Sheriff's Posse Rides Again At Archer City

Only nine members of the Haskell County Sheriff's Posse, headed by president Gene Hunter, were able to make the parade which officially opened the Silver Anniversary Rodeo at Archer City last Thursday. The number of riders was too small, actually, to give competition to the larger clubs for parade honors.

First place went to the Jim Bowie Riding Club of Bowie. Saint Joe was second, and Dean third.

This was the fifth road trip for the local club, which had placed first at Paducah, third at Seymour and second at Rotan.

The Haskell Riding Club will go in competitive numbers to Plainview on Thursday, June 26, then to Stamford on Thursday, July 3, for the opening of the Texas Cowboy Reunion.

H. T. Fillingim, Jr., Will Begin New Duties At Haskell Bank On July 1st

H. T. FILLINGIM, JR.

H. T. Fillingim, Jr., who comes to Haskell from Captain, N. M., will assume his duties as a vice president of the Haskell National Bank, it was announced Monday by bank officials. His family will be moving here as soon as living quarters are made available.

He and his wife, Lanelle, have three children: T., who is a freshman in Hardin-Simmons University; Ann, a junior in high school, and Alice, a seventh grade student.

Mr. Fillingim comes to Haskell with several years of banking experience. He received his B.B.A. degree in finance from Baylor University, and is a 1962 graduate of Southwestern Graduate School of Banking at S.M.U., Dallas.

He was vice president and director in the Citizen's National Bank in Crosbyton for seven years; vice president and director of the Abilene National Bank in Abilene for two years, and comes to Haskell from Captain, N. M., where he has ranching interests.

He has been active in varied civic affairs, having been president of the Chamber of Commerce, vice president of the Lions Club, and a member of the board of development for Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. The family is affiliated with the First Baptist Church, and Fillingim has served as a Deacon for a number of years.

FEATURED ENTERTAINERS for the Frontier Days Western Jamboree which will be held Tuesday night, July 1, at the Texas Theatre, beginning at 7:30 p. m. will be the "Western Queens," of Abilene. These girls will entertain for about an hour, and other western bands will complete the program.

Frontier Celebration Tops List Of C-C Activities; Others Listed

The calendar year of 1969 is rapidly reaching the halfway mark at which time it will begin to slip down the hill until December 31st at which time it will become history.

There are numerous annual Chamber of Commerce projects slated to be carried out to completion before the year's end, and a beehive of activity will be necessary on the part of chamber committees to carry out the fast-moving program of work begun this year by the civic organization.

Only five days after the outstanding performance of the Breckenridge Boys' Choir on Wednesday night of this week, the big Frontier Day celebration will be kicked-off to an early start on July 1st with numerous interesting and colorful events on the day's program. According to James Powell, in charge of the reproduction of the old time cutting horse contest in honor of the legendary horse, Old Hub, has announced that the Pitchfork Ranch, 4 Six Ranch, Waggoner, Swenson and the Circle O have already notified him that they would have ranch horses in the contest slated at the Powell arena at 2:00 p. m. on July 1st.

Nancy Coody Morales is entering a 21-year-old cutting horse from the Coody Ranch.

Downtown activities of the program will begin early with the opening of business establishments from 8:00 to 9:00 a. m. at which time outstanding bargains will be featured at approximately the price they sold for here in 1898. At 9:00 a. m., "Big Mac," the Holstein steer, will be placed on the courthouse lawn and will remain there until 5:00 p. m., with women shoppers having the privilege of guessing at its exact weight for three cash prizes totaling $100.

Nighttime activities of the gala celebration will include a calf roping contest at the Powell arena open to the world, and for lovers of old time western music, the big Western Jamboree will kick-off at 7:30 p. m. at the Texas Theatre at which time the Western Queens, all girl band of Abilene will be the feature attraction with other area string bands to participate including the Melody Makers, with Clarence Meier and Associates.

Other annual chamber events include the Haskell County cotton queen contest slated for July 18th at the Elementary School with Mrs. Luther Burkett as chairman of the outstanding annual production where a young lady will be selected to reign as queen of cotton, and also of the Haskell County Fair.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the county fair held at the chamber of commerce office on Monday night of this week, the printing of the fair catalogue was awarded to the Haskell Free Press and plans call for immediate work to begin on the informative and colorful fair program. Present indications are that the 1969 edition of the fair will even exceed the 1968 annual event which was highly successful from the standpoint of crowds in attendance, participation county-wide and from a financial standpoint. Bumper stickers advertising the annual fair were passed to those in attendance and every one is encouraged to drop by the chamber office to pick up one of the colorful bumper stickers.

Yet another popular event sponsored by the chamber of commerce will be the annual Miss Hey-Day and Little Miss Hey-Day this year under the capable direction of Mrs. R. C. Couch Jr., as chairman. Mer- chants are urged to select chosen candidates as soon as possible to enable publicity pictures to be published in the Haskell Free Press. Debbie (Cont. on Back Page, Sec. 1)

Remember The First Rodeo Held In Haskell? Iron Pearsey Does!

It's a "fur piece" back to the days of Haskell's first rodeo, which Frontier Day here on July 1 will be commemorating, in part.

Few people—very, very few—can go back in memory to that eventful day in 1889, but there's one Haskell citizen who can. He's Iron Pearsey, 94-year-old resident of his life here and has seen the town transformed from a bald prairie to the thriving community it is today.

