Rawlinson — Corder

Marriage of Helen Rebecca Rawlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rawlinson, and William A. Corder was solemnized Sunday afternoon at five o'clock in the first Baptist church, Dr. Millar Jenkins, pastor, reading the service.

The bridal couple took their vows as they stood beneath an arch of greenery, while ferns, palms and baskets of gladioluses were arranged elsewhere on the altar, which was lighted with white cathedral candles in floor standards.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, A. Burton Rawlinson of Dallas, wore a colonial wedding gown of white organdy over white satin, made with bouffant skirt, high neckline and long sleeves. A veil of tulle and bouquet of bridal blossoms of white completed the wedding ensemble.

Attendants for the bride wore colonial frocks of organdy in pastel shades, poke bonnets with velvet streamers and carried colonial bouquets of asters. Eurith Kerr, maid of honor, wore orchid; Mrs. Dee Corder of Odessa, wore green; Mrs. Andy Shouse of Trent was attired in pink, and Mrs. Edwin Burnam wore an ensemble of yellow.

Dee Corder of Odessa served as best man for his brother. His other attendants were Ira Lambert, Edwin Burnam and Andy Shouse.

The wedding music was given by E. Edwin Young, who played an organ program of numbers appropriate to the nuptial hour as guests assembled in the church. Mr. Young also gave the wedding march, using both Mendelssohn and Lohengrin selections, and played the accompaniment for Harrison Munroe to sing "Oh Promise Me."

From the church, wedding guests went to the home which the bridal couple have completely furnished at 1806 North Eleventh street, and into which they will move on their return from a wedding trip to western points.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lynn were at the door to receive guests, while Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rawlinson presented the bridal couple and members of the wedding party and at the same time introduced the bride of their son, Mrs. A. Burton Rawlinson of Dallas.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ida Blackmon Meador, of Beaumont, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meador of Nacogdoches, Mr. and Mrs. James Teel of Palestine, Mrs. Curly Lee, Valerie Gartside and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moore also assisted in entertaining reception guests.

Mrs. J. E. Burnam presided at the refreshment table to cut a three tiered wedding cake of bridal decorations, while punch was ladled by Mrs. W. J. Carlon. Mrs. Thomas Williams, Mrs. J. Frank Hobbs and Mrs. C. L. Hailey assisted with the refreshment service.

Mrs. Corder, graduate of the Abilene high school, has been serving as secretary to the law firm of Childers and Shaw. Mr. Corder, whose parents live in Jayton, was for several years a student in Hardin-Simmons University. He is secretary to the local national guard unit, in charge of the armory equipment.

—Abilene Morning News

Mrs. D. D. Hagins was buried here last Wednesday at 12 o'clock, after being treated at Lubbock for kidney trouble.

She was 44 years old and joined the Methodist church at Gilpin in 1911 and been a consistent worker in that church since. She leaves two sons and a husband and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her going. Mrs. Hagins was a sister of Mrs. Bill Daniels and Mr. Hagins is a son of A. J. Hagins here.

Quite a number of farmers from in and around Peacock were in Jayton this week buying cotton sacks and gloves. It seems that Peacock stores were unable to meet the demand.

Mrs. Earl Draper went to Aspermont last Thursday and visited with her daughter, Mrs. B. E. Perdue, of that city.

Miss Christine Wells, of Stamford, was visiting with Miss Bess Porter in Jayton last week.

Mr. Rice and family of Meadow, Texas were visiting relatives and friends in Jayton last week.

S. W. Ellerbee Family Have Home Coming

The children and grandchildren of S. W. Ellerbee and wife gathered at the Ellerbee home in Jayton, Sunday for a family reunion. Those present were Abra Ellerbee and wife and four children of Spur, Texas; Mrs. W. C. Croft, husband and one child of Oklahoma; Mrs. J. W. Riddle and husband and four children of Pexico, Texas; Mrs. Cole Gallagher and husband and four children of Jayton, Texas together with Mr. and Mrs. Ellerbee. Twenty three in all enjoyed a grand feed and a pleasant and happy day together. One little thing happened just as Mr. Ellerbee was telling one of the grandchildren bye, bye, the door slammed to on his fingers and mashed three of them pretty seriously but at this writing they are healing nicely and no danger is anticipated from the mash.

