing time, says Miss Ruth Ann Fansler, extension county home demonstration agent.

Wash in small loads big loads can compress garments and wrinkle them. Wash easy-care fabrics often. Don't wait for heavy soil to build up. Fresh soil and stains are easy to remove. The longer the delay in washing the harder it is to get out stains.

Pre-treat greasy soil with cleaning fluid, full strength liquid detergent or detergent paste. Work detergent into fabric and soak 10 to 15 minutes for color fast fabrics.

Use cool or warm water. If necessary to soil removal, you may use hot water for washing, but do not spin out the wash water until it feels cool to the hands. Adjusting controls by hand if necessary—can save ironing.

Wash only long enough to remove soil. Rinse in water that feels cool or cold to the hands (below 98-degrees F.). Shorten the water extraction time after wash and rinse cycles, if not automatically done by your machine.

When clothes are nearly dry, tumble for 10 minutes without heat. Remove immediately and hang.

Oil Belt TSTA Workshop Here Well Attended

A total of 175 Big Country educators, faculty members and administrators, attended the District VII, Texas State Teachers Association workshop session here Saturday.

Participants in the meeting were the leaders of the 24 county units of the district organization.

Antoinette Miller of Houston, vice president of TSTA, keynote speaker, told the educators, "We are concerned with the education of our students; this is our first responsibility."

"In addition," she said, "we must be concerned with the needs of our profession. This is why you are here today—joined together to plan for the future. We cannot live in the past."

"We, the teachers of Texas, are indeed fortunate that we are not faced with problems confronting our professional counterparts in other areas of this great nation. However, even though these critical concerns have not prevented us from discharging our duties to the boys and girls of Texas, we cannot close our eyes to the problems," she said.

