

Along The Waterfront

Recently we saw a plaint in one of the daily papers about the scarcity of reds. This may be so, but we remember in 1947, when one of the state's outdoor writers just said, for two columns, that there were no more reds. Then the freeze came along the shores of the Laguna Madre there were school after school of red fish, washed ashore, killed by the cold.

Ernest Simmons, marine biologist now with Scripps Institution of Oceanography of California, did a survey of the Laguna Madre, just published by the University of Texas, and in the survey, he remarks that at certain spots in the Laguna there are reds of a size and ferocity that would run the average fisherman under the bed. What's more, Simmons says, these reds are there most of the year.

Since duck hunting season started, hunters from around Rockport exploring in the back bays, came upon a little creek which they entered, and found reds in schools preceding them up the waterway.

The truth of the matter is that most people don't know how to catch reds or where to look for them. Add to that, the fact that redfish have undoubtedly learned a little sense over the years, and you can readily see why there can be reds around and no one will be bringing any of them in.

All of this leads up to the fact that a comparative landlubber, Jerry Hodges of Crosbyton, Texas, comes down here every year, puts up at the Taylor Oak Trailer Camp, and starts in catching reds as though they were the only fish in the bay and as plentiful as fleas on a dog.

If this only happened now and then, we wouldn't think much of the matter, and would sign off after having ascribed the whole thing to beginner's luck. But no beginner ever had luck like this.

There is a saying among biologists (continued on page 8)

United Fund Budget Is Met Directors Are Informed

Mrs. Dean Steele, secretary of the Aransas County United Fund, informed directors Wednesday night, that the county's budget of $9,000 had been met with cash and pledges, after all special gifts were in.

Emory Spencer, president of the board, expressed the directors' gratification that this was so. In other business to come before the meeting, the directors decided that, because the by-laws called for the annual meeting at the time when everyone was busiest, working with the drive in October, that it would be wise to change the date of this until December every year, and set the machinery in motion to do so.

It was pointed out that the present board of directors should be enlarged from nine to 15 men, and action on this will also be taken later.

Spencer then appointed a nominating committee to nominate candidates for the board of directors, to replace five no longer on the board, or whose terms expire this year. The members of the committee are: Dick Picton, James H. Sorenson, Jr., Jack McDavid, E. T. White, and Spencer.

The committee will nominate five directors to replace Dr. H. F. Elliot, Ernest Jones, Tom Roper, Dick Picton, and James H. Sorenson, Jr., and six more to bring the board from the present number to the projected 15 members.

The annual meeting of the Aransas County United Fund will be held on Dec. 11, and the directors were anxious for all members of the organization to be there.

It was explained that everyone who had contributed to the fund this year was automatically a member, and welcome at the meeting, which is held for the purpose of electing directors for the coming year. Everyone at the meeting, who has contributed has a vote.

The directors decided to make out checks for those agencies participating in the drive, so that they would have them at once.

Goliad Artist Top Winner at Local Art Show

A young Goliad artist, Dalhart Windberg, took top honors at the fall art show of the Rockport School of Fine Arts over the week end, and Victoria painters walked away with four of the five first prizes in the various classes, according to Simon G. Michael, director of the school.

Windberg not only won the popular prize of $100 in judging by the public, but also took a $15 third-place award in professional judging by Lincoln Borglum, of Beville.

To cap his victories, he sold two paintings for $50 each during the three-day outdoor show for a total jackpot of $215.

Ronald Hoffman, of Victoria, wasn't far behind. He won $40 first prize in the landscape and free composition categories. Ruth Ashberry and Audrey Linebaugh, both of Victoria, were awarded $40 prizes for winning the figure portrait and marine divisions, respectively.

Helen Ezell of Beville won first place in the still life section. Other figure portrait winners in the section sponsored by Totah's Restaurant and Motel were Nancy Everett of Beville, second prize of $25; Lorna Hamilton of Rockport, third prize of $15, and Mrs. W. S. Higgins of Victoria and Mrs. E. W. Wheeler Beville, honorable mention.

PIRATES PLAY BISHOP FRIDAY

In the last game of the season the Aransas County Pirates will play Bishop at Bishop, on Friday night.

Bishop, whose big back, Bull, is probably the outstanding player in 31A is leading the league, and has won all of its games so far.

Census Bureau Divides County In Divisions

In a joint program with the State of Texas and each of its counties, the Bureau of the Census is establishing areas, known as "Census County Divisions," for use in statistical reporting. Similar areas were established in the State of Washington prior to the 1950 census, and since 1950 have been put into effect in eleven other states.

Mr. H. C. Walters, a member of the Census staff, is here from Washington to consult with county officials and solicit their advice in regard to the proposed areas for Aransas County.

The proposed Census County Divisions should be particularly useful for local administrative purposes. The Census County Divisions are generally larger in area and population than the Justices' or Commissioners' precincts, they have clear-cut boundaries which can be easily identified; and they are intended to remain as permanent areas. For the most part, they are based on the communities which will serve as a yardstick with which to measure the sphere of influence exercised by such communities. It is believed that the Census County Divisions will be a handy tool for the use of county officials, local newspapers, and business and civic organizations.

Mr. Walters assures that the county divisions set up by the Bureau of the Census will not interfere in any way with the use of Justices' or Commissioners' precincts by the State or counties.

For Census purposes, Aransas County has been divided into 2 Census County Divisions: 1. Rockport Division; 2. Fulton Division.

Scout Troop Holds Court of Honor

Scout Troop 49 held a court of honor this past week at the Scout Hut. Robert Little, scoutmaster, conducted the meeting and Floyd Smith, troop committeeman, presented the badges and awards.

Jerry Tuer received his tenderfoot badge. Johnny Keith and Roger Beasley were presented with rowing merit badges; Raymond Ormand, Eddie Steele, and Roger Beasley were awarded swimming merit badges; and Bobby Berchert obtained his second class award.

ROTARY MEETS IN CORPUS CHRISTI

Several members of the Rockport Rotary Club traveled to Corpus Christi on Wednesday, to hold the club's regular meeting at the bedside of George Gilliam, who has had a 30-year perfect attendance record. Since he has been ill, Rotary Clubs in the area have been holding their meetings at his bedside, in order that the record may not be broken.

Those making the trip were Byron Hardeman, J. B. Jackson, Rev. A. Arnett Ward, Homer Faber, and D. L. Bracht.

Remaining in Rockport were a number of other Rotarians, and at the luncheon at Thompson's Spa they had as guests Lee Coleman and Lloyd Dean of Ingleside; Bob Reddell, and Sinton; J. L. Sutherland, Fulton, and George Dickey, of Rockport.

Boundary Battle Between Counties Begins to Bring Out Skirmishers While Waiting On Legal Research

Nueces County Judge Jerome Jalufka, in commenting on the Aransas-Nueces County boundary dispute, said:

"It will probably cost thousands of dollars, but we are going to fight it out. And we'll win it, too," he added.

