PENALTY OF OVER-PRODUCTION

Farmer Radford has shown us the penalty of over-production in a graphic and startling manner insofar as relates to cotton. The figures which he presents, taken from the reports of the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor, show that we produced in 1910 in the United States 12,005,688 bales and sold them for $668,180,000; in 1911, 16,250,276 bales sold for $859,840,000 and in 1912, 14,090,863 bales sold for $920,630,000.

Those who farm do not have to depend upon statistics for information. They can feel it at the market, the home and the field. The curse of over-production is a worse blight than a pestilence and production without profit is the most staggering blow that can be dealt agriculture.

Duty of Railroad Commissioners.

Ex-President Roosevelt under the head of "The Living Wage and the Living Rate," makes a few pertinent remarks in the OUTLOOK of July 5th concerning the duty of railroad commissioners. The ex-president said in part: "It is just as much the duty of the Commission to permit rates to be raised when the raise is justifiable as to permit them to be lowered if the lowering is justifiable."

It takes a brave thinker to discuss the possibility of a raise in rates, but the ex-president is very clearly including the railroads in his doctrine of a square deal. The rule laid down by the ex-president has, however, so far been worked only one way. The cost of most every commodity known in commerce has advanced except that of transportation and, like beasts of burden dulled by blows, the railroads have hardly dared to do more than hope for creature comfort, and inviting dividends have long been considered a golden impossibility.

HASKELL COUNTY CROPS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

The junior editor, with his family, whom the Free Press mentioned last week as spending the week with relatives in Rochester community, returned home last Saturday. He reports a fine rain in that section. Fully three inches of rain fell in two evenings. In fact, the rain was heavy all the way from Rochester to Haskell, and crops all along the way are looking as fine as could be asked. If they can escape the insects, which is very probable that they will, in most places where he visited from one-third to a half bale of cotton to the acre will be made. The rains will not benefit the old maize and kaffir corn very much, as most of those crops had already matured, but there are many acres of young maize and kaffir corn which the rains will push to a fine yield.

Altogether prospects are very flattering, and a bountiful yield is almost certainty.

Mr. Greer had a very enjoyable visit with his kinsfolk. He feasted on chicken and ice cream until he almost got tired of these luxuries. At the home of J. M. Hicks one night four gallons of ice cream was devoured by about thirty people, and at the home of B. M. Hicks the next day five gallons were enjoyed by about thirty-two people. The interesting game of "forty-two" was enjoyed every day, and he became almost an expert. He did not get to enjoy the juicy watermelons as the notice last week seemed to indicate, as it was a little too early, that crop being a little late, but he was jolly at the wheel on the other good edibles, and comes home greatly refreshed from the week's recreation.

A LAMENTABLE ACCIDENT

On Saturday July 19, Mr. J. R. Rich, who has the Nolen ranch leased near Weinert was driving a pony to a buggy in the pasture when the horse shook the bridle off and ran away. A gentleman riding with Mr. Rich and Mr. Rich jumped out of the buggy. Mr. Rich had his leg badly shattered, and doctors did every thing that medical skill and surgery could do, but after an amputation of the limb on Saturday a week later, Mr. Rich died. The deceased leaves a wife and several children. The remains were taken to De Leon for burial and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Walden and daughter Miss Ruth of this city attended the funeral. Mrs. Walden is a sister to Mrs. Rich.

Mr. Rich had many friends in this section who will regret his untimely death. We join the many friends of the family with condolence and regret.

TRAINING FOR CITIZENSHIP

In childhood is when we learn lessons of kindness, when we acquire a sense of equity and form habits of respect and deference to our fellowman. Only those who have been taught kindness, sympathy and respect to the will of others in childhood may expect to practice these principles of good citizenship when they reach the age of accountability. The early life of man should be largely spent in training, in preparation for good citizenship so when that ripe old age is attained he may be a shining light for those good and noble deeds that young people emulate.