Mr. Pearsey was a young man of 23 when this first rodeo was held. It might well be termed the "first Cowboy Reunion" in this area, and was held "out on the prairie" on the outskirts of town.

But Iron Pearsey was practically an "old timer" in the town at that time!

Born in Star City, Ark., he came to Haskell with a brother, following the death of his mother, when he was only ten years of age. We guess he liked the town and area, for his remain'g days were over when he began to "take roots" in Haskell.

The memory of this man spans many years and covers many events. He even remembers the old Bloddy Bucket, which was the name given Haskell's only saloon and was often referred to as the "Road to Ruin" saloon.

The years spent in this area were not without Pearsey's cowboy activities. He reportedly rode for several ranches, one of them being the Henry Post Ranch.

Mr. Pearsey married the former Rachel Miller in Haskell, and they reared a family

IRON PEARSEY ...he's 94 years young of four children. The two daughters are deceased. One of the sons, Leon, lives in Haskell and the other, Harvey, in Escondido, Calif. Mrs. Pearsey was the daughter of a former Haskell County Judge.

Many a person who attended the Haskell Public Schools have very pleasant and sentimental memories of Iron Pearsey. He was employed by the schools for 23 years, and two instances of his kindness to students were retold recently:

It was his duty to ring the gong (or bell) which officially began the class periods each morning. Students recall seeing him motion for them to hurry in order to reach classes on time. "I'll bet," one of them said, "that Iron has delayed ringing that bell for five minutes to keep me from being tardy!"

Students sometimes brought their lunches to school and didn't eat them. Pearsey would give these to students he knew were hungry. "If it hadn't been for Iron Pearsey," one of them recalled, "I believe I would have starved to death."

Upon retiring from the schools he became associated with his son, Leon, in the painting and interior decorating business until he became "fully" retired.

His memories of Haskell covers events of over 80 years, his mind is clear as a bell, his health is good, his step is firm and springy—in fact, Iron Pearsey seems to have suffered very few of the infirmities associated with age.

And on Frontier Day—come July 1, 1969—Iron Pearsey will be able to remember a lot more than any of us, because his memory will span many more years and rehash more events.

Retired Farmer Of Sagerton Dies June 18th

Will Stegemoller, 74, retired farmer and resident of the Sagerton community for many years, passed away at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 18, in Haskell Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient for only four hours.

The family settled near Sagerton, and Mr. Stegemoller farmed in that area all his life.

He married Miss Louise Balzer at Sagerton on August 23, 1916.

Jerry Logan To Speak Sunday At Baptist Church

Jerry Logan, defensive safety for the 1968 NFL pro-football champions, the Baltimore Colts, will speak in the First Baptist Church of Haskell on July 2nd at 7:30 p. m. Jerry played high school football at Graham and made All-American at West Texas State.

He was drafted by the Baltimore Colts in 1962 and has played with them 6 seasons. He went to the Pro Bowl in 1966 and made some of the all-pro teams last season.

Jerry is an outstanding Christian and carries his witness into the world of sports. He influenced other Colts to begin a Bible study among the team members. The group began with three and has grown to include almost the entire team.

Young people of this area are especially invited to come and hear Jerry Logan.

A Youth Fellowship will be held after the July 2 service. Haskell head coach, Sonny Everett, will emcee a question and answer session with Jerry Logan in the church's Youth Center.

Shower Wednesday

A light thundershower visited Haskell around 7:30 Wednesday morning, extending about nine miles north. Weatherman Sam Herren reported another .04 of an inch in Haskell.

Bet Yer Shoe Laces It's Summertime!

Perhaps you thought it was summer several days ahead of Saturday—but you were wrong! It wasn't summer at all, officially, and the thermometer's pointer stayed below the century mark generally.

The weatherman has co-operated nicely, we'd say, for the first few days of summer—since it became official Saturday. "If it's gonna be summer, let's give 'em summer weather," he opines.

According to Sam Herren, "The Weatherman," the thermometer started cutting up on Saturday, the first day of summer. It hovered close to the century mark, 98 degrees, for the last day of spring—Friday, then Saturday it went to a sizzlin' 104 degrees and dropped to 103 on Sunday.

A total of .04 of an inch of moisture that came on Thursday night has been recorded for the week. Heavier rain and hail the size of softballs, although light in intensity, was reported in sections of the county.

Them Wuz The Good Ole Days!

By AARON EDGAR

"Backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight..." Did you ever pine for the good old ways? Well, how about 80 years ago in Haskell!

Then it was that Haskell was four years old. The population was between 600 and 700 souls. The town boasted four dry-goods and grocery stores that sold goods at prices as low as could be had in railroad towns (with 50 cents per hundred pound added for freight), and dry-goods and groceries were "as cheap as could be bought anywhere."

These facts were garnered by perusing the pages of a newspaper in its infancy—the Haskell Free Press—back in 1889. In the town of Haskell there were also two drug stores, one notions firm, one hotel and restaurant, "both first class"; one blacksmith shop, two cabinet and wood shops; one exchange bank; one barber shop giving haircuts for 25 cents; one silversmith, one saddlery shop, one boot and shoe shop, one meat market, two livery stables, three doctors; 10 lawyers and land agents, one first class county newspaper and job of doing, and only one saloon—all doing a very good business.