However, since he made that statement there have been several new developments.

County Judge William E. Nicholas, of San Patricio County said that his county may intervene with Aransas County in the suit filed Oct. 26 in the 135th District Court at Refugio, which claims that Port Aransas, most of Harbor Island, and all of Aransas Bay lie within the legal boundaries of Aransas County.

High School Plans to Observe Education Program

American Education Week will be observed with a special program during assembly hour at the high school on Tuesday.

The program will include a short play, "Things That Last", and there will be music and short talks. Mrs. Florence Horton, speech instructor, will be the sponsor.

MRS. COCHRAN DIRECTS PARISH PLAYERS AT CORPUS CHRISTI

Mrs. M. W. Cochran, of Rockport, has been directing the production of plays by the Parish Players, an organization formed of members of the four Episcopal churches in Corpus Christi.

Their most recent production was Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan," which was presented in Munds Hall, at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

There was a cast of 30, and the production got a good deal of rather interesting notice, both in Corpus Christi and Houston papers.

Mrs. Cochran says that there is a resurgence of interest in drama by church groups like this, and the various groups have been tackling more and more difficult dramas as they go along.

St. Joan was the first time that any of Shaw's plays have been produced in this area. Mrs. Cochran said, as ordinarily they are rather difficult, and amateurs are a little hesitant about trying to put them on. Only the most experienced groups attempt anything of the sort.

CORRECTION PLEASE, SAYS BILL GRAY, EXPLORE TIME WRONG

Bill Gray Explorer leader, says that the time for meetings was announced wrongly recently, and that there will be one meeting on the fourth Monday, Nov. 25, and that thereafter meetings will be held on the second and fourth Mondays every month, rather than on the first and third.

Jaycee-ette Tree Sale Was Very Successful

The Jaycee-ettes at their tree sale on Saturday morning report a very successful session, as they sold practically everything except the bare-rooted trees.

In the trees in cans, they have only two silver oaks and two eucalyptus left and these will be planted around the school.

According to Mrs. Joe Pat Mills, the Jaycee-ettes ordered 175 trees, and they sold all but 71, and they wish to thank everyone that helped make the sale so successful.

Navigation Board Hires Engineers

Navigation District Authorizes Preliminary Engineering Studies for Little Bay Development

Preliminary to improvement of Highway 35 business route thru Rockport, as a joint venture between the city and the State Highway Department, and prior to any possible future development of Little Bay as a community asset, the Aransas County Navigation Board has employed Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, consulting engineers, to draw up an overall plan for best possible use of the area.

In announcing employment of the Corpus Christi firm, Chairman

Dick Picton, of the Navigation District, said:

"The board, especially in view of the fact that the Highway Department wants some of the land along the western edge of Little Bay now controlled by the Navigation District, feels that expert planning is needed now, to prevent mistakes that could be very costly later.

"There are so many angles that must be considered when planning developments that will ultimately encompass dredging, riparian rights, roadways, financing and a great many other things, that the board was unanimous in its decision to employ engineers familiar with these matters."

Picton then went on to point out that many citizens of Live Oak Peninsula believe that development of Little Bay is an important part of the district's responsibility in long range improvement of Aransas County's waterfront.

"From time to time," he said, "we have received proposals for development of the area by private individuals interested in various sorts of commercial enterprises including hotels and motels, waterfront improvements for private and commercial boats, and construction of commercial buildings such as shopping centers and limited drive-in type establishments and restaurants.

"It is the intention of the Navigation District to authorize only such projects as will contribute to orderly development of the region. To do this we need a plan to serve as a guide. We aren't even considering projects of a type that should be financed by private capital, but we do intend to start as soon as feasible, on development that may encourage private capital to make such expenditures, which will ultimately result in desirable properties that will enhance the tax rolls of the county."

It is the commissioners' feeling that the district should construct facilities for general recreational purposes, and they have asked the engineers to prepare drawings showing the type and layout of facilities needed.

These will probably include recreational areas for swimming and fishing; places where private facilities may be erected and so on.

Sail and motorboat fairways for pleasure and racing purposes will probably be outlined, with access to Aransas Bay being assured for both local and transient boats.

Another feature that has been suggested is a multi-lane drive along the shore of the bay, with a portion having controlled access for visitors and spectators of water sports.

Wharfage along the shores of the bay, with facilities for both local boats and those of visiting owners interested in only a short stay was another project that received attention in discussions leading to the engineers' employment.

Both Picton and Homer C. Innis, representing Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, pointed out that all these things were merely preliminary, although along with the plans, tentative estimates of cost, and various phases of construction will be presented.

The plans will, however, show the location and type of facilities recommended, and will be presented in sufficient detail to serve the district's requirements at this time, for a basis on which to plan for ultimate development of the area.

Refugio C. of C. Protests Change Of Refuge Name

Directors of the Refugio Chamber of Commerce went on record as being opposed to the plan to change the name of the Aransas Wildlife Refuge to the Rockport Wildlife Refuge at their regular meeting last week.

Representative Harold Parish had introduced a resolution to this effect in the current special session.

Parish said, in a letter released a week ago:

"The Rockport Chamber of Commerce had requested me to introduce a resolution petitioning Congress to change the name of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge to the Rockport National Wildlife Refuge. Due to the fact that this is the home of the Whooping Crane and that Rockport has spent an awful lot of money promoting the preservation of this famous bird and due to the fact that some confusion has arisen in the past over the exact location of this refuge, I am happy to do this for my area and will try to get the resolution passed during this special session."

The Refugio Chamber of Commerce sent the following telegram to Parish:

"Refugio County Chamber of Commerce protests the projected change of name from Aransas Wildlife Refuge to Rockport Wildlife Refuge. Advise."

What Parish's reaction was to this has not been ascertained.

All 26 of the winners are displayed in the offices of the Modern Abstract and Title Company, and persons wishing to see them are welcome to come in and inspect them during office hours, Spencer said.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

New Mental Health Code
Effective Soon

New Mental Health Code goes into effect in Texas on Jan. 1, 1958.

The new code provides for an emergency commitment to a state mental hospital when a person's conduct makes it appear likely that he is mentally ill and apt to injure himself or others if not immediately restrained. Any health or peace officer may take such a person directly to a state mental hospital. This procedure is designed to protect the public from a violently ill person, and, as well, protect the ill person from the disturbance of being confined in a local jail.

Whenever a person has been taken to a state mental hospital in this manner, he must be examined within 48 hours, and notice of the commitment sent to the patient's guardian. Also, there must be a confirming order from the county court within 24 hours. The emergency commitment cannot be used to hold a patient more than 96 hours.