To insure the protection of birds, kindness to animals and sympathy for oppressed and misguided people, children should be taught these things in their youth. Children are naturally sympathetic, their hearts are susceptible to equity and love; they only need training. Parents and teachers may easily guide the course of children and induce them to cultivate sympathy, honesty, equity and love. These are the fundamental principles of good citizenship.—Farm and Ranch.

A Valuable Suggestion to Our Young People: Concentrate.

Don't spatter pint of brains over the vast field of art, science and literature. Don't think that a smattering of Greek and Latin, Analytics and college yell make one a learned man or fits him for business, and don't hitch a business brain to a Greek lexicon. Many a man becomes nothing by trying to become all. The shot gun uses much more ammunition than the rifle, but it isn't half as effective except on little game.

The professions are all overcrowded; it requires half a life time for one to succeed in them, and half a fortune to begin success. With business it is not so.

Get busy; do things; life's too short for business men to spend effort on dead languages and other things two thousand years old, when living issues and golden opportunities are calling them on.

The things that business men want you to know are not taught in a university. They must be learned in a practical business training school like the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas. A school that has for years studied the demands of the business world, and with its own special prepared text books and "learn to do by doing" methods of teaching, are meeting them.

Their courses of business administration and finance, book-keeping, Shorthand and Telegraphy are thorough and complete and meet the demands of the business office. Young friends, there is no walk of life that you can pursue as successfully without a business training as with it.

Next week this paper will publish statements from many of America's greatest statesmen and business men as to the value of a business training.

"That illustrator is much behind the times!" "In what way?" "Regardless of the discussion that has taken place concerning beverages, he insist on representing Miss Democracy with corkscrew curla."

ON SALE

We offer as long as it lasts, one lot of Linen Torchon Lace at five cents per yard.

This is not a cut price, but on account of buying this in a big lot we were able to save money on the lot, and we offer you the chance to reap the benefit. You will see at a glance that this is a real bargain. Linen Torchon Lace makes an extra good trimming for many garments and is more serviceable than any lace that can be bought for the same price.

This lot consists of eighteen hundred yards, and the patterns are especially pretty for the price and range in width from three-fourths of an inch to three inches.

Remember that this is not a lot of lace that we have had on hand and want to close out, but bear in mind that it was bought at a bargain and especially for this purpose.

Remember the price, only Five cents the Yard

WE MUST ADVANCE

City Building Notes

The people of Texas have said by their votes July 19 that they do not wish to take care of their state institutions at this time with a bond issue. Perhaps the proposed amendments were misunderstood by many of those who were opposed. Be that as it may, all of the amendments were defeated.

We believe a bond issue is a business way of providing funds with which to care for the state's needy wards and educational institutions in which our children are to receive training. The people have rejected the plan submitted. Let them propose some other plan.

We do not believe any progressive citizen is in favor of standing still in education, nor housing our unfortunate wards in "firetraps" and crowded buildings. What is our duty as citizens? How shall we meet the great responsibility that is now resting upon us?

Let the people get together on these and all measures that mean better citizenship. We are building not for today only, but for those who are to live after us.

Farm and Ranch was fair to both sides of the question of bond issue. In fact, the opponents of the amendment used our columns more than the advocates of the measure. Farm and Ranch favored it because it seemed practical and business-like and was the only economical way of meeting the demands. Farm and Ranch stands today like it has always stood, for education, good citizenship and business economy.

What Farm and Ranch wants is what every good citizen wants—progress in citizenship, in society and in the home.—Farm and Ranch.

Publicity is the producer of prosperity.

Every great city has at least one great paper.

Commercial visiting is a great stimulant to business.

The man of moderate means has proved to be the better builder of cities.

The progressive city is destined to be the hotbed of commercial activity.

Without the assistance of the press the work of development is severely handicapped.

Cities are man made, therefore when you educate the man you lay the cornerstone of a great municipality.

The "C. Q. D." signal is given as a sign of distress at sea.

Patronizing home industries will forestall this signal at home.

