

Along The Waterfront

Well, the wind has dropped, and everyone that's been out has come in with some sort of fish. Trout have been here all the time, if you could just get to them, and within recent weeks those boats that have been going to the Gulf have been coming in with some nice kingfish catches.

Fred Christilles fished Dr. and Mrs. Sherwood W. Mantzel of Giddings, and R. V. Smith, La Grange, last Friday, and they caught 25 kings. Saturday and Sunday he had Byron Donzis and party of Houston. On Saturday they caught 72 trout; Sunday they brought in three kingfish. Monday, Mr. and Mrs. DeMontel and party, of Hon-do, fished with Fred and caught 66 specks; Tuesday he had W. M. and Charles Green, Alvin, Joe H. Browning, Athens, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Browning of Karnack. The party caught 56 trout.

Bill Crist fished Neal Howell, Will Jones, and Bob Williams, all of Fort Worth on Friday, and the gang pulled in 76 trout. Sunday he had a party from Seguin: Max Rank, R. L. Keecolle, Roger Erek, and H. E. Wuest, who hooked 48 trout.

Frazier Cantrell had a nice report. Last Friday he fished Buddy Bostick, Sam Fendleton, Zeddie Carroll, and Dick Wooten, all from Radio Station KWTX, of Waco, and the group caught 65 specks. Sunday he had Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Meyland, and their son Gary and daughter, Jeanie, of 309 Hiawatha St., San Antonio. The family landed 71 nice trout.

On the following day, Frazier had another party, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Culepper and their 5-year-old son, Wallace Jr. Frazier said that the boy was ready to keep on fishing a long time after everybody else was ready to quit. The family caught 42 nice trout and then spent about an hour and a half trolling for skipjacks, which are a world of fun on light tackle, and bigger acrobats than tarpon. Frazier said that they caught quite a number that would weigh three or four pounds. The next day, Tuesday, the same party caught 18 trout, one bluefish, and "a boat load of skipjacks."

His Wednesday party was from Louise: R. S. Stockton and his son John, J. P. Chronack, and H. C. Base, and they pulled in 83 trout and a blue.

Hugh Morrison fished C. T. Lipscomb and party on Friday, and the party caught 49 trout. Saturday he had a group from Austin, headed by C. D. Smith, that hooked 43 specks, while his Sunday fishermen, Lloyd H. Wright and party of Fort Worth, strung 35 trout.

Mrs. Morrison said they had been getting nice trout catches at the freezer all week, and that lots of kings were coming in from the Gulf.

Over at Mills Wharf, Harry Bogue of Dallas fished with Harry Mills, on Friday, and caught 95 trout. V. R. Baus, San Antonio, fished with Mullet Gregory, and pulled in 42 trout and two reds; T. Bryant, Houston, fished with Herb Mills, and strung 169 trout.

Saturday, Harold Schlierer, of San Antonio, fished with Herb and pulled in 52 specks; J. E. Phillips, Houston, out with Eddie Edmondson, tallied 42 specks; Mr. Schwarz of San Antonio, fished with Jimmy Mills and strung 62 fish; and Paul Anderson, Austin, fishing with Mullet Gregory, landed 87 trout.

Lee Gollbart and party of Houston fished with Harry on Sunday and snagged 104 nice specks; the next day they fished with Harry again and caught 12 drum, running from 1 to 6 pounds; five reds that went from 3 to 4 pounds; and 7 trout.

On Sunday E. E. Deike of San Antonio fished with Eddie Edmondson, and brought in 56 specks; Don Noble and party, of Houston, went out with Herb, and caught 59 fish.

Navigation Board Meets, Discusses Waterfront

The Aransas County Navigation Board held its regular meeting Wednesday night, and dealt with many routine waterfront problems.

A delegation from the Fulton Lion's Club met with the board requesting that electrical outlets be installed at Fulton harbor, that the Fulton Lionesses be allowed to fertilize and otherwise aid in care of shrubbery planted at the Fulton harbor, that a groin be installed at Fulton, to prevent the beach from eroding, and that the beach there be graded.

The board promised to look into the matter of the electrical outlets, explaining that one reason they had not been installed was that at Rockport the privilege of electricity had been badly abused and they had wanted to be sure that the same thing did not occur at Fulton.

The problem of a groin was discussed at great length, but no satisfactory conclusion could be reached in regard to erosion, as the board members had insufficient data from which to work.

Fulton Lionesses were granted permission to fertilize and aid in caring for the shrubs which they had planted some time ago around the Fulton harbor, and the board agreed to see what could be done in regard to grading the present beach there and at Rockport.

New parking areas are to be set up at Fulton, and will be designated by signs.

Ellis Clark reported on land acquisition at the Cove.

School Board of Equalization to Meet at Later Date

The Board of Equalization notice for the Aransas County Independent School District that appears in this week's Pilot is incorrect in stating that the board would begin meeting on Monday, June 18, as the tax office has not had sufficient time to prepare for the project.

According to Mrs. Katherine McLeester, the time and date for the meeting will be announced later.

Don Banning Aiding With Preparations For Outboard Marathon

Don Banning is aiding with preparations for the outboard marathon between here and Freeport to be held on Aug. 11. He has taken over much of the correspondence necessary in regard to awards and other necessary preparations as his contribution toward the success of the affair, cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in its effort to establish this as an annual event.

Jaycees to Meet Monday Night

Aransas County Jaycees will meet Monday night, June 11, for their regular dinner meeting at Nelda's Cafe, and will discuss various projects. A full report will be given on the dance and on the beach clean-up, which the club did in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce. Members are asked to call secretary James Cruser if they cannot attend.

Any young man in Aransas County between the ages of 21 and 35 who wishes to join the Jaycees is urged to attend this meeting at 8:00 o'clock, as the Junior Chamber of Commerce is an organization specifically designed to meet a young man's need, where it is possible for a young man to assume leadership in community betterment at an age when such leadership would be denied elsewhere.

This is a young man's organization. From top to bottom, the entire Jaycee structure is governed by young men. From the national presidents, the national office and its staff, the state organization, to the newest member, affairs and policies are directed by young men.

In short, membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce means: 1. Civic service in cooperation with others. 2. Friendships are established. 3. Contacts with older business men. 4. An active social life. 5. Develops sense of responsibility. 6. Expands powers of initiative and ingenuity. 7. Instills executive ability. 8. Develops speaking ability. 9. Recognition through self-improvement. 10. Opportunity for advancement.