Non-emergency commitments may be either temporary or indefinite. However, no one can be indefinitely committed unless they have first been temporarily committed. The temporary commitment is begun by filing a sworn application with the county court. The application must allege that the proposed patient is mentally ill and that hospitalization is necessary for the welfare of himself or others.

An informal hearing is held within 14 days of this application, after notice is given to all concerned, and the court has appointed an attorney if necessary. The proposed patient must be examined by two physicians, both of whom must find commitment necessary. A patient who is temporarily committed can be held no longer than 90 days. Nevertheless, if it is determined that a longer period of time will be necessary to effect a cure, indefinite commitment proceedings may be begun while the patient is under a temporary commitment.

The indefinite commitment is begun by the filing of a petition in the county court. One of the necessary allegations is that the patient has been observed in a state mental hospital for at least 60 days within the last year, and that the patient is mentally ill, requiring hospitalization. The petition must be accompanied by a Certificate of Medical Examination by a doctor stating the patient is mentally ill. Thus there must be at least three independent medical examinations before a person can be indefinitely committed. The court notifies the proposed patient and his guardian of the pending proceedings, and appoints an attorney if necessary.

The hearing is held 30 days after the petition is filed. A jury will decide the question of whether or not the proposed patient is mentally ill, unless the jury has been waived in writing. If the patient is found to be mentally ill he may, under the new code, appeal this finding. Also he may, at any time, apply for a writ of habeas corpus. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

WEEKLY TOURIST CARD PARTIES

Despite the inclement weather there were six tables of bridge and one table of canasta Monday afternoon. Winner of high bridge score was Mrs. C. H. Whiteley. Low bridge score was won by Mrs. L. A. Cooper, from Lockney, Texas. Mrs. W. C. Boyd, Victoria, Texas, won the canasta prize. Mrs. C. Teynd, Fort Collins, Colorado, won the bingo prize.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. V. Ferguson and Mrs. Arthur Bracht. The refreshment table was an artistic delight with fall fruits and flowers and the Thanksgiving motif carried out in ceramic turkeys made by Mrs. Mullinax's daughter in Aransas Pass. An assortment of delicious fruit cakes and petit-fours were on display for sale.

It has been suggested that Thursday night's duplicate bridge game be extended to couples who would like to play rubber bridge or progressive bridge with prizes to be given to high score. This would enable husbands and wives to play every Thursday.

Anyone interested in making Thursday nights progressive bridge night as well as duplicate bridge night contact Southfield 4-6364. If there is sufficient response the motion will be adopted. Remember every Thursday night is bridge night at the Woman's Club. Time, 7:30 p. m.

REYNOLDS METALS COMPANY HAS BEEN EXPANDING EVER SINCE FIRST PLANT WAS BUILT AT LA QUINTA IN 1952

Reynolds Metals Company, at La Quinta, has been expanding almost continuously ever since that day in May, 1952, when 20,000 visitors trooped curiously through the company's brand new, $80 million San Patricio reduction plant, eating Eskimo pies and hot dogs, while a high school band blared "Whistle While You Work".

The great pot lines of the San Patricio plant were scarcely in good operating order before the first expansion was under way—a $42 million alumina plant which produced 150,000 tons of this aluminum intermediate in the last five months of 1953, the first year it operated.

As a part of this program the company also constructed docks and unloading machinery at La Quinta, dredging a channel in from the Port Aransas-Corpus Christi waterway to the site of the Sherwin Plant, as it was later named.

To haul bauxite ore between Jamaica, where the company has its mines, and Corpus Christi, Reynolds had built in Ragland the first self-loading and unloading ore carrier to be used in the aluminum industry—the SS Carl Schmedeman, which, during the next four years, was to pour untold millions of bauxite ore across the La Quinta dock.

1955, additions were completed to the San Patricio reduction works pot lines, increasing their capacity from the 160,000,000 pounds a year for which they were originally designed to 183,000,000 pounds annually, and the company's investment from $80 to $127.5 million.

Before this was completed, a new project was started, aimed at increasing the Sherwin plant's alumina capacity by 50 per cent, and upping the capital investment by another $30 million. This unit was completed last month, October, and went into production without fanfare or ceremony, turning out 1500 tons of alumina daily, instead of the formerly rated capacity of a thousand tons.

Nor was this all. Even before construction on this was finished, another $16 million was allotted to increase production to 2,000 tons every 24 hours, doubling the original capacity. When erection of these additional facilities is completed in October of 1958, the two plants will represent a total investment of $174,000,000; will employ about 2,000 people; and inject a $10 million annual payroll into the economy of the region.

The dry cargo traffic generated by Reynolds, added to the Port of Corpus Christi's other cargoes, makes it first in Texas in volume of such importations, and, even so, this is due for a rise.

In 1956, Reynolds imported 857,022 tons of bauxite ore from Jamaica. Operation of the new unit will bring another 450,000 tons of ore into use annually, and when the final unit is completed, an additional 450,000 long tons will be required, bringing the yearly tonnage up to 1.8 million.

To take care of this increase in tonnage and to facilitate loading, the company recently finished the world's largest bauxite storage building at Ochos Rios, Jamaica. Previously storage was available for only 25,000, but the new building holds 120,000 tons.

To bring more ore faster, and to lower transportation costs, two new self-loading, ore-carrying ships were ordered to supplement the work of the SS Carl Schmedeman and an older, more conventionally-designed ore carrier, the Dragon.

The SS Richard, a 32,000-tonner, the largest dry cargo ship ever to enter a Gulf port, was constructed in Japan and for a short time was used to carry coal from Newport News, Virginia, to Rotterdam, while waiting on the channel into the Sherwin plant to be deepened to 36 feet and widened to 200 in order to handle this super ore carrier.

Her first load of bauxite was delivered at the Reynolds dock in July, and since then she has been unloading 32,000-ton cargoes every eight days, while the Schmedeman is delivering 13,500 tons at a time, and the third of the trio, the Louise, recently added is carrying 16,500 tons each trip.

At present, these three, and the Dragon, all of them operated by the Caribbean Steamship Company, a Reynolds affiliate, are bringing in 1.8 million tons of ore annually, some of which is being stockpiled.

The Richard, pride of the Reynolds fleet, cost almost $11 million to build, and, like the Louise and the Schmedeman, is fully mechanized.

The most interesting feature of all three is their unusually efficient system for discharging cargo.

On the Richard, for instance, three 42-inch conveyor belts run virtually her entire length of 670 feet, under the holds. These holds, constructed like hoppers to permit the ore they contain to flow freely, can be dumped, one at a time, through 246 gates on to these belts, which carry the bauxite to the stern of the ship, discharging it on to a shuttle belt. This can be projected through either the port or starboard side of the ship, to discharge into shore conveyors which move the ore from the dock into two huge storage buildings which feed directly into the alumina plant.

The Richard's system is capable of unloading the bauxite at a speed of 2850 long tons an hour, and a similar speed is attained by the other vessels built in the same manner. The Dragon, of conventional design, is unloaded in the usual manner employed by ore carriers elsewhere.

