

Along The Waterfront

Out at Taylor Oak fishermen have been resting on their laurels after the somewhat unusual catch made by one of the trailerites and reported in last week's Pilot. However, Mrs. Roper says, a few of them did fish, and she turns in the following report:

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stansell, Lubbock, 19 nice trout.
A. D. Hess of Colorado and John Dhainan, an Iowan, caught a nice string.

Archie Johnson, of Minnesota, caught 29 nice trout.
Others have brought in catches, also, Mrs. Roper said.

Mrs. Faucett at Rattlesnake Point reports:

Pete's Bend is still paying off for the wade fishermen. Bill Dunlop of Dallas and Bill White of Rockport, caught 10 nice trout. Ted LaBleu of Rockport caught three reeds and nine trout that weighed around 30 pounds.

Monday, Cecil King from Kelly Field, San Antonio, eight large trout and one 7 1/2 pound red. Tomamy Smith of Rockport and Bill Dunlop of Dallas, 24 trout that weighed over 30 pounds.

Tuesday, Ted LaBleu of Rockport, 21 trout and five reeds weighing around 43 pounds.

Wednesday, Bill Hacker of Cass City, Mich., two trout weighing 10 pounds. Tommy Smith of Rockport and Bill Dunlop of Dallas, 33 trout. Bill Bardwell of Rockport, 15 trout.

Seniors to Produce 'Lost Horizon'

On Thursday, Feb. 26 and Friday, Feb. 27 seniors will present their class play, "Lost Horizon," a dramatization of James Hilton's famous novel.

A stage crew has been busy assembling and painting new scenery for the occasion. A sincere hard working cast has spent many hours to bring before the public something different and better than the ordinary high school play.

To quote Conway, "Don't we all get fed up sometimes and long for an island somewhere in the South Seas?"

Why the South Seas? Couldn't it just as well be Shangri-La? According to Mrs. Horton, the director, this is an excellent cast and a good play. So treat yourself to a pleasant evening and support the class in their effort to do something worth doing.

City Council Ups Water Minimum at Regular Meeting

The City Council, at its regular meeting Monday night, revised local water rates, upping the minimum from $2 to $3 within the city, and without the city, from $3 to $4.50 per month.

This charge, which will bring appreciable revenue to the city, was made in order to help defray expenses of expected extensions to the present water and sewer system.

There was no other change made, however, and all rates for more than the minimum three thousand gallons are exactly the same as they were before.

These are: For the next additional seven thousand gallons over the minimum the rate is 35 cents per thousand or fractional part thereof within the city, and 52 1/2 cents per thousand outside the city's boundaries.

For the next ten thousand gallons, the city rate is 30 cents, that outside the city limits is 45 cents. For all water over 20,000 gallons, the city rate is 25 cents a thousand, while users outside the city pay 37 1/2 cents for the same amount.

Water connection rates remain at $25, and this fee constitutes payment in full for furnishing and installing no more than 63 feet of water pipe by the city. Water meter deposits are still $10.

Buster Shely of Corpus Christi and Rockport, solicited support of the city council Monday night in requesting the Aransas County Navigation District to use its alternative B route for installation of a 6-inch water line to the Cove.

Shely, who appeared as a representative of the Shell Ridge Improvement Association, pointed out that such a line would provide for 150 water connections on Shell Ridge in the Manning Addition.

In other business, Tom Shults, water superintendent, was authorized to proceed with purchase of easement for a sewer lift station to provide sewer disposal facilities to residents of the west section of town, the Latin-American area.

The Water Tank Service of Houston was awarded the bid for painting and renovating the city water tower.

The "Toast of the Coast" Relays is the only meet known of in Texas which runs these two divisions. A queen's coronation also takes place at the finals.

Legislator Urges Submerged Land Submerged Method

Of considerable local interest is the stand taken by Representative Menton J. Murray, state legislator from Harlingen, who thinks some form of legislation is needed under which the State Land Board may dispose of certain submerged lands along the Texas coast.

Murray has served on a subcommittee assigned to study the submerged land situation. Sen. Bruce A. Reagan of Corpus Christi is chairman of the panel which still has the problem under study.

The committee recently reached substantial agreement on form of such needed legislation but Corpus Christi interests have objected vigorously to the proposal.

As yet no legislation has been introduced.

Murray said there are many areas along the Texas coast where submerged land could be sold to private interest for development along the lines of Miami Beach. Also there are a number of off-shore islands that could be developed.

