End Ray Herren got the Indians rolling with a 40-yard scoring dash in the early minutes of action, and added four more points through the evening on points after touchdown kicks.

Postmaster Davis Says "Zip-A-List" Kits On The Way

Haskell letter carriers will start delivery of Zip-A-List kits to every householder in the area, next Tuesday, Sept. 19.

Postmaster Tommy Davis urges all residents to use the postal cards contained in the kits to obtain ZIP Codes needed for addresses in their personal mailing lists.

Each household will receive eight cards with spaces for the addresses to be "zipped" by the post office and for the return address. No postage is needed. Postmaster Davis said.

The project is part of Postmaster General Lawrence E. O'Brien's program to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public and thereby increase the use of the codes in mailing addresses.

In addition to the kit, which is folded like a closed accordion, a separate card is being delivered to remind residents of the local ZIP Code number.

"ZIP Code is necessary all-year round to increase the efficiency of the postal service," Postmaster Davis said, "but it is more important than ever around the holiday season. This year, the Post Office Department expects to handle well over nine billion pieces of mail during the Christmas rush. ZIP Code will be a great help in delivering that mail accurately and on time."

The postal official reminded ZIP-A-LIST users to print clearly and to include their return address so that the post office will know where to deliver the completed form. Last year, thousands of people throughout the nation forgot to include the return address and their efforts to cooperate in the project went for naught, he said.

Two Haskell Countians Chosen For Inclusion In National Publication

The Board of Advisory Editors of "Outstanding Civic Leaders of America" announced today that Mrs. Blanche Sego of Route 1 Rochester and Mrs. Lillian J. Hicks, of Rochester, have been chosen for inclusion in the 1967 edition of this national publication.

Outstanding Civic Leaders of America is an annual biographical compilation of approximately 6,000 civic leaders from all parts of the nation. The men and women included were nominated earlier this year by local city officials, Chamber of Commerce and civic groups.

"They have distinguished themselves in civic work to the point of being outstanding," said Doug Blankenship, Past U. S. Jaycee President and Chairman of the Board of Advisory Editors of Outstanding Civic Leaders of America.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, President of the United States Conference of Mayors, has said that "The men and women listed in this book through their abilities and services as civic leaders have earned the gratitude of all citizens...they have proved that America is confident of its ability to put aside doubt and take action."

The publication, Outstanding Civic Leaders of America, was conceived by leaders of the nation's civic organizations. Its purpose is to nationally recognize the men and women who give their time for community development and inspire others to greater community service.

The book is 7x10 inches in size and contains approximately 800 pages. It is bound in a wine-colored hard-cover with gold embossing. The 1967 edition is scheduled for publication in January of 1968.

NEW FARM PONDS HAVE BEEN CONSTRUCTED IN COUNTY

"Adequate livestock water always has been, is and will continue to be of great importance to the livestock farmer and rancher," said J. C. Yearry, Jr., Work Unit Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service of Haskell.

"Without livestock water, the business of cattle raising would come to a grinding halt, and the individual producer would be out of business."

During the past several months, rains have been few and far between, and many farm and ranch ponds for livestock water have gone dry, Yearry reported. Many new ponds have been constructed to replace old ponds that were considered inadequate due to lack of depth. This will relieve the situation of livestock water shortages as soon as these ponds fill, Yearry said. But what are we going to do for water in the meantime?

Pastures with inadequate livestock water will have to be deferred from use until such time as water becomes available. Or, water will have to be hauled to the pasture from other available sources. Or, livestock will have to be moved either to available water sources, or completely off the land. This is not always advisable or feasible, Yearry said.

Livestock farmers and ranchers must determine the adequacy of their individual watering facilities during periods when water is plentiful. If a farm pond is less than 10 feet deep and has a small "catch area," it should be replaced. When natural rainfall is plentiful is the time to construct new ponds, not after the old one has gone dry, Yearry stated.

Recently, new farm ponds have been constructed on the Four-J Cattle Ranch east of Haskell. Others will be installed as requests are made, Yearry concluded.

Parallel Terracing Continues To Be Of Prime Interest To Local Farmers

Parallel Terracing continues to be of prime interest to local farmers of the Haskell area, according to Harry G. Koehler, Soil Conservation Service Technician.