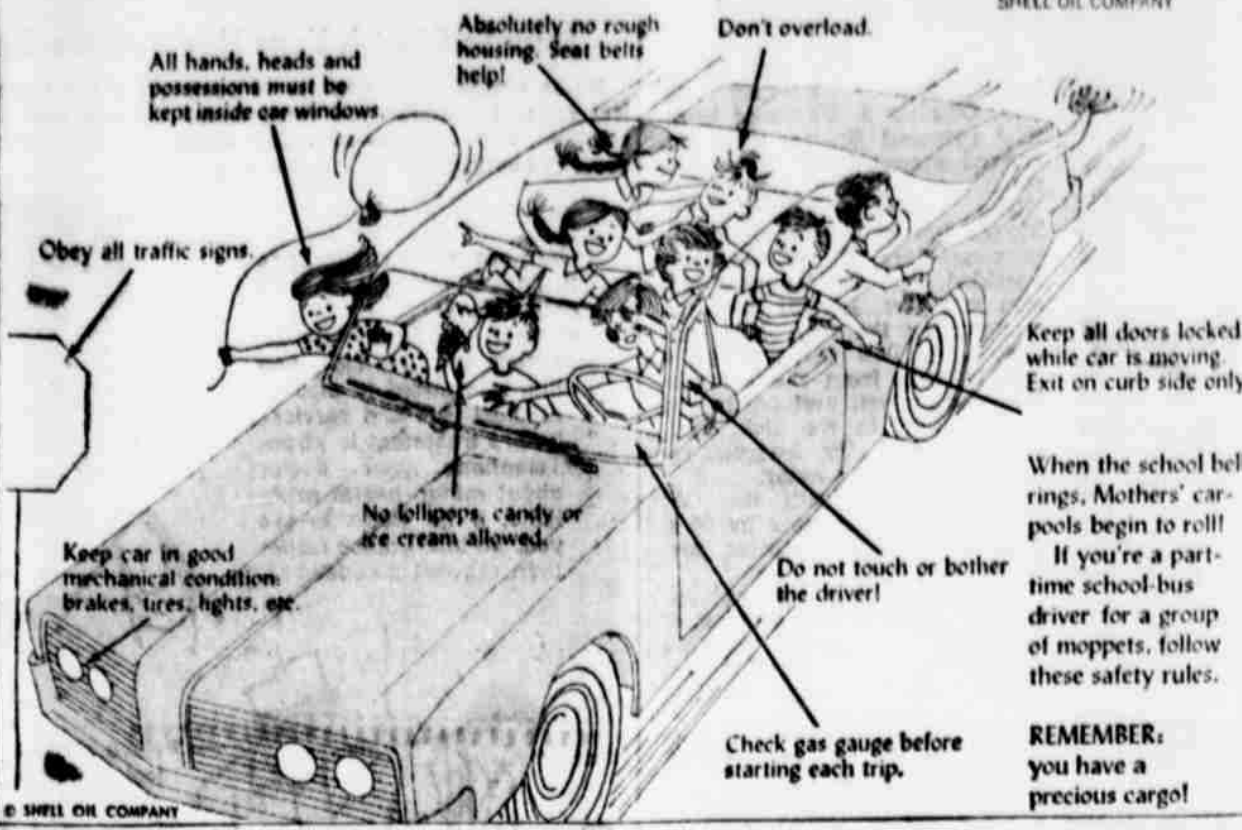

"We must continue to work together as a united profession to meet the demands of the future. . . . strikes, sanctions, etc., will not be a part of our vocabulary . . ." she added.

Following the general session the workshop participants met in section groups for discussion of particular concerns. Officiating at the meeting was Mrs. Hazel Nunn, president of District VII, TSTA.

The workshop concluded with a luncheon at which the discussion groups reported on their deliberations.

PROFILE OF DISASTER

By Wanda Dulaney
 (Note: Miss Dulaney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Dulaney of Haskell, and was Executive Secretary of Red Cross in Haskell County for seven years before joining the Dallas Red Cross staff as Director of Public Information in 1953. She has just returned from an assignment with the Red Cross on Hurricane Beulah, from which this report is written on Red Cross disaster service in this operation. During her 20 years with Red Cross, she has been assigned to the Red Cross disaster operations for Hurricanes Beulah, Carla, Hilda, Betsy and Audrey; the Kansas-Missouri-Oklahoma Illinois floods, as well as several smaller disasters. In 1963 she was a member of the American Red Cross delegation to the International Red Cross Conference, Geneva, Switzerland, the organization's centennial observance.)

to help our neighbors and to prepare for them a refuge from the storm. As pre-arranged, Red Cross did not wait; Red Cross was ready.

Shelters were set up along the coast and in inland cities, stacked with cots and blankets and food, and manned by shelter managers, volunteers trained in mass feeding persons who knew how to give first aid, and nurses. On the outskirts were 27 mobile feeding units.

As if indignant at such defiance, Beulah accelerated to an estimated 175 miles an hour, and swirling her skirts in a 600 mile circle, she lashed an area covering 35 counties, leaving in her wake a battered land and bruised spirits.

Determined to exact full retribution, she was not content to create havoc from the surging tides and vicious winds, but spawned a series of tornadoes to lash their fury in a final attempt at bleeding Texas strength.

But she underestimated the endurance of our state, and failed to take into account the concern of its neighbors.

Through their Red Cross neighbors across the State, and friends across the country were there to help. Proclaimed by Governor Connally as the official disaster agency, Red Cross maintained its vigil and brought the homeless into its fold.

At the peak of the emergency Red Cross operated 274 shelters, gave mass care to 530,000. The rains came, levees broke, waters swelled, and the shelter population fluctuated as families left but had to return when impassable roads blocked their path and their plans.

What poses an in a Red Cross shelter? It's a place to sleep—a place that's dry—a place to eat. There is no privacy. No luxury. But there is also no gloom. Strangers for the most part, the people soon became friends as they shared like-troubles and the humble gratitude that their family was safe, and together they talked about crops and fish, and gardens, and their children. The children escape the seriousness of disaster and find the shelter a place of fun. Why? Because Red Cross youth volunteers play games with them, and lead them in singing. This pleases their parents and brings smiles to their solemn faces.

All the action is not in the affected area; it reaches across America as anxious relatives seek information. Red Cross chapters handled hundreds of welfare inquiries. This, again, is part of the plan.

Swollen rivers marooned other cities and people needed food. Bridges were out; no one could get in. They couldn't get out. You can't help people when you can't get there. So you get there. Red Cross requested and received army helicopters and airlifted food, medical supplies, personnel, help for the isolated, and in some cases the welcome whirlwinds became ambulances for the ill.

A flood isn't over when its angry waters spill into the sea. It luts on and on till the people dig out, and families are restored.

