Hundreds to Attend Churches for Easter Services City's New Sewer Plant Placed In Operation This Week

Connections Now Being Made To Sewer System

Large Number of Property Owners Have Plumbing Ready For Connection

After more than a year of delays and work stoppages, the City's new sewer system was placed in operation this week. Some fifteen or twenty connections have already been made, and a large number of other property owners have plumbing in readiness to be tied into the system.

Plumbers are having a busy time getting the connections made, but are getting to the connect orders as rapidly as possible.

Construction of the system and disposal plant was completed by Gerald Mora, contractor, after having to move in and take over where Gayle Bros. left off a year ago, after leaving their contract unfinished.

The contractor will keep men here until the system is thoroughly tested and in full operation.

The project was built through the issuance of revenue bonds and assistance from the Federal Works Agency.

Those desiring connections should make application to the City Secretary.

Attorney General Rules On Opening Shrimp Season

Attorney General Holds That Old Law Controls Closed Seasons

The Attorney General of Texas recently handed down an opinion that the closed seasons on shrimping in the waters of Aransas county established by law in 1941 still hold, despite a seemingly conflict with a special law passed in 1943 declaring the waters open for the "duration".

The "joker" in the special law passed by the legislature in 1943 is the clause: ". . . for the taking of fish and shrimp by the use of any tackle now legal in any other coastal county in the State of Texas."

"In brief," the attorney general stated, "While we think chapter 334 suspends in Aransas county the closed season on shrimp fixed by Article 9521-11, it does not have the effect of legalizing 'the use of any tackle' prohibited by law during such closed season in any other coastal county."

G. C. Mullinax Announces For Co. Commissioner

Jack Blackwell was elected Mayor to succeed Travis Johnson, who did not seek re-election. B. W. Hamblin was elected alderman from Ward one and Morgan C. Wheeler was elected alderman to fill out the unexpired term of Edward Barnard, who is now in the Navy.

Henderson, Mrs. M. C. Wheeler, Mrs. Clyde Hayden, Mr. Hugh Butler, Mrs. Claude Roberts, Mrs. Jno. Haynes, Mrs. Lorraine Harmon.

"The teachers have shown fine spirit and a willingness for hard work, and their school activities should be highly commended," Supt. Morgan Wheeler said. Most of the teachers have been working under an overload of students, but they have been giving the students everything possible under those conditions. No finer group has been assembled in one place who has worked as hard and done as little complaining. Parents have been understanding and that fact aids the teacher in her work."

Ground-Breaking for Fulton Church Sunday

Public Invited To Attend Church Picnic at Fulton

Ground-Breaking For New Church Set at 1 P. M. With Picnic to Follow

Members of Fulton's new Community Church will gather Easter Sunday to break ground for a church building and have invited the general public to attend and to take part in an old-fashioned basket picnic on the grounds following the ground-breaking ceremonies.

The Fulton Community Church was organized a few months ago, with Rev. Frank Walker as pastor. Both membership and interest have grown steadily and lands and funds have been secured to erect a new church building. The church is inter denominational.

"Easter Sunday is destined to be a day long remembered in Fulton and Rockport", Rev. Walker said, "not only as the day our Lord arose victorious over death, hell and the grave, but also as the day ground was broken for the first church in the history of Fulton."

"The history of Fulton goes a long way back", the pastor continued. "It was the site of one of the first packing houses in the state and has since been known and loved by fishermen far and wide, with just reason."

"The Fulton Community Church is an interdenominational church, that is a church made up of Christians of all denominations, as well as Christians who have never belonged to any denomination, all worshipping together the same God and Saviour. It is a fine tribute to Christianity at large when a group of people will lay aside denominational differences and worship God in truth and spirit in a common house of worship."

The pastor, the Rev. Walker, is a young man in years and in service to his calling. Since coming to Fulton last December to foster the new church, he has seen a steady growth in Sunday School and church attendance, with an average of 52 in attendance the past six Sundays. The church has raised $1,500 in cash and pledges with which to erect a building.

The pastor invites and urges a large attendance Sunday at the ground-breaking ceremony and the basket dinner on the grounds following.

Lowther was born at Seguin and had been in Alice for 25 years, where he was agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad and where he had served on the city council and as mayor.