None of these properties ever has yielded revenue to the state under present law never will. If some disposition could be made of it, the state and local interests would benefit, Murray said.

Under proposed legislation, any move to dispose of state land is to be initiated by a city council or a commissioners court. This is to forestall any individual deal that might not be acceptable to the local public, Murray said.

Kerrville Lions Camp Accepting Applications

The Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children is now accepting applications for campers, according to Lions Club officials.

Camping dates for boys and girls from 7 through 11 will be June 7-20, July 5-18 and Aug. 2-15.

Boys and girls from 12 through 16 will be at the camp June 21-July 4, and July 19-Aug. 1 and Aug. 16-29.

CAMERA FANS TO HOLD FIELD TRIP SUNDAY

Camera fans of Rockport and Fulton will hold a field trip on Sunday, March 1 at 2 p. m. All those interested will meet in front of the Woman's Club at that time. Arrangements have been made, if the weather is inclement, to use one of the studios at the Rockport School of Fine Arts through the courtesy of Simon G. Michael, director of the school.

Chairman, Engineer Inspect Little Bay

Chairman Dick Picton, of the Aransas County Navigation Board, and Homer C. Innis, Corpus Christi head of Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, the engineering firm which designed the new harbors at Little Bay and the Cove, Wednesday inspected progress made by the Loyd W. Richardson Construction Co. dredge now working on the approaches to Little Bay.

The dredge, which started about a week and a half ago, is now out of Aransas Bay and cutting through the swampy islands south of Frandolig Island, just prior to making the southerly turn that will lead into the sheltered harbor planned to parallel the levee made by the spoil. This levee follows the line of the reef which runs from back of the Navigation District office to the southern end of Frandolig, and when finished will be topped with a paved road, and sodded to prevent erosion.

When completed, Rockport will have a crescent-shaped beach of white sand, curving north and then east for almost a mile, that will make bathing facilities here as fine as may be found anywhere on the coast.

Inside of the arc of the levee there will be parking room for cars and trailers, and a new ramp for launching boats, capable of handling four at once, and greatly increasing present installations for outboards and shallow draft inboards.

Inside the levee, there will be a basin in sheltered water, designed to handle the increased numbers of recreational craft that have been utilizing Rockport as a point of departure for fishing and hunting trips.

On the same trip, an inspection was made of the area formerly occupied by the deep hole in which the tragic drownings occurred last May. Careful sounding all over the area failed to discover water deeper than three or four feet, thus making sure that no danger from this source need be apprehended for the coming season.

A recent development, according to Chairman Picton, was the decision of the Highway Department to use excess spoil from the dredging operations to fill the needed area over which a portion of Loop 70, the business route of Highway 35, will be built.

Who's Kidding Who? How Many Fish Did Dallas Man Catch?

A couple of weeks ago, Joe Everitt acceded to the request of a Dallas tackle salesman and his wife to be allowed to use his (Joe's) boat as a fishing platform one night. It was the neighborly thing to do, and Joe left the light on for their convenience.

The next morning the couple were back again, and when they left with a couple of average-sized trout, the man gave Joe a plug in return for his courtesy, and told him that he had lost one of the biggest trout he had ever hooked.

Joe tried out the plug, which was a top water lure, made by Doug English, of Corpus Christi. What happened then is history along the local waterfront, where anguished anglers watched Joe and his son-in-law, Carl Whittington, catch one big trout after another, while other fishermen were only snagging an occasional speck. The trout would come to the top after the plug, and a lot of them leaped like tarpon when they hit.

Beseiged with requests as to what sort of plug he was using, Joe showed it to everyone that asked, and Mrs. H. E. White, of Bill's Sporting Goods made a special trip to Corpus Christi to (Continued on page 4)

ATHLETIC BOOSTERS TO HOLD MEETING TO PLAN FOR RELAYS

The Athletic Boosters' Organization will hold a meeting next Monday evening in the courthouse at 7:30, according to President A. C. Shivers who says that plans must be made to help out with the Third Annual Toast of the Coast relays, scheduled here next month.

In addition, Shivers said, some plan of financing the balance due on the electric clock at the football field must be worked out as the club still owes approximately $600 on the piece of equipment, installed last fall.

get some more of the plugs. English had four which she brought back, and promised to ship her others by bus the next day, as fast as he could manufacture them.

