All residents are asked to put your trash where it will be accessible to the collector, and it will be hauled off.

"Your cooperation will be appreciated," the Mayor said.

LETTERS to EDITOR

JAYTON MANY YEARS AGO TO THE EDITOR:

Fifty years of progress, depending on the way you look at it. In 1920, Jayton was a rip roaring lively town without many dull moments. There were more people here then than now. We had three large merchantile stores, two good drug stores, two well patronized barber shops, at least two dry cleaners, two lumber yards, two hardware stores, two garages, a boot and shoe shop, a tinshop, two blacksmith shops, a wagon yard, a depot with Western Union and express offices. Tom Holly's dry line, two churches, with good attendance on special occasions. We had no beauty shops, as women were pretty enough without them. Getting liquor was no problem, if you had four bits. Most of the population enjoyed the medicine shows, carnivals, and probably two or three tent shows through out the year with a few rodeos thrown in. The Smart Motor Company, the first car sales agency here, advertised the Ford Roadster for $319.00 F. O. B. Detroit. I have the ad to prove it.

Dr. Alexander had a call from across the river. There was no bridge over the river and not much road. The Dr. could not cross, as the water was too deep. He left his car and walked up the river and the water was low enough for him to wade across. The men were waiting and they took him on to the patient. A rural doctor's life was pretty rough at times. If anyone needed a doctor he could usually get one in 15 or 20 minutes considering the time it took the doctor to start his Model T. Jim Barkeley lived near Dr. McLauray and on a cold morning Jim would take a blow torch and hot water, start the car and the doctor would drive away. I remember a man paying me $25.00 to take him to Fluvana to get him away from a guy who was after him with a 30-30 rifle. When coming back, six miles from Clairemont the car stopped. I soon found out that I had a broken axle. I walked the 6 miles to Clairemont and called Ben Knutson at Jayton. He came over with a load of tools and we got the axle in about dark. The bill was $17.50 and I was $2.50 in the red. Of course we didn't have any highways, but we got around.

The road to Aspermont, the bridge over Salt Fork washed out, which is in Stonewall County. It was more than a year before the county was able to repair it. A toll gate was set up on both sides of the river. If anyone had business across the river they had to pay 75¢ to get over and 75¢ to get back. Two guards were on duty day and night. If you could get through the sand

O. K. if you could not they would pull you across. The old bridge of course, is still standing. I have not crossed it for some time. There was about a 40% grade going up and about the same coming down with rock ledges on both banks. I remember starting to Peacock on a Sunday afternoon with two school teachers and I accumulated two more. I started up the bank, hit a ledge and the car stopped. One of the ladies climbed out and cranked the contraption and we pulled out. These girls knew Model T's. I liked school teachers then, and I still do. I recall another Model T. episode in the 'old days. There were very few houses between town and the school house. No trees, just open cattle range. I was taking a school teacher to the school house to some kind of entertainment. Another teacher and her escort were riding in the back seat. The one I was with was wearing a hat somewhat smaller than the car wheel. A puff of wind took her hat off, and the boy in the back seat jumped out and chased it down. If the wind had been in another direction it would have gone to Credit Lake and the guy would have had to swim to retrieve it.

After the great droughts of 1916-17 and 18 we had lots of rain and made good crops for some time. Prices were fairly good, no bugs bothered the cotton and no government controls. We did not have to consult an official when we wanted to change directions of our rows or plow the fence corners.

Well, there is quite a difference in Jayton now and in the early days. Now oil taxes help a lot. We have

School Board Deals With Personnel Problems

The Jayton school board at its Thursday night meeting, dealt mostly with personnel problems.

In March, when other teachers' contracts were considered, the board delayed until this May meeting, the consideration of the contract of Mrs. Elwanda Hahn. At this meeting, the board was faced with a petition, bearing the names of about 100 students, asking that Mrs. Hahn be re-employed. However, the board voted not to reemploy Mrs. Hahn.

Roy Dodds resigned as high school principal, and Larry Hight resigned his position.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Locke resigned their positions. They plan to go to Class A Springlake where he will be the head coach.

All resignations were accepted.

The board voted to change the sick leave requirements, and allow each teacher an extra day, to be used for business purposes, if necessary.

Also the salary of substitute teachers was raised to conform with the state schedule.