The city and farm man have so much in common that they should go hand in hand toward the goal of higher achievements.

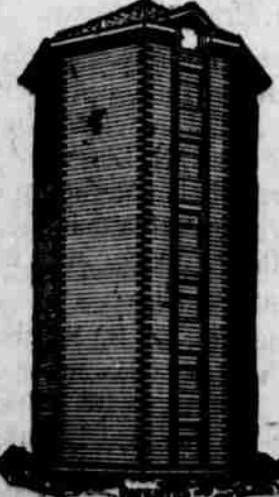

The study of hospitality should be the first lesson of the commercial secretary for in no other way can you create such a good impression as through appropriate entertainment.

Regardless of progress and development, that old hospitality for which the forefathers of Texas were so noted should predominate and be shown to every visitor he rich or poor.

"Look here, Mose, I thought you were going to be baptized into the Baptist church?" "Yaas, sah, I was. But I's bein' sprinkled into de Piscopal till de summer comes."

Husband—"My love, we must get rid of that cook. Did you ever see a worse looking chop than the one I've just put on my plate?" Wife—"Yes, dear; the one you've just put on mine!"

Far Seeing Farmers Know the Value of a Silo

And they're the boys that are knocking down the dollars as a result of their foresight in putting one up.

If you could just take a hike over the Oklahoma country and see the thousands of Silos on farms that were not there even two years ago, you would get an object lesson on the value of these great feed savers that you would not soon forget.

Ten acres of corn put into a Silo will feed 27 steers or cows for six months, and fatten or produce a flow of milk equal to summer pasture. Isn't that better that you can do with 40 acres under the old system?

And when we can furnish you the best Silo on the market at a price less than many inferior Silos, isn't it up to you to give us your order? We are ready to talk Silos any time you are. Are you ready now?

The Ladies Aid

Tuesday July 29th the Ladies Aid met in a called session with Mrs. J. N. McFatter for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and transact other important business. There were sixteen members present. All seemed very enthusiastic over our work. Our President Mrs. J. F. Posy, asked the vice president Mrs. Robert Reynolds to preside after the devotional exercises. The following officers were elected for the coming year. President Mrs. John Couch, First Vice President, Mrs. Robt Reynolds, 2nd Vice President Mrs. John Ellis, Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. J. N. McFatter, Reporter Mrs. T. E. Bowman. The society then voted appreciation to our retiring president, Mrs. Posey for the pleasant way she had led them through paths of usefulness. Her untiring, enthusiastic manner is always pleasant to recall. The society also voted thanks to our Sec. Treasurer, Mrs. McFatter for her last year of good work. This is an office that requires both skill and patience, and she fills it well.

A unanimous vote was cast to ask Rev. J. Frank Norris of Ft. Worth to give Haskell people the pleasure of hearing him in one of his splendid lectures under the auspices of the Ladies Aid; date and place to be published later. Several other items of business were attended to. The members all gave in good reports of work done by them in visiting sick and needy since the last meeting. This was indeed a pleasant and profitable meeting. We extend a hearty invitation to every lady in the Baptist church to join this society. It will strengthen us, and greatly benefit you spiritually. This will be the beginning of the second month of the third quarter. Let's not let our attendance and interest get less. Our work is too great and our time too short so let's be up and doing.

The second general missionary conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South was held near Waynesville, N. C. June, 25-29. It was in all respects worthy to compare with the first which met in New Orleans in 1901. The attendance was about the same, but the spirit and atmosphere were all that could be desired. The offering made was three times that at New Orleans. This fact marked the real advance of the church during the decade. Missions have ceased to be a somewhat exciting episode and has settled down to be the main business of the church.

Let us do our duty in our own shop, our kitchen, the market, the street, the office, the school, the home, just as faithfully as if we stood in the front rank of a great battle and we knew that victory for mankind depended on our bravery, strength and skill. When we do that the humblest of us will be serving in that great army which achieves the welfare of the world."

Supt. of Publicity.