CONCENTRATED FURY of a tornado is unmatched among all natural disasters. Here civil defense rescue workers search among the debris of Udall, Kan., for some of the 74 dead and hundreds injured by the twister on the night of May 25, 1955. Special cutting and lifting equipment of the civil defense "Calamity Jane" rescue truck at left enabled them to reach many victims trapped by rubble who might otherwise have died in the first hours. Rabies Spreading Over State; When Is Rockport's Turn?

Rabies is spreading over the state, and Texas, as usual seems bound to lead all other states. Dallas has just reported thirteen cases; some parts of the state have been declared in a state of epidemic; and only recently there was a severe outbreak in the Valley.

Rockport, considering the number of stray and loose dogs without vaccination tags that are seen on the streets, has been lucky so far. How long this state of affairs will continue is anyone's guess, but only one infected animal is necessary to spread it all over the county.

If this happens, the person bitten may be either your child or you. Rabies, unless caught, is generally fatal. Vaccination of the person bitten usually saves them, but sometimes it does not. Is it worth this chance to let dogs run loose unvaccinated?

Carl Osborns in Auto Wreck Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Osborn, and Mr. and Mrs. George Graner, friends of theirs, were involved in an automobile wreck Sunday evening, from which Osborn emerged with two broken ribs and Mrs. Graner with a broken ankle.

The Osborns had been attending a Lions convention at Brownsville over the weekend, having gone down in a chartered bus. Mr. and Mrs. Graner, who had looked after their court for them, met Mr. and Mrs. Osborn in Corpus Christi, with the Osborn's car, and with Carl driving they started for home. Headed north on Water Street, another car is alleged to have shot out in front of them from a side street, so close that Osborn could not avoid a collision.

Mrs. Osborn suffered from bruises and loss of her glasses, and Mr. Graner from contusions, in addition to the injuries sustained by Osborn and Mrs. Graner. Occupants of the other car suffered only minor bruises, according to Mrs. Osborn, who said that Mrs. Graner would have her ankle in a cast for at least 90 days.

The Osborn's car was almost completely demolished, despite the fact that it was traveling at a low rate of speed.

Rev. Dana Green Returns to Pulpit

The Reverend Dana Green, pastor of the First Methodist Church here for the past several years, has been returned to the local pulpit. He was one of 279 Methodist ministers in the church's Southwest Texas Conference whose appointment was announced by Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston at the conclusion of the unit's annual meeting in San Antonio. The Southwest Texas Conference has a church membership of approximately 110,000 Methodists.

Woman's Club To Hold Meeting

The Woman's Club will meet Tuesday, June 12, at 3:30 p. m. This will be the first meeting since installation of new officers.

Mrs. Jack Hagar will be the speaker, and will talk on "The Magnificent Migration Through Rockport." Members and their guests are urged to be present.

ROCKPORT SPORTSMEN'S GROUP TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING, ELECT OFFICERS

The Rockport Sportsmen's Conservation Association will hold its annual meeting and election of officers on Tuesday, June 12, at Mills Wharf. All members are urged to be present.

Better Late Than Never

Better late than never, we suppose, and heaven knows we're late enough with the fact that the seventeen touring Latin American ambassadors and charges d'affaires that were making the rounds were close enough to Rockport for some of the glory to rub off.

Foreign ambassadors in this country often complain that the only points they ever get to see are Washington, D. C., New York, and San Francisco.

To do something about it a group of Texas universities and colleges recently invited a group of them down to Texas, complete with a Life photographer, to sample a radically different brand of living than that found in the rarefied diplomatic circles of the capitol.

In 60 hours the visitors inspected three cities, five campuses, a gun collection; attended four banquets, four receptions, an art show; reviewed five honor guards, 3000 cadets, and a 250-piece marching band.

To top it all off, they flew down to Matagorda Island, as the guests of Toddy Lee Wynne, where they shed their war paint, put on some comfortable clothes, watched a round up and explored each others' proficiency in poker and song. The gaily-dressed ambassadors joined in "Cielito Lindo" to the music of Bolivian Ambassador Don Victor Andrade's guitar, and then graduated to a rough game of poker in which grains of corn were used for chips.

As a climax of the trip, they were written up in Life for May 18. Back in Washington, the tired 17 were eagerly available for invitations to another junket.

Fulton Lions Meet Make Community Plans

Fulton Lions, at their regular meeting, considered a number of plans for the betterment of their community.

The clean-up campaign, which started a week ago was so successful that they decided to continue it with their goal set at having "the cleanest waterfront village on the Gulf Coast."

The Civic Improvement Committee, of which Zeph Rouquette and R. L. Harrell are co-chairmen, asked that the club sponsor additional improvements on the Fulton Harbor, and that the Navigation District be contacted in regard to installation of electrical outlets at boat anchorages; permission for a woman's committee from the Lions Club to help care for the shrubbery that was recently planted; and installation of a groin to protect the existing beach fill before it is washed away.

Henry Schmidt, chairman of the Boys and Girls Committee, recommended that the Lions sponsor a wiener roast on the beach this month, and that the club work with churches of the area in fostering baseball. The 15 uniforms owned by the Lions should be donated to this movement, he said.

William N. Johnson, Jr., and D. T. Oliver, co-chairmen of the recreational committee recommended that the Fulton Lions cooperate with the Rockport club to make the Fourth of July barbecue a gala event, and that boat races and waterfront activities at both places be planned for that date.

The committees set the Labor Day weekend as the time for the club's annual fish fry.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Johnson and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDavid and family are spending their vacation at Ruidoso, N. M.

Nine Reservations Still Available For Camp Copano

There is room for nine additional Girl Scouts in the first camping session at Camp Copano that will open Sunday and continue through the week.

Only 41 girls have registered for the first session and the camp facilities can accommodate 50 campers, said Mrs. Allison Nichols, camp director. Registration for the initial week of camping will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday at the camp.

Mrs. Nichols said the second session beginning June 17 is full but reservations are still being taken for the third and fourth weeks. The third week is planned primarily for Brownies SHRLU primarily for Brownies.

Church League Plan Completed for Year

Plans for Rockport's Church Baseball League have been completed, and the organization is now equipped with commissioners, umpires, an official score keeper and publicity director, all ready to start operating.

The first game will be the week of June 18, when the 12-year olds in the Junior League lead off with a double header. All games will be played at night.

Teams included in the league are: First Baptist Juniors, Sacred Heart Juniors, Sacred Heart Seniors, First Presbyterian Juniors, First Presbyterian Seniors, and Fulton Baptist Juniors and Seniors.

Baseball commissioners are the pastors of the various churches, and include Father G. J. O'Doherty, Sacred Heart; Rev. Dana Green, First Methodist; Rev. A. Arnott Ward, First Presbyterian; Rev. W. D. Broadway, First Baptist; and the Rev. George Merriman, of Fulton Baptist. The commissioners' first job will be to establish eligibility rules for the players.

