Construction On WTU Paint Creek Generating Station Begins July 1st

Construction for a $10 million unit was placed in commercial operation in 1953. Subsequently, generating units were added in 1955 and in 1959. With the installation of the fourth unit, the Paint Creek station will be the largest generating station in WTU's system.

On May 16, 1969, the Company placed a new 95,000 KW steam generating unit in commercial service at the Rio Pecos Power Station near McCarney. Hardy pointed out that building to provide generating capability for West Texas was a continuous program and that multi-million dollar construction programs frequently overlapped, even though sometimes it requires from three to four years or longer from the initial planning stage to commercial operation.

The Paint Creek Station is one of seven major steam generating plants operated by West Texas Utilities Company. The other plants, Lake Pauline station near Quanah, the Abilene Station, the Oak Creek Plant in Cooke County, the Concho and the San Angelo Power Plants at San Angelo, the Rio Pecos Plant at McCarney, and a gas turbine plant at Fort Stockton, are all inter-connected by high voltage transmission systems. These plants provide electric energy for 167 towns and communities served by the Company.

WTU's Paint Creek Generating Station is located on a 120-acre site on the north shore of the Paint Creek Reservoir 14 miles southeast of Haskell and 16 miles northeast of Stamford. Initial construction of the plant was begun in 1952, and the first unit was placed in commercial operation in 1953.

Additional contracts for electrical installations and piping and instrumentation will be let at a future date. John Hutchison, WTU Vice President and Chief Engineer, pointed out the addition of the fourth unit at the plant, a 107,000 KW steam turbine generator, will almost double the plant's generating capability. When the unit is placed in service in the spring of 1971, the station will have a generating capability of 233,400 KW. This represents a 17% increase in the Company's generating capability.

David Craddock will serve as WTU's resident construction superintendent, and Leo Holton will serve as the Company's electric supervisor for the construction project.

The chamber of commerce office by June 18th and all interested merchants are urged to contact the office as the limited amount of time will not allow personal contact with all owners and managers of business firms.

The Jaycee wives club announced that they would participate in the day of fun by erecting a tent on the courthouse lawn as a symbol of the old Road to Ruin Saloon. Here the hard drinkers can quench their thirst by purchasing cold and heady cider by the drink, as well as other questionable beverages, pending whether Sheriff Garrett is out of town.

All local people are being urged to dig up old time frontier clothes to don for the special occasion.

James Powell of the Haskell Livestock Auction sale has announced that a calf roping contest open to the world will be staged at his arena on the night of July 1st.

Other special features are expected to be added to the agenda before the big day, staged in commemoration of the early days when Haskell was a struggling frontier town, situated in the heart of the cattle country.

New Officers Are Installed By B&PW Club

The Haskell Business and Professional Womens Club held their final meeting of the year, Tuesday, June 10, at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank, with Nettie McCollum, president, presiding.

After a short business session, Mrs. Rae Phillips of Abilene, District Seven Director, in a very impressive ceremony, using the theme: "Approaching the Golden Anniversary", installed the following officers for 1968-1970: president, Mrs. Hal Greene; first vice president, Mrs. Myron Beard; second vice president, Mrs. Clyde Bland; secretary, Mrs. Stanley Furrh; treasurer, Mrs. Woodrow Frazier; reporter, Mrs. Miller Montgomery; and parliamentarian, Nettie McCollum. Mrs. Phillips lighted one large candle and each new officer was asked to light a candle, as they accepted the challenge of their responsibility.

Mrs. Greene was presented the president's pin and gavel by Nettie McCollum, retiring president. A short talk was given by Mrs. Greene and a business meeting was called for July 1st in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank.

Mrs. Robert Free and Mrs. Gerald Fincher were guests for the evening.

The retiring officers, serving as hostesses for the meeting, served a salad supper to a large group of members and their guest.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — On May 30, 1958, President Woodrow Wilson issued a proclamation designating June 14th as "Flag Day." The date chosen by Wilson was not without reason.

On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a resolution, which for all intents and purposes, originated the official design of our U. S. Flag. The resolution provided, "Resolved that the Flag of the United States be made of 13 stripes alternate red and white, that the union be 13 stars white in a blue field representing a new constellation."