That "first class" newspaper, of course, was the Free Press, with a subscription rate of $1.50 per year. On Frontier Day, the Free Press is to sell subscriptions as close to that price as possible—$1.75 per year. That's one-half of the present rate, and as low as postal authorities will permit today's paper to be sold.

Two Abilene business firms, J. W. Red & Co., and S. Lapowski & Bros., were the biggest advertisers in the newspaper. Here are some of the prices of their items:

Ladies' extra quality kid gloves, 50 cents; six spools of thread, 25 cents; Ladies' button kid shoes, $1.00; men's shoes, 95 cents; yard wide bleached domestic, 5 cents; Cheyenne saddles, $17 to $30; single buggy harness, $10; $12 and $15; Singer and New Home sewing machines, $10 to $30. By the way, J. W. Red & Co. were dealers in only clothing, hats, boots, shoes, dry goods, notions, carpets and staple and fancy groceries. Oscar Martin and H. B. Martin were editors and proprietors of the Free Press, and in one issue they commented editorially: "Nearly all of our delinquent subscribers have paid up their subscriptions, and to those who have paid, our sincere thanks for assisting us in a time of need."

Regarding their subscription price, they said: "For $1.50 we will send you the Free Press for one year, and if you pay cash we will give you a year's subscription to the Texas Farm and Ranch free."

Hammons and Bates were dealers in fine wines, liquors and cigars in Haskell, and advertised: "Will keep always on hand a good supply of the celebrated Kentucky whisky."

Optimism was rife in 1889! An excerpt from the Free Press proves it: "There never was a country on earth where people complain less about hard times. Haskell don't know what they are. It is indeed remarkable to see the cheerfulness of all whom you meet."

And people made money hand over fist! We noted: "C. B. Banks came to Haskell a short time since and purchased a couple of thousand dollars worth of real estate, and has already been offered a price for his purchase that would make him over $1,000 profit on his investment of about three weeks."

Regarding cotton production, we found: "The merchants made up 2 1/2 cents and paid Mr. Marcy for the first bale of cotton ever ginned in Haskell, shipped by B. H. Dodson and consigned to W. D. Cleveland & Co., Houston, Texas."

On and on we could go, as we thumb through those brittle yellowed pages. But, suffice it to say, we'd better stop living in the past and begin looking to the future!

Miss Wilkinson Is Speaker For Rotary Club

Importance of the correct choice of words was emphasized at noon Thursday, June 19, when Miss Sue Wilkinson of Haskell was guest speaker for the Rotary Club's regular meeting at Felker's Restaurant.

Miss Wilkinson, who will be a senior in Haskell High School next year, gave her talk as "a final test in speech this year," and entitled it "Vision or Life."

Words, spoken can never be recalled, she said. "Words give expression, reveal intellect. They show depth of character and may be immoral, inspiring or destroying."

The meeting was presided over by R. C. Couch, Jr., president of the club. Invocation was by Bill Ratliff. Group singing was led by H. V. Woodard to the piano accompaniment of Miss Gail Barnett. Chas. H. Conner was program chairman and introduced the speaker. County Judge B. O. Roberson was introduced as a guest.

Student Named On Honor List

Steven Harper of Haskell among the 48 students have been named to the List at McMurry College for the spring semester, according to Dr. Porter Crow, president of the college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harper of Haskell. Qualify for the dean's list, student must carry 12 or more hours during the semester and earn a grade point average of 3.5 or better out of a 4.0.

Student Tells Of Sweden And Work of Lions

Anders Thufresson, exchange student from Sweden was speaking at Tuesday's meeting of the Haskell Lions Club, held at Felkey's Restaurant. He gave some interesting facts about his native country: its location, climate, population of towns, etc. He said his home town, a seaside resort, usually grows from 4,000 in winter to 30,000 in summer by tourists coming to the resort city.

In reviewing work of Lions Clubs in Sweden, he said: "The first Lions Club was organized March 24, 1948, in Stockholm. Today there are 455 clubs with a total membership of 14,000."

"One big project for the Lions is the cancer crusade," he continued. "The crusade goes on for one week, and everyone contributing receives a red feather. Within a week, every Swede is wearing a feather, and all clubs raised over seven and one-half million dollars for cancer research."

Dr. James F. Cadenhead introduced Anders, and George Fouts presented him a pair of children's cowboy boots. It was explained that Anders was to exchange them for a pair that fits him. Anders presented the club with a flag-like emblem of Lions Clubs in Sweden.

Isn't this hot weather hot? If this is the rehearsal for summer, I don't want to be here for any main performance. I don't remember such hot weather in June in years. It probably is good for the young cotton. With all the nice moisture we have, the cotton should be growing fine in weather like this.

This must be like the weather in Viet Nam. Curtis Bittner writes his parents that the thing that bothers him the most is the heat. His ship is the Chevalier and they support different aircraft carriers. Once they were with the Enterprise and once with the USS King. Anyway, Curtis has to stay down in the ship and watch those gadgets that look like meters. I am sure his title is better described than "watching those gadgets," but I don't know just what he watches, maybe it is a throttle. Anyway, you who can speak "ship language" know, I understand Army language, but not Navy. He is hoping that when he gets his promotion, he will also get another job. He is fine though, and saw a friend he worked with in Garland when he had shore leave in the Philippine Islands not long ago. He was surely missed at his sister Ina's wedding last week.

