

THE JAYTON CHRONICLE

VOLUME XVI

JAYTON, KENT COUNTY, TEXAS FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1936

NUMBER 26

Host To President

Austin — Texans were host to the President of the United States and Mrs. Roosevelt last week. At least a million Texans greeted the noted visitors personally, with full-throated yells of welcome, waving sombreros, flags and whistles.

Serving as official host and hostess for the Lone Star State were Governor and Mrs. James V. Allred who met the President and Mrs. Roosevelt when their special train arrived at Texarkana last Wednesday night and accompanied them on the train during the three-day swing around the state, through Houston, San Antonio and Austin to Dallas.

The acquaintanceship between President Roosevelt and Governor Allred, which began early during the governor's administration as a result of his contacts with the national administration in seeing that Texas received its fair share of federal loans and grants and in working together to coordinate the state and national social security programs, ripened into a warm personal friendship during the tour, it was reported.

The First Lady of the Land and the First Lady of Texas also became good friends during their three-day visit and Mrs. Allred introduced Mrs. Roosevelt Friday in the Cotton Bowl at the Centennial Exposition in Dallas.

Cordial relations, both personal and official, existing between the Texas and the National Administrations will be emphasized further next week when Governor Allred makes the nominating speech for Vice-President at the National Democratic Convention in Philadelphia.

Strong For Mahon

In feeling out the sentiment of the voters in the territory we find 99 per cent of the folks are strong for the re-election of Hon. George Mahon to Congress. Most every one knows he has made us a first class representative while in Washington and at all times has stood and worked for the best interest of the people whom he was chosen to serve. That he has a Townsendite as an opponent seems to cut very little ice with the people as most of them understand the Townsend Tax Plan and $200 per month pension to those over 60 is just a pipe dream that tickles one's imagination and leads the unthoughtful off on a long wild goose chase after a pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow. Mahon has made good and deserves to be returned to Washington, and will be returned by an overwhelming vote of the people.

Kent County Singing Convention Put Off To 4th Sunday in June

The Kent County Singing Convention which was to be held at Clairemont on the Third Sunday in this month has been put off until the 4th Sunday in this month on account of the Big South Plains Convention which is set for the 3rd Sunday. So all are requested to keep this in mind and if possible attend both the South Plains convention at Lubbock on the 3rd Sunday and the Kent County Singing Convention on the 4th Sunday at Clairemont. — R. E. Beaver.

Mrs. R. W. McLamore and children of Houston, Texas, came in Wednesday for a ten day visit with Mrs. McLamores sister, Mrs. J. H. Montgomery.

Kent County's Law Officers Busy

The officers of the law in Kent County have had a busy time for the last ten days. They have had everything to contend with from petty drunks up. District court convened at a special called session Wednesday to investigate a charge of rape that was placed against a party in this county Sunday afternoon, the crime it is claimed was committed before daylight Sunday morning.

Late Tuesday a party believed to come from Littlefield was taken in charge of lunacy. Cotton stealing charges against two other Kent county citizens landed them in the Tahoka Jail, one the last of last week and the other the first of this week. So all in all the law of the county is having plenty of trouble but they are handling the situation with thoroughness and dispatch.

Jayton Children Visit Texas Centennial

At 4 o'clock on the morning of June 12, a bus load of enthusiastic school children and sponsors bid adieu to parents and friends who gathered on Main street of Jayton to give them a happy send-off to Dallas.

Our arrival in Ft. Worth at 11 o'clock was quickly followed by a grand spread of good eats in Trinity Park. We secured cabins for the night and were off in a big rush to the T. P. depot to greet President Roosevelt who was due to arrive at 2 o'clock. After enduring scorching heat for about two hours and then a snappy downpour of rain, we felt we were duly warned when amid the sound of sirens, cannons, and the hurrah of thousands of voices our president, wearing his customary big smile, came into view. A glimpse of him satisfied us that he was just as his picture showed him to be and we were off again.

After seeing the President we were off for the park at Lake Worth. After enjoying the many entertaining rides and etc., we visited in the Forest Park. As West Texas can't boast of many animals, the zoo proved very interesting for most of the school children. While some were enjoying the rides and zoo others were swimming. At 9 o'clock we retired for the night.

At 6:30 Saturday morning we left for Dallas, and by running most of the red lights we arrived at the Centennial grounds at 8:30. After a hurried inspection of a part of the grounds we assembled in the Cotton Bowl to do our part in that 50,000 chorus which some of you heard. With the sun boiling down upon us at a temperature of 112 degrees and policemen carrying out people who had fainted there was more excitement than there was attention paid to the one director of that large chorus. But it was a wonderful sight to see that many children assembled in one group.