The emergency phase makes headlines; the recovery phase is little known.

Red Cross is now beginning the staggering job that involves 85% of all its disaster dollars—the giant service of helping Beulah's victims recover.

Over one hundred trained case-workers are in the area, to plan with each individual family to determine their disaster-caused needs. Some must rebuild; some must repair and most all will need furniture.

Aerial surveys show 328 homes completely destroyed; 2,734 homes with major damage; and 22,780 homes with minor damage. A total of 26,963 families suffered loss.

The man who supports his catch and sell will need a boat, for Beulah claimed his. The fruit farmer will need tools with which to work the land. Beulah left his supplies intact, but rusty blades will not spade the earth and rusty wheels refuse to turn.

The families will use their own resources as far as possible, but they cannot make it alone.

Red Cross will bridge the gap between their resources and their needs—rebuild or repair their homes, provide household furnishings, occupational supplies to the extent that they need help. This will not be a loan; no repayment will be asked or expected. It's a gift from people who care people who support Red Cross through United Funds and special contributions.

WHAT'S NEW....

SKIDS AND SAFETY

According to safety authorities, the majority of skidding accidents on wet pavements are due to hydroplaning. As the car increases speed, the tire literally mounts a cushion of waterlike water-skier. This water choking the open tread spaces makes the tire lose all traction and become almost smooth.

England observed this phenomenon in skidding hazards at airports over a decade ago and began grooving the runways. U.S. efforts are just getting underway. Cross-ribbing of runways will give more stopping traction at such airports as National in Washington, D.C. and Kennedy International in New York.

NASA research designed a grooving machine to make roads safer. The February issue of Popular Science Magazine tells what can be done in your State to prevent uncontrollable skids. The magazine offers NASA's advice on what you can do yourself to avoid skidding. Z

VA Questions and Answers

(Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.)

Q— I have just received my dividend check on my National Service Life Insurance Policy. This surprised me because I have not paid premiums on this policy for the past nine months because a waiver of premiums has been in force. This waiver was granted because I am considered to be totally disabled and unemployable. Has a mistake been made? Will I have to refund the dividend?

A— No. The payment of this dividend to you is proper. Dividends on participating government life insurance policies are payable even though the policy is on a waiver of premiums.

Q— Under what conditions can a peacetime veteran be admitted to a Veterans Administration Hospital for treatment for a non-service connected disability?

A— Veterans who were discharged or retired for disability incurred or aggravated in line of duty, or have a service-connected disability, may be admitted to VA hospitals for disease or injury not related to their military service, if beds are available. Peacetime service after January 31, 1955, is considered the same as wartime service for purposes of hospitalization and domiciliary care.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to say thanks to my friends and neighbors who visited me while I was in the Hendrick Memorial Hospital and after I came home. Also thanks for the flowers and cards that were sent and for the prayers of each and everyone. May God bless each of you. Mrs. Ernest Moeller. 41p

Lockett Licks Rochester 22-0

The Lockett Panthers rolled up 16 points in the second quarter and added six more in the third to swamp the Rochester Steers 22-0 at Lockett Friday night.

Quarterback Thomas Halenak moved the ball well against the Steers throughout the game. In the 2nd quarter, he raced 29 yards around right end to score the first Lockett TD. Mack Lewis ran the extra point.

Halenak intercepted a Steer pass and set up the second score with Lewis going over from the three. Lewis then ran for the two points. The half-time score was 16-0.

The 3rd quarter saw Lewis escape for a TD with a run of 46 yards. The extra point failed.

Rochester's only threat came in the 4th quarter but was killed on the 13 by a fumble.

The win gave the Panthers a season record of 4-0 and their first District 6-B win.

Rites Held For Former Haskell County Resident

Funeral services for Mrs. Roy Speck, 56, of Anson, former Haskell County resident, and sister of Mrs. O. T. Williams of Haskell, was held at 2:00 p. m., October 4, in the First Baptist Church, Anson, with Rev. Bob Ecklund, pastor, and Rev. Robert Evans, pastor of the North Side Baptist Church, officiating.

Graveside rites were held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Rochester cemetery.

Mrs. Speck passed away at her home 4 1/2 miles southeast of Anson, October 1.