"Hello Mom"

I looked at your picture last night, Mom. And all of a sudden . . . You smiled at me. —I don't know why. But I smiled back at you and winked, And you laughed, such a beautiful laugh, I had to laugh too. Then you frowned . . . "Are you sure you're all right, Son; Are you really as happy as you say in your letters? Or are you telling me a white lie like you used to. When you were a little boy. I'm afraid, Son. Things are so wrong in this world. I'm afraid." Then a big tear drop rolled down your cheek.

I remember that big tear drop—I had seen it many times before. It made me sad, but yet—yet, There was something happy about it. Happy because I knew you cared. Cared for your little boy who was so far away. I said, "Mom don't you care about me, I'm really happy, but of course I miss you so. But outside of that, think, just think, of the reasons why I'm so far away. Your smile slowly came back and you said, "I know, Son, I know, but I can't help it. I love you so, so very much, but I will try." And then I put your picture back on the shelf, And said, "Goodnight, Until tomorrow, Sweetdreams, Forever, and ever, and ever. —Exchange.

Dr. Alice Brown, Returned Japanese Internee, Will Speak Here

Missionary to China Returns On Gripsholm

St. Peter's Guild of Episcopal Church Sponsors Dr. Brown's Visit Here

With many a vivid picture of life in a Japanese internment camp and of 20 years spent in China as an Episcopal Church missionary, Dr. Alice Barlow Brown will come to Rockport, Thursday, April 13, to make an address at the Rio Theatre.

Dr. Brown's visit here will be under sponsorship of the St. Peter's Guild, Episcopal Church, and the public is invited to attend and hear the talk.

Following is a feature story written about Dr. Brown for the Caller-Times by Juliet Knight:

The war in the Orient is only an interruption where Dr. Alice Barlow Brown is concerned. An Episcopal Church missionary in China for the last 20 years, she is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. L. Boyd, 1311, Tenth Street, counting the days until peace is restored and she can resume the work which she enjoys above everything else and to which her life is dedicated. Dr. Brown recently returned to these shores on the exchange ship, Gripsholm, having been interned by the Japanese since 1943.

Now in her 70th year, 10 past the age of retirement for woman missionaries, she looks back on a career that includes hospital work in France and relief work in Czechoslovakia during World War I, before she went to the Orient.

From 1929 until the outbreak of war between the United States and Japan, Dr. Brown specialized in giving medical aid to Chinese mothers in childbirth. She returned to America twice to obtain funds to carry on this work; enough, in fact, to purchase complete equipment which was housed in available buildings. The simplicity of the program encouraged the native women to take advantage of the service offered.

All this stood the hospital and its staff in good stead when the Japanese invaders came. "Oh, poor people live there; we won't bother it", they said. Wives of the Japanese soldiers who followed their men into war were given necessary attention by native midwives on Dr. Brown's staff, in return for which the natives were promised protection. Even today, Dr. Brown feels certain, they are continuing their work.

A year ago, the Americans and British in that section of the country were notified that they would be taken into internment and to bring clothes for all seasons and bedding. Dr. Brown was told to sell her furniture through the City of Peking.

Knowing that the city would give her little, she sold it instead to a neighbor. This money she left to the center to tide it over as long a period of time as possible.

The next six months she spent in a camp in the Province of Shantung, built on an American Presbyterian School Campus. The 1,800 internees did all of their own work and each person gave four to six hours a day to camp work.

The Americans and British organized, forming committees for entertainment and religious services. There was one church on the campus where the Catholics held early services, Episcopalians held services at 11 o'clock in the morning and free churches held services at 11 o'clock in the afternoons. Salvation Army services were held outside.

There was a great deal of talent among the internees, making their concerts and plays professional performances. They were allowed to bring in pianos and other musical instruments which they bought. "Teachers conducted regular classes in English and American schools for adults and children," Dr. Brown said. "Everybody was busy doing something. It aggravated the Japanese that we were so happy under adverse circumstances, but they did not interfere."

Shelter was inadequate as the campus had been destroyed during the fighting and had not been rebuilt when the camp was open. The Japanese wanted to wait until May to move the internees, Dr. Brown explained, but the German ambassador, feeling the people of Peking had too much freedom, insisted that it be done in March, and it was.

Nor was food plentiful. Everyone lost 25 to 65 pounds in six months. One of the internees was a good baker and bread was their most plentiful food.

As one man who had employed a thousand men in his business put it, "After the war I'm going to write a book, 'From Manager to Scavenger'."

