From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

Every time Lem Martin hears about another Jap battleship being sunk-or another Nazi city being blasted-Lem grits his teeth, and digs into his pocket for more War Bond money.

"With our soldiers over there doin' better 'n' better at their scorin'," Lem says grimly, "we can do the same at home."

It's easy to think that if the war is going well, we can afford to let down just a little instead o' realizing that the bigger our offensive gets the more our boys are going to need equipment and munitions.

From where I sit, here's the way it is . . . It's up to everyone of us to put not only our spare money into War Bonds, but to figure out new ways of saving so that we'll have still more money to invest in Victory.

As Lem says: "We asked for plenty of action-and we're sure getting it. All over the world our men have got them Axis fellas on the run. Let's Back the Attack with War Bonds."

Don't Waste Electricity, Just Because It Isn't Rationed!

"HOW MANY POINTS, Reddy Kilowatt?"

"None at all, Mrs. Brown. You don't have to give me any ration tickets for my services. Sure, there's plenty electricity and none of it rationed, but just because it isn't rationed, don't waste it.

"You see it's this way. To prevent wartime waste, the War Production Board has inaugurated a Voluntary Conservation Program including such industries as coal, oil, water, gas, communications, transportation and electricity.

"This program has not been started because of any electric power shortage. There is sufficient power available in South and Southwest Texas for all essential home and business needs as well as all wartime requirements. You can continue to use electricity to protect your eyesight and your health and to save time and energy. Just don't waste it because a ration stamp isn't needed.

"Use what you need, Mrs. Brown, but need what you use."

BUY WAR BONDS

The Long Distance operator knows, firsthand, when the rush is heaviest and what lines are busy.

Then, if your call isn't vital, it will help if you cancel it altogether.

When you must make a Long Distance call over war-crowded circuits, the operator will say - "Please limit your call to 5 minutes. Others are waiting."
