Rotarians View Film, "Water South"

"Water South" was the title of a very timely West Texas Chamber of Commerce film viewed by members of the Rotary Club last Thursday noon which was presented by Dr. T. W. Williams, Abe Turner was program chairman for the day.

Howard Sloan, Veterans Service Officer, and a member of the Rochester Rotary Club, was noted as a guest.

Area Towns Briefed On Becoming Customers of Water Authority

In a general meeting of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, held last Thursday night in Munday, area towns, of Brown, Aspermont, Knox City and Throckmorton, showing interest were briefed on becoming water consumer customers from Millers Creek lake.

It was pointed out that with more customers and more water sold, the cheaper the water would be, and the indebtedness would be paid off on the lake project much sooner.

Haskell, Rule, Goree and Munday are members of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority.

It was also pointed out that the lake would be adequate to take care of any of the area towns that might desire to purchase water from the Authority.

Mayor H. V. Woodard, Carl Anderson, Jetty V. Clare and R. C. Couch, Jr., a director in the NCTMWA, attended the Munday meeting.

T. P. Barnett, City Chief of Police, who investigated the accident, said Aquila Knox, 27, of Haskell, driving a 1964 Buick traveling west, and a 1963 Ford headed east, driven by Bill Hendrix, 62, an employee of the city of Haskell, were involved in the mishap.

Hendrix was taken to the Haskell Memorial Hospital in a Holden-McCauley Funeral Home ambulance where he was treated for several small abrasions and concussion.

Knox was charged with DWI Monday in County Court and bond was set at $500.

Posey Picks Popular Tunes For Lions

Tom Posey of Brownwood, early-day resident of Haskell, presented the program at the Tuesday noon-day luncheon meeting of Lions. He was accompanied by his wife and also a brother, Frank M. Posey of San Antonio.

Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett introduced the Poseys. "It took two days to travel from Haskell to Abilene, two nights spent in the wagon yard, and two days to return, and there were only two places to stop in between... a one-room shack and a dug-out, when I lived in Haskell," Mr. Posey said.

"This section of the country was only a prairie in those days, with only a small portion of the land in cultivation, no fences and no mesquites," the speaker said.

Jokingly Posey told Lions that when he lived in Haskell you didn't have to worry about being run-over when crossing the street...there was just not anything to run over you.

"It is surprising what you people have done to the land... the wheat fields are really beautiful," the speaker pointed out.

Very spry at his age, Mr. Posey picked up his guitar and with a French harp braced to his mouth he put on quite a one-man band show, playing such old familiar tunes as "I Like Mountain Music," "I'm Looking Over A Four-Leaf Clover," "Tennessee Waltz," "This Old House," "Precious Lord" and "Y'all Come."

E. W. Pruett presided over the meeting, Royce Wood led the singing, with Lucy Kennedy at the piano, and Troy Culpeper gave the invocation.

The Queen

With partly overcast skies and summer-like weather prevalent, hundreds of persons lined the sidewalks and streets in downtown Haskell last Thursday afternoon to view the colorful, mile-long parade which officially kicked-off the annual Jaycee Rodeo for a three-nights stand.

But just after the grand entry Thursday night the clouds opened up and dropped 27.100 of an inch of rain, accompanied by marble-size hail to stop the show for some 45 minutes.

Rodeo and parade chairman, Jerry Sorrells got the parade rolling at 5:00 p. m. sharp.

Off-Campus Co-Ed Dorm Opens At Tech

The formal opening of ROBBY'S, a six-million dollar, one-thousand residency dormitory for Texas Tech students in Lubbock this week was the culmination of professionally specialized planning by four Dallas area businessmen.

red and forty-four studio-suite dormitory residence for graduate and undergraduate male and female students, directly faces the main thoroughfare of the college campus at 1001 University Avenue.

Site purchasing, planning, building and managing arrangements all were the work of Frenchman's Creek Corporation, 701 Frito Lay Building, specialists in off-campus college and university residences.

Officials of the corporation are Bert Maxwell, Jr., president; Layton A. Humphrey, Vice-President; Robert H. Patton, Secretary-Treasurer; Mr. W. E. Robertson, president of Sunland Oil Co., Fort Worth is a partner in Robby's which was named for his father, E. H. Robertson, a staunch Texas Tech alumnus.

In announcing the opening of Robby's, Mr. Maxwell explained that, as developers of completely modern quality student residences that span several southern and southwestern states, his firm felt that Texas Tech probably has one of the greatest potentials of any of the top-rated educational facilities in this part of the United States.