The remainder of the day until 6 o'clock was spent by each individual in a way that was most interesting to him. Reports will be made on that particular Saturday afternoon for many, many years.

When we gathered again at the designated time everyone was tired, blistered, and broke. We came back thru Ft. Worth and spent the remainder of our pennies there and started home. Our continuous driving was interrupted only a few times by Mr. Goodall to get him a cup of coffee. We arrived in Jayton at 5 A. M. Sunday morning and needless to say most of us slept most of Sunday.

All of these happy and educational experiences during the two days we owe to the school board. They made it possible for us to go and we want to thank them publicly.

We'll never forget the Texas Centennial at Dallas.

The Coffee Pot Cafe will be looking for you today to eat some of the finest barbecue ever tasted.

The merchants pageant was quiet a success and the WMS wish to thank everyone who took part in to help it to succeed.

The Boy Scouts deserve the thanks of the city for their splendid job of clearing the square of most of the weeds early in the week.

All Set For Big Time At Old Settlers Reunion And Centennial Parade

This was written Thursday A. M., at which time Jayton is doing the final work in preparation for the big celebration set for tomorrow, Friday. The ladies clubs of the town are leaving nothing undone to make for the success of the undertaking. They have the band boys practicing and have lined up the business men and the candidates, the old timers, the younger generations and everyone else including the ball boys to do their part. The park has been cleaned and the streets fixed up. The women folks have the big pots and little ones all set over the fires cooking the legs off of both, getting the dinner ready. Coffee, bread and pickles are arranged for and the tables, etc will be put in place this afternoon. We are assured that there will be folks here from all the surrounding territories and a genuine good time is hoped for by all.

40,000 Approved July 1

Austin — This is the fourth of a series of questions asked by citizens of this state and answered by Orville S. Carpenter, executive director of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission:

Q — Did the United States Government have any part in drafting the Texas Law?

A — The Texas Legislature drafted the Texas Old Age Assistance Law in such form as to enable Federal cooperation. In preparing the bill the Legislative Committee had the assistance and advice of a representative of the National Social Security Board.

Q — How many applications do you believe will be approved by July 1?

A — Approximately 40,000.

Q — How many applications for assistance have been received?

A — About 190,000.

Q — What about the payments to those old people whose applications have not been approved July 1st?

A — The Commission will continue investigating applications for assistance, and as each application is approved, the applicant will receive a check for all payments beginning July 1. Aged applicants who are found to be eligible after July 1 will receive back payments. This, of course, concerns those who applied before July 1 and are subsequently found eligible.

Q — Payments will be based on need as required by law?

A — Yes. Payments will not only be based upon need but upon the amount of need. Old people who need more money will receive larger grants than those whose needs require less.

Q — Is it true that after the first job of investigating the 190,000 applications, the operating expenses of the Commission will be paid by the Federal Government?

A — Yes. We believe that a large part, if not all, of the actual costs of operation — after the 190,000 applications have been investigated — will be paid by the U. S. Government. The 5 per cent expense allotment allowed Texas by the Social Security Board will be sufficient, we believe, to cover the ordinary running expenses of the Commission.

Local Veterans Receive Bonus Bonds

Monday and Tuesday of this week the local postoffice received the long awaited Veterans Adjusted Service Bonds, and Monday afternoon, Tuesday and Wednesday the bonds were delivered to the veterans and most of them certified and sent in for payment. The amount received by the veterans varied from a little over $100 to about $790.00.

One of the veterans has begun the construction of a new home, another reports the purchase of a new farm home, and some of the others intend to meet past obligations. A few of the boys will keep their bonds, and let them draw interest.

Texas Legislator Approves Westfall

Brownwood, Texas May 26, 1936
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN,
It has been my pleasure to serve through a regular and two special sessions of the 44th legislature with the Honorable Leonard Westfall, Representative of the 118th District. During these sessions I have had numerous conferences and discussions with him as to legislative policies, particularly with reference with equalizing the burdens of taxation. I am also familiar with his attitude toward questions affecting the public welfare generally.

I was impressed by Judge Westfall's interest in the average man and his desire to see every one have a square deal in so much as the laws can give it to him. He certainly has the courage of his conviction and does not hesitate to take a stand which he thinks to be right. He is always ready to oppose what he thinks to be wrong. While we may have voted differently on some matters, I respected his sincere purpose. His vote in those cases may have been right and my vote wrong.