Bob Hare, our Gandy man, who lives in the Howard Montgomery homeplace, left Sunday with the Stamford unit of Army Engineers, National Guard, is spending two weeks training at Fort Hood, Texas.

Wayne Cadenhead, Raymond Higgins from Hardin-Simmons University, and Anders Thufresson, exchange student from Sweden, visited the Gene Overton's Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buenger helped host the opening of the Stamford Airport Saturday. Mrs. Lucille Dunnham took her little granddaughter home to Austin and is spending this week visiting her son, Johnny Watson, his wife and baby daughter.

April, Johnny Paul and Scottie Montgomery are spending this week with their grandmother, Mrs. Howard Montgomery, and will spend next week with their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith.

Mrs. Bill Mickler spent Sunday with her daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell and children.

Bruce and Barbara Bray of Albany were community visitors for a while Friday afternoon. They were on vacation and had been to Knox City to the experiment station to see which grass would be best for their yard. They built a new home south of Albany last year, and are raising sheep and farming 15 acres. Bruce said his mother is in good health and has moved to a new place on the outskirts of Albany. The John Bray family were early Paint Creekers and meant a lot to our community. Mr. Bray was on the Post school board for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Cathey of Grand Prairie and Rev. and Mrs. Traister and two children of Fort Worth spent several days in the community last weekend.

John Carlos Montgomery, Johnny Paul, April and Scottie, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Howard Montgomery, at her cabin at the lake.

Wallar and William Overton of Abilene attended the Order of the Arrow Tap-out ceremony at Camp Tonkawa last Thursday evening.

Out-of-town guests for the Ina Bittner-Gary Robertson wedding were Ann McLennan of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bittbrook-Phil Coleman wedding were Rev. and Mrs. Truett Kuentler and daughters of Kress, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cornelius, Mrs. Annie Jones and daughter and Mrs. John Anderson, of Stamford, Rev. and Mrs. Leslie White and family and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sande-tur and family of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dean and children, Mrs. Jim Dean, Mrs. Robert Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pierson, John R. Second Reunion Of Ratliff Family Held Near Austin

The second reunion of the family of the late Marquis Lafayette Ratliff and Narcissa Jane (Beasley) Ratliff was held at Greenshores on Lake Austin, near Austin, Texas, on June 20, 21 and 22. Members of the family began arriving immediately after noon on Friday, June 20, and before the time for adjournment on Sunday afternoon, June 22, 110 in all had registered from points as far away as Long Beach, California and Arlington, Virginia.

The first reunion was held June 2, 3 and 4 of 1967, also at Greenshores, and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that the next reunion should be held in 1971, at a time and place to be determined by the committee of ten.

Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff were natives of Hickman County, Tennessee, and came to Texas in 1892 and settled near Era, in Cooke County. They later moved to Glasscock County and finally to Jones County about 1910, where they lived between Stamford and Anson. They are buried in the Stamford Cemetery.

They were the parents of 10 children, the late Judge L. D. Ratliff of Haskell being one of their sons. The only surviving children are two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Jeffress of Amarillo and Mrs. Walter Campbell of Canton, both of whom were present for the reunion.

A large number of the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff residing in this area were present. Officers re-elected are Dennis P. Ratliff, President, Haskell, Texas; Joe Lang, vice-president, Arlington, Va.; Marie Ratliff Brooks, Dallas, Texas, secretary, and Mrs. W. B. Gunn, Amarillo, Texas, historian.

June Activities Are Revealed By Homemakers

June activities for the Haskell Young Homemakers were kicked off by a tremendously interesting program given by Dr. Harry Sarles of the Presbyterian Church here in Haskell, on June 10. The Young mothers of the club have discovered through this year that they are each the heart of their homes. This job of mother is, or should be, a deep spiritual job also.

Dr. Sarles' program, entitled "The Importance of Religion to Family Living" decidedly pointed out that the spiritual values of a child start in the home. And since the mother is the axis around which the family revolves, it is her duty and obligation to instill these values in her children. Dr. Sarles stated, "The home is the only place where real mature personality develops." His program was a delight to each member present.

Another highlight in the June activities was the Pre-Father's Day Bake Sale held on Saturday, June 14. Each member prepared two cakes or three pies for the sale. The sale was a tremendous success and the club wishes to thank each person who bought.

Listen for the ringing of bells on July 4th. The Young Homemakers will be ringing the "Bells for Freedom" at 2 o'clock that afternoon. This is a Texas-wide event staged by the Young Homemakers of Texas each year. Ringing the bells should remind each of us of the price that is paid for our freedom in America each day by our own in far Viet Nam.

Ring the bells should remind us to pray for peace and better still should inspire us to do something about it in our homeland. Young Homemakers of Texas—and especially Haskell, Texas—will be ringing the Bells for Freedom on the 4th of July and will be thanking God for their great country.

City Council Has Meeting On Tuesday Night

In a meeting of the City Council on Tuesday night, a resolution was adopted opposing the state's proposal that interest earned by purchase of municipal bonds be declared for income tax purposes. The Council members expressed belief that such a move would cause bond purchasers to require higher interest.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and bills from June 10 to June 24, 1969, were presented. Other routine matters included a report on the sewer plant, a report from Mr. Belton on the airport and a report on the dump ground.

Frontier Day:

(Cont. from Page 1, Section 1) Darnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Darnell, is the current reigning queen and she will be present for all performances of the 1969 event. Plans are yet to be finalized for the annual Christmas Program sponsored by Haskell merchants, but work in the immediate future will begin to make this year's program one of the most attractive ever presented in this area.