Observance of June 14 as National Flag Day stems from that action by the Continental Congress meeting in Philadelphia on this day in 1777.

Many people lay claim to originating the idea of "Flag Day" to be celebrated on June 14th. Organizations of "Fathers of Flag Day" and "Mothers of Flag Day" are numerous. Doubtless President Wilson was influenced by these groups to issue his proclamation but the date itself had been historically established.

A school teacher from Fredonia, Wisconsin probably deserves the greatest credit for his campaign to designate a day to especially honor the Flag. In 1885 Bernard Cigrand arranged for his students in a small country school to put on a program called the "Flag Birthday." It was held on June 14. From then on, both during his teaching and after retirement, Mr. Cigrand devoted his time and energies to having a special day set aside to honor the Flag of our Country. From what is known of this man, he thought that even then too many people took our heritage for granted and failed to appreciate to the proper degree the significance of the Flag.

History is a little uncertain as to who actually proposed the original Flag. There is disagreement and even whether Betsy Ross, at the request of George Washington, sewed the first flag together in June, 1776, in her house at 238 Arch Street in Philadelphia. There is even a question about where the Flag was first flown. During the early part of the Revolution, George Washington used the "Grand Union Flag" which bore the British Cross of St. George and St. Andrew on a background of blue with 13 red and white stripes representing the Colonies. It was meant to symbolize unity among the Colonies and to bolster the morale of his soldiers.

The British crosses represented the relationship to the Mother Country and even

Marion Making Travel Study Tour of Europe

Alvin Rex Marion, son of Carl Marion of San Diego, California, and grandson of Mrs. C. W. Marion and Mrs. J. L. Tolliver, Sr., of Haskell, is making a travel and study tour of Europe. The tour is sponsored by the School of Business of Texas Christian University.

The six hours of college credit offered for this tour will complete his requirements for a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree to be awarded in August.

Purpose of the tour is to provide students with a meaningful exposure to European business and economics, particularly as they relate to activities of a similar nature in the United States.

Countries to be visited include England, France, Netherlands, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Registration Begins Monday At G. A. Camp

Registration will begin at 2:00 p. m. Monday, June 16, for the Junior G. A. Camp to be held at Lueders Baptist Encampment Grounds. The camp will continue through June 19.

Girls from Double Mountain Area and Sweetwater Association will be included in the camp. They will be divided into four groups: ages 9, 10, 11, 12 and over. Cost will be $10.50 per person.

Scheduled activities will begin at 3 p. m. Not new but exciting is the way the program is being described. Theme for the camp is "One World, One Message."

Foursquare Church Slates Special Services

With Rev. Rueben Taylor of Wichita Falls, Evangelist, three nights of special services will be conducted at the Haskell Foursquare Gospel Church, South Second and Avenue F.

Services will begin at 8:00 p. m., Friday, June 13; Saturday, June 14, and 11:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m., Sunday, June 15th.

Rev. Taylor, a talented harmonica and guitar player, is a graduate of L.I.F.E. Bible College. He has pastored churches in Virginia, Georgia, Mississippi, and is presently assistant pastor of the Wichita Falls Foursquare Church.

Special music will be featured at each of the services. Rev. Roy Herricks, pastor of the local church, extends a cordial welcome to everyone to attend.

though the Revolution was on and fighting in progress, the Flag was used as long as there was hope for reconciliation before all ties were severed.

After several months of fighting, hope of averting total war was finally abandoned.

It may have been soon afterwards, that George Washington, Robert Morris and the uncle of Betsy Ross' husband, George Ross, asked her to sew a flag of certain design representing the independent colonies. There seems to be no official data to prove where the Flag was first flown or its dimensions.

The record is made clear some 37 years later when Francis Scott Key, a prisoner aboard a British ship in Baltimore Harbor, wrote a poem describing the attack on Fort Mchenry. He immortalized that particular Flag as the "Star Spangled Banner."

Edwin Roberson Rates Superior In State Contest

Edwin Roberson, son of Haskell County Judge and Mrs. B. O. Roberson, of Rochester, competed in the University of Texas State Solo Ensemble Contest in Austin, Monday, June 2. Over 2,500 students from throughout the state converged on the University of Texas campus to compete in Instrumental Solos and Ensembles and Vocal Solos and Ensembles.