Next morning, a queue of anglers was waiting at Bill's for the first bus, and Mrs. White sold plugs as fast as she could get them all day, for Joe and Carl were still catching trout—big trout, leaping trout, that made other fishermen's eyes bug out.

On that second day and on the two following Mrs. White sold a gross and a half of the plugs, and altogether she has sold nearly a thousand plugs since.

Joe's catch is a matter of record; there are pictures of a portion of it; fishermen around the basin saw him catch them, with some assistance from Carl, and it was the only sizeable catch made during the days in question, when trout hadn't been hitting on anything at all. Nor, Joe says, did the conversation of the Dallas man and his wife indicate that they had caught many during the night before they left.

Now comes the following from a Dallas newspaper:

"Redman Hume, of Dallas, a tackle salesman, amid a crowd of 250 anglers dragging spoons and jigs on the bottom at the Rockport Boat Basin, hurried in a lure, when it got fouled. A big trout flashed up at it.

"Surely cold fish in cold water wouldn't come to the top. But in an experiment he put on an English mullet-looking floater, ran it shallow, a big trout flashed at it, another, a third, he caught the fourth, one almost as long as his leg.

"Then began a massacre with he and his wife catching 70 trout up to 6 pounds, mostly large ones, with people asking for the lure, with people going to town for the lure, local stores buying out English in Corpus Christi, English turning out all hands. Around 500 lures were sold and 5,000 fish caught, Hume estimated, because both fish and fishermen went crazy. And Hume didn't get to sell a lure."

What we want to know is: "Who's kidding who?"

"And I thank them all, even Joe Johnson, who sent me a card saying that some people will do anything to get attention."

Fred was visiting at the same time, and said that Mrs. Booth is recovering nicely, although it'll be some time before she is home again.

Early Resident Seeks Vinson's Treasure Here

An early resident, J. W. Charleston, back for a visit from his home in Rosita, Colorado, thinks enough of the story of treasure at Vinson's Slough that he is looking for someone to go with him to hunt it.

He has a treasure-finder that he can use, keyed to non-ferrous metals such as gold, platinum, silver and similar items, and all he wants is someone with a boat so they can get to St. Joseph's Island and start the search.

Charleston, who lived here 55 years ago, when he worked for the late Roland Bracht, says that Bracht was sure that the treasure was there, and had told him about it.

The treasure is supposed to be from the wreckage of a Spanish ship and, if the tales are true, somewhere beneath the sands of St. Joseph's lie massive golden candlesticks, jewel-studded; crucifixes of precious metals; and golden statues of the Virgin Mary and the Savior, fashioned by artists of old Spain and en route to a cathedral in the New World.

Vinson, a beachcomber who lived on the island, discovered the wreck, on board which he found the only survivor, a priest, who, when nursed back to health told him of the treasure.

Between the pair they salvaged and buried it, but when they went back later to get it, their landmarks were gone, and Vinson, accusing the priest of digging it up, slew him, taking his half of the map they had originally made to continue the search for the gold and gems, which he never found.

Charleston says that the apparatus which he has, perfected by a mining engineer, is the answer to the lost landmarks, and hopes that he can get someone with a boat to assist him in the search.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR OF THE YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling... performance and styling of any '59 car" — The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 420E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you road-test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS
Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean disappear, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier. Handling is easier. You drive with a new confidence, a comforting security. Pontiac gives you roadability no "narrow gauge" car can offer.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES SCHEDULE TRAINING PROGRAM IN CORPUS

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society has notified Jehovah's Witnesses of Rockport that they are sponsoring a three-day training program to be held in Corpus Christi in March.

Harold Smith, in making the announcement, invited all interested persons to attend and especially teachers of Christianity.

The Watchtower Society is interested in improving the quality and the quantity of teachers of God's Word in order to show more clearly the responsibility of Christians today. Since the turn of the century they have succeeded in developing an organization of teachers numbering close to 800,000.

A representative from New York will be the chairman for the Corpus Christi meet. The theme for the program is, "Be a Teacher of the Good News."

Harold Smith, the local presiding minister, said that about six delegates from this vicinity will join approximately 700 others from all of South Texas.

OLD FT. LANCASTER IS NO MORE

Today old Fort Lancaster is a lonesome chimney, some crumbling ruins and a roadside monument not far from where Liveoak Creek joins the Pecos, but time was when things were considerably livelier in this neck of the woods.