During the 1967 Fiscal Year, ending June 30, 1967, Koehler reported that over 716,000 feet of these new type terraces were completed in the Haskell Work Unit area. Since July 1, over 180,000 feet have been completed. At present, systems of parallel terraces are being installed on the Jack Kitley farm between Rule and Sargent, and on the Marvin Wheatley farm northeast of Haskell.

According to Koehler, something over one million feet is planned for the fiscal year. This will be between $100,000 to $120,000 of work with the Federal Government cost-sharing a large percentage of the cost through the Great Plains Conservation Program and the Agricultural Conservation Program. The cost to the individual producer will run from three to five cents per foot depending upon the degree of leveling between terrace intervals that is done, Koehler concluded.

Haskell County Farm Operators Strengthen Economic Positions

Small farm operators in the nation strengthened their hold on the land during the 1967 fiscal year when more than 93,000 farm families availed themselves of Farmers Home Administration farm ownership loans, according to information received by Haskell County FFA Supervisor, Donald R. Perry.

Perry said 13 farm families in Haskell County purchased land for $374,870, while in the nation $260 million, a record amount... was loaned to 13,987 farm families to buy, develop and enlarge or refinance debts. The previous high was $233 million loaned in 1966 fiscal year. An additional 79,433 farm families continued to use FHA farm ownership credit obtained in previous years.

Haskell county now has 73 active farm ownership loans for an expenditure of $1,853,965. In addition there are 60 paid up FO loans in the county.

Beta Chi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Meeting Held At Weinert

Beta Chi Chapter held the first meeting for the ensuing year in the home of Mrs. Ramon Liles at Weinert, Saturday, September 9th.

The impressive initiation service for Mrs. Esther Weaver of Knox City was first on the afternoon's program. Following was the touching memorial service for the late Thena May Bowdoin of Vera. After these two special services, the group was invited by Mrs. Liles to assemble in the den for the remainder of the program.

Mrs. Ina Cowan carried out this part of the meeting. Each member brought something to show that she had created during the summer months. Such hidden talent had not been suspected by the various members, other than being school teachers. One member grew the orchids she had fashioned into beautiful corsages; another member showed her paintings; another her beautiful quilts and another a rug being made by what she called spool knitting. One Haskell member, Mrs. Burkett, had proof of her creativity. She brought a generous sample of her Divinity candy, pickles and brandied fruits. Thirty-four members were present and each had something to show or tell about.

Mrs. Rozelle Wilkinson, president, presided over the business session. Routine reports were given by officers. Mrs. Wilkinson read to the group the special invitation from the Wichita Falls chapter to attend the Regional meeting there October 14th at the Woman's Forum. She urged members to make plans to attend.

The meeting was concluded with the Weinert members serving a refreshment plate from a beautiful appointed table.

Cattlemen's Round-Up Set September 25th

To ranchers and farmers in the Big Country of West Texas, the names of Conda Wylie and Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children are synonymous.

For, when they think of the Annual Round-Up, set for this year for 1:00 p. m. Sept. 25th, at Fanchers & Farmers Live-stock Auction, Abilene, they automatically think of Wylie as the "Father of the Cattlemen's Round-Up."

Wylie actually started the Round-Up in 1960 when he gave West Texas Rehabilitation Center executive director Shelley V. Smith, 20 calves to "see if you can use them to help the Center." These calves led the way to one of the most unusual and successful fund-raising projects in the Southwest—one which has been described as "an event unique in concept among humanitarian philanthropies—an annual expression of the compassionate concern of the Southwest's leading ranchmen and stockmen for the handicapped and disabled."

While there he suffered a stroke and was taken to the hospital there. His son, Leavy, went to his bedside Sunday with Edward Neinst and son, Kenneth. Plans are to bring him to the Haskell Hospital when he is able to be moved.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Manske and children came back home Saturday after a long summer on wheat harvest which took them all the way to Canada. Mrs. Manske and the children have been up there for about a month. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Manske and sons before going to their home near Stamford.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Davis have a Jujube tree that is an interesting conversational piece. Some call it Japanese dates. Few seem to know what the tree really is - the true name is Jujube or Chinese Date. The botanical name is Zizyphus Jujuba. The fruit is egg-shaped or oval. When the fruit is ripe it is a deep burgandy. There is one variety of Jujubes that are no larger than an olive when they are ripe. They have a different seed but are of the same family as the large Jujube trees.