A SAFETY MESSAGE

Look heah, boy, racin' at the traffic light ain't only unsafe and agin the law like I been tellin' ya, it's kinda dumb. Screechin' those tires and roarin' the engine shows ya got no respect for other drivers, pedestrians, or that fine bit of machinery you're drivin'. Shows ya ain't got much brains, neither. Takin' a "hole shot"—that's racin' talk if ya don't know it for jumpin' away from the light before the other fella—puts a big strain on the engine, transmission, differential, tires and the wallet. Ya must have a lotta money if you can play those kinda games. Treat that shiny car with respect and it'll last a long time and give you a heap of pleasure. Ya'll drive careful now, heah!

many fine homes, four nice churches, a courthouse with all modern facilities, a number one bank, a nice post office, rest home and one of the best school systems in the state. Back down in the hill country when I was a boy a high school education would have had to be supplemented with 2 years of Junior College to have equalled the Jayton High School of today. Jayton is truly a model town.

INDISPENSABLE COSMOS

Two different forms of cosmos are equally easy to grow, delightful to cut and arrange

Cosmos, in both of its forms, is so easy to grow it should be in every beginner's garden and will be such a favorite that it will continue to grace the yard year after year.

There are 2 different types: a 4 to 6 feet tall, lacy-foiled form with pink, rose or white flowers about 4 inches across; and a bushy form with fern-like leaves and yellow or orange 2 inch blooms.

The first, called the Early Sensation strain, blooms in 10 weeks from the time seeds are sown where the plants are to grow. It is an excellent choice for the back of a border or indoors. The Klondike type is on the left. Early Sensation, in all of its colors, is on the right.

wherever its height will be useful. Flowers are fine for cutting.

The second form is known as Klondike and is available in a mixture with both yellow and orange semi-double flowers and in certain selected varieties.

Mandarin is a very double, bright orange variety. Gold Crest is new and extra-early with golden-orange blooms. The most spectacular is Sunset. Just imagine myriad blooms of vermilion on wiry stems, dancing in the sunlight—and you have the picture. Blossoms of this type, too, are excellent as cut flowers.

Pernicious anemia, a disease in which the spinal cord and nerve endings are damaged, was incurable 44 years ago.

In 1926, it was found that liver was effective in curing it. It was not until 1948 that scientists discovered that it was Vitamin B 12 in liver that cured pernicious anemia.

Foods high in B 12 are liver, kidney, meats, milk, cheese, fish and eggs. Persons living on a strict vegetarian diet for several years are more likely to develop a B 12 deficiency.

B 12 is closely associated with folic acid, another B Vitamin, in the building of blood cells. Folic acid is found in liver, dry beans and peas, asparagus, broccoli, spinach and collards and other vegetables and whole wheat. Folic acid is effective in treating macrocytic anemia, which is common in pregnant women and infants and in treating sprue, a disorder in which fat needed by the body is not absorbed in the intestines. Ascorbic acid--Vitamin C is important in the maintenance of folic acid.

Liver is an inexpensive variety meat rich in several vitamins and minerals, including Vitamin A and iron. Try marinating it for one hour or longer in buttermilk if it is not one of your favorite meats. This gives it a milder flavor. Try this liver recipe.

Attend The Church of Your Choice a real VACATION

They had waited for this real vacation--this long trip--for years. But this time it was different. This time he wouldn't be going back to his job.

At first, retirement seemed frightening. Like being shut off from the mainstream of life. He had seen too many men age beyond their years, after their career ended. He had no wish to be on the sidelines. He and his wife could have moved to a warmer climate and just have taken it easy. He didn't want that. So, before he left home, he had a long talk with his minister.

He found that there was plenty a man his age could do. Financially secure, he could afford to volunteer for a job. In fact, through the Church there was work he could do that would spread to the farthest corners of the world.

Right now, he is enjoying this vacation. He is savoring every moment of it. Because, when he gets home, he's going to lead a full and useful life. And that's the way he wants it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Girard Potshots

Funeral services were held in the Girard Church of Christ last Tuesday for D. A. Gunn who died Monday morning about 6 o'clock in the Aspermont hospital. He was 54.

Mr. Gunn had been in bad health for several years and had resided in the Jayton Nursing Home for the past two or three years. He was reared in this community.

Mr. H. B. Williams of Jayton is in the hospital in Aspermont and Mrs. Jess Hall also of Jayton is ill in the Aspermont hospital.

I suppose about everybody will agree that the recent storm that hit Lubbock was about the most disastrous storm in the history of the High Plains. About everybody in this neck of the woods were in some degree effected by the storm. Most of us had children or other kinsmen living in that city. The scribe and "better half" felt a lot better after a phone call from a daughter and a brother in that city Wednesday, saying all were safe.

Noel Lee is a patient in the Hamlin hospital. He was rushed there last week with severe stomach pains.

The law abiding tax payer is getting mighty tired of all these student riotous College Campuses. If they are smart enough to run our colleges why are they going to school? It appears to most people that the Teachers are getting instructions from Moscow.