While planning Robby's, considerable time and effort was spent in finalizing the site arrangements for the most suitable student location, according to the principals. Securement of the necessary lots for the campus-convenient site caused some discouraging development delays.

The owners, however, managed to compensate for these building delays by further providing for future expansion, a factor judged important by the Texas Tech administration, who anticipate a growth from the present approximate 20,000 student enrollment to one of 35,000 within the next six years.

THE "OOPS" & DOWNS OF LAWN CARE

NEW YORK (ED)—Now that Spring is in the air, can the crabgrass be far behind? This is the paramount question that suburbanites are asking themselves these days as they persevere the seed catalogues, resolve to really landscape this year, and rev up their spirits to tackle the errant lawn.

The real sound of the season comes when the whirr of 26 million power lawn mowers is heard from coast to coast—and all too often—the accompanying "ouch" or "oops" that characterized careless use. The safety rules for using power mowers seem so self-evident, but the sad statistics show evidence to the contrary. Hundreds of injuries are chalked up to pure negligence and thoughtlessness.

Who would put their hand right into the heart of an activated machine? Hundreds of people! One of the primary causes of mowing accidents occurs when the operator reaches into the discharge chute to dislodge accumulated grass. This hazard would be eliminated if only those with mowers followed the common sense rule from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute. Make sure the engine is off, the blade stopped and the spark plug wire disconnected from the plug.

With the average rotary blade clocking in at 2000 rpm, it stands to reason that a casually left tin can, a garden tool, or a child's toy in the path of the mower can be turned into a deadly missile. So follow the first rule of safe mowing: Be sure the work area is clear of objects which might be picked up and thrown by the machine's blades.

If your family has a lawn tractor, it's bound to be a fascination for the neighborhood kids. But the danger is that they'll think it's a fun vehicle to ride—rather than a tool to use. The essential rule to remember is: Never carry riders or passengers and keep the kids and pets at a safe distance. You wouldn't let them play in moving automobile traffic, so why put them in danger on the lawn?

Mowing the lawn used to be a chore but now with new power equipment, it's become a pleasant pastime. It's in your power to make it an accident-free activity. With care, the word "oops" should never be in your family's vocabulary!

of them mighty, mighty big, too. You can't visit them all, but you can try. Go by air and have a day to spare.

I've made a number of these flying trips, especially on the week-end.

Most recent one was out of state—a weekender to Little Rock, Ark.

Four of us flew up there, rented a car and drove to Heber Springs where we got in a day and a half of fishing on Greer's Ferry Lake. It's a new impoundment built by the Corps of Engineers.

We flew Trans-Texas from Austin to Dallas, to Little Rock. Flying time was slightly more than two hours. Then it took us only a little more than an hour to drive from Little Rock to the lake. Total time to get from our homes to our fishing waters, a distance of almost 600 miles, was less than five hours.

At an average car speed of 50 miles an hour, which is pretty hard to maintain, it would have required 12 hours each way, or 24 hours. We would have been tired when we reached our destinations and even more tired when we arrived home. Even worse we would have lost an awful lot of good fishing time ... not to mention sleep.

Naturally you travel light, when you fly. Each of us took along two rods, an ample amount of tackle and a camera.

For trips of this kind, a person should carry his rods and reels in a good sturdy case to protect them from breakage. Although we took more lures, a dozen well chosen ones would be ample. For example, two spinners, two spoons, two deep running plugs, two topwaters, and an assortment of leadhead jigs plus a fist full of plastic worms and weedless hooks.

Include an extra spool of line, a pair of small pliers and a flashlight...and that's about all you need. Your boatman will have a landing net, stringer and the other necessary items.

But be sure to carry a warm jacket and a light raincoat. You might not need 'em but they're good insurance against rainy weather or a sudden norther.

Take wings—and try one of these flying trips sometime. Your local airlines representa-

OUTDOORS --IN-- TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

If you have to go fishing in a hurry, don't have long to stay, or it is too far to drive ...take wings! Fly, man...fly!

Use of planes for fishing trips is becoming quite commonplace. Individual plane owners have been flying to their favorite fishing spots for a number of years.

Today, however, hundreds and hundreds of Texans are using regular commercial planes or special flights to get them there and bring them back in a hurry.

There are organized "group" trips, too!