Funeral Held For Mrs. J. T. Clark

Funeral rites were conducted here Friday afternoon for Mrs. J. T. Clark, 58, of Jayton who died Thursday, August 27 at the home of her son Doyle Clark, in Girard, Texas. Services were held by the Rev. H. H. Hamilton at the Methodist church of which she had been a member since childhood.

Mrs. Clark lived here for two years in 1931 and 1932. She moved to Jayton after the death of her husband four years ago.

She was married to J. T. Clark in Johnson County in 1889. To this union was born ten children, three of whom preceded her in death. Survivors are: her mother, Mrs. C. A. Merideth, Venus, Texas, two daughters, Mrs. Bertie Patten, and Mrs. Nannie Patten both of Los Angeles, Calif., four sons, Joe Clark, Lockney; Doyle Clark, Girard and Roy and Kenneth Clark of Jayton, and fifteen grandchildren. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Luther Williams of Ballenger; Mrs. Charlie Cooper of Alvarado and Mrs. Charlie Baker of Frost, Texas, and two brothers, Charlie Merideth of Venus and George Merideth of Dallas.

Burial was in Lockney Cemetery where her husband is buried. Cragger Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Clark, who was born December 10, 1877 in Kentucky, was Mary Merideth before her marriage. Her membership at the time of her death was in the Jayton church.

225 Students Enroll In Jayton School

School opened last Monday morning with the largest enrollment that ever been in the Jayton school. At nine o'clock the ringing of the bell began the 1936-37 school year, which we know will be the best year we have had. A number of patrons of the school were present to refresh their memories of the school days of their childhood. With the continued support of these patrons with the assistance of the pupils and with the staff of teachers that are employed the school can be nothing but one big success.

The program was opened with the singing of that great old faithful song "America" with everyone joining in. The invocation was given by Bro. Fred McPherson, pastor of the Baptist church of Jayton, then the welcome was extended by T. E. Harrison, president of the school board. Following the welcome, Superintendent W. L. Coons made a short talk that was enjoyed by all. The new and old teachers were introduced and received a hearty welcome. A closing song, "The Eyes Of Texas" was sung followed by the benediction given by Bro. Raymond Van Zandt, pastor of the Methodist of Jayton.

The classes are of the same order as last year except for the following changes: Junior Business Training is being offered to replace Ancient and Medieval History. Bookkeeping is being offered in place of Chemistry.

At present the enrollment is approximately 225 but we are expecting many more to enroll as soon as cotton picking is over.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Cox of Peacock and Mrs. W. H. Porter of Jayton visited Bro. North and family in New Mexico last week.

Something Has Gotta Be Done Soon

Do you want to see your child, your wife or your husband brought home mangled, lifeless victim of that dangerous crossing just east of the Bryant - Link store? Of course not! But only by the grace of some divine power have several persons narrowly averted serious injury or death at that danger spot in our city. Something has gotta be done! We have seen little children miss death or injury by inches. We have seen cars avert collision by the same narrow margin. And these happened this summer when traffic is comparatively light! It is only a matter of time until death will take its toll at this intersection. Why wait until a life or lives have been lost, a child made a helpless cripple, before taking some action in this matter. Lets do something about it — and do it now!

Time and again our officers have warned drivers against flagrant violations of the speed limit through town but we hear of no arrests. We see heavily laden trucks come thundering down the hill south of the square at a speed that would render the most high-powered hydraulic brakes as impotent as a twine string. Thousands of pounds of death and destruction moving at a terrifying speed past the intersection where your children and mine must cross. Where our cars must cross many times each day. While from the north speed other cars which cannot see another car approaching from either the left or the right of the crossing.

Surely death is waiting at this crossroad. Shall we sit idly by until he strikes.

Use your influence and urge your friends to work likewise to make this crossing safe. This is a plea for life for our children and our citizens. Dare you to let it go unheeded? It may mean death or serious injury to a member of your family to do so.