Preliminary plans are already being made for the annual Quail Rodeo which was a popular sporting event last year. Wallace Wooten will again serve as chairman and under his capable leadership and known ability this year's quail rodeo will be something to look forward to.

Present plans call for a new and vigorous approach to the Junior College with Mrs. Luther Burkett in charge as chairman. Tentative plans for a chamber sponsored tour of a live-stock feeding program at Lamesa or Plainview are being made with county agent Max Stapleton serving as chairman.

These activities, plus others not announced as yet, will definitely keep all volunteer workers busy as they concentrate their efforts to the goal of making Haskell a bigger and better place to live and conduct business.

Tax Questions And Answers

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q-I didn't have to file an estimated return in April but you mailed me a reminder notice about the June installment. Do I have to pay anything?

A-If you do not meet the requirements for filing an estimated tax declaration please ignore the notice. Reminder notices for the June 16 installment were sent to all those who mailed the new estimated tax packages in February based on possible liability for payment.

Briefly, an estimated tax declaration may have to be filed and installment payments made if you expect to have a balance due of $40 or more when you file your 1969 Federal income tax return. You can obtain details on filing requirements by sending a post card to your local district office. Ask for a copy of Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax.

Q-I've moved since I mailed my tax return. Will my refund check be sent to my new address?

A-Your refund check will be forwarded if you have left a change of address with the post office at your old address. If you did not, you should notify your IRS Service Center, and give your name, Social Security Number and new address.

Each year, IRS has thousands of refunds it is unable to deliver to taxpayers because they have moved without leaving a forwarding address. In these cases, the refund is credited to the taxpayer's account and reissued as soon as IRS obtains an up-to-date address.

Q-I've heard all your taxes have to be paid before IRS will let you leave the country. Is that right?

A-U. S. citizens are not required to obtain tax clearance when going abroad. However, many aliens are required to obtain a tax clearance before their departure from the U. S. IRS Publication 519, U. S. Tax Guide for Aliens, explains this. Send a postcard to your district office to obtain a free copy.

Q-I teach and plan to go to summer school. Can I deduct the cost of my courses?

A-Generally, educational expenses are deductible if they are expressly required by your employer or if they are necessary to maintain or improve your skills in your present position. No deduction can be taken for courses needed to meet the minimum standards of employment or to obtain a new job.

For additional details send a post card to your district director requesting a free copy of Publication 508, Tax Information on Educational Expenses. Q-I bought some stock five years ago that has tripled in value. Is it true that if I give the stock to my son I won't have to pay income tax on my profit?

A-Yes, tax law permits you to make a gift of this sort. Note that if the fair market value of the stock plus any other gifts to your son is over $3,000 in any one year you will have to file a Federal gift tax return.

Your son will have to report as income, dividends received on the stock during the time he owns it. Also, if your son sells the stock, his cost basis will be your cost basis plus any gift taxes paid.

Q-We are expecting our first child next month. When can we start taking a withholding exemption for the baby?

A-You can make a change in your withholding anytime after the child is born by filing a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate.

Keep good records of your medical expenses this year as well as any reimbursements you receive from insurance. They will be helpful if you decide to itemize deductions on your 1969 return.

Kathy Hager Attends 4-H Club Workshop Recently In Houston

MISS KATHY HAGER

Miss Kathy Hager of Weimert returned this week from a week-long 1969 Texas State 4-H Workshop, held at the University of Houston campus in Houston.

The workshop was held for 25 state 4-H council members to build a 4-H program for 100,000 4-H'ers for next year. They studied and planned 4-H subjects as camping, recreation, citizenship, democracy, publicity, professional expansion etc. A committee was responsible for each

Theme of the workshop was "Don't just stand there, do something! Carry home a new generation enthusiasm," and that's just what every member of the council did.

On Tuesday, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes spoke to the council on "Youth of Today." He is a former 4-H member and contributes a lot of his success to his county agent.

Sen. Charles Herring was also at the Tuesday luncheon.

It wasn't all work and no play. Recreation was planned for night activities. Wednesday evening, a bus was chartered to take the council members to Galveston to visit the Sea-arama.

On the last day of the workshop a newspaper was published by council members. It was composed, typed and run off by the members.

That night a banquet was held in their honor, at which time new officers for the 1970 State Council were installed. A plaque was presented to Pennzoil United, Inc., for their 20th year as sponsors of the workshop. Several of Pennzoil's personnel and their wives were present. All the council's expenses, including transportation, were paid by the sponsoring firm.

Kathy was elected to speak on behalf of the State 4-H Council at the Texas Electric Cooperative's annual meeting in Austin on August 13-15. She will be attending the State Fair and "honor award banquet" in Dallas in October. She was chosen to attend the workshop last December, when she was elected chairman of the District Three 4-H Council. She has been a member of 4-H for nine years and has carried many projects. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hager of Weinert.

State Gains From Violations Of Game Laws

Game management officers of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department cleared 1,978 cases in May.

Fishing violations were the most numerous with 966 citations being given. Of these, 868 citations were for fishing without a license.

Water safety violations are on the upswing with 583 citations being issued, 336 of them for failure to have a life jacket for each person in the boat. There were also 101 violations for operating a motor boat without evidence of registration aboard.