Perhaps the best of the "group" air-fishing-junkets by Texans are staged by the Texas Game Fishing Club of Dallas. Members of this club have been just about everywhere on the North American continent, with several chartered trips a year.

Other clubs, such as the Dallas Woods and Waters Club, and a new one in Austin, also have promoted these organized trips to Canada and other hot spots of fishermen.

There's always a thrill in going to some new, far away place to cast a few lures. However, Texas should not be overlooked.

Texas has fine fishing in more inland waters than any other state. Most of these waters are reachable by commercial air lines. You can fly between cities, then rent a car at the airport, spend a day at your favorite lake and return home at night. If your time is worth anything it generally will be cheaper to fly than to drive a great distance.

From North Texas it's only a little more than an hour to the Texas coast. You have a choice of scores of good places, all the way from Port Arthur to Brownsville. All are served by commercial airlines.

If you live in South Texas and want to fish one of the seven Highland Lakes it's but a short hop into Austin. Or you can go on to Waco, Fort Worth and Dallas for an abundance of good sparkling water. Or fly in to East Texas...say to the Longview - Lufkin - Nacodoches area...fast becoming the fisherman's paradise.

You can go west, too, young man, clear to the Rio Grande. You can land in Laredo, or El Paso, or any number of spots in between.

And there's some good new fishing waters in the Panhandle area...all reachable by air.

Texas has more than 200 inland lakes and reservoirs, some of them mighty, mighty big, too. You can't visit them all, but you can try. Go by air and have a day to spare.

I've made a number of these flying trips, especially on the week-end.

Most recent one was out of state—a weekender to Little Rock, Ark.

Graduation... A Time Of Mixed Emotions For The Jack Sanders

Graduation is always a special time and the graduation in Weimert High School, May 21st, was no exception. Graduation time is a "happy time" and also a "sad time"—a time of mixed emotions, but always special, and the one this year was of extra significance to members of the Jack Sanders family, for one member of the class was Rocky Dalton Sanders, the youngest of their twelve children and this was the climax of years of school for their children in the Weimert school.

The Sanders' oldest daughter was a graduating senior in 1942. Graduation also means rules of travel to be present for some, as it was for Rocky's sister, Mrs. Walter (Sue) Cox and her daughters who came from Denver, Colo. It means sadness for some, like those of Rocky's family who could not come.

Highway Patrol Investigated Five Rural Accidents In County In April

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Haskell County during the month of April, according to Sergeant Frank Jirek, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, ten persons injured and an estimated property damage of $7,060.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first four months of 1968 shows a total of 25 accidents resulting in no persons killed, 18 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $18,165.00.

The final bell closing the present school year will soon ring. This will be the signal for the beginning of summer vacations. Residential neighborhoods which were quiet between 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. will be alive with children popping out in all directions. This means that motorists must be constantly alert at all times during the summer months for children darting out from unexpected places.

The Sergeant added, "During 1967, of the pedestrians killed in rural traffic accidents, one of four were school-age children."

Flag-Waving Colors

Three cheers for the red, white and blue! Those flag colors are the perennial favorites and always seem to wave most vigorously in the spring breeze. Despite the fashion decree — they say it's going to be a grey season — a large segment of fashion-conscious women (and smart clothing manufacturers) are putting their money down on red, white and blue. It's newsy, nautical, and nice. And these bright colors are wonderfully becoming to women of all ages.

Cosmetics too, follow this fancy this spring. There's a return to the brighter mouth after months of "pales." This doesn't mean that the horrendous crimson slash of the 1940's is coming back. Rather, it's clear true reds, pretty cherry-blues and bubbly pinks that are going to demand the top-look-and-admire reaction.

Nails too are in step with fashion. Many women ask me if it's essential that nails and lip color match. I do think it's a becoming idea especially for women who have really pretty-let's-show-'em-off nails. For those who are in the growing process, a white gloss, or thin frosty covering is the unobtrusive best. But when they do get glamorously long, switch to sparkling colors!

The revival of bright colors is news and Dorothy Gray is right in step with their new lip and nail shades featuring Glory Red, Right White Gloss, Cherry Blue and Plus Pink. The lipstick is creamy-textured and will keep the lips soft and moist throughout the day.

Colors always give one a lift. You know how "blah" you can feel with no-color clothes and monotone make-up. Now there's no need to have the shadow of a smile; it can be the real thing. The three "h's" are in this season — if you wear the bright, bold, beautiful flag-waving colors. You'll find people are going to salute you!

