A. D. Scott Gins First Bale 1971 Cotton Here

Here a Loraine Bulldog has the ball, but the Jaybird defense is getting ready to stop him.

The first bale of 1971 cotton was ginned at Jayton Monday, the 15th by A. D. Scott. He brought in 2320 pounds of seed cotton which produced 570 lbs. of lint. The cotton was middling light, with one inch, one thirty second staple.

Local merchants made up the following premium; McAteer Dept. Store $10, Kent Co. State Bank $10, Hall Chevrolet $10, Goodall Ford $5, L. P. Gas $5, Vencil Lumber $5, Jayton Flower and Gifts $5, Bill Williams $5, Jayton Feed and Seed $3, Gordon Cheyne Garage $2, Jackson Garage $1, Joe M. Favor $2.50, Thos. Fowler Agency $5, Jayton Chronicle $3.

A Family Affair

Mrs. Dorothy Judy of Jayton has two sons at Jayton High. Kenneth, a 1965 graduate of Jayton, left is a coach. Harold Wayne, a senior, right is coached by Kenneth under head Coach Jerry English. He is also girls coach.

Harold is having one of the same problems that Kenneth had in high school, that of injuries. Kenneth suffered a broken leg his freshman year, which cost him some playing time. His senior year he was "knocked cold" in the Trent game, which caused him problems.

Harold suffered a broken arm early this season and missed several games. But in the last three games he had come in to give the team a good boost, only to get knocked out in the game Friday night for the district championship.

Mrs. Judy's oldest son, Virgil was an all-sports athlete at Jayton High, and is now coaching also. The boys' father C. R. (Dick) Judy was mayor of Jayton for many years, and an avid sport fan. Mrs. Judy, for many years has been secretary to the Kent County Judge. Her late husband was a mechanic for General Crude Oil Co. The Judy family has contributed many sacrifices and other assets to the Jayton school and community.

Jaybirds Lose District Title In Heart-Breaker Here Friday Night

The Jayton Jaybirds lost their game to Loraine Friday night, along with the coveted District title, on one play when the game was about five minutes old. This was the play in which Harold Judy suffered a head injury. With Judy out, this crippled the Jaybirds' pass defense, and allowed the visitors to get off two touchdown pass plays.

Also, with Judy suffering cobwebs upstairs from the head injury, and spending the rest of the game on the sideline, totally confused, this crippled the Jaybirds yard making machine, the result being they lost the game 21-6 and the district title.

This left Coach English's squad with a 6-4 season, and second place in the district standings.

Also other key players suffered injury in the game.

The Jaybirds worked hard this year, performed well in accordance with the circumstances and their abilities. But that thing they call luck just was not on their side of the playing field.

SARAH BYRD WILL SEEK NEW TERM IN OFFICE

Mrs. Sarah Byrd, County Commissioner for Precinct No. 3 since the death of her husband, Elwood Byrd, has told the Jayton Chronicle, she will be a candidate for the office for a full term.

Shortly before the death of her husband, his precinct, known as the Clairemont precinct, was changed up, along with the realigning of the entire county, and about two thirds of the votes in the precinct are now in the City of Jayton.

A formal statement will be made by Mrs. Byrd at a later date, she said.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The following is a "rerun" from November 23, 1967. The thoughts then are no different now.

In spite of our individual concerns, disappointments and frustrations, as a people we have more reason to be thankful than any Nation in existence now or in the past. We can be thankful that we have lessons of the past to guide us in the future, if we will but heed them. It says in the 14th verse of the 7th Chapter of II Chronicles, "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

We are the greatest nation the world has ever known but there are troubled clouds hanging over the horizon.

We do not know what the future holds but we know who holds the future. The coming of the Pilgrims to the New England coast in 1620 forms a glamorous chapter in American history, although it marked the first socialist settlement in America.

Little noticed, and more often ignored, is that this experiment in socialism failed within three years, and for their very survival, the Pilgrims had to turn to what we know as the free enterprise system. This valuable lesson should be more emphasized in all places when we pay tribute to these sturdy people who were seeking new freedoms.