Heading the umpires will be E. G. Brooks and Millard Owens. In addition two will be furnished by each church in the league, and a school for these umpires will be held in the near future, where they will be taught proper and forceful methods of ejecting players from the game, the right way to yell "You're out" and other things that umpires should know.

Charles Roe, Jr., is treasurer of the league, and Louis Tuer, of the Arkansas Fuel Company, who moved here in March, is business manager in charge of concessions, and will be assisted by two helpers from each church on the nights their teams play. A free will offering will be taken each night that there is a game, to pay for the lights used. Each playing session will be a double header, and there will be two a week.

Al Holland is official announcer, and Aransas County Youth equipment will be used.

Port Baughman is scorekeeper and publicity director.

All entry fees for teams are due on or before June 10, and should be sent to the treasurer, Charles Roe, Jr.

Those present at the meeting included: E. G. Brooks, Rev. W. D. Broadway, J. A. Baird, Melvin Borchert, Faher O'Doherty, Urban Chupe, Rev. Dana S. Green, Charles Roe, Jr., M. M. Owens, W. E. Beasley, and Louis Tuer.

Smith Appointed Justice of Peace

Commissioners' Court Fills Vacant Spot In Precinct Two; Appoint County Parks Planning Committee of Five to Report On Area Needs

The Commissioners' Court at its regular meeting, appointed Jack Smith to fill the long vacant office of Justice of the Peace in Precinct Two, for which Wallace Lassiter and Buddy Warden had both failed to qualify, and agreed to the establishment of a five-man county parks planning committee, long sought by the Chamber of Commerce, as well as transacting other routine business.

Plans For Radar Housing Completed

Plans for housing the personnel of the 813th ACW Squadron, to be stationed at Rockport on completion of the station installation in January, include government housing units, according to Lieutenant W. R. Schwartz, liaison officer from Ellington Field.

The buildings will consist of 27 two- and three-family units, and will be constructed on land just east of the ACW station. Plans call for nine of these buildings to be built during the fiscal year of 1957, and for the other 15 to be completed during the fiscal year of 1958, Schwartz said.

Judge John D. Wendell, when asked regarding the property to be occupied by the units said that it was part of surplus airport land, and that the Commissioners' Court was negotiating with the Air Force on a lease for the site. He stated, however, that there were a number of questions that needed to be clarified before any such lease would be granted.

200 ALCOA Sales Contest Winners Will Vacation Here

If all goes well, approximately 200 sales contest winners, from Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Austin, and other cities throughout the state, will enjoy a four-day vacation at Rockport this fall, according to R. P. Dulaney, of Dallas, district sales manager for the Weavever division of the Aluminum Company of America.

Dulaney, along with four division managers of the company, E. T. Abernethy, whose territory includes Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Austin; Wayne Butler, of Fort Worth; H. P. Burton, Houston; and R. L. Hollen, of the Dallas division, were all in Rockport this week, laying plans for the mass movement, which will be from September 7, when everyone will arrive, until the 11th, when the party will be over.

"In addition to the 150 or 200 salesmen," Dulaney said, "there will be all their wives and children, so we expect to fill Oak Shore Apartments to overflowing." There won't be but one business session," he continued, "and the rest of the time will be devoted to having a good time for everyone."

"We expect to do some fishing, swimming, barbecuing, square dancing, and some of the gang may even get in a little golf." For 24 years the Weavever division in this part of the country has been holding its annual summer get-together along the Texas coast. Two years ago fifty of them were here and they liked it so well that this time they've brought the gang and expect to stay a while.

Men who will come will be winners of sales contests throughout the state, Dulaney said, based on quotas set for their various areas.

Building Permits

The following building permits were issued by the city during May:

B. B. Bettell, addition to dwelling, $5000; Rudolph Nava, addition to dwelling, $500; Violet Percival, addition to dwelling, $200; M. F. White, dwelling, $1500; Frank Davis, garage, $100; Joe P. Allgood, service station, $5000; R. G. Stivers, Jr., dwelling, $5000; and H. E. Collum, car port, $2500.

AUDITORS HERE

State auditors are here this week, checking the records at the courthouse.

First item on the meeting agenda was a request by Harrell and Southworth for an easement to travel along a portion of one of the county roads south of the high school, to gain access to a drilling location. Permission was granted by the commissioners, provided that Harrell and Southworth agreed to repair any damages resulting from such use.

The matter of purchasing right-of-way for the State Highway Department and construction of fences along such right-of-way then came before the court. The commissioners decided that all such expense should be paid from the road and bridge fund of the county, with each commissioner participating with an equal share of the cost, regardless of what precinct the said right-of-way purchase shall be made, or such fencing done.

J. R. Allen appeared before the court, asking for the opening of Liberty Street, and after due discussion the matter was turned over to County Attorney Weldon Cabanis for further investigation and opening of the said street.

Plans showing the Market Street Homes Subdivision of the north 20 acres of tract 31, of the old Aransas Pass Colonization Company, submitted by Lynwood Eller and Curtis Harritt, and of the Stivers subdivision of Outlot 12, Doughty and Mathis, filed by Jr. and R. G. Stivers, were both approved and filed for record.

The appointment of Jack Smith as Justice of the Peace for Precinct Two was then made, to fill a place vacant since the last election.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of Seth Steele, Tom Roper and Matt Scott, requested Commissioners' Court to appoint a County Park Board. Upon inquiry as to legal aspects of such appointment, the Commissioners' Court was advised by the county attorney that no authority exists presently to appoint such a Board of Park Commissioners with powers as are described in Article 6079c of the Civil Statutes of Texas for the reason that Aransas County owns at this time no island or islands within its boundaries suitable for park purposes as required under such act, reference being made also to Articles 6078 and 6081e of the Civil Statutes pertaining to acquiring and improving county parks.

The Commissioners' Court, favoring cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce in going into its suggestion of a county park or parks, directed the county judge to name five interested resident taxpayers in Aransas County, as a County Parks Planning Committee, who shall agree to serve without compensation and be without authority to obligate or bind Aransas County, to consult with and work with the Chamber of Commerce and other interested groups or organizations on the subject of county parks, which committeemen shall serve until a recommendation in writing can be made by them to the Commissioners' Court.

Grandson of Judge John Hynes To Be Buried Here

Thomas Hynes, 78, a retired rancher, died in an Oklahoma City hospital at 3:20 p.m., Tuesday, June 5, after a lingering illness. He was born and educated in Refugio, and was well known in Rockport during the early years of his life, through his residence at the old family home on Hynes Bay, and through his association with various ranches in the region and for a number of years he worked with Clark Herring on the ranch on Matagorda Island.