Lunchroom Transformed Into Roman Villa For Junior-Senior Banquet

(From The War Whoop)
The place: Rome; the date: May 11, 80 BC; the event: the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Thanks to the work of Laura Sampson and her decorating committee, the Elementary lunchroom was transformed into a Roman villa.

Those gathered for this gala event, both plebeians and patricians, enjoyed a feast fit for Caesar served by lovely Roman ladies and slave boys.

The program was more exciting than a coliseum full of gladiators. The M. C., Scott McDonald, as Junior Class president, welcomed all who attended and we heard an adaptation from the Roman cry, "We came, we saw, we conquered."

JOINT MEETING HELD BY THE RAINBOW AND SUNSHINE CLUBS

The Rainbow and Sunshine Clubs met in a joint session, Friday, May 10th, at 7:00 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall, First Methodist Church, for their annual party and supper. This marked the 31st anniversary of both clubs.

The tables were beautifully decorated with potted plants and red geraniums. Mrs. Jim Fouts offered thanks before a bountiful feast was served to 17 members and six visitors.

Mrs. W. E. Johnson, club mother for both clubs, brought the welcome address. A short program was rendered and an old-fashioned sing-song was enjoyed by everyone. Flowers were presented to Mother Johnson, by Bill Ratliff, Senior Class president. Then Scott introduced a Roman soliloquy which consisted of a monologue by Jim Smith. Then a team of rather shy-looking boys was introduced, who proved to be just as entertaining. Gary Landes and Walter Hargrove of Botan performed in the Smothers Brothers style, singing and telling stories. When the laughter died down there came a more serious note.

time to serve the fruit, just lift out the wrap.

If a sponge is one of your favorite helpers, here's a tip on keeping it clean and fresh for a long time. Occasionally boil it with a little soda and vinegar in water. Be sure to let it dry where there is good air circulation to guard against mustiness.

Tooth cleansers go back as far as the Roman empire and ancient rulers had some wild ideas. They used such things as fine pumice, burned eggshell, burned stag's horns, burned mice and even lizard livers to clean their teeth.

Look for the label when shopping for clothing. A good label should have information on: fiber content of garment and trim; construction features such as reinforced knees; washing and drying care of the garment; name of the manufacturer, the retailer; and information on colorfastness, ironing and resistances.

Nine out of every 10 women today work outside the home at some time in their lives.

Color forecast for spring and summer 1968: pastels—not pale, not hot, but bright. Yellows, pinks, blues, greens teamed with dove grey.

Look for greater awareness of shape and more fit. Waistlines, whether high, low, or natural, will be clearly defined. The belt is coming back. Skirts will be styled for mobility, with pleats, gores, shirring, paneling and insets to allow freedom of movement.

Fabrics are becoming more supple, heavier and more drapable. Added emphasis will be given to textured yarns of all variations, such as creped, twisted, slubbed or nubbed. The swingback to classic weaves and constructions, will bring with it the silky look, the homespun look and the napped look.

Junior G. A.'s Visit Clear View Lodge

Homemade cookies and heart-felt music were special treats offered to some special people by a group of nine and ten-year-old girls from the First Baptist Church when they visited the Clear View Lodge on Tuesday, May 21.

Mrs. W. P. Trice, counselor, arranged the mutually enjoyed visit for the Junior Girls' Auxiliary as its mission action program for the month of May.

The girls were welcomed by Mrs. Geneva Stone, manager of the rest home, who expressed appreciation for the cookies. Several songs were sung by the group and three girls, Leesa Drinnon, Robin Wheatley and Mona Bledsoe, played piano numbers.

Other Junior G. A.'s making the visit were Cindy Thomas, Maria Witherspoon, Cynthia Jones, Lupe Cazares, Terry Berry, Cindy Warren, Sandra Watson and Sherry Miller. They were accompanied by Mrs. Trice and Mrs. Robert Wheatley.

CLIFFORD THOMAS

CALLING ALL VOTERS OF Precinct

To those who voted for and supported me in the first primary, please remember the race is not over until the last vote is counted in the second primary. So we need your continued support and influence in the second primary. To those whose candidate did not get in the run-off, I want to solicit and will sincerely appreciate your vote and influence.

I want to assure you that I realize the time consuming duties of the office, how varied they are, how large the county's business is and the great responsibility the office carries. The question has been raised about a full-time commissioner . . . Just what is meant by a full-time commissioner has never been defined but there are only 24 hours in a day and any time a job requires more than the average 8 to 10 hours a day I will be available up to the full 24 hours.