J. E. McKinzie Bitten By Snake

J. E. McKinzie, Jr., who lives on his ranch about three miles North-east of Jayton, was bitten by a large rattlesnake late Friday evening. It is reported that J. E. was entering the gate of his yard when the snake struck him, the reptiles fangs piercing his boot. Medical aid was quickly summoned and we are glad to report that the young ranchman is recovering nicely from the effects of the deadly venom. J. E. says that he has heard that a rattlesnake's fang will not penetrate a boot, but skeptics are welcome to try out their theory, but as for himself, he intends keeping well out of the way of the rattlesnakes, boots or no boots.

ASPERMONT MAN INSISTS HE 'FEELS ALL RIGHT,' DIES

Fort Worth, Sept. 8.—S. W. Rash 52, Aspermont automobile dealer, told an ambulance driver to "turn this car around and let's go back." He came to Fort Worth with a load of cattle and suddenly became ill. "I'm feeling alright," Rash insisted.

The driver decided to carry his charge to a hospital for a check-up, anyway. When he arrived, Rash was dead of a heart attack.

Jim Williams and family who have been living a few miles Southeast of Jayton for the past several months have moved into town for the school year.

Mr. Lynn Mayfield, one time citizen of Jayton, was here this week and tells us that he will teach in a school about twelve miles east of Stamford.

Joe Gilbert of Spur, formally of Jayton, was through here last Monday on his way to Abilene where he will again attend McMurry College.

Richard Jay, Herbert Wade, Rex Alexander and Miss Jo Robinson left this week to attend McMurry College at Abilene, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hargus visited in Spur Sunday p. m.

Steve Hargus had business in Rotan, Tuesday.

Farmers To Meet At Lubbock, Sept. 17

Farmers of Kent county are urged to attend and participate in the district-wide Farmers meeting to be held at Lubbock, Thursday, Sept. 17. The meeting is one of 12 to be held in Texas during the latter part of August and through September, under the auspices of the Texas Agriculture Association and through the cooperation of the A. & M. College Extension Service.

The purpose of the meeting is to further acquaint farmers and their wives with the national agriculture program, to discuss the importance of stronger farm organization, to study methods of community organization, and legislation affecting agriculture, and to more thoroughly inform business and professional men on the value of an adequate agricultural program to business as well as to the farmers.

Although the meeting at Lubbock will extend over a period of two days the second day, Thursday, September 17th, will be devoted to farmers and their wives, while the first day will be confined to meeting of speakers with civic and business bodies of Lubbock and surrounding towns.

Heading a list of prominent speakers to appear on both programs is Dr. R. H. Montgomery, nationally known agricultural economist and educator, on leave from Washington to participate in the programs. Other important speakers will be W. H. Darrow, southern representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration; Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, editor of Extension Service News; R. H. Bush, organization specialist of A. & M. College and H. G. Lucas, President of Texas Agricultural Association.

The Wednesday and Thursday programs open at nine o'clock and will last all day. Each family will bring his own lunch. Some space will be provided for the spreading of lunches.

O-O Ranch Sells 265 Head Of Fat Steers

Bert Wallace, owner of the famous O-O Ranch, the largest ranch in this part of Texas, this week sold to Swift and Co., 265 head of fancy fed three year old steers, the same going out of Jayton by train Tuesday.

Our information is that the steers averaged about 1300 lbs each and the selling price was such that they brought better than $100 around. Mr. Wallace has had this bunch of cattle on feed for some time and it's claimed by many that they were the best, large shipment of cattle to ever go out of this territory at one time. All of them were well bred Herfords and all had been dehorned.

LEASES BLACKSMITH SHOP

Jeff Whatley has leased the Benton Blacksmith and Woodwork shop from Abb Gallagher, the owner who has a job with the farmers gin. Jeff is a first class workman and will no doubt do a good business.

The fall session of District court was a very quiet affair. The grand jurors met and worked one day, but returned no indictments at the end of their day's investigations, and as there were no cases on the docket, court was practically over before it got started.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackie Gipson and daughter have gone to Carlsbad N. Mexico to their work, after visiting a few days here with Mrs. J. H. Donoho and Mrs. Guinn Donoho.

Mrs. Preston Thompson and son Travis, Sonny Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Murdoch are visiting in Mason this week.

Claud Brannen of Fayetteville, Arkansas visited his sister Mrs. L. H. Mason here a few days ago.

Mrs. Earl Harrison and children spent last week at Stamford with her mother.