Railroads are Assailed

Washington, July 24.—Supporting Postmaster General Burleson's proposal to extend the parcel post service, Representative Lewis, one of the authors of the parcel post law, today declared that the government eventually must take over the transportation of all parcels up to one hundred pounds.

He contended that Mr. Burleson had the right to increase the weight limit and assailed the railroads for their fight against the extension of the parcel post.

Representatives of the railroads yesterday formally protested to the interstate commerce commission against the increase of sizes of parcel post packages as proposed in the extension of the service by Postmaster General Burleson. It is claimed that such a move would cost the railroads $20,000,000 of revenue they now receive from the express companies. Postmaster General Burleson recently announced the charges as follows:

The first zone shall include the territory within the local delivery of any office and the first zone rate of postage will apply to all parcel post mail deposited at any office for local delivery or for delivery by city carrier or on rural routes emanating from that post office. The second zone includes the remainder of now what is the first zone with the present second zone and include all the units of area located in whole or in part within a radius of approximately 150 miles from any given post office.

The rate of postage or parcels weighing in excess of four ounces in the proposed first zone will be reduced from five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof to five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional two pounds or fraction thereof, and the rate for the second zone will be reduced from five cents for the first pound and three cents for each additional pound or six cents for the first pound and four cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof.

The maximum weight of parcel post packages will be increased from 11 pounds to 20 pounds, the increase of weight to apply only to the first and second zones. No change has been made in the size or form of the package.

SOME FARM FACTS

By Peter
Stafford, Pres.
Farmers Union.

Poverty and responsibility are great teachers.

Anything you are afraid of is going to get you.

Opportunity is the only knocker that is welcome.

The oil can makes farm work easier—if you use it.

He who takes his own time generally takes other people's too.

The business of the rural borrower adds to the wealth of the nation.

Each year 2400 farmers are stricken by the bludgeon of a stupid market system.

The beauty of the products of the soil gives human life its first entertainment.

In all the farmer's operations the nick of time is the tick of accomplishment.

Don't kill it because it is a bug. That particular bug may be a very good friend.

Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness had their origin on the farm.

Farming for prizes is unprofitable farming and has no legitimate place in agriculture.

He that riseth late must trot all day and shall scarce overtake his business at night.

The devastating forces of nature can not do more than affect the product of the farm for a single year.

The fair should be made to accurately reflect the agricultural achievements of the community and state.

When the farmer is only troubled with "Meeting the demand" instead of "Finding a market," prosperity is staring him in the face.

The solution of the problem of a better money return from the soil and of a fuller social return from the country life is one of the most pressing tasks before the country.

Flies Forerunners of Pestilence.

By Mrs. E. P. Turner Chairman Rural Homes and Schools, Farm Life Commission.

The fly is the undertaker's traveling salesman and it is an able servant of the grim monster death. This is the fly season and eternal vigilance is the price of health. Every house should be well screened and a vigorous war of extermination should be waged on every fly that crosses the threshold. It has been estimated that if every person would kill ten flies per day for thirty days there would be no flies on the face of the earth. A swarm of flies hovering over the table and contaminating the victuals with slime and filth is disease entering the home.

Flies are the forerunners of pestilence, the advance agent of the doctor and they make business for the undertaker. There are many ingenious devices for catching them and for protection against their entering the house and all effective agencies should be employed in fighting this arch enemy of health. Every day should be fly day at home. Kill the fly; remove all filth; destroy decaying vegetation and stamp out the breeding ground of the fly.

The Farm and Ranch makes this correct observation:

"There are people who do not buy homes because they think the land is too high. Lands will go no lower, and are sure to go much higher. The enormous growth of population in the Southwest, and general prosperity, is sure to bring higher prices, and the man who wishes to buy a home had best buy quickly. No more land is being made, and new people are coming and more being born."

Initiative—Originality.

There are too many people blindly following others. It is safe to follow sometimes, but often a losing game to follow another who has already reaped the profits.