Since the San Patricio plant cannot use all of the alumina produced at Sherwin, the balance will be shipped to reduction plants at Listerhill, Alabama; Troutdale, Oregon; and Longview, Washington.

Tariff structures make it more economical to import bauxite than refined alumina. The Bayer process, by which alumina is recovered from bauxite, is a chemical process involving treatment of the ore in a hot caustic solution and the subsequent calcination of separated hydrated alumina.

Gulf coast alumina producing locations are excellent from the viewpoint of chemicals—soda ash and lime—and fuel requirements of natural gas, but the key factor behind location of the Reynolds plants was probably the area's geographic location with regard to major bauxite deposits in the Western Hemisphere.

Cheap electricity is needed for aluminum reduction plants, which outweighs cost of hauling alumina long distances and in shipping aluminum ingots from remote locations to Midwestern and Northern fabricating centers.

The outlook for the reaction industry (such as that represented by Reynolds San Patricio plant) in Texas depends upon costs of its major fuels—such as natural gas, fuel oil and lignite—in comparison with those elsewhere.

Business analysts think that it is significant that the most recent expansion of the reduction industry has been, or is planned, for coal-based power sites in Indiana, Ohio, and West Virginia. This suggests, they say, that operating costs plus transportation costs on the finished ingots may already be less at such locations than they are in Texas, and may reflect long-range expectations regarding the relative costs of coal versus natural gas.

In the meantime, aluminum has brought a new era of prosperity to the Coastal Bend.

The two plants, and their 2,000 permanent employees, account for about 8,000 persons dependent on Reynolds for their living. In addition, about 1125 competent construction men are employed on the Reynolds' expansion program, and with an almost continuous building program underway since 1952, there has been a large construction payroll, much of which has been spent in the area.

And following in the wake of such primary plants as Reynolds, the extrusion industry and manufacturers of aluminum products are growing and expanding in the state as new uses for aluminum are discovered. It is true that no large ones have yet settled in the Coastal Bend, but it seems logical that this will be the next logical step in expansion of the program, if not the company.

In the long run—perhaps in 15 years—cheap nuclear power may release the industry from reliance on conventional power sources. Meanwhile, with the continued strong demand for aluminum, experts state that it is probable that the existing industry in Texas will continue to experience a steady and substantial expansion.

They see no reason to doubt that Reynolds will continue its own program under such circumstances.

White Warns Of Fire Ants

Austin, Texas.—State Agriculture Commissioner John White says that the imported fire ant investigation has been found in six extreme southeastern counties in Texas.

A survey of seven adjoining counties is now underway to determine if the ant is branching out, White said in a special warning to Texas nurserymen.

White said a public hearing has been scheduled by U. S. Department of Agriculture officials Nov. 19 in Memphis, Tenn., at which time a quarantine of ten states, including Texas, will be considered.

Among regulations proposed in the quarantine action is a requirement for inspection of all nurseries in suspicious areas. Nurseries found to be infested would have to be treated then wait 30 days before making any shipments.

Besides Texas, states which have known fire ant infestations are Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

GOP to Fight Funds For La Quinta Work

Washington, D. C. — A Republican minority report indicates a sharp skirmish in the House next year over a pending bill to authorize construction of nearly $1.5 billion worth of water projects.

GOP members of the House Public Works Committee said they will oppose it unless it is amended to cut some $300 million.

Included in the projects the GOP members oppose is $954,000 La Quinta Channel in Texas.

The La Quinta Channel provides a waterway for ships supplying the Reynolds Metals Co. plant at La Quinta. It is 125 feet wide on the straight-away and 32 feet deep.

Three-Mile Boundary Asked for Gulf States

The federal government has asked the Supreme Court to fix the boundaries of Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida at the traditional three-mile limit in the Gulf of Mexico.

The filing is an amendment of the government's original case in which it had asked that Louisiana's boundary in the Gulf be declared at the three-mile limit. The state has claimed various greater distances, ranging 180 or more miles from the shore.

HANDLED Extra WITH CARE

BY THE CARLOAD

REVOLUTIONARY NEW "SHOCK-AESORBER" GIVES EXTRA PROTECTION TO FRAGILE FREIGHT

Careful handling of freight has always been a prime concern of Southern Pacific. Four years ago we asked Stanford Research Institute to help us develop an even better way to cushion boxcar shipments of fragile freight. The result is something we're proud to report.

It is the Hydra-Cushion Underframe freight car, which employs a unique sliding underframe with a hydraulic pressure device to give extra cushioning to fragile shipments while cars are being coupled or are in transit.

350 Cars. We built 350 of these cars—and added "DF" (damage-free) interior loading equipment and roller bearings for good measure—to assure extra protection to shipments of television receivers, bottled goods, glassware, ceramic tile and numerous other fragile products.

The Hydra-Cushion Underframe freight car is an example, we think, of how Southern Pacific uses modern research in our continuing effort to give the finest freight service.

Ingleside Mustangs Buck Pirates Off

In last Friday's rodeo, the Ingleside Mustangs bucked the Rockport Pirates off, to the tune of 19-7, in a game that started 30 minutes late because of the absence of officials.

This puts Ingleside second in district competition, and Bishop first.

At game time, officials were conspicuous by their absence, so, by agreement between the coaches of the two teams, the kickoff was delayed until spectators could be pressed into service. Charles A. Roe, Jr., was one of the men chosen for Rockport; Billy Bates, B-team coach for Rockport was the other; while Freddie Hahn, former football great of Ingleside, and Gilbert Mercovich, principal of one of the Ingleside schools was the other.

Roe and Bates had their coaching uniforms, but Mercovich and Hahn staged a sort of come-asyou-are party, rolling up their trousers legs and having at it. All of them were equipped with Scotch-lite flags that were startling but effective, and all of them turned in an excellent performance, considering the handicap under which the ywere laboring.

ACHS kicked off, Clyde Townsend getting his toe under the ball for a hefty boot, and Marvin Jones galloped back with it for about 12 yards, as play got underway. Jones made a couple, and Haskins made three more, before he took the ball a second time and rumbled through the ACHS defense for 10 yards and a first down.

The Pirates were penalized five yards for offside. Then the Mustang's Duelm racked up three, and Raymond Perry, their quarter added two more for a first down on the ustang 85.

Marvin Jones fumbled for a couple of yards; Haskins made one and was tackled by Gregory. Perry heaved one intended for Gooch which was incomplete, and on the next down he punted for around 35 yards.

Danny Adams made a two-yard runback before he was tackled on the Pirate 25. John Cabaniss made a couple, and was tackled by Haskins; Adams kept and sneaked through for one before Gooch hit him. Adams flipped one to Turbeville that was incomplete, and then he booted it for 40 yards.