Mrs. Charlie Robinson and Harvey took Jo to Abilene Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pink Stewart of Clairmont visited in Jayton, Tuesday.

Break Ground At First CCRA Dam

Coleman, Sept. 8.—Ground breaking ceremonies for the first of a series of 12 dams to be built in Coleman county by the central Colorado river authority was held this morning, two miles south of Gouldsk.

The Coleman band furnished music, and representatives of Coleman and Santa Anna Lions clubs and the Coleman Kiwanis club made talks. Public officials and members of the state water board were guests.

J. W. Cox was donor of the first 30 acres of land for the lake site, with other residents of the area adding gifts of land. The Dam, to cost $14,000, is a works progress administration project, the WPA to furnish $9,000 in labor, and the authority, as sponsor, the remainder in materials and supervision. The lake is to cover approximately 25 acres.

"Drift Fence" Brings New Action Thrills

Zane Grey, who is without a peer as a story teller of the West in its unbridled days, wrote "Drift Fence," which Paramount has produced, and which will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Palace Theatre. Packed with thrills and bristling with danger, this action drama provides exciting entertainment for the young and old.

Featured roles are played by Larry "Buster" Crabbe, Tom Keene, Katherine DeMille, Benny Baker, Glenn Erickson and Stanley Andrews.

"Drift Fence" dramatizes the conflict between the big and small ranch owners, when all land was considered common property for grazing purposes. Taking advantage of this situation, a gang of cow-rustlers enlist the aid of a young rancher to keep the vast lands of his neighbor from being enclosed with a fence. At the last moment, realizing that he has been made a tool of cattle thieves he changes sides, and helps a Texas Ranger bring the outlaws to justice.

A fine romance is interwoven through "Drift Fence," which has entertaining sequences of broncho-busting, stampedes, fist and pistol fights.

1927 Bridge Club

Mrs. Glenn Huls was hostess to members and guests with a delightful party at her home last Tuesday afternoon honoring her cousin, Mrs. Kenneth Zaring, who was here visiting from Narivisa, New Mexico.

The Centennial motif was featured in appointments and the refreshment plate.

The games of contract ended with Mrs. W. M. McLauri and Mrs. Bako Robinson tying for high score. A deck of cards was shuffled and Mrs. McLauri cut high and was presented a useful bowl of dusting powder. Miss Bernice Alexander scored low and received a novelty pin cushion.

A dainty refreshment plate consisting of ice cream, individual white cakes topped with a centennial rose and an iced drink was served.

Members present were Mesdames Brown, Earnest, Kelley, Mason, McLauri, Murdoch, B. Robinson, C. Robinson, Sandell, Thornton, Vencil, and Miss Mary Robinson. Guests present were Mesdames Cathey, Johnston, Woodrum, Miss Bernice Alexander and the honoree.

The Club regrets very much to have to accept the resignation of Mrs. Kelley. We hope she will see fit to rejoin soon.

Delmas Bailey, connected with the Collins Beauty Shop of Jayton, after spending the past few weeks in Lubbock returned to Jayton last Sunday.

Mrs. J. E. McKinzie, Jr, Winnell McKinzie and Doris Holley made a trip to Lubbock last week.

Mack Rose and wife spent last Sunday evening visiting in Swenson with Mrs. Rose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Mabry McAteer and Mrs. Emmet Raney and children attended the funeral of Mrs. McAteer's nephew at Meadow last Sunday.

Francis and Dorothy Earnest spent last week at Olney with their aunt, Mrs. S. B. Padlock at Hamilton Hotel.

128 Attend Annual Hagin Family Reunion

Under the spreading branches of the gigantic cottonwood trees at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hagins, two miles West of Jayton, on last Sunday 128 of their relatives and friends gathered and spent a most delightful day.

Under the supervision of that master ranch cook, Columbus Hale of Afton, Texas, two fat beeves were barbecued as the foundation for a most sumptuous feast, while the ladies of the Hagin family supplied the cakes and pies and other delicacies which with the bread and pickles and onions and black coffee rounded out the feed.

Judge A. J. Hagin, the father of the Hagin clan in Texas has passed his eighty-fifth year and his relatives by blood and marriage count a small army, and on the day of the family reunion they gather in from all parts of Texas and several of the adjoining states.