Your commissioner should give you a good administration, see that the taxpayer gets full value for every dollar spent, carefully supervise work, employes, equipment, road maintenance of the precinct and give proper attention to other details that arise. The precinct's business should be run as efficiently as a well managed private business. This I believe every taxpayer has a right to expect of the man they elect. I feel I am qualified to give you this type of administration and will put forth every effort to do a job that will give you no reason to regret having supported me.

I will welcome suggestions or the discussion of any matter at any time by any person interested in the affairs of the county.

If there is any question about my candidacy you would like to have answered, please feel free to contact me.

Women IN THE KNOW

By Jean Kingsley, Women's Consultant, The Travelers Insurance Companies

Retirement Planning
At one time, the average man's life expectancy was 47; today, any American-born can expect to live past 70. Now, with more than 18-million people past the age of 65 in America, the ranks of our retirement age citizens are growing—and by the year 2000 there will be over 28 million older persons.

Although retirement is basically a period of relaxation and enjoyment, like any new situation it presents its own problems. Chief among these is balancing the budget. According to a survey taken by the U.S. Department of Labor, older people spend proportionally more than younger people on housing and household operations, health care and food purchased for home preparation.

Another problem may be what to do once you've retired. There are organizations of retired people around the country who offer special courses and leisurely sight-seeing trips. You could develop an interesting hobby—one you never had time for previously—or start a small business of your own.

Before starting any business venture, however, check with your lawyer. If you must sign a contract or rent expensive equipment, consult him, for there may be hidden expenditures of which you may not be aware. At this time, it's also a good idea to update your will.

Because retirement means planning for the future as well as the present, women in the know understand the necessity of checking now with their travel agents to make sure their families have proper life insurance coverage. Remember, a happy and carefree retirement is up to you.

There Is No Such Thing As Traffic Accident, Says Safety Association

An official of the Texas Safety Association said today that there is no such thing as a traffic "accident" and cited the failure of the "vehicle package" as the real cause of highway crashes.

"Every highway crash, and every death and injury it may produce, has one or more very real causes," Robert F. Miller, Dallas, Vice President for Traffic Safety for the Association, said, and added: "There is nothing accidental about them. The causes lie in the breakdown of the road, or the car, or the driver, or all three. When any one of these fail to function properly, there is a potential for a highway crash."

While defining the highway crash as "the tragic climax to a set of identifiable curable failures in the driving system" and "not an act of fate," he called the motor vehicle driver the most vital element in today's "vehicle package."

"Unless the individual driver knows and observes good safety practices, the current efforts of government and private industry to provide better roads and safer vehicles, will be use-

- less," Mr. Miller observed.
- The Safety Association official, who expresses a strong belief that perfection of the "vehicle package" is the answer to our traffic ills, says observance of the following safe driving practices will go a long way in developing responsible, sophisticated drivers:
1. Don't drive when you have been drinking. Recent studies find that drinking, especially heavy drinking, plays a major role in half of all fatal crashes, and in two-thirds of fatal crashes in which only one car is involved.
 2. Keep yourself in safe driving condition with regular health checkups. Ask your physician if your physical or mental condition or the medicines you use will impair your driving. Follow his advice, and if you have any doubts about your ability to drive safely—don't drive.
 3. If you need glasses for driving, wear them.
 4. Don't exhaust yourself on long trips. The tired driver is a dangerous driver. Plan your trips to include stops. Use highway rest areas.
 5. Always wear safety belts, and make sure all members of your family do—including the children. Make safety belt use a habit. Whether you're going a few blocks to the grocery, or 2,000 miles on a vacation trip, wear your belts. They stop you and your children from being smashed about if you crash.

A study of more than 28,000 highway crashes shows that not one of 9,345 occupants wearing combination shoulder-strap safety belts was fatally injured in serious crashes at speeds up to 60 miles per hour. Non-belted occupants were killed at speeds as low as 12 miles per hour.

6. Keep your car in good shape. Keep your tires properly inflated, and replace damaged, or badly worn tires promptly.
7. Slow your driving speed in poor weather or road conditions.
8. Be especially alert for walkers, or cycle riders along the road—particularly youngsters in residential areas. More than 150,000 pedestrians are injured by cars each year.