He moved to Corpus Christi in 1926, and later to Oklahoma City, but never relinquished his membership in Our Lady of Refuge Church in Refugio.

Survivors include three sons, T. W., of Oklahoma City, John T. of El Campo, and Philip L., of Tripoli, North Africa; two daughters, Miss Bobbie Hynes of Portland and Mrs. Charles Peto of Cleveland, Ohio; one brother, Phil Hynes of Refugio; a sister, Miss Orrie Hynes of Beville; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Hynes was the grandson of Judge John Hynes, one of the men instrumental in founding Rockport, and a first cousin of Miss Grace Smith and the Misses Velma and Vivian Picton.

Burial will be in the Rockport Cemetery, Saturday at 9 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ayers of La Porte, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mundine and attended the wedding Friday night of Miss Wanda Sue Mundine and Jerome Wallace.

Member of Early Family Dies In San Antonio

AGE OF DRAGONS NOT PASSED IN TEXAS

The age of dragons has not passed in Texas, for even today, scattered through lakes and river bottoms of the coastal country, many an alligator is found.

Two Bay City hunters shot a twelve-footer that weighed 650 pounds last December. Only a few weeks ago a baby 'gator turned up in a Corpus Christi back yard and hardly a summer month goes by without an alligator being reported from somewhere along the coast.

The American alligator country stretches from the Rio Grande and Red River in Texas, on around the Gulf of Mexico, up the Atlantic seaboard to Albemarle Sound, but there's enough of it in tradition, the West was the 'gators' ancient home.

The Texas Indians say that long ago droves of mighty saurians came out of the northwest, traveling overland to the Gulf Coast; and possibly this legend gains a shadowing authority from the fact that in Miocene times there dwelt in Nebraska a descendant of the dinosaurs which may have been our alligator's ancestor.

The first Spaniard that saw one of the great reptiles exclaimed "El Lagarto"—the lizard—and American frontiersmen shortened this to alligator, and let it go at that.

Alligators are surrounded by legends, and continually accused of man-eating, an indictment which is open to question.

Ross Allen, who operates the Reptile Garden at Silver Springs, Florida, has caught thousands, mostly alive, and ought to know something about them. He claims to know of only one case in the wild where an alligator killed a man without provocation. That happened on a golf course when the man stepped into a water hazard to recover a lost ball.

Alligators may not have man on their menu, but they live on meat, eating almost any animal they can catch and reduce to swallowing size—including an occasional hog or calf.

They are sluggish—but when prey appears 'gators can move fast, outswimming most of the other swamp denizens and on land, for a short distance, can make surprising speed.

If an unsuspecting deer or pig comes down to drink, the great tail whips it into the water, where the 'gator grabs on and holds it under until it drowns.

Alligators will try anything in the line of food. Cinders, shot-gun shells, hickory nuts and balls of wood have all been taken from their stomachs.

Romance isn't a word generally associated with these giant saurians, but there's enough of it in an alligator's heart to keep the clan in existence.

However, the lady does the wooing. When she begins to yearn for the patter of tiny feet she goes looking for a gentleman 'gator, and compacts herself like a shameless hussy, cozening him with outrageous wiles until she arouses his interest.

Like many other reptiles alligators lay eggs—from 10 to 60 of them—chalky-white, leathery-shelled, and about the same diameter as a hen's, though somewhat longer.

These are deposited in a leafy nest, not far from the home of the mama 'gator. Leaves and trash are raked together in a small pile, and a few eggs are laid on it. Then more leaves and trash are scraped on top of this, more eggs are laid, and so on, until the entire number are deposited.

The mound may eventually reach eight or ten feet in diameter and two or three feet in height, and here the eggs are left, to be hatched by the heat of rotting vegetation, unless skunks, coons, or other swamp dwellers find them.

The little alligators emerge in six to seven weeks, and, scratching their way up through the mound, are ready to take up the serious business of living. Few, however, last very long. Keen-eyed birds of prey are on the lookout for opportunities such as this, and hawks, crows, buzzards and eagles are there in a jiffy to see that many of them never reach the water, even though the mother, warned by instinct of their hatching, is on hand to try to give them a good start in life.

Small fish, frogs and crawfish furnish the youngsters food, and their growth is surprisingly fast. Young hatched in the New York Zoological Gardens grew to a length of 18 inches in the first year, reached nearly four feet at 2 1/2, and by the time they were five years old weighed 50 pounds and were nearly six feet long.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bartlett and son, Ricky of San Antonio, enjoyed fishing in Rockport over the weekend.

Raymond Sparks of Sparks Dry Goods attended the fall market held in the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio last weekend.

Miss Susan Marx of Houston, is spending her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christilles.

GIRL SCOUTS

Fly-Up and Investiture ceremonies were held for Troop 32 at the Girl Scout Little House at 4 p. m. on May 22. These ceremonies are held when members of a Brownie Troop become old enough to be Girl Scouts.

The Fly-Up is the ceremony in which Brownie Wings are presented to each girl who has completed at least one year of Brownie scouting and are the only emblem worn on the Girl Scout uniform to indicate that the girl has been a Brownie.

After the fly-up, the girls are invested as Intermediate Girl Scouts but they must have completed the Tenderfoot rank requirements.

The setting for the fly-up was the Pathway of Girl Scouting represented by brown colored Brownie footstep leading to Brownie Wings representing the termination of Brownie work. Beyond the wings were the green footstep of Girl Scouting and at the end of the path the candelabra used in the investiture.

Mrs. James B. Jackson, neighborhood chairman, conducted the ceremonies after an explanation of their meanings.

Mrs. Charles Garrett, leader, was first to follow the pathway, walking in the Brownie footstep until she reached the wings where she turned and gave the remainder of the troop her last Brownie salute. Then returning to the pathway, she entered Girl Scouting on the green footstep. As each girl following reached the wings and paused for her last salute, she was presented with her Brownie Wings by Mrs. Jackson. Miss Billie Lang, assistant leader, followed the leader and girls.

Completing the pathway, Troop 32 formed a horseshoe for the candlelight investiture ceremony which followed an explanation of it by Mrs. Jackson.

The meaning of Girl Scout Honor was given by Tari Ann Wilson, and Nan Jackson, Sandra Arrington and Azalea Shivers gave the meaning of the Promise. The following girls repeated the laws: Tamara Camehl, Kaaren Goodsell, Betsy Fields, Janice Garrett, Betsy Sparks, Jean Miller, Julia Fox, Diana Waggoner, Suzanne Keith and Carla Lee.