While too much originality may be unsafe, and unconsidered enterprises often bring losses, yet there must be originality in order that one may profit from conditions as they arise. No business is exactly like another. There are always differences, and no two men are exactly alike. Who blindly follows is usually a failure, because he does not adapt himself and his business to varying conditions.

Men may learn the principles of agriculture, and farm management is a study which an intelligent man may learn, but when these are mastered the application of principles depend upon the ability of the manager, his initiative and originality. If he be a mere follower of another then he will be too late to profit by the experiences of the man who has gone before.

It is well to have initiative and originality and to be able to think independently. The copyist copies poorly, and his work is only a copy. Meanwhile the man who reads and thinks has gone ahead and found new success, and leaves the worn path to others who follow with little or no profit. The men who do things are thinkers, and reading makes a full man capable of thought.

Too often the man who can only follow delays until it is too late. What was profitable yesterday may be unprofitable today and may bring disaster tomorrow. Each farm is opportunity for original thought and initiative. The good blacksmith strikes while the iron is hot, if he should wait for it to become cold then he would wait too long.

The man who farms as the multitude farm can have only a share of profits which come to the multitude—or the losses.—Farm and Ranch.

Texas a Factor In World's Sulphur Trade.

Freepost, Texas, July—The Geological Survey recently issued a report showing the 1912 sulphur production of continental United States to be 303,472 long tons valued at $5,256,422. The production in 1911 was 265,664 tons with a total value of $4,757,049. The greatest event in the sulphur industry of the world in 1912, according to the report, was the opening of the Texas mines, near this city last November. These mines are owned by the New York banking firm of S. M. Swenson and Sons and associates and are now in constant operation. The report advances the prediction that with the opening of the Panama Canal United States Sulphur will replace the foreign product in the trade of the Pacific Coast.

Japan has heretofore handled the bulk of this trade having furnished ninety-one per cent of the total exports into this country last year. Owing to her natural advantages Texas is more than likely to get her share of this new trade.

Merchants as Educators.

By W. Holt Harris, Chairman Mercantile Committee, C. S.

The merchant has one of the highest and most useful callings. He is a builder and an educator as well as a dealer. As a rule he does more to promote the general welfare of the community and to support its public institutions than any other class of citizens. Through the columns of the press the merchant teaches us how to live economically and keeps us informed of the progress of modern business and science in providing means for our care and comfort. The merchant is an indispensable business educator and he diligently studies our needs.

A merchant who has no message for the public is not keeping abreast of the times. The prosperous merchant must create the desire to buy goods and then supply it.

To filter the blood is the kidneys duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Proof of their worth in the following:

Mrs. J. C. Hargrove, Stamford Texas, says: "I had serious trouble from my kidney for some time and I decided to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial as I had often seen them highly recommended in the local papers. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy I ever tried for my kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"Oh, I don't know."

"You must have a reason."

"I see where the British militant suffragettes are cutting telephone wires." "Well, one would think their natural sympathies would make them spare the telephone."

"Why so?" "Because the telephone talks."

"My grandfather," said the old-timer, "used to put all his money in his stocking." "Well, things haven't changed much," said his old friend.

All States Will Shine at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco In 1915

UNITED STATES' GREAT PANAMA CANAL CELEBRATION WILL BE MARKET PLACE OF WORLD.

Texas Leads Union In Agricultural Production and Can Make Vast Exhibit of Its Wonderful Resources.

In what measure and to how great an extent is the state of Texas to benefit from the opening of the Panama canal?

Figures and statistics will not suffice to tell at this date, because, apart from the inevitable beneficial results which must accrue to all countries blessed with a coast line bordering one of the extremities of the new waterway, the ultimate good that Texas will reap from the canal will be culled from the action taken by Texas herself.