Propagation of the Jujube tree is from seed or from sprouts of a tree's roots. The fruit of the Jujube tree is good when eaten raw, or as a preserve. Candied Jujube is a popular confection in California where the trees grow from 20 to 30 feet in height.

Mrs. John Kemp has a beautiful Jujube tree loaded with both ripe and green fruits. Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Couch Sr., have a large tree of the same variety.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis take great pride in their yard, concentrating on the back yard as most every one in Haskell does.

Frutless mulberry trees shade the front yard. An umbrella Chinberry tree stands at the northwest corner in the front yard. Two mesquite trees in the back yard are surrounded with canna's, one bed has yellow canna's, the other has red blossoms. Heavenly morning glory vines, loaded with large blossoms, twine their tendrils high up into the trees. The back window is also screened by these lovely Blue flowers.

Red canna's reach across the back wall to the porch. Yellow marigolds and tiny leaved Jew seen out from the bottom of the canna's.

A work shop of Mr. Davis' is hidden by red canna's and Castor bean bushes with red foliage and red spikes of seed.

Mrs. Davis has her back porch full of pot plants. All the plants are beautiful but a Jade tree is really a thing of beauty as it spreads its tiny branches over a redwood tub.

The lawn is like a dark green carpet. The entire yard is neat and trim.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis also have a vegetable garden with fruit trees scattered among the vegetables.

All the lawns in that vicinity are so well kept they look like a large park covered with lush green grass and spotted with trees.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this way to thank all my friends who have sent me gifts and cards and for all the acts of kindness shown me. I thank all of you and may God bless each of you. Lindsey Cox. 37p

Soil Conservation Service Plant Center Dedicated At Knox City

The Soil Conservation Service's Plant Materials Center was dedicated at Knox City last Thursday and received its official name, the James E. Hudd Smith Plant Materials Center.

Don Williams, Washington, D. C., administrator of the nation's Soil Conservation Service, concluded his address by making the announcement of the naming.

Smith, retired plant materials technician for the state, was on stage with the speakers and SCS leaders. He was caught completely by surprise but gripned broadly at the applause from the nearly 500 persons on hand for the tours and dedication of the recently opened center outside Knox City.

Smith lives in San Antonio, but said he has a sister living in Wichita Falls, Mrs. R. L. McCaig.

It was perfect weather for the open house and SCS officials from Washington, Oklahoma and Texas jammed the 60-acre tract where plants, forbs and woody plants are brought in for observation in a search for better plants.

The center had received only one-quarter of an inch of rain during the week and this merely cooled the area and settled the dust. During the morning and afternoon tours, clouds covered the sun and visitors enjoyed 80-degree weather.

Most of the work on the program was handled by Williams and by H. N. "Red" Smith, state conservationist at Temple, who is in charge of the SCS program in Texas.

Smith introduced the state conservation boards from both Texas and Oklahoma and a number of leaders in range and pasture work from Oklahoma State University, Texas A&M University and Texas Tech.

The center is managed by Arnold Davis Jr. of Knox City, who is also the new plant material technician for the state.

More than 1,000 species of grass, forbs and woody plants were inspected by scores of wagonloads of visitors who were pulled around the various plots of grass being grown at the station.

Indian Boosters Hear Reports On Football Teams

President Elbert Johnson presided over the regular weekly meeting of the Indian Booster Club Monday night.

Tom Watson gave a report on repairs on the scoreboard and cost to repair. Coach Everett reported on Medco-Sonlator to treat muscle strains or bruises.

A scouting report on Clyde was given by coach Mullins. He also reported on the Junior High prospects.

Coach Bennett gave a report on the "B" game with Anson last Saturday morning, in which Haskell won by a score of 30-0.

The Haskell "B" team will play Seymour here tonight, Thursday, Sept. 14, at 7:30.

Coach Everett gave a report on the Haskell-Frederick, Okla., game played here last Friday night and also showed films of the game.

Bill Ratliff was the recipient of the door prize.

Merchants Offer "Good Buys" For Dollar Day

Next Tuesday, September 19, will be Dollar Day in Haskell and merchants are offering some of the "best buys" of the year.

Before October "Dollar Day" rolls around there is a good chance of some "cool" weather, so next Tuesday would be the ideal time to lay in your supply of fall and winter needs, while stocks are complete.