Darleen Evans gave the Slogan and Judy Deason the Motto, and all girls and leaders repeated the Promise. After all members of the troop were duly invested and given their pins the group sang "Whene'er You make a Promise."

Refreshments of cookies and punch were served by the girls to their parents who were special guests for the occasion.

On May 25, members of the recently invested Girl Scout Troop 32 celebrated their "fly-up" from Brownies with an over-night stay at the Little House.

The group gathered about 5 p. m. and proceeded to gather wood, dig pits for fires and otherwise prepare for cooking their evening meal. After the meal, consisting of dishes prepared out-of-doors according to favorite Scout recipes, the group played games and sang until bedtime.

For breakfast the girls cooked bacon and eggs on tin-can stoves which they had made prior to the event.

After an intensive clean-up, both inside and outside the Little House, the holiday was concluded

SLIGHT EXAGGERATION—Very slight. The camera angle at which this picture was taken is only partially responsible for massive appearance of the sandwich. Argentinian Jsus Pombu considers the creation a normal production, as Argentinians boast of the size of its loaves of bread—said to be the largest baked anywhere regularly. Here's what the monster sandwich contains: half-pound of steak, two tomatoes, sliced onion, potatoes and beets.

W. G. Garrett and family attended the funeral of Mr. Garrett's brother in Fort Worth this past week. While on the trip they also visited relatives at Eastland and Carbor, Texas.

Ben Sykes and children, Sandra and Jerry, of Magnolia, Ark., were visitors at the W. G. Garrett home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Spencer and family left last Thursday for a two week's vacation in Florida.

Mrs. Charles Garrett, Mrs. James B. Jackson and Miss Billie Lang supervised the outing. Girls attending were Darleen Evans, Tamara Camehl, Nan Jackson, Betsy Fields, Betsy Sparks, Sandy Arrington, Kaaren Goodsell, Tari Wilson, Diane Waggoner, Julia Fox, Suzanne Keith, Jean Miller, Azalea Shivers, Carla Lee, and Judy Deason.

TEXAS IN REVIEW

They're not quite French chefs, but Army cooks are serving-up some mighty delicious chow these days. One reason is the modern cooking school at the Food Service Center at Fort Hood, Texas.

Next week, The Humble Company's TV program, Texas in Review, will show just how today's Army cooks are taught the scientific, and appetizing, way of preparing good meals in huge quantities.

Part two of the two-part feature about the Texas Rangers will also be presented. Exciting pictures of the Rangers in action will show the organization mechanized with tanks and aircraft, and also in skin-diving operations.

Other interesting films will show the processing of milk, ice cream and cottage cheese at Oak Farm Dairy in Dallas, and how Montague County farmers are killing-off post oak by spraying from a plane in order to create more grazing land.

Also shown on the program will be some traffic congestion problems in Dallas and Houston along with one solution in the dedication and opening of the giant new Ten Ten Garage in downtown Houston.

Tuesday, June 12, Texas in Review can be seen over KRIS-TV, Corpus Christi, 8:30 p.m. and WOAI-TV, San Antonio, 6:30 p.m.

Duane Murrell, of Pettus, spent the weekend fishing and visiting his aunt, Mrs. Essie Demory.

Miss Joyce Ann Barber visited last weekend in Victoria with Mrs. Lonnie Harper.

John Lee Bissett, of Bay City, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bissett, this week.

The world's longest fishing line is being operated in Cook Strait, New Zealand, by a team of research biologists. The line, of quarter-inch hemp has reached a depth of 7200 feet. Carrying 30 baited hooks, the rig has brought up fish never seen before.

While the line reaches bottom in an hour, it takes nearly five times that long to bring it to the surface.

Our fishing expert, besides reminding us that "Let's Go Fishing Week" is only a week away, also tells the story of the man that was arrested for catching a dozen more fish than the law allowed.

Fined $25 and costs, he paid off like a slot machine, but lingered before the judge's bench. The judge asked, "What are you waiting for?"

"Well, your Honor," replied the fisherman, "I wonder if I could get a copy of the court record—to show my friends?"

Down around Tanarive, Madagascar, they catch one of the rarest fishes in the world, the coelacanth. Only seven or eight of these prehistoric fossils have been hooked, and the French government of the island has a reward posted for any that fishermen catch.

The other day a 65-inch coelacanth, believed to be a female, was caught by a fisherman off Grand Comore Island and was sped to the government research laboratory aboard a special military plane.

Coelacanths belong to a fish family which was believed to be extinct until a few years ago, when a big male was caught off the coast of South Africa.

If the newly caught fish is a female, it will be the first large one to fall into the hands of scientists. Only one other has been caught so far, the others all being males.

Sportsmen's organizations and youth groups who are seeking a conservation project that will make a real contribution to the management of the nation's wildlife resources should investigate the mourning dove nestling banding program of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Persons over 18 years of age, who are able to recognize mourning doves and who are interested in getting a banding permit of their own and in keeping the necessary records, may apply to the Bird Banding Office, Patuxent Research Refuge, Laurel, Maryland.

Individuals and organizations interested in helping to find nests but not in the responsibility of actually banding the doves and keeping the records are encouraged to assist licensed banders with this essential nest-locating work. Complete information can be obtained from the Patuxent Research Refuge, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

According to an item in Sportsman's News for December, 1955, Sam Welch, editor of the Ozark Fisherman, has taken the trouble to tabulate the methods used in taking big bass at Bull Shoals and Norfolk reservoirs in Arkansas. The analysis is for "lunker" bass. Lunkers are defined as any fish that weighs 4 pounds or over.

By our arithmetic, the method of capture was reported for a total of 1,295 "lunkers" numbered among 1,690 big bass taken from the two lakes during a 28-week season. The tabulation adds up to some 1,029 "lunkers" taken on artificial lures of some kind. Only 266 "lunker" bass fell to live bait.

Unfortunately, there was no indication as to the proportionate distribution of effort to catch fish by these two methods. Nevertheless, we conclude that this 4 to 1 success ratio favoring artificial lures is too impressive to fool around with on our next fishing trip for bass!

More has been coming out of Florida this spring than oranges and sun-tanned tourists. Many ducks that had gone South for a comfortable winter are finding themselves forced to journey North garbed in feathers that are shaded in unbirdlike greens and reds, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

During the past several months personnel of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission have been engaged in trapping, banding, and color marking several species of ducks at three sites in the Sunshine State. The birds are not harmed by the dyes and their unnatural colors make them more easily seen during the aerial and ground census studies that will be conducted throughout most of the important nesting areas in North America this spring and summer.