Born Alice Lorraine Israel, on September 30, 1911, at Wichita Falls, she moved with her family to Haskell about 1923 and was married to Roy Speck, December 13, 1929.

They lived in Rochester until 1950 when they moved to Jones County. She was a member of Pleasant Grove Baptist Church of Anson.

Surviving are her husband of the home; two brothers, Charles Israel of Santa Rose, Calif., and Lewis, of Tacoma, Wash.; and a sister, Mrs. O. T. Williams of Haskell.

Paint Creek Pops Goree, 42-16

Paint Creek captured an offensive duel at Paint Creek on Friday night with Goree, reaching pay dirt six times to emerge with a 42-16 victory.

Jimmy Ballard and Charles Kidd each accounted for two touchdowns for Paint Creek.

"DO HUBBY A FAVOR"

Miss Ruth Ann Fansler says, "Do Hubby a favor"—When selecting neckties for your husband, remember that not every shape and design looks well on every man. A man with a long, thin face needs polka dots and circular patterns, while a man with a round face appears less round-faced if wearing diagonal or vertical stripes. And, if you happen to be selecting a hat for that male species, remember hats should blend with the coat—not match.

Most counties in Texas now have a special deer-hunting season for archers. But no sport is less understood and free of prejudice than bow hunting.

Far too many people do not understand the sport. They do not comprehend what it is all about. Tendency is to over-rate the bow-and-arrow as a weapon of destruction.

Make no mistake about it, the modern bow-and-arrow is lethal. Any resemblance between the bow that the hunter carries today and the one employed by Indians is mere coincidence. The modern bow is capable of driving an arrow through any animal that walks.

Yet it is over-rated because many people, not familiar with the weapon, think all a person must do is aim it at a deer, let fly and he's got a dead animal on the ground.

Oh, if it were only that simple!

An outdoorsman once told me that he was against the bow-and-arrow because it would be the ideal weapon for the poacher. A man can drive down the road, spot a deer, let fly with the noiseless weapon, and soon be gone with his dead deer without anyone knowing about it.

Hogwash. No poacher is going to bother with the bow-and-arrow. It is too complex, too difficult, and too unsure. Very few of the deer shot at with arrows are hit.

Let's examine some of the bow-hunter's problems:

First, he must be close to his quarry, preferably within 25 yards or less. This immediately eliminates most hunters. Few have the patience, tenacity and skill to approach this close to a deer. It is much easier to stand off at 100-plus yards and down the animal with a long range rifle equipped with a scope.

But just getting close to the animal doesn't assure a kill. Far from it. Main thing is that the archer must get off his shot undetected. Not only must he get close to the deer, he must shoot without the animal knowing he is anywhere around.

A spooky deer is apt to see the movement when the bow is raised for a shot and the arrow drawn, or it will "jump the

NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK

This year the week of October 15th through October 22nd will bring the observance of National Bible Week. The theme of the occasion will be "The Bible: Good News for Modern Man."

Certainly the teachings of the Bible are doubly applicable and bring inspiration, strength and understanding to the peoples of the world and their leaders representing the Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths, who, with others are opposing the resurgence of the forces of evil.

The sanctity of man and the value of a single human life are basic tenets of Christianity as are compassion, understanding and generosity directed toward those less fortunate or suffering affliction. The Lord demonstrated the meaning of these values and the strength of faith during the years of His ministry. The story lies within the pages of the Bible available to each of us as an unending source of inspiration, guidance and strength. Let each of us make this observance of Bible Week a time for realization that this Book still carries within its pages the only light that can show the way to live in peace with his neighbors. It is the light of life itself that none of us can do without.

Comments From President Johnson On National Newspaper Week

National Newspaper Week reminds us all of the historic value and vitality of our cherished freedom of the press. And more than that, it focuses on the irreplaceable role which our newspapers have played, for two and a half centuries, in serving and safeguarding that freedom.

For our papers are more than just an expression of an unfettered press; they are the unsleeping sentinels of all freedoms. They are ready, simultaneous interpreters between the government and the people. Their freedom to publish is our freedom to interpret—and both incur the responsibility and honor vital to the success of the democratic society that is our way of life.