Whether your needs be clothing, furniture, vitamins, fertilizer, shoes, appliances, jewelry, engraved wedding invitations, zippers, beauty needs, storm doors, T.V.'s, dry cleaning, window shades, carpet, etc. ... Haskell merchants can serve you.

The big, four-page, 8,500 Trades Day circulars are off the press and will be mailed and distributed throughout this trade area this weekend. Be sure to watch for your circular which is "chock-full" of bargains, and plan now to be in Haskell Dollar Day.

It's later than you think and "D-Day" would be an opportune time to begin your Christmas shopping.

Last Rites Are Held For Former Haskell Resident

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Jones of Haskell, and David Jones of Austin, recently attended the funeral at Three Rivers, Texas, for Thomas Franklin Curry, brother of Mrs. Jones, and also a brother of J. E. Curry of Lindale and C. E. Curry of Mesquite.

Mr. Curry was a former resident of Haskell. He attended Haskell High School and graduated with the class of 1916. He was a bookkeeper at one time for Hancock's Dry Goods Store here.

He served in the U. S. Army, and was stationed in Germany as an MP until the end of World War I. Upon returning to Haskell, he served as bookkeeper for the Alexander Dept. Store. He was married to Eva Stone, sister of Haskell Stone and Mr. Hillery Stone of this city. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stone also attended the final rites.

PTA Schedules A Count-In

Every child counts, with the PTA. That's the reason the National Congress of Parents and Teachers is planning a special "count-in" of their parents and teachers as schools reopen this fall.

"The PTA believes that every child must be provided with what he needs to grow up healthy, secure, well-educated and useful to his community," says Mrs. Irvia E. Hendryson, of Albuquerque, N. Mex., president of the National PTA.

"To help secure these rights for all children," she declares, "the PTA counts on every citizen to work at expanding the opportunities of all America's children.

Parent-teacher associations (PTA's), organized in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and schools for American dependents overseas, begin enrolling new members with the first PTA meeting of the school term and usually concentrate on membership enrollment during October.

This year, they will give particular attention to reaching parents in low-income areas.

One of the many valuable services any PTA provides, Mrs. Hendryson believes, is "the opportunity for parents and teachers to know each other in a social situation. They are the people most important in a child's world, and the child can't help benefiting from their friendly collaboration.

"In poor areas, especially," she notes, "this friendly relation between home and school is of particular value because it's where children most need help."

PTA's can work to improve educational opportunity, to protect dependent or delinquent children, to improve health care and to provide the leadership for vibrant community programs that will serve all children, Mrs. Hendryson points out.

Because every child counts with the PTA, its activities cover all the varied needs of children—for kindergartens, adequately financed schools, well-trained teachers, along with the proper nourishment, good health and favorable emotional climate in which to learn from them. "We need many members to cover such wide-ranging programs," says Mrs. Hendryson. "So our task this fall is to persuade every parent and every teacher that he too counts, with the PTA."

As PTA's start their "count-ins" this fall, Mrs. Hendryson is urging them to demonstrate that "PTA is where the action is."

She has suggested, for example, that local units take the lead in sponsoring "cultural happenings" for youngsters. Some branches of the National PTA, she notes, have developed art mobiles, comparable to the popular bookmobiles, which bring traveling exhibits of painting and sculpture to school children in remote areas. Other PTA's regularly sponsor musical concerts or provide tickets for theatrical productions to children who would not otherwise attend them.

"With something as simple as a folk festival," says the PTA's national president, "we can do much to enrich the lives of children."

Every single child counts, with the PTA—a nationwide organization of volunteers concerned for children and for the parents and teachers who nurture and educate them.

At the Top It's a PTA Family

New president of the National PTA, Mrs. Irvia E. Hendryson, N. Mex., is shown with her daughter, Mrs. Weld, Jr., of Beverly, Mass., and 18-month old Sarah of her four grandchildren.

Mrs. Hendryson, who will head the 11-million membership until 1970, is a former professional librarian and an orthopedic surgeon. Two of her special interests as National PTA president encourage parents to read to their children, especially preschool years, and to stimulate continued close cooperation between PTA's and the medical and health organizations. She has helped develop the PTA program of Continuous Revision of children from early childhood through adolescence.