Mr. Miller further cited six kinds of irresponsibility which generated over 60 percent, or 32,274 motor vehicle crashes on Texas rural highways last year. These crashes accounted for some 62 percent, or 1,195 of the fatal motor vehicle crashes on rural Texas highways and over 70 percent, or 11,307, of the injury crashes.

The six driver violations contributing to Texas highway crashes, listed in rank by the largest number of total crashes, are:

1. Driving too fast for conditions. (10,872)
2. Refused to yield right-of-way. (8,345)
3. Violating maximum speed. (6,443)
4. Driving on wrong side of road. (2,981)
5. Tailgating, or following too closely. (2,601)
6. Ignoring a stop sign or signal. (832)

In concluding, he said: "Next time you see a highway 'accident,' or a life smashed on the highway, remember it wasn't an accident at all."

SPoon FISHING...and other tips

BY TOM ANDREWS

"SILVER" LURES TRAVEL BEST

Some fishermen, like me, travel a lot. Others, and you may be one of them, can only fish new waters once a year at vacation time. Yet both of us have felt the need for a lure that would work well anytime, anywhere.

When I started analyzing this problem some time ago, I discovered that it came in two parts. It wasn't enough just to settle on a particular type of lure, I learned. You also had to be concerned with the color of that lure.

Fortunately, it didn't take me long to nail down the kinds of lures that would serve well no matter where they were used, the season, or the weather. The spoon and the jig won hands down. Why? Well, if either lure has the weight and shape of a Johnson Silver Mite or "Lucky" Lujon, for example, it can be cast or trolled, fished slow or fast. It will work well in fresh or salt water, swift rivers or sluggish backwaters, deep glacier lakes or shallow farm ponds.

The problems I had in appreciating the importance of color are still kind of embarrassing, but they were finally solved in just one exciting week several years ago. I was out with friends on a San Diego party boat. I had given each of them a "Lucky" Lujon and we were anxious to see how this jigging-type lure would work on yellowtails. Because we intended to cast and retrieve, we were put on the bow apart from the cut-bait fisherman. Well, we weren't apart for long! Within an hour, we were arm-weary from hauling in 15- and 20-lb. yellowtails—and tongue-weary from identifying our "bait," the "Lucky" Lujon.

Two days later, I was in St. Louis on business, and on Thursday morning was flown out to Bagnell Dam at Lake of the Ozarks for a few hours of bass fishing. There were three Lujons left in my tackle box and I shared them with my companion and the guide. The guide had told us not to expect too much; heavy rains had been providing free meals for the fish.

I didn't take us quite half an hour to speed the pace of the action. We had the guide hooting with glee as he netted bass after bass. We just cast our Lujons as far as possible, let them sink for several seconds, then started retrieving with steady reel speed and constant raising and lowering of the rod tip.

The same routine was faithfully duplicated the following Saturday when, with my wife and son, we ran the long swells due east of Jacksonville, Fla., and filled the transom of our 20-footer with Spanish mackerel.

And while filleting those mackerel I realized that, in two oceans and a body of fresh water, I had enjoyed great luck with a jig—one with a silvery finish (the Lujon is nickel-plated).

Since that time, I've never seen a lure that could "travel" better than a silver or silvery finished spoon or jig.

THE BEST TEN YEARS

When retirement standards cut off many persons in their most productive period of life, it is refreshing to read about a man who is still going strong in his 93rd year. He is J. C. Penney, founder of the great chain of stores bearing his name. On a visit to Portland, Oregon, he expressed thoughts that are good medicine in these days of confusion. Among other things, he said, "...I'm looking forward to the next 10 years as the best years of my life...I belong to too many organizations, like the 4-H, that represent young people and I meet too many outstanding examples of today's youth to sour on any of them. I see leaders of tomorrow... business leaders, governors and perhaps even presidents."

WASHINGTON "As it looks from here" OMAR BURELSON Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"Citizens' Crusade Against Poverty," a self-appointed agency sponsored by Walter Reuther, has just released a 100-page report entitled "U.S.A.—Hunger." The group under the agency is called the "Citizens' Board of Inquiry into Hunger and Malnutrition in the United States."

The report found shocking examples of hunger in all parts of the Nation but primarily "in the south and southwest."

The 100-page document identifies 256 counties that are so "distressed as to warrant a Presidential declaration naming them as hunger areas, "where this Board recommends that new emergency food programs should be immediately instituted.