In our nation, which spreads so far and wide across both continent and sea, newspapers have unparalleled power and significance. They are nerve centers of information and of action. They are educators, counselors, entertainers and community servants. They carry forward the principles that gave our nation life—and they enrich that life by provoking and marshaling the thoughts, talents, and energies of Americans everywhere toward the promise of growing fulfillment. I know that all my fellow citizens join with me in traditional salute to their indispensable service.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO (October 15, 1937)

The Haskell Indians, opening in the second half, started a 50-yard march down the field that was irresistible, defeating the Boby Lions 60 here Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burton and daughter, Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierson visited relatives in Munday, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Billie Bart has returned from Denver Colorado, where she and Mr. Bart had been the past four months and he took a pharmacy course. Mr. Bart will join her soon.

District Judge Dennis P. Ratliff issued a temporary injunction restraining the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from moving its headquarters from Stamford to Abilene. Abilene was voted the new headquarters home by executive board Friday after acceptance of an offer from Abilene businessmen tendering the old Postoffice and federal building as the permanent WTCC home, along with $5,000 cash for renovating the interior. The request for the injunction came Sunday by a group of Stamford citizens. Injunction was issued on the grounds that the executive board did not have power to authorize the move without a referendum of all the directors. Hearing has been set for November 15th at Anson at which time the injunction will be made permanent or dissolved. Courtney Hunt, WTCC director, said that while he had no personal interest in where the Chamber headquarters were located, he doubted the authority of the executive board to take such actions without the sanction of the board of directors.

Confiscating a complete still that had been in operation only a few hours before, and seizing 10 gallons of "corn" liquor, members of the sheriff's department also took into custody a well-known Haskell farmer in a surprise raid on a farm near Haskell. Weinert has selected Miss Wanda Daken, daughter of Mrs. Dud Boone as their sponsor to the Central West Texas Fair at Haskell October 20-23.

40 YEARS AGO (October 13, 1927)

Haskell is to have two picture shows open six days a week, starting next Monday. The Haskell Theatre which has been closed since the completion of the beautiful Texas Theatre, has been renovated and re-decorated and will show only high-class pictures.

Mrs. Hugh M. Smith of this city has been appointed by the Texas Public Health Association as chairman of the 1927 Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale for Haskell County.

The Post community is all smiles over the decision of the judges giving Post booth first place at the Haskell County Fair.

The Fourth Annual Haskell County Fair parade reached the square about eleven o'clock last Thursday morning to a large concourse of people who had been waiting for several hours. The parade was headed as usual by the city officials who were followed by a long line of individual and business cars, beautiful and appropriately decorated and a splendid showing of stock cars. The Courtney Hunt & Company car took first prize, the car itself was a thing of beauty and Misses Madlin Hunt, Marine Shook, Helen Baron and Louise Kaigler rode in the car; the Cradle Roll car of the First Christian Church captured the second prize, this car was entirely covered with pink paper and on top was a cradle and in it was little Miss Eva Jo Ratliff, the other occupants were Mammie Jean Menefee, Helen Braye, Eloise Koene, Janice Pace, Josephine Parish, Fay Draper, and Eunice Ratliff. The third prize was won by the Reid Drug Store car and in it were Misses Marjorie, Martha Lou and Janice Rogers.

Fred Alexander of El Paso, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Alexander is the guest of his parents and other relatives and friends of the city.

Miss Agness Cox, who is teaching again this term in Stamford schools, spent last weekend in Haskell and "took in the Fair."

Mrs. W. N. Huckabee and daughter, Miss Eunice Huckabee visited friends in Abilene Tuesday of this week.

60 YEARS AGO (October 12, 1907)

Thomson Brothers are converting their natatorium into an opera house. They have had the swimming pool emptied and are flooring it over and say they will provide a seating capacity for 600 persons. They have an expert scenic painter at work, painting drop and side curtains and will fit up a regular stage, dressing rooms, etc., in fact they say everything will be complete and of a capacity to accommodate any play likely to come to Haskell.

Mr. R. Adams and family moved to Haskell this week from Bastrop to make their home.

A number of our citizens took in the Ringling Bros. show at Abilene... went down to take their children.

Mr. F. D. Harris and family moved to Haskell this week from Mineral Wells.

Messrs. H. S. Wilson and Henry Taylor made a business trip to Stamford Tuesday.

Mr. G. R. Couch, of the Haskell National Bank, went to Austin last Saturday and returned Thursday.