Upon cotton Texas builds her main hope. She is the greatest producer of that necessity in the world. Her exports are largely to the orient and to the west coast of South America, where are the greatest consumers of cotton cloth. The Panama canal will bring those customers of Texas nearer by several days' time and by leagues of distance, thereby creating a quicker and more expeditious supply to a demand that is continually increasing. The rich corn and the full crops of wheat, the multifarious fruits and the ever widening supply of cattle which Texas is producing year by year—these, in addition to its command of the cotton industry, are commodities for which the Lone Star State will find new markets upon the opening of the Panama canal. The demand will be brought into closer touch with the supply. But how is Texas to secure that demand to herself?

She must find the opportunity that will present her products to the new markets and emphasize them before the old markets.

Such an opportunity will be provided by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, which will be held at San Francisco in 1915.

This gigantic festival of commerce is by decree of the United States government the official celebration of the completion of the Panama canal. The Exposition has a purpose which reaches even higher than a national assertion of a nation's success in establishing a means of revolutionizing the commerce of the world. The purpose of the Exposition is to bring the nations of the world together, that all may see what all have done in their industries and in their commercial enterprises, that one may compare with the other and so determine upon the best sellers and the best buyers.

To put the situation even more prosaically, the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is to be the shop window of the world in 1915. It is to be the general department store, the universal bazaar of a new era. And to that department store or bazaar every buyer and seller in the world will come to look upon the newest product, the most modern means of manufacturing the product into the salable article and to learn the reason why one thing is better than another and why one way is more advantageous to the benefit of the consumer, to the credit of the producer and to the welfare of the community.

Briefly, then, that is the boon that the Panama-Pacific Exposition offers to those who participate. It proposes to establish sounder trade between states, between countries and among the peoples of the world. The Exposition is a peace movement of the most definite compass. Its compass is the binding of nations, because commerce is the surest tie of friendship.

And the one tremendously moving principle of the Exposition is that the participants in this international festival shall reap its benefits practically for the mere asking. The space for exhibits is extensive, but is nevertheless limited. Those who come first are the first served. It is not a question of who pays the biggest price. It depends upon who grasps the opportunity most firmly. The race is to the swift. The battle is to the strong. If Texas runs Texas will win; if Texas strays and strives Texas will be the victor.

It costs nothing to win. There is no charge to the victor. Exhibit space is absolutely free to all exhibitors at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. All the capital which has been put into the great Exposition and all the millions who will attend are at the disposal of the exhibitor, without any cost whatever to him, except the cost of transportation, installation and maintenance.

There are those who are in the race already—those who have caught the meaning of the opening of the Panama