The monument says that the fort was established in 1855 to protect passengers and mail on the overland stage, but when Henry Daly drove on the Fort Concho-El Paso division, Lancaster had been abandoned, even though Comanches and Kiowas were still prominent features of the West Texas landscape.

As a result, cavalrymen rode the driver's seat as guards and rifles were distributed to the passengers by courtesy of the stage line the way a modern airline hostess deals out gum.

A landmark on the route was the Flat Rocks, east of the fort — smooth stones with cup-like hollows holding four to eight gallons of water each after rains. This made them a favorite watering place for the Indians and a place to be regarded with suspicion by the drivers, even if there wasn't a hostile Indian in sight.

But let Henry tell us. "We had just passed the Rocks when the guard yelled 'Here they come' and he and the passengers started shooting at about 15 big bucks trying to cut us off. They didn't have any paint and feathers, so I knew they were a hunting party trying to get the mules instead of a war party after our scalps, but they wouldn't have any objection to lifting our hair either."

"They left the mules alone and shot at the wheels, trying to knock out enough spokes to wreck us, and with the mules on a dead run they'd have had us before we got over the shock, even if we hadn't been hurt."

But the wheels held and guard and passengers killed enough Indians and ponies to cause the savages to draw off just before the stage came to the toughest part of the road, down Lancaster hill. Near the crest the road entered a defile so narrow that two teams could hardly pass. Then came a long steep incline cut in the hillside, after which the road made a right angle bend, when the leaders were out of sight of the driver, it was so abrupt. At the bottom was the stage station and the abandoned fort.

Just as they entered the defile, the rocks seemed to sprout Indians. A half naked buck plunged for the bride of one of the lead animals, only to be knocked loose by the lash of Daly's whip.

"The next I knew," Daly said, "the mules were careening around that turn. The left wheels left the ground and the whole coach seemed to swing out over space. I could see the harness tighten and strain. Then we hit, on two wheels, rocking so I had to hang on to the seat, and it required a considerable effort of mind for me to realize that we were actually on the road, and I still don't see how we got there."

"I don't think it would have happened again in a thousand times. The Indians continued to pour arrows into us, but when we got around the next turn we could see the guard at the station coming to help, aroused by our firing. The Indians fled."

"When we took stock, we found that two passengers had been painfully wounded, and the coach and mules were so full of arrows that they resembled pincushions. I had two arrows in my back."

"Daly," said Jim Spears, the agent, "that would have been rough without any Indians. How in hell did you manage that turn?" "Mr. Spears," Daly said, "I didn't have a thing to do with it. The mules managed it."

Cub Scouts and Den Mothers Rotary Guests

Den mothers of Pack 49, as part of the upcoming celebration of Scouting's birthday, which will be climaxed by the Blue and Gold Banquet Saturday night, were the guests of the Rotary Club today, along with the outstanding cubs in the various dens.

Den mothers present were Mrs. N. F. Jackson, Mrs. Ralph Matern, Mrs. Ernest Russell, Mrs. H. F. Elliot, Mrs. Rose Johnson, and Mrs. Verle Harris. Cubs that accompanied them were Denny Elliot, Johnny Jackson, Joe Pat Wofford, Butch Begnaud, Jack Russell, and John Johnson.

Next Saturday night, when the Blue and Gold Banquet is held in the old gymnasium at Rockport Elementary School, the compliment will be returned, and members of the Rotary Club, as sponsors of Pack 49, will take part in that occasion as guests.

The program Wednesday was in charge of D. R. Simmons, who showed a most interesting series of colored slides on the State Parks of Texas.

Out-of-town Rotarians and other guests that attended the luncheon were: Alex Johnson, Corpus Christi; F. A. Northrop, Greenburg, Kansas; Merritt Hulet, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; Dave Tandy and Van Vandervoort, Fort Worth; and Judge Jeff Simpson, of Racine, Wis., a winter visitor who has been county judge in his state for 27 years.

This is the fourth consecutive month that members of the Rotary Club has had a perfect record of attendance, according to publicity chairman Fred Bracht.

TAXPAYERS MAKE FIVE 'ALL-TOO-COMMON' ERRORS

Taxpayers in the Austin District are making the five "all-too-common" errors in their tax returns, according to Ernest E. Fannin, Jr., administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service in Corpus Christi. These are:

1. Failure to print or write legibly. Processing of these returns slows up and gives taxpayers big headaches, especially those with refunds coming.

2. Errors in arithmetic. Three out of ten taxpayers who make major errors in arithmetic or who select the wrong tax from the tax table pay too much tax.