States represented on this last reunion outside of Texas were, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Kansas, while the folks from California and other western states were unable to attend.

Texas towns represented were Spur (with the largest delegation, as several of his older children and their families live in and near Spur.) Abilene, Seminole, Grand Saline, Trent, Lemorah, Waco and San Antonio.

Mr. Hagin's little grand daughter Miss Bettie Caroline McElroy, aged four months was the youngest direct descendant of the Judge present, and there is almost exactly 85 years difference in their ages.

As there were quite a few present who had never seen Mr. Hagin before, he called the crowd together just at 11:30 o'clock and introduced himself. Telling how after being born in Ga., he moved to Texas at the age of thirty, settling in Bell County, from Bell county he moved to Johnson county and from Johnson county to Dickens county before it was organized, later moving to his present home where the reunion was held.

The crowd then fell to putting away all the food they could hold—and they did a good job of it, after which talks were made by the Judge, Rev. Bennett of Spur, Dr. R. L. Alexander, of Jayton, Columbus Hale of Afton and L. F. Wade of the Jayton Chronicle. Several songs were sung, a moment was spent in silent prayer for the departed wife of Dallas Hagin and the crowd was at liberty to do as they desired. After taking a few pictures and spending some time in friendly conversation most of the guests started on their return to their homes, the several took advantage of the opportunity to spend the evening and night with Mr. and Mrs. Hagin.

While we hoped to publish the names and address of all who were present we find our limited amount of space prevents.

District Court officials, including Judge Dennis P. Ratliff, District Attorney Grindstaff, and Court Reporter, John Willoughby and his wife, were in Jayton the first part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Woodrum and children spent last Thursday at Lubbock on business and returned to Crosbyton that night to visit her sister, Mrs. Bill Kimbrough.

Mrs. Kenneth Zaring of Naro Visa, New Mexico, spent a week visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Huls, and took her daughter, Mary Dell home with her to attend school this winter.

Gilbert of the Tri-County Lumber Co. of Spur, was visiting in Jayton last Monday.

Mrs. R. A. Jay and children spent last Sunday visiting Mrs. Vernon in Spur, Texas.

Miss Katie Crider, after spending the summer months in Stamford has returned to Jayton to attend school.

Roy Earnest spent last Sunday in Clairmont seeing friends.

Miss Lorilla Stephens spent last Sunday in Girard with her parents.

Free Speech And Free Press

We read and hear a lot about "Free speech and free press" these days. We are for both, up to a certain point, but often us Americans can have too much freedom. Its altogether what one would classify as free speech and free press. Free speech does not mean that you or I or anyone else has the right to curse and abuse with our words our fellow man. Free Press should never mean the publication of filth, lies, and insinuations indicates that it does pay to plant a and meal. ... Freedom may be abused the same as anything else. We believe the Catholic priest who called our great President a liar and a traitor should have been hit in the mouth with a rotten goose egg. True, he apologized for it, in a way, afterwards, but what is the use of an apology after you knock a man down and kick him in the ribs with hob nailed boots. As for Free Press, there are some sheets being circulated in this land of the free and the home of the brave that should not be allowed to circulate in a swill barrel. They are poison, as well as putrid, destructive as well as debauching. Truly there are more sins committed under the name of freedom and religion than an oversized hell could accommodate.

Man A Meat Eater

The distinguished physician, Dr. Walter S. Alvarez, who told the Utah Medical Association recently, that many cases of "appendicitis" among married women are nothing but and meal. ... "Anatomically man is carnivorous, his digestive tract was not built for a vegetable diet; a person can be a vegetarian and get away with it—but only if he uses nutritious foods," Dr. Alvarez declared. Sensible diet must include wheat as the major item. Food fads have played hob with human relations in this country. They are at least partly responsible for the creation of the great American disease—instability of temperament, due to jangled nerves. Some day, a million or so years hence, man may, if he survives, change his anatomy into that of a herbivore. Until that time, meat must continue a major portion of the diet of the healthfully-fed man. Star-Telegram