The Mustangs took over on their own 30 and on the first play Haskins fumbled and Monte Rouquette recovered for the Pirates.

Cabaniss made four yards, and then two more. Clyde Townsend made two, and Shivers to Cabaniss failed to pay off, and the ball was lost on downs.

Marvin Jones, on the first play for the Mustangs, fumbled, and ACHS recovered on the Ingleside 36. Townsend went through the line for a yard; Shivers tossed one to Cabaniss in the right flat that failed to connect, and on the next play he kept, and sliced through for seven. Townsend made two and a first down.

Cabaniss made three; Adams racked up five; Clyde Townsend was good for another, and Cabaniss produced three more and a first down, on the Ingleside 15.

Then the roof fell in. Adams fumbled and recovered but lost ten in doing it. Shivers was snowed for five more, and that was the end of the quarter.

On the first play in the second quarter, Hanson intercepted one of Shivers' passes and galloped 72 yards for a touchdown for the Ingleside team, but the point after was missed.

Hanson kicked off, and Adams ran the ball back for 15 yards for ACHS. On the first play Pena made two; a five yard penalty was assessed against the Mustangs for offside; Cabaniss made two more and Adams turned in the necessary yard for a first down.

On the next play Adams set sail and was 17 yards down the field before a Mustang laid a finger on him, winding up on the Ingleside 49.

Cabaniss fumbled, and Mercovich recovered for the Mustangs on the 50-yard line. Hanson fumbled and recovered for no gain. Perry tossed one to Hanson which was incomplete. Haskins made five before being stopped by Jim Weatherly, and then Perry punted over the Pirate goal line and the ball was brought back out to the 20.

A Mustang offside penalty moved it to the 25, followed by a 7-yard run by Clyde Townsend, and the Pirates were on their own 32. Adams handed off to Cabaniss for a couple, and on the next play kept and was snowed. On the third down, Adams, apparently tired of the middle of the field, flipped one for 14 yards to Mike Townsend, who set sail for another 50 yards and the Pirates' lone touchdown. Clyde Townsend kicked the extra point.

Townsend kicked off, and Marvin Jones, of the Mustangs, made a beautiful 57-yard return to the Pirate 24 before he was downed. Hanson on the first play was swarmed under and lost five. Haskins made eight, and then two more, but Perry's toss to Gooch on the fourth down was incomplete and ACHS took over on their own 20.

Cabaniss tried the line for one; Barnard cracked it for four and Cabaniss made two more before Jerry Payne booted the ball and Hanson ran it back for 20 yards.

Perry to Gooch, a pass, netted 6; Perry to Hanson was incomplete and Haskin barreled through the line and racked up 11 and a first down, coming to rest on the ACHS 38.

Haskins made two; Perry to Duelm was incomplete, and when the Mustangs tried it again, Monte Rouquette, Pirate end, intercepted and ran it back to Ingleside's 44-yard line before he was dumped.

The half ended four plays later. On the beginning of the third quarter, Ingleside kicked off and Rockport put the ball in play on their own 32. Cabaniss picked up three yards in two plays and then Adams' pass to Mike Townsend was garnered in by Raymond Perry and the Mustangs were on the march.

Haskins made 8 yards in two plays; Hanson added another; and then Perry made three and a first down. Haskins lost a yard, then on the next play made six before he was tackled by Monte Rouquette. Four more were chalked up for Hanson, and Marvin Jones tallied a like amount for another first down.

Haskins made 6, and was tackled by John Cabaniss; Hanson was thrown for no gain by Mickey Castertine; then Monte Rouquette dumped Haskins for no yardage, before Haskins tried again and didn't make it.

The Pirates took over on their own 15, and Clyde Townsend failed to gain on the first play. Adams made three; Shivers to Mike Townsend was knocked down incomplete, and then Payne, dropping back to punt, got a high pass from center and was swarmed under on the Pirate four, when Ingleside took over on downs. An offside against Rockport moved the Pirates back to their one yard line, and Raymond Perry made that yard on a quarterback sneak through center. The Mustangs failed in their try for extra point.

Hanson kicked off and Adams made a 25-yard runback for the Pirates. On the first play, John Cabaniss came within an ace of getting away, but didn't quite make it, despite the fact that he galloped for 21 yards before the Mustangs outran him. Then Rockport fumbled and Ingleside took over on their own forty. Hanson plowed through for eight on the first play, and Marvin Jones added two more for the needed yardage and a first down.

Haskins made a yard and was dumped by Weatherly. On the second play Haskins fumbled, but recovered. Perry to Hanson was incomplete, and Perry booted on fourth down, with Adams, the Rockport quarter running the punt back for 20 yards, to Rockport's 30 before he was spilled. Adams, on a keeper, racked up nine, and Clyde Townsend made two for the first down. Then Adams made 4 1/2 and that was the end of the third quarter.

As play resumed Cabaniss made four and Adams added two for the first down.

On the next series of downs, however, the Pirates couldn't make it, and Payne kicked to Ingleside's 14, where the ball went back in play. Duelm made a yard; a five yard penalty for offside was called against the Pirates; then Haskins made a yard, and Jones fumbled, with Rockport recovering.

Townsend made 2; Adams 5; Cabaniss 1; and then Townsend tried but failed, and the ball went over to Ingleside on downs on their own 22.

Hanson fumbled for two; Haskins racked up three; Hanson made one and then a five yard penalty against the Pirates for offside gave the Mustangs their yardage and a first down. Hanson, Haskins and Perry made 11 yards in three tries, and then Haskins galloped for 42 yards before the Rockport safety man got him on the Pirate 12 yard line. After that it was Katy-bar-the-door for on the next to the last play of the game Hanson loped around his own left end for the touchdown. Perry ran the point after.

Two Hostesses Give Party

The Thanksgiving motif was featured in the decorations and table appointments Friday afternoon at the Woman's Club, when Mrs. Joe Slocum and Mrs. Fred Christilles entertained with a desert bridge.

The group included ten tables of bridge players, one of canasta and a number of additional tea guests.

The serving table had for a centerpiece, a cornucopia of fruit and vegetables which overflowed on a bed of autumn leaves.

Miniature turkeys and chickens with a background of autumn leaves were on either end of the table and leaves and sumac berries decorated the piano and the table at which the tea guests were seated.

Among the guests was Mrs. A. E. Gentry of Houston.

The Church of Christ What It Teaches

The church is not specifically mentioned in the Old Testament, so far as I know, but it is mentioned in the New Testament about 110 times, and comes from a Greek word meaning "the called out."

Hence, the Lord's people, the church, are a called out people; being called out of the world into the Lord's church. The church, therefore, is not a place, but a people.

It is really not proper to refer to the place of worship as "the church." For the people who worship there constitute the church in that particular place.