Hunting citations numbered 124, and there were 77 commercial fishing violations.

Disposition of cases was as follows: Convicted, 1,750; dismissed, 92; appealed to higher court, 5; fine suspended, 4; not guilty, 4; juvenile, 15; void, 38; and money to Highway Department, 1.

The amount of fines assessed was $32,440.60, with the State's portion being $26,660.52 and the arrest fees amounting to $1,515.79. The State Treasury got $28,176.31.

SUMMER CARE OF ROSES

Proper care of roses at this time of the year will insure attractive plants and abundant flowers this fall, says Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist. Regular applications of a complete fertilizer plus a continuation of the insect and disease control program are musts, he adds. Fertilization is not recommended after early August.

Drama "Texas" Has Opened Its Fifth Season

CANYON — The yawning chasms of Palo Duro Canyon are haunted each summer with the forgotten voices of pioneers who settled the Texas steppes.

On June 27, the musical drama "Texas" returned to its theater under the stars, staged against a 600-foot backdrop of rock and boulders. The show runs through September 2.

It began four years ago in 15,000-acre Palo Duro Canyon State Park. The Texas Pioneers Heritage Foundation wanted to "pay tribute to the brave men and women who had the courage to settle a hard and bitter land, once called uninhabitable, and make it prosper."

In Pioneer Amphitheatre, nestled in a corner of the canyon, the stage was set.

Foundation members found the playwright, Paul Green, a Pulitzer Prize-winning author who had scripted "The Lost Colony" and "Stephen Foster Story" for outdoor productions.

Palo Duro Canyon is a showcase arena as big as all outdoors, where travelers may pay $4, $2.75 and $1.75 to watch professional and local actors relive the struggle to find a home in the West.

"Texas" begins at 8:55 nightly, except Tuesday, when a muted trumpet echoes sadly down the canyon walls at sunset, and two horsemen ride slowly to the shadowy rim 600 feet above the theater.

Lighting and stereophonic sound ricochet down the cliffs as a prairie fire rages, as people fight searing winds, dust storms and blizzards.

In a circle of light against a darkened wall a cowboy on a palomino drives an unseen herd of tape-recorded bellowing cattle to market. The first train, also unseen, whistles mournfully in a rancher's dream. A thunderstorm explodes.

The canyon itself, quieted by day, becomes alive with song, dance and laughter. Its heritage was a proud land with proud people, working hard and finding simple pleasures in hoe-downs and "plum pickins" and "fiddle sawing."

The Texas Tourist Development Agency reports that the musical drama "Texas" was chosen for two years as one of the nation's top 20 summer events by the National Association of Travel Organizations.

NAMES OMITTED IN HISE REUNION STORY

Due to an oversight, the names of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hise of Haskell were not included in the list of those to attend the Hise reunion. They were the oldest people present for the occasion.

Our apologies are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Hise for this omission.

news editor on the Abilene paper, who said:

"I want to thank you for the news tip you gave us about the elephant falling into the moat at Abilene Zoo Wednesday. I hope you noticed in the Thursday morning paper the short story that resulted from the tip.

"I am enclosing a cub reporter's card for you. Keep up the good work, and one of these days we'll swap it for a real reporter's card."

Following News Tip, Haskell Boy, Pace O'Neal, Carries Press Card

A trip to the Nelson Park Zoo in Abilene in celebration of his tenth birthday, resulted in a thrilling experience for Pace O'Neal, son of Mrs. J. C. O'Neal, 501 S. Ave. H, Haskell.

Pace is now a bona-fide cub reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News!

He had finished eating dinner in Abilene on Wednesday, June 18, and headed for the zoo. He saw an elephant fall into a moat and become trapped.

Believing this to be a suitable news tip, Pace called the Abilene paper to report it. He was invited to the newspaper office for an interview, was shown through the offices and plant and was later issued his official press card, which reads as follows:

"Because of his interest in the Abilene Reporter-News by virtue of a visit through its offices and plant, the bearer is hereby appointed an honorary CUB REPORTER . . . and as such shall be entitled to all the privileges accorded the press so long as he is honest, diligent, and truthful to God and family, school and nation, in the honored tradition of American Journalism."

Here's the story that resulted from the news tip phoned in by Pace:

ELEPHANT OKAY FOLLOWING FALL

An Indian elephant gave many visitors to the Nelson Park Zoo a scare Wednesday afternoon when it fell into the moat surrounding its home, but there actually was no cause for alarm.

Zoo officials said they placed hay bales in the moat, allowing the elephant to get out with no injuries. With the help of the bales of hay, "he just walked out," officials said.

Both Pace and his mother declared it wasn't as simple as that. When they left the zoo, officials were having trouble getting the elephant to tread on the bales of hay—and that was over an hour after the animal's plight was discovered.

Friday morning, Pace received his press card and a personal letter from Don Oliver,

Local Delegate To Girls State Writes Pastor

One of the cherished possessions of Dr. Harry Sarles, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Haskell, is a note of appreciation written last week by Terry Kay Diggs, while attending Girls State at St. Edwards University in Austin. The letter was in response to a congratulatory note which Dr. Sarles had written Miss Diggs.

The letter follows, in part:

Dear Rev. Sarles,

Thank you so much for your vote of confidence before I left home. Now that I am actually a "Girls State" citizen, I appreciate it—being so far from all you Haskellites—almost on the level of an autographed poster of Paul Newman.