Mr. J. D. Roberts, whose place is several miles northeast town, was in town Wednesday and said that the cotton crop in his neighborhood was turning out from one-fourth to one-half bale per acre. He says that it is the late cotton that is giving the largest yield, it having been benefitted most by the late rains.

Mr. B. I. Maddox of the southeast part was in Haskell yesterday. Mr. Maddox came to this county from McLennan county a few months ago and is well-pleased with his move. He said he had been married twice and was the father of 15 children. The youngest, a son two months old, was born in Haskell county, and he named him Bob Henry after Congressman Henry.

Mr. O. P. Miles is having the lumber put on his lots in the east part of town for the erection of a neat residence.

Misses Vera and Fay Neathery left Tuesday for Dallas, where they will remain and see the fair, then visit relatives in Farmersville.

string' on the shot. Because sound travels faster than the arrow, a deer often hears the audible twang of the bow string a split-second before the projectile arrives, and jumps instantly. Result: the arrow passes by harmlessly.

But suppose everything falls into place. The archer gets close and remains undetected. A sure thing? Nope. Many a deer has been missed under such circumstances.

A bow-and-arrow is much more difficult to master than a rifle. It requires "balanced tackle" and hours and hours of practice. Even so, the slightest mistake at the moment of the shot will result in a miss.

Unlike a rifle which simply is aimed and the trigger squeezed, shooting the bow-and-arrow involves many intricate steps. The arrow must be pulled full length every time. The archer must anchor the arrow somewhere against his face. The release must be smooth. If he violates any of these fundamentals, no two shots will then be alike. A poor release, for example, might jerk the arrow one way or the other, or a poor anchor (the spot where the arrow is placed against the face for aiming) might result in a poor sight pattern and consequently a miss.

Bow-hunting is an involved sport, but a fascinating and challenging one. In bow-hunting the accent is on the stalk rather than the kill. It is hunting as hunting was meant to me. That is one reason, no doubt, why its popularity is growing phenomenally.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

This past week the citizens of Haskell County showed a real concern for the victims of the floods in Southwest Texas. On Thursday afternoon the Revs. R. D. Williams and J. V. Patterson drove a truck owned by Ed Hester to MacAllen, Texas, loaded with two and a half tons of clothing and canned goods. Approximately one half ton was not loaded due to lack of space. This remainder will be shipped out this week on another truck going into the same area.

The generosity of the people of Haskell county was magnanimous. A brief appeal was made and the citizens responded with love. Approximately three tons of clothing, several boxes of canned goods and nearly $100.00 was collected.

In behalf of the member churches of the Haskell Ministerial Alliance we take this opportunity to thank all of you gracious people for your generous support.

Rev. Allen Johannes, Chairman of clothing drive, Haskell Ministerial Alliance

Dear Editor: The Business and Professional Women's Club and the Progressive Study Club are extending an invitation to everyone to attend a meeting featuring Representative Burk Musgrove, author of the Dangerous Drug Bill which has made the use, possession and peddling of hallucinogens a crime in Texas. He is well informed on this subject and is a dynamic speaker. Mr. Musgrove believes that dangerous drugs, particularly LSD presents one of the most vital problems facing Texas today. He further believes that every parent of teen-age and college-age sons and daughters should be informed of the rapid increase of drug abuse; and what we, as parents and citizens can do to help deter this growing menace.

This joint meeting will be held at the community room of the Haskell National Bank on October 19, 1967, beginning at 7:30. Because of the timeliness of the subject, this meeting will be open to everyone.

Sincerely yours, Mrs. Sonny Everett, President Progressive Study Club; Mrs. Opal Adkins, president, B&P.W. Club.

Show Goes On

A circus act more thrilling than anything ever seen on a screen before is among the many to be found in "Rings Around the World," new Columbia Pictures release at the Texas Theatre in color. Don Ameche stars in the film, and the act itself is that of a lion tamer named Pablo Noel who saw his own brother torn to pieces while performing it in Marseille a couple of years ago.

Pablo Noel's father, the famous Ivanoff, was totally crippled from assaults by lions before his own recent death. Now it is young Pablo's turn to run the show.

What makes his act so extraordinarily dangerous is the tempo in which it is performed. Allegro furioso is a musical term that appropriately fits this ballet of death which only Pablo Noel performs. October 13th and 14th.