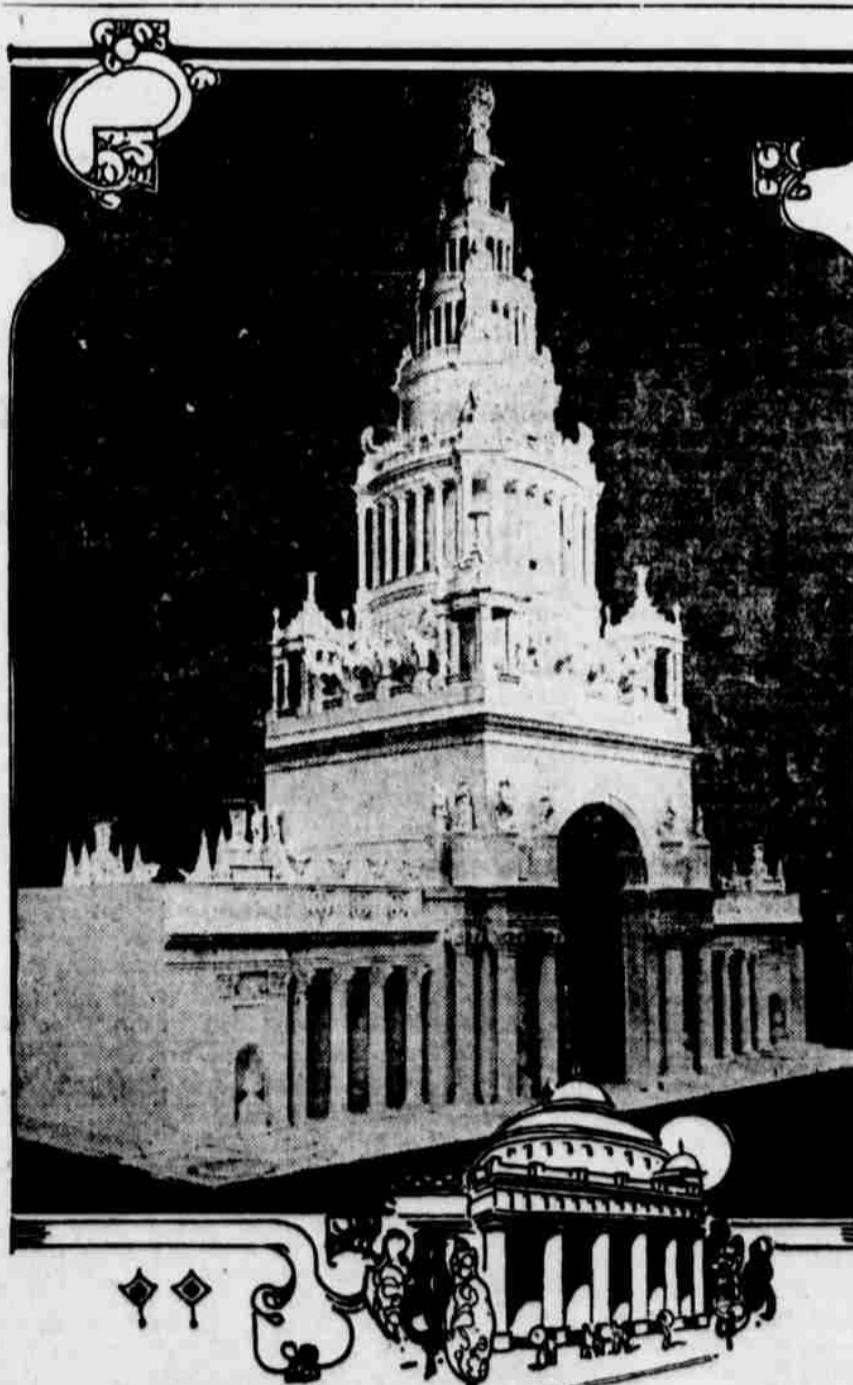

LET'S SHOW 'EM WHAT WE HAVE.

STATES ARE HUSTLING---EXHIBIT SPACE FREE.

Exhibit space is absolutely free to all exhibitors at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco in 1915.

All the capital that is being put into the great Exposition and all the benefits to be derived from the millions of visitors who will view the exhibits are at the disposal of the exhibitor without any cost whatever to him, except the cost of transportation, installation and maintenance.

Every state in the United States will be represented at the Exposition. In most of the states the legislatures have made direct appropriations for participation. In the few that have not done so commercial interests are co-operating to raise large sums in order to have their states represented. This is being done in Iowa, Oklahoma and other commonwealths which feel that as they bear a part of the expense of building the Panama canal their citizens should participate in the Exposition that is to celebrate the canal's completion.

THOUSANDS WILL VISIT TEXAS ON WAY TO THE GREATEST OF WORLD'S EXPOSITIONS.

Huge Agricultural and Live Stock Displays a Part of Marvelous Universal Exposition In 1915

THE whole world is interested in the United States' great Panama-Pacific International Exposition, to be held in San Francisco in 1915. More than a year and a half before its opening the Exposition is assured as the greatest celebration in the history of the American people.

Thousands of visitors from all parts of the earth will attend the Exposition. Each one of the eight transcontinental railroads terminating upon the

The sum of $175,000 has been appropriated by the exposition management for prizes and premiums in live stock, and $225,000 has been set aside for harness racing. An unusual feature of the live stock exhibit is that the cattle will be on exhibition during the entire course of the Exposition from Feb. 20 to Dec. 4, 1915.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will represent an expenditure of many millions. According to a recent statement gathered from the comptroller of the Exposition, the total outlay for the big show on the day of its opening will be $80,000,000, and this will not represent the enormous amount represented in the exhibits of the world. Some of the exhibits will represent outlays of $250,000 to $300,000.