It is of utmost importance that the people elect to the legislature men of CHARACTER, PATRIOTIC PURPOSE AND SOUND JUDGEMENT. To elect an incompetent insincere or disonest man is to besmirch the district he is supposed to represent, and it may jeopardize the best interest of the State. A misfit in the legislature not only means that the particular district is practically without representation, but the Representative himself becomes an object of ridicule and derision in the house. The voters ought to bear these things in mind and look well to the kind of men they send to Austin.

I am not a Candidate for re-election, but as a citizen of the State, am interested in its welfare, which so vitally hinges on the men we send to the legislature. I would be willing to trust Representative Westfall to stand for the right things and to oppose the wrong. I am not seeking to inject myself into his campaign but am simply stating my opinion of the man formed through a TESTING PERIOD.

Yours Very truly
Courtney Gray,
Representative 125th District,
Pol. Adv.

Drive Carefully, Or Be Punished

Its expected that there will be a large crowd in Jayton, Friday the day of the Old Settlers Reunion and Centennial Celebration. As the city square has been selected as the center of the gathering and the place where the dinner will be served, we want to give the people this timely warning. When driving thru, around and near the crowd, please drive carefully. Let yourself be responsible for no traffic accident to mar the happiness and pleasure of the people who come to Jayton for the day. The police department of the town and county will see that law violators of any kind will be immediately taken in charge should any so far forget themselves as to fail to respect the laws of the town, county or state. Let everyone attend the celebration, but let everyone respect the rights of everyone else and all will be well and all will have a big time.

Meanest Man In Littlefield Found

The meanest man in Town has been discovered but not identified and he is one of those cases that hanging is far too good for.

We don't know where he lives, nor what his name, but we'd be willing to pay a reward to find out. It would be an extreme pleasure to turn his name over to the Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

This particular blight on humanity, deliberately took a knife and cut the tongue out of the mouth of the mother of five little puppies, who had arrived in the world but a few days earlier.

But this game little mother dog, is carrying on to the best of canine ability, trying to raise her little family. And if there are heroines in the dog world, she is it.

And if there are skunks, and low-down mongrels in the human world, the fellow who committed this heinous crime — is it. — County Wide News.

The Flies Are In Brownsfield By The Gillion

Again the nastiest of all pest, and the pestering of all pest, the housefly is swarming in our city and vicinity by the literal millions, and as last year, there don't seem to be anything we can do about the matter. People are swatting them; people are trapping them; people are poisoning them, but they seem to come on for more. It is said that they are actually eating the paint off windows that merchants put up to advertise their wares.

We won't say that Brownsfield is the filthiest town in the world, for we have not seen all the towns in the world, but it has its share of fly breeding places somewhere. Some say it is the stock pens, and others are just as positive that it is the city dumping ground, while still others say that we have too many cows and pigs in the resident section. Be as it may, we have millions of flies and that is no part of a joke. — Herald.

Scenes of Carnage

A writer in a recent issue of American Mercury presented a new and interesting view of the automobile accident problem. He observed that, in the light of present-day conditions, it is not remarkable that 36,000 persons are being killed in traffic accidents annually — but that it is remarkable that the number is not several times as great.

In the average state, almost anyone not completely crippled can obtain a license to drive a car, irrespective of his ability, responsibility, intelligence or judgement. If he chooses, he can operate a car that belongs by rights in the junk heap a car with an inaudible horn, feeble or glaring lights, uncertain brakes, and a steering gear affected with St. Vitus dance. If he drives that car in a dangerous manner, cutting curves, weaving in and out of traffic, and "giving her the gun" whenever possible, the chances are that he will escape arrest — and if arrested, he will be assessed a relatively small fine and permitted to go right on driving. When the inevitable finally occurs, and someone is killed or injured because of his recklessness or incompetence, he may have a harder time getting out of the mess — but that won't bring a dead person to life.

If any progress is to be made in reducing the horrible toll of automobile deaths and injuries, stringent methods must be adopted. Traffic codes must be modernized and enforced with the utmost strictness and impartiality. Much higher qualifications for the issuance of drivers' licenses must be established. And the unsafe automobile, as well as the unsafe driver, must be banished from the road. Otherwise, America's streets and highways will continue to be scenes of carnage.

Odd Election Laws

Worthy of a place in Robert (Believe It or Not) Ripley's Odditorium at the Centennial Exposition in Dallas are some of the Texas election laws, as revealed in a recent book on the subject by Attorney General William McCraw. In the main, of course, the laws are plain and sensible enough, but there are sufficient oddities to attract the attention of even the casual observer.