Before landing, the Pilgrims entered into what we know as the Mayflower Compact. Under this agreement, Plymouth was set up as a share-the-wealth community. Nobody owned anything. Whatever was produced belonged to the community as a whole. They called this system "the common course and condition." They lived under this system from the desperate, disease-ridden first winter of 1620-21 until the hungry spring of 1623. Then they changed to private enterprise. Why? The answer is written by William Bradford, one of the leading original Pilgrims and second Governor of Plymouth Colony, entitled "Of Plymouth Plantation."

The Pilgrims were not long under this "common course" See page 4 please

Texans Thankful For Their Food And Fibre

Texas is a giant in the agricultural industry and Texans have much to be proud of and to be thankful for regarding the food and fiber produced in the state. The state's agricultural products will receive special notice during Texas Food and Fiber Abundance week.

Agriculture in all its phases adds almost $10 billion annually to Texas economy. Cash receipts from farm marketing during 1970 were $3.1 billion, and are expected to reach $3.76 billion by 1976.

Texas is the leading state in the production of cotton, grain sorghum, beef cattle, sheep and wool, and goats and mohair, and is second in rice production, and third in peanuts, pecans and citrus.

Statistics from the county agent office show agricultural income from Kent County agricultural products to be $4,216,230.00 for 1971. Over half of this amount was from the sale of beef and beef products $2,600,000. Cotton and cottonseed accounted for $1,141,630 income to Kent County producers.

Kent Oil Operations

Test Scheduled The Red Mud (Strawn lime) field of Kent County has received a 7,000-foot project by Five Resources, Inc., 13 miles northwest of Claremont.

Designated No. 1 J. H. Daugherty, the test is located 1,787 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of Section 36, Block 1, H&GN survey.

In a crafts session at the extension offices, we see Mrs. Don Trammell, Mrs. Judy Fowler, Mrs. Nikki Phillips, Mrs. Snyder, and Mrs. Howard Goswick.

A Craft Session

Mrs. Virginia Snyder of Plainview conducted a 3 day workshop on Christmas craft November 15, 16, 17th in the County Extension Office.

Also, Mrs. Snyder showed a new hobby, antiquesque books; the making of Santas and Angels from Readers Digest and fashioning Christmas wreaths from old Computer cards and some paint. Mrs. Snyder's demonstration and help was greatly appreciated by the ladies attending as she took part of her vacation to come teach these new crafts. Those attending were; Mrs. Howard Goswick, Mrs. Nikki Phillips, Mrs. Don Trammell, Mrs. Judy Fowler, Mrs. Roseanna Johnson, Mrs. Leck Wall, Mrs. Rogene Browning, Mrs. Bill Vencil, Mrs. Hartense North and Mrs. Bea Shipp. Copies of directions will be available from the County Home Demonstration Office.

UNKLE ZEKE

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I reckon you saw last month where them two 10 year old girls in Chicago got up a petition agin younguns taking castor oil. They circulated their demands in the ward of the hospital where they was being treated, and I understand the hospital promised to give serious consideration to their petition that they not have to take mineral or castor oil in hospitals or anywhere else.

Mister Editor, I am full fer their ends, but I am agin their means. I ain't never been so sick that I thought castor oil was good fer what ailed me, but I've gagged on many a slug of the slimy stuff jest cause my Ma poked a spoonful of it at me. Fer some reason, and I know the reason, it never come to me to pertest. The reason is that Pa would of made me hurt where castor oil wouldn't help.

As a feller gits older, I reckon, he finds the ways of younguns harder to figger. I have heard it said that younguns today are smarter, but I see by the papers where tests shows that IQ of school kids has dropped some since the second war. Well, Sir, the only thing I can figger is that the IQ of parents must of dropped even more. I am full agreed with the feller that said one of the sure ways to tell a backward country these modern days is where children still obey their parents.