The exhibit buildings will be grouped along San Francisco bay not far from the famous Golden Gate, the entrance to the superb harbor of San Francisco. Indeed, the buildings may be seen to best advantage by any one entering the Golden Gate. Even now a splendid idea of how the complete Exposition will appear at a distance may be gained from a view of some of the palaces now arising.

The tallest structure at Harbor View, the Exposition site, will be 426 feet. Around this will be grouped huge domes, minarets and towers, which from a distance of four or five miles

Pacific coast will issue low round trip rates. Undoubtedly hundreds of thousands of travelers will see Texas for the first time, and great numbers of them will take advantage of stopover privileges to see Texas either on their way to the Exposition or else upon the return trip.

From foreign lands will come multitudes to America for the first time. Twenty-seven of the world's great nations are preparing to make governmental displays, and from each foreign country delegates will attend to see the part their native land is taking at America's Panama exhibition.

The opening of the Panama canal marks a new epoch in the world's trade. The shifting of trade routes that have endured for centuries and the opening of new fields of commercial expansion to the nations of the earth are anticipated in every financial center in the world. Many of the greatest manufacturers of the world will bring their wares and display them upon an elaborate scale at San Francisco.

The United States is shortening the sea voyage between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts by 8,000 miles. It is providing markets in South America for the products of hundreds of thousands of farms, ranches, factories and great industrial plants in the United States. It is opening up to the profitable commerce of the European nations the Pacific coasts of North and South America and is rendering possible direct commerce between the orient and the Atlantic coasts of North, South and Central America. Every state, territory and colonial possession of the United States will share in our increased national prosperity. Every country in the world will profit. The nations of the world are preparing to participate in the Exposition upon a vast scale.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be unlike any great world's exposition ever held. In the first place, it will not commemorate a past achievement, but one that is making history today and which holds out almost unlimited possibilities for the future. As the Exposition will be educational, all exhibits will be shown in action wherever practicable. It is planned among other exhibits to present the greatest displays ever made of the processes of cotton manufacture. The most modern cotton gins ever shown will be exhibited. The heaviest exhibits in the world will unload directly on the Exposition grounds from the ferry slips and thence be carried by train into the exhibit palaces.

Of particular interest to the citizens of Texas will be the wonderful live stock displays. These will, it is now known, surpass any ever made at the greatest of world's expositions. They will indeed be comparable to a tremendous state fair at which are shown the most valuable prize winners from half a hundred states as well as from dozens of great foreign countries. Prize live stock from Holland, Belgium, England, the Argentine, China, France and other lands will be shown side by side with the greatest live stock animals of America. Texas, with its vast herds of range cattle and its thousands of head of high grade dairy stock, is in position to make a showing that will rival that of any part of the world.

ONE OF THE FIGURES, FOURTEEN FEET IN HEIGHT, THAT WILL SURMOUNT THE COLONNADE ENCIRCLING THE COURT OF SUN AND STARS.

will seem like the great domes of Constantinople, only upon a far greater and more impressive scale.

The center of the Exposition grounds will be devoted to the huge exhibit palaces in which exhibits from all parts of the world will be displayed. There will be about fourteen exhibit palaces covering a hundred acres. A single building, Machinery hall, will be 367 feet long, 367 feet wide and 135 feet high. This gives an idea of the huge size of the structures.

To the west of the main exhibit buildings and immediately adjoining them will be the vast space reserved on the picturesque Presidio reservation for the great pavilions to be built by the foreign nations and by the different states. It seems certain that every state will be at the exposition, more than $2,000,000 having already been set aside for state exhibits.

The trouble in Mexico has developed one fact of importance in the U. No wonder, since it makes the pain go away at once. All druggists sell it in 25c and 50c bottles.
