America has come a long way since the thirteen colonies were led through a bloody revolution by General George Washington and hardened into a new-born nation. But the man who was our first President seems to have envisioned America's future leadership in world affairs, not in a military sense, but as a leader of mankind toward the better life of freedom and equality. By some odd twist of fate, New York, then the capital city when Washington held office, is now the United Nations headquarters and, in a sense, a world capital.

Mr. Barnard says that he will be able to take care of about 300 cars. He expects to concentrate on the fundamentals of good service presentation which are: good vision angle, bright light on the screen and good sound.

The usual concession of pop corn, hot dogs, snow cones, etc. will be available.

The drive-in will be somewhat unique from most others in regards to entering and leaving. There will be a "moon" pole in · back of the cars, so that people can see to walk around without stumbling, and the speaker posts will also be well lighted.

his children honored him with a School, Friday at an assembly ceremonies. Miss Bonnie Scott was sweetheart in High School. She was crowned Saturday night at a dance in the gym, given by the Sophomore Class.

The throne was in the center of the gym, with a background of red hearts. Miss Scott wore a white strapless net gown with a white stole.

Her maids were Deanna Mc Norton and Anna Torres. Miss Mc-Norton wore a red and white pin stripe dress and Miss Torres wore a blue and gray shadow striped dress.

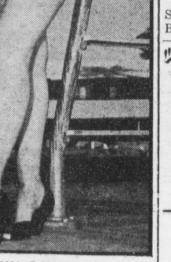

The Sweetheart was crowned by Jim Ben Cloberdants. Sandra Court presented the candy. All enjoyed an evening of dancing.

Mrs. S. F. Jackson introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Hagar, with characteristic skill, presented the story of a family living in fabulous wealth on a fabulous ranch, with oil holdings, in Texas. The stage setting was a living room in a ranch home. Mrs. Orvill Haynes, social chairman, was in charge of the refreshment hour. Mrs. Harry Traylor and Mrs. Lois Rozzell presided at the silver coffee and tea service. Assisting in serving were Mrs. E. W. Means, Mrs. A. C. Glass and Mrs. Charles Cleveland.

The tea table was laid in white organdy with ruffled flounce. The centerpiece was a heart-shaped arrangement of red and white carnations with maline ruffled hearts bearing the names of the principal characters in the book, surrounding a central heart containing a picture of Mrs. Hagar. 6 Billion Dollars? Yes, Buster, that's a bill you inherit. It's the cost to date of government power - federal-governmentin-the-electric-business - the money put out for electric power plants, electric lines and all that goes with them.

Who Gets Nicked? Well, your parents do. And everyone else. In the taxes they pay on food, clothing, smokes, income-even baby powder. That means that everybody's taxes help pay the electric bills of the people served by government power.

Is This Necessary ? Not a bit. Most people get electric service from an independent electric light and power company. They pay for what they use, and at low rates-for electricity is a real bargain. And no one else has to pay part of their bills.

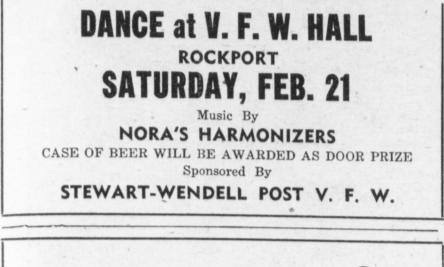

I'll Yell Bloody Murder! Even better than that, Sonny. Encourage your family to do something about it. By objecting to any more unnecessary government power projects, and helping Congress resist those who want a federal power monopoly.