Prior to this report the Department of Agriculture recently issued a survey on hunger and malnutrition which contradicts testimony given by Department officials before the Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives.

Officials of the Department had testified before the Committee last fall that they had all the authority needed to feed hungry people anywhere they might find them and that they had the money with which to do it. The Agriculture Committee felt that under these circumstances it was unwise to establish another program to do the same thing, but another committee of the Congress has authorized an additional program which duplicates what is already being done.

Following the issuance of the report of the private "Citizens' Crusade Against Poverty," Chairman of the Agriculture Committee, Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, wrote health officers and other officials of the 256 counties, which this group found to be deficit in food, asking for a report and their opinion on local conditions. Chairman Poage has received 77 responses already and more coming in. Local health officials say that in no case do they find any actual starvation but do find instances of malnutrition. Most of them have amplified their responses to say that malnutrition can occur in cases where food is plentiful and that it is a matter of a balanced diet. This may occur in any home of an affluent society.

Most of them commented that from their observations many people preferred to be on relief with a limited supply of food than to accept jobs which were available. Chairman Poage wrote specifically, (1) "I would greatly appreciate it if you would immediately advise me whether you have any personal knowledge of any actual starvation in your county. (2) Do you have any personal knowledge of any severe hunger in your county occasioned by inability of the individual to either buy food or receive public assistance?" None have thus far replied in the affirmative.

Of course, there are instances of people who are too old or too sick to work and these are the people who are entitled to assistance and who will get it, if this is their condition.

Now coming out of these reports there is a move on to ask the President to appoint another commission to look into the matter. The Chairman of the Agriculture Committee says that if anyone knows of any facts needed to relieve condi-

June Draft Call For Texas Has Been Reduced

The June draft call for Texas has been reduced almost one-third, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Wednesday.

The state quota of 1,416 men for June was scaled down to 961 by a telegram from Lieutenant General Lewis B. Hershey, the national draft director. This followed reduction of the national quota for June by the Department of Defense from 29,500 to 20,000 men, all for the Army.

At the same time, the Department of Defense said its call for July would be 15,000. The Texas share of this would be 700 to 750 men, Col. Schwartz estimated.

State draft boards currently are filling the May state call for 2,223 men, destined for the Army and Marine Corps. The May call was increased 4.3 per cent in late April to provide strength for the Marine Corps.

Local boards are currently being advised of reductions in their June quotas.

The draft boards will forward 8,500 men to the armed forces examining and entrance stations in June for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas. The May total is 9,000.

The order of selection to fill the June induction call may be from among examined and acceptable men who are (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26, and (3) non-volunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, with those married after August 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.

Students SS Benefits Top Scholarships

Social Security is now paying more money to students aged 18 through 21 than all the scholarships at all U. S. Colleges and Universities, according to data just received by R. R. Tuley, Jr., District Manager for the Social Security Administration in Abilene.

"In the 1968-69 school year," Tuley explained, "the social security program will pay about $479 million to approximately 466,000 students entitled to payments on the earnings record of a disabled, retired, or deceased parent."

The school year that begins next fall will mark the fourth year of payments under a 1965 change in the law providing for the continued payment of social security benefits past the age of 18 to unmarried full-time students.

"Nothing in the law prevents the student from receiving his social security benefits while he is still receiving assistance from a scholarship fund," Tuley noted. "Benefits may be paid during vacation periods. If a student works during the summer months or part time during the school year, and earns $1,680 or less for the year, he can still collect all of his social security benefits. If his earnings go above $1,680, he gives up some or all his benefits, depending upon the amount of his total earnings and how steadily he works."

Tuley added that a 1967 change in the dependency requirements for the children of women workers added about 175,000 more young persons to those eligible for payments. Any student in the 18-22 age group whose mother is deceased, disabled, or retired after earning social security coverage, should visit his social security district office as soon as possible, suggested Tuley. The Abilene office is in the New Federal Building.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Having a maid is probably not as popular as it was a few years ago for many reasons. If your maid, your lawn boy, baby sitter, or other household help earns more than $50 per quarter, you have to have an employer identification number from the IIS Service Center—you have to pay Social Security tax on the employee or employees each quarter. You must have the employee's Social Security number.

The way the lawn has been growing lately, won't take long for the lawn boy to collect $50 off of you. Check it, and get Circular H from IRS.

Sgt. Clarence H. Webb Gets Silver Star

Sgt. Clarence H. Webb, son of Mrs. M. C. Webb, of Rochester, has received the Silver Star for gallantry in action in military action on Oct. 29, 1967, in Vietnam, the department of the Army has announced.