3. Forgetting to sign. This is highly important. And when joint returns are filed, both husband and wife must sign.

4. Forgetting to attach W-2's. By not attaching W-2's from all employers, taxpayers get no credit for taxes withheld, no refunds can be made, and returns must be sent back to the taxpayer.

5. Not listing dependents. Showing only the number of dependents is not enough. Their names should also be listed.

GOD'S CANDLES ARE BEING LIGHTED FOR EASTER IN TEXAS

All over South Texas God's Candles are being lighted to greet Easter. Spiky Spanish daggers are crowned by pale buds, red-tipped, almost ready to burst forth in gorgeous blooms that stand above the dark-green leaves like flames on giant tapers, offered by nature for the glory of the Lord.

No flower of the Southwest excels these yuccas in spectacular beauty, from small ones that top mere rosettes of leaves to bells that crown plants towering twice the height of a tall man.

In full bloom this plant of the arid regions justifies the name given it by early Spanish explorers and settlers — "Our Lord's Candle." Then the flowers are plummy panicles of creamy white and very fragrant blossoms radiant in clear sunlight. But only at night, when they have an ethereal luminescence, are the blooms fully open.

Yuccas — desert lilies, for they belong to that family — live, flower and reproduce because of a tiny moth. This is a strange relationship and ancient, and for each species of the plant there is a separate and corresponding species of the insect that pollinates the wax-like bells, causing them to bear seeds.

Indians made good use of yuccas — they ate the buds, flowers, fruits and young flower stalks, and made a fermented drink from the fruit; they made baskets, mats, cloth, rope and sandals of the fiber, and soap of the roots.

The white man, too, has found many uses for them. Souvenirs and curios made from yuccas are displayed throughout the Southwest. Yucca wood makes strong, thin, pliable covers, beautifully grained, for snapshot albums.

From some of the thirty or more varieties comes cylindrical sheathing to protect the bases of young trees from gnawing rodents, and the wood of others makes excellent wrap-around splints for surgical uses, since it can be peeled off the trunk in sheets.

It has even been used in manufacturing artificial limbs, and has been experimented with as a possible source for paper pulp.

But such uses should never be encouraged to the point, conservationists say, of threatening anyone of the many interesting species of yuccas, which contribute so much to the beauty of our southwest.

Ivory has been a favorite material for art work since earliest times.

EDITORIAL

The objective of the Texas Citizens' Committee for Texas Public Schools Week for the past eight years has been that of getting as many people as possible interested and active in visiting their schools. It is estimated that 1,850,000 persons participated in the 1958 school visitation program.

Next to national survival, the public responsibility of most urgency today is that of providing adequate educational opportunities for all our children. From our schools must come not only an enlightened citizenship capable of self-government, but also the knowledge and technical skills needed by industry, business, agriculture, the armed forces, and the trades and professions which are so necessary to the maintenance of a high standard of living for all the people.

During Texas Public Schools Week, school officials welcome the opportunity to have conferences with visitors. If every citizen will give to his local superintendent any suggestions or comments which he would like to make concerning the public schools, this should enable all our schools to do even better what they already are doing well. A visit with the school administrators and teachers of your school, and other patrons interested in good schools, can be a reassuring experience. Rather than have anyone else tell you that the schools are doing a good job, we hope you will go and see for yourself.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM

By PRICE DANIEL, Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

Today, more than ever before, the importance of our schools is being realized by an awakened nation. A new perspective has been taken on by education, both in scientific and liberal arts fields.

As we rush to train scientists and place satellites in outer space, however, it is important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

In an effort to make Texas public schools the finest in the nation, the citizens of our communities are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with the respective school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

For the past nine years Public Schools Week in Texas has been set aside as a special time each year to place increased emphasis on our educational system. Parent visitation is encouraged and each citizen is urged to recognize the tremendous importance of our public schools.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 2-6, 1959, as Public Schools Week in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 7th day of Jan., 1959.

PRICE DANIEL, Governor of Texas (seal)

Morning—Chevy panel hustles over causeway to St. Petersburg.

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '59 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night; it covers as much as 587 miles a day... runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clay Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon! This year, the light-, medium- and heavy-duty trucks of the 1959 Chevrolet Task-Force fleet are out to whip anything that comes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '59 Thriftmaster 6 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Chevrolets of all sizes are turning to on the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy! If you have a job that puts a truck on its mettle, see your Chevrolet dealer!