Hence, we have no voting, but follow the simple directions of our Lord and King: all of which are found in the New Testament. Moreover, the church is often referred to as the "body of Christ," as in Rom. 12:4,5, "For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office; so we being many, are one body in Christ, and everyone members one of another."

Hence, God is our Father, Christ is our elder brother, and all Christians are brothers and sisters in the Lord's family. All of God's children are born into His family by the new birth of water and the Spirit. (Jno. 3:5), also Rom. 8:14-17).

Men and women are born into God's family when they obey the gospel of Christ. Peter said, "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever." (1 Pet. 1:22,23).

We invite and urge all men to leave their pet denominations, and come into the Lord's church, His kingdom, His body. His family, that we may all be one people, and thus unite upon God's word to go forth in the warfare against sin and wickedness. "Divide, and conquer, is the Devil's motto. Will you not do this, my friends, before it is too late?"

You have a cordial invitation to attend all of the services of the Lord's church.

Field Day Held At Wildlife Refuge

The Third Annual Field Day of the Aransas Wildlife Refuge and the Copano Bay Soil Conservation District was held on the refuge November 1.

The program included a tour of the pastures to show range and wildlife management practices and a barbecue lunch which was furnished by the First National Bank of Refugio.

The Aransas Wildlife Refuge became a cooperating unit of the Copano Bay SCD in 1952. Since that time Soil Conservation Service Technicians assisting the district have provided technical assistance in developing range management plans. These plans included proper use of the desirable grasses, deferred grazing to permit and increase of the better grasses and brush control.

The most interesting stop was in the Point Pasture where the oak brush has been mowed for two successive springs and deferred. This area which had been infested with oak only two years before appeared to be a grass prairie. There were some oak sprouts showing but they were covered with grass and would not hamper the movement of livestock through the area.

The result of the work in the Point Pasture is good range management and is to be expected. Mowing the oak in the spring with heavy duty rotary cutters catches the oak when it has a low supply of stored food in the roots.

This tends to weaken the oak and gives the desired grasses a chance to grow. The first year the existing grass plants and a few seedlings make fairly good growth and produce seed due to not having to compete with the oak for light and moisture.

Grass is the key to successful brush control. Deferment is necessary to get an initial establishment of grass. Proper use is necessary to keep it there.

There were only seven traffic accidents in Aransas County during October, according to a report released today by Lieutenant Paul Oder, of the Department of Public Safety.

There were no deaths; and only two injuries.

Traffic deaths in the county for the first ten months this year have shown a marked drop over the same period a year ago. During 1957 there have been only two, compared to nine a year ago. Injuries in the county the first 10 months were also less. Only 10 people have been injured this year against 23 a year ago.

Highway Department To Spend $14,700.00 On County FM Roads

The Texas Highway Department will spend $14,700.00 for improvements on farm-to-market roads in Aransas County during 1958, T. O. Foster, Jr., District Engineer at Corpus Christi, has announced. This is in addition to the regular construction and maintenance program.

The State Highway Commission, at its October meeting, approved this appropriation of $14,700.00 to improve already existing farm-to-market roads in this county. A total of $20 million was allotted to 183 Texas counties for farm road improvement in 1958. This $20 million will be spent for shoulder widening, seal coat jobs, additional surfacing, and for widening of structures and roads.

The three projects in Aransas County will be under the supervision of the local highway district personnel.

"We should have this program moving by spring," District Engineer Foster said. "We believe the money spent in this county will go a long way toward bringing these roads up to date."

Funds allotted for Aransas County will be spent on the following projects:

- (a) FM 1069 from FM 881 Southwest. 2.5 miles, Seal Coat. (b) FM 1781 from FM 881 to State 35, 8.9 miles, Seal Coat. (c) FM 2040 from Refugio County Line to Wildlife Refuge, 0.8 miles, Seal Coat.

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS REGULAR MEETING

At the conclusion of the regular monthly business meeting Tuesday, Nov. 12, the members of the Woman's Club of Aransas County and their guests were privileged to hear a most interesting and informative talk by Dick Weekly. His subject was "Christianity versus Communism."

Mrs. H. A. McDonald introduced her guest, Mrs. B. J. Lloyd from Borger, Texas. A vote of thanks was accorded Noah Taylor of the Aransas Butane Gas Co., for his help to the club at the drag races. Thanks and a gift of Christmas goodies on a merry-go-around tray was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Holland for their help in making the food concession at the drag races a success.

A social hour with refreshments was enjoyed after the talk.

Mrs. A. L. Bachman, the president, again suggested that orders for the delicious fruit cakes and ornamental petit-fours in artistic containers be placed as soon as possible. These cakes make a beautiful and appreciated gift both for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Mrs. Bachman also announced that plans were in the making, if there was sufficient response, to include party bridge for couples to run every Thursday evening along with the regular duplicate bridge. Prizes will be awarded separately for winners and a charge of 50c per person would be in order. Any couples interested in regular bridge playing should contact Mrs. Bachman.

Outdoors In Texas

(By Hugh Williamson)

Literally, the weather is great for ducks.

A lot of Texans, you may be sure, have been thinking it over, inasmuch as the duck season opens Nov. 1 and extends to Dec. 30.

Big rains this year have broken the drouth along the Gulf Coast, providing plenty of surface water for the birds. Conditions in the marsh areas of the upper coast are the best in 10 years.

There will be an excellent crop of such native waterfowl food as wild duck millet, smartweeds, duck potato, and pondweeds.

Along the lower coast, the duck prospects are also very good. October rain caused habitat conditions to improve rapidly.

Add to all this the fact that the duck breeding season in the north was a successful one, and you have every indication of good duck hunting in Texas during the coming season.

Many varieties of ducks come to Texas with the cool winds of Fall.

Of the various kinds, the mallard predominates. A grain-eater, the mallard's flesh has a mild flavor. Fish-eating ducks have a stronger taste.

Biggest of the ducks available to Texans is the American Merganser, which may go to four pounds. Smallest is the green-winged teal, averaging three-quarters of a pound.

A duck hunter must know his birds — bag limits vary with the species.

How To Do It

What's the secret of duck hunting — or any wing shooting? Well, it takes a steady hand, a clear eye, and good coordination, of course, but it also takes a gun that fits the shooter.

With time and money, you can do business with gun specialists who will fit the gun to your particular needs.

You'll get all kinds of tests, including some in the field. At the end of a year or so you'll have your gun, which will fit you like an old shoe. It will cost you about $2,000.

Most of us don't have that kind of moola. But we can take our time in selecting a weapon, try it out, borrow a gun from a friend, talk about it, and be sure, before we purchase, that the gun fits.

Then we can go duck hunting, and if all the factors are right we can get birds.

Practice Helps

It goes without saying that practice is one of the elements of accurate wing shooting. Some rounds of skeet, before the season opens, should serve to sharpen the eye.

Another item is distance. A beginner is likely to blast away at ducks from afar, but a more experienced shooter will wait until they come closer.