The Commission would appreciate being notified of the location, date, species, number, and color of any sight records or recoveries at its office in Tallahassee.

The wild turkey will become the first American game animal to grace a United States postage stamp, according to the Wildlife Management Institute. A three-cent stamp depicting a wild turkey in flight will be released May 5 at Fond du Lac, Wis., at the convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Stamp Clubs. King salmon and pronghorn antelope will be featured on two other three-cent stamps that will be released later this year. All three designs are based on drawings by Robert W. Hines, widely known chief artist for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

One sure way to guarantee that the Post Office Department will continue to use wildlife as the subjects for future stamps is for all conservation-minded persons—wildlife workers, sportsmen, nature students, garden club members, and the like—to make heavy use of these pioneer issues for their mailings.

A new type portable hand trap called "COVEY" will be offered to sporting enthusiasts about June 15th. This new COVEY HAND TRAP is a complete trap and skeet range in itself. It makes possible easy shooting in any safe open area. The COVEY is only 37" long and the handle folds inside the trap making it 21" overall for compact carrying. It weighs only 1 1/2 pounds.

The COVEY is the only trap of its kind that throws singles, doubles or triples of the standard clay targets at any angle, any direction, at various speeds and will carry up to a distance of 60 yards. This trap is a two-handed effort and can be used with equal ease by either a right handed or a left handed operator.

The trap is simple but ingenious and easy to operate. All you do is slide the targets into the rubber lined tracks and you're all set for true sporting entertainment. The trap looks rather like a cricket bat, with a hollow blade which can hold one, two or three clay birds. With a whip of his body, the thrower sends them hurling up.

Operation of the trap takes no special skill and is so smooth you can throw for hours without tiring. No jerky or snap motion needed—so no sore muscles. It can be handled by right-or-left handers, and the bird fancier can sight in on his clay pigeon any way he likes: high or low, crossing or straight away, skimming the ground or soaring into the sky.

E. Russell Coffey tells of the lazy, easy life in the rich lower Rio Grande Valley.

"Even the fish are lazy," says Coffey, who is manager of the Rice Hotel Coffee Shop in Houston.

He explained that every time he goes to the Valley to visit a relative, he puts out hooks in irrigation canals.

The next morning, he continued, he goes out to see what he has caught. To all appearance, he has caught nothing. The lines will be still and slack.

But that's no sign there isn't a five or six-pound fish on a hook—"taking it easy."

The Hi-Standard Sentinel, hailed less than a year ago as "the first new revolver in 50 years" by one of the country's outstanding gun magazines—is in the news again.

This time High Standard announces that the Sentinel is now available with a 6-inch "10-ring" barrel, in addition 3-inch barrel model, at the same low price of $34.95.

Manufacturer's tests show that the performance of this 9-shot swing-out-cylinder revolver, already rates exceptionally fine in the shorter-barrel models, is even better with the "10-ring" barrel. With this longer barrel and resulting longer sighting radius, the Sentinel has proved itself capable of high performance previously thought impossible in this low-price range, both in the field and on target range.

The Sentinel is a 9-shot double- and single-action revolver that handles all .22 rimfire loads nicely—shorts, longs and long rifles—hi-speeds and regular. Barrel and counter-bored swing-out cylinder are select high-tensile blue steel. Frame is lightweight, high strength aluminum alloy, blued.

Other features include rebounding hammer with automatic safety block, single stroke, multiple ejection, movable square notched rear sight, non-slip scored trigger and diamond checkered grips.

Sentinel weighs 23 1/2 oz. with 3-inch barrel, 27 1/2 oz. with 6-inch barrel. Both models carry the full Hi-Standard factory warranty.

The ceros, sero mackerel, or spotted kingfish, is often mistaken by the tyro for a big Spanish mackerel, and a number of the big Spaniards that have been recorded were undoubtedly ceros. However, they are easily distinguished if you know what to look for. It is true that they have the same spotted sides as their Spanish cousins but, in addition they have a long, horizontal bar, about the same with as one of their spots, running the full length of their body—along the mid-line—that is an unmistakable mark of recognition. Inch for inch, ceros do not weigh as much as kingfish, being slimmer and lighter in build.

In other respects, however, they resemble their larger relatives, living in the same areas, feeding on the same food, striking on the same baits, and making the same sort of fight. Ceros will average around eight or ten pounds, but a 36-incher, in good condition, weighed twenty.

Virginia says hunting frogs is hunting frogs, even if a stone is used—and frog hunting in Virginia requires a license. The state fined a Washington tax expert $17.75 for croaking a frog by belting it with an Irish pistol, as the man floated down the Shenandoah River in a canoe.

Newest addition to the Hi-Standard line of autoloading pistols and revolvers is the Sport-King Lightweight. The maker calls this new Hi-Standard "the new handgun that modern aircraft design made possible."

The Lightweight has a frame of forged aluminum—the amazingly light and strong metal that forms the backbone of our fastest jets and guided missiles. Sturdy and rugged as they come, it weighs in at over half a pound less than the all-steel Sport-King—only 27 oz.

Like its all-steel counterpart which will continue to be available, the Sport-King Lightweight is a 10-shot .22 long rifle autoloader with choice of 6 3/4" or 4 1/2" interchangeable barrels, hammerless, has positive lock safety, square notched rear sight, push-button take down, sure fire magazine, scored non-slip trigger, diamond checkered grips with the total weight less than 27 ounces.

There are some hazards to skin diving, even when there aren't any sharks around. Up at Lake Texoma, it is reported that the Willow Springs resort has hired one of these gentry to locate schools of fish for the guests. Unless he's careful, he may suffer the same fate as a Texas biologist who was sitting motionless at 12 feet down, spying on the fish. A sun perch, who apparently resented this intrusion into the ichthyological rushed up and bit the biologist on the chest!

It has long been the belief of fisheries management experts that muddy water did nothing for fishing. A cooperative project, sponsored by the Outboard Boating Club of America, Sports Fishing Institute, U. S. Corps of Engineers, Oklahoma Department of Game and Fish, Oklahoma A&M, and the City of Tulsa, has uncovered some extremely interesting information out of the whole subject.

Dr. Homer Buck, of the Oklahoma Department of Fish and Game set out to study the effect of siltation on fish and fishing, financed by a $10,000 grant from the OBC.

His results are clear. Erosion and resultant silting are a definite detriment to optimum fish production. The study uncovered the following facts:

Fish grow more rapidly in clear water than in cloudy water. They also reproduce better in clear water.

Largemouth bass, the predators that keep bluegill populations in balance, are capable of reproducing sufficient numbers in clear ponds. Blue gills, very tolerant of discolored water, soon over-populate a muddy pond, where bass cannot thrive.