Room For A Thousand More

Did you ever hear the expression, "the world is becoming ever populated?" I just wonder if the one who made it has ever been through this part of Texas? There is still room for thousands of people in this part of the country. I think you would agree with me too, if you would take a trip through the country from Spur to Post. I bet there is some country out there that never has been seen by the eyes of humans. Miles and miles of country without a house, windmill or even a cow. There are about fifty six miles of this stretch that looks to me like it would make great farming land. There are seven or more school houses on the road and I expect there are not more than seven pupils per school. So with seven school houses which have room for many more students, ought not to be such a bad place for man to live. I will admit he may have to build some roads to get in and out but that would be easy. If you don't believe there is such a place just go through from Spur to Post, Texas. I did. —Reader

Mr. Mayor

We want to protest against the practice of permitting cars to park on the east side of the street that runs in front of Landers, Huls and Brown's places of business. We especially plead for the discontinuance of this on Saturdays. We have seen big trucks parked in on the east side of this street until it was practically impossible for one to travel either up or down this thoroughfare, much less permit cars to pass. On several occasions we have had to back up as far as the corner in order to let a car by. Let it be argued that such a ruling be detrimental to the merchants and business men located on this street, we insist that such a move would on the contrary, be beneficial to them, because as it is now traffic is so congested along this narrow street that drivers must avoid it. The cars so parked are left empty, and are a hindrance to even the pedestrians, who cannot walk down the east side of the street. I believe the sentiment of the business men as well as the people who make it a practice to come to town on Saturday would uphold a move to prevent this dangerous and annoying practice. Sincerely yours, A Citizen

CONSERVES THREE PINTS OF PRESERVES AND THREE GLASSES OF JELLY FOR EACH MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

"Since the Farm Fruit Plot demonstration budget called for three containers of jelly and three containers of preserves for each member of our family, I have been busy all summer trying to find fruit enough to fill the budget," reported Billy Wade Wright of Girard.

Billy Wade made jelly of wild plums and grapes, and tomatoes were used to get the allotment of preserves.

She plans to make more preserves of pie melon.

IRRIGATED GARDEN SUPPLIES FRESH VEGETABLES

By irrigating from a surface tank with a garden hose, Mrs. P. R. Gilbert of Durham has had a good supply of vegetables all summer.

The garden still furnishes cucumbers, green beans and tomatoes, while in the majority of gardens not irrigated these vegetables have not been available for some time.

Hints For Fall Garden

By J F. Rosborough, Extension Horticulturist

If the recent rains slighted you, take this opportunity to get the best possible condition. Then when it does rain, all that will be necessary will be to sow the seed.

Do not limit your fall gardening activities to the planting of turnips. Carrots and beets are two hardy vegetables that withstand cool weather. Swiss Chard is another vegetable that grows well in cooler weather. Early Alaska English peas mature in 40 to 50 days, as well as stringless green pod beans. Onion sets can be planted now, and you will have green onions for the table throughout the early winter. Iceberg or China Winter Rose radishes will add another variety to your table.

Trench Silo Demonstration

"Trench silos are crop insurance" Mr. E. R. Eudaly told the farmers at a trench silo demonstration Tuesday, Sept. 8th.

Mr. Eudaly, State Extension Dairy man, spent Tuesday in Kent County giving three silo demonstrations. Milton Sandell, in Jayton community, is filling a silo which will hold approximately sixty five tons; Charlie Harris, Lostlake Community, filled one which held fifteen tons and A. A. Fry is filling one which will hold approximately twenty five tons.

Mr. Eudaly stated that maize stalks make good feed when they have gone through the process in a silo. He predicts that practically every farm in the state will have trench silos before many years. This prediction is based upon the growth in popularity of silos in the state during the past two years, the adaptability of the silo to every farmer's needs and the possibility of each farmer filling one on his own farm.

What do we have with which to fill a silo?

Maize, kafir, higera, johnson grass sun flowers, corn, tumble weeds and blood weeds will make feed the stock will eat. Corn and the grain sorghums make good silage when buried alone, but the other grasses and weeds need sugar added. This sugar may be supplied by pie mellons or watermelons. The better feed put into the silo, the better one can expect to take out. However, due to the feed shortage in this country this year, one cannot choose. We have to use the feed we have.

What can we fill them with this year?