At 12 yards, a duck looks bigger than a turkey. At 20 yards he shrinks to chicken size. At 30 yards, he's more like a pigeon, and at 40 yards, he's down to dove dimensions. Off there at 50 yards he's an English sparrow, and at 60 yards, he's a hummingbird.

Too Many Deer

Game management officials are in some disagreement about reducing the deer population in some areas.

In Kerr County, for example, game commission biologists found that the land is overstocked and overgrazed. They recommended that hunters be permitted to kill doe as well as buck deer this season.

Kerr County commissions rejected this proposal, and the state commission held with the Kerr County group, so there will be no legal doe shooting in the county

PORTABLE STORM RADAR—Two Signal Corps soldiers finish assembling the Army's new weather eye for spotting significant storms at distances of 200 miles. The 25-foot tower can be set up in a day to allow Army scientists to predict within minutes when a storm will strike any spot within range.

There is a strong likelihood, say the biologists, that many Kerr County deer will die of starvation this winter.

There is a different situation in the Enfelang area of Anderson County where, on a block of land owned by the state commission, permits will be issued to kill 100 deer of either sex.

An excess of doe was discovered in the area.

Gal Wardens?

Maybe Texas is going to have female-game wardens. The notion has been put forward by sportsmen's clubs of Texas.

Pickereel In Texas

Did you know you can catch chain pickereel in Texas? You can. That would be at Caddo Lake, where this relative of the northern pike and the majestic muskellunge abounds.

The pickereel lives in quiet, weedy waters and grows to 26 inches or so, and four pounds. A hungry citizen of Caddo's cypress swamps, the pickereel will strike practically anything that moves. He especially likes flashy underwater lures and noisy topwater baits.

A mystery is where the pickereel goes in midsummer, but a good guess is that he seeks a deep, cool place and remains practically dormant. But in the Fall he perks up, and by November he is really ready for something to eat.

The pickereel, by the way, is a good eating fish. Skin him, remove bones, cut into narrow strips, dip in batter, and fry until well done.

Skier-Fishermen

After trouble between fishermen and water skiers on a California lake, the U. S. Forest Service has set up some restrictions.

Anglers and skiers have agreed to these regulations: Fishermen have the lake all to themselves on Saturdays, with no skiers allowed. Skiing is permitted from

ARMY APPLICANTS GIVEN NEW TESTS IN SAN ANTONIO AREA ON TRIAL BASIS

The method of testing applicants for enlistment in the U. S. Army has undergone a radical change this month, at least in the San Antonio area, where it is on a trial basis. The required grade on the screening test has been lowered from 28 to 15 out of a possible 48.

After shipment to San Antonio the applicant will be given a series of aptitude tests and if the results indicate the applicant can be trained for a specific job he will be enlisted into the U. S. Army.

This new method of testing will permit many young men to enlist that have not been acceptable before.

Master Sergeant John R. Treadwell will be at the Rockport post-office Monday, Nov. 18 and will test anyone interested in the U. S. Army.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION PRESENTS PROGRAM AT METHODIST CHURCH

At the evening service of the First Methodist Church last Sunday night, a special feature was a program by the Committee on Education. Members of the committee took part, with Richard Weekly, general superintendent, giving an address on "Christian Education."

A mixed quartet also gave two numbers.

The Methodist choir held its regular practice last night, and then met in Fellowship Hall for coffee. The combined choir of the church will practice twice before the Thanksgiving service. The first practice will be Wednesday night, Nov. 20, and the second will be on Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Mrs. Lynwood Eller, Curtis Harist and Ernest Harist were in Lubbock this week to attend the funeral of their uncle, Floyd Harist, on Sunday.

10 a. m. to 4 p. m. other days, within boundaries marked by buoys.

Well, nobody wants to be regulated, but regulation will come to our Texas lakes if the fishermen and skiers can't get along with each other. They can because all it takes is courtesy, thoughtful consideration of the other fellow.

Fulton P-TA Holds Meeting

The Fulton P-TA, at its regular meeting, were entertained with a playlet, "The Yellow Shop", given by nine fifth grade pupils of Mrs. Etna Rees-Jones.

In the business session, presided over by Mrs. Glen Wendell, the finance chairman reported that proceeds of the recent Hallove'en carnival amounted to $310.

A committee was appointed to investigate the immediate needs of the teachers; another to revise the by-laws and a third to plan the Christmas party, a joint affair for all grades, which will take place in the school auditorium.

Plans were made to landscape the school yard. Students appointed to aid the P-TA committee were: Nicki Dick, from the 6th grade; Sally McCord, from the 5th grade, and Dennis Davenport, from the 4th grade.

FOOTBALL REVIEW

Matty Bell, SMU director of athletics, recalls outstanding moments in his 35-year football career this week on the Humble Company's Football Review.

Other features on the same program show the fundamentals of the split T and option and how coaches use movies to prepare for football games.

The programs regular football highlights described by Kern Tips will be taken from the Texas A&M-Rice, Arkansas-SMU, and Texas Tech - Hardin Simmons games.

"Football Review" can be seen Monday, Nov. 18 over KONO-TV, San Antonio, 7 p. m.

SOCIAL SECURITY CHECKS FOR HUSBAND AND WIFE COMBINED

Some elderly couples, who are social security beneficiaries, will receive notice this month that their retirement insurance payments will be combined into a single check, beginning in January, H. M. Cleveland, district manager of the Social Security Administration announced.

Payment of only one check, representing the combined monthly benefit amounts of a retired worker and his wife, was started on a trial basis in September 1956. The method was then limited to families in which the wife first became entitled to benefits in that month or later. After 10 months of operation, the new method has proved successful, and it has resulted in substantial savings. Therefore it will be extended, beginning in January 1958 to elderly couples who have been on the social security rolls since before September 1956.

Payment in a combined check will not affect the right of either one to his part of the amount. No combination of social security benefits will be made for a husband and wife who are living apart, or where the wife's benefit is based on her own record of work under social security, Cleveland said. Any person who has a special need for a separate check may, when he gets his notice, arrange with the social security office for his payments to continue by separate check. Nationally, more than 10 million persons now receive social security insurance payments each month. It costs more than 5 cents, including postage, to prepare and mail each check. By combining the payments to a husband and wife in one check, it is estimated that a total savings will amount to at least $1,000,000 a year.

Mr. Hartman, in

Becraft hand made glass, Frankoma pottery, hand made jewelry, shell goods, cactus, and many other items for gifts and souvenirs at THE JEWEL BOX, ½ mile north of Rockport. p32 presenting the flag to our council president, Mr. Borglum, said, "We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to the mothers and fathers, who are doing such a wonderful job molding the lives of these fine young girls—and to make a gift, one that is priceless, this United States flag."