Chillicothe Bops Rule, 23 to 16

The Chillicothe Eagles toppled the Rule Bobcats 23-16 in a District 4-B conference game played at Rule Friday night.

Rule hit the scoreboard first on a 26-yard run by Charles Loti in the first quarter. Paul Cornelius ran for two points and the Bobcats led 8-0.

Then it was the Eagles' turn and Sammy Bevins broke away for 20 yards and the first Chillicothe TD. Gary Howard passed to Bevins for extra points.

Kenneth Nonck then added another score for the Eagles on a 4-yard run in the third quarter. Donnie Hinsley ran for two.

In the fourth quarter, Rule once again hit the scoring column as Robert Jones blocked an Eagle punt and ran it back 25 yards. Hinsley gave Chillicothe the game then on a one-yard run, after which he kicked the point after.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Kelso's garden is a means of relaxation after a hard day's work. Dark green foliage of Lariope borders each side of the walk leading to the entrance porch. Trimmed Phoenia and Abelia flank each side of the entrance porch. A planter box spans the entire side of the northeast wall; chili pepper with long, green pods that turn red when ripe, geraniums and zinnias give color to the planter. A hedge of Arborvitae borders the north side of the front yard. Zinnias and Abelia march along the southeast wall. Hibiscus and Malva grow along the south wall.

Clumps of Pampas plumes waving in the breeze, turn the south side of the yard into a thing of beauty. A large Sycamore casts its shade over the scene. Small pecan trees grow between the walk and the curb.

The backyard is graced with Cannas, Pyracantha and a planter box of petunias near the back porch.

The Kelso's, like so many other people in Haskell, have beautified their vacant lot. Tall Arborvitae encloses the lot on two sides, smaller shrubs of the same variety, border the other two sides; a bird bath, beneath a small pecan tree, makes the lot a bird sanctuary. A clump of canna lends color to the scene. There are also several peach and a plum tree or two planted on the lot. The lawn is a cool, green carpet.

Mrs. Kelso has a bucketfull of Chinese Tallow trees she has planted from seed. She has set several out in her yard to see if they can stand our changing climate.

Do not forget to plant bulbs for a real show next spring. Prepare the beds well before planting, as bulbs often stay in the same place for years.

The Haskell Garden Club is very proud of its Junior Garden Club.

Texas Draft Boards Get November Call

State draft boards will be called upon to furnish 1,159 men for the armed forces in November, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Thursday.

This compares with quotas of 977 for October, 1,180 for September, 1,421 for August, 974 for July, and 975 for June.

The Texas quota of 1,159 for induction in November is the state's share of a national call for 22,000, all for the army.

The Selective Service boards will forward 4,650 men in November for pre-induction examination, Colonel Schwartz said, and they have scheduled 4,000 for this examination in October. Local board quotas for induction and pre-induction examination in November are scheduled to be mailed from state Selective Service headquarters on or about October 6, October calls for the local boards already have been assigned.

Fire Prevention Everyone's Job

What would you do if fire struck your home tonight? If you haven't prepared a careful answer to the question, you are gambling with the safety of your family, advises W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University.

Fire, he adds, can bring tragedy to any home. Planning ahead for home fire emergencies, he believes, could prevent many of the 6,000 deaths in the nation each year from home fires.

Now is a good time to do something about fire protection plans, says the engineer. He adds that any plan, regardless of how thoroughly it is planned, is of little value unless it is rehearsed so each family member is familiar with assigned responsibilities. Allen suggests these pointers for inclusion in the family plan. Figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for blocking of stairways or halls by fire.

Particularly for night-time fires, remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back smoke and flame, allowing extra time for escape.

For upper floor escape use any available porch and garage roofs, ladders or trees as ways down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily, and be especially sure they are low and large enough to get through.

Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet, and be sure everyone understands the rule—once out, stay out.

Know how to call the local fire department, and do this as quickly as possible after the house is clear of people.

And always remember, it is people and not possessions, which are of prime concern. Concentrate on getting everyone out of the house and don't waste precious time trying to save valuables.

Vick, chairman, Rule; Miss Irene Stewart, Stamford; Mrs. Artie Mae Burkett, Haskell.