Food was more plentiful in clear ponds than in muddy ones. Plankton, the basic food organization which provides food for the forage fish which in turn provide food for the bass, was found to be 13 times more plentiful in clear ponds than in muddy ones.

Obviously, aquatic life in a pond or bay is dependent to a great extent on the surrounding land area, just as much as are the animals that graze in the pasture or that forage in the forests.

Shrimp landings for the Gulf Coast during March, the last month of record, totaled 4.6 million pounds of tails, valued at $2.8 million, according to "Shrimp Landings," issued by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The March bulletin which shows data on the volume and value of shrimp landings on the West Coast of Florida and in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas is the third in a series of monthly reports to be issued. Information is presented showing eight size classifications for each of the three commercially important species. A graphic representation of the production of vessels completing trips during March shows the catch of the various species by area, size, and depth of water.

Of the total March shrimp production in the Gulf area, pink shrimp accounted for 2.9 million pounds, the majority of which was taken from the Sanibel, Tortugas, Obregon, and Campeche grounds. Most of these shrimp were taken from depths between 6 and 20 fathoms. Pink shrimp accounted for 63 percent of the volume and 61 percent of the value of the total Gulf shrimp catch during March. Brown shrimp was in second place with 1.4 million pounds valued at 890 thousand dollars.

Total landings of shrimp in the Gulf area during the first quarter of 1956 amounted to 14.1 million pounds valued at 8.8 million dollars. Pink shrimp (8.3 million pounds valued at 5.3 million dollars) led all other species in both volume and value during the three-month period. Brown shrimp was in second place with 4.3 million pounds valued at 2.9 million dollars.

Shrimp landings were still declining in March, the last month of record, according to a recent release from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Total landings at Texas ports during the month, of both fish and shellfish, amounted to only 2.5 million pounds, as against 3.9 million for the same period a year ago. Shrimp accounted for 1.1 million pounds of the decline, while food-fishes were responsible for the rest.

Redfish, this March, produced only 28,359 pounds against 33,573 a year ago; 67,817 pounds of trout were caught in 1956, compared to 91,273 in 1955; black drum dropped from 176,991 pounds last year to 65,279 in this; and a very similar drop was reported in red snapper catches which only produced 69,665 pounds this year against 176,998 in 1956.

Catches of fin fish for the first seven months of the 1955-56 fiscal year are over 2 million pounds less than they were for the same period in 1954-55.

In the shellfish department, March this year, largely because of bad weather, produced only 2,245,817 pounds of shrimp compared to 3,310,876 a year ago, while the oyster crop also showed a decline from 44,638 pounds of meats to 29,847.

Mr. Wylie C. Johnson, Route 2, Box 38, San Antonio, has applied

He proposes to reconstruct and extend to a length of 700 feet an existing wharf at the above location. The four by 700 foot wharf will have a ten by twenty foot T-head, at an elevation of 5 feet above mean low tide and the bayward side of the wharf would be in one foot of water at mean low tide.

Shrimp production in the Rockport-Fulton area, for the 72 hours ending at 8:00 a.m., May 23, amounted to 10,500 pounds of tails.

Shrimp landings in the Rockport-Fulton area, for the 72 hours ending May 28, at 8:00 a.m., amounted to 1600 pounds of tails.

Shrimp landings in the Rockport-Fulton area, for the 24 hours ending at 8:00 a.m., May 29, amounted to 1400 pounds of tails.

Shrimp production in the Rockport-Fulton area for the 48 hours ending at 8:00 a.m., May 31, amounted to 3000 pounds of tails.

Shrimp production in the Rockport-Fulton area for the 72 hours ending at 8 a.m. June 4, amounted to 1900 pounds of tails.

Polio Shots Should Come in Threes

Many inquiries are received each day by the Texas State Department of Health regarding Salk polio vaccine. One injection is of some value but should be followed in four weeks with the second shot and the third seven months to a year later.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, says the second shot is important and definitely increases the immunity. Even though the second cannot be given for several months, the delay does not lessen the value of the first. Maximum immunity does not develop until after the third shot.

It is advisable to immunize children who have had poliomyelitis because an attack confers immunity only against the one virus type involved and gives no protection against the other two types.

The Salk vaccine is of no value in treating the disease. It should not be used for prophylaxis in family contacts of diagnosed cases, the reason for this being that the remaining members of the family usually are infected with the virus by the time the original case develops symptoms of the disease. The vaccine should not be given to individuals during a major illness or to those with symptoms that may represent polio, such as fever, sore throat or stomach upset.

Dr. Holle says that immunizations should be given before the peak of the season if possible but can be given throughout the summer. Second injections can be given even when the incidence is rising with very little risk. The risk, if any, is less than the risk of acquiring the disease in unvaccinated children.

The Commissioner of Health reports that only about one third of those eligible to receive the vaccine have received one or more injections. He urges all those below the age of twenty and pregnant women who have not had at least the first immunization "shot" to do so at once.

DEATHLY BEAUTY—Conditions which produced this "Swan Lake" on ice in London, England, are responsible for over 300 deaths. Cold, snow and storms, worst in a century, have whipped England and the continent this winter. Swans are roosting on the surface of Wimbledon Commons Lake, usually an open haven for the birds.

U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service Vessel Discovers New Rocky Ridge

The M/V Oregon, of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, has just returned to Pascagoula after discovering a new, rocky ridge on the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico which may become an entirely new snapper fishing ground, according to a recent release by the Service.

The discovery was made during the Oregon's 38th exploratory cruise in the Gulf, while on routine exploration for deep water shrimp.

Large red shrimp, of a deep water species which tastes like lobster, were taken in every drag made beyond the 200 fathom curve, in water from 1200 to 1500 feet deep. Heaviest concentrations were found off the Louisiana coast, where catches for a three-hour drag ran from 90 to 210 pounds, against 5 to 30 pounds per drag in Texas waters. A smaller deep water shrimp was also caught in considerable quantities (10 to 100 pounds per drag) as were scrap fish, mainly hake and whiting, which ran from 300 to 500 pounds per drag.

Catches of brown shrimp ran from 2 to 22 pounds per hour in thirteen shallow-water stations.

Severe gear losses were encountered in the deep water dragging, due to soft bottom encountered, and the Oregon lost three complete sets of nets, bridles, and doors.

The new ridge, located in the vicinity of 27°57' N. and 94°55' W. had not been charted before its discovery by the exploratory vessel. Echo recordings made along the ridge showed that it may be an important new fishing ground and a series of headline stations at various points along its length yielded approximately 1600 pounds of red snapper and 300 pounds of several species of groupers.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. C. Herring for Memorial Day were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Herring and daughters, Lydia Ann and Barbara Lynn and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newsom of Corpus Christi.