Riley Sawyers is very critical in the Veterans Hospital in Oklahoma City, we have been informed. Riley is a former Kent County resident having attended the Girard school many years ago. He is the son of Mrs. Pruitt Sawyer of Big Spring and the late Pruitt Sawyer.

As the wind became calm and the black clouds lifted back into the sky and the city of Lubbock in many parts of the town lay in waste--and when people lay dead and dying from the worst storm in the history of the High Plains then the looting began. What a shame--and how low can human being stoop? To think of such a disaster--and suddenly realize that there are people in the world who for personal gain would commit acts of looting no matter who suffers. No mercy should ever be shown looters. We don't need such people in a "world society".

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Brooks spent last weekend in the home of a daughter and family in Midland.

Only 12 grandparents ventured out to the regular meeting of the Kent County Grandparents Club last Thursday due to stormy weather, but the dozen who made it enjoyed a chicken dinner and all the trimmings.

Yep, folks, the old home town had an inch of rain last Thursday night and darn near winter weather on Friday. Somebody must have experienced some hard water Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hagins from Hamlin visited Mrs. Matt Darden in the Aspermont Hospital last Thursday. Also visiting Mrs. Darden from Hamlin last week were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pickron.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Chun of Jayton was admitted to the Aspermont hospital last Thursday night after he ran into a barbed wire fence and severely cut his mouth.

Still taking subscriptions for the Jayton and Spur papers just in case you wish to keep up with what's taking place in this neck of the woods.

Another old timer, Jess Hall of Jayton has been around the hospital in Aspermont all week. He and I had a lot to talk about as we sat with the sick. We talked of about everything in the catalogue, including politics, religion, riots, etc. He even mentioned about the bar-b-q that was held Saturday night in Girard and handed us some folding money to help out with the eats even though he couldn't attend. There is a lot of good folks left in this world of ours.

Gotta' brag a little--born to Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Pomroy of Austin's daughter, Kelly Cristine, weight 9 lbs. 3 oz., our one and only great grandchild.

Some one hundred and twenty folks turned out for the bar-b-q at the local school grounds last Saturday night, and we were informed there was lots to eat and an enjoyable occasion, in fact the Tom Wilson brought us a big plate of bar-b-q and pie and cake to the hospital, which was mighty good.

Sorry to hear about Joe Gilmore, pastor of the Jayton Baptist Church leaving the Free State of Kent for a church in Dumas. We really like Joe.

See in this morning's Sunday paper where Roy Dodds, Jayton High School Principal is leaving to accept a job as principal in Children.

Until next week folks, that's about it.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Growing in popularity are insurance policies that cover the schoolchild in case of an accident. Since the idea is relatively new, a number of legal questions have arisen—notably, as to accidents that happen somewhere between the school and the home.

Consider this case: A schoolboy, starting homeward after school, decided to make a slight detour in order to accompany a friend on a shopping errand. During the detour, the boy suffered a painful fall. In due course, his parents tried to collect on a student accident policy, claiming that it covered their son while he was travelling to or from school. But the insurance company denied liability.

"Our policy did cover him on the way home from school," the company conceded in court, "but only if he was going 'directly' home. Here, although he was going home, he was not going directly. Therefore, this accident is not covered by the policy."

Nevertheless, the court decided the company would have to pay off. "The deviation was slight," said the judge. "A practical and sensible interpretation of 'directly' will permit such a deviation. The company must have known the propensity of children not to follow a straight line."

On the other hand, there are limits as to how far afield the child can stray before losing his protection.

In another case, a youngster fell out of a tree and fractured his arm. At the time of the mishap, school had been over for almost an hour. Furthermore, the boy, instead of moving toward home, had actually gone some distance in the opposite direction. In these circumstances, a court ruled that the insurance protection did not stretch that far.

Of course, the terms of the individual policy may make all the difference. In another case, parents tried to collect on a school accident policy when their son got hurt right at home.

Obviously, the accident had nothing to do with school. Yet, the policy stated in so many words that it covered the boy on a 24-hour basis. Following the plain terms of the policy, a court granted the parent's claim.

R. A. Moreland, Jr. Finishes Work At Texas Tech

R. A. Moreland, Jr. finished his work at Texas Tech on May 9th, came home next day and returned to Tech on May 11th.

He had planned to start to California the next day to visit his sister and other relatives and return in time for his graduation on May 30th in Austin. Of course, the storm upset his plans. He has been working with the Red Cross. A friend of his was killed in the storm and the wife is in the hospital. He said the sightseers got in their way so much, they could hardly work. It was said if the storm had come a week sooner, a hundred students could have been killed.