Seriously, this has proven to be the most wonderful learning experience—a combination of a fine background in political science (our instructor is a Ph.D. no less!), plus fun and the best of friends.

Yesterday was a highlight: a trip to the capitol, where we met in the actual legislative chambers, inaugurated our officials in the rotunda, were addressed by our good looking Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. Thanks again so much. Terry Kay Sturdy, the first 'shorty' was released to growers in 1966 and more than 200,000 acres are being grown in Texas and Oklahoma, said Dr. I. M. Atkins, who heads up the small grain work at Texas A&M University. Caprock is best adapted to the irrigated areas of the Texas High Plains.

Summer And Kid Baseball

With the official arrival of summer, it might be well to recognize a summer activity taking place in Haskell, and many area towns, that is well worth the time and effort consumed—that of youth baseball. It is here for its summer stay and has been going on for several weeks.

There's lots of enthusiasm among the boys. A full staff of coaches is on the job, and competition is keen. But there is one thing more that is needed: a host of friends and townspeople out to cheer the youthful players in their games.

Athletics will never be more serious to these youngsters than at this age. Besides the skill of the game and the discipline it brings, these boys are contributing five evenings a week to fine and free fun for parents and friends.

In your busy schedule of summer, make room for some evenings watching these fine young boys at the deadly serious business of baseball. You will be rewarded!

COTTON PICKIN'S

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

STAMFORD — Commodity Credit Corporation has under consideration new and higher service charges to be paid by producers for the preparation and handling of cotton loan papers. Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is vigorously protesting this increase.

The new schedule of charges was sent recently to Don Anderson, chairman of the Beltwide Cotton Producers Committee, by George V. Hansen, Deputy Administrator for State and County operations in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Washington, D. C. RPCG, a charter member of Beltwide CPC, was immediately contacted for comment.

Hansen's letter stated "The CCC Board of Directors has determined a loan service charge will be collected which will result in collections approximating the actual loan making cost," and requested Anderson's views and comments on the new proposal.

The new fee system would call for a charge of $2 for loan documents containing from one to ten bales, $3 for those with 11 to 24 bales, plus $3 for each additional 24 bales or fraction thereof.

Producers under the new procedure would be required to pay these fees to CCC on all loan documents, even those initially prepared by CCC approved loan clerks outside county offices.

Fees in the past, charged only by "outside" loan clerks, have been: 1 bale, 25 cents; 1 to 6 bales, 25 cents plus 15 cents for each bale over 1; and 7 bales and over, $1 plus 10 cents for each bale over 6.

Under the new proposal, outside loan clerks would still be authorized to charge fees in accordance with the old schedule, but producers using them would still be required to pay the CCC charge set by the new schedule.

To avoid this double charge, virtually all producers would bring loan papers to the county office for preparation.

For Form G loans to cooperative associations of producers, the associations have been bearing the cost of preparing loan documents for their producers' members. In most cases the loans have been disbursed for CCC by banks under CCC agreements, with CCC paying the servicing agent banks a fee.

The new procedure would call for cooperative associations to reimburse CCC for 30 per cent of the fee for the bank's service. CCC estimates that this percentage will cover CCC's cost of checking and making the loans.

WHY PAY NEEDLESSLY

for new, modern up-to-date plumbing when you can still purchase the old reliable Combinet (slop jar) for only 99 cents each at—

—Frontier Day Only—

MUCH OBLIGED TO EVERYBODY who made it possible to stage the first Frontier Day celebration. A heck of a lot of work but lots of fun and we hope that the Home Folks and strangers alike will enjoy the unique features of the day's program.

It sorta seems fitting that at least one day each year we take time out to ponder some about what happened here in the days of long ago. To pay homage to the oldtimers who braved winter's blizzards and summer's heat and sand to blaze a trail across the unfenced prairies. To say "Thanks" to the hardy pioneer who has long since ridden his cow hoss over the last ridge into the heart of the sunset.

As R. E. Sherrill said in his History of Haskell County, "Turn backward, turn backward, time in thy flight, make me a child again, just for tonight." So we pay tribute to the "old-timer" who left a heritage that behooves us to keep alive by the preservation of his records, deeds of his day and the colorful history of his deeds and exploits in taming the west.

If you have relics of the early days of Haskell County, we urge you to bring them to the county museum for safe keeping and the enjoyment of future generations.

Thanks again for this fine example of civic willing together in staging what could develop to an outstanding annual event.

VIETNAM VIEW

By Cpl. Dave Allen
 DA NANG, Vietnam — For a fallen Marine's comrades, memories are a source of inspiration to see a job through. The men of "B" Company, 1st Battalion, 7th Marine Regiment, located on a long, brown and dusty knoll known as Hill 65, 15 miles southwest of here, have their memories.

ned by the sun and hardened by battle, have come to live with the losses of war. With the job of searching out the enemy in rugged valleys and long endless waterways, the men treat the war as a job to be done one day at a time, with little time for looking back.

But, as the platoons and patrols from the company return from the field and the men start the slow climb to the top of their hill, their eyes lift from the ground ahead of them and focus on two red signs supported by timbers driven firmly into the dusty earth.

"In Memory of . . ." These words, unevenly stenciled on red boards, speak of the honor and respect that the company's living have for the fallen.