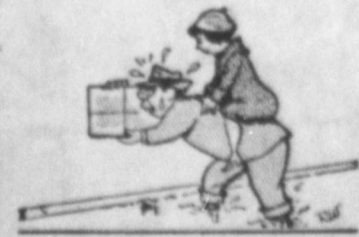

Farthermore, I think the lady school teacher who was ask on her 100th birthday about her years of teaching has the right idee. She taught 41 year until 1931, but she said she wouldn't try it today even if she was young. Back then, she said, parents disciplined their younguns and teaching was pleasant. Now, she said, she wouldn't know what to do if children rioted in her school.

Practical speaking, we got to admit things is more complicated now fer everybody. Used to, if a youngun didn't go to school somebody from the school went to find out why. Now the school board will hold a hearing to try and figger out what the school done wrong that caused the youngun to stay away. I think we has gone to far in the wrong direction when we ask the younguns what they want and then break our necks to satisfy their ever whim. We got the hole thing turned around til it reads "parents, obey thy children."

Personal, Mister Editor, I am not of the mind that our education system is failing us. I think the system has got to work with the raw material it gits, and that pins the failing right smack on the parents. Its jest a case of wearing the shoe that fits.

And on gitting things turned around, I see where this expert says credit is a way of life, and credit cards is the answer to bad checks. The way I read that statement is that if a feller couldn't charge someun on a card he'd write a rubber check fer it. I can't figger who's going to come out ahead when the credit card bill comes.

Yours truly,
UNKLE ZEKE

A man and his wife were out for a stroll one day. They came to a puddle. The husband said, "Let's jump across." His wife rolled her eyes and said, "Remember when you used to carry me over mud puddles? You were more gallant when I was a gal." "I sure was," he replied. "But you were more buoyant when I was a boy."

Everybody and his cousin too... notice the lone man in the foreground of the picture. He must be wondering if he will ever get his shopping done. Even with his back to us he looks confused and bewildered.

Most of us have felt the pangs of loneliness in the midst of a crowd. Surrounded by people, we couldn't escape that feeling of utter desolation. It may engulf us in a busy department store, a crowded supermarket, a jam-packed subway, but suddenly it strikes... this feeling that no one cares about us or about our burdens.

When our hearts cry out for assurance that somebody cares, we can always turn to the truth and love revealed by the Holy Word of God: "Lo, I am with you always."

At the heart of the universe there are great resources of strength. Discover them for yourself by worshipping each week in the church of your choice.

From The Recipe File of Opal Richards

As the grown-ups carved the first Thanksgiving turkeys, the youngsters looked on drooling with joyful anticipation.

1. Remove leg (drumstick and thigh). Hold drumstick firmly with fingers, pulling gently away from body. At the same time, cut through skin between leg and body.

2. Press leg away from body with flat side of knife. Then cut through joint joining leg to backbone and skin on the back. Hold leg on plate at a convenient angle to plate; separate drumstick and thigh by cutting down through the joint to the plate.

3. Slice drumstick meat. Hold drumstick upright at angle to plate. Cut down, turning drumstick to get uniform slices. Drumsticks and thighs from smaller turkeys are usually served without slicing.

4. Slice thigh meat by holding thigh firmly on plate with fork and cutting slices parallel to the bone.

5. Cut into white meat parallel to the wing. Make a deep cut into the breast to body frame parallel to and as close to wing as possible to release slices later.

6. Slice the white meat. Beginning at the front and starting halfway up the breast, cut thin slices of white meat down to the cut you made parallel to the wing. The slices will fall away from the turkey as they are cut to this line. Continue carving until enough meat has been carved for first servings. Carve additional turkey as needed. Remove stuffing from the opening cut where the leg was removed, or enlarge the body cavity opening at the tail and spoon out stuffing as needed.