Rule Reels Jayton 40-6

Rule's Bobcats outclassed the Jayton Jaybirds Friday 40-6, turning loose a ground-aerial attack that came from behind after Jayton's early lead to tally five touchdowns.
Jayton ran the opening kickoff back for 50 yards, then drove across for an opening touchdown for a 6-0 lead. In the second quarter, Rule began its march with a TD on a two-yard quarterback sneak by Bobby Denison.
Fullback Paul Cornelius paced the Bobcat offensive with a 35-yard pass interception for one tally and a 10-yard power smash off tackle for another. Kenny Tanner notched a Bobcat TD with a 25-yard scamper and linebacker Bill Jones scored another with a pass interception.
Tanner took a Jayton kickoff and raced 60 yards before he was downed for one of the night's top offensive plays.

Upsurge In Texas Private Aviation

The Texas Aeronautics Commission is beginning to step out in a role important to the state.

Evidence of this activity is the appointment of W. O. Karpenko as chief engineer of the state aviation agency. Karpenko previously has served as a district airport engineer for the Federal Aviation Administration.

The Legislature previously appropriated just under $300,000 for improvements and new airports in Texas communities with fewer than 50,000 residents. An estimated 20 to 30 towns will participate in this phase of the program.

Director Charles Murphy estimates that as many as 500 Texas first-class airports eventually will dot the state, making flying safer and more luxurious.

The upsurge of private aviation, almost a necessity for convenient, suitable service in many a Texas area, no doubt will be matched by an eventual growth in intra-state airlines. As of now, the intra-state airlines have posed no particular problem, for Texas has only two or three of them. But if air travel follows a pattern in some of the heavily populated areas of the nation, Texas, too, will have commuter and/or shuttle services between Dallas-Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio and Houston and perhaps other communities. These will require regulation and may even require a grant of a vested interest in routes in order to encourage and protect heavy investments required of large-scale intra-state air carriers.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO

(September 11, 1937)
Mr. and Mrs. Shahr Hassen and two children, Nabeela and Rajah, arrived home Wednesday, after spending the summer months in their native country of Syria. The party docked in New York last Thursday and made a six-day trip coming home.

Coach Frank Kimbrough, of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, and former football star of the Indians, will deliver the dedicatory address at the opening ceremony of the new Haskell High School football stadium Friday night.

Trades Day on each Wednesday will be continued it was decided by Haskell business men at a recent meeting. Merchants voted unanimously for its continuance, believing that the people wanted it.

Fall business is getting in full swing this week with more than 1,012 bales of cotton ginned by Haskell gins Thursday at noon. Merchants of the town report that there is a decided increase in business varying from twenty to fifty per cent.

The Throckmorton Greyhounds defeated the Haskell Indians here Friday night in the opening game of the season, 2-0. With a hard-charging line, the light Greyhounds, rated as underdogs, struck early in the first quarter to score a safety when Haskell fumbled, and held the two-point lead throughout the game.

Help Keep Our Youth In School

More than ever, this country needs trained, educated people to continue the progress America has made and to take their rightful places in the society that is developing.

Much of the poverty and unemployment that exists today is directly related to the lack of education and preparation by previous generations.

Right now there are 2 million youngsters in this country in the 16-to-21 age group who dropped out of school before earning their high school diploma. Nearly a fourth of them are unemployed. Most of the rest are stuck in dead-end jobs without any real future.

Large gains have been made in the fight against ignorance, unemployment and poverty during the past several years. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz recently reported that 2 million more people are working and 1 million more are in high school and college than the population increase of the last three years accounts for.

The Education Campaign of the past two years has helped in this progress. It has paid big dividends by inspiring dropouts to return to the classrooms and encouraging the undecided to finish their education. In 1960 the dropout rate was 25 per cent. Last year it had decreased to 18 per cent.

But 18 per cent is too high for a Nation to tolerate. The frightening fact remains that at the current dropout rate by 1975 there will be 32 million adults in the labor force without a high school education—32 million who will be unqualified for most of the jobs available then.

This newspaper supports the efforts being made to keep our youth in school and help them from becoming future victims of deprivation and poverty.

But it takes more than our support. It needs and commands the support and effort of every citizen.

Youngsters who have already dropped out of school need special help. They need to be counseled and guided into training that will help them develop skills for today's jobs. Others on the verge of leaving school before completing their education dropout many times to earn money to support their families or to buy necessities for themselves. Action by the business community in the form of part-time jobs is needed to help them stay in school.

You can serve your country best by helping to insure that tomorrow's leaders are educated today.