Names on the one sign are listed under the headings of Navy Cross, Silver Star, Bronze Star and Navy Commendation Medal. Most of the names, however, carry no such distinction and are neatly stenciled on another plain red board.

Perhaps it is not much in the way of a tribute to men who have given so much, but it is all the company has to offer in the way of outward recognition.

As the men file slowly past the wooden plaque, their eyes sweep over the honor roll and the names are burned indelibly in their memories.

DA NANG, Vietnam — The limp form is placed on the stretcher and the CH-46 Sea Knight medical evacuation helicopter begins to lift into the air. Hospital Corpsman 2nd Class Shelby C. Bell, Claremore, Texas, starts to work frantically to strengthen the thin thread of life that remains in the young Marine. He checks the pulse and heart beat. . . nothing! Quickly he places his hand, one on top of the other, and uses external heart massage on the Leatherneck's chest. At first there is no response. Another try, and this time success — a faint heart beat!

Bell removes the field dressing and replaces it with one from his medical kit. Gently he lowers the Marine's head and begins to check the less seriously wounded men.

The giant helicopter from Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 165 moves quickly out of the landing zone.

Bell calls the helicopter medevac mission one of the most challenging in military medicine. "We provide the emergency first treatment often needed for survival until the patient arrives at a hospital or hospital ship for more extensive treatment by doctors." Hospital Corpsman 2nd Class Shelby Bell — a man dedicated to saving lives.

BERLIN, Germany — Bill W. Robbins, son of Mrs. Lee Cornelius of Rt. 1, Sagerton, has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U. S. Air Force.

FREEZE WATERMELON FOR WINTER DESSERTS

Freeze watermelon cubes or balls for year round desserts, salads or appetizers. It is easy and quick, just be sure the melons to freeze are firm-fleshed, well colored and ripe, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Commercially frozen packages of melon balls usually include several kinds of melons for variety in flavor and color. The specialist suggests the chef work out his own assortment from melons available in the area.

Man On Bicycle Here Saturday On Oregon Trip

"I don't have any money, and I just want to get home," said H. Richardson last Saturday after arriving in Haskell on the first leg of what he termed a "good 2,000 mile" journey from Seymour to Portland, Oregon.

He was using his pedal extremities as "horse power" for his bicycle!

On the rear of his "vehicle" was a small cardboard sign advertising Radio Station KSEY in Seymour—but for no particular reason, "I just put it on there," he said.

Richardson said he had been in Seymour for about a month and had done part time work at a cafe there.

He said he left Seymour at 3 a. m. Saturday and arrived in Haskell around 11 o'clock. He planned to spend the night in Haskell "because I'm tired and want to get some rest" before continuing the journey.

He declared he was going to make every foot of the trip by bike, "or as long as the bicycle lasts." It was equipped with lights, and Richardson planned to do some "night driving." He estimated it would take a good seven weeks to complete the trip.

Stitching And Stewing

County H. D. Agent By Ruth Ann Fansler

Have your clothes been changing color? The cause may be due to abrasion or exposure to alkalis.

The major cause of garment color changes due to alkalis has been the result of allowing cosmetic preparations, food-stuffs and perspiration to remain in a fabric.

Color changes from abrasion appear on cotton, wool or rayon that has been dyed and blended with a different colored synthetic fiber.

Color changes from abrasion appear on cotton, wool or rayon that has been dyed and blended with a different colored synthetic fiber. Cotton, wool and rayon have a much lower abrasion resistance than synthetic yarn.

Your dry cleaner cannot do anything about this kind of color change, but he can do something about those caused by alkalis if he gets them soon enough.

Mrs. Lonnie Hise, a member of the Young Homemakers, submitted the recipe for this week.

Munday Expresses Thanks To Haskell Firemen

The Free Press received a letter Monday from Mayor J. E. Reeves of Munday, in which he expressed thanks from the Munday Fire Department and citizens of Munday for the aid which Haskell's Fire Department gave in extinguishing the fire at Munday on June 17.

"We wish to commend the Haskell firemen for the special effort and efficient performance of their fine equipment. Their help is greatly appreciated," Reeves said.

Fire Chief Tom Watson and several other firemen made the emergency trip to Munday.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK President Richard M. Nixon has proclaimed July 29-26 as National Farm Safety Week. He said, "Agriculture continues to rank third among our industries in accidental death rate. The dollar cost to the nation approaches $2 billion, but the cost in pain, grief and suffering cannot be measured."

James Michener's "The Bridge at Andau" gives a factual yet brutal look at Communism at its worst for this is the story of the Hungarian revolution.

There was a bridge at Andau, and if a Hungarian could reach that bridge, he was nearly free. By an accident of history, one of the most inconsequential bridges in Europe became one of the most important bridges in the world.

James A. Michener was at that bridge, which is in Hungary near the Austrian border. He personally helped lead many Hungarians out of their suffering, gallant country.

This is the story of the revolution told in terms of the people who lived it... the writers and philosophers who proposed it; the students who initiated it; the boys and girls who wrestled with tanks barehanded; and the workers, the propaganda darlings of communism, who resisted both communism and Russia to the death.

This is Michener's urgent warning to any nation or group that allows itself to be swept into the orbit of international communism. "There can be only one outcome: terror and the loss of every freedom."

The Texas Safety Association, which endorsed the "breath test" legislation, estimates that as many as 500 lives a year may be saved by removal of drunk drivers from the public roads in Texas.