A monk who could no longer stand to see women and children suffering from undernourishment did something about it. He organized a black market with food handed over the wall by Chinese.

The Japanese discovered it, at first protested, then opened a canteen. There, four eggs a week were issued to each internee and later a few other things were doled out. Each morning at 7:30 o'clock, the internees lined up before their doors wearing badges which gave their names, numbers, book numbers and nationality for roll call. They could not leave the camp at any time and lights went out at 10 o'clock at night.

Last August, internees heard there would be a repatriation. They had previously signed papers saying whether or not they would be willing to be exchanged. This applied only to the Americans as the British had no prisoners to exchange for their citizens. Dr. Brown's name was one of the 40 on the list posted Sept. 1.

Two weeks later she began the long trip on a Japanese boat, Teia Maru. Passing through the Straits of Sunday, the homeward bound passengers were tense with knowledge of the many mines beneath them. But 30 days on the ship brought them safely to the Gripsholm on which they were to spend 42 more days.

Dr. Brown is not ready to sit back and watch after three-quarters of a century of study and work. She has gained back 25 of the 35 pounds she lost in the internment camp. Soon she will take a refresher course then see what need she can fill in medical work.

Will she go back when the war ends? She answers, "When will the war be over? Everyone who has ever worked there wants to go back. You can grow in China and be respected. In America there is no use for old people."

Vigorous, animated with a sympathy for life and calm in her unselfish determination, she speaks of the future. From the past she gains the knowledge that the maternity center she built on something more forceful than dreams, is the only center operating in China which is not supported by any mission, and in normal times can support itself.

The parting message sent to her by the midwives there, remains with her:

"Fang Hsin, (rest your heart), we are busy, have enough to eat and enough money to last for a while."

A Prayer for Peace A Promise of Victory

Only 1 in 100 would know!

WE WERE GOING to make a survey. 100 interviews. Then we had a better idea.

"Why bother all those busy people? Probably not more than one of them would know the answer, because it's something they take for granted. . . . Let's just print it here and save a lot of time!"

So here's the question: "What's the smallest item and BIGGEST bargain in most family budgets?"

And here's the answer in one word: "Electricity."

Look at the last item in these recent cost-of-living-figures from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (reprinted at right). Considering how many household jobs electricity does daily, that's a rather startling statistic.

Then remember that electricity is still sold at low pre-war prices—remember that the average family in South and Southwest Texas gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago—and you'll realize that there's no bigger bargain today!

(Of course, if you already knew all this, you're pretty smart. In fact, you are that one in a hundred!)

OUT OF THE DARKNESS of sacrifice and sorrow, the blessed certainty of Easter . . . out of the storm of war, the promise of Victory!

This year of all years within living memory, the real spirit of Eastertide is working in the hearts of men—its Hope, its assurance of the Triumph of Good over Evil.

All over the civilized world . . . in great cities, in the bombed, ruined towns of England, France, Italy, in jungle chapels, free people are coming together to celebrate the greatest miracle of mankind's history. All over the world men and women are assembling to pray for Victory and Peace.

Go to Church this Easter! Join with your neighbors, your friends, your boys and girls overseas to express the prayer in your own heart.

Go to Church to pray for Peace . . . to worship the Prince of Peace . . . to ask for a speedy Victory.

Shoe Rationing Misuse Brings Action Threats
 SAN ANTONIO — Shoe stamps that are detached from ration books are void and may bring revocation of ration books to the owner and cause the store accepting the same to be prohibited from acquiring and selling new shoes, according to B. M. Goldberg, miscellaneous products rationing officer of the office of price administration.

A large number of persons in San Antonio have been using loose stamps in the purchase of shoes, against OPA rules and regulations. Persons using such loose stamps, if brought before the rationing panel stand to lose their entire rationing books, Goldberg stated, and if stores selling shoes are apprehended they stand to lose their right to sell shoes or acquire new quotas of shoes for a given period of time as the administrator sees fit.

"Many of these stamps," Goldberg stated, "have been found to be counterfeit and it is presumed that a large number of them portend a black market in shoe stamps. Both of these practices are going to be stamped out."

Shoe stamp No. 18 in war book 1 will become invalid on April 1. A new stamp will be announced in the near future, Goldberg stated.

California's "Hospital Spas" in mineral water areas are being considered for rehabilitation of injured service men.