Chief and Mrs. Waylan Livingston and daughter, Cheryl Ann of Beville, visited during the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garrett.

Mrs. Henry Koehler and son, Henry Jr., left last Saturday for Bay City where they are visiting a week with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Babe McDowell and daughter, Cynthia Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mogouge and son Dale Allen, of Austin, visited during the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mundine.

Scripps Institute Scientists Leave On Exploratory Cruise In Gulf of Mexico

Four Scripps Institute scientists left here today aboard the Neva J, a big shrimp trawler owned by Jackson Seafoods, for two weeks of exploration in the Gulf of Mexico. During this time they will take extensive core samples from the continental shelf between Galveston and the mouth of the Colorado River; obtain still other samples by diving at various reefs along the coast, and then go to Port Isabel, crisscrossing the continental shelf between there and Port Aransas with sample stations.

The program, which was started by the Institute in 1951, is financed largely by grants from the American Petroleum Institute, and in time it is hoped that information thus accumulated will make it easier to determine the location of underground oil pools. Examination of recent sediments is expected to show the method by which nature forms certain topographical and geological features of the landscape, and identification of mollusks and other marine animals in these deposits may, in time, make it possible to map areas a mile or so underground with some degree of certainty.

One of the objects of this trip is to investigate the Flower Garden reef which lies south of Galveston by use of Aqualung equipment. An attempt was made to do this a year ago, but large numbers of barracuda with a hungry gleam in their eye discouraged any great diving activity. This year, according to Bob Parker, marine biologist with the group, they're hoping for fewer of these fanged beauties and more freedom in diving.

Party personnel includes, besides Parker, Joseph Currey and Dr. Gene Rusnack, geologists, and Gene Gilley, instrument man.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Close and sons, Freddie and Eddie of Corpus Christi, visited during the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Close and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Downs and daughters Pammy and Sandra visited Saturday in LaPorte with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ayers.

WSCS Meets With Mrs. Scott

The Ruth Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met with Mrs. Matt Scott, Tuesday morning at 9:30. On arrival refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. E. T. White opened the meeting with prayer and conducted the meeting in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Glen Daniel, who is out of town. Mrs. White's devotional was taken from the word Life, analyzing each letter, the meaning and application to each member of the circle and her obligation.

Roll call was answered with Bible verses. There were nine present, including Mrs. Herbert Randolph, a new member. This being the last meeting before vacation, many projects were discussed for the coming year. The treasurer reported $15.50 made on the desert movie.

Meeting adjourned with the Woman's Society of Christian Service benediction to meet the first Tuesday in September with Mrs. N. E. Boughton.

The magazine is published in Washington, and is beamed toward the socially prominent.

JULY DRAFT CALLS FOR 641 TEXANS

AUSTIN, Texas—The July draft call for Texas asks for 641 men, compared to 586 for June, Lt. Col. Marlin D. Lewis, deputy state Selective Service director, announced Friday.

This is the state's share of a national call for 13,000 men, all for the Army.

At the same time, Colonel Lewis announced a July call on approximately half the state's draft boards for 1,099 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations for future calls.

He said that the boards not receiving a quota for these examinations in July already had been called upon to furnish men for examination in June.

Local board calls for July induction and pre-induction examinations are scheduled to be mailed from state Selective Service headquarters on June 1.

The July quota will be filled with men who are 22 years of age or older on July 1, with the exception of delinquents, or volunteers, who may be younger.

Colonel Lewis said he expected the July call to be filled with volunteers and men without children. He said delinquents are liable first, but the state has next to none.

He warned young fathers they must advise their boards about children or an expected child. If a local board is not advised about the birth or expected birth of a child, the board "naturally proceeds on the idea such a registrant is childless and he is ordered for service."

Bissett-Dickey Marriage Solemnized

Norma Lynn Bissett and Robert Donald Dickey were united in holy bonds of matrimony Friday evening, June 1 at the Bay City Catholic Church. The candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Martin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bissett of Bay City and the groom is the son of Mrs. F. A. Bridges and the late Mr. Dickey of Bay City.

Amidst a setting of gladioli and greenery in floor baskets and adorning the altar the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess style bolero dress of white lace over taffeta with white accessories. A white prayer book topped with a white orchid, was carried by the bride. The maid of honor, Miss Libby Glenn of Bay City, wore pale pink taffeta fashioned similar to the bride's gown and carried a nosegay of orchid carnations. James Dickey, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were James Bissett, the bride's brother, and Travis Watson, cousin of the bride.

The reception was held at the Morocco Room in Bay City. The bride's table was covered with white net over taffeta sprinkled with rhinestones and edged with pink maline. The three-tiered cake, topped with a wedding bell and miniature bride and groom, was flanked by a silver candelabra and a centerpiece of orchid carnations and silver leaves. Miss Nancy Webb and Miss Libby Glenn alternated at the punch bowl while Miss Mary Edith McKalvia served the cake. Miss Shirley Darby was in charge of the guest register.

The bride is a spring graduate of the Bay City High School and the groom, also a graduate of Bay City High School, is employed by Phillips Oil Company.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas the couple will be at home in Bay City.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Stanley Bissett of Rockport, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Hart of Rockport, and Mrs. Charles Dorsey of Corpus Christi, aunts of the bride.

Aransas Bond Sales Continue to Climb

Sales of government bonds in Aransas County continued to climb during April, according to Fred A. Bracht, County Chairman. Total for the month was $2703, bringing the aggregate for the year to $19,810, or 21.5% of the quota assigned to the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hattenback of Corpus Christi, visited during the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ingersoll. c12

HERE COMES THE BRIDE

When the strains of the wedding march have faded away, and the honeymoon is over, newly married women should notify the Social Security Administration of their change in names, according to H. M. Cleveland, manager of the district office in Corpus Christi.

"Earnings accounts, under the social security insurance system, are kept by the name and number of each employee," according to Cleveland. "So, when a Miss becomes a Mrs., she should secure a social security card showing her new name. The account number will be the same, of course.

"The name on her employer's records will then agree with the name on her social security card and, thus, her wages can be properly recorded in her account. It is the record of wages in each person's account that determine the amount of old-age and survivors insurance which may be paid after age 65 or death," Cleveland explained.

Changes in name can be recorded by getting in touch with the Social Security Administration, 530 South Water Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Mundine and son Butch of LaPorte, attended the Mundine-Wallace wedding Friday night. While here they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mundine.