For instance, it is legally possible in Texas to elect a dead man to office. On the other hand, it is not legal to mark a ballot with red ink; black ink or a pencil must be used. One law even gives exact legal dimensions of an election booth; presumably, all ballots can be thrown out unless the booth is exactly twenty-two inches wide, thirty two inches deep, and six feet high; furthermore, it is legally required that the booth contain a shelf upon which the voter can rest his elbow while marking his ballot, and it must be constructed with hinges so it can be folded up for storage when not in use.

Election judges may arrest a man for drunkenness or disorderly conduct, but they must permit him to vote before he is carted away to jail. And a convict, though his right to vote has been forfeited, is liable for payment of poll taxes just the same.

One can't help wondering how some of these laws ever got on the statute books. Surely undying fame should go to whoever formulated the law forbidding the marking of ballots with red ink; probably it is pleasing to consider that an election booth is legally required to contain an elbow rest for the pondering ballot caster. After all, there is some comfort in some of these laws. — Texas Weekly

RUNNERS FROM STRAWBERRY PLANTS SHOULD BE RESET

"I am going to take the runners from my strawberry plants and set them out to increase my strawberry patch to about twice its present size," Billy Wade Wright of the Girard 4-H club told the home demonstration agent.

These small plants will have time to root before the hottest part of the summer. Fertilizer should be applied when the strawberries are set out. During the fall season the plants will develop buds for the crop next spring.

Billy Wade set out about fifteen plants last fall and they bore several cups of berries this spring, setting a good record for their first year.

DILL BEING GROWN FOR PICKLES

"Two or three stalks of dill will make enough dill to flavor all the pickles we put up in one season," said Mrs. C. Barton of the Last Lake home demonstration club.

The entire stalk of the dill may be used for flavoring but the seeds give the best dill flavor. For this reason the dill should not be pulled until after the seeds have matured. They should be pulled before they are so ripe that they fall off.

This herb requires little cultivation and may be planted in the corner of the garden or yard and will grow without further care until it is needed for pickles.

HARMONY H. D. CLUB NEWS

"In arranging a kitchen, place all equipment as closely together as possible," said the H. D. Agent to the Harmony Club Women Thursday afternoon.

All cooking utensils should be placed where they are needed first.

If the dining or breakfast table must be in the kitchen place it as far from the work center as possible.

DURHAM H. D. CLUB

Arrangement of large kitchen equipment was discussed by the Co. Agent, Miss Grimes, at the meeting of the Womens Home Demonstration Club. The meeting was at Mrs. Dick Sampson's on June 17th.

Miss Grimes said that the best plan for a kitchen was the U-plan. All kitchen activities revolve around the sink. She also discussed the height of the work surfaces for the kitchen equipment.

The club planned a sock supper for June 13 at 8:45 P. M. Mrs. P. R. Gilbert was elected as council representative.

There were five members present which were: Miss Ruby Gilbert, Mrs. Willie Tatom, Mrs. J. B. Durham, Mrs. P. R. Gilbert, and Mrs. Dick Sampson. We had 150 visitors.

POLAR 4-H CLUB REPORT

The Polar 4-H Club met at Bessie Ramage house on June 9, 1936.

The purpose of the meeting was a party for "achievement day." Each club girl brought something that they had made.

This was achievement day and no one took bedroom demonstration so we had a party in its place.

Betty Hoyle, played and led the songs. Janice Randolph led the club prayer. Addie Lee White led the pledge and Bessie Ramage led the motto, and Addie Lee White led the games.

After several games, a delicious refreshment plate of cake and punch to the club members and their parents and visitors.

Countoured Rows Protection From Winds

"I have all my land countoured with the exception of about 20 acres and I plan to contour the rest of it next year," says Wade Wright of the Girard Community. Wade said, "The wind and sand damaged the crops considerably on the straight rows but did not hurt crops of the same size growing on the countoured rows. The wind and sand whipped down the straight rows, but could not follow the contours.

Trench Silos For Feed Storage

The time will soon be ripe to make preparations for storing this years feed crop. Trench Silos are no longer in the experimental stage. Experience has taught that they cost less to construct and preserve the feed in a more satisfactory manner than any other method of storing. The feed stored in a Trench Silo does not lose its feeding value and it is protected from the weather, rodents, and insects. Feed can be kept in a Trench Silo without loss of its strenght for an indefinite length of time. Prospects look good at the present time for an abundant feed crop this year. After the crop has laid by is a good time to dig your trench in order that you will be ready to store your feed when it is mature. Your local county agent will be glad to discuss the various methods or factors involved in preparing your silo and filling it.

Don't go home to lunch. Eat your meals at the Coffee Pot Cafe.