Sgt. Webb is attached to the Command and Control Detachment, 5th Special Group (Airborne), 1st Special Forces.

He received his award for his actions while serving as a Special Forces team leader of a small Vietnamese reconnaissance patrol operation in enemy controlled territory.

While moving up a ridgeline, the patrol was attacked by a platoon of North Vietnamese soldiers. Sgt. Webb rallied his troops, moved them up the hill, and quickly formed a defensive perimeter to repel the pursuing enemy. In the face of two assaults, Sgt. Webb led his men with "spirited fighting inspiring his comrades to return heavy fire on the enemy troops," the Army sources said.

"His dauntless efforts in close combat turned a possible defeat into an overwhelming victory," Army sources said.

Many Farmers In Rolling Plains Agree On Uniform Planting Dates

Farmers in many of the 32 counties comprising the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., have agreed on uniform planting dates for the 1968 crop, according to Charles G. Bragg, executive vice-president of RPCG.

"Most of the counties in the southern part of RPCG that have agreed on planting dates have set May 20 as the earliest date for planting of longer staple varieties," Bragg stated. "The earliest date for planting the shorter staple varieties is May 27. These dates, of course, will depend upon soil moisture and temperature at that time."

"In the northern tier of counties, the earliest date set for

COTTON PICKIN'S
 Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Cotton producers are about ready to realize their "second blessing in disguise" through steps they have had to take in recent years to meet strict wage and hour regulations.

When government regulations scuttled the bracero labor program in Texas agriculture a few years ago, and drove cotton producers to use machines to harvest their crop, it resulted in new procedures which revitalized the cotton industry in the state," said Howard Roberts, Anson, who has served as manager of a gin and has had an average of 240-acre cotton allotment for the last five years.

"I think cotton producers are on the threshold of attaining their second plateau in farming as a result of the farm labor situation," he said.

Four years ago Roberts said he started reading all the information he could get on the use of chemicals in the control of weeds in cotton production.

"Also, I started asking my county agricultural agent for advice and information on chemicals in the control of weeds in farming," he said. "When my hoeing bill started averaging $4 an acre and I was still getting unsatisfactory work from the hired help, I decided to switch to chemical control methods."

"Last year I was able to reduce my cotton weeding costs to $2.65 an acre, $1.00 of which went to laborers to get some late-season weeds, through the use of chemicals.

"Not only did I reduce my production costs, but I realized an increase in cotton yields by beginning of long staple varieties was May 10 and for the short staple varieties is May 20."

Extension Service agronomists recommend a soil temperature of around 65 degrees over a 10-day period prior to planting in order to assure maximum seed germination and rapid growth of young cotton seedlings, Bragg pointed out.

The RPCG executive said he believed that "we have sufficient evidence of beneficial results from a uniform planting date for cotton that we do not hesitate to recommend that producers cooperate in the observance of such a date as far as possible."

eliminating root pruning which occurs through intensive cultivation as was previously required to control weeds and grass."

Roberts, who diverted 35 per cent of his 1968 allotment, plans to plant 180 acres this year, starting May 20, soil moisture and temperature permitting.

"There are a number of good weed control chemicals on the market, but I plan to use Carapal, since that is the kind I've had previous experience with and which can be applied as a spray on the surface of the seedbed behind the planter. Most of the other effective chemicals have to be incorporated into the soil. The spray application is easier and less expensive to use. The chemical may be a little higher than some of the others but I am well pleased with the results I have had in the few years I have been using it."

Roberts said he harvested the best crop last year he has ever made. He said it cost him between $400 to $500 to rig up a tractor to properly use the chemical. Last year he applied the chemical in a 12-inch band above the seed drill. This season, due to past experience and the wet winter and spring, he said he plans to apply a 20-inch band above the seed drill. He will use about three-fourths pound of material in 13 gallons of water to the acre. It will be applied by a nozzle about 11 inches above the seed drill and behind each planter.

GRADUATE TO TOTAL ELECTRIC OPERATION

"You'll have to hunt a long time to find a better banking facility," President Lowell Littleton says of the modern all-electric Ozona National Bank. All of the employees like it very much. From 2,700 square feet of space to 6,300 on the first floor and 4,300 square feet in the basement is a considerable jump in space. "Per square foot—the cost of operation is reasonable," Littleton says.