This immature maize and grain sorghum, which has burned up in the field, or maize stalks which have been headed, will make good feed if put down in a silo. These stacks of feed we have saved over from last year or even year before last can be put into a silo and made into better feed. This feed, which has been cut and is standing in shocks at present, will make good silage.

How much water is needed?

The amount of water which is necessary for a trench silo depends upon the amount of sap in the feed. If the head is mature and the stalks and leaves are green, no water is needed. In case the feed is dried out or burned up, four or five barrels of water per ton of feed should be added.

Stage in which to put up feed.

Let the head mature, if possible. If the feed burns up immediately, let it burn until practically all the leaves are yellow. Should frost catch the feed before it matures, let it set for about two weeks after the frost, then harvest it and put it in the silo.

How much will it cost?

The cost will be determined by the individuals. He can dig a trench in two days time with a friso or a slip that will hold lots of feed. If he has no team he can dig his trench with a shovel, which of course will require more time and is harder work. If he has no binder, he can use a hand sled to cut his feed. Some have even cut their feed with a hoe. What I am trying to say is that even though one has no money nor machinery he can still build a trench silo and put up enough feed to go a long way toward carrying their livestock through the winter. The time required to dig the trench will be about the time it would take to shock the feed. The feed is much easier stacked in the silo than in the open. Anyone can stack in the silo, but it takes experienced hands to build a sack that will keep in the open. The cost will in no case be more than putting up the same amount of feed in a stack.

The value of the feed. Experience has shown that feed from one acre put in a silo has much more or as much food value as the feed from two acres put in a well preserved stack.

Trench silo as feed insurance. This section of the state raises good feed crops some years and other years makes feed failures. If we would bury all our feed when we make good crops we would never have to worry about a feed failure. The well filled trench silo would tide us over. Feed in a trench cannot burn up, blow away, be eaten by rodents or destroyed by insects.

Those farmers who are interested should talk to our county agent. He will assist you with your feed problems any way he can. He might be able to make certain suggestions which would help you solve your particular problem.

FARM PROGRAM A RELIEF?

The Agricultural Conservation Program is decidedly not a relief program. It is a program to assist the farmers to make a success of farming. "Should the Soil Conservation program become a relief program, it will be doomed to failure," said Mr. C. A. Cobb, Director Southern Region. The Government has promised to pay the farmer to follow certain practices, which it feels will improve the fertility of the soil and preserve this fertility for the future, as well as the present generations. If the government is willing to pay us to follow certain practices for our own good, let's do our part and do our best to live up to our side of the bargain.

An Industrial Texas

That Texans are commencing to think seriously of their state as an industrial empire is well as an agricultural and cattle empire, is shown by the widespread approval given recent suggestion of Matthew S. Sloan, chairman of the board and president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines, for a state-sponsored effort to develop the state industrially. Serving as guest columnist for the editor of the Dallas Times Herald, the Katy Lines' chief executive declared the time is right for Texas to capitalize upon its manifold opportunities.

Pointing to the success of the Texas Department of Agriculture, Mr. Sloan said that by increasing the size and value of the state's crops it had paid its way a hundred fold. "Would not a similar department concerned with bringing new industries into being, with finding ways for putting more of the state's natural resources into profitable production and with focusing attention of the industrial world upon Texas, also pay handsome dividends?" he asked.

During the two and a half years he has been president of the Katy, Mr. Sloan has spent much of his time traveling over the state, studying conditions and becoming acquainted with business leaders. A director in several of the country's larger industrial and financial concerns and, prior to commencing his career as a railroad executive, and outstanding figure in the public utility field, Mr. Sloan's training and broad experience adds weight to his statement that "no other state has so many justifications for planning industrial growth through organized and systematically directed effort." Editorial comment indicates his suggestion is regarded as one worthy of the best thought of all Texans.

The Texas Weekly reproduced Mr. Sloan's article almost in its entirety and added that it "speaks for itself and requires no comment, although, it is in order to remark that it shows once more how the sentiment for an industrial Texas - which would not, as Mr. Sloan pointed out, have an adverse effect on agriculture in the state - is growing."

"Mr. Sloan is right" commented the Dallas Times Herald, "a state like Texas must balance its economy. The state has offered many kinds of aid to farmers; the time has arrived for manufacturers to be given their