The students' performances were judged on tone technique, interpretation, selection and general effect. Their entry was rated from a Division I to a Division V.

Edwin received a Division I rating, which is a superior rating and the highest given.

To be eligible for the state contest, the participants must have received a Division I rating on a solo or ensemble at the Regional level. Their solo, or ensemble must be under the class I list, most difficult, under U.I.L. rules.

Roberson played an Alto Saxophone solo... Quartetme Sonata... by Handel-Mule. His mother, Mrs. B. O. Roberson, accompanied him on the piano.

This was Edwin's third straight year to be able to compete in this contest. The two previous years he received II ratings. He will be a senior at Rochester High School in the fall.

Accompanying Edwin on the Austin trip were Mrs. B. O. Roberson and his sister, Melissa.

Rotary Club Members View Tithing Film

Rev. H. O. Abbott, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, was in charge of the program at last Thursday's noon-day luncheon meeting of Rotarians at Felker's Restaurant dining room and showed a film on "tithing."

The film emphasized why we should tithe and when we tithe we are obeying one of God's universal laws: that to receive, one must first unselfishly give.

Andy Anderson presided over the meeting. H. V. Woodard led the singing, with Gail Barnett at the piano. Invocation was given by E. J. Stewart.

Guests noted were Gene Brown of Eagle Lake and Roy Harding of Dallas.

Chamber of Commerce Manager, Rex Felker, read a letter from Dewitt C. Greer of the State Highway Commission concerning the routing of Highway 380 to follow Highway 24 to intersect with Interstate 30 at Greenville. The routing of the highway would definitely benefit Haskell in helping to boost the tourist trade.

"SHOW THE COLORS"

June 14 is Flag Day. It marks the anniversary of the day in 1776 when the United States flag was adopted.

It is a sad commentary on our times that laws have had to be passed protecting the flag from desecration.

The easiest way to gain perspective on the meaning of the flag is to visualize for a moment the void that would surround us if there simply were no flag...

Recreation Club At Rule Holds Meeting

There was a called General meeting of members of the Rule Recreation Club on Saturday night, June 7. About 20 voting members and their families were present.

Herbert Rinn presided for the business meeting in the absence of the club president, D. K. Smith. Mrs. Ed Fouts read the minutes of the previous meeting.

"Membership" in the club was defined as the heads of the household paying membership dues, and those who are supported by the said head of household and whose legal residence is there.

The club voted that "out of county" guests (actually visiting in the home of the member) may use the swimming pool free of charge, but they must be accompanied to the pool by the member they are visiting.

The club also voted that if you live in Haskell County you must be a member of the club to use the privileges of the pool.

The golf course is now in good shape and is being used by a large number of members. The golf greens are open to the public, but any non-member, regardless of residence and visiting members, must pay green fees. The fees are $1.50 for week days and $2.50 for holidays, Saturday and Sunday.

The members are reminded that after two months of non-payment of dues they will be suspended from the privileges of membership; and after four months of delinquency of payments of dues, they will be expelled from membership. To be reinstated, the delinquent member must pay all back dues.

The club has openings for both active and associate members. Active members with voting privileges pay $125 membership fees and $10 a month. Associate members, designed for those with temporary residence, may pay six months dues in advance and ten dollars a month thereafter, but will not have voting privileges.

Thursday, June 12, there will be a Junior Golf Tournament, ages through 14. This is open to members only and they will pay 25c each. Trophies will be given. It starts at 10 a. m.

Saturday, June 14, there will be a couples bridge and 42 tournament. It starts at 8:00 p. m. and will be $1 per couple. Refreshments will be served.

At 10 a. m. Tuesday, June 17, there will be a teenage golf tournament for members only. 25c admission and trophies will be given.

Wednesday, June 18, at 1:00 p. m. there will be a bridge tournament, guests are invited. Admission will be $1 each and refreshments will be served.

Proceeds from afternoon bridge tournaments will apply on the salary of the life guard, who is on duty six afternoons a week.

Two ladies have volunteered to baby sit for those mothers who would like to attend tournaments and need to bring their small children to the club.

So, members, take advantage of your club and come out and enjoy it.