Other officers of the donor organization taking part were: Harris H. Lovely, Corpus Christi, Nueces Veterans County Service Officer; Frank Henze, Mathis, district commander and county council commander; J. A. Buck, Mathis, past post commander; S. W. Smith, Aransas Pass, past post commander; Owen Drago, Sinton, post commander; Elmor Beyer, Mathis, post commander, and Cyril Peltier, Aransas Pass, post commander.

The Whooping Crane Council gratefully expresses its appreciation to the Veterans of Foreign Wars for this gift. May each of our organizations experience a long and happy association with each other.

Those of you who desire a first day cover of the Whooping Crane stamp should send your letter to the Postmaster at Corpus Christi immediately. Mr. Lawrence tells us that the outside envelope containing your letters should read: "Postmaster, Corpus Christi, Texas. First day covers 3c Whooping Crane stamp." He also stated that the postmaster at that station is already receiving about 3,500 letters for first day covers at this time so do hurry and get your letters in at the earliest possible moment.

MRS. C. W. McDONALD TELLS OF EUROPE
Mrs. C. W. McDonald recently spent 14 months in Europe, most of it with her daughter and son-in-law, Captain and Mrs. L. H. McAlpine.
Captain McAlpine is U. S. Naval Attache for Air at the U. S. Embassy in London.
While in Europe they visited the interesting home of Sir William Eden, brother of Sir Anthony Eden, where they had a chance to examine the interesting and beautiful library and family portraits, which are of great value.
A life-sized portrait of the mother hangs in the dining room and another Lady Eden is also there.
In the summer, Miss Isabel Adam joined Mrs. McDonald, and they toured Belgium, Holland and France, later spending six weeks in Scotland.
The mountains, with their purple heather against the sky, and the rocky coast were beautiful, Mrs. McDonald said.
While in Scotland they visited Paisley Abbey, where their grandparents are buried.

gists who have counted enough catches to know what they're talking about, that 5% of the sports fishermen catch 95% of the fish, and that the other 95% of the fishermen have to be content with the other 5% of the fish.

Hodges belongs to the five per cent, because, year after year he checks in at the trailer park gets into his fishing gear, and begins to bring in the reds with an ease and fluency that makes everyone envy him.

This year things are about as usual. He came in last Thursday, and Friday he went out and came in with one rat red and seven bulls that weighed from 6 to 8 1/2 pounds.

Saturday he only brought in a couple of bulls, but they weighed seven pounds each. Monday he went fishing, and caught 6 reds that weighed from seven to eight pounds each, and a couple of nice trout; Tuesday he did right well, also, for he brought in 13 that went between seven and seven and a half pounds each, and took a couple of other fellows along and showed them how. Jim Stansell, of Lubbock caught five as big as those Hodges had, and Earl Beardmore, of Beloi, Kansas, caught 11. The smallest in the bunch was more than four people could comfortably eat at one sitting.

Other catches at Taylor Oaks included 100 reds and trout, made last Friday by Homer Vickery, of Arkansas City, Kansas, and Charles Towne, of Fort Collins, Colo.; 12 trout, by Fred McElya, of Houston, in Rockport Basin; 3 large sheephead and six trout; by Mrs. Bob Naper and Mom Roper.

Fred McElya went out on Wednesday and caught six big trout; Homer Vickery, Arkansas City, Charles Towne, Ft. Collins, Colo., and Ted Giese, of St. Louis Mo., checked in with 18 trout; and Mrs. Jim Stansell, of Lubbock, caught a couple of mangrove snappers and three trout.

Hugh Morrison says that despite complaints by some hunters, there have been plenty of ducks around his blinds across the bay, especially if hunters waited until the afternoon flight.

sponsored by the First National Bank and Glass, Sorenson and McDavid, went to Q. Garrison of Freeport, Windberg was third and Beverly Neblett of Refugio and Marys Epps of Corpus Christi won honorable mention.

Central Power and Light Co.'s still life division saw Ella Mielsch of Bay City place second and Nancy Everett third, with Gene Harbour of Rogers and Aida Ihe of Schulenburg receiving honorable mention.

Marine division winners besides Mrs. Linebaugh in this category sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce were Mrs. Ashberry, second; Mrs. Neblett, third, and Royce Lumus and Kay Hinde of Corpus Christi sharing honorable mention awards. Royce, aged 13, drew much comment with his work titled "Seclusion."

Michael himself sponsored the free composition class, with Betsy Curlee of Goliad taking second place, Lorna Hamilton third, and Pauline Powell of Freeport and Dorothy Jarboe of Rockport winning honorable mention.

Mrs. E. E. Ritchey, of the Victoria Art Guild, said this year's show drew an unusual amount of interest, with Corpus Christi's Channel 10 television station covering the event on three occasions.

guests came in with big reds recently. Mrs. B. A. Vaughan, of Paul's Valley, Okla., caught one that weighed 9 1/2 pounds, and Mr. Cook, of Lincoln, Neb., caught a 9-pounder.

Mom and Pop Gilson left today to spend three or four days deer hunting.

Frazier Cantrell had several parties. Howard Greenwood, Houston, caught 104 trout. Bob Lamb, H. H. Fikes, R. D. Jones and J. F. Johnson, of San Antonio, and Earl Harle of Rockport, caught 231 trout. J. D., E. N. and Mrs. Kay, of Houston, caught 144 trout, while the Bob Shutts family, of Fort Worth, came in with 88.

At Taylor Oaks this week, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stansell of Lubbock, caught 24 trout up to 3 1/2 pounds, on Wednesday. Tuesday they got six. This week Mrs. Maude Stansell caught three trout, the largest of which weighed 4 1/2 pounds. Mrs. Mary Cooper, Lockney, caught her first trout.

Boundary Battle—

and it wants them back.

General Land Office maps of the two counties show different boundaries, and neither agree with the present claims of Aransas County. The map of Nueces County shows the Porter survey forming the disputed boundary.

But the one of Aransas County is much different. The map, drawn in 1896, shows the town of "Aransas" on the southern tip of St. Joseph's Island and within Aransas County. The boundary line on the land office map then between St. Joseph and Mustang Islands, and cuts a small part of Harbor Island to the Samuel Highland survey on Aransas Bay and down the coast to San Patricio County.

Aransas County's claim, and that of San Patricio, if it joins in the suit, hinges on several contentions, the main one being that an 1858 Act of the Legislature, purporting to give Nueces County jurisdiction over the bay was unconstitutional.

The pleading filed by Aransas County contends that the Act violated the constitution because the title failed to give notice of what the bill contained; that it violated the provisions of the constitution that prohibited the legislature from lopping territory off a county and thereby reducing it to less than 900 square miles and less than 150 qualified voters.

According to the present Aransas County claim, backed up by engineering and legal research, the Aransas San Patricio County boundary would extend directly out to the Gulf of Mexico, cutting off most of Harbor Island and the upper tip of Mustang Island, including Port Aransas.