Moisten edge of lower crust, adjust top crust folding top crust under lower crust. Seal edges by fluting with the thumb and forefingers or with the tines of a fork. Poem Of The Week

By FLORA SMITH DEAN

I Am Thankful

How thankful, I am for the harvest
 The Lord has given to me;
 There are rows of jars, in my cellar,
 That are beautiful to see;

There are onions, with skins of silver,
 Squashes and pumpkins, galore,
 Tomatoes and citron, and pepper,
 All these, and many more;

And I have corn and grits,
 And snow white meal, for my bread,
 And out of the Lord's rich bounty,
 My loved ones and I are fed;

The cows stand fat in the barn lot,
 There's a wealth of grain, in the fields,
 The cotton is white for the harvest,
 The earth of it's treasure yields;

How thankful I am for the harvest,
 The Lord has given to me,
 I wish I could share my plenty,
 With the needy, across the sea.

SURPRISE SALAD

This salad has been a favorite of mine for years and it is always a "must" on my table for the Thanksgiving and Christmas Dinners.

SURPRISE SALAD

Boil together 1/2 of a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple and 1/2 cup of sugar. Add this while hot to 1 package raspberry gelatin which has been dissolved in 1 cup cold water. Let cool. Add 1 cup grated cheese (block cheese is best as it dissolves more easily) and 1 cup chopped pecans. Place in refrigerator. When almost congealed fold in 1 cup whipped cream. (Measure before whipping). It is ready to serve when congealed. May be set in a mold or in individual cups.

"The large print giveth, and the small print taketh away." That old joke about insurance policies has often had a good deal of truth in it. Many a crucial clause has been tucked away in typographical obscurity.

But in recent years, the size (sometimes even the color) of the print in insurance policies has been widely regulated by statute.

For example, a common requirement in the field of health insurance is that the exceptions must be printed at least as plainly as the benefits. Take this case:

A man disabled by rheumatism tried to collect on an insurance policy that promised, in large lettering, to pay benefits for six months. But down in the fine print, the policy cut the payments to only one month for certain diseases — including rheumatism.

Was the man bound by the one-month limitation? A court decided that he was not. Because of the substandard size of the print, said the court, that part of the policy simply had no legal effect.

Even if the print is large enough, it will ordinarily not carry as much weight as language that is typewritten or handwritten into the policy.

Another case involved a life insurance policy in which the words "Double Indemnity For Fatal Accidents" had been inserted by typewriter. Later, double indemnity was held to be payable, even though there was conflicting language in the printed portion of the policy. The court said that words specially inserted were more likely to be correct than words buried in a standard form.

Of course, anything that clarifies an insurance policy also puts a greater responsibility upon you as the policyholder. The clearer the policy, the less grounds you have for arguing that you did not understand what kind of protection you were getting.

Accordingly, it makes good sense to examine a policy at the time you buy it, rather than waiting until you have suffered a loss. Not even large print, not even a special notation, can tell you anything unless you read it.

and condition," writes Bradford, until it "was found to breed much confusion & discontent, & retard employment that would have been to their benefit and comfort. For the young men that were most able and fit for labor and service did repine that they should spend their time & strength to worke for other mens wives and children, without any recompense. The strong... had no more in devison of victuals & cloaths than that he was weake.

"Upon the poynte all being to have alike, and all to doe alike, they thought themselves in the like condition, and one as good as another. And so, if it did not cut off these relations that God hath set amongst men, yet it did at least much diminish and take of the mutual respects that should be preserved amongst them."

Instead of a Thanksgiving feast in the fall of 1622, there was literal starvation and hopelessly low morale. "So they began to thinke how they might raise as much corne as they could... that they might not still thus languish in miserie. At last, after much debate of things, the governor gave way that they should set corne every man for his own perticular. . . And so assigned to every family a parcel of land. . . This had very good success for it made all hands very industrious, so as much more corne was planted than other wise would have bene."

The Pilgrims offered thanks for deliverance from socialism with a great Thanksgiving feast in the fall of 1623.

Some people still have the idea, as Bradford said, "That the taking away of propertie, and bringing in communitie into a commone wealth would make them happy and flourishing."

Socialism had been tried many times before the Plymouth Colony. It has been tried man times since, and has failed. It is destined to fail because it violates fundamentals and moral laws that simply will not be violated.
